TAXING CHURCH PROPERTY.

Rev. Madison C. Peters Takes an Unusual Position Against Exemption.

The pastor of the Bloomingdale Reformed Church of New York, Rev. Madison C. Peters argues for the taxation of church property in this wise: "The American people would rise up in rebellion against direct taxation for church support, but what is exemption from taxation but an indirect State support of the church, a virtual subsidy for its support, and at the expense of the general public? Taxes have to be paid, and the property that is exempt or rather omitted from the tax roll, is simply spread upon the other property. Everybody's tax goes up at least one-tenth in New York city because of the exemption of church property."

"The churches enjoy no immunity from the operations of the laws of God. They place roofs upon their buildings to keep out the rain, and put up lightning rods to prevent the lightning from striking them. If God does not vary his laws for the benefit of the churches, why should the State be expected to do so?"

"It is argued that many churches are not self-sustaining at present, and that to tax them would render them still less so. Thousands are less able to provide for their children because of the tax collector. Why should the laborer pay taxes upon his humble home and the religious corporation be exempted?"

"The saloon keeper by force of law is compelled to help pay the taxes on my church, in the use of which I denounce his infernal traffic. If the saloon keeper is taxed to support my church, in all fairness he ought to have something to say in its management. 'No taxation without representation.'"

"Churches are undoubtedly a public benefit, but if the doctrine of benefits be furnished as a reason for exemption on behalf of religious corporations, it refutes itself by proving more than the State can admit without bankrupting itself, for there are other institutions which are public benefits. It costs the community something to enjoy property, and if the Church paid taxes, it would pay only its honest share to secure its enjoyment of the use of property."

"Taxation of church property is to the interest of American principles, and in harmony with the experience of nations. Taxing one man for the propagation of another man's religion is admittedly unjust, and, moreover, it is a relic of the principle of Church and State alliance inherited from the Old World, and not yet eliminated from our political system."

PEOPLE OF PROMINENCE.

Mrs. John Sherman, wife of the Secretary of State, is an elderly woman, well read and deeply interested in current events. Next year she and Secretary Sherman will be able to celebrate their golden wedding.

Mrs. Miles, the wife of General Miles, and Mrs. Cameron, the wife of Senator Cameron, are two very well-known and distinguished women in Washington society. They are sisters, and are nieces of Secretary Sherman, their father being Judge Sherman, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. McKinley is extremely fond of children, and has many loyal little friends and admirers in different parts of the country. The loss of her two little daughters more than twenty years ago has been a ceaseless grief to both Mrs. McKinley and her husband. Mrs. McKinley's health has never been entirely restored since the affliction came upon her. Her little nieces and nephews are great pets with her, and the White House will still echo with the patter of little feet and the music of childish voices.

Mr. Stratton, the Cripple Creek millionaire, who used to be a day laborer, refuses to go into any money-making schemes on the ground that he wants to keep his income down and not increase it. He doesn't seem yet to have learned that many so-called money-making schemes urged on millionaires are admirably calculated to reduce incomes to zero.

General "Joe" Shelby left a most interesting collection of relics of the Confederacy. One of his prized possessions was a daguerreotype of three boys—Shelby himself, Frank Blair and B. Gratz Brown. It is recalled that Shelby's mother was both rich and generous, and when she sent her son to school in Philadelphia she sent the other boys, who were poor, with him.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

HARCOURT'S CRITICISM.

The Liberal Leader's Strong Denunciation of England's Cretan Policy.

London, April 14.—At a banquet given by the Eighty club last night, Sir George Trevelyan presiding, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader, charged the government with shrinking from a definite vote on the employment of British forces in Crete. He said that the government had introduced the absolutely new constitutional doctrine that it belonged to the government to draw up the opposition's resolutions. This was an intolerable piece of tyranny. The government did not want a definite resolution, but an indefinite one, a vote of confidence. Referring to the European concert, he said that the opposition desired Great Britain to be the friend of all states but the instrument of none. Personally he did no believe in being drawn into what Lord Salisbury called the federal legislature. If the European concert had had any common sense at all, the Cretan question would have been settled long ago upon the only proper basis—namely, the annexation of Crete to Greece.

War Council at Sultan's Palace.

Constantinople, April 14.—Another council of ministers is now in progress at the Yildiz kiosk, and it is expected that it will result in an important decision with respect to the recent incursion upon Turkish territory. Additional battalions are being dispatched from Anatolia to re-enforce the Turkish army at Salonika.

Austrian Boat Bombards Greeks.

Khania, Island of Crete, April 14.—While 50 Turkish soldiers were landing to re-enforce the forts at Kissamo, the Greeks fired on the boat. Several shots struck an Austrian boat, which was assisting, whereupon two Austrian gunboats and one Turkish bombarded the Greeks and repulsed them.

STEVENSON INTERVIEWED.

Ex-Vice President Expresses His Opinion Regarding the Bimetallic Conference.

Bloomington, Ills., April 14.—Ex-Vice President Stevenson said, when questioned about his appointment on the commission for the promotion of an international agreement:

"I appreciate the compliment paid to me by the president and will cheerfully render what assistance I can to accomplish the object of the commission.

"I am a bimetallist. I regard the restoration of silver to its proper money function as the supreme question in our country and throughout the world. The importance of the question cannot be overstated. In this country the increase in the volume of business is beyond computation. In the light of these facts the rehabilitation of silver is a prime necessity. Should its demonetization become the settled policy, the evil days upon which we have fallen but dimly foreshadow consequences yet to come.

"Whatever our views may be as to the ability of our government to maintain the free and unlimited coinage of silver without the co-operation of the leading countries of Europe, it may be safely assumed that every friend of silver in our country will welcome international bimetallism.

"As to the impossibility of success of this commission, it is known that the trend of public sentiment in European countries, as well as our own, is undoubtedly favorable to bimetallism.

"Many of the publicists of England and Germany are in earnest accord with our government upon this question. Should public sentiment in those countries justify an international conference, it would undoubtedly be called and action taken that would be deemed proper."

THE RAGING MISSOURI

Change In Its Course Imperils a Vast Amount of Property.

NEW ORLEANS IS IN GREAT DANGER.

It Is Feared That the Levees Near the Crescent City May Give Way—A Grave Situation at St. Joseph.

Omaha, April 14.—The Missouri river is changing its channel past Omaha, and in doing so threatens to destroy property to the value of several million dollars. The river broke through its banks about a mile above where it left the old channel 20 years ago, and is now running two broad streams across what were fertile market gardens. These streams run into Florence lake, a relic of a former cut off. From Florence lake the water is pouring into Cutoff lake, and it now seems only a question of a few hours until East Omaha is moved into Iowa and all the property in line of the flood is swept away.

The government gauge records a rise in the Missouri river of but nine-tenths of a foot in the 24 hours ending at noon. Five miles up the river from the location of the gauge is where the Missouri has broken its banks in two places. This discharge of the flood accounts for the meager showing of rise on the government gauge. The first break in the banks occurred a little more than a mile above the original channel that left Florence lake in the old cut off, and the water sweeps down a stretch of land that has been transformed from most fertile gardens into a stream of 2,000 feet wide and 5 feet deep. The market gardens of North Omaha will be swept away, if no further damage results. The people of that section of the town are nearly moved out and are busy getting away their effects in boats. Cutoff lake is filling up rapidly, and may soon overflow, sweeping down through the upper railroad yards and extensive factory plants in the north bottoms.

Reports from up the river are encouraging, and it is likely the extensive damage now threatened will be averted. Should the river complete the cut off it has threatened, East Omaha, with extensive factory plants, including the great Carter white lead works, will be moved into Iowa and the $30,000,000 bridge of the East Omaha Terminal company will be left across a slough, while the thousands of dollars expended by the government in protecting the banks of the river along the great bend will have been wasted on a "cut off" lake.

Down in town the situation is less serious than it was yesterday. The smelter of the Omaha & Grant company is still above water. The Thomson-Houston electric lighting plant and the Willow Springs distillery can stand a rise of another foot, and the railroad companies feel that their tracks are safe for a time. All are watching, though, and are taking every precaution to protect their property. The weather has cleared off here, and the prospects are favorable for a cessation of the rains.

New Orleans In Great Danger.

New Orleans, April 14.—The river here is beginning to rise even more rapidly now than 10 days ago. The gauge marked 16.2 feet this morning, a rise of two-tenths of a foot since yesterday, and advices from all points south of Vicksburg are to the effect that the flood is swelling, now that the Yazoo is pouring a heavy flood of crevasse water into the Mississippi. What extent of relief can be expected from the crevasse at Davis Island, which broke, is problematical at present. The situation here grows daily more uncomfortable and, though a calamity is not imminent, there is apprehension with respect to the stability of levees at the upper and lower ends of the city and at Algiers on the opposite side.

Steamboat captains say that from Red river down the levees are in better condition than for years, and that in the entire stretch from the Red river to New Orleans the weakest leve is at Carrollton, at the upper end of the city. Work is going on at that point day and night, but water continues to slip through, and the engineers are called on to exert themselves to the utmost to maintain the embankment. News from all points in Louisiana brings no tidings of succumbing levees. A tremendous current is running past this city. More wharf space is flooded than at any time this season.

The Situation at St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 14.—The Missouri river at this place is rising again. It rose six inches and is climbing higher on the gauge. The railroad tracks down the river are threatened, but it is thought the temporary respite has been sufficient to allow all defenses to be made secure.

Destitution In the Mining Region.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 14.—The closing down of the mines in Plymouth has caused much destitution among the miners and their families residing in that town. Mayor Nichols of Wilkesbarre visited the garbage dumps on the east side of the Susquehanna river, opposite Plymouth, and was surprised to find scores of persons picking through the garbage and rubbish and eagerly seizing scraps of victuals, decaying vegetables, etc., in order to keep them from starving. The mayor will make an appeal to the charitably inclined for immediate relief for the sufferers.

Deputy Collector In Contempt.

Montpelier, Vt., April 14.—Deputy United States Internal Revenue Collector A. S. Weeks of St. Albans has been committed to the custody of Sheriff Collins here by Judge Rowell of the supreme court for having refused to testify in prosecution proceedings under the prohibitory law. The case is that of the state versus Norman O. McLeod. Deputy Collector Weeks was called upon to state whether or not the respondent has a United States license to sell intoxicating liquor.

Killed by a Fall From a Bicycle.

Taunton, Mass., April 14.—Charles Ripley, 10 years of age, was instantly killed by taking a header from his bicycle. His wheel caught in the street car tracks near the spot where Fred N. Strange, a bicyclist, was murdered last summer.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

George Griffen has purchased a Wolff-American wheel which he will ride during the coming season.

One of the best methods known to the manufacturers for keeping bright nickel work about a bicycle is to wet a rag with a solution of hyposulphite of soda and whipe the article with it, drying with a soft towel and afterward rubbing with a piece of chamois skin.—Crescent Bicycle Bulletin.

Among the many promising young riders on the road this season is J. Vincent Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street. Like all good riders, he knows a good wheel and so has picked out the Wolff-American as his mount for the year. He has just received the wheel which he purchased from A. M. Griffin.

When your bicycle makes a noise it is a sure sign that something is wrong. The perfect running machine is noiseless. Loose tools will rattle, and should be so wrapped that they will not be heard from; a jingling sound usually means that spokes have broken loose from their fastenings at crossing points; a distinct click indicates spokes loosened at the rim; what might be termed a jogging noise is usually caused by a loose crank; loud slapping almost invariably comes from a dry chain and a loose sprocket will thump. No matter what the noise is, or from what part of the machine it emanates, it indicates trouble that should be promptly attended to.

The Y. M. C. A., of this city, is planning to have a baseball team on the diamond again this year and it will again be captained by John G. MacLaughlin. The first practice game will be held on Saturday afternoon in the Washington avenue grounds. Among the candidates for the team are: MacLaughlin, Rev. J. McKelvey, Berry Egan, Clarence Sutphen, Morris Sutphen, Fred J. Pope, E. Moraller and A. B. Edes.

WHIST.

Hamilton scored its eighteenth win of the A. W. L. Challenge Trophy on Saturday, defeating the Park Club, of Plainfield, the Jersey champions. The locals were represented by their regular four, which was also the case with the visitors. The visitors put up a stiff, plucky game, but they had much the worse of the luck and found Hamilton at its best. The systems of the two teams were very similar, except that with Ace and four others Park opened with the Ace unless strong in trumps. Opening fourth best from these hands happened to make tricks for Hamilton. The result is most extraordinary, considering the high standard of whist played by Park.—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph

C. B. Rowe, aged thirty-seven years, of Gloucester, Mass., who said that his occupation was that of a traveling salesman, was brought to Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock, minus the big toe on his right foot. The accident happened between Dunellen and Clinton avenue, and the man was trying to steal a ride when he fell off and one wheel passed over the foot causing the loss of the toe. The man was brought to Grant avenue on a freight train and from there he was carried to the hospital in a chair. He will be confined to the hospital for some time.

Don't Support His Wife.

John Frey, of Somerset street, was arrested last evening on a complaint issued by his wife who charged him with non-support. She says that during the past few months he has not contributed anything to speak of toward her support. Frey does not like work and in consequence has very little with which to support either himself or wife. This morning he was arraigned before Justice Thomas and the latter thought that five days in the lockup would do Frey good. A little latter Mrs. Frey withdrew the charge of non-support and the husband was held for five days on a charge of being insolent and abusive.

CITY NATIONAL BANK.

NEW BANK APARTMENTS

CITY NATIONAL BANK OPENS ITS DOORS FOR INSPECTION.

Complete in Every Detail and a Great Credit to the City—How the Improvements are Arranged Up-to-Date.

It speaks well for the substantial standing of the business men of Plainfield that there are two banking houses in their midst such as there are. Further than that it is the city's good fortune that they are officered by men who are so thoroughly progressive and uptodate that they have provided their respective institutions with banking apartments that in point of beauty, convenience and safety are not excelled in any city in this vast country.

A year ago the City National Bank officials decided to provide more commodious and handsome quarters for their patrons and in looking about for a desirable site the building at the corner of Park avenue and East Front street was selected. The location was a particularly pretentious one for the changes that were contemplated by the bank officials; and, to say the least, the structure has been remodeled in the most advantageous way to suit the elaborate ideas followed out in the removal from the old location a few doors east on the same thoroughfare.

The whole interior of the building from cellar to roof has been rebuilt and finished up in a most attractive manner. The upper floors are devoted to business offices, but what interests people most is the equipment of the banking house itself.

From the time the plans were first submitted for the improvements till the time the work was completed a few days ago the personal interest of each officer of the institution was engaged in the changes, but to Cashier William F. Arnold is due especial credit for many valuable suggestions and a constant supervision over the work while it was in progress.

The entire first floor of the building, with a frontage of 44 feet on Front street and a depth of 66 feet on Park avenue, is occupied by the banking room, while the second and third floors are devoted to the business offices.

The entrance to the bank is at the corner of the building, making it equally accessible from either Front street or Park avenue.

As you enter the room, the first door on the right opens into the cashier's office, and immediately adjoining it is the ladies' banking department, a small room complete in every detail, where ladies may communicate directly with either the cashier or teller, and avoid the annoyance and fatigue of standing in line at the teller's window. Continuing past the ladies' department, you come to the paying teller, the receiving teller, the bookkeepers, and finally the discount clerk.

The desks are arranged on the Park avenue side of the room where, even on the darkest days, there is an abundance of light; a feature which will be appreciated by the customers as well as the employes of the bank.

The different departments are connected by an improved telephone system, permitting instant intercommunication.

Opposite the banking department, at the front, is the directors' room; next comes a room most appropriately furnished for the use of depositors, where conferences may be held and letters written in comparative quiet and privacy. Just beyond, we find an attractive ladies' reception and writing room, fitted with every convenience for the use of the lady customers of the bank In looking over the arrangement of this unique banking room, it is apparent that exceptional facilities have been prepared for its depositors, of which the ladies have a larger share than has heretofore been allotted them.

Perhaps the most interesting object in the room is the vault which is located at the rear, where it may be plainly seen from the street at all hours of the night, the bank officers evidently appreciating the fact that a vault is not likely to be molested when it is in plain view of every passer-by. This vault was built by the Herring Safe Works in the same manner as those of the New York Clearing House Association, so justly celebrated, and it is safe to say that it is not excelled by any similar structure in this country.

The floor in front of the vault is arranged to lower before the door is opened, and then raise so that one may walk into the vault on a level and there are no sills to step over.

About sixty tons of metal were used in the construction of the vault, the outer door alone weighing 8 tons, but hung on ball bearing hinges and so nicely balanced that it can be moved

HOME NUPTIAL EVENTS.

ONE IS IN PLAINFIELD AND ONE IN WESTFIELD.

Miss Laura Essie Smith Becomes Mrs. George W. Taylor, of Dunellen—Bridal Parties at Both Weddings—Decorations.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated last evening when Miss Laura Essie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, of West Front street, and George W. Taylor, of Dunellen, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie Smith, as maid of honor, while A. D. Honeyman acted as best man. The bridal party stood beneath a bower of flowers in the centre of which was a floral bell, and surrounding all was a profusion of evergreens.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the presence of about fifty guests from Brooklyn, New York, Paterson, Montclair, Bayonne, Boonton, Dunellen and Plainfield.

The bride was richly gowned in pearl gray with pearl trimmings and white chiffon, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The gown of the maid of honor was also gray with green silk trimmings and she carried pink roses.

After the ceremony the happy couple were showered with the best wishes and congratulations of all present. They then led the way to the dining room where supper was served.

The presents received by the bride and groom evidenced their popularity and they were all exceedingly useful and handsome. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will at once go to housekeeping on Coddington avenue where the groom has just completed a new house which is furnished throughout. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for their success and a prosperous journey through life. On their departure for their new home they were showered with rice and old shoes by their friends and relatives.

There was a pretty home wedding celebrated last evening in Westfield at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. French, of North avenue. The contracting parties were Miss Annie Swam Lambert and Edward Franklin Gilby, both of Westfield. The house was decorated with palms, Easter lillies and potted plants. Four little boys, nephews of the bride and groom, acted as pages, and Lillian Lambert was the flower girl. Preceding the bride and groom into the parlors to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, she strewed their path with roses. The bride's costume was of white silk and chiffon and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The ceremony was performed by the Rev N. W. Cadwell, of the Presbyterian church. Roland Randolph played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Gilby were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents

After the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served and with the hearty congratulations of their friends and amid a shower of rice and old shoes the newly wedded couple departed for Washington, D. C. On their return they will reside on North avenue.

Trolley Line Inspection.

Members of the Raritan Township Committee, with Asher Atkinson, a civil engineer, representing the Brunswick Traction Company, have gone over the proposed trolley road from Highland Park to Piscataway, Bouhamtown and Metuchen for the purpose of getting an idea of the road and to obtain the opinions of the property owners as to the location of the tracks. A majority of the property owners want the tracks placed in the middle of the road.

Mountain Road Repaired.

The road that runs from Washingtonville, northward, between the First and Second mountains, has been undergoing extensive repairs. The road was in very poor condition early in the spring, being full of ruts and rough places. A number of loads of crushed stone have been used, the ruts filled up and in some places a new layer of the stone laid over the entire road.

REVIVAL END AT HAND.

LAST OF THE ENDEAVOR MEETINGS TO BE HELD TONIGHT.

The Meeting Last Night was Led by Horace J. Martin, who Continued the Same Train of Thought Started by Mr. Gailey.

Tonight's service will close the series of union evangelistic meetings which, for nearly two weeks now, the Endeavor societies have been holding and which have awakened so many to new zeal in Christ's service. This evening F. H. Andrews will speak and Wm. N. Runyon will sing, the subject of the meeting being that memorable Thursday night before the crucifixion, when Christ gave His last words to His disciples, and ate with them the last supper, and when he endured the anguish of Gethsemane.

The attendance at last night's meeting was very encouraging, considering the threatening sky and the fact that it was the night for the regular church prayer meeting of the city. The preliminary meeting for prayer was led by Miss Elizabeth Dunn. The song service which opened the regular service was led by F. H. Andrews, with Mrs. E. E. Anthony at the piano. E. E. Anthony presided over the meeting. Two beautiful solos, "The Homeland," and "Though Your Sins Be as Scarlet, They Shall Be as White as Snow," were sung by L. J. Biglow, Jr., lending a sweet solemnity to what proved a very helpful service.

Miss Alice B. Spangenberg, who was to speak at this meeting, was prevented by illness from being present, and her place was very acceptably filled by Horace J. Martin, who continued the train of thought started by Robert R. Gailey on the previous evening, by bringing to the audience a few practical lessons from the words "I give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish." He spoke of the One who offers the gift; One who never breaks His promises, but is always the same—faithful, true, and to be depended upon. Another thought was of the freeness of the gift; no purchase money necessary, but the gift one to be had by poorest as well as richest, only for the asking. And then, to whom is the gift offered? Not to the Jews of Christ's time only, but to every one of us, the oldest and the youngest, the most cultured and the most ignorant. Mr. Martin closed with an earnest appeal to all present to accept the gift of eternal life now.

Short prayers were offered by Fred Smith and Irving L. Brady, then, after a parting hymn, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, who had opened the meeting with Scripture reading and prayer, closed it with the words of benediction.

COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Dr. E. W. Hedges, of This City, Chosen President for a Year.

The annual meeting of the Union County Medical Society was held at Elizabeth General Hospital yesterday afternoon. The visiting members were entertained by the Clinical Society, of Elizabeth. The election of officers was held and resulted as follows: President, Dr Ellis W. Hedges, of Plainfield; vice president, Dr. James Green, of Elizabeth; secretary, Dr. Harrison, of Westfield. The delegates to the annual convention of the American Medical Association, which is to be held in Philadelphia in June, were chosen as follows; Dr. E. W. Hedges, of Plainfield, and Drs. Green and Greer, of Elizabeth. Drs. M. B. Long, T. H. Tomlinson and B. VanD. Hedges, of Plainfield, were selected as delegates to the New Jersey State Medical Society. An interesting paper on the use of anti-toxine in dyphtheria and a report of the use of the same in over a hundred cases was read by Dr. Whitehead, of Elizabeth.

Peter Broke Out Again.

Chief Marshal Wilson, of the borough, arrested Peter Brunn, of Grove street, yesterday afternoon on a complaint made by his wife. The complaint charges that the husband was abusive and threatened to throw the family out of doors. He also attempted to break up housekeeping by destroying furniture. The violator of the law was arraigned before Justice Thomas yesterday and the decision of the court was that he spend thirty days in the Somerset county jail, to which place he was escorted by Constable Van Horn. Brunn has been arrested several times on similar charges.

—The Plainfield confectionery store, of 112 West Front street, has commenced their annual exhibition of Easter novelties of all kinds.

A NOVEL EASTER SUPPER

EGGS WERE THE PRINCIPAL ITEM ON THE MENU.

Arranged by the Women's Society for Christian Work, Who Pleased All Who Took Occasion to Visit this Odd Event.

An Easter supper was given by the members of the Women's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-day Baptist church, last evening, in the parlors of the church. It was a success financially as well as otherwise, and the many people present found it very enjoyable. An excellent supper was provided, in which eggs played an important part, and everybody was given an abundance of good things.

The supper was served in one of the parlors, and here a number of tables were arranged. On each of these was a centre piece of colored eggs in artificial lettuce leaves. The room was decorated in yellow and white and the waitresses were gowned in the prevailing colors. The menu was on an egg-shaped card of novel design, the lettering on which was done by F. A. Dunham.

There were eight tables and the waitresses who had charge of them were the Misses Luella Clawson, Myra Runyon, Ida Randolph, Ida Spicer, Elizabeth Allis, Ernestine Smith, Louise Lewis and Mabel Mitchell. Mrs. John P. Mosher acted as cashier. The committee in charge of the supper was on duty in the kitchen preparing the good things. The committee consisted of Mrs. Charles Dunham, chairman, Mrs. G. E. Stillman, Mrs. William H. Rogers, Mrs. William R. Mosher, Miss Lucy Dunham and Miss Carrie Randolph. Charles Dunham presided with great care over the ice-cream freezer.

HIGH SCHOOL FIELD DAY

IT IS TO BE HELD AT THE CRESCENT OVAL, MAY 15TH.

Preparations For it Are Now Being Made and a Committee of Arrangements Appointed—Henry W. Brower Chairman.

Athletic prospects appear very bright in the Plainfield High School. There is to be a baseball nine on the diamond for the first time in several years. The candidates for the different athletic events are quite numerous and now plans are being made for the annual spring field day open to the schools of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association, held 1st Monday afternoon, it was decided to hold the field day on the afternoon of April 15th, on the Crescent Oval. Events were arranged and a committee appointed. Every year the athletic meet of the association has been more and more successful, and the promoters of this year's meet propose that it shall break all all previous records

It was decided to have the following events: One hundred yards dash, two hundred and twenty yards dash, four hundred and forty yard running broad jump, throwing the hammer, putting the shot, throwing the discuss, pole vault, quarter-mile bicycle race, one mile bicycle race, and a two mile bicyle race. There was considerable discussion as to whether the high jump should be added to the list, but it was decided that the list was large enough already, and as the High School had no good representatives in that event that it had best be dropped.

The question of a capable committee was an important one, but it was finally appointed to the satisfaction of all. The committee will consist of Henry W. Brower, chairman, William H Sebring, Jr, Lindley M. Hillman, William A. DeLong, Jr., E Stanley Peck and Walter Serrell

The resignation of Charles Noble as secretary was accepted with regret and Elwood L. Davis elected to fill the vacancy.

The question of honors was discussed and an amendment made to the constitution. Hereafter, all members of the association are entitled to wear the emblem of the association on their sweaters or caps; members of the association who score points in a scholastic meet are entitled to wear the "P. H. S.;" members of the association who score points in an interscholasti meet are entitled to wear the association jersey of red and dark blue.

Walked Back.

Drivers Barton and Alberts, of the U. S. Express Company, had an amusing experience Tuesday afternoon. It is their custom to go to Fanwood every afternoon on the 4:50 train and catch the train at Fanwood which is due in this city at 5:04. In this way they have a little more time to check up the Plainfield packages so that they can start out on the delivery as early as possible. Yesterday they attempted to carry out this practice, but before they reached Fanwood their train had started for Plainfield and there was only one thing left to do—walk to Plainfield. This they did and they made the trip in twenty minutes.

An Easter Dance.

THE EASTER FESTIVITIES.

SOCIAL EVENTS FOLLOWING THE LENTEN SEASON.

Many Receptions and Teas Arranged for the Resumption of Gayety Among the Society People of the City and Borough.

Plainfield society people will have a gay week if they attend all the social functions that are being planned to succeed the Lenten season. Easter Monday has on its programme an afternoon tea from 4 to 6 o'clock, given by Mrs. Charles Lyman Case, of Central avenue, in honor of Miss Whitelaw, a subscription dance in the evening in the Scribner and Newton school building, and an evening reception given by the Continental Chapter of the daughters of the American Revolution at the residence of Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue. Many of the guests will be in costume and the entertainment promises to be a brilliant one. On Tuesday's programme is a tea given by Mrs. Frank Bushnell and her daughter, Miss Mary Sellers Bushnell, at their residence on Madison avenue, and in the evening a concert in the Casino by the Yale Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs, to be followed by a dance, to which invitations have been issued by the patronesses; Wednesday evening there will be a dance given by the Misses Clark, daughters of E. B. Clark, of Crescent avenue; Thursday evening Miss Catharine Reinhart, daughter of J. W. Reinnart, will give a cotillion in the Casino. There are other affairs of less prominence, luncheons, dinners, teas and parties, with all sorts of variations. If gayety means happiness, Plainfield people ought to be happy next week.

R., have received and accepted an invitation to attend the celebration in connection with the unveiling of the Grant monument in New York on April 27th. They have been invited to meet at Jersey City and go on a steamboat chartered by the G. A. R. of New Jersey. The boat will go up the river and take a position where the exercises can be witnessed. It is expected that about thirty members from this city will accept the invitation.

OBJECT TO A COLORED CADET.

Several Congressmen Disapprove of One Nominated by General Shattuc.

Washington, April 15.—Congressman Shattuc of Ohio has nominated D. J. Bundy, a colored lad of Cincinnati, to a cadetship at Annapolis. He has been urged to withdraw the name, but says he will stand by the appointment. There have been some murmurs of disapproval from the naval academy and threats of the students to resign.

"The boy earned the appointment fairly," said General Shattuc. "There was a competitive examination, and two colored lads, one of them Bundy, outstripped their Caucassian competitors. One of them, however, proved to be over 20 and was therefore disbarred.

"I had told them the competition was open to every eligible boy in my district. Bundy, who won, is one of the handsomest boys I ever saw. Yesterday I sent his name to the secretary of the navy, and he will be appointed. I have received no communications from the students at Annapolis on the subject, but several congressmen have told me that it was an unwritten law not to allow a colored boy at Annapolis. They told me if I persisted, it would break up the school; that other students would resign.

"'Let them resign and be damned,' I replied. 'That boy earned his appointment fairly, and I'm going to see he goes to Annapolis and receives fair treatment if it is in my power to do so.'"

General Shattuc says if the lad is willing to subject himself to the humiliation he will naturally encounter at Annapolis, owing to his color, he (Shattuc) will see him through.

General Shattuc says he has been informed that no colored boy ever took a degree at the naval academy. General Shattuc says he has 75,000 negroes in his district.

GRANT'S COMRADES TO PARADE.

George Meade Post of Philadelphia Will Join the Procession In His Honor.

Philadelphia, April 15.—In the Grant parade in New York on the 27th inst. George Meade post No. 1, G. A. R., of this city, of which General Grant was a member, will parade 250 comrades, headed by a band from this city, and will be accompanied by post No. 1, camp No. 23, Sons of Veterans, which will carry the post's old battleflags of the late war.

The post will be marshaled by Commander William W. Wallace and will be assigned to the head of the column of the Grand Army division of the parade, following immediately after Grant post of Brooklyn, which will form the escort of General Thaddeus S. Clarkson, commander in chief of the G. A. R.

The naval veterans, including the Farragut association No. 1 and the Philadelphia association No. 32; National Naval Veterans, accompanied by shipmates from the Naval post No. 400 and the Naval Veteran Legion, will also go to New York and in the parade will march in the National Naval Veterans' division.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Postmaster Charles W. Dayton of New York has resigned.

The Congregational church and chapel adjoining at East Taunton were destroyed by fire. The loss is $20,000.

James Banzell has been nominated for minister to Turkey. He was born in Rhode Island in 1829, but has resided in Michigan for 20 years. He is president of the Michigan university.

Burglars entered the Waterloo, N. Y., postoffice. They stole tools from a blacksmith shop in South Waterloo and forced open the side door. They got a lot of postage stamps and a little money.

A snow slide at the Baltimore mine, near Ketcham, Ida., resulted in the death of a man named White, Fred Tulford and his 6-year-old stepson. They were covered up to a depth of 50 or 60 feet.

A high pile of pig iron in the yards of the Tonawanda, N. Y., Steel and Iron works toppled over. A number of workmen were injured. James Lawler was crushed internally and will die. Frank Burns had his leg broken.

The charred remains of G. W. Roberts of Pulaski, Tenn., have been taken from the ruins of the Hotel Knox at Knoxville, Tenn. It is expected that other bodies will be found. Of the 52 people in the house only about 40 have been accounted for.

Seven Burglaries In One Night.

Syracuse, April 15.—Seven burglaries were committed in this city and vicinity in one night. The places entered were the houses of Members of Assembly Joseph Bondy, John Kirley, B. M. Martin and Simon Klopfer in this city, Norris Bros.' grocery store, C. F. Chaffee's mill and Conway's hotel at Elmwood. The burglars were scared away from the different places before getting much property.

German Anarchists Arrested.

Berlin, April 15.—Two well known anarchists, Spohr and Landauer, have been arrested here. Other arrests are likely to follow.

Is the time when you should take a Spring Medicine to purify your blood, give you good appetite, sound sleep, steady nerves and perfect digestion. That scrofulous taint, that skin trouble, that liver difficulty, that bilious tendency, that tired feeling, are all cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Give this medicine a fair trial and you will realize its positive merit. It is not what we say, but what the people who are cured say, which proves that

A Great Battle.

Do consumptives recover? Yes, thousands of them. Even after the disease has a firm hold? Yes, no doubt about it. After cavities have been formed and hemorrhages have occurred? Yes, even then. If the system is too weak, the disease will probably conquer, but if the body can be reinforced there is a fair chance for a winning fight. For twenty years, thousands have testified how they gained the victory.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites is still coming to the rescue. Out-door life, fresh air, and good pluck are of immense value. But in addition to these the body must be supplied with that peculiar kind of fat which is found only in cod-liver oil; combined with valuable medicinal agents; and there must be the tonic effect which comes from the hypophosphites. It is a great battle, and a great victory is often gained.

How a Man Edits a Paper Without Putting Into Print.

"I was in a small Southern town on business," said the commercial traveller, "and had just left a store where I had sold a bill of goods, when a man approached and began to question me. As I was answering his questions and trying to get away from him, the proprietor of the store came out and introduced me to the queer genius as the local editor. Then I began to ask a few questions myself, but before I had time to get in many, the town marshal appeared down the street with a prisoner, and the editor dropped me, and went after the latest excitement. 'I didn't know you had a newspaper here,' said I to the merchant. 'We haven't' said he, 'but we've got an editor.' 'How can he edit a newspaper when there isn't any?' said I. 'He's a genius,' said he. 'He doesn't look it,' said I. 'Well, I'll tell you what that chap does, and what he has been doing for a year or more. You know we have a population of seven or eight hundred here, and we don't get a daily paper here until it is eighteen hours old, and then we don't get it regularly. Well, what did that chap do but beg a corner in the room where the postoffice is, and there he put an old arm-chair some one gave him, and called it the editorial rooms of the Perpetual Gazette. At first people laughed at him, but he went around everywhere in town gathering the news, exactly as if he were going to print it, and he knew how, for he had been a bright newspaper man once. Then he would collect a group of people and offer to tell all he knew for five cents from each listener, or sometimes he would get on a barrel outside of the office, and, after telling what he had to tell, he would pass the hat and collect some times as much as fifty or seventy-five cents. He always got a lot of news out of the daily paper, and supplied it fresh every morning or the day after. I have often had him come in here at night, and for a quarter of a dollar got an hour or more of entertainment out of him besides getting the news. He reads stories in the papers, too; and if anybody wants to hear stories he can give all the current ones at so much a listener.'"

Not the Word.

The industrious man had been trying his best to work while a piano organ on the street poured forth its dulcet monotonies. The friend with an ear for music came in, and after a pause exclaimed:

"Dear me!" That music seems very familiar."

"Familiar!" was the response. By Jove, sir, that isn't the word for it. It's confoundedly impertinent."—Washington Star.

TEST VOTE ON TARIFF

Senate Approves the Retroactive Clause of Dingley Bill.

THE BALLOT STOOD AT 24 TO 23.

Secretary Gage's Order Severely Criticised by the Opposition — Woolgrowers Present a Memorial—Obstructive Tactics of the Populists.

Washington, April 15.—The first skirmish on the tariff question has occurred in the senate. It was followed by a vote, which served as a test of strength of the various elements of the senate. The vote occurred on a motion by Mr. Morrill (Rep.) of Vermont, chairman of the committee on finance, to refer a resolution by Mr. Vest, one of the Democratic members of that committee. This made the issue between representatives of the two leading elements in the senate. Aside from this, the resolution was in the nature of a criticism of Secretary Gage and declared illegal his recent order relative to goods imported after April 1, when, according to the retroactive clause of the pending Dingley bill, the new tariff rates are to apply. Mr. Morrill's motion prevailed by the close vote of 24 to 23. The affirmative vote was given by Republicans, including one silver Republican, Mr. Mantle of Montana. The negative vote was made up of Democrats, Populists and two silver Republicans, Pettigrew of South Dakota and Cannon of Utah. Prior to the vote a breezy discussion occurred on several phases of the tariff.

Woolgrowers Urge Protection.

The subject came up first when Mr. Mantle presented a memorial from wool growers urging ample protection to their industry. He referred in this connection to reports that Secretary North of the Wool Manufacturers' association was acting as secretary of the finance committee. Mr. Morrill denied the statement, saying this gentleman had been summoned as an expert to give information on the wool question. Messrs. Hoar of Massachusetts, Hawley of Connecticut and Gray of Delaware participated in the debate. Mr. Morrill succeeded in cutting off the debate by calling for the regular order, but it soon broke out again on Mr. Vest's resolution, directed against the secretary of the treasury. Mr. Vest declared that the retroactive clause of the pending tariff bill was illegal and beyond the power of congress. He characterized Secretary Gage's recent order as a nullification of the existing law and a move to intimidate the importers of foreign goods. Mr. Morrill's motion to refer the resolution to the finance committee brought the question to an issue with the result stated.

Mr. Morgan of Alabama endeavored to have a time fixed for the final vote on his Cuban resolution. Mr. Hoar objected, and Mr. Morgan gave notice that the resolution would be pressed daily until a final vote was reached.

When the Indian appropriation bill was taken up Mr. Gorman of Maryland criticised the course of those in charge of these measures in pressing excessive appropriations when the senate committees were so disorganized that proper care for economy could not be exercised.

The Populists' Methods.

Washington, April 15.—The Populist members of the house have decided to undertake the policy of forcing the Republicans to keep a quorum in the city. Without a quorum to carry motions to adjourn for three days it will be necessary for the house to meet every day. Representative Simpson says that the Populists had expected the Democrats, as the larger minority party, to insist upon a quorum, but as the Democrats are divided upon their policy the Populists will take the lead in opposing the majority.

After an informal conference of the Populists, letters were sent to those of their own party who are absent from the city, urging them to return at once. There are 22 Populists in the house, and Mr. Simpson asserts that he expects that enough Democrats will work with them to make an effective minority.

Speaker Reed is urging Republican members not to leave the city, and the number in the house yesterday was unusually large for a time when the house is practically not in session.

New Civil Service Law.

Washington, April 15.—Representative Brownlow of Tennessee has introduced a joint resolution for the reinstatement in the civil service of persons separated therefrom without cause. It provides that upon requisition of a head of a department the civil service commission shall certify for reinstatement, in a grade requiring no higher examination than the one in which he or she was formerly employed, any person who has, through no delinquency or misconduct, been separated from the classified service of the department.

No Fund For District Attorneys.

Washington, April 15.—Attorney General McKenna has sent a letter to the house calling attention to the fact that there is now no fund available for the payment of salaries of United States district attorneys. He recommends that $75,000 be immediately appropriated for salaries and expenses of district attorneys and $55,000 for the pay of regular assistant attorneys.

Mr. Drexel's Yacht Arrives Home.

New York, April 15.—The steam yacht Sultana has arrived from an extended cruise to the West Indies and the Spanish main. The Sultana, with her owner, Mr. John R. Drexel, and wife, accompanied by Mr. Fellows and Miss Randolph as guests, sailed from New York Feb. 15, touching at Charleston and New Orleans on their way to the tropics. The following ports were visited during the trip: Kingston, Curacao, La Guayra, Trinidad, Barbados, St. Thomas and finally Bermuda.

A State Treasurer Pardoned.

Sioux Falls, April 15.—South Dakota's erring state treasurer, William W. Taylor, has been released from the penitentiary here after an imprisonment of one year and a half. Good behavior reduced his two years' sentence some six months. He left at once for his old home at Redfield, where he will stay a few days, and then go to Indiana to visit friends.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

IRON AND TUBE WORKS FAIL.

Serious Financial Crash In a Pennsylvania Manufacturing Town.

Norristown, Pa., April 15.—Bills in equity have been filed in court against the Longmead Iron company of Conshohocken and the Conshohocken Tube company, asking for the appointment of a receiver for each. A receiver for the iron company was asked for by Lewis A. Lukens and for the tube company by the Longmead Iron company. The court made a decree appointing Jawood Lukens and Albert L. Murphy receivers for both concerns, and fixed the security at $80,000 as receivers for the iron company and $50,000 as receivers for the tube company. Lewis A. Lukens, who asks for a receiver for the Longmead Iron company, says he is a creditor of the corporation in the sum of $25,000 on a judgment note. The capital stock of the company is $100,000. The indebtedness, in addition to the judgment of Lewis A. Lukens, is: Bills payable, $12,000; commercial paper of the Conshohocken Tube company, indorsed by the Longmead Iron company, $23,000; accounts payable amounting to about $12,000 and a contingent liability upon the indorsement of commercial paper of about $12,000. The assets are stated at $53,000, in addition to stock manufactured and in course of manufacture estimated at $15,000.

The Longmead Iron company has been largely supplying its product to the Conshohocken Tube works, which is indebted to it for $22,870 and the iron company is also carrying the tube company's paper for $22,000, which it cannot meet. The iron company owes $3,000 for wages and has notes for $5,000 maturing in a few days, and there is no cash to meet these obligations.

The Longmead Iron company in its prayer for a receiver for the tube company say they are holders of $100,000 of the bonds of the tube company, the total bonded indebtedness being $223,000, which is secured by a mortgage and a pledge of certain bonds amounting to $162,000; that the bonds held as collateral have no market value; that interest on the bonds amounting to $18,000 remains unpaid, and that the interest on the whole issue, $6,699, will fall due May 1. The company was incorporated in 1883. Its capital stock is $150,000, all of which has been issued. It employs 85 hands. The liabilities are $223,000, included in which is $1,600 for wages. The assets are stated to include accounts receivable and interest amounting to $48,300.

SWINDLING THE ENGLISH

A New Yorker Passing Worthless Checks on Unsuspecting Britons.

New York, April 15.—A copyrighted cable from London to The Journal and Advertiser says:

The United States embassy, in Victoria street, Westminster, is on the lookout for a man who is passing worthless checks on West End shopkeepers and representing himself as military attache at the embassy.

The swindler is known to be a New Yorker who at one time held a good social position. His wife called at one of the banks where he tried to open an account and declared that the woman who was introduced as the man's wife is an interloper. She says that she—the legal wife—has been deserted and left penniless.

The swindler is described as about 43 years old, large, loosely built, with a strong American accent. He claims an intimate acquaintance with Colonel Hay, the new embassador, and it is thought he is trying to impersonate the last military attache, Colonel Ludlow, now in America.

CHIEF ARTHUR SPEAKS.

He Gives His Opinion of an Injunction of the Federal Court.

Cleveland, April 15.—Chief P. M. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has given his opinion on the injunction granted by the federal court in the consolidated steel and wire strike. He said:

"It is not necessary for the men to obey the court's injunction. The Brotherhood of Engineers has been all through the injunction mill and has a case now pending in the United States supreme court which will determine the validity of that style of government. In my opinion the injunction has gone to lengths which are not permissible in a court of equity. No tribunal can stop men from holding conversation with one another, provided no intimidation is used. Every court since this was a government has recognized the right of any citizen to use the power of moral suasion. I am of the opinion that the injunction will not stand."

Verdict For Actress Crossman.

New York, April 15.—Henrietta Crossman, the actress, received a verdict for $3,000 against the New York World in the United States circuit court. The case was tried before Judge Lacombe and a jury. The actress had a suit for divorce against her husband, Sidney Brown, and The World published an interview with Brown, in which he held his wife up to ridicule and said that she was an anarchist and wanted to be a new woman. The actress claimed that she had been libeled.

Inherits a Big Fortune.

Barrie, Ont., April 15. — Alexander Hartney of Innisfiel, about ten miles south of here, has received word that he has fallen heir to his share of $1,500,000 through the death of his uncle in Glasgow, where the property is. Besides Mr. Hartney, there are two heiresses, Mrs. Lamb of Midland, Ont., and Mrs. James Hartney of Aurora, Ont. They will leave shortly for Glasgow to secure the property.

Republican Assemblymen In Caucus.

Albany, April 15.—The Republican members of the assembly held a caucus on the Raines liquor law amendments last night. There were 64 members present, all of whom agreed to support the amendments in toto. The proposition to exempt clubs from taxation was voted down by a vote of 56 to 7, Mr. Robbins, who was not present, not voting.

Flour Mill Destroyed by Fire.

Wilmington, Del., April 15.—The flour mill operated by Pyle & McIntyre, at Barleywood, on the Brandywine, five miles from this city, has been destroyed by fire. The loss on the building, which was owned by E. I. Dupont, De Nemous & Co., is estimated at $12,000; on stock and fixtures, $12,000 to $15,000.

WAR IS INEVITABLE.

Greece and Turkey Cannot Long Endure Present Strain.

OPINION OF DIPLOMATS IN VIENNA.

Situation Regarded as Analogous to That of Turko-Servian War In 1876.

The Sultan's Forces Are Now Massing at Grevena.

Vienna, April 15.—The best informed diplomats here regard war as inevitable. They say the strain cannot much longer be borne by either Turkey or Greece and that the time has passed for the powers to attempt to intervene. In view of the dangerous position assumed by Greece, the question is reiterated, whether she does not count upon some power coming to her support at the crucial moment. The situation is regarded here as analogous to the time when Servia attacked Turkey in 1876, when Russia and Great Britain saved defeated Servia from annihilation.

Turks Massing at Grevena.

Elassona, April 15.—The Turkish troops are now centered in very strong force at Grevena, and the insurgents have little chance of advancing farther. Seyfoullah Bey, the officer who was sent by Edhem Pasha to Krania with instructions to ascertain the exact situation in that locality, is an ex-attache of the Turkish embassy at Athens. He declares that he recognized among the insurgents near Krania and between that town and the border several Greek officers whom he had met personally at Athens. He also asserts that the Greek troops on the frontier made no attempt whatever to prevent incursions upon Turkish territory. The Turks complain that the Greek troops are trying to provoke an attack. A detachment crossed the frontier and for a brief period occupied the monastery near Danasi, subsequently retiring. A communication has been sent by Edhem Pasha to the Greek commander informing him that these tactics will be stopped by force if necessary.

Insurgents Were Routed.

London, April 15.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says that, according to a member of the Ethnike hetairia, the insurgents who have returned across the frontier are only those who were unable to follow their more active companions. They left a guard at various posts just within the frontier. At Douyazi they were attacked by an overwhelming force of Turks and retreated. The band will be reformed with newly arrived volunteers. According to the news from Kalambaka the hospital there is entirely inadequate for the great number of wounded. It is stated that the Turks who followed the retiring invaders threatened to cross the frontier into Greek territory, and the news has had a dispiriting effect in Athens. Goussio, the principal organizer of the raid, has had an audience with King George.

Well Known Germans Will Inspect Turks.

London, April 15.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says:

"Considerable comment is caused here by the news from Constantinople that General Grumbkoff, the well known German military tactician, is going to Elassona to inspect the Turkish artillery and that Admiral Kallay of the German fleet has gone to the Dardanelles to inspect the Turkish squadron and flotilla there. Both officers stand in the front rank of the German service and obtained permission of the German government for the special duty. The crown princess and the Princess Maria have started for Volo, and will go from there to Larissa."

Supposed Anarchistic Act.

Athens, April 15. — Colonel Mataxas, the Greek minister of war, received a letter containing a mysterious substance, which subsequently proved to be gelatin. The first supposition was that it was the act of an anarchist, but it is now believed to have been a practical joke.

It is stated here that another strong band has entered Macedonia near Kalambaka.

Treats the Powers With Contempt.

London, April 15.—A dispatch to The Times from Constantinople says it is evident from the porte's language to the powers, which remains courteous and plausible, but is tinged with a perceptible scorn, that the concert of the powers is not regarded there with the consideration paid to it prior to the wavering policy of Europe in dealing with Greece.

Greeks Not Intimidated.

London, April 15.—The Vienna correspondent of The Times says that one of the least favorable consequences of the course of action taken by the powers is that it has not only failed to overawe the Greeks, but there are unmistakable signs that it has diminished the prestige of the European concert.

Crown Princess Wants War.

Vienna, April 15.—The Tageblatt says that sharp differences have arisen in the Greek royal family as to the proper course for the government to pursue. The crown princess, in defiance of her husband and of King George, has gone entirely over to the war party.

Extensive Smuggling Scheme.

Detroit, April 15.—Lewis J. Fulmer, a Detroit druggist; George L. Schumacher and Herbert T. Jenkins have been arrested, charged with smuggling sulfonal, trional, phenacetin and antipyrine from Canada. It is alleged that several men and women assisted in the carrying of these articles across Detroit river from Windsor, Ont. It is estimated that three or four tons of these drugs have been brought over within four years. These articles are made from coal tar by a process patented by a firm in Germany.

Princeton Bridge Tender Drowned.

Princeton, N. J., April 15.—Frederick Biallas, an old resident of Princeton, who operated the drawbridge over the Delaware and Raritan canal, was found dead, lying partly in the water of Stony brook. Biallas was a well known character at Princeton. He sold cider and rented boats to the students. The physicians assert that Biallas was drowned. An investigation will be made.

UNDERGROUND WIRES.

Many people are wondering if the Common Council is ever going to make an earnest effort to have electric and telephone wires put in underground conduits. It will be remembered that several months ago the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company offered to put all their wires under ground as soon as the Council gave them authority to start the work, but no steps have been taken that would indicate that the Councilmen are much interested in the matter. The Age of Steel has the following words to say about the underground system that may well apply to Plainfield:

The overhead system, however carefully constructed and secured, cannot, from the very nature of things, be otherwise than a menace to safety. In many of our cities, the lines of wires are thick and numerous as the threads in a spider's web. They outclass the complicated ravel of a full-rigged ship, and in sheer weight alone, at contiguous and intersecting points, are many tons in weight. In heavy winds, or local conflagrations, and under masses of debris and snow, the danger of these overhanging masses of copper and cable is increased. It is, moreover, a fact that, however rigid and close inspection may be, the detection of weakness and the prevention of sudden dislocation is not always possible. Wires will continue to fall, and citizens to be electrocuted, in spite of all precautions, and the death roll will still employ its copper pen until legislation supervises the deadly scribe. It has thrown its protecting shield over the railway and the mine, and sooner or later it will have a word to say on the perils of the wire.

FUNERAL OF MRS. VAN ALYSTYNE

Final Obsequies Over the Remains of a Christian Woman.

The funeral services in memory of Mrs. Mary Vreeland Van Alstyne, wife of Louis Irving Van Alstyne, who died last Sunday night of pneumonia, were held at her late residence on Madison avenue, yesterday afternoon, at two o'clock. Her pastor, Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich, officiated, and spoke very highly of the sweet young Christian wife and mother, seeking also to comfort the bereaved one with three sayings of the Saviour: "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter." "I am with you alway." "Because I live, ye shall live also." A former pastor of Mrs. Van Alstyne, Dr. McWillaims, was also present, and added his words of praise and of comfort.

A duet, "Beyond the smiling and the weeping," was sung by Miss M. G. Morse and Miss Elfleda A. Whiting, and Elmer E. Runyon also sang "One sweetly solemn thought." The flowers about the casket were unusually beautiful, one pillow with the word "Mamma" bringing to mind the four little ones so early left without a mother's love.

Mrs. Van Alstyne had resided several years in Plainfield, and will be mourned by a wide circle of warm friends, to whom her sweetness and beauty of character had greatly endeared her.

Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry street, Alton, Ill, suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. Park and and North avenues.

The Dumping Grounds.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The most distressful looking place in this city is the city dumping grounds, better known as the gravel pits. Here everything is thrown such as dead dogs, cats, rotten eggs, barrels of rotten garbage, etc. For the past three or four years there has been a man hired to look after this place but since our new board of health came in he has been discharged, thus leaving those that cart there throw in what ever they please. Something should be done at once or the people of that end of the city will find it impossible to live there during the warm weather.

Sanitary.

The Rev. W. H. Weaver, pastor of the U. B. Church, Dillsburg, Pa., recognizes the value of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and does not hesitate to tell others about it. "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," he says, "and find it an excellent medicine for colds, cough's and hoarseness." So does everyone who gives it a trial. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

with surprising ease On the right as you enter the vault are the safe deposit boxes in various sizes, conveniently arranged and distinctly modern. These little safes can only be opened by the use of two keys, one of which is always in possession of the Bank official; so that if the owner of a box loses his key, it will be impossible for the finder to profit by it. The boxes will be found to be of very convenient size for the reception of bonds, stocks and papers of value. At the rear of the vault, behind a steel grille, may be seen the safes containing the funds and securities of the bank.

An examination of the doors shows remarkably fine bolt and lock work, with modern time locks, making it impossible to open the doors during the night and holding the doors rigidly, until the time appointed for commencing business the next day. A new system of electrical protection is in use here, so that any tampering with the vault would result in an immediate alarm being given. We are informed that the bank, in connection with its safe deposit system, has arranged for the deposit of wills, and hereafter any person who wishes to leave their will in a safe place, can deposit it here, and, for a nominal charge, make sure that it will be guarded and finally delivered strictly in accordance with his or her instructions.

Persons leaving town for the summer, or for a trip abroad, may send their silver here in a trunk or chest, and rest assured that no spoons nor forks will be missing when they return.

The vault has been constructed under the supervision of Mr. J. M. Mossman, the well known safe expert of New York, and the builder, Mr. F. O. Herring, being a resident of Plainfield, has given his personal attention to the work and is justly proud of the result. In describing the fixtures of the bank, we may say that the wood work is all of mahogany, with screens of oxidized copper and chipped glass, making a very handsome interior.

It is well-known in this community that this bank does a strictly conservative business, and it has also recently arranged for the issue of drafts and letters of credit available for travelers in all parts of the world.

Mr. A. L. C. Marsh was the architect of the building. The interior fittings were furnished by the Andrew Manufacturing Company of New York, the mason work by J. P. Emmons, carpenter work by John Abbott, electric wiring by H. W. Tomlinson, painting by Woolston & Buckle, iron work by W. T. Kirk, plumbing by George J. Tobin and heating by A. M. Griffin

Today is general inspection day, and tomorrow afternoon from three to five o'clock the rooms will be thrown open to the inspection of the ladies. The bank will commence business in its new quarters an Monday morning, April 19th, 1897.

The officers and directors of the bank are:—Charles Hyde, president; J. F. Hubbard, vice-president; W. F. Arnold, cashier; H. G. Runkle, J. K. Myers, J. F. MacDonald, Walter Scott, J. T. Closson and J. B. Coward, directors.

"EASTER"! Oh! yes, I must have a pair of fine, "snappy" shoes for Easter to wear with my new dress and bonnet; my old shabby ones will just spoil my whole appearance. I don't want to pay $4 or $5 for them either!

Well, just look here! You needn't pay it if you don't want to. NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Eugene Runyon has been summoned to Lakewood, N. J., today, on important legal business.

Mrs. C. Jones returned to her home in Bedminster, yesterday, after a pleasant visit with Mrs. B. Brokaw.

Paul Reusch has been overhauling his soda water fountain and getting it in readiness for business on Saturday.

Isaac J. Stites was confined at home by illness all of yesterday, and his place of business was closed during the day.

The electric lights went on strike again last night, and several times during the evening they went out altogether.

Edward Giles has returned to his Philadelphia home, after a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Luckey, on Prospect avenue.

Lenten services were held in St. John's church last evening. Rev. Father Bogaard conducted the service and much interest was manifested by the parishioners.

The Borough Council chamber was brilliantly lighted up last evening and many persons thought there was to be another special meeting of the Council. But the only occupant of the room was the borough clerk, who was wearing off a little of his vanity after the arrival of his handsome new desk.

The Dunellen Checker Club met at their headquarters in W. H. Cole's office, Tuesday evening, for individual playing. Some of the members are becoming quite proficient in the knack of moving the checkers about, and they seem to delight in passing an occasional evening in this harmless amusement.

Adam Seader, of Plainfield, had a serious accident at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was coming from Plainfield and, a short distance east of the round-house, one of the bolts holding the shafts in position fell off, allowing them to drop on the horse's heels causing the animal to run away. Mr. Seader held on to the reins for dear life, but in front of Adam Dealaman's store the rig struck a milk wagon belonging to Nelson Giles. Here the horse fell and the driver was thrown out, sustaining some bad cuts about the head and hands. The horse was captured before doing further damage. The animal was also badly cut about the legs.

Equipped with a warrant and other legal documents a detective, from the Sheriff's office in New Brunswick, came over to Dunellen yesterday forenoon in search of Fred Merserole. The detective waited around town all the afternoon, watching each incoming train, but it was not until 6 o'clock or after that he was rewarded, when he noticed Mr. Merserole alight from a New York train, and he forthwith served the documents on him. The warrant, it is said, was for making threats and the other document was a dispossess order from the Sheriff. Merserole seems determined not to obey the edicts of the courts, and still has possession of the property over which there has been so much controversy. Later in the evening Mr. Merserole and the detective drove over to Justice Storms' office in New Market, in the hope of adjudicating the matter.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

William Stanbury is recovering from his recent indisposition.

The graves of the dead soldiers and sailors here will be fittingly remembered on Decoration Day.

The stone crushers are now running on full time, and there seems to be a growing demand for their product.

Not before in a good many years has there been so much painting and decorating of houses going on as now.

There is yet a scarcity of water at the Plains. The late rains have raised the wells to a considerable extent, but they are yet very low.

W. H. Turton, who always has an eye to business, has caused to have spread a generous supply of crushed stone in front of his store.

Some of the baseball enthusiasts are advocating enclosed grounds. But this would hardly be advisable, as the attendance would then be limited.

Eels are said to be so numerous in the mountain streams that they frequently get tangled up in the water wheels and cause considerable trouble.

The interior of the postoffice looks cold and cheerless. The office only occupies a small portion of the large room, and the rest of the space is vacant.

The coroner's inquest looking into the cause of the recent explosion in John Cook's barn, whereby one life was lost, is in progress in Excelsior Hall this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Emery were notified by telegraph, Tuesday evening, of the dangerous illness of Mr. Emery's sister at Bayonne. They are now at the bedside of the invalid.

Thomas Whitenack, of North First street, is confined to the house, suffering from the grip. This is Mr. Whitenack's first illness in a long time, and his many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Jonathan Lyon has gone to Newark to visit his son, Charles, who underwent a delicate operation in the Elizabeth hospital some time ago, and it is now feared that he will have to submit to another operation.

Real estate agent Thomas Paff is almost daily in receipt of inquiries concerning the chance for leasing small houses. But they are not to be had. If some of Plainfield's capitalists would only come here and erect a few houses for men of moderate means, they would find a ready market and at the same time would prove a paying investment for them.

THE IRVINGTON-MILBURN RACE.

To Be Held This Year Under the Management of the A. C. C.

Through the united action of the Associated Cycling clubs of New Jersey, New York and Long Island, with the active aid of the old Metropolitan Association, the Irvington-Milburn twenty-five-mile road race, which has proved such a success in past years, will be given this year, and undoubtedly under the new management will be, if possible, more popular than ever. The A. C. C. of N. J. passed a vote of approval at their regular monthly meeting, held last week, so Chairman Walter Rutan attended the joint meeting of the interested organizations, held in New York city on Monlast, with power to act.

This race has been one of the most popular that has been held in this section and has been deservedly called "The Great Cycling Derby," and this name will gain new laurels under the combined management of these large organizations, which embrace most of the cycling clubs within fifty miles of New York city. These clubs, with their thousands of members, and the still larger number of unattached riders, will all help to make Monday, May 31st, a memorable one for the cyclists.

Grand stands will be erected at the start and finish, and a place will also be provided to check wheels. The course for 300 feet will be fenced in at each end so that the riders will have ample space for the start and finish. Entry blanks will be out next week.

MONUMENT TO RUNYON.

Being Erected Over the Grave in Mt Pleasant Cemetery, Newark.

A magnificent monument is being built in Mt. Pleasant cemetery, Newark; over the grave of Theodore Runyon, Minister to Germany at the time of his death. It is of pure Grecian style and of the Ionic order of architecture. It is surmounted with a carved scroll finial, the design being taken from the famous sarcophagus of Scipio Africanus, in Rome.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity.

Miss Ella M. Hall, Miss Gene Savage and Miss Edith Manning visited friends in Plainfield yesterday.

Mrs. N. W. Cadwell left this afternoon for a visit in Gettysburg, Pa. Rev. N. W. Cadwell will go later on.

Mrs. E. V. Waldorf, who so ably arranged and conducted the recent entertainment, given in Westfield Club hall, was in town yesterday.

Chief Plume, of the Cranford fire department, has sent invitations to Chief J. Austin Denis and his assistants, Chamberlain and English, to attend an entertainment on the 22d, at Cranford.

Fred Hall, of New York, was at Westfield Club hall last evening and gave a pool exhibition in fancy and trick shots. Hall claims to be the champion fancy and trick shot player of the world.

The District Medical Society of Union county, met at the Elizabeth General Hospital yesterday. Dr. R. B. Whitehead read an interesting paper on diptheria. After the discussion, the society was entertained by the Chemical Society of the Elizabeth General Hospital.

There will be services in St. Paul's P. E. church, at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and at 8 p. m. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Saegle, of New York, will preach. Early communion will be celebrated at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. The other Sunday services will be as before.

There is no truth in the rumor and published report that Arthur Drake is to succeed Mr. Winchester as organist at the Congregational church. Mr. Winchester's time expires the first of June and a majority of the music committee voted against him. The committee also decided not to recall Mr. Drake. Several applications have been made for the position, but as yet no action has been taken on them.

The Rev. Josiah Strong, D. D., of New York, preached an eloquent sermon last evening in the Congregational church. The devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Henry Ketcham. The music is a feature of these services. The pastor says the meetings are better attended and far more successful than he anticipated. Rev. J. A. Owen, pastor of St. James' M. E. church, Elizabeth, will preach this evening.

Joseph Shepardson, a colored man, fond of strong drink and excitement, and recently convicted for beating his wife, came up for a little more attention yesterday afternoon. It appears that the Rev. Mr. Haskins, the colored pastor here, had stored some furniture with "Joe." Yesterday he called for it and when it was all loaded up, Joe came home loaded, also. He mounted the wagon and tossed the furniture out into the street and raised a big noise generally. Constable Marsh was sent for and took him to the parrot cage. The dominie refused to make a complaint against Joe and he was turned out.

The committee is working hard to make the amateur minstrel show, to be held in Westfield Club hall, April 23, a glorious success. All but three taking part are local talent. The array at present is as follows:—Interlocutor, Edward J. MacDonald; end men, John McLean, Edward D. Ruggles, James E. Dempsy and Richard Devens. Banjo and Mandolin Club, Robert Taylor, Frederick Harbinson, Charles Harbinson, William Bostable, Harry Evans, Nelson L. Coryell, Adolph Genzel, Charles Coffin and Harry Westervelt. The vocalists, Alfred Holmes, Charles Harbinson, Frank Harbinson, John McLean, James E. Dempsey, Harry Harbinson, Frederick Harbinson, E. J. MacDonald, Andrew Smith, Harry Evans, S. A. Mallette, Robert Taylor, Charles Coffin, Edward Payne, Adolf Genzel, G. D. Ruggles, Richard Devine, N. L. Coryell and William Bostable.

—Dr. Johnston's School closed Tuesday afternoon for the spring vacation. The vacation will last for ten days.

CUSTOMS OF THE MIKADO.

His Majesty's Methods of Dealing With Ministers and People.

His Majesty's daily customs are very peculiar. He always goes to his study at 9 a. m., and remains at work there until 4 p. m. He reads and signs all parliamentary laws and decrees.

When a Cabinet minister addresses his Majesty about any public matter he inquires about the subject, the purpose and condition, and decides it. He is firm and not changeable. When he decides a matter once he can not after that be moved.

At the beginning of Matsukata's Cabinet, Parliament decided to reduce the salaries of the Cabinet ministers and other government officers. The Prime Minister, Count Matsukata, addressed his Majesty about it. His Majesty did not consent, and he said: "Many officers can not live upon a fixed salary. Some Cabinet ministers have been obliged to borrow money, and I have advanced money from my treasury to support them. If the present Cabinet ministers retain their positions by borrowing money, all Cabinet ministers therefore can not do so. Therefore, I can not consent to the reduction of salaries."

Count Matsukata retired from his Majesty. However, the Cabinet once more debated the question with the Count, and Matsukata went again to consult the Emperor.

His Majesty was not inclined to see him again, and sent an attendant to say to him: "I have already commanded about the reduction of salaries. I can not see you any more."

The salaries were, therefore, not reduced.

His Majesty dislikes all pretense and hypocrisy.

When it has been reported to His Majesty that some of his subjects have given their lives in times of flood or earthquake to preserve his Majesty's picture, he has been much touched; but he is anxious to discourage his subjects from such Quixotism, and to preserve them from any but necessary danger.

Withal, the Emperor's life is a very happy and peaceful one, blessed by the love and respect of grateful subjects; and when his Majesty makes a tour anywhere in Japan without his guards he is in no danger, but is received everywhere with reverence and joy.—Japanese American Voice.

A Novel Invention.

A Rusisan philanthropist has just completed an invention which should bring comfort to the minds of those who have the fear of premature burial always before them. It is a coffin devised with a tube, the lower end of which is placed a little above the chest of the presumed corpse, while the upper end rises above the surface of the ground. The slightest respiration leads to the loud peal of an electric bell arraged at the top of the tube, while at the same moment a small flag is shot out for the purpose of indicating to any one who may be on the watch the precise grave at which the phenomenon has occurred. Simultaneously air and light penetrate into the coffin, the tenant of which can converse without the least effort or difficulty with the persons who have hastened to his rescue.

Mixed As To Dates.

A gentleman was riding on the outside of a coach in the West, when the driver said to him:

"I've had a coin guv' me to-day 200 years old. Did you ever see a coin 200 years old?"

"Oh, yes; I have one myself 2,000 years old."

"Ah!" said the driver, "have ye?" and spoke no more during the rest of the journey.

When the coach arrived at its destination the driver turned to the other with an intensely self-satisfied air and said:

"I told you as we druv' along I had a coin 200 years old."

"Yes."

"And you said to me you had one 2,000 years old."

"Yes, so I have."

"That's not true."

"What do you mean by that?"

"What do I mean? Why, it's only 1897 now!"

Paternal Shortsightedness.

Old Gotrox (indignantly)—"I am surprised, sir, that you should be so destitute of all reason as to ask for my daughter's hand in marriage!" Young Hardupp—"Well, you needn't be; that girl has some really fine points about her; you don't know her as well as I do, or you would think the world of her."—Puck.

Cause for Comp'aint.

Weller—What's the matter, old man?

Seller—Matter enough! I ordered a plaster cast of some famous sculpture to be used as a sign for my glove store, and they sent me the Venus of Milo.—New York Journal.

To Train the Voice.

Trainer—'SS-st, Jim! I hev me eye on wun ov de greates' trainin' groun's fer yer on de map.

Jim Tawk—Whare?

Trainer—'S-h! it's de mammoth cave.

Jim Tawk—W'ot good is a cave fer trainin'?

Trainer—Look at de great practice yer'll get wid yer echo.—Judge.

Extent of His Privileges.

"Who is that slovenly looking man over there by the piano?"

"'Sh! That is Mr. Vlimmerdown, the famous musician."

"Well, I've no objection to his tangled hair, if he's a musician, but he has no right to wear those dirty cuffs, by George! He's not a literary man."—Chicago Tribune.

will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

DEATH IN THE FLOOD

More Fatalities Reported In the Mississippi Valley.

A FAMILY OF FIVE WERE DROWNED.

Heroic Work In Saving the Levees—Situation In Louisiana Is Acute.

Many Negroes In Peril on Davis Island.

Memphis, April 15.—The river continues to slowly rise at Vicksburg and all points south, and the situation along the Louisiana system of levees is acute. The waters are being hurled gulfward with tremendous force, and several thousand men are working night and day in the effort to hold the embankments intact.

Reports from the overflowed Mississippi delta are not encouraging. The expected fall in the waters has not occurred. Many planters express the fear that the flood will not recede until June—too late to plant this year's crop. Much suffering still exists in the Sunflower and Bogue Phalia country, where hundred of negroes have deserted their cabins and are huddled on the high ground.

Many cabins are submerged to their roofs, while several have been swept from their foundations and carried away by the current. On a plantation ten miles west of Helena, Sylvester Sanders, a colored tenant, his wife and five children were overwhelmed by the current and all perished.

Near Greenville two negroes were drowned in an attempt to reach land.

Word has reached Vicksburg that many negroes were in imminent peril at Davis island, where the break in a private levee occurred Sunday, and assistance was asked for. A relief steamer was immediately dispatched to the island.

At Greenville the river is now stationary. Throughout the overflowed area the rain has been falling in torrents. At Helena the downpour was of such violence that great pumps were put to work in the lower part of the city, but the water gained so rapidly that the pumps had to be discontinued. The whole of the southern part of Helena is under water from one to four feet deep.

At Memphis the river is stationary. The river is falling at Cairo, but as the rainfall throughout the territory draining into the Mississippi at Memphis and above has been heavy, the local observer predicts that during the ensuing 24 hours there will probably be a slight rise at this point.

Less Danger In Omaha.

Omaha, April 15.—There is now less danger of the threatened cutoff by the Missouri river, and unless there is an unlooked for rise or a high wind from the north it is not probable that much damage will be done. The hastily built dyke that stemmed the torrent from Florence lake on Tuesday has been greatly strengthened and has almost stopped the flow at the most threatening point. The water has spread out over a wider stretch of territory and surrounds a few more houses, but the changing of the channel of the Missouri has been averted for the present at least.

Reservation Under Water.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 15.—A large part of the Fort Leavenworth reservation on the Missouri side is under water, and the federal prison farm on the Kansas side is covered with lakes. The water is encroaching on Stillings, the village across from Leavenworth, and several families have been forced to move. Work in the Western Target company's factory has been stopped, as back water has flooded the village.

Farms Being Flooded.

Marshall, Mo., April 15.—Many of the best farms of this country are river bottom lands. The water is already over some of it and rising, causing farmers to move. It is feared there will be a rise nearly equal to the great flood of 1844, when large steamers ran through the Wakena prairie 10 miles from the main channel.

Don't Want to Hear Roosevelt.

Nashville, April 15.—Campbell chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has appointed a committee to prepare a protest against the invitation to be extended by the Historical society to the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt to deliver the address before the patriotic and historical societies on King's Mountain day, Oct. 7, that date having been set apart for such purpose by the centennial exposition executive committee. The grounds for the protest are Mr. Roosevelt's alleged incorrect and unjust statements concerning General Sevier, first governor of Tennessee, and the east Tennessee pioneers in whose honor this day is to be observed.

Italy Seeks New Markets.

Rome, April 15.—In the chamber of deputies the minister of agriculture, Conte Francesco Guicciardini, replying to the interpellation made a week ago with respect to the new American duties on oranges and lemons and the effect which these were likely to have upon Italian production, said the government was seeking to increase internal consumption and to find new foreign markets. It was also considering the advisability of abrogating the existing commercial treaty with Russia and of negotiating a new one. The government would not fail to make diplomatic representations, if necessary, in relation to the new United States tariff.

Convicted of First Degree Murder.

Brooklyn, April 15.—Hadley A. Sutherland, colored, 20 years old, has been convicted of murder in the first degree. On March 22 last Sutherland shot and killed his mistress, Sarah Wrenn, in their home at 98 Gwinnett street after quarreling with her. In all five shots were fired. On examination Sutherland admitted the shooting, but denied that he intended to kill the woman. When the verdict was announced by the foreman of the jury, the prisoner showed no traces of fear. He was taken back to jail and will be sentenced on Monday.

Is Philippine War Ended?

Washington, April 15.—The Spanish minister, De Lome, has received a telegram from the commander of the Spanish forces at Manila.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Miss Edith Pruden, of East Second street, is riding her new '97 wheel.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company has just received a shipment of Crescent wheels for the trade.

In addition to a fine lot of '97 wheels the Plainfield Cycle Company, of North avenue, have an unsurpassed line of sporting goods.

Albert Woltman, of West Seventh street, has his new Cleveland racer, which he purchased from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

Rogers, the North avenue cycle dealer, is having a large run on the famous Spalding wheel, which has become so popular with cyclers.

Two new clubs have applied for memberseip to the Y. M. C. A. Cycling League of Northern New Jersey. They are the bicycling divisions of the associations of Jersey City and Paterson.

Ray Macdonald, the fast rider of Staten Island, sailed for Savannah yesterday. He will train there for the National Circuit races, it being his intention to take part in all the big tournaments of the season.

J. Howard Leggett, the druggist, gave his wife a pleasant surprise last evening. Mrs. Leggett went out to spend the evening with some friends and when she returned home she found a handsome new wheel standing in the hallway. The surprise was complete and she could not account for it until Mr. Leggett came home and explained the affair. It is needless to say that she was pleased, and she will now learn to master the wheel.

The Wolff American triplet team, consisting of Robert C. Handloser, of New York, Leon B. Lent, of Brewster, and Walter B. Rittenhouse, of this city, left yesterday morning on their two weeks tour after spending several days as the guest of Mr. Rittenhouse at his home on East Sixth street. From Plainfield they go to Morristown and them to Mendham where they will be the guests, at dinner, of Charles Noble, formerly of this city. Then they go to the Hudson valley and to Brewster.

INS AND OUTS.

The Plainfield Athletic Club ball team will play a nine from the Potter Press Works, Saturday afternoon, on the old Y. M. C. A. grounds. The following is the make up of the former team: Erickson, c.; Winn, p.; Symons, 1st b.; Freeman, 2d b.; Firstbrook, 3d b; Moran, s. s.; Cooney, l. f.; Fleming, c. f.; Cose, r. f. Muir and Dederick, extras.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The athletic contests will be continued in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, this evening.

Town Clock Silent.

For over a week the town clock in the steeple of the First M. E. church has not struck. The clock has continued to mark the hours, but the striking apparatus is evidently out of order. Perhaps, however, the church clock is mourning the departure of its minister, Dr. Barnes.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one third of all the patents issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and spffering. J. W. Vaugn, of Oakton, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholero and Diarrœa Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomah and bowels. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

CITY PARK IN REALITY.

THE PUBLIC SQUARE TO BE IMPROVED BY THE WOMEN.

Work Has Been Commenced Towards Putting It in Presentable Condition—Ground to Be Leveled and Grass Grown

The City Park, Plainfield's public square, is to be improved and brought out of its present disgraceful state to something really worthy of the title. Those who are responsible for this change are the members of the Town Improvement Association. Nearly every city in this part of New Jersey has a well kept park of some kind to which the visitor can be introduced with a feeling of pride, but Plainfield has nothing but a vacant lot overgrown with weeds and long grass, an eyesore to the community.

For ten years the so-called "City Park" has been a disgrace to this fair city; before that time there used to be benches under the large oak trees for weary citizens and wandering couples to rest. They wore away, tottered and fell apart, and are gone. Never in the existence of the park has it been really worthy of the city. Such is the history of the city park, and now the squirrels that live among the gigantic oaks of the park are astonished at the unusual happenings below.

The committee on trees and parks of the Town Improvement Association has chosen a good field for work, for that committee is now preparing to place the city park in the condition that it should be. The stumps that presented anything but an artistic appearance have been removed under the direction of the committee and the work of grading will at once proceed. It will be remembered that one year a portion of the park was used to grow a crop of grain while the rest was let go to waste and that the former part was plowed up for such a purpose. It is, therefore, rough and stony while the rest of the part is sadly in need of grading.

The committee now plans to plough wherever possible, harrow, roll and then seed the ground. All the necessary seed for the latter purpose has been generously donated by A. M. Griffin, of East Front street.

After the work is completed, the committee hope that the residents, both young and old, will show their good citizenship and appreciation of the effort made by the association to beautify the city by respecting the tenderness of the young grass and give it a chance for existence.

STATE FUNDS FOR SCHOOLS..

Apportionment Among Counties by the State Board of Education

The State Board of Education has made the apportionment of the money appropriated from the state funds and that of the surplus revenue amounting to $2,426,754.46. Union county will get $111,129; Middlesex, $83,400; Somerset, $52,780.

In the distribution of the surplus only three counties receive less than they contribute. These counties are Mercer, Essex and Somerset. Essex will have $7,000 deducted; Somerset, $2,470, and Mercer, $330. This amount will be added to the amount allotted to Cumberland, which will receive $3,500; Sussex, $1,000, and Ocean, $5,300.

Fred H. Andrews to Lead.

The union evangelistic meetings, which have been held so successfully at the Trinity Reformed church for the last two weeks, will come to a close this evening. The last of the meetings will be made specially interesting. Fred. H. Andrews will be the leader of the meeting and there will be solos by Councilman William N. Runyon. The preliminary meeting will be led by E. H. Ladd, Jr., in the basement at 7:30 o'clock. The regular meeting will begin a-half an hour later.

Secrtary Manning Off For the South.

Secretary Manning, of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., leaves today for the south where he is to attend the international convention of the Young Men's Christian Association to be held at Mobile, Alabama, and the general secretary's conference to be held in Selma, after the international convention. He will return about the first of May.

Williard Wadsworth, of West Eighth street, is confined to his home with illness.

AN AFTERNOON WEDDING.

Marriage of Miss Minnie L. Stiglitz to Frank G. Wikoff.

A quiet home wedding was celebrated this afternoon when Miss Minnie L. Stiglitz, daughter of the late John Stiglitz, of 22 Chatham street, and Frank G. Wickoff, of Park avenue, were married by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. The home was prettily decorated with greens and roses and presented an attractive appearance.

Miss Hannah Stiglitz, af Brooklyn, aunt of the bride, was the maid of honor, while the groom was John Stocker, of Manning avenue.

Following the ceremony congratulations were offered and supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Wickoff will leave town for Elizabeth on the 5:54 train and from there they will take a train on the Pennsylvania railroad for the south. They will return to Plainfield the latter part of next week and will reside at No. 117 Park avenue.

The bride was formerly a saleswoman at White's dry goods store, and she has a host of friends who extend their best wishes. The groom is one of Plainfield's well known young men and is engaged in upholstering business. A large collection of useful and pretty gifts were received by the bride and groom.

A Plainfielder Honored.

"The Harness Makers' Protective Association of New Jersey" is the name of a new organization formulated and put into effect yesterday. The harness makers of the State, or a large representation of them, met at the VanArsdale House in Somerville, yesterday and perfected a permanent organization. The following officers were elected: President, Neil McCloud, of Elizabeth; vice-president, Rufus Ogden, of Keyport; secretary, E. Stevens, of Somerville: treasurer, John H. Sayers, of Plainfield. A board of directors was also appointed. The next meeting will be held in Plainfield on May 14th.

In South Dakota.

Mrs. Percy C. Ohl and daughter, Winonah, are stopping at the Lake Hotel Sanitarium, Pierre, S. D. Mrs. Ohl hopes to be benefited by the curative powers of the noted hot medical baths of this place.

Miss Ohl, who has a ranch in Dakota, will engage in the live stock business, principally the raising of Welsh ponies.

Their trip from Chicago to Pierre, occupying ten days, was on account of severe storms and high water, attended with many exciting incidents and narrow escapes.

Last Star Course Affair.

The last entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course will be given Thursday evening, April 29th, in the Y. M. C. A. hall, and will be an illustrated lecture on "A Trip Around the World," by Ernest R. Ackerman, of this city. The views shown will include those taken on his last trip to the West Indias, from which he recently returned.

Miss Field to Read.

The Park Club has just completed arrangements with Miss Mary French Field to read selections from her father's poems, in Plainfield, May 5th. The entertainment will probably be given in the Casino, as the Park Club room is not large enough to accommodate the people who will desire to attend the event.

Abused the Police.

Eva Jackson was arrested by Patrolman Totten at the North Avenue station, last evening, for callling that officer disparaging names and suggesting that he inhabit a warmer climate. She also remembered Chief Grant in her remarks. As she was also wanted for a previous charge, she was arraigned before the Judge and finally paid $5 into the city treasury. On the other charge sentence was suspended.

—Fred Hart, of Connecticut, the fancy pool player, will give an exhibition at the Crescent Wheelmen's rooms this evening.

—The members of the Y. M. C. A. state committee will give a dinner at Davis's restaurant, Newark, this evening. The members of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield association have been invited and a number of them will attend.

Death of Mrs. Whitely.

The death of Mrs. George Whitely, of East Second street, occurred this morning at 7:30, after a very serious illness. She was the daughter of Mrs. Willibaugh, of Liberty street, and her body was removed to the home of her mother today. She leaves a husband, a daughter about 6 years old, and an infant daughter. The notice of the funeral will be given later.

Leaving Her Husband.

Mrs. John Frey and children, of Somerset street, will leave town this evening for Trenton where they will take up their residence. Mr. Frey, the husband, is now confined in the borough lockup serving a five days sentence for being abusive to his family. Mrs. Frey says that if her husband is taken care of she can look after herself and children.

A Change in Firms.

CITRATE OF LIME.

How it is Made and What We Use in Substituting it for Lemon Juice.

A little known industry is the manufacture in Italy of the citrate of lime, from which the citric acid of commerce is made. The process adopted s as follows:

Spoilt lemons, or those of such inferior quality that they are not good enough for export, are deprived of their juice, which is mixed at a temperature of eighty degrees with sufficient washed chalk, or whiting, to form a paste. The acid of the juice combines with the lime, and the bags in which the mixture is placed are subjected to a heavy pressure to get rid of the useless, extraneous moisture. Next, the white dust is spread out in drying chambers until it crumbles to powder, and in this form it represents citrate of lime. The compound is subsequently treated with diluted sulphuric acid, and after filtering, the liquid is exposed in shallow trays to crystalize by spontaneous evaporation. An ounce of citric acid produced in this way is equivalent to about a pint of lemon juice.

Quite Logical.

A sergeant of a company of British infantry quartered in a Dacoit-infested part of Burmah a few years ago was a firm believer i ndestiny. No amount of argument with his more sceptical comrades could shake his belief in the slightest, he invariably closing the controversies with the rather illogical assertion that "when a man's last day comes, it comes."

One evening, when dressing, preparatory to taking a stroll in the jungle, he was noticed by a corporal, a persistent opponent of the destiny theory, to quietly slip a revolver into his pocket.

"Hallo!" shouted the corporal, who saw a chance of ridiculing the sergeant, "what are you taking the revolver with you for? That won't save you if your time has come."

"No," replied the sergeant without a moment's hesitation; "but, you see, I may happen to come across a Dacoit whose last day has come."

A Policeman's Grim Joke.

Lincoln Park Policeman Max Krueger of Chicago, adopted a rather remarkable method to prevent a suicide on the north shore. Bernard Kraus had become despondent and jumped into Lake Michigan, with the intention of committing suicide. The water was shallow and he could not sink below his waist. He commenced to wade into deeper water.

A policeman saw him, and drawing a revolver, fired a shot to frighten Kraus.

Kraus came to shore, at the same time imploring the officer not shoot. The prisoner later said that when he heard the shot he was so frightened that he forgot that he was attempting to kill himself.

WAR AT SOUTH STIRLING

OTTO WAGNER IN A LIVELY CONTEST WITH FORMER PARTNERS.

Louis Schlesinger and Charles Miller Claimed Two-thirds of the Stock After Selling the Farm—Court to Settle.

Both parties admit that Otto Wagner owns the farm, but the question that is contested is as regards the ownership of the farm implements and crops. The contest has now grown to such proportions that Sheriff Wyckoff of Somerset county has been called in to take a hand and the Somerset county court will take action in the matter at the next term. Meanwhile the developments have been exciting.

The Correll farm, which is the indirect cause of all the trouble, is a tract of land of about seventy-five acres located at South Sterling. The ground is rich and the farm a valuable one. Eighteen months ago this farm was purchased by three men, Otto Wagner, Louis Schlesinger and Charles Miller. Wagner is a wealthy fur dealer living in New York and owning property in this city, which he often visits. Schlesinger is a German and he has been running the farm since it was purchased up to April 1st. Miller is a resident of the city of Hoboken. Wagner put up the money for the farm while Schlesinger paid his share with 950 pounds of wool and Miller by giving his note for $500. Schlesinger occupied the house on the farm while Wagner built a house on the farm for Miller. Schlesinger ran the farm.

At last, trouble arose between Schlesinger and Miller and both of them asked Wagner to buy out their shares in the farm. Wagner consented and paid both more than they had invested. This happened on April 1st, and Wagner was given the deeds for the property.

A rumor went abroad that Wagner was offered $8,000 for the farm, and it is understood that the two former owners of the farm wished that they had waited. They suddenly settled their own differences and came to Wagner from whom they demanded two-thirds of the farm implements, tools, stock, hay and oats, valued altogether at $2,000. Wagner declared that all had been included in the farm when he had bought out their shares and refused to accede to their demands.

The ex-owners of the farm rented a portion of the Wendell farm which was next to it and last Saturday started to cart their alleged property over to the Wendell farm. Wagner heard of it and came to Swackhamer & Williams, of this city, for legal advice and assistance. Notice was served on Schlesinger and Miller commanding them to stop carting away hay but they paid no attention to it and the work continued. All Sunday they were at work and Monday, after vainly trying to find the Sheriff, Williams and Swackhamer went to South Sterling with a force of men to move the disputed property back to the Wagner farm.

They were accompanied by a constable from North Plainfield. Schlesinger seriously objected and then tried to hurry away with the horse, which was included in the stock, only to be stopped by the constable with orders to leave the horse on the farm. Then Schlesinger ran away on foot and left the others in temporary possession of the field. The work of transferring the goods was begun at once and back the hay was carted as fast as the horses could run on to Wagner's farm.

All was going well until Schlesinger appeared on the scene again and sent up a violent protest to the removal of the goods. He threatened to kill or maim the entire invading party and ordered the team then at work not to leave the farm. The driver wanted to get down and thrash the excited German who was in a very disturbed state of mind. The driver was restrained from violent redress and Schlesinger was left in possession in his turn.

Next day Williams hunted up Sheriff Wyckoff and secured a writ of repleven for the goods, and in the afternoon started for South Sterling with the Sheriff to serve the writ. The writ was served in due form and the discomfited Dutchman retired to parts unknown, and Sheriff Wyckoff was the final victor. The details were completed by the Sheriff yesterday and the farm impliments and soforth will remain in his hands until the court takes action on the matter.

The case will come up for trial at the next session of the Somerset County Court. Postmaster Alvah A. Clarke, of Somerville, is counsel in the matter for Schlesinger and Miller.

Spring Vacation.

The North Plainfield Public School closed yesterday morning for the spring vacation. The pupils will reassemble on Wednesday, April 28th.

FINAL REVIVAL MEETING

FRED H. ANDREWS MADE AN IMPRESSIVE LEADER.

Told of the Struggle in the Garden of Gethsemane and How Christ Finally Triumphed Over All the Temptations.

Very impressive was the last service of the series of evangelistic meetings which have been held in the Trinity Reformed church for the last two weeks under the auspices of the Local Christian Endeavor Union. The last of the meetings was held last evening under the leadership of Fred H. Andrews. It was in remembrance of the scene in the Garden of Gethsemane, and the thought of that solemn occasion with the earnestness that prevaded the meeting served to make it doubly impressive. The preliminary meeting was held in the basement, before the regular service opened, with an enthusiastic song service led by L. H. Bigelow, Jr. Mr. Andrews then took charge of the meeting, and after a hymn, an earnest prayer was made by Ira W. Travell. Councilman William N. Runyon then sung a solo, "In the Hour of Trial." The Scripture reading was by Mr. Andrews and was from the twenty-sixth chapter of Matthew, telling of the scene in the garden. After the collection, "'Tis Midnight" was sung by Miss Hardenburg in a very impressive manner.

Mr. Andrews began his short address by telling how many like to recall their last talk with some dear one, now passed away, and the words of admonition and advice that were given by them. The nature of this meeting, he said, is something like that. Jesus Christ, one who we all love, has gone above and we like to think over the circumstances of his last night on earth and his sayings on that night.

He then went on to relate briefly the history of the last week that Christ spent on earth, how the upper room was selected and how Christ and the twelve disciples gathered there. He told how Christ tried to draw Judas back to him but how satan accomplished his work and Judas finally withdrew from the room. Mr. Andrews described the first Lord's Supper and then read the beautiful words of consolation and advice that Christ gave to his disciples as they gathered round him. Mr. Andrews spoke very feelingly of that last meeting and explained to his hearers that they should take the words to themselves. He repeated the messages tenderly and drew many thoughts from them. From a prayer offered by Jesus, Mr. Andrews showed how it was that eternal life began on this earth as soon as Christ was taken fully into the heart.

He told of the terrible struggles in the Garden and how Christ finally triumphed over all his temptations and how the same God that helped him in that hour of need is willing to help us all at our Gethsemane.

A number of brief but earnest testimonies followed and the meeting closed with prayer and another hymn.

EUGENE FIELD'S DAUGHTER.

She Will Come to Plainfield to Read Her Late Father's Poems.

The Park Club has just completed arrangements with Miss Mary French Field to read selections from her father's poems, in Plainfield, on May 5th. The entertainment will probably be given at the Casino, as the Park Club room is not large enough to accommodate the number of people who will doubtless desire to hear Miss Field and the other entertainers who will take part.

The New York and Philadelphia papers have spoken very highly of Miss Field, and Robert J. Burdette says of her: "There is magic in the daughter's reading. She has many little touches that vividly recall her father. Miss Field does not merely interpret her father's works, but she reveals his very moods. She would be the best interpreter of Eugene Field on the platform though she were not his daughter."

Wherever she has read Miss Field has won instant recognition of her gifts and appreciation of her charm. The following were some of the patronesses at her recent reading at the Berkley Lyceum, New York: Mrs. Francis Hodgson Burnett, Mrs. Brander Matthews, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Mrs. Laurence Hutton, Mrs. Burton Harrison, Mrs. M. G. VanRensalaer, Mrs. W. D. Howells and Mrs. St. Clair McKelway.

An opportunity is offered the people of Plainfield that they should thoroughly appreciate. An admission fee will be charged and the tickets will soon be on sale.

Building an Addition.

Peter Finger, proprietor of Demler's Hotel, at Washington ville, is having a large addition built to the hotel. Contractor Caine, of North Plainfield, is doing the work.

THE PASSING OF THOMAS

A NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT IN THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Trials and Tribulations That Ensued in An Effort to Bury a Stage Cat Caused Roars of Genuine Laughter.

These days it is rather difficult to secure something novel in the way of an entertainment, but the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church gave their friends an exceedingly novel one last evening, and the large number of people present were thoroughly pleased with the affair. The programme opened with a contralto solo by Miss Charlotte Messerschmith, accompanied by Miss Remsen. Following this, the feature of the evening was presented. It was a series of tableaux entitled "The Passing of Thomas." The title is rather dense, but the story is that of a poor cat, not unlike the one which came back. It was owned by a kind and loving man and wife, but the cat had lived as long as the law would allow, and was about to be buried. At this time there was a great dispute as to where the feline should be interred. Any number of places were selected but one seemed to please those interested in the burial. The cat was finally taken from one place to another, but it always happened that the cat reached the point of starting. After much trouble, accompanied with many amusing incidents, the cat was buried and thus the story ended. Those who took the several parts in the story were: Mrs. Harver, Miss Grace Overton; Mr. Harver, Mr. Gates; Hutchinson Port, Harry Williams; conductor, Augustus Searing; burglar, Mr. Remsen; passengers, Miss Williams, Miss Agnes Blair, Miss Vandeventer, William Coriell, Percy Dayton, Edward Petrie, Fred Overton, Roy Radford.

Every part was well taken and the story was made especially interesting from the fact that it was read by Miss Mary Luckey. As she read the story it was interspersed with the tableaux which represented the amusing sketch. During this part of the programme the audience was kept in a continual roar of laughter and it was not until the last tableau was shown that the fun ended. The last number on the programme was a piano solo by Miss Potter.

A feature was the novel programme which was distributed to those present. The outside cover contained a very pretty sketch of "Tabby" in many different styles, while on the inside was printed the characters and the names of those who took the parts.

The members of the Christian Endeavor Society did not have full charge of the affair, for the members of the Ladies' Auxilliary of the church had considerable to do with it. Those who served on the refreshment committee were: Mrs. Haynes, Mrs. Lounsbury, Mrs. Shotwell, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Blish, Mrs. Dayton. The reception committee was composed of Mrs. Cave, Mrs. Radford, Miss Pansy Jeane Herring, Miss Blish.

After the rendition of the programme those in charge served all with refreshments and this part of the programme was interspersed with genuine sociability.

Tablet at the Hospital

The laundry at Muhlenberg Hospital is soon to bear a tablet which will read as follows: "1896, erected with funds bequeathed by Henry F. Stites, of Scotch Plains." The tablet is now almost completed and was carved by Olaf Saugstad. The letters are raised and surrounded by a boarder. The tablet is to be placed on the laundry and not on the nurse's home as was erroniously stated by the News. According to the constitution of the Hospital, all bequests are to be used not for current expenses but for permanent improvements and all buildings thus erected are to have a tablet attached bearing the name of the donor.

A Grevious Mistake.

Last night the News made the grevious mistake of stating that at the Classis in Newark the Trinity church in this city had made application for pecuniary help. It was not Trinity church in this city, at all, but Trinity church of Newark. The society of that name in this city is self-supporting, and also contributes a good sized sum to the general support of other poor churches.

In Hard Luck.

Daniel Manning, whose farm is located on Clinton avenue, near Samptown, has been in hard luck. One of his horses, one of a handsome black team, was taken with the lock jaw, last week, without any apparent cause and died soon after. Two days later one of his cows, an animal of valuable stock, was taken ill and died.

HUMAN WRECK IN COURT

BEGGED TO BE ALLOWED TO GO TO A KEELEY INSTITUTE.

Edwin Thomas, Once a Young Man of Promise and Bright Prospects, Fell by the Wayside Because of the Drink Habit.

"Your honor," pleaded the prisoner as he leaned on the railing to support his trembling form, "I beg for mercy. If you only realized the condition I was in. Don't send me to jail but give me a chance to be cured of this dreadful habit." Such was the plea of the poor victim of the rum habit who was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, this morning.

Ten years ago Edwin Thomas was a young man of promise, living in one of the New England States. His parents were well to do and he was sent to college and received an excellent education but his instincts always ran towards mechanical persuits and he finally accepted a position in a machine shop. He was a good worker and promised to rise to the top of his profession if all went well. But he it did not. He met several young men who led him astray and soon he was brought home at night dead drunk. He lost his employer's confidence and began to slip along the doward course faster and faster. Four years ago, he was sent to the Keeley Institute and came out a new man. He returned to work and did well for a time, but the old haunts tempted him and he fell. Again he started ont.

Last February, he came to this city and obtained a position in the Potter Press Works. He worked steadily and was known as a reliable machinist. He lost but one hour of his time until last Friday when he went into a saloon. The old longing returned and he drank and drank. That night he was arrested and locked up. Last Saturday, he was arraigned before the City Judge and as it was his first offence, sentenced was suspended. Yesterday afternoon, Patrolman Post found a man wallowing around in the mud of West Fourth street, in a drunken condition. It was Thomas, again the victim of the awful habit. He was locked up and brought before the Judge this morning, a wreck of a man, trembling in every limb, eyes sunken in his head.

He had been drinking, he admitted, but he begged the Judge to give him a chance to go back to the Keely cure and try to be a man again.

It was plain to see that he was on the verge of delirium tremens, and the Judge told him so. But the Judge finally decided not to send him to jail, but to allow him to go to the Keeley cure and so fined him $10. He told Thomas, however, that he must go at once, for if he was seen around the streets in his present condition, he would be arrested at once. He had changed greatly since his last appearance in the city court and was a sorrowful looking object. He left, saying that he would quit work and start at once.

BOROUGH SIDE FINISHED

THE WATCHUNG AVENUE OPENING COMPLETED TODAY.

Contractor David Bowden Has Lost Money on the Job, But Has Given the Borough a Fine Thoroughfare.

Today the work on Watchung avenue in the borough was completed by Contractor David Bowden, and it is possible that the avenue may be accepted by the Council at the first meeting in May. It was thought that such action might be taken this evening when the Council will meet. This cannot be done, however, for it is an adjourned session. Ever since the work was started on the avenue by Mr. Bowden he has been handicapped in many ways. The Council ordered by resolution that all buildings on the line of the avenue be removed by a certain date. This was not done and it caused the contractor much inconvenience. After the ground was cleared it was learned that, in addition to removing an immense amount of soft material which could not go into the new street, there were many places which had to be filled in. This included privy and cesspool vaults. Notwithstanding all these obstacles, Mr. Bowden has given the borough a road to be proud of. It is built with twelve inches of stone and the work will stand all the wear and tear for which it is intended. F. A. Dunham, the civil engineer, has made it his business to see that the road was built in a thoroughly practical manner, and to do this every detail in the contract has been lived up to.

At the point where Pearl street intersects Watchung avenue the grade of the former street is not right to carry off the surplus surface water, and Mr. Dunham is now preparing plans whereby a sewer pipe will carry the water to the brook.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION?

SCOTCH PLAINS FATALITY BEING INVESTIGATED BY CORONER.

The Inquest Commenced Yesterday and a Number of Witnesses Sworn—Nothing New Learned From Testimony.

The coroner's inquest looking into the cause of the explosion in John Cook's barn, which resulted in the killing of one man and serious injury to another, some ten days ago, was begun in Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains, yesterday afternoon. Frank H. Dunn, Assistant Prosecutor, conducted the case for the State. Constable George Rockafellow, of Plainfield, had empaneled the following jurymen: Edward Hand, Frank Allen, Benjamin G. Elliott, George L. MacDonald, Stites M. Parse, and N. C Dunn. They were sworn and Thomas Steinmay, an expert from West Brighton, testified as to the dangers attending the improper use of nitroglycerine. The witness claimed he had known cases where nitro glycerine had been in wood for ten years, and it was yet explosive. Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, conducted the examination for Mr. Cook.

John Miller testified that some of the posts in the wrecked building had been purchased two months before from the Heckler Powder Company. He had never cut any of the wood, but had seen Peltz cut it, with no unusual results. Miller further testified to bringing in water for the wounded just after the explosion.

The witness was excused and then recalled and Mr. Marsh asked whether Mr. Cook knew of the explosives stored in his barn, to which the witness replied that he didn't know.

Charles Messler was one of the first on the ground after the explosion occurred. He was 100 feet away, he said, and a cannon never sounded louder to him.

Wm. Johnson was the next witness, but his testimony was of little or no importance.

At this juncture in the proceedings Benj. Elliott, one of the jurymen, was called to the stand and sworn. He said he was some little distance away, and, hearing the report, supposed it was the usual noise made by blasting at the stone crushers. Going to the scene he rendered assistance to the live man; the dead man he saw later.

Robert Jahn stated that he had seen two boxes of fuses in the barn, but he had no idea what they were for and really didn't know what started the fire.

Here the State rested its case.

County Physician Westcott was sworn and testified to having been called to the scene of the explosion. He found one man dead and the other he had transferred to Muhlenberg Hospital, where he is still a patient. The doctor then went back to investigate. He is positive that death to the one man resulted from the explosion of a wooden post charged with dynamite or nitro-glycerine.

Edward Hand was sworn, but no new developments were brought out by his testimony.

John Cook, owner of the barn wherein the explosion occurred, was next called, and C. A. Marsh requested that he be not sworn. He was sworn, as was also Miss Cook, his daughter, but their testimony was not important.

Right here adjournment was made until next Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when the jury will go to Muhlenberg Hospital and, if possible, get a clear and comprehensive version of the matter from the patient there. Then there will be a re-assembling in the hall in Scotch Plains and the inquest continued.

Borough Wants Extension Ladder.

It is the desire of the fire, water and lamps committee of the Borough Council to secure an extension ladder. They say it can be placed on the hose wagon so that it will not be in the way, and at the same time be of great service. There has been opposition to this idea on the part of some for the reason they say that it will prevent the purchase of a hook and ladder truck. On the other hand those who favor the extension ladder say that the borough will never need a truck.

Temporary Bridge to be Built.

Several persons in the borough and city have interested themselves in the matter of securing a temporary bridge across the brook where the opening of Watchung avenue will unite the city and the borough. Already considerable money has been raised for this purpose, and no doubt the bridge will be erected in a short time. Contributions are being received from those who will be directly benefited.

—The Cecelia Society met yesterday afternoon for rehearsal for the concert to be given early in May.

LAWN FETE TO BE HELD.

MAGNIFICENT GROUND OF JOHN TAYLOR JOHNSON TO BE UTILIZED.

The Fete for the Benefit of the Town Improvement Association and Given by Mrs. P. Malli, Daughter of Late Mr. Johnson.

Plans are now being made for a lawn fete which promises to be one of the social events of the coming summer. It will be a grand affair and will be conducted on a larger scale than that of any previous attempt. This fete is to be for the benefit of the Town Improvement Association and will be held on the large grounds that surround the John Taylor Johnson residence on East Front street, where Mrs. Pierre Malli, daughter of the late Mr. Johnson, spends her summer months.

Mrs. Malli is president of the Town Improvement Association and was the suggestor of this delightful way of aiding the association in increasing the funds in its treasury. While all the details for the fete have not been arranged, the general idea of the affair has been laid out and more details are being completed every day. It will be in charge of prominent society people of the city while many of the young people in costume will assist.

The date for the affair has been selected, June 5th, when all the flowers will be at their best. While the grounds are always beautiful in summer, they will be converted into a paradise for the occasion and the best artistic talent will be called upon to prepare them. Everything will be done to make the affair a magnificent success, and when it is remembered that the energetic members of the Town Improvement Association are the moving spirits in the affair, there can be no doubt as to its success.

PLEASANT CARD PARTY.

Miss Libby Joseph Entertained A Number of Young Friends.

The salamagundi party given last evening by Miss Libby Joseph, of Manning avenue, was a delightful social event. There were seven tables and as many games. The playing was a feature and very amusing. The scores at the finish were found to be exceedingly close and several players were obliged to draw for the prizes. Miss Minnie Arnold was the winner of the first prize for the ladies, while the first prize for the gentlemen was presented to Judson Giles. Miss Nellie Martin and Fred Batson were awarded the booby prizes.

That part of the programme was followed with refreshments, after which dancing was indulged in until a late hour. One of the enjoyable features was the music furnished by a large music box. The selections were classical and were rendered while the guests were playing games.

The hostess favored her guests with a vocal solo during the evening and this was not the least of the pleasures. Those present were Miss Mamie Steiner, Miss Minnie Arnold, Miss Nellie Arnold, Miss Jennie Giles, Miss Mary Giles, Miss Bessie Giles, Miss Cora Richardson, Miss Etta Cuming, Miss Netlie Martin, Miss Mattie Humble, Miss Mary Van Fleet, Miss May Linbarger; William Moore, Fred Dietz, Judson Giles, Fred Ross, Raymond Carpenter, Charles Dolliver, William Buell, Bert Steiner, Fred Batson, Ralph Tolles, Dykeman Winckler, of this city and borough; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Collins, Mr. Lyons, of East Orange.

Liquor Cases Adjourned.

John E. Beerbower and Hughie O'Donnell were to appear this morning before City Judge DeMeza on the charge of illegal liquor selling, but both trials were adjourned until April 26th. Beerbower is represented in the case by ex-Judge William A. Coddington. O'Donnell by Assemblymen William R. Codington and ex-Councilman Walter L. Hetfield.

A Big Haul.

Frank Hedden and John Welch, of this city, went gigging after suckers in Ash swamp, Wednesday evening, and had great luck. According to their account the capture amounted to seventy-five fish. A string of twelve of the finest, when weighed on Morgan C. Bird's scales, are said to have weighed twenty-four pounds, five ounces.

Councilman to Resign.

At the meeting of the Borough Council this evening the resignation of Councilman H. B. Lounsbury will be presented. It will not take effect until April 30th, as Mr. Lounsbury has several matters which he desires to settle before leaving town for Brooklyn where he has purchased a house.

John Steiner, of Somerset street, is confined to his home with an attack of the grip.

FIRE IN NEW ORLEANS

A Hotel and Newspaper Office Among the Ruins.

THE LOSS IS OVER HALF A MILLION.

Great Loss to the Telegraph and Telephone Companies by the Wrecking of Their Wires by Falling Walls.

New Orleans, April 16.—The Moresque block, owned by Gauch & Sons, has been totally destroyed by fire. In less than two hours after the conflagration broke out, the building had collapsed and upward of $400,000 had gone up in smoke. The Moresque building occupied an entire block bounded by Camp, Poydras and Church streets and Lafayette square, and its walls were built entirely of iron in a design known as the Moorish. The Montgomery Furniture company and Gauch & Sons, crockery merchants, were the tenants of the building, and both firms carried full stocks. The fire is supposed to have originated in the top floor of the Montgomery section. The flames were observed to shoot out of the windows and later from the roof, and a general alarm called the entire fire department to the scene. The heads of the fire department saw quickly that the Moresque building was doomed, and the efforts of the firemen were directed to keeping the flames from spreading to adjacent property.

In this they were only partially successful, for two newspaper offices, The German Gazette and The Evening Telegram, were completely gutted, their contents being destroyed, and several stores were also burned. Adjacent dwelling houses and business property were also damaged more or less by water.

The following is the estimate of losses and insurance: Gauch & Sons, $100,000 on building, $60,000 on stock; insurance, $125,000; Montgomery company, loss $100,000; insurance, $80,000. German Gazette, loss $25,000; insurance, $12,000. Evening Telegram, loss $20,000; no insurance. Warren hotel and saloon, loss $10,000; insurance, $5,000. James A. Aiken, plumber, loss $10,000; insurance, $5,000. Heath, Schwartz & Sons, wall paper, loss $15,000; insurance, $10,000.

Peekamose Club Not Sold.

New York, April 16.—The famous Peekamose Fishing club, which has figured in the courts for years, was not sold out as had been expected. When the sale was about to begin, an injunction was served on Captain William H. Ricketts, receiver for the club. Judge Lacombe of the United States circuit court granted the injunction on application of J. R. English and Frank E. Simpson. Judge Lacombe's order to show cause was made returnable April 23. The sale was adjourned until April 20.

The Czar Will Not Interfere.

Vienna, April 16.—It is said here on reliable authority that the Emperor Nicholas has declared that nothing now remains but to abandon Turkey and Greece to their fate and to leave them to measure strength. His majesty is reported to have added emphatically that if Turkey now declares war it would be exclusively due to the provocation offered by Greece. Greece would be regarded in Austrian official circles as the actual assailant.

Filibusters Keeping Quiet.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 16.—Dr. Joaquin Castillo, the Cuban leader, has gone north. It is stated that no more expeditions will be sent from Florida at present on account of the strict watch kept by the government officials. The base of operations will be changed to New York. E. S. Gaylor, chief of the Philadelphia Pinkertons, is here in connection with the filibustering cases.

They Get Off Easy.

Kansas City, April 16.—Ernst Ridgeway, one of the four young men who on Thanksgiving night last held up and attempted to rob a car full of people on the Independence electric line, have been sentenced to one year in the county jail. Oscar Bridges, the leader, had previously been given a like sentence. The other two men are still in jail awaiting trial.

Bad For Fishermen.

Middletown, N. Y., April 16.—Heavy rains in this vicinity have raised the trout streams, greatly to the disappointment of several hundred fishermen from New York en route to Sullivan county. The water is muddy. The cold wave brought out overcoats at the resorts. Big fireplaces will be more attractive than wading through the streams.

Died From Seasickness.

New York, April 16.—The body of Mrs. Elizabeth Amory Gammell, who died at Dover, England, April 1, from the effects of a rough passage across the English channel on her way home, arrived on the White Star line steamship Teutonic.

One Hundred Years Old.

Windsor, Conn., April 16.—Miss Maria Benson rounded out a century of existence and the event was celebrated in a befitting manner. Miss Benson is the oldest daughter of a revolutionary soldier in the state of Connecticut.

GORDY FOUND GUILTY

The Verdict Reached In Less Than Two Hours.

THE RESULT WAS NEVER IN DOUBT.

Finding Generally Approved — Threats Made by Citizens of Lynching the Prisoner, Which Were Nearly Carried Out—History of the Crime.

Georgetown, Del., April 16.—James M. Gordy has been convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of his wife, formerly Mrs. Mary Estelle Lewis of New York, by throwing her into the Broadkill river at Milton, Del., on March 11.

The result of the trial was never in doubt, as the evidence against Gordy was overwhelming, while his defense consisted of the testimony of one witness, a physician, who swore to a knowledge of many cases of drowning where water had not been found on the lungs after death. This was to prove that the woman had not been killed by blows on the head inflicted by Gordy, as alleged in the indictment, although a reasonable presumption of death by drowning was admitted.

The defense contended that there was a doubt which should be resolved in Gordy's favor, but the verdict of the jury was "in manner and form as he stands indicted."

The jury retired at 5:39 o'clock p. m., after listening throughout the day to the arguments of counsel. Charles M. Cullen and Charles F. Richards, Gordy's lawyers, spent the morning in addressing the jury, and Attorney General White occupied the afternoon. Then followed the charge of the court, and the case went to the jury. They brought in their verdict at 7:28 o'clock last night.

The finding is generally approved, indignation against the prisoner running so high that at one time it was feared an attempt to lynch him would be made.

The jury came into court at 7 o'clock sharp, but there was some delay in reconvening court. The room was packed to the doors, and the chief justice announced that there should be no kind of manifestation.

Gordy stood erect, with his head raised and his eyes upon the jury, as the verdict was announced. There was not a tremor in his body nor a semblance of change in his face when he heard his doom. The jury was polled, and each man individually answered with the verdict.

The jury was unanimous for conviction on the first ballot.

Counsel for the defense gave notice that they would make a motion in arrest of judgment, and Gordy was remanded to jail.

Supposed to Have Foundered.

San Francisco, April 16.—The impression that the American ship Samaria, from Seattle for San Francisco, has gone to the bottom grows stronger day by day, as no tidings come from the overdue vessel. The Alcalde, which left Seattle simultaneously with the Samaria, arrived in this port April 2. The Alcalde's master says that on March 25 he encountered a terrible southeast gale, and after being in company with the Samaria was laden so deep in the water that the seas broke over her, and she wallowed badly. On the following day the weather moderated, but there was no sign of the Samaria. Much wreckage was drifting about, entangled in which the Alcalde's officers saw a set of ship's steps and a corpse.

Mowray In Cranston Prison.

Providence, April 16.—Martin Mowray has been taken from Harrisville and lodged in the Cranston prison, where he will be held pending his trial on a charge of murder of the Reynolds family, next Wednesday. All efforts to remove the bullet from Mowray's head have been unsuccessful. Upon his arrival at the prison an examination of the wound was made, and another operation will be performed at the earliest possible moment. Sheriff Viall, in whose custody Mowray has been since his arrest, stated that he did not think the prisoner was insane.

Guilty of Importing Contract Labor.

St. Louis, April 16.—The St. Louis Dairy company has been found guilty in the United States district court of having imported contract labor and will have to pay $1,000, the penalty provided by law. The complaint charged that on May 13, 1892, the company contracted with Edward T. Nulle, then a resident of Worcester, England, to come to St. Louis and engage in its service as dairyman, and that the sum of $100 was advanced Nulle to enable him to pay for his passage.

Mexicans Do Not Object.

City of Mexico, April 16.—The reports published in the United States that the Mexican government intends, in case of the passage of the Dingley tariff bill, instituting retaliatory measures, is authoritatively denounced by the Mexican Herald. Certain provisions in the bill will, if enacted into law, bring capital here and will redound to the benefit of the country. The government of Mexico regards the action of the American congress without fear or apprehension.

Murderess Gets a Stay.

Washington, April 16.—Judge Harlan allowed a writ of error in the case of Elizabeth Nobles of Georgia, who is under sentence of death on the charge of murder and was to have been hanged next Friday. It was represented by Mrs. Nobles' counsel that she is insane. The allowance of the writ will operate as a stay of proceedings and will insure postponement of the execution.

Holman Convalescing.

Washington, April 16.—Representative Holman of Indiana, who has been ill with an attack of stomach trouble for the past ten days, is reported better. He is still quite weak, but is able to again take solid food. There is nothing alarming in his condition, though it will be some days before he can resume his duties at the capitol.

Railroad Claim Agent Convicted.

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 16.—Captain Daniel Haynes, formerly claim agent of the St. Louis Southwestern railway who has been on trial for several days for embezzling $40,000 of the company's money, was convicted.

And Whereas, as to real estate taxes for the year 1881 and the years prior thereto, the Common Council has power, subject to the approval of the Mayor, to make such revision, alteration, adjustment and settlement of such taxes and all interests and penalties thereon as may be deemed for the best interests of the city, provided the amount of such taxes as adjusted be paid within thirty days from the date of such adjustment; and there appear to be equitable reasons why such power should be exercised with respect to the taxes above referred to in the case of such delinquents as may apply to the Common Council for that purpose:

These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guarranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guarranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—The Borough Council will meet this evening in adjourned session. Several important matters will probably be discussed.

Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of Mystic Cure.' It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with Rheumatism nine months ago and the 'Mystic Cure' is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'Mystic Cure' to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

—The tracks of the street railway company on West Front street are being re adjusted to the proper grade.

—The Camera Club will hold a meeting next Monday evening and every member is urged to be present.

Two years ago R J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chambelain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—A small show case standing in front of Collier's jewelry store on Park avenue was brown over yesterday afternoon and every glass was ground to pieces. The case held several alarm clocks and gold headed canes but these were not damaged.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

VOTE TO TAX CLUBS

New York Assembly Passes the Raines Law Amendments.

THEY NOW GO TO THE GOVERNOR.

The Vote Stood 84 to 63—Twenty-eight Republicans Voted Against Them and Were Classed by the Majority as Bolters.

Albany, April 16.—The Raines liquor law amendments, including the one to tax clubs the same as saloons, have passed the assembly in precisely the same form as they passed the senate and now go to the governor for his approval, which unquestionably will be promptly given.

Their passage was not unmarked by dramatic effect. Until the bill was finally put upon passage Assemblyman Eldridge, ill with a high fever, sat in an anteroom until the house generously allowed his vote to be recorded in the affirmative.

The principal speech in opposition to the measure was made by J. J. Sullivan, a Republican of New York, who predicted the downfall of the party and his own defeat at the polls should he be a candidate for re-election.

Fred S. Robbins, the independent Republican, sided with the regular Republicans and denounced Lauterbach and those opposed to the measure, terming them bolters.

Seventy-six votes were necessary to pass the bill unamended, and eight more than the necessary number were obtained. Twenty-eight Republicans voted with the Democrats and were put down as bolters. They were Messrs. Abell, Adler, H. T. Andrews, Braun, Brennan, L. E. Brown, Forrester, Garby, Hughes, Knaup, Lambeer, Leversee, Matthewson, Mazet, McKnight, N. J. Miller, Murphy, Murray, Parshall, Reinhard, Roehr, Schneider, Soper, Steiner, J. J. Sullivan, Van Cott, Wilson and Gilliland. The vote on final passage was 84 yeas to 63 nays.

A Question of Jurisdiction.

Albany, April 16.—The question of jurisdiction for the purpose of the collection of the liquor tax having been raised by certain steamers plying around and across Lake Ontario, the excise department has ruled that they must have a liquor tax certificate if liquor is sold on board while the craft is anywhere in Lake Ontario south of the boundary line between the United States and Canada. In his ruling the commissioner says:

"The liquor tax law was enacted in pursuance of the police power not surrendered by the state of New York to the general government. It is not in restraint of any of the provisions of the constitution of the United States and consequently is in full force and effect throughout the entire state on both land and water, the authority of the state being complete, unqualified and exclusive."

There is no doubt, therefore, that the parties in question will violate the provisions of the liquor tax law if they traffic in liquor while in the waters of the state without a liquor tax certificate.

Masonic Cornerstone Laid.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 16.—The cornerstone of the new Masonic temple on High street was laid with imposing ceremony, representatives being present from Providence, Milford, Mass., Salem, Mass., and other places. Grand Master Crowley of Bristol, R. I., officiated at the ceremonies proper, which were viewed by 10 000 people. The oration was delivered by Rev. Marion Law, rector of St. Paul's church, this city, and the eulogy on Freemasonry was pronounced by Rev. H. W. Rugg of Providence, grand chaplain of the state. The new temple is to be completed by Jan. 1, 1898, and will cost $100,000.

Archbishop Williams Going to Rome.

Boston, April 16.—Archbishop John J. Williams, the head of the archdiocese of Boston, will visit Rome early next month. It has been the custom in the church for the bishops and archbishops throughout the world to make stated visits to the pope for the purpose of laying before him the condition of the churches under their charge. The practice is not mandatory upon the prelates of the church who have reached the age of 60 years, because of the long journey. Archbishop Williams' decision will probably start afresh the talk of his being raised to the dignity of cardinal.

Married on Her Deathbed.

Cleveland, April 16.—A deathbed marriage was solemnized in the south end last evening. John T. Hobbs, a well known business man, and Mrs. Anna O. Pacey were lovers years ago, but drifted apart. Some years ago Mrs. Pacey became a widow, and gradually Hobbs renewed his attentions. She has been ill several months, and a few days ago her life was despaired of. She expressed a desire for the marriage and was married to Hobbs upon her deathbed.

Railroad Collision.

Atlantic City, April 16.—Two well loaded passenger trains on the Philadelphia and Reading and West Jersey railroads collided at the crossing at Illinois and Baltic avenues. A Pullman coach was derailed and smashed, the West Jersey engine was demolished, and William Delaney, a section boss, was slightly injured. The accident occurred not far from the spot where 44 lives were lost in the terrible collision between trains on these roads last July.

American Horses For British Service.

Marion, Ind., April 16.—A carload of horses from Grant county has been purchased for the British artillery service. Noah Wilhelm, a stock buyer from Upland, has been securing horses for Al Haitt of Hartford City, who has a contract with the British government to furnish 6,000 horses. The order says that the horses are to be shipped as soon as possible.

Young Woman Missing.

Trenton, April 16.—Estelle Sweasy, aged 22 years, of Pennington, has been missing since last Tuesday, when she started in a carriage for Trenton to do some shopping. Nothing has been heard of her or the team since and her relatives are unable to account for her absence.

INDIAN AFFAIRS IN THE SENATE.

Vest Defends Sectarian Schools and Eulogizes the Jesuit Fathers—The Squabble Over Reorganization—President McKinley and Tennessee Fair.

Washington, April 16.—Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota has introduced a bill authorizing the appointment of a commission to introduce and popularize the bread foods of the United States among the peoples of the orient. It provides that the commission shall consist of three persons to be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate and to be known as the bread foods commission of the United States, and to be under the direction and control of the secretary of agriculture.

The commission shall ascertain and from time to time report to the secretary of agriculture upon the best modes of introducing and popularizing the bread foods of the United States among the peoples of oriental countries. The salary of each of said commissioners shall be $5,000 a year, and the commission is authorized to employ a secretary at a salary of $3,000, and $50,000 is appropriated to defray the expenses of said commission in the prosecution of its work.

Senator Hansbrough says that the measure is designed to further the work of extending the trade of the United States with China and Japan, and was suggested by the letter recently sent to him by James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad, on the subject of trade with the orient.

Cannot Agree on Reorganization.

Washington, April 16.—The managing committees representing the Republican senators and the opposition coalition were in conference several times in their efforts to reach an agreement on the reorganization of the senate committees. The Republicans notified the combination of the rejection of their proposition and submitted a proposition of their own, which was that the Republicans should take the chairmanships as suggested and that they should be given control of the committees on appropriations, rules and postoffices. The Democrats declined to accept this in full, but to take it in part. They signified a willingness to give the Republicans one additional member of the appropriations committee instead of two, which their proposition involved; to agree to an increase of the postoffice committee to ten, which would make an equal division of it, but refused to allow any change on rules. The Republicans will probably submit this proposition to their caucus. No change is contemplated by either side in the complexion of the committee on finance.

Patronage Privileges Reports.

Washington, April 16.—Much misunderstanding has arisen over reports that have been quite generally circulated that the patronage privileges of senators have been extended and that their indorsement will be required on all postoffice applications. This is erroneous, and Postmaster General Gary has had frequent occasions recently to correct this impression. The policy that has been practiced heretofore in the distribution of offices will be followed by this administration, and the prerogatives enjoyed by representatives in the past will be continued. Congressmen will have the naming of the postoffices in their district as a general rule, while senators can name their home offices and some large cities on an amicable understanding between the senator and representative.

Indian Appropriation In Senate.

Washington, April 16.—The senate spent its time yesterday on the Indian appropriation bill, but did not complete it. The debate brought out an energetic speech by Mr. Vest of Missouri, protesting against the abandonment of sectarian Indian schools. He highly eulogized the work of the jesuits among the Indians and said their Indian schools were the only ones accomplishing any good. After a contest the committee amendment opening the Uncompahgre Indian reservation in Utah to public entry was agreed to. The reservation is said to contain some of the richest deposits of asphalt in existence. The senate adjourned over to Monday.

Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, April 16.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed:

Pennsylvania—Keefers, J. H. Keefer; Knobsville, A. L. Wible; White Marsh, Joseph Mehoffy.

New Jersey—New Foundland, Theodore Brown.

New York—Cincinnatus, P. C. Wheeler; East Nicholas, A. P. Searles; East Schuyler, L. H. Robinson; Hastings-upon-Hudson, Frederick G. Orlick; Lily Dale, H. S. Bennett; Wanaque, E. J. Ricker; West Walworth, John Lotzo.

McKinley and the Fair.

Washington, April 16.—President McKinley has decided that he would be unable to attend the Nashville exposition on the opening day, May 1, but will formally notify the authorities that he will visit the exposition after the adjournment of congress.

Students Reinstated.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 16.—The two Ithaca high school students who were suspended for masquerading as girls, thereby gaining admission to an entertainment given by the Adelphia society for ladies exclusively, have been reinstated. The Cornell student who was implicated and suspended has not yet been reinstated. The ladies are circulating a petition to the Cornell faculty asking that he be allowed to return. Three other students of the high school who were discovered at the skylight preparing to photograph the ladies on the stage were let off with a reprimand.

Well Known Importer Kills Himself.

Mobile, April 16.—Hon. J. Leonard Mueller, general manager of the Snyder Banana company, shot and mortally wounded himself. He was one of the best known fruit importers in the country. In letters to relatives and friends nervous prostration was alleged as having induced the attempt at self destruction.

SOMERSET'S SURROGATE.

The county of Somerset is crowded with Republican candidates for the Surrogate. Among the names mentioned are P. N. Van Nuys, of Hillsboro. Then there are H. Newton Spencer, of North Plainfield; George W. Cooper and John S. Haynes, of Bridgewater, and ex Sheriff George A. Dilts. All these gentlemen are worthy of the office, but it is a question whether any of them can climb the ladder high enough to get there. Democrats will have something to say this time. They have been heard from before. Surrogate Huff has been talked of.—Somerset Journal.

SING JERSEY'S PRAISES.

New Jersey may very properly be called a health resort. As a State it has salubrious climate from Sussex to Cape May, and along the coast are to be found some of the best health resorts, in both winter and summer, that exist in America. The average death rate in the State last year was the lowest recorded in eight years, showing that in point of sanitation the State is improving each year. In view of the fact that so many invalids come to New Jersey from all parts of the country, this showing is very creditable.—Elizabeth Journal.

APPRECIATED.

The demand for The Daily Press yesterday was so great that 600 extra copies were printed and sold. The demand was not only made by the special article descriptive of the new apartments of the City National Bank, but also as a result of the general excellence of the news features of the paper.

An elaborate programme, prepared by the good and welfare committee, will be given, and it will be followed by a collation which has been prepared in honor of the four hundredth meeting of the tribe. The committee of entertainment will report that, on account of the Templars of America having the hall on Thursday evening, the dance will be held on the following Friday night in Red Men's Hall.

Musical Programme Given.

An entertainment was held in the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church last evening and it was largely attended. There were several vocal solos and selections on mandolin and guitar. The feature of the entertainment was an exhibition of magic by Joel Bolden, of this city. The entertainment was gotten up by a committee from the Helping Hand Society and was for the benefit of the church.

Brought Here For Interment.

The remains of the late Edward J. Anstett, of New York, son-in-law of J. A. Horn, of Craig place, were brought to this city yesterday by Undertaker Randolph Runyon, and were deposited in a vault at Hillside cemetery. The deceased was 45 years old, and he leaves a widow and four children. He died in New York last Monday after a long illness.

The concert will be followed by a dance. It is probable that Raymond A. McGee will make his appearance in this city with the club after all. The club is very anxious that he should come here and so is he, and it is expected that the coaches of the freshmen crew will grant a special dispensation so that he can come to Plainfield for Tuesday night to take part in the concert and then return at once to New Haven.

ONE DISEASE AND ONE REMEDY

"The art of painting," said Millais, "consists in selecting the right colors and putting them in the right place." —"The way to win a battle," said Napoleon, "is to mass your troops at the critical moment against the weakest spot in the enemy's line."—"The way to cure many ailments," said the great Dr. Abercrombie, "is to purify the poisoned spring in which they arise, generally the torpid and inflamed digestive system."

Thus wisdom and experience simplify and condense. Thus the Shakers of Mount Lebanon reasoned when they sought, and finally found, a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia Where one person has something else, they argued, a thousand have this. To cure this alone will almost rid the world of sickness. Why should we vex ourselves with confusing definitions? A good digestion is life and health; a bad one disease and death Hence, from the healing and stimulating mountain herbs, they extracted the principles which make the Shaker Digestive Cordial the rarest and most effective of medicines for one disease, and one only—indigestion and dyspepsia.

Do you suffer from any of these miserable feelings?—depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, bad taste in the mouth, wind in the bowls, irritable disposition, nervous weakness and alarm, worry and weariness, costive ness or irregularity of the bowels, nausea, palpitation, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite and sleep, dry skin, etc.—?

Don't indulge in fifty foolish fancies. You have indigestion and dyspepsia and nothing else. Set the disordered stomach right with the one medicine which will surely do it, Shaker Digestive Cordial, and these symptoms will vanish with their cause. A good effect will follow the first doses. Even chronic cases soon yield.

Test the cordial, at practically no cost, by taking a ten cent trial bottle. For sale by nearly all druggists.

ELY'S CREAM BALM is a positive cure. Apply into the nostrils. It is quickly absorbed. 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; samples 10c. by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York City.

A HYPNOTIZING EXPERIMENT.

Edgar Was Happy to Perform the Act but Did Not Like the Result.

"Now, Maud," said Edgar, with a complacent smile, "I am ready to try that little experiment. I am sure I can bring you under the hypnotic influence if you will agree not to resist. Just put your mind in a passive condition. Try to think of nothing at all. No, no, do not say you will think of me. Be serious. Now, lean back comfortably. That's right. Fix your eye on that light now, and don't forget to keep your mind a blank. I will count sixty seconds by my watch."

The girl followed directions literally. In twenty seconds her eyelids blinked, in forty they closed.

"Ah, I knew I would succeed!" exclaimed Edgar, highly elated. "Now, Maud, I command you tell me the secrets of your heart. Whom do you love? Tell me, I command you."

A momentary expression of resistance crossed the girl's face. Then she spoke in a monotone:

"I love Edgar Popham, and——

"Yes, yes!" cried Edgar, trembling with delight. "Go on; tell me all the secrets of your heart."

"I love Edgar Popham," continued the girl, in the same tone, "and I would love him more if he were not so stingy. I want to go to the theatre twice a week, and he takes me only once in three months. I want diamond rings, and he gives me rings with cheap stones in them. I want a drive in the park once or twice a week, and I never get it. When I go out with him and get hungry he never thinks of oysters. When I ——"

"Enough!" cried the young man. "Awake! I command you!" and he fled, without waiting to see the result of his command.

As the front door slammed the young girl opened her eyes, smiled sweetly, and said:

"I hope I did not spring too much on him at once. Perhaps I should have let the drive and oysters go till another time."—Tid Bits.

A caravan of gypsies passed through town yesterday. Part of them went to Plainfield to locate for a few weeks, and the balance took the mountain road, expecting to locate near Stirling.

One thing is needed and that is the enforcement of the borough ordinances. The gutters in many places have become clogged up, and large pools of water stand in the streets only awaiting for the warm weather to make them stagnant and obnoxious.

Some little work has been done by individuals on the road leading to Washington Rock. This is a favorite resort for picnic parties during the summer months, and as the season is just now about to open, the road, which is a steep one, should be put in thorough repair.

There will be no meeting of the Borough Council until the first Monday evening of next month. Then, it is understood, that several additional street lamps will be asked for. Taking into consideration of its size, Dunellen is as well lighted as any town in the State, that is to say, when the lamps burn.

One thing happened to mar the pleasure of a party of young people who were returning from the Taylor-Smith nuptuals, at Plainfield, Wednesday evening. The party was being driven home when one of the wheels on the coach accidentally dropped off. There was consternation for a minute or so among the four occupants of the coach, but no one was injured, and after the wheel had been properly adjusted the party sped on their way rejoicing.

LINCOLN.

A large deposit of sand was found yesterday in the rear of the Gulick property.

A house is being built on the old county road in the rear of the town and is rapidly nearing completion.

Work was commenced yesterday on a large store property, corner of the Lincoln Boulevard and Mountain avenue, opposite the station. The work of remodeling the old Brokaw house has been commenced and when completed will be one of the largest and finest houses in this section. It will be of colonial design. The old fences are being taken down and the shrubbery trimmed, presenting a fine appearance to the old place.

Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry street, Alton, Ill, suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. Park and North avenues.

LIFE TAKERS TO BE INDICTED.

Large Amount of Criminal Business to Come Before Somerset Grand Jury.

The April term of the Somerset court will open on Tuesday. The civil list promises to be short. The criminal business will be large. Jo Chalbi, who stabbed his wife to death at Bound Brook, and Francesco Dilucci, who is charged with the murder of a fellow Italian at Bernardsville, will come before the Grand Jury, and will undoubtedly be indicted. Fivorotti, the Italian who came so near hacking his wife to death in Raritan, and Antonio Macacio, whose victim, Ralph Bruno, had a close call, will probably be indicted for assault and battery, with intent to kill. The trial of these cases, with others quite important, will keep the Prosecutor busy for some time.

CONDUCTORS LAID OFF.

No Reason Given for the Action by the Railway Company.

Recently three conductors on the Central Railroad were laid off. When they arrived in Jersey City they were told that letters awaited them, and when they opened the same they learned that their services were not required any longer. No reason was given for the action. The conductors are McBirth, who had charge of a Long Branch train; Charles Powell, who was in charge of the Royal Blue Line train, which met with a serious accident at Skillman not long ago, and J. Vecty, who ran a local train between New York and Roselle.

The Rev. W. H. Weaver, pastor of the U. B. Church, Dillsburg, Pa., recognizes the value of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and does not hesitate to tell others about it. "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," he says, "and find it an excellent medicine for colds, cough's and hoarseness." So does everyone who gives it a trial. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

EASTER SUNSHINE.

"Yes, it is going to rain," Miss Torrance said, with a sigh, as she turned from the window. There were already premonitory drops on the doorstep.

It was the afternoon of the day before Easter, and this little woman had set her hopes upon sunshine for the morrow.

Miss Torrance, looking down upon her tidy little flower-border, heaved a deeper sigh; yet she smiled, too, through a mist of tears, as her eyes rested on the array of dazzling white chalices in bloom under her sitting-room window.

"The rain would certainly ruin them, so I may as well go out and gather them while it is light," she said, resignedly.

These lilies had a history. They were blooming this Easter for the first time since the lonely little maiden lady had planted them in the prim flower-border beside the porch, when she came to Weston a stranger, three years before. She had brought the bulbs from the graves of her kindred, in a far distant place, and very precious they were to her.

Miss Torrance was alone in the world; and though a measure of good fortune had fallen to her lot in these latter days, she had known many bitter sorrows and privations in her nearly fifty years of life. She had once made one of a large, happy and prosperous family, who kept all festivals with cheer and interchange of gifts. But one by one her nearest and dearest had died, and she was left to grow old alone, without resources, among strangers.

She was shy, and though she won kindness always, she had not the gift of making those close friends with whom joys and sorrows are to be shared. Moreover, in the struggle to maintain herself, she was forced to drift from place to place, so that old acquaintances lost sight of her.

She had not been content in this unsettled life, but had accepted her lot cheerfully. She had never even wished her loved ones back, thinking of the hardships they had escaped, until that day when it was made known to her that old Anthony Wales, a distant kinsman, whom she had some difficulty in recalling to mind, had bequeathed her the little house and lot in Weston, with a sum which yielded a modest competence.

To Miss Torrance, so long inured to a round of poorly-paid toil, this inheritance seemed like great wealth; but when the idea first presented itself that she might live once more in a home of her own, she realized her isolation as never before.

"I shall be all alone!" she said, shuddering. "Oh, if they could but come to life!"

Miss Torrance was at that time a governess in a young ladies' boarding-school in Kentucky. She packed her trunk and set forth upon a pilgrimage to the place of her old home in Southern Georgia, which she had not seen for twenty years.

In this time, her father's beautiful house, her childhood's home, had passed into the hands of strangers, and was no longer the same. But it was not this old roof-tree she had come to visit; it was the nook in the quiet cemetery where lay her father and mother, her four sisters and an only brother.

On a drear November day, with a gray sky and a dim sun, Miss Torrance stood once more beside these beloved graves. An anguish of homesickness, such as she had never known in all the days of her drifting homelessness, took possession of her, as she laid her hand with reverent love, now upon one lichen-stained headstone, now upon another.

Miss Torrance looked up and saw, coming along the nearest pathway, a bent old man; and as he drew nearer she recognized Michael Stewart, the keeper of the cemetery.

She had not the heart to make herself known to him, and leaned in silence upon her mother's tombstone, while he rested on his staff and peered at her.

"The Torrance burial lot," he said at last. "Know the fam'ly?"

"Yes," Miss Torrance answered, faintly.

"It's a dolesome pastime," the old keeper commented, "sittin' here, with the dead leaves a rustlin', an' that broom-sedge everlastin'ly whisperin', whisperin'; y' oughter see the place in the springtime, all a-bloomin' with lilies."

"Lilies?" echoed Miss Torrance, with sudden recollection. "Lilies!" she repeated softly; and a strange, new joy, born of that recollection, stirred in her heart. She remembered well the lilies that her mother had loved.

"Aye," the old man responded. "It was Madam Torrance set 'em here. There was always lilies an' lilies about the old Torrance home on Cherokee avenue, but they 'peared to all die out when the Torrances left it. There aint no more of 'em about, exceptin' right here among these Torrance graves"

Miss Torrance smiled. It made her glad to hear this.

"There was one daughter," the old man babbled on, "the last of 'em. She went away an' maybe now is dead, too."

"I wonder," said Miss Torrance, "if I could dig some of the roots?"

"What?" cried the keeper, sharply. "You would rob these graves?"

"But I am Agatha Torrance, you know," said she, gently. "And I may never come again."

"Miss Agatha, be you?" quavered the old man. "Wella-day! Surely you've a right to them lilies," and the old man took out his clumsy knife in order to dig for the lily bulbs.

"There!" he sighed at last, as he pulled himself up with effort. "I've took you some from each blessed sleeper; that's your wish, aint it?"

"Oh, yes! Thank you!" Miss Torrance replied with fervor, spreading out her handkerchief to receive the roots; and as she tied them up Michael Stewart talked on.

"I mind me of another time, once before, I dug some o' these same lilies," he said; "but I took 'em all from your sister Rose's bed, over there."

Miss Torrance looked up with quivering lids at the white cross inscribed "Rose Torrance, aged twenty-seven."

"It was when the Austins an' the Monroes were a-movin' away, an' you was already gone; little Mary Austin she come a-skippin' after me, an' would have some o' the lilies from Miss Rose's grave, for Miss Rose had been her Sunday school teacher. 'An' these white lilies of hers keep me in mind of the resurrection,' says the child; so what could I do, Miss Agatha, but dig 'em for her?

"She was just about thirteen that time, and a lovin'-hearted child was little Mary Austin. Well, if she's livin', God bless her, say I; an' if she's dead, God rest her. Miss Rose was your twin, wasn't she, Miss Agatha?"

Miss Torrance nodded; for the moment she could not speak.

"We all do fade as a leaf," murmured the old man.

Miss Torrance's first and chief concern, when she took up her abode in the small cottage she had inherited on the outskirts of Weston, was to plant the lily bulbs in the flower-border under the sitting room window, where she could have them well in view.

Twice the spring returned and the lilies did not bloom; but no one in Weston knew the secret of that flower-border, where only the delaying lilies were allowed to grow.

When, upon the approach of the third Easter she came to live in Weston, she beheld at last the promising flower-stalks shoot up, something of the long-forgotten joy of childhood in will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. A fine coat of paint is like a dress suit, and puts a building in proper shape for show. Nothing pays better than keeping a house up. It costs something to build and paint is a cheap preservative.

ROYAL TOOTH POWDER IS A LITTLE FINER THAN MOST POWDERS, as competent judges will admit. Cheap Chalk contains grit, and grit scratches the enamel. Money won't buy finer materials than what we use. You say you are satisfied, so were some who journeyed in the stage-coach. For an agreeable surprise try the ROYAL TOOTH POWDER, 10c. and 25c.; all dry goods stores. Use Royal Borated or Carbolated Talcum at 10c.; all stores. We ship these goods to some part of this country every day in the week excepting Sundays and holidays. Try them once and your friends will know of them. Prepared by

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

the coming of spring took possession of her; and when after a few days the slender green buds took form, she saw with wonder and joy that there were just enough to represent father, mother, the little lame sister who died so young, the only brother who "entered into rest" before life's work had begun, and the two sweet sisters older than herself, who "put on immortality" the same day, and the twin—all were there! Over and over again Miss Torrance counted them, to make sure there could be no mistake; and the opening flowers of light smiled up at her, as if each of her beloved dead had sent her an individual greeting.

Even so were they blooming on those far-away graves. Miss Torrance, in memory of her mother's vigil at the Easter dawn, wished to cut her lilies in the light of the new-risen sun of Easter day; for they were to adorn the altar, a memorial in testimony of her faith in the resurrection of the dead.

But it was going to rain, and that pretty sentiment about gathering the lilies in the light of the rising sun must be denied. "However, it makes no real difference," Miss Torrance said to herself cheerfully, as with a shawl over her head and a pair of scissors in her hands she went out to cut her flowers.

On her knees, her back to the street, she was severing the last stalk, when she heard a childish voice say, pleadingly:

"Lady, may I have one lily? Please, lady, just one?"

Miss Torrance turned with a start. Who could have the heartlessness to demand one of these sacred lilies, she wondered, forgetting that no one else knew what they were to her.

Her eyes fell upon a little girl wrapped in a shabby red shawl, and shivering in the mist. If she had asked for bread Miss Torrance would have gladly given her food; but these Easter lilies? No! Her looks refused even before her lips uttered the word.

"Just one!" pleaded the child, piteously.

"Impossible, child," said Miss Torrance. "You don't know what you ask. I haven't one to spare, not one."

The child turned away, and passed swiftly out of sight. Miss Torrance went into the house with her precious freight.

On the table beside the window was a cut glass bowl—one of the few relics of her early home that she had been able to retain in her unsettled life. She had put it there, ready filled with water; and she began to arrange her lilies in it.

She was smiling, but she became suddenly grave, remembering the child with the wistful eyes.

"I might have given her one," she sighed in keen regret; and all at once her pleasure in the lilies underwent a blight.

"Oh, dear! I wish it had not happened," she lamented. "But perhaps to-morrow the sun will shine, and that child's face will cease to haunt me."

She carried the bowl of lilies into the passage to remove them from the heat and glare of the lamp, for it was now dark, and old Hannah, her only servant, was making ready to set the table for tea."

"Is you gwan lay dem lilies on ole Mr. Wales's grave?" Hannah inquired.

"Why, no, Hannah," Miss Torrance answered. "He was buried in South Carolina, beside his father and mother."

"Well, sho'ly!" assented Hannah, with approval. "Did you know there was a po' lady died o' Friday, up to Miz Perrine's?"

Miss Torrance did not know; Mrs. Perrine lived some distance away and was still a stranger to this newcomer in Weston; but Hannah heard all the news of the town.

"Dee tell how she came here o' purpose ter die, Miss Torrance, so's ter be laid 'side o' her own people. An' his po' lady, her money all give out, an' her kin was all on 'em dead, so dee buried her wid charity. But I reckon she gwan rise, all de same."

"She will rise, all the same, Hannah!" Miss Torrance responded, in a sort of ecstasy. She was thinking of her own dead, however, not of the forlorn stranger.

At half-past nine, before she took herself to bed, Miss Torrance looked out and rejoiced to see the clouds breaking in drifts, and the moon shining the more glorious for the shrouded sky; but when she awoke in the middle of the night a sobbing rain was falling, and she remembered again to her sorrow the child who begged for a lily.

"She haunts me," Miss Torrance moaned, tossing on her pillow. "I must find her to-morrow."

Soothed with this resolve, she slept again, and slept late; for no sun illumined that Easter dawn in Weston, and the rain was falling still, though with a mist-like gentleness.

Miss Torrance wished to have her lilies on the altar before the early service began, and as the church was at some distance, and the town clock was striking seven when she put on her overshoes and waterproof, she knew that she had no time to lose. Therefore she took the shortest route; and this led through an old cemetery around which the town had grown, shutting it in every side.

At a turn in the walk she descried, a few yards away, a new-made grave, and then she perceived that what she saw was not a bank of clay, but a dingy red shawl, covering a little figure prone across the grave.

With a sob in her throat, Miss Torrance went near.

"Child," said she, pityingly, "what are you doing here in the rain?" Though, indeed, she saw plainly that the little moaning creature was grieving her heart out.

The child sat up, showing a haggard face and Miss Torrance with a pang of remorse and a thrill of joy recognized the little girl who had asked for a lily.

"It is my mother," said the child. "They buried her yesterday in the morning." She began to sob piteously.

"Was it for this you wanted the lily?" Miss Torrance asked, her own tears falling as she detached a lily from the bunch she carried.

"There is nobody but me—only me to love her and remember her." sobbed the child in response.

"Will you have the lily now?" said Miss Torrance, with penitent entreaty.

The child put out a little meagre hand and took the flower, a smile flickering about her mouth that still quivered with sobs.

"But it is bad for you, sitting here in the rain," Miss Torrance remonstrated. "Where do you live?"

"I don't live anywhere now," came the heartbroken answer. "I stay at old Mrs. Perrine's, but she is going to send me to the orphan asylum."

"What is you name?" Miss Torrance asked.

The child, with her eyes on the questioner's face, answered between sobs:

"Rose—Torrance—Maxwell."

Miss Torrance uttered a cry, and the lilies fell from her hands upon the new-made grave.

"Your mother was Mary Austin?" she gasped.

The child nodded; she could not speak for tears.

Miss Torrance dropped upon her knees and clasped the little girl in a close embrace. "O child, dear child," "I knew your mother well; and Rose Torrance was my own beloved sister."

"She was my mother's friend," whispered the child, half-frightened; "and my mother told me she was good."

"Yes, she was good—so good," sobbed Miss Torrance; "but—she died."

"She will rise again," said the child, serenely. "My mother told me that the dead shall rise. All her people are waiting here."

Then Miss Torrance, obeying the gesture of the little hand, read on the nearest gravestones the long-unspoken names of friends departed—Mary Austin's parents and sisters and brothers.

"Only my father," the child prattled on, "was buried in the deep ocean. But he, too, shall rise again."

"Oh, believe it well!" cried Miss Torrance. "Dear child, now I know why your little pale face haunted me so; Mary, your mother, was looking at me through your brown eyes. God has surely given you to me this blessed Easter day. No asylum shall have you! Let us put the lilies here, my little Rose; it is the right place for them; and God will understand."

The little Rose looked up with a smile unclogged by tears; she was beginning to taste consolation. "My mother loved lilies," she said.

"Yes, I know! I know, dear. Let us give God thanks and come away. The dead need us not; but you and I, we need each other."

So, hand in hand, the child bereft and the lonely woman went out of the cemetery, a blessing each to the other.

In the afternoon the clouds cleared away. "See the sunshine," cried the child.

"Ah, little one!" Miss Torrance answered, devoutly. "There has been sunshine all this day."—Youth's Companion.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Rev. George Washington Smith, of Craig place, has purchased a Stearns wheel.

Rev. C. E. Herring, of East Second street, has decided to ride a Hunter wheel this year.

Station Agent Joseph Haynes, of North avenue, received his '97 Hunter wheel last evening.

A meeting of the Cleveland Cyclers will be held on Monday evening when five members will be initiated.

A shipment of sixteen Crescent wheels was received by the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company, yesterday.

Willie Coddington, of Grove street, has purchased a Pierce wheel from E. Frank Vail, the agent, of North avenue.

John Powers, of Netherwood, has purchased a Spalding wheel from Rogers, the North avenue cycle dealer.

Mr Pitchard, of Central avenue, has purchased an Apollo tandem and a Gendron wheel from the Plainfield Cycle Company.

Edward White is offering a remarkably good sweater in all colors at one half its real value. Bicycle riders will do well to receive it.

The Plainfield Cycle Company will receive a shipment of '96 Fowlers in a few days and they will be sold at prices to suit the pocketbook of everyone.

John Rice, of Metuchen, wanted a Crescent wheel, and as he could not get it in his local town, he came to the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company and purchased one of that company.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company has just received the first sample of a '97 tandem. It is a Cleveland road diamond frame tandem. It is geared to 80 and weighs about 43 pounds.

The Eldridge Bicycle Company has just received another shipment of Columbia wheels. They find trade good and have to hustle to supply all their customers. There is a steady demand for Hartford wheels.

A prominent rival to the Crescent Wheelmen's race meet on May 31st, will be the race of the Atlanta Wheelmen on their track at Waverly on the same day. The Crescent Wheelmen have heretofore counted largely on the crowd that attends the Irvington-Milburn race to come to this city in the afternoon, but the close proximity of the Waverly track to the Irvington-Milburn course will attract many to the Atlanta Club's meet. It seems rather strange that the Racing Board should grant a sanction to the two clubs who will hold meets in the same vicinity.

The question of building a cycle path between Jersey City and Newark, across the meadows, is being considered by the cycling clubs in that vicinity. Such a path would be very handy to the wheelmen of Plainfield and all towns along the Jersey Central railroad, west of Elizabeth, in going to Jersey City or New York. At present the only path across is the plank road which is in a horrible condition and almost unridable for a wheel. The present method is to ride to Elizabeth and there take a train over the bay, getting off at Bayonne or Jereey City.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The annual field day of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association will be held on the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club on Saturday afternoon, May 22d. The tennis tournament of the same association will be held on the courts of the New Jersey Athletic Club a week later. The Plainfield High School will be well represented in both contests.

George Proctor Smith, of Putnam avenue, went to New York Wednesday afternoon to hold a conference with the presidents of the the New York and Long Island Interscholastic Athletic associations regarding the awarding of the cup which was contested for at the recent games of the Barnard School, in New York. Mr. Smith went in his official capacity as president of the New Jersey Association. The athletes of Pingry's School, of Elizabeth, and the Brooklyn High School tied for the cup which was to be given to the school scoring the most paints in the meet. The matter was referred to the three presidents for settlement, and they decided to cut the cup in half and give one half to each of the schools. Each half will be mounted on an oaken slab.

TENNIS.

The prizes for the junior single and double championship of the Park Club last year, were awarded to William J. Roome, Jr., for the singles and William J. Roome, Jr., and Fred Overton for the doubles.

The officials of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club are planning to open the club courts in a few weeks. During the latter part of last year, the courts were moved to the vicinity of the new club house on Plainfield avenue. This year they will be placed in as good condition as the old ones which are considered as good as any in the State.

The tennis courts of the Park Club are now being put in condition for play and if the weather remains clear during the week they will be in condition on Saturday. As most of the players of the club attend college or club and have vacation next week, it is planned to have the courts in condition so that they can be played on at that time.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

The time for the opening of the regular driving season is close at hand and the members of the Plainfield Driving Park Association are preparing to open their track in a few days. Work on the track has been going on for time and the track is now in fair condition. If the good weather continues for the rest of the week, it is expected to have several matches for Saturday afternoon as an informal opening of the track. The regular opening meet will come later in the season. Many of the horses have been doing some fast work on the road already this season and there is considerable rivalry between several of the owners of the faster ones. The special match, which will probably be held on Saturday, will be between horses driven by John Osborne and Charles C. Brower.

Couldn't Pass the Wagon.

A horse attached to Philip Voorhees' milk wagon ran away on North avenue, early this morning. The horse turned into Park avenue but was stopped by the driver of a stone wagon who turned his wagon in the path of the runaway horse and as the horse slowed up on approaching the obstacle, caught him by the bridle.

Stealing a Ride on a Train.

Three young men, Victor Ellison, William Funk, and Henry Myer, all of Philadelphia, were removed from a passing coal train on the Jersey Central railroad, at an early hour this morning, by Patrolman Lunger. They were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning and severally fined $3 or else ten days in the county jail. Not being well off financially, they took the days and were escorted to Elizabeth this afternoon by Chief Grant.

—The scholars of the public schools enjoyed a half holiday today.

SITE FOR THE MASONIC HOME.

A Building in Mount Holly May Be Bought Instead of One in Trenton.

The prospect of the New Jersey Masonic Home being located in Trenton is not as hopeful as it was. There was a general impression that the Houdayer property would be taken, but within the last few days indications have pointed to the selection of a property in Mount Holly.

The Mount Holly property embraces about forty acres, with a colonial house containing thirty-seven rooms. The price asked is more than twice that asked for the Trenton estate, but the house is much larger. It is within five minutes of the railroad station.

Deputy Grand Master Josiah Ewan, one of the committee, lives in Mount Holly.

Another Historical Celebration.

The Wallace house will be formally opened on June 17th, the anniversaries of the battles of Millstone and Bunker Hill. It is earnestly desired that any of the old residents who may have personal recollections of the house at the time the troops were there, will send information to either W. H. Taylor, J. J. Bergen or A. P. Sutphen, of Somerville.

A FREAK AMONG FLOWERS

Venus' Fly Trap and Its Almost Human Action.

Now and again, in exploring American woods and swamps, botanists have come across floral curiosities that almost bridge over the great gulf that divides the animal and vegetable kingdoms, says the Designer. One of these, to be met with nowhere in the world save in North Carolina, is scientifically classified as dionoea muscipula, but is colloquially known as "Venus' fly trap."

In appearance the extraordinary plant is prettily but unassumingly the leafless flower stem, running from six to eight inches in height and surmounted by a cluster of five petalled blossoms, rising erect like a rosette-like bed of leaves. It is in the edge of the leaves that the death dealing apparatus is set—for this modest little plant, which is so delicate that it dies of the slightest injury to root or stem, sustains its life by feeding upon the unwary insects that chance to alight upon its leaves, enticing them to their destruction by exuding from the edges of its fatal traps a viscous fluid, somewhat resembling honey.

The traps consist of two soft, velvety leaves, fringed with delicate bristles and hinged together on one side. The unsuspecting fly, lured by the honey, alights on these bristles in anticipation of a feast, but at the first touch of its feet the hinges close, the two leaves come together, the bristles interlock, and the hapless insect is imprisoned in a cell from which escape is impossible.

Under the stimulus of the victim's struggles the tiny glands with which the inner walls of the trap are furnished pour forth a secretion which Darwin analyzed as a vegetable gastric juice, resembling that which insures digestion in animal life. Under the influence of this curious fluid the fly is actually digested alive, and its juices being extracted the trap doors are reopened and the skeleton is flung out.

The set of muscles controlling its leaves are said to resemble those of the human eyelid.--New York Herald.

He Won the Wager.

Frank Ruggles, a son of Brigadier-General Ruggles, of the Army, who recently passed his entrance examination for a cadetship at West Point, has shown his contempt of superstition in a striking manner. The "older fellows" at the Military Academy, in view of the stringent regulations against hazing, decided on another way of having a little fun with the "youngster," and made a wager with him that he did not have the nerve to go to the cemetery at midnight, descend into an open grave, and bring back some evidence that he had done so. The challengers went to the cemetery in the afternoon and dropped a white handkerchief in the grave, and promptly at midnight Ruggles started on his mission. A few minutes later he returned, waving the handkerchief over his head, and after voting him the pluckiest fellow at the Academy, his companions presented to him an order for a silk hat and a blanket.—

RAISING GOLDFISH.

Freak Bring the Best Prices, Six-Tailed Fishes Heading the List.

Goldfish are so extremely common nowadays that few people ever stop to wonder where they come from or how they are raised.

The largest goldfish farm in the world, if it may be called such, is located in Shelby County, Ind.

To-day there are in the various ponds of Spring Lake fishery over 200,000 fish, from which specimens are constantly being sent to every state and territory of the Union. It is even said that some of the finest fish in the royal aquariums of Europe were raised at this farm.

Many people suppose that when the goldfish is first hatched from the egg it has the peculiar pretty markings on its scales which make it so beautiful and valuable.

This is not the case. In its youth in reality the fish is just the same as any ordinary and everyday fish, and looks like it for all the world. Even an expert could scarcely tell it from the little minnows which are found in any stream. They are of a whitish, silvery color, and have not the least evidence of the beautiful hues which they will later assume.

First they begin getting dark, sometimes becoming almost black. From the dark complexion they begin turning to the reddish shade, and finally come out in all their glory, full-fledged goldfish. Often the fish, instead of acquiring a solid color all over its scales from nose to tail, becomes spotted with big red blotches here and there at regular intervals over its body.

The freaks and unusual developments in the fish are the varieties which will always bring the best prices in the market. Odd and rare colors and spots upon the scales are the marks which are preferred by fanciers. Unusual shapes in the fishes are equally popular with oddities in colors, and will cause a fish to bring as good prices as if it had orange or purple scales.

In physical developments the great varieties are in respect to the tail. One never finds two-headed fish, but those with more than one tail are plentiful. Two, three, four and five tails are quite often found on the fish, and sometimes even six, but the latter is very rare. Of course, a fish with six tails would bring a handsome price in any market.—Chicago Daily Tribune.

BOROUGH BACK TAXES.

MAYOR WILSON URGES THAT DELINQUENTS BE MADE TO PAY.

He Advocates that the Borough Take Possession of Property Sold for Back Taxes—$10,000 Owed by the Delinquents.

Notwithstanding the fact that the adjourned meeting of the Borough Council held last evening was a short one, there was much important business transacted. Mr. Lounsbury was the only member absent.

The first business of importance was the presentation of a paper by the Mayor in regard to the collection of taxes in the borough. The contents of the paper are as follows:

"Gentlemen:—Upon the collection of our taxes depends the stability of our municipal government, therefore it is of the most vital importance that to this matter we should give our strict and constant attention.

"It appears that there are yet due to the borough for delinquent taxes covering a period of several years in the neighborhood of ten thousand dollars.

"This means not only that certain persons have failed to bear their just proportion of the public burden, but that the rest of us who pay our taxes are being compelled to bear more than our share, and thereby an injustice is being done which should not be tolerated if it can be avoided.

"Without intending to reflect upon any officer or department of the borough, for I am not sufficiently conversant with the procedure in such matters to venture an opinion as to where the fault lies, permit me to say that this large amount of uncollected taxes must result either from defects in the law covering the subject or else from a failure to enforce the law.

"I am informed that there are numerous cases where large amounts of taxes are due to the borough from improved property which has been sold for the taxes and purchased by the borough which thereby became entitled to take possession of the property and rent it for the public benefit, and yet the owners are allowed to continue in possession and enjoy the same use as if they had paid their dues.

"Such a case, I am informed, is the Fritts property on Somerset street, which owes the borough upwards of five hundred dollars.

"Another is the Warman property on Grove street which also owes several hundred dollars.

"These properties could easily be rented for enough to pay all the taxes and leave abundant revenue besides, and there are other instances of a similar character which it is unnecessary to mention at this time.

"As a business man I am impressed with the idea that all taxes should be promptly collected and all delinquents pressed to the full extent of our power under the law. No favors should be shown to one man at the expense of the public.

"We are but public servants and should be swerved neither by friend nor foe from the strict performance of our duty. It may be unpleasant to seize the property of our neighbor but it is his duty to pay his taxes and our duty to collect them.

"If this large delinquent tax list results from defects in the law, let us endeavor to have the law corrected. If it results from a failure to enforce the law, let us correct that.

"I would suggest that some action be taken by your body to ascertain wherein the difficulty lies and to recommend such measures as may be proper and advisable under the circumstances."

Following the reading of the above the Mayor appointed G. W. Kliner and Thomas Rutledge as special marshals and the appointments were confirmed by the Council.

Mr. Woolston, as chairman of the committee on streets and public health, presented a report of the expenditures upon the opening and laying out of Watchung avenue. The total cost, less the benefits derived from the sale of houses along the line of the avenue, was $34,436.25, which was divided as follows: Damages for land taken, $30,350; surveys, engineering, etc., $588.12; auctioneer's fees, $34.48 money due Contractor Bowden, $2,411.75; laying of drain pipes and erection of catch basins, $125; searching titles, $172.35; printing, $93.65; commissioners' fees for the assessment of damages, $225, same for the assessment of benefits, $300; interest on money borrowed in anticipation of assessment for benefits, $1,650; total, $36 160.35, less amount received from the sale of buildings, $1,724.10, leaving a net total of $34,436 25.

At this time the Mayor appointed J. H. Cooley, J. P. Emmons, W. J. Roome as commissioners to assess

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER REMAINS OF WELL-KNOWN CITIZENS.

Henry G. Stephenson Laid to Rest After a Sermon Preached by Dr. Yerkes—German Society Escorted a Brother's Remains

The pilgrimage of Henry G. Stephenson in this world is ended and, yesterday, all that was mortal was laid to rest in the Evergreen cemetery in Plainfield avenue. In the afternoon, his friends gathered in the First Baptist church for a last look at his calm face and to listen to the funeral discourse preached by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes. The service was a short but impressive one and the words of the pastor of the departed one were well chosen,

After the reading of a portion of the Psalms, Dr. Yerkes told of the answer of Jacob as to his age and how his days had been short and full of evil. He told of Jacob's troubles and how his life had not been a happy one. Lives today are full of evil, not taking evil as sin, but as the misfortunes that are occurring through life. But there is much more good in life than evil, immeasurably much more, but man is inclined to look on the unpleasant side.

Dr. Yerkes went on to say that the people on this earth are only pilgrims and sojourners. But the pilgrimage ends somewhere and the children of God are journeying home. They feel the evils that surround them, but they have the hope of the future with them constantly.

He then told of the deceased, how his years had been many in comparison with the usual run of life, but very short in comparison with the countless ages. He spoke of how Dr. Stephenson had often talked of his experiences and how he had wandered far from God, but had returned to the fold when rather advanced in age. He spoke of the beautiful life that the missing one had lived during his connection with the First Baptist church and how rich and heartfelt it has been his many testimonies.

"He was a faithful servant," said the Doctor, "of God according to the circumstances that came to him and his abilities. He loved God and sought to walk in His ways. His light did shine. We cannot question as to his future for we know that he is now enjoying eternal life up yonder."

After an earnest prayer, the lid of the casket was raised and the friends were permitted to take a last look at the countenance of the deceased.

The funeral services of the late Henry Wedemeyer, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the German Reformed church. It was one of the largest funerals ever held in the church. There was a great many floral offerings including a target and cross from the Independent Shooting Corps, a harp from the singing section of the Gesang and Turn Verein, and several wreaths and a bunch of lilies.

The services were conducted by Rev. George Hauser, pastor of the church, and he spoke with comfort to the bereaved ones. An impressive part of the service was the singing by the singing section of the Gesang and Turn Verein, under the direction of Prof. Eichorn, of Elizabeth.

Mrs. Rosentheil presided at the organ and played while the funeral cortege was entering and leaving the church.

There were representatives present from the various organizations of which Mr. Wedemeyer belonged and the following served as pall bearers: A. G. Voegler, Fred Moraller, J. H. Doane, Charles Ficke, G. O. Keller and J. R. Phillips. Interment was in Hillside cemeteey.

Pleasant Words for Miss Rafferty.

The Waterville. (Maine) Evening Mail, under date of April 9th, has a very complimentary notice concerning Miss Fanny Rafferty, of this city, who is at present assistant hat trimmer in the millinery store of L. H. Soper & Co., of Waterville, Me. The above firm held a spring opening on the evening of April 8th, and the following words will explain themselves; "The millinery window was trimmed under the supervision of Miss Rafferty and great credit is due her for the exquisite taste shown in the decoration." The many friends of Miss Rafferty in this city will be very much pleased to hear that she is so successful in her new place.

Ex-Mayor Gilbert to Talk.

The afternoon service at the First Baptist church will be in connection with the Sunday-schools of the church and its missions. The address will be by ex-Mayor Gilbert, who has just returned from the Holy Land. A special programme of vocal and instrumental music will be rendered. There will be no service in the evening.

CHRISTIAN UNITY HERE.

ALL EVANGELICAL CLERGYMEN JOIN IN GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE.

Brief and Impressive Thoughts Advanced on the Seven Recorded Words of Jesus, Spoken While He Was Being Crucified.

The most solemn day in the Christian year was fittingly kept in remembrance last night by the exhibition of Christian unity which is seen on each Good Friday in Plainfield, the union service of meditation on the words from the cross, in which clergymen of all the evangelical denominations of the city take part and in which all Christian people may come together to worship the Lord who died for them all.

The service was this year held in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and was very largely attended. From the first moment to the last, it was solemn and impressive and helpful. First came a hymn by the choir, "Art Thou Weary?" exquisitely sung, and bringing its message of divine love home to every heart. Prayers by Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, a Scripture lesson by Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich, and a responsive reading conducted by Mr. Rodman, followed, then the great congregation joined in singing the hymn, "Sweet the Moments, Rich in Blessing."

Now began the series of brief addresses on the seven recorded words of Jesus spoken while he was upon the cross. Rev. Cornelius Schenck spoke on the first one—"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." This was probably spoken at the moment when, Jesus having been nailed to the cross, it was lifted up and allowed to drop into the hole prepared for it, the weight of the body then coming all at once upon those pierced hands and feet. It was characteristic of Jesus. It was a prayer, and prayer was our Lord's vital breath. It was a thinking of others rather than that of Himself, and was not that what He had spent His life in doing? It was a free forgiving of His enemies, which has made Him forever the great example of obedience to His own command: "Pray for those which despitefully use you and persecute you."

Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., spoke concerning the second word, "Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be Me in Paradise." Jesus' disciples had apparently given up all hope of his being the Messiah, and had fled. There seems to have been only one man in all the city of Jerusalem, who understood that the cross was to be the step by which he should reach his throne, and that was one of the malefactors who had been crucified with him. To him was given this word of promise, to which we instinctively turn when we wish to be assured that our loved ones who have fallen asleep in Jesus have gone now, at once, to be with him.

Another hymn, "The dying thief rejoiced to see," was sung, then Rev. Erskine M. Rodman came forward to speak on the words, "Behold thy son, behold thy mother." He said that by his words and action, Christ had forever blessed and crucified the Christian home, and by making over his mother to the dearest friend he had on earth, had recognized and set a seal of benediction on Christian friendship. But our homes and our friendships must be such as Christ can approve.

The solemn thought brought up by the words, "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" was dealt with by G. Kennedy Newell. He spoke of the impossibility of our understanding what it meant that the Father should withdraw his presence from the Son, but of the glorious certainty that it has done in order that when we come to the hour of death the presence shall not be withdrawn from us.

"I thirst," were the words assigned to Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D. This was the first word Christ had spoken relating to his physical suffering, which was, of course, intense. Thirst is one of suffering induced by crucifixion. and to this was added the fever of mental and spiritual anguish, so that beneath that tremendous conflict the human naiure of Jesus failed. And all this was for us.

Most impressively the hymn, "I Saw One Hanging on the Tree," came in here, then Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich stirred the saddened congregation with the note of triumph, "It is finished." The words mean more than "It is over," which is all that can be said of most lives. As the spirit cuts loose from the moorings of the body, Jesus' thoughts flash back over His whole life, and He sees His purpose accomplished, that purpose from which He never swerved, even in the dark hour when He was forsaken of the Father. His will and His Father's

TWODARINGBURGLARIES

THE MARAUDERS OPERATED IN SLEEPING APARTMENTS.

In One Instance a Woman was Too Frightened to Make an Outcry Until the Thieves Escaped—Another Not Aroused.

A series of daring burglaries were committed in Fanwood at an early hour this morning that have greatly alarmed residents of that neighborhood. In two cases the marauders were successful and escaped with some valuable booty. Once they were the target for the revolver of an excited resident but they escaped the flying bullets.

Charles Hamilton resides in a house on the road to Fanwood, only a few doors from the station. One of the kitchen windows was left up during the night. At about two o'clock this morning the burglars, their exact number is not known, made their entrance into the house by the window. Mrs. Hamilton was awakened from her slumbers by the sound of someone in the room. She opened her eyes to see by the faint light a man leaning over the bureau. Too frightened to scream, she lay still until the stranger passed out of the room. Then she aroused her husband. He started to investigate and the uninvited guests departed in a hurry.

George Hall lives opposite the Hamilton residence. He was aroused by the noise and shouting, and looked out of the window in time to see three figures slinking away from the house across the street. He fired several shots from his revolver at the fast retreating figures, but as they continued without delay it is likely that none of the shots took effect.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton looked about they found that the burglars had made a rich haul from their house. A valuable gold watch was missing and also nine diamonds, set in rings and pins, valued at $200. The visitors had also helped themselves to a pocket-book containing some small cash and bills.

When Frank West, who lives on North avenue just west of the Fanwood station, rose from his bed this morning, he noticed that his clothes which had been carefully placed on the chair near the bed the night before, were now heaped up on the chair and floor. He examined the contents of his pockets and found that his pocket-book had been emptied of its contents, about $28 in cash, and that his silver watch was also missing. When the family went downstairs they found that one of the windows in the sitting room had been pried open and that it was evident that the visitor or visitors who had helped themselves to West's property, had made their entrance into the house in that way.

No one in the house had been awakened but it was evident that the burglars had visited West's own room. So far nothing but his money and watch has been missed.

WOMEN ADMIRED THE BANK.

Fair Sex Enthusiastic in Praise of the Handsome Furnishings.

The new City National Bank gives promise of being very popular with the women, judging from the large number present yesterday afternoon when it was opened for their especial benefit. In all there was nearly 400 women in attendance at different times and they were just enthusiastic in their praise of the handsome structure and its appointments, and especially was this true of the ladies' reception room, which is a perfect beauty in every detail. They will appreciate very much the efforts of the bank officials in making such excellent provision for them so that they may carry on their banking business with the least possible trouble, in fact it will be a great pleasure to them.

Mr. Fink Finishes His Contract.

The work of macadamizing East Front street from Watchung avenue to Somerset street, was completed today, under the supervision of County Road Inspector Fink. This completes his contract with the city, unless they want more work done. The work has been done in a satisfactory manner. Of course, it is understood that Mr. Fink is working for the county and is subject to the call of the freeholders whenever they want him. However, Mr. Fink says that it does not require his presence to macadamize the streets of Plainfield in the same manner that Front street has been treated. Any one with a fair idea of the work can do it.

Discovered a New Drink.

William Camp, machinist, came to this city to find work. He did not find the work but he discovered that "Jersey lightning" is strong and powerful. One of the police officers found him drunk last evening and locked him up. Sentence was suspended by City Judge DeMeza when Camp was arraigned before him this morning.

VICTIM OF A SCORCHER.

MRS. S. L. SCHOONMAKER SERIOUSLY HURT BY A BICYCLE COLLISION.

William Gale, a Novice, was Riding Fast Without Looking Ahead—Crashed Into Mrs. Schoonmaker—Concussion of Brain.

While enjoying an afternoon spin on her wheel yesterday, Mrs. S. L. Schoonmaker, of 966 Central avenue, was run into by William Gale, of Westfield, and thrown from her wheel with such force as to cause concussion of the brain. The injuries were not fatal, however, and Mrs. Schoonmaker will recover from the effects of her fall in a few days. Meanwhile, the cyclist who delights to scorch along the country roads can take a lesson from the accident.

Mrs. Schoonmaker is an enthusiastic wheelwoman and is often to be seen on the smooth roads of the vicinity on her wheel. Yesterday, she went out in the afternoon with her brother-in-law, Captain J. S. Schoonmaker, of West Eighth street. They rode out to the county rode in the direction of Elizabeth and were returning from Garwood at 3:30 o'clock when Gale came scorching along in the opposite direction. The riders were just on the outskirts of Westfield when they met.

Gale has only had his wheel a week although he has ridden for some time. He was quite fond of moving at a rapid gait and several had remarked on his recklessness while riding his bicycle. Just before he met Mr. and Mrs. Schoonmaker, he passed two wheelwomen from Westfield and they dismounted to allow him to pass as they said that he wobbled so much that they feared a collison.

Gale was approaching at a high rate of speed and, it is said, with his head down. Captain Schoonmaker called to him as he approached and Gale looked up. The next moment he struck Mrs. Schoonmaker's wheel and she was thrown over backwards with great force. She struck on the back of her head and was stunned for the time. She soon regained consciousness, but was unable to use her limbs. The accident occurred in front of the home of Mrs. McDermott and the injured woman was carried in there and Dr. Harrison called.

Dr. Harrison telephoned to Dr. Endicott, of this city, the family physician, and then drove Mrs. Schoonmaker as far as Fanwood where he met Dr. Endicott and she was transferred to the carriage of the latter and taken home.

Her injuries are serious, but not fatal, and she will recover from the effects in a few days. Her husband is a commission merchant in New York.

Gale escaped with a few bruises, but was badly frightened. He is the son of Dr. Gale, of Westfield.

CANDY SOOTHED THEM.

Little Tots Who Strayed Away Were Pacified by Sweets.

Edith Voorhies and Louise Arden, three years old respectively, and residents of Morris avenue, strayed away from their home yesterday afternoon, and were found wandering about Park avenue and Fourth street, by Patrolman McCue. The little tots were so young that they could not talk intelligibly. The officer took them to the lockup where a lively scene followed as both little girls began to cry and nothing would cause them to stop until Roundsmrn Flynn went out and bought some candy. The sweets had a soothing effect and with very little trouble they were taken care of until Mr. Arden called at the lockup and claimed his young runaway. He took charge of both girls and took them home where they were gladly welcomed by their parents who had thought that something awful had happened to their children.

Captured His Man After a Chase

Frank Kergenius, who has been living with a family between Fanwood and Graceland, was arrested by a New York detective Thursday afternoon on the charge a robbing a room-mate in a New York boarding house of $150 in cash. The man was traced to Fanwood and the detective finally located him. Kergenius fled when the detective attempted to arrest him but was finally caught in Brown's barn a mile away and taken to New York.

Expected Events That Did Not Take Place.

Contrary to expectations the new house for the West End Hose company in the borough was not accepted last evening by the council. The resignation of H. B. Lounsbury as councilman was not presented as intended. Regarding the former, it is quite likely that inasmuch as the electrical apparatus has not been placed in the hose house the council do not think that the work should be accepted. The next regular meeting of the council will probably straighten out the matter to the satisfaction of all.

IN GRANT'S MEMORY.

Programme of the Parade as Far as Arranged.

WILL BE AN IMPOSING SPECTACLE.

Over Fifty Thousand Men Will Be In the Procession Which Will Make the Day Memorable In the Annals of the Country.

New York, April 17.—Preparations for the monster Grant day demonstration on sea and land are rapidly crystallizing.

The entries for the land parade are closed, and General Grenville M. Dodge says there are applications for 53,850 men.

The chief interest, so far as the general public is concerned, centers in the two giant parades.

The whole North Atlantic squadron, consisting of 10 battleships and cruisers, under Admiral Bunce; the revenue marine vessels, steamers of the light-house department and a number of foreign warships will participate in the water demonstration, as well as hundreds of merchant ships, yachts and other craft.

It is decided that the warships shall ascend the North river and anchor opposite the Grant monument in the early morning, and while the land parade and the water parade of merchant ships are moving the warships will fire minute guns in the presidential salute of 21 guns each, the warships firing the salutes in turn.

The hoary veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, 10,000 in number, will be spared the fatigue of the six mile jaunt. They will be massed along the Boulevard and West Seventy-second street, where they will review the military parade, falling in after the Fourth division and participating in the rest of the march.

The Land Parade.

The land parade will be lined up about as follows:

First, Grand Marshal General Dodge and staff, followed by the first division, made up of 2,500 soldiers of the United States regular army and 1,500 marines. The second division will be composed of the New York national guard, four brigades, 13,000 strong. The third division will be composed of the Pennsylvania national guard, 4,000; New Jersey national guard, 4,000; Connecticut national guard, 500; Massachusetts national guard, 500; Virginia national guard, 700; Maryland national guard, 900; Rhode Island national guard, 400; Vermont national guard, 500; Ohio national guard, 1,100; District of Columbia national guard, 250; Illinois, Governor Tanner and staff, 250. Captain Zalinski and the uniformed and equipped cadets, 4,000 members, will make up the fourth division, followed by the Grand Army of the Republic of 10,000 veterans under General O. O. Howard. The sixth division will be composed of civic organizations commanded by Colonel C. F. Homer, and will have 10,000 in line.

It is estimated that there will be seats for not less than 400,000 people along the route, aside from windows and roofs, which will be the scene of gathering of hundreds of merry parties.

The parade will pass under a grand triumphal arch at the upper end of the reviewing stand, opposite Claremont place.

The Official Programme.

As far as arranged, the following is the official programme:

The programme of the ceremonies at the monument, which are to be very brief and to conclude half an hour before the arrival of the land and water parades on the scene, will be as follows:

11:30 a. m.—Prayer by Bishop Newman.

Singing by 1,000 voices led by Walter Damrosch.

Oration by General Horace Porter, president of the Grant Memorial association, and gift of the monument to the city.

Speech of acceptance by Mayor Strong for the city of New York.

Benediction by Archbishop M. A. Corrigan.

12:30 p. m.—Luncheon to president and guests.

Strikers Attack Workers.

Lynn, Mass., April 17.—A crowd of 200 strikers and others assembled at the factory of Williams, Clark & Co. about the time the employees were due to go home from work, but the presence of a large squad of police prevented any trouble until the crowd had gone quite a distance from the factory. Then one of the nonunion workmen was set upon by five persons out of the crowd and very roughly handled. His face was cut, and he was otherwise bruised before help reached him, and his assailants were prevented from doing further injury. The police reached the scene quickly, but those who had caused the trouble had disappeared.

Veteran Inventor Dying.

Chicago, April 17.—John Lane, the veteran inventor, is dying of heart failure at his home in this city. Mr. Lane invented the method of plating on iron, or what is known as the "iron center" in metals. He was born in New York state in 1825. His father manufactured the first iron plow made in the United States.

Spring Humors

During the colder season impure humors accumulate in the blood.

The surface of the body being chilled, the pores are closed and clogged, and impurities which might pass off in perspiration are forced back into the blood. Besides this, winter's hearty food, fats and sweets, contribute more impurities.

This briefly explains the existence of Spring Humors—those unsightly eruptions, painful boils, annoying pimples and other affections, which make the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla absolutely necessary at this season.

But with some people, impurities in the blood cause very different symptoms. The kidneys, liver and bowels are overmatched in their efforts to relieve the clogged system. Dizzy headaches, bilious attacks, failure of appetite, coated tongue, lame back, indigestion or that tired feeling are some of the results.

From the same cause may also come scrofula, neuralgia sciatica or rheumatism.

All these troubles and more may properly be called "Spring Humors," and just as there is one cause, a cure is found in just one remedy, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the impure blood.
Hood's Sarsaparilla enriches that which is weak and thin.
Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes that which lacks vitality.
Hood's Sarsaparilla leads in Merit, Sales and Cures.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The best way to secure good roads, according to the opinion of a Plainfield man who knows how to build good roads, is to keep the steam roller at work when the weather will permit. This same man has said that if the steam roller was worked properly a great amount of good work could be accomplished.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guarranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chambelain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

FLOOD SITUATION.

The Water Rising Below Vicksburg and Great Danger Threatened.

Memphis, April 17.—Advices from Natchez and other points below Vicksburg indicate that the supreme test in the flood situation is near. The swift current is rising steadily and beating against the levees with such force as to cause the gravest apprehension at many places.

At Natchez the river is near the top of the levee. All kinds of rumors have been current regarding wholesale loss of life on Davis island, but diligent telegraphic inquiry fails to confirm the story. It is known that three negroes were drowned on the island, but outside of these no loss of life is known to have occurred.

At Vicksburg the river is rising at the rate of four-tenths of a foot daily. The swift volume of water pouring out of the Yazoo into the Mississippi at a point 12 miles north of Vicksburg will continue for several days. The levees between Bedford Store, four miles south of Delta, La., to Duckport, six miles above, are in a precarious condition, and every man and boy available is at work strengthening the embankment. At some points in this stretch of levee the water is washing over, and the greatest alarm is felt.

At Greenville, the backwater from Stops Landing crevasse, which has been rising in the flooded part of the town during the last three days, is stationary. Rosedale, Friars Point, Helena and other places report an encouraging improvement in the situation. The river declined a tenth of a foot at Greenville yesterday, and the fall of two-tenths of a foot reported at Cairo gives hope that the flood will recede in time to make a good crop.

CHINESE SNEAK IN.

How They Manage to Obtain Entrance Into the Country.

Troy, N. Y., April 17.—Officers are closely watching Central Vermont trains for suspicious looking passengers whom closer examination may prove to be Chinamen in the process of smuggling across the border. That their suspicions are well founded is shown by a recent experience of a newspaper reporter who, while on one of the south bound trains, had his attention called to a mysterious looking couple occupying a front seat. The man was large and powerful in appearance, his companion, a woman, much smaller, clad in a dark dress, somewhat lacking in neatness and very heavily veiled, although the car was unpleasantly warm. In response to a question one of the trainmen volunteered the information that this man and woman made the southern trip on that train several times a week, and the queer thing about it was that while the man was frequently noticed on returning trains, he was then without his companion, whose appearance would certainly attract attention. The mystery was fully explained when the two left the train. In going down the steps the woman tripped and almost fell, saving herself only by a quick movement, which disentangled her feet from the unaccustomed hindrance of the heavy skirts and at the same time disclosed to view a typical pair of the shoes affected by Chinamen.

New Gas Company For New York.

Albany, April 17.—Assemblyman Leonard has introduced a bill incorporating the New York Electric Light and Power company, with a capital stock of $500,000. The incorporators named in the bill are Reuben B. Ayers, Thomas Robertson and John B. Hawes of New York city. The company agrees to give the city annually 2 per cent of its gross receipts and is to file a $100,000 bond with the comptroller of the city for the replacing of any disturbance of streets in the laying of conduits or stringing of wires.

Peary to Remain East.

Washington, April 17.—Secretary Long has revoked the orders by which Lieutenant Robert E. Peary, the arctic explorer now on duty at the New York navy yard, was detailed to the Mare island yard, California. Strong pressure was brought to bear by the scientific and geographical societies throughout the country interested in arctic explorations to have the secretary revoke the order. No application for another leave of absence has yet reached the department from the officer.

Hurt While Scorching.

Hudson, N. Y., April 17.—Henry Brandt, while riding a bicycle at Stuyvesant Falls, coasted down hill with his arms folded. He lost control of the wheel and was thrown violently to the ground, striking on his nose and forehead. He was unconscious all night, and the attending physician says he is suffering from concussion of the brain.

Drowned In a Narrow Stream.

Fall River, Mass., April 17.—Robert Goodyear, 50 years old, was accidentally drowned in the Quequechan river. He fell from a boat in which he had crossed the stream, which is hardly 25 feet wide, and went down before help could reach him. The body was recovered half an hour later.

Paris Don't Like Dingley Tariff.

Paris, April 17.—The Dingley tariff bill has aroused considerable antagonism in French mercantile circles, where it is pointed out that the measure may lead to a policy disastrous in its effects upon certain French industries.

Charitable Bequests.

New York, April 17.—By the will of Frances Danzig, widow of Louis Danzig, the Montefiore Home for Chronic Invalids will receive $500, the Hebrew Benevolent and Orphan Asylum society $500 and the Mount Sinai hospital $500.

Good Friday Observed.

Boston, April 17.—Good Friday was observed in the Episcopal and Catholic churches of the city. Business was not generally suspended, though several banks and the stock exchange were closed.

Australians Against Woman's Suffrage.

Adelaide, South Australia, April 17.—The federal convention, by a vote of 23 to 12, has rejected an amendment to allow women to vote for members of the house of representatives.

Weather Forecast.

KILLED THE CASHIER

His Body Found In the Bank at Great Falls, N. H.

THE VAULTS THOROUGHLY RANSACKED

The Victim, Taken Unawares, Was Struck on the Head From Behind and Then Had His Throat Cut.

Somersworth, N. H., April 17.—While resisting the entry of two desperate and determined robbers, and during a heroic but futile struggle to protect $150,000 or more in money and securities which were in the compartments of the open vault of the Great Falls National bank of Somersworth, Cashier Joseph A. Stickney was struck down and brutally murdered near the desk which he had occupied for years. After killing Stickney, the murderers ransacked the vault at will, no one being near to molest them, and fled with all the cash it contained, with the exception of a $5 gold piece. As near as can be estimated without making a systematic examination of the bank's books, about $6,000 was taken, but it is quite possible that the loss will considerably exceed this sum, as no one but the dead cashier knew the exact amount that was in the institution at the time. The robbers, after knocking Stickney down with a black jack, cut his throat. The most remarkable feature of the robbery is the fact that $100,000 in bonds of the United States, which were kept in one of the drawers of the big vault and which the robbers evidently examined hastily, were not taken, neither were any of the negotiable paper and securities of the bank—in fact, nothing is missing except the cash.

No one was aware that there was anything wrong at the bank until nearly 2 o'clock, an hour after the murderous work was done. The perpetrators had ample time to escape, and scores of deputy sheriffs, marshals, police and citizens are scouring this section of the state and the adjoining state of Maine, which from this city is just across Salmon Falls river.

Terrible Excitement Caused.

The bank was besieged by hundreds when the news of the terrible affair became known. Great sympathy is expressed for the family of the murdered man, who, in addition to his position and a director of the Great Falls bank, was city treasurer and was universally esteemed wherever he was known. The tragedy occurred during what is known as the noon hour at the bank—that is, from 12 until 2. It has always been customary for Cashier Stickney and the bank clerk, Mrs. Parker Swazey, to close the bank at 12 o'clock and not reopen again until 2 o'clock. Mrs. Swazey left her desk at noon and went home to dinner. She left the cashier looking over the accounts. He usually remained in the bank until the clerk returned, but it is thought he was preparing to go out today when the robbers entered.

The bank is situated in the center of the business portion of the city, and dozens of people pass by at that time of the day. The building is a two story brick one and stands on the corner of Market and Prospect streets, the rear of the structure abutting the side of a steep hill. The banking rooms are on the second floor of the building on the front side, but the rear of the bank is on a level with the hill, by which there was a second entrance.

It is not known exactly what time the bank was entered, but it was evidently between 1 and 1:15 o'clock, as two men, suspicious looking strangers, were seen going up the hill not very far from the bank at 1:20 o'clock. One of the men carried a bag.

The Murder Discovered.

The first suspicion that the bank had been robbed was at two minutes to 2, when Mr. Frank P. Reed, a local merchant, went up the staircase of the bank building and found that the thick plate glass in the front outside, or hall, door of the bank was completely shattered. He hurried from the building and notified City Marshal Eaton. The latter responded as soon as he was told of Mr. Reed's discovery. Both men, after failing to open the door, broke it in, and then found evidences of a desperate struggle. On the floor in a great pool of blood was the lifeless body of Stickney. His head had been nearly severed from the trunk, the robbers having cut his throat. The head was marked with several deep gashes, made by a heavy blackjack, and the skull was fractured. The body was covered with blood, and the walls and furniture bore additional evidence of the terrible deed. It could be seen at a glance that Stickney had not died without fighting desperately. An alarm was quickly given, and all the officers available were notified, and sheriffs, marshals and the police in Maine, New Hampshire and northern Massachusetts set at work.

Buried From the Church She Built.

Providence, April 17.—The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Gammell, who died in England recently, took place at the Church of the Messiah. The church, which was built by Mrs. Gammell as a memorial to her son, Arthur Gammell, who died many years ago, was crowded. The services were very simple, and were conducted by Rev. C. A. L. Richards, rector of St. John's church, assisted by Rev. J. Leach Porter of Pawtucket. The Episcopal burial service was read by Rev. Mr. Richards and prayer by Rev. Mr. Porter.

State Reservation Bill Signed.

Clayton, N. Y., April 17.—Governor Black today signed the bill appropriating $30,000 for the purchase of lands in the state reservation at the Thousand islands. In 1896 the state legislature passed a bill making a state reservation of the Thousand Islands territory, extending from the foot of Lake Ontario to the state line below the city of Ogdensburg. The property will be in charge of the state commissioners of fisheries, game and forests.

Poisoned by Bad Food.

Lawrence, Mass., April 17.—A peculiar case of poisoning in this city, resulting in the death of Rose and Katie Maguire, two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Maguire, has just been brought to light. The former child died, and her sister passed away shortly after. The attending physician says that death in both instances was caused by eating either poisonous candy or bad fish, both of which the children had partaken of.

POKER.

The energetic Plainfield police raided a poker game in the City Hotel there the other morning. The fellows who were "sitting in" must have been as green at the game as the reporter who wrote the raid up for a Plainfield paper, for they were quoted as talking about such novelties as "four aces" with such piercing volubility as to awaken the policeman on the beat, and that before the betting commenced. The man who holds four aces in a poker game is generally struck dumb, or else held up on suspicion. No wonder the police jumped in when they heard such wonderful bluffing. If the New Brunswick police took to raiding poker games in this town, they would not have much time to devote to their ordinary arduous routine.—New Brunswick Home News.

INSPECTED BRIDGE WORK.

Somerset Freeholders Combine Pleasure and Business on a Trip.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders, accepting the invitation of the Burlington Bridge Company, of New York, went to Asbury Park yesterday and inspected a new bridge which has just been erected by the above-named company. The bridge is 450 feet. From the latter place the Board went to Manasquan to inspect a bridge 1900 feet long. Both of the above are highway bridges and the inspection was made so that the Board would have a better idea of the kind of a bridge to be placed across the Raritan near Two Bridges, which contract will be given out this afternoon. In connection with the trip yesterday the members of the Board were given a banquet at Asbury Park. They entire expenses of the trip was paid by the Burlington Bridge Company, and the members of the Board were very much pleased with the whole affair.

Freeholders Lewis Barkalew and Andrew Lutkins, of the borough, accompanied the Board, and they report having had a very enjoyable time.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a meeting of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein, held April 13th, 1897, the following resolutions of condolence were unanimously adopted on the death of Henry Wedemeyer:

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father in His all-wise providence to remove by death, one of our beloved members, brother and friend, Henry Wedemeyer, one who always took a deeep interest in the welfare and prosperity of our association: one who was always ready with valuable aid, and who did all this most willingly and cheerfully. Therefore we desire here to place on record a full expression of our great loss, and for our lasting regard for him and his memory; and be it.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to his bereaved widow and stricken family the assurance of our warmest regards and tender sympathy in their bereavement, under a blow so sudden, that our faith in the Divine love can say: "Thy will be done."

Resolved, That this preamble and resolutions be placed in full upon the minutes of our association, and that a copy be forwarded to the family and to the city papers for publication.

Mark Schoettlin,
Charles Duvier,
M. Mentrenbach.

Attention to His Duties.

Street Commissioner Gavett has made many friends for himself by his thoughtfulness. This morning, he was out at 4:30 o'clock looking after the interests of residents on North avenue near Park avenue. A catch basin for surface drainage is being placed at the corner of the roadway is torn up, blocking the gutter. The water in the gutter was dammed at that point and it was to see that the cellars in the neighborhood were not flooded by this water that caused Mr. Gavett's early visit.

Whipped Man Arrested.

There was a little fracas on West Front street, last evening, and Patrolman McCarty arrested one of the participants, Barney Tracey. Tracey said that he had been set upon by Werner Pierson and knocked down and beaten. He said that he then rose up and defended himself against the attacks of Pierson. He says he has no idea of the cause of the assault. The police are looking for Pierson. Tracey will come up for trial on Monday.

Vans Stalled in the Road.

Two large furniture vans going from Brooklyn to Bound Brook were mired on the Bound Brook road, a mile beyond Dunellen, Thursday evening. The horses attached were completely exhaused and assistance was sent for to Dunellen. Two teams were sent that night, but failed to draw the heavy vans out of the mud and it was not until yesterday afternoon that they were able to continue their journey.

—The story published in the News last night to the effect that the edifice of Trinity Reformed church would be enlarged before long, conveyed a very wrong impression. BOROUGH BACK TAXES.

benefits in connection with the opening and laying out of Watchung avenue. In relation to the above Mr. Woolston offered a resolution to the effect that benefits just and equitable in proportion to the benefits received be assessed those affected by the opening and laying out of the above avenue, and that in case of excess the same be placed on the borough at large and that it be paid out of the general road tax. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. McLoughlin stated that he questioned the necessity of the Mayor to re appoint the above commissioners, but Corporation Counsel Reed said that it was necessary and Mr. McLoughlin was satisfied.

An ordinance was introduced designating the streets in the borough upon which the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company can erect their poles. The ordinance was adopted on its first and second reading and laid over for one month for the final reading.

The object of the ordinance is to prevent the above company from placing their poles wherever they please. Mr. McLoughlin thought it would be well for the council to order that the wires be placed under ground. Mr. Reed stated that the company was desirous of placing their wires under ground as soon as possible and the matter was left for further consideration.

In accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Carey the dog license fee was placed at $2. Mr. Woolston reported the bids received for furnishing crushed stone to the borough for the balance of the year. A. I. and N. B. Smalley bid 95 cents a ton for all sizes, while J. H. Wilson & Co. bid 90 cents for the same. The bid of the latter was accepted.

Mr. Woolston reported on a storm sewer to carry off the surface water on that portion of Watchug avenue which is intersected by Pearl street, and stated that F. A. Dunham had furnished a plan for the construction of the work. Mr. Woolston also submitted a bid by David Bowden offering to do the work complete for $135. Street Commissioner Conover bid $146 for the same work. The Mayor stated that inasmuch as Mr. Bowden had lost money on the Watchung avenue work he was in favor of giving this work to him. Mr. McLaughlin objected on the grounds that he thought Mr. Conover should be given the preference because Mr. Bowden had through adverse circumstances been unable to pay all of the men who had worked for him on Watchung avenue Mr. Bowden was given the contract and McLoughlin voted no.

The Mayor brought up the question of bad sidewalks in the borough and at the same time he presented a long list of the names of property owners who have such walks in front of their property. In accordance with a suggestion the matter was left in the hands of the counsel, clerk and street commissioner, with the understanding that Mr. Woolston is to look after the work of securing proper walks where the same should be laid.

Mr. Burtis offered a resolution that the Auditing and Finance Committee be authorized to ascertain the amount of delinquent taxes and report at the next meeting. This concluded the business and the meeting adjourned adjourned.

The Rev. W. H. Weaver, pastor of the U. B. Church, Dillsburg, Pa., recognizes the value of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and does not hesitate to tell others about it. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

The sign of the hot cross bun was seen in all the bakeries yesterday.

Miss Carrie Hyle, of Prospect avenue, is entertaining Brooklyn friends.

Little Elsie Peters, daughter of John Peters, is ill at home with the grip.

Raymond Dorcett, of Philadelpia, is visiting at the home of Mrs. L. M. Lane.

Meeker Hetfield has been somewhat under the weather for a day or two past.

Mrs. W. H. Coles is slightly on the mend, her many friends are happy to announce.

Rev. Father Bogard will conduct services in St. John's church, tomorrow morning.

Miss Della Fritts and Miss Mary Snyder went to High Bridge today to remain over Sunday.

Mrs. Abram Bennett is spending a day or two with Mr. and Mrs. John Tingley, of West Dunellen.

Weather permitting, a large delegation of Newark and Jersey City bicyclists are expected here to-morrow.

Rev. Joshua Mead, the new pastor, will conduct services both morning and evening in the M. E. church, to-morrow.

St. John's church choir held another rehearsal of their Easter music last evening and everything worked to perfection.

The flats of Rev. Mr. Todd, on the main street, have been thoroughly overhauled by W. H. Kuhns. They have been newly papered and repainted and are now in excellent shape again.

The front of George Schenck's store was yesterday artistically decorated with an attractive coat of paint, and last night some of his customers took home a portion of the paint on their hands and clothes.

Eugene Runyon, who sustained a serious strain to one of his lower limbs by stepping from the elevator in his store while it was yet in motion, some days ago, is still obliged to navigate with the assistance of a cane.

Some of the recent ordered shades for the windows in the new Council Chamber arrived last evening and put in position. The curtains will serve for at least two purposes, viz: to keep out the sun in the daytime and the observing eye at night.

Arthur Giles and Walter Lewis had a rather exciting experience yesterday afternoon. They were driving between Plainfield and Dunellen when the horse became frightened at the approach of a trolley car and attempted to run away. Both were thrown from the wagon and Mr. Giles, still clinging to the reins, came near being dragged under the car fender. Very fortunately, however, neither of these gentlemen were seriously injured.

Out-of-town people, who have occasion to go to Dunellen at night, should be equipped with a life or accident policy, for you can't tell what minute you'll be cut down by some careless bicycle rider. In the first place there isn't one in twenty of the riders who carry a head light, and a bell seems to be an unknown luxury. Nor is this all, some of the young men riders seem to think that the sidewalks were made for their special benefit, and while the roadbed never was better for bicycling, some of the riders persist in taking to the sidewalk. This, of course, does not occur right in the heart of the town, but it is more particularly noticeable on the walk leading to the Emerydale station.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

W. H. Turton by his thrift and energy, sold $1,000 of his recent stock of imported oranges one day this week.

The Township Committee has caused to have crushed stone spread on the sidewalks on both sides of Bartle avenue.

After an illness covering a period of several days, Thomas Whitenack has returned to his charge in W. H. Turton's store.

Worthy Patriarch W. H. Turton, of Crandall Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, was in Brooklyn yesterday, and officiated at a regular meeting of the order.

Messrs. Kaufman and Eldridge rode up to the Plains Wednesday, and were entertained at a chocolate tea by Mr. and Mrs. Turton. An evening of unalloyed pleasure was spent.

The result of the coroner's inquest at Scotch Plains cannot of course be estimated at this time. It seems to be the general opinion among the towns people, however, that Mr. Cook will be exonerated from all blame.

The Baptist church people do not usually tear up things promiscuously, but their big store and flat building has for several days been in the hands of a force of carpenters, and within a few weeks two beautiful stores will be ready for rental.

The rooms of the Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, that were used for the coroner's inquest at Scotch Plains, Thursday, will have to be paid for doubly. The rooms were at first engaged for Wednesday, but the inquest was not held until the following day.

Thos. Paff is working on two real estate deals right near the centre of town. He hopes to complete all arrangements for the transfer of the properties by today. If the deal is consummated, some new houses will be put up and other improvements made.

LINCOLN.

Arrangements are being mide to celebrate Memorial Day, May 31st, in a pleasant and appropriate manner. While this day is given over to decorating the graves of fallen heroes and dedicating monuments in honor of them, it is appropriate that this town, named after the martyred president, should be dedicated on that day. It is expected that Hon. Robert Lincoln will be present and deliver the oration. Invitations have been sent to President McKinley, ex President Cleveland, Governor Griggs and other prominent men to be present and assist in the exercises.

Yesterday a large gang of Central Railroad men were engaged in putting down a siding 200 feet long for the lumber yard of L. D. Cook & Co., which adjoins the railroad station.

WESTFIELD

TRAMPLED ON BY HOOFS

WOMAN FELL OUT OF A WAGON WITH SERIOUS RESULTS.

Mrs. Florin Mack Suffers a Contusion of the Brain Near Westfield—Flying Homing Pigeons.—Other Westfield News.

An accident on the county road last evening, said to be due to beer and carelessness, was that of Mrs. Florin Mack.

Florin Mack and his wife who dwell on the mountains back of this place were driving up the county road, when Mrs. Mack fell out under the horse's feet. The horse trampled on her face and the wagon run over her body. She sustained a severe concussion of the brain, and face and body badly injured. She was made as comfortable as possible by the roadside until Dr. Fred Kirch arrived. She was then taken home, but did not regain consciousness until 10 o'clock. Her injuries, though serious, are not expected to prove fatal.

Miss Edna Brainard and Miss Hazel Wallace are in Newark today.

Miss Grant, of Plainfield, is again with Miss Millette, the milliner.

There will be communion services in St. Patrick's church at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Westfield Chess Club will play against the Bergen Point Chess Club next Monday evening.

The Methodists will have music especially adopted for Easter services tomorrow forenoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Simons and Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz, of Elizabeth, were in Westfield yesterday. Mr. Simons is manager of the Lyceum theatre of that baliwick.

The special services in St. Paul's P. E. church yesterday afternoon and evening were well attended. Rev. Mr. Seagle of New York preached an eloquent sermon last evening. The music, too, was excellent.

The Advance Club met last evening at the residence of H. A. Lynde, of Broad street. "Oliver Wendell Holmes and works," was the subject for the evening, and C. A. Smith was to have read a paper on the Arbitration Treaty.

Mrs. Ferris, who lives at the corner of Broad and Prospect street is experiencing much difficulty with a gang of boys that persist in running over the lawn. The boys play marbles until they get tired and then roll and romp over the road, doing more or less damage.

The preaching of Holy week services in the Congregational church closed last evening. Rev. Rufus S. Green, D. D., preached an able sermon last evening on the subject: "It is Finnished." He very touchingly pictured the scenes surrounding the crucifixion of Christ and made a beautiful application. Rev. George Frances Green, of Cranford, conducted the devotional excercises. The series of meetings, just closed, have done much to stimulate Christian thought and living. While there is to be no service this evening the congregation are commanded not to forget that on this day our Lord lay in the grave to rise from the dead early Sunday morning.

The fanciers of homing pigeons have begun to train their birds. They are sent out on short distances at first, in preparation for the coming races, the first of which will take place May 8, from Newark, Del., a distance of one hundred miles. Yesterday forenoon, Peck and Wilcox sent a basket of twenty birds to Plainfield and they were liberated by Baggagemaster Garretson, at 8:30. Eight minutes later Quail, a little blue splash hen, was at the loft, but failed to take the traps. Several other birds came in a few moments later, and likewise staid outside, until Don Pedro, an old timer and holder of the five hundred mile record, sailed in and shot through the traps, beating the flock. Everyday that the weather is fit, the birds will be sent out to various points along the road and placed on condition feed. A noticeable thing in reference to the Peck and Wilcox loft, is that the birds fly independently. They are not followers. This will prevent them from being led off by a flock of strange pigeons, when the races come off.

THE LENTEN GIRL.

With downcast eyes and air devout,
She kneels in Lenten pew;
And wrestles with her plans about
Her Easter garments new.

Perchance she figures as a bride,
Beyond these Lenten days;
How sweet to swell with maiden pride,
And feel the envious gaze.

Thus penitential still, she kneels,
And makes a contrite fuss,
While an unlucky sinner feels,
"Good Lord, deliver us."

SEASON'S FRIVOLITIES.

Facts That Will Please Feminine Tastes and Fancies.

The summer girl's petticoats are marvels of fluffiness. Their price ranges from 50 cents to almost as many dollars. The least expensive ones are of daintily colored lawns, such as pink, blue or yellow.

That Easter day is now a time of present-giving is shown by the number of pretty fancy trifles that are to be used to carry Easter greetings, replacing the threadbare cards and little books once called into service to convey the season's sentiment from friend to friend.

Big plaids in the most vivid hues are to be the vogue for underskirts, and these, when worn with the severely plain tailor gown, give just the needed touch of color and brightness.

Last Easter the photograph frame in all its variations of embroidery, painting, silk, leather, and jewels, held the face of the Madonna, the Saviour or a saint. This season finds the sofa pillow the popular messenger. One sofa pillow is made of dull green upholstery satin, on which is embroidered a bunch of Easter lilies held with a bowknot of Japanese gold. The under side has "Easter Greetings" solidly embroidered in white outlined in gold. Around the edge of the pillow is a heavy cord of green silk and gold.

For outside wear there are many pretty jackets—short ones—in covert cloth, or in blue, sage, green or red, made with small sleeves and no flare at the back of the coat.

Large waists are said to be coming in fashion again, but curiously enough it seems to be the aim of fall dressmakers and tailors to give the long, slender lines and as small a waist as it is possible with any breathing power, and the lines of braid on some of the new jackets are most cleverly arranged to taper in at the waist and broaden out over the shoulders. To be tightly screwed up into a waist a jacket does not make the figure any smaller, a fact it would be well for all women to know, and a good fit, which makes one look smart, always gives plenty of room above the bust and is only tight at and below the true waist line.

The summer hats are flower gardens, with stiff velvet ribbon bows, and in every conceivable style of the so-called picturesque shapes. One can go into any sort of a crazy combination and not go amiss.

Sleeves are the all-absorbing topic.

The revival of the flounce is no longer in doubt.

Handkerchiefs have borders to match one's gown.

Narrow velvet ribbon strings are worn with the newest bonnets.

Be of Some Account.

Have a mission in life. Be of some account. Do not court responsibility, neither shirk it when it is laid upon you. See God's hand in every movement, and note its bearing upon you personally. He has use for you somewhere, and often where you least expect. Fall in line with His will from time to time. He may not have a conspicuous place for you to labor, but He will bring out, if you follow His guidance and are faithful, your talents in the sphere where you can do the best for Him and for others.—Presbyterian.

CHRIST IS RISEN.

Christ the Lord is risen to-day,
Sons of men and angels say;
Raise your joys and triumphs high,
Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply.

Love's redeeming work is done,
Fought the fight, the victory won:
Jesus' agony is o'er,
Darkness veils the earth no more.

Vain the stone, the watch, the seal,
Christ hath burst the gates of hell;
Death in vain forbids Him rise.
Christ hath opened Paradise.

Soar we now where Christ hath led,
Following our exalted head:
Made like Him, like Him we rise;
Ours the cross, the grave, the skies.

RESURRECTION.

If where the bramble grew, the roses bloom—
If streams break out amid the unfruitful sand—
If the all-healing sun burst the imprisoning gloom,
And fields of wheat white unto harvest stand
Where once the unkindly soil chilled the implanted seed,
May not our hearts proclaim "The Lord is risen indeed?"
—T. Fardon.

ON THE AVENUE.

Then, one by one, like roses, they
Bloom on the paven highway,
Until it looks as bright and gay
As any garden byway;
New gowns of every shade and hue,
And hats of every feather,
Like birds, along the avenue,
Come flocking out together.

They come by pairs, they come by swarms—
What charm the day possesses!
Some have their beaux upon their arms,
Some have them on their dresses;
And such a gladness lights each face
One cannot quite discover
If it be caused by inner grace,
Or outer grace of lover.
—F. D. Sherman.

WHEN EASTER COMES.

"Thirty days hath September,"
Every person can remember;
But to know when Easters come,
Puzzles even scholars, some.

When March the twenty-first is past,
Just watch the silvery moon,
And when you see it full and round,
Know Easter'll be here soon.

After the moon has reached its full,
Then Easter will be here,
The very Sunday after,
In each and every year.

And if it hap on Sunday
The moon should reach its height,
The Sunday following this event
Will be the Easter bright.
—Boston Transcript.

BABY'S LOGIC.

She was ironing her dolly's new gown,
Maid Marion, four years old,
With her brows puckered down
In a painstaking frown
Under her tresses of gold.

'Twas Sunday, and the nurse coming in Exclaimed in a tone of surprise:
"Don't you know it's a sin
Any work to begin
On the day that the Lord sanctifies?"

Then, lifting her face like a rose,
Thus answered this wise little tot:
"Now, don't you suppose
The good Lord knows
This iron ain't hot?"

CHILD AND MOTHER.

O Mother-My-Love, if you'll give me your hand
And go where I ask you to wander,
I will lead you away to a beautiful land—
The dreamland that's waiting out yonder.
We'll walk in the sweet posie garden out there,
Where moonlight and starlight are streaming.
And the flowers and the birds are filling the air
With the fragrance and music of dreaming.

There'll be no little, tired out girl to undress,
No questions or cares to perplex you;
There'll be no little bruises or bumps to caress,
Nor patching of stockings to vex you.
For I'll rock you away on the silver-dew stream
And sing you to sleep when you're weary,
And no one shall know of our beautiful dream
But you and your own little dearie.

And when I'm tired I'll nestle my head
In the bosom that soothed me so often,
And the wide-awake stars shall sing in my stead
A song which my dreaming shall soften,
So, Mother-My-Love, let me take your hand
And away through the starlight we'll wander—
Away through the mist to the beautiful land—
The dreamland that's waiting out yonder.
—Eugene Field.

FAITH.

I cannot tell how the lilies
From their beds creep up so far:
I can only pluck them gently
And think how fair they are.
I do not know how the plants
Swing out into space so free,
But I know that One controls them,
And that is enough for me.

I know not whence comes music
From the song-bird's swelling throat,
But I feel the heavenly sweetness
That dwells in every note.
I cannot read His purpose,
Nor solve each mystery:
But all that He sends is righteous,
And that is solace to me.

I know that the flowers must wither
And the stars be dimmed some day:
The song will sink into silence
And all things pass away;
But I also know of a Saviour,
Whose face I shall sometime see.
He rules with a love eternal,
And that is enough for me.
—Arthur Lewis Tubbs.

Joy is like restless day; but peace divine like quiet night;
Lead me, O Lord, till perfect day shall shine
Through Peace to Light.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. THERE is no getting away from the fact that Pure White Lead (see list of brands which are genuine) and Pure Linseed Oil make the best paint.

Properly applied, it will not chip, chalk or scale off, but will outwear any of the mixtures offered as substitutes. It is, therefore, by far the most economical.

THE SUNDAY LESSON

INTERNATIONAL SERIES, WITH COMMENTARY BY DR. STEARNS.

Golden Text: "Then Hath God also to the Gentiles Granted Repentance Unto Life." Acts xi, 18. April 18, 1897.

While for this week we turn from the regular lesson in the Acts to a special resurrection lesson, the connection of thought is not broken, for in the next lesson in order (Acts xi, 19-26) the great number of believers in Antioch and elsewhere were won through the preaching of Jesus and the resurrection that led them to send relief, every man according to his ability, to the brethren in Judea by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

12, 13. "If there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen." The Sadducees taught that there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit (Acts xxii, 8), and everywhere the apostles seemed to find those who hated the doctrine of the resurrection (Acts iv, 2; xxvi, 8; xvii, 32). But it is the great fact which crowns all in the work of Christ. By it He was with power declared to be the Son of God (Rom. i, 4), and we must believe in our hearts that God raised Him from the dead (Rom. x, 9; I Thess. iv, 14).

14, 15. "If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain." And all the apostles would be scored as false witnesses for preaching what was not true. The resurrection of Christ from the dead is the assurance to all men that He is indeed the Son of David, the Messiah of Israel and the Judge of all men (Acts ii, 29-31; xvii, 31). As surety for us He was delivered for our offenses, but if He is not raised from the dead there is no justification for the sinner, for the surety remains in prison (Rom. iv, 25). Unless Christ is alive from the dead there is no gospel to preach, no glad tidings for sinners, and all preachers are fools and liars.

16, 17. "If Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins." A dead Christ has no power to save or to forgive sins, and I think that is the force of the question in verse 29. Why baptize any one in the name of a dead Christ? Israel was baptized unto Moses as a living leader in the cloud and in the sea (Cor. x, 1, 2). Our Christ is alive from the dead, an immortal man, the God man, having all power in heaven and on earth. At God's hand He is the assurance to every believer of the forgiveness of sins, for there could not be at God's right hand one on whom any sin was resting.

18. "Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished." If Christ is not at God's right hand, alive forevermore, then Stephen was deceived and died when he said, "I see the Son of Man standing on the right hand of God" (Acts vii, 56). Ananias lied when he said to Saul, "The Lord Jesus appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest" (Acts ix, 17), and all Paul's testimony as to the dead being absent from the body and present with the Lord (II Cor. v, 8; Phil. i, 21, 23) is simply without foundation.

19. "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable." The present life of the believer is set forth by the Holy Spirit both in the gospels and the epistles as a life of tribulation and affliction and suffering (John xvi, 33; Col. i, 24; I Pet. ii, 20, 21; iv, 12, 13), a life of such treatment from the world as Christ Himself received (John xv, 19-21), but the sufferings are not worthy to be compared with the glory to be revealed, and we are ever to consider Christ and His sufferings lest we grow weary and faint (Rom. viii, 18; Heb. xii, 3; John xiv, 1).

20. "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept." In verses 5 and 8 Paul mentions six different appearances of Christ after His resurrection, and there are at least five others recorded. Thus He showed Himself alive after His passion by many infallible proofs (Acts i, 3), speaking much of the kingdom during those 40 days between His resurrection and visible ascension, the kingdom which is associated with the resurrection of the saints at the second coming of Christ (verses 50-54; Isa. xxv, 8, 9; Dan. xii, 1, 2; Acts iii, 20, 21; Mark xxv, 31, 32).

21, 22. "For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead, for as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." In verse 45 Adam and Christ are spoken of as the first Adam and the last Adam. The first brought sin and death upon the race, but the last brought life and resurrection for all who will accept Him. All are of necessity in Adam, the one man by whom sin entered the world (Rom. v, 12, 18, 19), all who accept Christ are in Christ and enjoy the benefits of His righteousness, which are sufficient for all who will accept Him, and whosoever will may (Rev. xxii, 17).

23. "But every man in his own order, Christ the first fruits, afterward they that are Christ's at His coming." In Col. i, 18, and Rev. i, 5, Christ is called the firstborn or first begotten from the dead, for by virtue of His resurrection all resurrections have taken place or will take place. Both just and unjust shall rise from their graves (Acts xxiv, 15), but there shall be an interval of 1,000 years between them. Rev. xx, 5, 6, is very plain upon this.

24. "Then cometh the end, when He shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father." The "afterward" of the previous verse has already covered over 1,800 years since Christ rose from the dead. The "then" of this verse will cover the thousand years of the millennium, after which will come the new heavens and earth wherein dwelleth righteousness, when God shall be all in all (verses 28, 29; II Pet. iii, 13). Inasmuch as "He is able to subdue all things unto Himself" (Phil. iii, 21) and will eventually, why not trust Him even now to subdue us fully unto Himself and make us wholly new creatures to His glory? (Rev. xxi, 5).

25, 26. "For He must reign till He hath put all enemies under His feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." When He thus reigns and subdues, we are to reign with Him (Rev. v, 10; xx, 4, 6). See also Ps. cxlix. He is now at the Father's right hand on the Father's throne.

FRENCH CABLE ROW.

Objections to Its Being Landed In This Country.

FRANCE WILL SURELY RETALIATE.

Say That If It Is Not Allowed to Be Laid It Will Destroy the Good Feeling Between the Countries.

Washington, April 17.—The French embassy here is actively assisting the French Telegraphic Cable company in efforts it is making to lay a new cable from Brest, France, to Cape Cod, Mass., which shall take the place of the old cable laid 18 years ago. For this purpose the attention of senators has been called to the restrictions which a pending senate bill will places upon the French company. This bill prohibits the landing of new cables without the previous consent of congress, and it is claimed to be directed mainly against the French company. The cable has been partly laid, and it is said that the care requisite in laying a cable makes it necessary to take advantage of the coming summer in order to make the landing at Cape Cod.

The French company has submitted a protest to the senate committee on commerce, and a strong intimation has been made to senators from official French sources that if the French company is denied entrance to this country, then there will be strong probability of retaliation by the French government against the four American cable companies entering France. The point is urged also that the cable line to France would be of important military and strategic importance to this country in the event of trouble between the United States and Great Britain, as all other transatlantic cable lines pass over British territory.

France Protests Against Discrimination.

The statement presented to the senate commerce committee points out that the French government is a friendly republic; that 4,000 American pupils are receiving their education free at the government schools in France; that as France has never discriminated against American companies, congress should guard against legislation "which may be considered by the French republic as injurious to the interests of its people."

Mr. Blaine, when secretary of state, took decided grounds against allowing foreign cable companies to land their cables in this country without permission. It is said that in the course of the present controversy it has been stated that if the French company attempted to land its cable at Cape Cod the state department would interpose force if need be to prevent the landing.

Another international phase of the subject is in connection with a proposed new German cable company. It is stated that the senate bill is aimed at the German rather than the French company, and is in some measure designated as retaliation for the restrictions against American life insurance companies doing business in Germany.

Incendiaries Caught at Work.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 17.—For some time fires have been frequent in Lisle, this county, and among the places destroyed were a planing mill, a machine shop and a barn. Efforts were made to burn a river bridge and also to fire one of the principal business blocks. Officer Henry Glover heard Joseph Winnie and George Smith planning to set fire to a barn, and during the excitement rob the money drawer of a hotel. Glover secured the assistance of Detective Black of this city, and they concealed themselves in the barn. Shortly after Winnie entered the barn and lighted a match, and the officers declare he touched it to the hay. Glover seized Winnie while Black subdued the flames. The prisoner was brought to the Broome county jail.

Failed to Flag the Train.

Winsted, Conn., April 17.—A rear end collision, the second in two days, occurred on the Philadelphia, Reading and New England railroad near Pine Meadow between passenger train No. 1, Frank Smith of Hartford, conductor, and freight No. 23, in charge of Samuel Fresher of Hartford. The caboose and two freight cars were wrecked and the passenger engine damaged. Engineer John Savage of the passenger train jumped just before the collision and escaped with a sprained ankle. The passengers escaped with a severe shaking up. The accident was due to failure to flag the freight train.

This Chinaman Had Leprosy.

New York, April 17.—Health Officer Leal of Paterson, N. J., is satisfied that Sam Wing, the Chinaman who died on Wednesday, had leprosy. This fact, he claims, was established by the autopsy and the microscopical examination. Wing died in the Isolation hospital. Dr. Leal believes that he was one of the leprous Chinamen who escaped from North Brothers island six months ago, he having arrived in Paterson at about that time.

Czar Performs an Act of Mercy.

London, April 17.—The Berlin correspondent of The Times says that the Russian minister of war publishes in The Russkij Invalid an order of the czar providing that hereafter all criminals condemned to imprisonment in Siberia shall be conveyed there by railway instead of being compelled to make the march by way of Tomsk and Irkutsk, which has caused so many deaths and such terrible suffering to thousands.

A Big Fog Horn.

New York, April 17.—The work of placing the new fog horn at the Montauk (L. I.) lighthouse will be finished by May 1. The fog horn plant will have a pressure of 85 pounds and will be run by two engines. At the northeast corner of the light tower, in a small building, a large siren will be located, which will be heard many miles at sea.

Silk Work Strikers Still Out.

Paterson, N. J., April 17.—The 500 employees of the Kearney & Foote silk works who struck for an increase of 10 per cent are still out and are preparing for a long strike if necessary. They held a shop meeting and discussed the advisability of starting a relief fund. Nothing definite was decided upon, however.

CHRISTIAN UNITY HERE.

were one, and now He has finished the work which the Father gave Him to do; the strife is over, and the victory safely won.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell spoke briefly of the last, tender, trustful word from the cross, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit." Like the first word, the last one is a prayer. The presence of God is no longer withdrawn; the Lord says "Father," now. His enemies have done their worst to the body, but the spirit they cannot touch. What better experience can we have than to live, as Christ lived, a life of obedience to God's will, and to die as Christ died, in the knowledge that our spirits are going to be at home with the Father forever?

"Just as I am, without one plea," sang the congregation reverently, then bowed a few moments in silent prayer, then in upon the silence came the voice of Rev. Cornelius Schenck, raised in earnest petition, closing with the words of benediction. Then, as the soft, slow organ tones stole through the church, the congregation went quietly homeward through the moonlight of the still Good Friday night.

SCOTCH PLAINS ALL SOULS CHURCH.

The order of services Easter Sunday, is as follows:—viz: at 8½ a. m. there will be an early celebration of the Holy Communion. At 11 o'clock there will be new seqular morning prayer and sermon by the Rector, followed by a second celebration of the Communion. At 3 p. m. the Easter festival of the Sunday school occurs, when the children will sing carols, present their Lenten offering for missions and erect an Easter cross of flowers; receiving from the Superintendent, Mr. Harry Robinson, their Easter cards for attendance and good conduct. At 7½ p. m. the evening prayer will be said and an address delivered by the Rector. The offertory during the day will be for the current rules of the Parish. At the service this afternoon, (Saturday) it is expected that nine children will be christened. The Lent services this year have been more largely attended than usual, the Rector having held several such services in different parts of the Parish: the Willow Grove chapel, the Jackson School House, and several private houses. The young poople are practicing Easter music; and it is hoped the beautiful church will be finely decorated with flowers and be fully attended by all the parishioners at each service of the joyous Easter day.

THE WATCH A COMPASS.

Way to Ascertain the Points of a Compass From a Timepiece.

Few of the many persons who carry watches are aware of the fact that they are always provided with a compass with which, when the sun is shining, they can determine a north and south line. All one has to do is to point the hour hand to the sun, and the south is exactly half way between the hour and the figure "12" on the watch. For example, suppose it is 9 o'clock in the morning. Follow the rule given above, and we find the south as is indicated below. Prolong this line along the face of the watch and you have a north and south line, and from this any point on the compass may be determined. This may seem strange, but the reason is plain. While the sun is passing over 180 degrees (from east to west) the hour hand of the watch passes over 360 degrees (from 6 o'clock to 6 o'clock). Consequently the angular movement of the sun in one hour corresponds to the angular movement of the hour hand in half an hour hence, if holding the watch horizontal we point the hour hand toward the sun, the line from the pivot of the hands to the point midway between the hour hand and 12 o'clock will point to the south.—Baltimore American.

New Use For Hemlock.

Last fall the Nekoosa Pulp & Paper Co. of Nekoosa, Wis., began experiments to test the value of hemlock timber for the manufacture of pulp, in contemplation of establishing a plant for the production of sulphite fibet wooden ware. The experiments proved satisfactory and the company began purchasing vast quantities of hemlock logs, paying as low as $2.10 per 1,000 feet. As a thousand feet weighs about six tons, the material is very cheap. Fully one-half of the hemlock in the northwestern states has been hitherto worthless, but now an immense market is open for it. The factory is now making good print paper from shaky hemlock logs, which means cheaper paper, cheaper books, cheaper education, cheaper wooden ware, more employment for labor, more freight for railways and an increase of many millions of dollars in the value of timber in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.—American Agriculturist.

In Doubt.

A certain minister who is not always so careful as he ought to be in making his teaching and his practice correspond was lately telling some friends a story of adventure. It was a pretty "tall" story, and the minister's ten-year-old little girl was observed to be listening to it very intently. When he finished she fastened her wide-open eyes upon her father's face, and said very gravely: "Is that true, or are you preaching now, papa?"—London Household Words.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one-third of all the patents issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and spffering. J. W. Vaugn, of Oakton, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholero and Diarroea Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomah and bowels. MAYOR MADE AN ARREST

COL. WILSOL ENFORCES LAW AND ORDER BY PERSONAL ACTION.

Arrested John Barry for Fast Driving—Barry Protested But His Honor Was Adurate—Barry Did Not Keep His Promise

Mayor Wilson, of the borough, appeared in a new role, yesterday afternoon, but it was all in the cause of law and order. He arrested his first prisoner, and when the prisoner suggested that he, the Mayor, did not have the authority to do so, Mayor Wilson soon convinced him to the contrary.

The Sunday quiet in the neighborhood of Greenbrook road and "Tunlaw," the residence of the Mayor, was disturbed yesterday afternoon by John Barry, who was lashing his horse at a furious rate as he ran along that thoroughfare. The Mayor saw Barry dashing down the street and ordered him to stop. After a time, Barry regained control of his horse and brought him to a standstill to see what the Mayor wanted. Mayor Wilson promptly placed the man under arrest for disturbing the peace. Barry did not see how the Mayor could arrest him and then, he explained, the horse had been running away, and he could not help himself.

Mayor Wilson did not agree with him in either particular and impressed it on Barry's mind that he had a perfect right to arrest any offender in the borough. He also blamed Barry for whipping his horse and said that it was the too frequent use of the whip that had caused the horse to run.

Mayor Wilson marched his prisoner up to his home and was preparing to have him locked up, when the latter pleaded to be allowed to go and promised to appear this morning for trial. This morning came but no Barry, and the Mayor was very much wrought up over the fact that his prisoner had broken his parole. The borough marshals are now looking for Barry and he may find that he did more than he bargained for when he defied the the Mayor.

DIDNOTREALIZE DANGER

ROBERT PELTZ UNABLE TO TELL WHY THE EXPLOSION OCCURRED.

Testified Before the Coroner's Jury at the Hospital This Morning—He Says That He Struck the Fatal Blow.

Norman C. Dunn, G. L. McDonald, Edward Hand, Frank Allen, Benjamin G. Elliott, S. M. Parse, composing the coroner's jury which is investigating the recent explosion at Scotch Plains, met at the hospital this morning to interview Robert Peltz, the survivor of the accident. Assisting Prosecutor Dunn, of Elizabeth, conducted the inquest and Craig A. Marsh appeared on behalf of Mr. Cook. Owing to the fact that Peltz is so hard of hearing and unable to talk good English, Rev. George Hauser was present and acted as interpreter.

The investigation brought out the fact that Peltz does not know what caused the explosion. He told the jury the circumstances of how he was working with his companion, Conrad Barnstetter, in erecting posts. They were very close together at the time and Peltz was nailing a board to the post. The nail did not enter the wood very easy and Peltz gave it a hard blow. In an instant the explosion occurred and both men were thrown down. Peltz says that he was conscious and that he did not suffer much pain.

Mr. Marsh questioned Peltz closely and he learned that the injured man had been told that the wood he was using had been purchased by Mr. Cook. It was formerly used in the construction of a factory. He also said that he saw a half box dynimite in a building on Mr. Cook's place last September or October. He had nothing to do with it for he said that he was afraid that it might go off. He stated that he saw a quantity of fuse upon which were caps. These were hanging in the wall of the building adjoining the place where the explosion occurred.

The inquest lasted about two hours and an adjournment was made to next Wednesday when the jury will meet at Scotch Plains. Dr. Sinclair the coroner and Dr. Westcott, the county physician, were present at the inquest and assisted.

In Favor of Meserole.

In the landlord and tenant case of of Reiss against Meserole which was tried at New Brunswick recently, the counsel for Reiss has served notice that he will ask the court tomorrow to vacate the judgement previously recovered. This would seem to indicate that Meserole has won his case. As soon as the order is secured from the court new proceedings will be instituted. Lawyer Irving L. Brady, of this city represents Meserole.

DOWN A FLIGHT OF STEPS.

ALBERT MALM SERIOUSLY INJURED BY A FALL SATURDAY NIGHT.

It Is Said That He Was Somewhat Intoxicated and Lost His Balance—In a Critical Condition at the Hospital.

Albert Malm, a Swede, aged 35 years, met with a serious accident at the North Avenue station last Saturday night. He was waiting for a train to take him to his home at Bound Brook where he is employed as a machinist. Those who saw him say that he was slightly under the influence of liquor. While attempting to reach the toilet rooms, which are located in the basement beneath the smoking room, he stumbled and fell the entire distance to the room below. He fell head first, and when he reached the bottom his head struck the stone floor with sufficient force to inflict a deep scalp wound from which the blood flowed profusely. The man also lost a great quantity of blood from both ears, and it was first thought that he would die before he could be helped.

As soon as possible assistance was secured and Malm was picked up in in an unconscious condition and taken to the hospital where he was treated by Dr. Probasco. An examination developed no broken bones, and the only injury discovered was the scalp wound. While the man is in a critical condition it is thought that he will recover.

Malm is unmarried and at one time was employed at the Pond Tool Works.

He was taken to the hospital in the ambulance in charge of Sergeant Kiely and Roundsman Frederickson.

DEATH OF MRS. STANBERY

PASSING AWAY OF A WOMAN WELL-KNOWN IN THIS SECTION.

The Wife of William C. Stanbery and a Sister of the Late Theodore Runyon —Funeral to be Held Wednesday.

At her home in Scotch Plains at 7:10 o'clock, yesterday morning, there passed away Mrs. Eliza Ann Stanbery, the wife of William C. Stanbery. Her illness was of long duration, and the direct cause of death assigned was pneumonia. Besides the husband, one son, William R. Stanbery, survives her. Mrs. Stanbery had been ailing more or less for the past four or five years, but it was not until about three weeks ago that she was taken to her bed, and since last Wednesday she lingered along in a semi-conscious state. The end was peaceful.

Mrs Stanbery was a daughter of the late Abram Runyon and the only sister of the late Theodore Runyon, embassador from the United States to Berlin. She was born in New York in 1824, and had she lived until the 10th of the coming July would have been seventy-three years old. In early life she attended Mme. Phelp's boarding school for young ladies near Baltimore and later she attended a young ladies' seminary in Rahway. At the age of twenty years she completed her education at Mrs. Spalding's private school in Elizabeth. She was a thoroughly educated woman and was high up in the German language.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanbery were married in a house opposite the First Baptist church, in Plainfield, in 1864, by Rev. William Whittaker, and they have since resided in their comfortable home at the Plains. She was fond of society in early life and was perhaps the best posted woman in New Jersey on the Royal Family of England.

The last sad funeral rites will be enacted at the house of the decedent, as it was one of her last requests, on Wednesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. Rev. Dr. True, of the Episcopal church, of which she was a faithful and consistent member, will officiate, and interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Plainfield.

EASTER ANTHEMS AND SERMONS IN CHURCHES.

SPECIAL AND ATTRACTIVE PROGRAMMES ARRANGED FOR CHURCHGOERS IN PLAINFIELD.

Christian Edifices Decorated With a Profusion of Beautiful and Fragrant Flowers, Charming Musical Features and Good Words of Gospel Therein, Commemorated the Day That Marked the Rising of the Supreme One From His Grave That He Might Be the Means of Saving All Mankind.

Probably never before in the history of Plainfield has there been more elaborate arrangements for the celebration of Easter than was the case in the local churches this year. The day itself, in a weather way, was a model one. The reports of the church services follow:

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH.

Easter was remembered in all its glory at the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday, with two grand services. As usual with the services in that church, the fine music was an attractive feature. The floral decorations were equal to any. A bed of white Easter lilies reared their heads in front of the pulpit while on either side were palms and azalias with a bunch of orchids to the right of the desk. The orchids and many of the potted plants came from the greenhouses of Councilman S. A. Ginna.

The regular quartette choir was assisted in the morning and evening services by a chorus choir. Mrs. Elizabeth Hamlin Fassett, the regular soprano, was absent, and her place was filled very acceptably by Mrs. Emily Banta Brooke. The other members of the quartette were Miss Annie P. Hardenbergh, contralto, Elmer E. Runyon, tenor, Charles L. Lewis, basso. Frank J. Smith acted as organist. The chorus choir was composed of Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. F. T. Clawson, Mrs. Otto Arens, and Miss Krymer, sopranos; Miss Holmes and Miss Kline, altos; G. B. Schoonmaker and F. Knight, tenors; F. E. Walz, J. Michado and H. Valentine, basso.

Special Easter services were held by the Sunday school in the afternoon. There ware a number of Easter carols rendered by the school and a short address given by the superintendent, W. D. Murray.

The programmes for the morning and evening services were as follows;

PARK AVENUE BAPTIST.

The beautiful day, beautiful flowers, and beautiful music made yesterday a very enjoyable Easter Day at the Park Avenue Baptist church. Two very interesting and helpful sermons were preached by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Richardson. His morning topic was "Resurrection Light in Dark Places," and his evening subject "Christian's Conquest Over Death."

The regular chorus choir of the church sang two Easter anthems in the morning. They were "Awake Thou That Sleepest," and an "Easter Carol." "Te Deum Landamus" was sung in the evening. There were no special Sunday-school exercises.

Easter lilies, palms, and other potted plants were arranged along the front of the platform in a simple but pretty manner.

WARREN UNION MISSION.

The pulpit in Warren Union Mission chapel perhaps never looked prettier than it did yesterday and the building itself was scarcely large enough to accommodate the vast number of people who sought admission to the place yesterday morning.

Flowers and trailing vines in great profusion had been arranged about the pulpit by a committee consisting of Mrs. McKelvey and Miss Hattie Taynor, and the singing by the regular choir, with piano, organ and cornet accompaniment. Rev. Mrs. McKelvey delivered a very forcible sermon on the "Resurrection." The other services throughout the day were also largely attended,

ST. STEPHENS' CHURCH.

Easter was fittingly celebrated at St. Stephen's church, yesterday. Holy Communion was administered at 7:30 o'clock and at 11 o'clock in the morning. Morning prayer was held at 10:30 o'clock and evening prayer and sermon at 7:45 o'clock. The children's service was held in the afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Never before have the Easter decorations been so handsome. Magnificant lilies of unusual height were arranged about the chancel with roses grouped among them to give sufficient color to the arrangement. The font in the rear of the church was also filled with lilies. The altar was half hidden by the beautiful display of flowers.

The handsome new silver communion service, a gift of the members of the parish, was used for the first time, at the morning service. The regular choir sang several special Easter anthems at the different services.

The children's service was held in the afternoon and it was largely attended. The choir sang well as did the members of the Sunday school Mrs. Buckley presided at the organ. There was a short address by the pastor, Rev. S. P. Simpson, to the children. A handsome banner was presented to the school by Mrs. Dyett. A number of prizes were given out. Stephen Miller, Jack VanDeventer and Jennie Miller were awarded prizes for regular attendance at the Sunday school, not missing a Sunday during the year. For securing the most new scholars, Sadie Finn received first, having brought in six new ones. Prizes were also given to Francis VanDeventer, Edward Clarkson, Louie Peterson, Lucile Simmonds, Clara Wonderlick, Nellie Clarkson, Jennie Squires, Jessie Carman, Lucy Wonderlick, Mary Ericsen, Louis Miller, Francis Hyde, Evan Peterson. Herbert Dobbs was given a handsome book as a prize for attending every Friday service through Lent. He lives a mile away from the church.

The rector, Rev. S. P. Simpson, was presented with a new stole, embroidered by Mrs. William A. Wheeler, which he wore first at this service.

CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER.

The Church of the Redeemer on Grove street was comfortably filled with parishioners and others yesterday morning at the regular Easter service. Mrs. Frank Brown had most beautifully adorned the pulpit and speaker's desk with callas, daisies and ferns. Rev. Jocelyn Johnstone, the rector, took for his text the two words, "The Resurrection," and the regular church choir rendered the following musical programme:

Anthem—"Christ our Passover".....Chapple
TeDeum, E.....Rev. H. H. Woodward
Jubilate, C.....W. C. Williams
Glori Tibi, plain chant.
Offertory, B—"They have taken away my Lord".....J. Stainer
Sanctus.....J. Ousley
"Gloria in Excelsis."

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

The special Easter music at Grace M. E. church attracted a great many people to both the morning and evening services. The decorations were unusually pretty and consisted of lilies and choice roses, which were attractively arranged about the platform and pulpit. The pastor, Rev. H. J. Johnston, preached morning and evening, and his sermons were intensely interesting and appropriate. The musical programme was rendered as published, and was very much enjoyed. The soloists were the Misses Carroll, Charles Hummer and John Steiner.

SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Special Easter services were held in the Seventh Day Baptist church on Saturday morning. Five Easter anthems were sung by the regular chorus choir. A sermon appropriate to the day was preached by the pastor, Rev. A. E. Main, who was assisted in conducting the service by Rev. L. A. Livermore.

The decorations were very handsome. Two immense rubber plants were placed on either corner of the platform and then came palms and daisies, banked along the platform giving an artistic effect. In front of the desk was a bank of roses and right on either side, a large bunch of Easter lilies.

FOLLOWED THE DRINK.

CONSTABLE MARSH'S SCHEME TO IMPRISON A DRUNKEN WOMAN.

Kate Corcoran Refused to Budge 'Till the Officer Borrowed Her Bottle of Whiskey and Then She Went Along.

Kate Corcoran, a Westfield maiden, about fifty years old, started out to celebrate Saturday afternoon and landed in the "parrot cage" till she sobered up. She started on the war path on Lawrence avenue. Now this was a grievous thing for Kate to do, for it is written in the township minutes that thou shalt not celebrate nor go on the warpath too openly, lest the constables get thee and the Squire sendeth thee up for thirty days. But Kate was full of joy and Jersey tanglefoot and remembered not these things. She abused the Theis children and others on Lawrence avenue, until John Marsh was sent for. Kate refused to walk to the cage, and John was about to get a carriage and take her there, when a happy thought struck him. "Have you got any whiskey, Kate? I want a drink." "Sure," she said, and she passed out a pint bottle. John walked toward the lockup and Kate followed him. When searched, another pint of whiskey and $1.21 were found on her person. Mr. Theis refused to make any charges against her. When she had sobered up she was let go, so she could attend Easter services. Kate said she got a man to go into a drugstore and buy the whiskey for her. It is known of a certainty that she tried to get it in the various saloons and failed to do so. Who the man was, or which drugstore Kate refused to disclose. An effort will be made to find the guilty party, and if found will be prosecuted.

MOON'S TERRIFYING CRY!

HIS "HI KI YI" FRIGHTENED LOTS OF WESTFIELD PEOPLE.

To Give More Force to His Words He Added a Few Pistol Shots and There Was a Scampering of Mischievous Boys.

About midnight Friday the residents along Broad street, Westfield, were startled by several pistol shots. They were to frightened to examine into the cause of the disturbance and a few moments later there was a rattle of boxes, a slamming of doors, the clatter of retreating feet and a yell, which sounded like "Hi Ki Yi," and five more shots rang out. Then all was quiet. The brave citizens in the vicinity covered up their heads, stuck their fingers in their ears and lay in fear and trembling until dawn. Then it was discovered that some small bad boys were responsible for the nocturnal disturbance. They had pounced upon a pile of cracker boxes, which had been left in front of Walker's grocery and piled them up up in front of Charlie Moon, the Chinese laundryman's door. Charlie rushed out and shot a revolver to scare the boys away and then retired. Before he had gotten into sweet slumber the boys returned to the attack, hurling boxes against the laundry. Then it was that Charlie Moon, rushed out crying "Hi Ki Yi,' and shot at the boys again. The boys were frightened more at the language than the revolver. The latter was harmless. The language struck terror to their hearts. Charlie could not translate it, but he laughed when told that the boys were frightened at what he said, not at what he did. He said it meant something terrible. "Melike boys make me mad tired," said Charlie, "Me shoot to scare boys: next timen me shoot kill."

A JAPANESE TEA.

One of the Pleasant Events Arranged for This Week.

One of the pleasant events of Easter week will be the "Japanese Tea" to be given on Wednesday next, at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church. The lecture on "By Ways of Japan" has been delivered by Mrs. Dariew before such clubs as the "New Century" of Philadelphia, the "Saturday Morning" of Hartford and many others, with great acceptance. The editor of the "Hartford Currant" says of it: "I do not know when I have enjoyed anything of the kind so much. It was different from the usual run of travel talk, fresh sparkling and entertaining throughout." After the lecture tea will be served to all present by Japanese maidens in full Japanese style, and an opportunity will be afforded to examine the choice water color pictures and hand colored photographs which Mrs. Dariew brings with her to further illustrate Japanese life and customs.

—Tomorrow, Tuesday, April 20th, special lot of 6 hook corsets, waterproof steel protector and 3-side steels, extra long, 49c., at Van Emburgh's.

CUPID'S EASTER EVENT.

MISS ALICIA M'INTYRE MARRIED UNBEKNOWN TO HER FATHER.

Accepted William Chamberlain, of Westfield, For Her Husband—Ceremony Performed by Father Smith in Cranford.

The quiet marriage of Miss Alicia McIntyre, of this city, and William H. Chamberlain, of Westfield, in Cranford, yesterday, came as a complete surprise to the circles in which both of the young couple move. Even the father of the bride did not learn of the nuptial step which his daughter had taken until some time after the ceremony had been performed. The bride is a Catholic and the groom a Protestant.

Miss MacIntyre is the daughter of John F. MacIntyre, of North avenue, the well known real estate owner. She is a beautiful and prepossessing young woman of about twenty years, very popular among her many friends in this city. The groom is a popular young man in Westfield, and holds the important position of superintendent of the Suburban Electric Light Company in Westfield. He is also assistant chief of the fire department of Westfield.

The couple went to Cranford, yesterday afternoon, where the nuptuals were performed by Father Smith of that place. They were accompanied by H. C. Picker, a shoe dealer of Westfield, who acted as one of the witnesses. The bride's mother knew that the ceremony was to take place but Mr. MacIntyre was kept in ignorance of the marriage until after it was performed. He made no objection, however, and bestowed his parental blessing on the young people. From Cranford they went to the home of the groom's mother on Westfield avenue, Westfield, where they are staying at present.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

WILLIAM HUFF DISEMBOWELED IN A RUNAWAY THIS NOON.

Street Commissioner Conover's Team Became Frightenand and Threw Huff Between the Wagon and the Barn.

William Huff, of Somerset street, who is employed by Borough Street Commissioner George Conover, met with what is supposed to be a mortal accident today noon. While driving along Manning avenue with Mr. Conover's team on the way to the stable, the horses became frightened and ran at a break neck speed toward the barn. Walter Conover was on the wagon but was thrown off before the team had gone very far.

Huff managed to stay on the wagon until the barn was reached. Here he was thrown between the building and the wheels of the wagon. Before the team could be stepped Huff was horribly mangled about the face and he was disemboweled frightfully. He was picked up by a workman and Dr. Carman, who happened to be nearby, responded at once and gave valuable assistance. Huff was taken to his home and is now in a very critical condition. Dr. Carman called Dr. Davis in consultation and the two physicians are now endeavoring to bring Huff to consciousness. There are slight hopes of his recovery.

LATER.

Huff died this afternoon at 3:55 from the result of his injuries. He suffered great pain up to the time the end came.

Mrs. Hubbard's Afternoon Tea.

A charming afternoon tea was given by Mrs. William C. Hubbard, yesterday afternoon, at the residence of Charles Potter on West Seventh street, in honor of her friend, Miss Santee, of Smith College. The guests were received by Mrs. Hubbard and Miss Bessie E. Titsworth. Mrs. Henry M. Maxson poured tea and Mrs. D. E. Titsworth the chocolate, which was served to the guests by the Misses Ruth Maxson and Ethel Titsworth.

Bridge Contract Given Out.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders met at Two Bridges on Saturday and gave the contract for the bridge to be erected across the Raritan river to the Berlin Bridge Bridge Company, of New York. The price bid was $4,100. The work will be commenced at once.

Rumored Police Resignment.

It is rumored that Patrolman Post has resigned his position on the police force but The Press is unable to deny or verify the statement as those police officials to whom the resignation is known are out-of-town or unable to be interviewed.

—The annual meeting of the church and congregation of the Congregational church will be held on Wednesday evening in the church parlors. The regular mid-week prayer meeting will not be held this week on account of the other meeting.

THE BANK TRAGEDY.

Efforts Made to Fix the Crime Upon the Suspect Joe Kelley.

TWO CLEWS ARE TO BE FOLLOWED.

The Suspected Party's Movements Have Been Traced, and Several Suspicious Circumstances In His Movements Were Discovered.

Somersworth, N. H., April 19.—The police are still hard at work getting evidence with which they think they can connect Joe Kelley with the murder of Cashier Stickney and the robbery of the Great Falls bank, and they have succeeded in bringing two important clews together in a strong, circumstantial manner to show by whom the crime was committed.

The first was the finding of Kelley's black derby hat, which he was known to have worn and which has a big stain of blood on the crown. This was found in Chamberlain's livery stable at Milton. The second clew is the finding of two halves of the large sheet of wrapping paper, one of which was found in the bank and the other in Kelley's room opposite the bank.

The authorities have traced Kelley's movements and learn that he drove to Milton on the day of the crime and robbery. They found that he had hitched his team just outside the village and called at the house of Farmer Jones, which is located about a quarter of a mile from the village proper. Here he met Miss Jones and asked if her father was around, as he wished to put up his team for a day or two. Miss Jones, who it appears was alone in the house, assured him that they were unable to accommodate him, and after a little further conversation Kelley departed. From there Kelley walked to a clothing store, owned by John Mason, where he purchased a light spring overcoat and a slate colored derby hat.

He then went for his team and drove to Chamberlain's livery stable and asked that the horse be put up for a short time, stating that he was going to Sanbornville, about 10 miles distant, by train to sell some spectacles and that he would return later in the day.

The hostler states that he did not know Kelley, but that Kelley was quite nervous and apparently uncertain as to how long he would remain or when he would be likely to return for his team.

Kelley Was Nervous.

Kelley afterward took the 4:10 p. m. train on the Boston and Maine railroad at Milton station, but did not purchase a ticket for any point on the road. He boarded the train by the rear platform, evidently with the intention of avoiding coming in contact with the conductor. The train reached Union before the latter discovered Kelley, and then he requested his fare. Kelley remarked, "I came aboard the train at Union and wish to get off at Sanbornville," and accordingly paid his fare for that point.

The second clew relates to two portions of yellow wrapping paper. Kelley had called at Tebbetts' clothing store in Somersville and asked Mr. Tebbetts if he could oblige him with a large sheet of wrapping paper. Mr. Tebbetts gave him a double sheet of ordinary manilla wrapping paper about four feet square. On it was pasted a label of a Boston firm.

The broken window in the Great Falls National bank had been covered up with a portion of this paper, but out of it the label of the Boston firm had been cut. Nothing was thought, however, at the time of the paper being placed over the broken window, but when searching Kelley's office opposite the bank the officials found a duplicate of the paper lying on the floor. An investigation brought out the fact that only Mr. Tebbetts handled such a piece of paper, which he identified as that given by him to Kelley on Friday. Mr. Tebbetts also stated that the paper was in one whole sheet.

Known to Be a Gambler.

Lewiston, Me., April 19.—Joseph Kelley, suspected of murdering Cashier Stickney of Somersworth, N. H., is well known to the sporting fraternity here, where he spent a month in 1894 and two months in 1896. About the time of his coming a number of gold brick and swindling games put the police on the alert, and Kelley was closely watched. He was an expert gambler and one day won $500 in Waterville on cards. He dressed well and lived expensively, betting freely on baseball and sports.

Rough Voyage on a Steamer.

Portland, Me., April 19.—The Allan liner Caspian, Captain Pickering, arrived at this port after the most tempestous passage of the year. She left Liverpool March 23, and from that date until her arrival she has scarcely had an hour of good weather. March 26 an immense wave boarded the vessel, smashing the wheelhouse and instantly killing William Johnson, who was at the wheel. Two other seamen were badly hurt. Johnson was buried at sea. The Caspian narrowly escaped destruction on several occasions from icebergs.

A Long Time In Service.

New York, April 19.—Gerhard Gade, United States consul at Christiania, has arrived by the Thingvalla line steamer Norge from Copenhagen. Consul Gade has represented the United States government at Christiania for the past 28 years, being appointed by General Grant during his first term as president. Consul Gade comes next to Horatio Jones Sprague, United States consul at Gibraltar, in length of service. Consul Sprague has been at Gibraltar for over 30 years.

Biliousness

Is caused by torpid liver, which prevents digestion and permits food to ferment and putrify in the stomach. Then follow dizziness, headache, insomina, nervousness, and, if not relieved, bilious fever or blood poisoning. Hood's Pills stimulate the stomach, rouse the liver, cure headache, dizziness, constipation, etc. 25 cents. Sold by all druggists. The only Pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills

Starving children

There are children without food. They cry for it, and are not answered. The pity of it! But often nature cries out in other ways that her children need nourishment. Is your child thin; actually poor in flesh? Does it get no benefit from its food? Then give something which produces flesh and makes rich blood.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites does more than this. It changes the unhealthy action to one of health, thus removing the cause. It acts on the nervous system, which controls all the processes of the body, toning it up into sound and vigorous activity. It is food for growing bone and brain. It makes the thin plump; the pale, ruddy; the weak, strong; it feeds and cures.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

JUST AS GOOD IS NOT SCOTT'S EMULSION.

Where Different Coins Are Made.

It is not generally known that all the minor coins of base metals, such as pennies and nickles, are made at the Philadelphia Mint, and that nearly 100,000,000 pennies are coined there every year. This large number is occasioned by the fact that thousands of pennies are lost annually, and the Government has some difficulty in maintaining a supply. The profit of the Government on their manufacture is large. The blanks for making them are purchased for $1 a thousand from a Cincinnati firm that produces them by contract. Blanks for nickels are obtained in the same way, costing Uncle Sam only a cent and a half apiece. Gold is coined in Philadelphia and San Francisco. Not enough of it comes into the mint at New Orleans to make the coinage of it worth while. Gold pieces are the only coins of the United States which are worth their face value intrinsically. A double eagle contains $20 worth of gold without counting the one-tenth part copper.—Scientific American.

Died Standing.

The incident of Ratisbon—a French officer, though mortally wounded, rides back to Napoleon, reports the capture of the city, and then falls from his saddle, dead—is paralleled by a story of Gettysburg, told by General Doubleday and published in the Chicago Times-Herald:

An officer of the Sixth Wisconsin Regiment walked up to Colonel Dawes, who was in command—Colonel Bragg was in Washington on crutches. The officer was very erect and very pale. Dawes and Doubleday both thought he was coming with a report or to receive orders. But he was not. He had a favor to ask.

"Colonel," he said to Dawes, "will you tell the folks at home I died as a man and a soldier should?" Then he unbuttoned his coat His whole side was shot away. It was his last effort. He died standing.

A Surprised Man.

A man from the country was riding west on a Madison street cable car the other day. Pretty soon the conductor called out, "May," stopped the car, and a lady got off. A moment or two after he called "Ann," stopped the car, and two ladies gathered up their bundles and got off. Another block or two, and he called "Elizabeth," and the same performance was repeated. Then came "Ada," and a woman and child alighted. After a few more blocks he sang out "Paulina," and three ladies left the car.

The stranger looked on open-mouthed, but this was too much for him. Clutching the conductor's coat, he asked:—

"Say, mister, do you know the name of every woman in Chicago and where she wants to get off?"

CONGRESS THIS WEEK

What the Members Will Find to Occupy Their Time.

INDIAN BILL TO BE CONSIDERED.

Senator Davis to Endeavor to Have a Day Fixed For an Arbitration Treaty Vote—The Bankruptcy Bill May Be Heard.

Washington, April 19.—The senate will conclude its consideration of the appropriation bills this week. The Indian bill is expected to pass at an early date, and the sundry civil and agricultural will follow in the order named. There is no expectation that there will be any prolonged debate upon any of the bills. There will be an effort to amend the sundry civil bill by the addition of a provision for the regulation of the forest reservations. This may lead to some discussion, but the friends of the amendment do not anticipate much trouble in having the amendment agreed to.

Senator Davis will make another attempt in executive session to get a day fixed for taking a vote on the arbitration treaty. He has announced his purpose to press the treaty to final action at an early a date as possible. He expects to have little difficulty in securing an agreement for a date, but some of the objecting senators intimate that there still may be opposition. The matter of pairs has been definitely arranged on the basis of two votes for the treaty to one against it. It is not believed that a great deal of time will be given to the treaty during the week whatever the degree of Mr. Davis' success in securing an agreement for a date for a vote.

The bankruptcy bill will continue to hold its place on the calendar as the unfinished business, but it probably will not be seriously pressed. Senator Morgan has announced his intention to insist daily upon the consideration of his Cuban resolution during the morning hour, but he will not block other business with it.

The Senate Committees.

Much of the senate's time will be given to the question of the organization of the senate committees. The Republican senators will caucus on the subject tonight.

If the programme proposed is accepted, both the Republicans and the opposition will proceed to make selections for the committee vacancies, and this work will require very delicate adjustment in order to satisfy conflicting claims. If the plan is not agreed to by the Republicans, the coalition of Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans will on Tuesday move to fill some of the committee vacancies with the view of continuing the process until all are filled. At least, such is the present programme.

The house this week will continue the programme of three day adjournments unless the Indian appropriation bill is returned from the senate when it meets on Wednesday. The complications arising out of the situation in eastern Europe possibly may figure in the proceedings of both houses the latter part of the week.

Valuable Volume For Exporters.

Washington, April 19.—The bureau of the state department has just received from the printer the annual "Review of the World's Commerce," a volume introductory to the commercial relations of the United States with foreign countries. This little volume is full of figures giving in compact form a great deal of information that must be of value to persons interested in the export trade, as it is easy to ascertain from its pages the state of our trade relations with any country in the world. An interesting feature of the publication is an introduction by Frederick Emory, chief of the bureau of statistics of the state department, summarizing certain of the more important sections of the volume.

Mr. Emory says the figures he gives establish the significant fact that the foreign trade of the United States last year showed a steady increase in the export of manufactured goods, the percentage of such exports rising from 24.93 per cent in 1895 to 25.71 last year. Meantime the percentage of agricultural exports declined slightly from 67.58 to 67.38. Mr. Emory finds additional confirmation of the relatively rapid advance of the foreign trade of the United States in some figures presented to the British parliament by the British board of trade, showing that while Great Britain still retains her lead over other countries in exports of manufactures, the United States is advancing at a more rapid pace than the mother country and that that advance was larger in amount and much larger in proportion than the advance made by Germany.

Death of an Accomplished Woman.

Chicago, April 19.—Mrs. Caroline H. Clowry, wife of Colonel Robert C. Clowry, vice president and general superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company, Chicago, died at Lincoln, Neb., of apoplectic paralysis. The funeral will take place from the residence of her mother in Omaha. Mrs. Clowry was the only daughter of the late Hon. Experience Estabrook, who was attorney general of Wisconsin in the early days. Mrs. Clowry was a woman of rare culture and accomplishment. Her musical compositions were numerous, one of her earliest efforts reaching the extraordinary sale of over 1,000,000 copies.

Chancellor Runyon's Sister Dead.

New York, April 19.—Mrs. William C. Stanbery, 72 years of age, died at her home in Scotch Plains, N. J. She was a sister of the late Theodore Runyon, formerly chancellor of New Jersey, and at the time of his death embassador to Germany.

Dissatisfaction Over the Liquor Law.

Middletown, N. Y., April 19.—There is general dissatisfaction among the liquor men here over the new excise law and amendments. Not more than half the dealers will renew their licenses on May 1.

Not as Wealthy as Expected.

Chicago, April 19.—The property of Daniel McDonald, the hermit who died several days ago, has been at last found. It was estimated that it amounted to $70,000, but the total amount was $2,000.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

GREEKS ACCEPT WAR

They Enthusiastically Take Up Turkey's Gage of Battle.

ACTUAL HOSTILITIES NOW BEGUN.

The Greek Assembly Patriotically and Unitedly Supports King George—Hellenes Win Victories In Macedonia. Turks Said to Be on the Run.

Athens, April 19.—A late special sitting of the legislative assembly was held last evening. The public galleries were crowded. Amid intense excitement M. Delyannis, the premier, announced that the Turkish government had notified Greece of the rupture of diplomatic relations on the ground of the aggressive attitude of the Greek government. In a cool but most deliberate speech he reviewed the recent events to show, on the contrary, that Turkey had been the aggressor, that her troops had attacked the Greeks and attempted to occupy neutral positions and that her batteries at Prevesa had sunk the Greek ship Macedonia.

"Turkey," said M. Delyannis, "declares war against us. We accept it." This statement was received with prolonged cheers from the galleries and the floor of the chamber.

The premier then read dispatches reciting the events which had happened on the frontier, and with reference to the reported capture of Menexa he said that the batteries at that important position had been brought into action, but he knew nothing as to its alleged capture. He added that the Turks, after repeated attempts to force a passage at Reveni, which commands the road to Larissa, had been driven back.

The leader of the opposition, amid renewed cheers from all parts of the chamber and from the galleries, eloquently indorsed the patriotic declarations of M. Delyannis.

Assim Bey has handed to M. Skouzes, the Greek minister of foreign affairs, the following note:

"In consequence of the aggressive attitude of Greece, diplomatic relations between the king of the Hellenes and his imperial majesty, the sultan of Turkey, and their respective governments are hereby broken off.

"The Greek minister at Constantinople and the Greek consuls have been ordered to quit Turkish territory. For the same reason the Turkish consuls in Greece have been recalled to Constantinople. Within a fortnight from the date of this announcement all Greek subjects must leave Turkish territory. Ottoman subjects now in Greek territory have been invited to leave it within the same period."

The Bombardment of Prevesa.

Athens, April 19.—The Greek commander at Actium, opposite Prevesa, telegraphs that the Greek steamer Macedonia, which was fired upon yesterday by the Turkish batteries while leaving the gulf of Ambracia, did not sink in deep water, but was able to run ashore near the entrance of the gulf.

It appears that the bombardment of Prevesa only began at 11:30 a. m., whereas the Turkish forts there opened a hot fire upon Actium at 5:30 a. m. Actium was formerly a telegraph station, but the building was converted into a fort and was garrisoned by 500 men. The Turkish fire completely destroyed it, several of the garrison being killed and wounded, although the Turkish aim was often wide.

The Greek commander requested instructions by telegraph, and the minister of war ordered him to bombard Prevesa immediately. At 10 o'clock a. m. the Shafidaki fort fired a few shots on a Greek gunboat, which replied, effectually silencing the Turkish battery. At 11 o'clock the Greeks began to attack the Turkish forts outside the entrance of the gulf, partly to divert the enemy's attention and partly in order to prevent the massacre of the Greeks at Prevesa.

The Greek ironclad Spetzai has arrived to assist in bombarding Prevesa, and the gunboats continue to bombard from inside the gulf.

According to the latest telegram from Actium 2,000 Greeks have crossed the gulf of Arta from Vonitza to Salagora and are now marching on Prevesa. Various reports are current as to the landing of the insurgent bands on the Chalkis peninsula. Bugles are sounding in various quarters of the city, soldiers are hastening to their barracks, and bodies of troops, hurriedly equipped, are being dispatched to the front amid enthusiastic ovations from the crowds that fill the streets.

In the fighting on the frontier the Turks have occupied Anaand Enilouna, but they have not succeeded in taking Kata.

The engagement at Milouna pass was of the fiercest character, and the losses were heavy on both sides. The Turks destroyed two pieces of Greek artillery. The Greeks captured an entire battery from the Turks.

Three Greek officers of high rank were killed. A large body of Greek troops is now marching against Menesse.

A telegram from Trinkhala says that the Greeks brigade defending Revein has advanced into Damazi Plain and occupied Viglia, which commands the plain, after capturing the Turkish battery there.

Turkey's Official Statement.

Constantinople, April 19.—An official communication to the newspapers states that the imperial government has spared no pains to preserve peace, but that Greece, having sent troops to Crete in defiance of the wish of the powers and having begun hostilities on the frontier, has compelled Turkey to defend her integrity and to retaliate by an act of war.

The minister of war was given explicit orders to Edhem Pasha in accordance with an imperial irade approving the decision of the council and adopting the plan of operations formulated by the military commission. The irade throws the entire responsibility for the war upon Greece.

Edhem Pasha is authorized to take immediate action, defensive or offensive, in accordance with this plan and in the exercise of his best judgment.

The porte has handed his passports to Prince Maurocordato, the Greek minister to Turkey, together with a note announcing the breaking off of diplomatic relations between the two governments and the recall of Assim Bey and the Turkish consuls. It invites Prince Maurocordato and all Greek consuls on Turkish territory to quit the confines of the empire, giving the Greek subjects 15 days notice. Prince Maurocordato will leave tomorrow by the Austrian mailboat.

Fighting In Malouna Pass.

Elassona, April 19, Headquarters of the Turkish Army in Macedonia.—The first division of the troops is at Dodmik, the second at Elassona, the fifth at Skompa and the sixth at Karya. The last two are engaged in defensive operations. The Greeks who have invaded the district of Mount Godoman have been repulsed. Battalions from the divisions at Apium and Karahissar are arriving at Ismidt en route for Rodosts and Muratli in order to re-enforce the troops in that district.

Dispatches dated yesterday from the foot of Milouna pass say a fierce battle raged in the pass all night long. The Greeks who entered and descended toward the valley encountered four battalions of Turks, who drove them back and at the point of the bayonet rescued the force garrisoning the Turkish blockhouse, which the Greeks had incircled before entering the pass.

Noshad Pasha, commanding the Fifth division, occupied Mount Parra with a great force, while Hairi Pasha, commanding the Sixth division, prepared to enter the Tchaishan pass, and Haidar Pasha, with the Fourth division, occupied the Milouna pass.

Before dawn Edhem Pasha rode out to direct the disposition of these divisions.

A general engagement ensued. The battle still continues along the entire pass, over 20,000 men being engaged. The combat turns on the possession of the Greek blockhouse, which was most obstinately defended. Several vigorous attacks were made by the Turks without success, but finally, about 9 o'clock, by a magnificent dash, they took the blockhouse at the point of the bayonet.

The Greeks are still defending their positions on the summit of the hill. At the present moment four battalions of Mendukh Pasha's division are advancing to the frontier positions already taken. The Turks are fighting like lions, the Turkish artillery doing splendid execution under the command of Riza Pasha.

It is announced that Hafiz Pasha was killed. The battle is still undecided, but the Turks, without calling up the reserves, have taken almost the whole pass. It is impossible to give details as to the losses.

Greeks Arming at Arta.

Arta, April 19.—The mayor of Arta has distributed rifles to all male inhabitants of the town. The transfer of all public offices and official records from Arta to Konipote is now proceeding. The town is almost deserted.

A band of insurgents have entered Macedonia and are now advancing in the direction of Koniskos.

To Cut the Salonika Railroad Line.

Salonika, April 19.—Greek bands have landed at Elevetheropoli, west of Kavala, and are marching on Goyran, distant about one kilometer from Dedeagatch. Their design is evidently to cut the railway line to Salonika. Turkish troops have been sent in pursuit and there has been fighting, but the result is not yet known here.

Turkish Batteries Destroyed.

Athens, April 19.—Dispatches from Vonitza say that the Greek fleet landed troops to occupy Skafidiki after the warships silenced the Turkish batteries, which were completely destroyed. A portion of the squadron immediately left for Prevesa harbor.

Turks on the Run.

Larissa, Headquarters of the Greek Army In Thessaly, April 19.—The Greeks have captured the Turkish positions from Nezeros to Koutra, and the Turks are in full retreat toward the interior, where their forces are massing.

Paris Temps Calls For Peace.

Paris, April 19.—The Temps calls upon the powers to intervene by force of arms to stop Turkey and Greece from further fighting.

NEW JERSEY'S HEALTH STATISTICS.

According to the twentieth annual report of the State Board of Health, which has lately been submitted to the Governor, New Jersey has a lower death rate than has been recorded during the last eight years. The total number of deaths exceeds that of any previous year, yet the rate of increase of the population has advanced and the death rate diminished. The report shows that 21 per cent of the children within school age are unvaccinated. This should be looked after, as a child should not be allowed to enter school without showing a vaccination certificate. Another point strongly emphasized is is the cremation of garbage as the only sanitary method for its disposal, especially in thickly settled portions of the State. The report is an excellent one, and calls attention to existing wrongs and suggests remedies for most of the cases.—Hackensack Record.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Additional local news on the third page.

—The Cleveland Cyclers will give a dance in Saenger and Turner Hall, Thursday evening, April 29th.

—The flowers used at the First Baptist church yesterday were from the conservatories of C. W. McCutchen and L. W. Serrell.

—A regular meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association, will be held in their rooms on Wednesday. Roll call at 8 p. m. sharp. Officers will be elected.

—The Woman's Home Mission Circle of the First Baptist church will hold their annual meeting next Tuesday at three o'clock in the Sunday School room of the church. Miss Gedalins who is doing a noble work among the Jews in New York city will, in her interesting way, address this meeting.

Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry street, Alton, Ill, suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. THE EARSTER EXERCISES this year than ever before. The decorations were by far the most attractive. Around the pulpit and platform were banked a large number of the choicest lilies, potted plants and roses. Above the organ were similar decorations and all combined to produce a very pretty effect.

The programme as published Saturday was given in its entirety. The large chorus choir was assisted by Miss Harris, Mrs. Edwin T. Douglass, sopranos; Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto; George W. Smith, tenor; William Holmes, baritone; F. Herman, violoncello; Howard C. Case, organist; Mrs. B. T. Barnes, pianist; P. Ludwig Conde, Robert Barnes, violinists.

Every selection was delightfully given and the solo parts were features. At the morning service Rev. Dr. Yerkes, the pastor, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

In the afternoon the service was combined with the anniversary of the Sunday-schools of the First Baptist church, Mt. Olive Baptist church and East Third Street Mission. At this service, as well as at the morning service, there was a very large attendance and all entered heartily into the exercises, a programme of which was also published. A feature of this service was the recitation, "The Message of the Lillies," by Julia Crane, Jessie Clawson, Beulah Rogers, Josephine Serrell, Ethel Van Winkle, Edna Cronce and Beulah Van Winkle. All of the above are little tots and they performed their parts well. Another feature was the singing by by the primary department of a selection entitled "What Do You Think?" In this selection solo parts were taken by Clarence and Helen Smalley, Marguerite Serrell and Ernest Powlison.

Owing to the illness of Chales H Smith, secretary of the main school, he was unable to be present and his report was read by Superintendent R. K. Case. Mr. Case complimented Mr. Smith for his faithful services during the past twenty-four years that he has been secretary.

The report showed the total membership of the school to be 455 with an average attendance of 271. The lowest attendance during the year was 44 on June 14, 1896, and the highest was 354 on December 20, 1896. There had been added 78 scholars and 69 dropped, showing a gain of 9. 23 scholars were promoted from the primary department to the main school. A balance of $109 was reported in the Sunday-school treasury and all bills had been paid to date. Mr. Case urged the hearty co-operation of all in making the school what it should be.

Superintendent M. C. Dobbins presented his report for the Mt. Olive Sunday-school. It showed a membership of 247 scholars on the roll, with an average attendance of 104. During the year 24 had been added to the church. The entire amount of money raised was $1,333.34, and all but $80 of the church debt has been paid.

The report of the East Third Street Mission was submitted by L. W. Randolph. The report stated that there are 140 scholars on the roll with an average attendance of 80. The largest attendance during the year was 175. Mr. Randolph stated that the prospects now looked bright for a new home and he hoped that it would soon be erected to accommodate the increasing demands of the school and mission.

A pleasant part of the service was the address by ex-Mayor Alexander Gilbert. He gave a sketch of his recent trip to the Holy Land and it was intensely interesting to all.

Great credit is due to C. W. McCutchen for his untiring efforts in presenting such excellent music and to the choir and those assisting in its rendition.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

The services in St. Mary's yesterday morning were attended by large congregations, but especially so at the High Mass at 10:30, when it was almost impossible to secure a seat, the impressive ceremonies and the unusually grand musical programme drawing many thither not being members of the church, one-third at least of those present being Protestants.

The main altar, with many lighted candles and adorned with numerous flowers and smilax, presented a beautiful sight. Within the sanctuary were palms and potted plants. Over the high altar were the words: "He is Risen; Alleluia," illuminated by gas jets. On the tabernacle was a crystal cross, illuminated in the same manner. Preceding the High Mass (Rev. P. E. Smyth, the rector, being celebrant,) was the Asperges. The assistant rector, Rev. Francis J. Murphy, delivered an excellent sermon appropriate to the day.

The music consisted of organ and orchestra of ten pieces, Jos. Sattels being the leader of the latter, while Miss St. Leger presided at the organ. The music was far superior to that of last Easter, which is saying a good deal, and reflects credit on all concerned. M. J. Casbin, choirmaster, deserves praise for the fine manner in which the choir rendered their parts. The singing could not have been better. The soloists were Miss May Flanagan, soprano; Miss T. Keely, alto; T. J. Comerford, tenor, and M. J. Cashin bass. There was also a chorus of eighteen voices. Special mention is due Miss Flanagan and Miss Keely for the excellent manner in which they rendered the solos assigned them.

In the evening, at 8 o'clock, at the vespers, special music was also rendered. The service was brought to a close with the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, thus appropriately ending the day that our Saviour rose glorious and triumphant over death.

GRACE P. E. CHURCH.

The most complete and enjoyable Easter service ever held at Grace P. E. church was that of yesterday. The attendance at both the morning and evening services was exeptionally large and it was the universal opinion that the music was the best in the history of the church. The decorations were beautiful and exceeded all previous efforts. They consisted chiefly of lilies and they were arranged in profusion about the chancel and choir loft. There were also a number of potted plants which added to the general beauty.

The music was in charge of Mrs. Freeman, organist, and her efforts brought forth a shower of complimentary remarks from those who were present. At the morning service the soloists were Clarence Cree, of New York, Arthur Freeman, Fred Pope, Kendall Mason and Miss Mary Collier. In the evening the children's service was held and at this time the members of the training class of the choir are allowed to participate in the exercises. They were Willie Lambert, VanWyck Brooks, Alfred Mason and Harris Eagan. The singing by the choir was thoroughly enjoyed. At this service the singing by the primary department was a feature and by request it was repeated. The soprano solo in the evening by Miss Mabelle Smith was also a feature. In the morning Rev. Dr. Rodman delivered an appropriate sermon and in the evening he gave a short address.

At the former service the collection amounted to $60 which will be devoted to missions and the evening collection of $593 will be used to reduce the mortgage debt on the church.

Many remained after the evening service to admire the flowers and to congratulate those who assisted in the programme.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Eastertide was remembered in various ways at the First M. E. church yesterday. Most important of all, it was the first Sunday of Rev. Dr. Winfield C. Snodgrass, the new pastor in this city. He was introduced to congregation by Rev. Dr. Whitney in a few remarks, and then Dr. Snodgrass spoke a few words of greeting to his new friends. There was a sermon by the new pastor appropriate to the day. The chorus choir was enlarged for the occasion and sang an anthem during the service in which the solo part was sung by Miss Etta Raybert. There was also a violin solo by Clarence Mills.

The Sunday-school held special exercises in the afternoon in the main auditorium of the church. They were attended by a number of visitors. The programme in part was as follows:

Organ Prelude.....Miss Jessie Utter Responsive Reading, Christ Exulting. (Psalm 24.)
Violin Solo.....Clarence Mills
Anthem.....Choir
Recitation--"The Children's Easter." Edna Kennedy
Recitation--"The Two Angels." Gertrude Anderson
Recitation--"An Easter Song".Mabel Jenkins
Recitations, "Easter Gems." Six Young Ladies
Carol--"All Victorious".....Choir
Recitation--"Hail the Victor".Mabel Templin
Carol--"Victorious King".....Choir

Rev. Dr. Snodgrass preached at the evening service. The choir sang the anthem, "Christ is Risen," and there was a solo by Raymond A. McGee, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," as the offertory. At both the morning and evening services there was a specially good attendance.

Easter decorations were not wanting. The front of the platform was banked with Easter lilies, palms and other potted plants arranged in an artistic manner, while roses and other cut flowers gave color to the general effect. The flowers were furnished and arranged by Mrs. George H. Burgess, of Central avenue.

MONROE AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

The special Easter service at the Monroe avenue M. E. church was held yesterday afternoon but the day was not forgotten at either of the other services. The appearance of the interior of the church was very beautiful indeed. No pains had been spared and the front of the platform and pulpit were one mass of flowers and potted plants. A bank of palms and foliage plants, with here and there a little blossom to break the background of green, hid the front of the platform from view while a row of tall Easter lilies were arranged behind them. Bouquets of cut flowers were placed on tables and stands on the platform.

There was a special sermon in the morning by the pastor, Rev. W. C. O'Donnell. The attendace was very large.

In the afternoon the Sunday-school held special exercises. Although the superintendent, Walter McGee, was present the services were conducted by the assistant superintendent, Edward Beekman. There were songs by the school, scripture readings, recitations by Daisy Brouard, Etta Randolph, Clarence Van Dorn, and Edna Van Dorn, a recitation by the members of the primary department and several songs by the latter. Rev. Dr. O'Donnell made a short address.

In the evening, Rev. W. C. O'Donnell preached a sermon to the members of the Sunday-school, which was listened to by a large audience. It was an interesting and helpful discourse. There was a solo by Miss Jomini.

TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

The Easter services at Trinity Reformed church attracted a large number of people, both morning and evening. The floral decorations on the pulpit platform were very tasteful and consisted of many blooming potted plants and cut flowers. A large white cross stood on the floor opposite the centre aisle, reaching to the top of the pulpit desk, trimmed with fine green asparagus vine and smilax. It was exceedingly appropriate and occupied a prominent position. All the decorations were the result of much labor on the part of Mrs. H. W. Marshall and Mrs. John H. Krymer.

Rev. Cornelus Schenck, Ph.D., delivered an excellent sermon touching the resurrection of Christ, the world's Saviour. His text was the 13th chapter of Acts, the 32d and a part of the 33d verses.

Too much cannot be said regarding the musical part of the services. There was a chorus choir of fifteen voices, secured through the efforts of F. S. Cutter, chairman of the music committee, to whom is due great credit, Arthur L. Titsworth, organist, is also to be congratulated for the very excellent results obtained through his efforts in training the voices. The general opinion of all was that the music and singing was the best the church has enjoyed in many years. The programme as published was given and was very attractive.

At the morning service an Easter thank-offering was taken, amounting to $58.33.

The following persons composed the choir: Sopranos, Miss F. May Grant, Mrs. H. E. Rider, Mrs. J. S. Cutter, Mrs. Frank Templin, Mrs. M. Johnston; altos, Miss L. Dunn, Mrs. E. H. Bird, Miss M. Williams, Miss Olive Newell; tenors, Robert M. Clark, R. Wright, J. D. Moon; bassos, F. S. Cutter, George Snediker and A. J. Moore.

At the evening service, which was in charge of the Sunday-school, the church was packed to the doors, and an interesting programme of songs, recitations, etc., was very acceptably rendered by the school. A pleasing feature was the ten-minute address to the children by Rev. C. L. Goodrich. The primary department, in charge of their superintendent, Mrs. J. M. Tier, and Miss Minnie Arnold, her assistant, did remarkably well in rendering the programme following. Miss Nettie Kreitling presided at the parlor organ. Recitation—"Saturday Night," John Yose; song—"Our Easter Lily," school; recitation—"Easter Sunday," Anna Holder; recitation—"A Little Easter Lily," Pansy Luckey. Easter jewels—Bertram Leggett, Mildred Caleen, Crissie Mobus, Laura Bodine, Elmer Bohan, Annie Bodine, Georgie Dobbs, Hazel VanSickle. Recitation—"Easter Story," Bessie Randall; song—"He Lives," solo, Clara Martin, chorus, school; recitation—"Stones to Be Rolled Away," Clara Martin, Hazel Martin, Minnie Nischwitz, Lulu Vail, Mabel Vanderhoff, Louella Day, Anna Randall, Lena Bohan.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The celebration of Easter Day at the Congregational church was a very pleasing one. The church was prettily decorated with flowers, the entire front of the platform being banked

Several hundred bicyclist visited Dunellen, yesterday. Many came from Newark, Elizabeth and other places, and several of them had never visited Dunellen before. One or two of the older riders were looking around for desirable dwelling houses with a view, they said, of moving their families out there for the summer.

Two heavy furniture vans en route from Long Island to Bound Brook, became stuck in the mud just west of Dunellen, Friday night and had to remain in the roadway over night. After standing all night the wheels on the vans had sunk down nearly hub deep and in the morning it was found necessary to partly unload the furniture before the vehicles could be extricated.

Friday, another delegation of representative Plainfield men spent a pleasant hour at Lincoln. Among them were, Mr. Mundy, of Mundy & Moffett, Mr. MacIntyre, Mr. Wallace and others. All were surprised at the magical changes that have been made in the past two weeks.

The fact of this new town, Lincoln, springing up so near to Plainfield, will be a great benefit to the merchants of Plainfield, and therefore it is worthy of being nursed and encouraged by them while in its infancy. And it will pay Plainfield merchants to visit occasionally either by train, a drive or the bicycle.

A few days ago a number of carpenters and masons were eating their noonday meal and one of the carpenters from New Brunswick asked S. D. Drake where he was going to locate the cemetery for Lincoln. "Si." replied, "If any one ever died at Lincoln, he thought of using New Brunswick for a cemetery, as it was a very quiet place."

A DOWAGER EMPRESS

MOTHER OF THE EMPEROR OF JAPAN CLUNG TO THE OLD WAYS.

She Made Concession to Modernism by Using a Landau With Liveried Servants—Her Son Progressive and Ready for Reforms.

The Empress Dowager of Japan, whose death is announced, was one of the few surviving members of the old regime in the imperial circle. She had her separate palaces and courts at Kioto and Tokio, where the ancient systems prevailed. She seldom appeared at official functions, and had made but one concession to modern ways. She used a landau, with men in livery on the box. She had charge of the imperial nurseries, where the children of the Emperor by his various wives are kept until they reach the age of 5 or 6. There were rooms set apart for her at the palace of her son, but she seldom occupied them, for she visited but little, and could not reconcile herself to the change that had come over land and people. So she passes out of history, at least for the Western world, which will probably never know more of her than has been recorded by the American traveler, Mrs. Starr.

The great change was no change of her making. She had brought up her son, Mutsu Hito, in the most orthodox and respectable way. At the age of 16, when he came to the throne, he could read the Chinese classics, write poetry, arrange flowers according to the laborate system of the Japanese, and give a tea party with appropriate ceremony. That was about all; and the fond mother, no doubt, thought it was quite enough. The 120 predecessors of Mutsu Hito, in the same line, who had ruled Japan for 2,500 years, had never known more, and most of them had known less. The lad was worshipped as a god, like his fathers before him; and that sort of reverence covers a multitude of sins in the object of adoration. No man might look upon his face and live. He was never allowed to wear the same garments twice, nor to eat off the same dish a second time, both clothing and crockery being destroyed at once.

So things went on until he ventured to look at the sun without a veil, liked it, and thenceforward turned his imperial countenance on his whole people. The new man had come to town. Changes followed with startling rapidity. Forty-nine superior persons, with their wives and sisters, were sent round the world to report on constitutions, manners, customs, and education for men and women. The poor Dowager Empress must have stood by, like the mother of Aladdin, with her hands in the air; but her astonishing boy was not to be gainsaid. She lived long enough to be about the only "dowdy" in the court circle, and to see haughty China on its knees before her son's throne.—London Daily News.

TOPICS OF INTEREST.

Golden shoes are worn by a Shetland pony belonging to the Shah of Persia. This expensively-shod animal is only 12½ inches high.

Japanese officers who fought in the late war against China have petitioned their Government to erect a monument to the memory of the horses that fell in battle.

A Kansas City doctor who was looking for a crazy patient whom he was to lock up in an insane asylum, found the lunatic serving on a jury in the Circuit Court.

A canary owned by a Baltimore musician is said to sing, at a signal from him given on the violin, the "Popagano" from Mozart's "Magic Flute." He has had the bird two years.

A giant sewing machine has been finished at Leeds, England. The machine, which is to be used for attaching cotton belting, weighs five and a quarter tons.

It is believed that some of the camels imported in 1853 to run wild in Arizona are still in existence. Indians occasionally report having seen some, and lately the International Boundary Commission saw two with their spyglasses on the Mexican border.

Old age has made an end of a bloodhound known as Old King, at Butte, Mont. The dog was owned by "Uncle Dick" Suttan, with whose "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company the animal had traveled all over the world. It was so thoroughly trained that if any one began to recite the lines of the play it would go through its part.

Coasting on the Bible.

A friend of the Listener has seen a funny sight down in Maine. At a place there, which needn't be named, there lives a small boy named Jonathan Longfellow, who is a third or fourth cousin of the poet; and he is a great boy, too. One day this friend of the Listener was driving past Jonathan's house and saw the boy engaged at a little distance in sliding downhill on the slippery crust on something that was not a sled. What could it be? Evidently the scrutiny of the passer-by was observed by the boy, for he stopped his coasting and called out amiably: "I'm sliding downhill on the Bible!" And it was the fact, too. He had got the smooth, leather-bound family Bible, containing the generations of all the Longfellows, and was coasting on it with magnificent success.—Boston Transcript.

"Why do you insist upon taking your wife out for such long walks in this rough weather?"

"The doctor has told her that she must be very careful not to talk when she is out in the cold air."

"Say, who's your doctor?"—Cleveland Leader.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

INSURANCE MAN INDICTED.

State Commissioner of Kansas Charged With Interfering With Justice.

Gaylor, Kan., April 19.—State Insurance Commissioner Webb McNall has received a message from Topeka stating that the Federal grand jury had indicted him for a violation of the United States law by interfering with the administration of justice in the Hillmon case, now pending in the Federal courts. In effect, he is charged with intimidation of the defendant insurance companies.

On April 3 last McNall issued an order revoking the state licenses of the three western companies which have for years contested the claims of Mrs. Hillmon for payment of the insurance carried by her husband, who is supposed to have been shot and killed while on a hunting trip, but whose death the defendant companies deny. They charge that it is a case of fraud. The case has several times been tried in the Federal courts, a mistrial resulting each time; and the case is still pending in the United States courts. Virtually, the charge is contempt of court.

McNall will surrender to the authorities at Topeka. The penalty for interfering with or impeding the due administration of justice, under the Federal statutes, is $500 fine or six months' imprisonment, or both.

DOUBLE BURGLARY.

Two Stores Broken Into In Syracuse and Cash Abstracted.

Syracuse, April 19.—A double burglary, evidently the work of experts, has occurred here. A safe in the large millinery store of F. J. West was broken open and $1,000 in cash was taken. Small change, checks and drafts were thrown aside.

An adjoining store, occupied by R. A. Stowell, a crockery dealer, was also entered. Here $300 was taken from a drawer in the safe. Entrance in both cases was effected through the roof. It is thought that the burglars mounted to the roof by a fire escape in the rear. They then sawed a hole in the roof of the West store and descended to the top or fifth floor by means of a rope ladder, which they left behind them. The only other things left by them was a New York newspaper, a month old, and an oil can.

The police have a clew. A gang of four well known professionals is suspected. Every member of the department is furnished with a description of the men.

The Kansas National Reform Press Association to Attack Their Chairman.

Girard, Kan., April 19.—The committee of the National Reform Press association have decided to wage war on Marion Butler as chairman of the Populist national committee and also to reorganize the Populist party. This call bears the signatures of Milton Park, W. S. Morgan, James H. Ferris, Abe Steinberger, W. F. D. Mays, Joe A. Parker, Jacob S. Coxey and Frank Burkitt.

Many persons saw the assault and ran to pick up Barrett, while the assailant disappeared. The injured man is a son of Edward Barrett, a prominent contractor.

Drowned While Washing a Dog.

Springfield, Mass., April 19.—Mrs. Thomas Sayers was drowned in Bleachery pond at Chicopee Falls while giving her pet dog a bath. She was leaning over the water and lost her balance, falling into the water in such a way that her head was submerged. She was dead before assistance could be summoned. She was 65, and leaves a husband and two sons.

He claims to be a detective connected with agencies in New York, Chicago and Atlantic City.

Chicago, April 19.—Fire destroyed the greater portion of the plant of the Grand Crossing Tack company at Grand Crossing. A fierce gale was blowing at the time and but for the heroic efforts of the firemen, half a dozen of whom were quite badly injured, much more property would have been destroyed. The loss was $136,000, with insurance of $114,000.

A Rheumatic Commits Suicide.

Batavia, N. Y., April 19.—Nicholas Prill, a well known and prominent citizen of this place, committed suicide by hanging at his home, on Jackson street. His wife returned from church and discovered the body suspended by a cord from a door knob. Prill had been a sufferer from rheumatism for years.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Miss Ruth Titus, of Central avenue, has a new Crescent wheel.

The Plainfield Cycle Company has just received a Hunter tandem and a large shipment of single wheels. Inspection is invited.

There has been quite a little competition among the riders of this city regarding the fastest time between Plainfield and Morristown. Last year, Jack and Morris Dumont made the trip home on a tandem in an even hour. The grades are harder going to Morristown but despite that fact and that there was a heavy head wind blowing. J. Vincent Rittenhouse, of this city, made the trip over in one hour and eleven minutes. The distance is twenty miles.

INS AND OUTS.

THE EASTER EXERCISES.

with Easter lilies and other potted plants. The reading desk was draped with smilax, and bore vases of carnations and forget me nots, while the Communion table held a tall vase of magnificient Easter lilies, and was draped with smilax. Tall palms stood about, and jars of roses or wild flowers were in every available place.

The programme printed in the Press of Saturday night was followed out, and included music by the regular choir, Miss Margaret E. Meredith, Miss Julia Bellsnap, Stacy Raynolds and Edward Clark, and a beautiful Easter sermon by the pastor, Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich.

A special Easter Sunday school session was held at 2:45, the programme being as follows: Hymn, "Golden Harps are Sounding;" Infant class processional; Scripture Lesson, L. B. Morgan; Prayer, Rev. C. L. Goodrick; Baritone Solo, "Be thou with me," Frank O. Bristol; Recitation, "A Little Walk," Miss Caroline Florence Fuller; Violin Solo, "Spinnerlied," by Hollaender, Miss Nellie B. Whiton; Recitation, 'Easter Glory,"' Miss Katherine Dwight; Hymn, "Christ has Arisen;" Soprano Solo, "The Glorious Dawn," Miss M. G. Morse; Recitation, "Seven Easter Lillies," Misses Agnes LaBoyteaux, Enid Fonda, Ethel VanZandt, Edna Conde, Florence Cooney, Hattie Messersmith, Ethel Weseman, Ethel Lorton; Song, "Easter Bells," Miss Enid Fonda. After this, the primary department returned to their class room, and the lesson was studied as usual in all the classes. The service was very well attended and was a thoroughly enjoyable one.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Easter morning service at the First Presbyterian church was for the benefit of the children of the Sunday school, who were present, and assisted in the service with their carols and responsive readings.

The programme included the following: The Lord's Prayer; song, "Easter Bells;" song, "The Eastertide;" reading, "The Resurrection Foretold;" song, "The Easter Morning;" responsive service, "The Resurrection Fulfilled;" song, Awake to Joy and Praise;" song, "The Easter Dawn is in the Sky," prayer; notices; offertory song, "O Wondrous Sight;" song, "The Easter Song;" Address by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Herring, "The Power of His Resurrection." Phil. 3:10; song," Shout Aloud;" song, "The Stone is Rolled Away;" a congregational hymn, and the benediction, making a very delightful children's service. Two violinists, Miss Charlotte Cave and William McKillop, assisted in the music.

The Easter decorations were unusually beautiful, the front of the platform being massed with plants, chiefly Easter lilies and palms, while above the reading desk two white doves were suspended, and the font was filled with lilies and sword ferns.

No extra service was held in the afternoon, but at the Christian Endeavor service at 6:45 there was a very pretty vocal duet, "O Morning Land," by the Misses Mildred Ulrich and Beatrice Miner, and a piano solo, "Sabbath Evening Bells," by Miss Clara Dunham.

The evening service was one of the musical services that are so deservedly popular, and was very largely attended. The choir consisted of the following: Miss C. D. Glen, Miss Nora Williams, Miss Isabel Scarborough, Miss Elizabeth Bittenbender, Miss Ada Dunham, Miss Charlotte Messersmith, Miss Beatrice Miner, Willard M. Miner, Fred Tallamy, Henry Jessup, William Holmes, L. W. DeLerew, Ralph K. Miner, Wyatt Barnes, Charles Hazeltine

The programme was that published in these columns on Saturday, with the addition of a grand improvised organ offertory, in which W. E. MacClymont displayed the fine powers of his organ, and his own great musical ability in an impromptu composition. Anthems and solos were well rendered. Mr. MacClymont's two compositions and P. Ludwig Conde's violin solos being especially enjoyed.

WASHINGTONVILLE CHAPEL.

Easter exercises were held in the Wilson Memorial chapel at Washingtonville, yesterday afternoon, by the members of the Sunday school of the chapel. There were recitations by classes and special music and singing by the primary department.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes preached an Easter sermon in the evening.

HOPE CHAPEL.

The services at Hope chapel were very interesting and, while there was no special programme, the music was an enjoyable feature. The decorations consisting of potted plants and lilies were arranged with pretty effect. The attendance at both services was large, and the pastor, Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, preached two very eloquent sermons appropriate to the day.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY CROSS.

The pretty interior of the church of the Holy Cross was never more elaborately or tastefully decorated at Easter-tide than it was Easter day. A profusion of Easter bud cala lilies, palms, potted plants and cut flowers were gracefully grouped upon the chancel steps, and placed upon and around the altar, pulpit, lecturn and forte. The prevailing colors were white and green and the general effect was one of great beauty. At the eleven o'clock service the Easter choir of 32 voices, under the direction of George Haskins, choirmaster, rendering a very effective musical service. Rev. T. Logan Murphy preached a powerful sermon from the text, 1st Cor. 15-20: "Now is Christ Risen from the dead." At the afternoon service the children of the Sunday-school marched into the church carrying their class banners, and preceded by the choir singing a processional hymn. An appropriate musical service was rendered by the Sunday-school assisted by the choir. The rector made an interesting Easter address. There was a large attendance of worshippers at both services.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. Easter service, held at 4:15 p. m. was largely attended and very pleasant, being something rather out of the common. The most striking feature of the decorations was a cross of white birch, about six feet high standing in the centre of the stage. Its base was heaped with rocks with moss and flowers growing in the chinks, and it was draped with ivy. Other plants were massed about the stage, on the piano and on tables, the general effect being very pretty.

A charming part of the service was an exercise by six little girls in white gowns, Miss Anna Morrison, Mary Long, Rose Hook, Sadie and Lottie Brown and May Weigmann all of the Loyal Temperance Legion, who recited appropriate verses as they strewed sweet flowers around the cross, then knelt about it and sang. There was also a violin solo, "Idylle," by Keck, by Wickham Williams Beekman, a soprano solo, "Easter Morning," by Miss M. G. Morse, and a short recitation by little Miss Olga Weigmann.

Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson conducted the meeting, while the singing was led by Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman and Mrs. Cole, who also sang an Easter anthem. Miss Cara Peck said a few earnest and helpful words appropriate to the day, and the last part of the meeting was devoted to testimonies.

At the Church of the Heavenly Rest special services were held morning and afternoon. The music was in charge of Miss Mary Graves, organist, and the following persons who composed the choir: Miss Pettis, Miss Wenzel, Miss Frazer, Miss Kate Graves, Miss Etta Yaeger and George Graves. The programme consisted of Easter carols and special selections by the choir. The church was decorated prettily with flowers.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

The progressive little church of St. Joseph's, Manning avenue, North Plainfield, was the scene yesterday of the most imposing Mass service ever celebrated there.

The transition from the austerity of Lent was unmistakably evident. All the services were largely attended. Low Mass was celebrated at 8:30 a. m. At this service sixty men belonging to Holy Name Society received the Bles ed Eucharist, and altogether there was a larger number of communicants than ever before.

High Mass began at 10:30 a. m., by Rev. N. McMenamin, of Trenton. An eloquent sermon on the Resurrection was preached by Father Miller. The altar was in full decoration. A magnificent new crucifix adorned the tabernacle. It was the gift of a member of the parish.

Large quantities of cut flowers and potted plants were arranged upon the altar with great beauty and taste. Among them the candles were lighted, and the stately lilies were bathed in the silvery light, like saintly vestals, pale in prayer. Their pure breath sanctifying the atmosphere and their fragrance filling the church. The music and singing were the best that has ever been produced by the choir. Father Miller was the organist, Miss Alice Quinn, violinist.

A PATRIOTIC PURPOSE.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION GIVE AN AFFAIR.

Arranged to Raise Funds for the Purpose of Preserving the Wallace House Where Gen. Washington's Headquarters Were.

The home of Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, of Washington Park, was the scene last evening of a social event of the highest charm. This palatial residence was graced with Plainfield's best people for a patriotic purpose. The affair was given by the Plainfield members of the Continental Chapter, Daughters American Revolution, of New Jersey, and the object was to raise funds toward the purchase of the Wallace Home at Somerville. This home has a history and during the Revolutionary War Gen. Washington made this place his home for some time. Recently the structure has been threatened by certain people who want to destroy it. A feeling of patriotism on the part of the members of the above-named organization was evidenced and they determined if possible to save the building if only for the sake of history and the associations connected with it. In consequence a reception and entertainment was planned for last evening, and Mrs. McCutchen very kindly offered her home. Flowers in profusion from Mr. McCutchen's conservatory were used in the decorations while the American flag occupied a very prominent position.

During the early part of the evening a programme of rare excellence was presented as follows:

Violin solo, "Spanish Dance," Miss Bertha Bucklin; soprano solo, "Les Filles De Cadiz," Mrs. Josephine Jennings-Percy; recitals, "Now and Then," "The Minuet," Mrs. F. J. Smith; Minuet, danced by Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Mrs. C. E. Brooks, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mrs. W. J. Roome, W. L. Saunders, Charles Faber, Peter Matthews, Harry Patton; violin solos, "Adagio Pathetique," "Tarantella," Miss Bertha Bucklin; soprano solo, Mrs. Josephine Jennings-Percy; fairy scenes from "Midsummer Night's Dream." This last number was given by Mrs. F. J. Smith, and she assumed the parts of "Titania," "Oberon," "Puck," "A Fairy," and the music by Mendelssohn was rendered by F. J. Smith on the piano. During the last portion of the recital a quartette, Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. Frank Clawson, Mrs. Robert H. Lowry and Miss Hardenbergh, sang a very pretty lullaby.

Miss Bucklin, Mrs. Josephine Jennings-Percy, and Mrs. F. J. Smith are of New York, while F. J. Smith, who was the accompanist, is the organist of the Crescent Avenue church. Every number on the programme was given perfectly and those present enjoyed a rare treat. The minuet dance was so cordially received that those participating were obliged to repeat it.

A pleasing feature feature of the event was the appearance of the members of the Chapter and their male friends in colonial dress. This added not a little to the splendor of the occasion.

The table in the dining room was decorated in blue and buff, the colors of the Chapter, and these colors were richly blended with the choicest of flowers. Mrs. Henry McGee and Mrs. Alexander Gilbert presided at the table, while Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. McCutchen and Mrs. C. E. Brooks received. The supper served was delightful and the genuine sociability on the part of all was proverbial.

In addition to the two hundred Plainfield guests present there were delegations from Jersey Blue Chapter, New Brunswick; Gen. Freilinghuysen Chapter, Somerville, and Camp Middlebrook, Bound Brook.

There is no doubt but what the object for which the reception was held have been fully realized and that the Wallace Home at Somerville will remain as it is. It is the purpose of the Chapter to not only secure the home but to put it in such a condition that it will be worthy the name and history it now bears. Plainfield is to be congratulated on having such a truly patriotic organization and such an object deserves the hearty support of all who can give it.

A KILLING FROST CAME.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS DAMAGE TO VEGETABLE LIFE.

Peach Crop is Thought to Have Been Entirely Ruined, as Well as Early Fruits and Vegetables in This Section.

Jack Frost came on an unexpected visit to this section of the country last night and wrought ruin to early vegetation wherever his chilling presence found it unprotected. While it is impossible to estimate anywhere correctly what the damage will amount to in dollars and cents, it is conceded that it approximates a sum of a good many thousand dollars.

Those who have eye an to the weather realized yesterday that the heavy gale that blew stronger and colder every hour as the sun neared the meridian portended serious effect to the early vegetables, blossoming fruit and flowers. Those who had interests at stake—principally farmers and fruit-growers—watched the thermometer anxiously and with many misgivings, as it gradually dropped from 40 degrees at noon to 18 degrees after the pall of nighttime had arrived. Old-timers who had experienced weather changes of this kind before realized that without a doubt all vegetable life of a delicate nature would be withered and blasted by morning. Their worst fears were found to be true this morning when they arose early and found that in many places frost almost an inch in thickness covered unprotected spots.

In the Passaic valley peach buds were totally ruined. Currants, gooseberries and early strawberries, which had advanced remarkably in the last few days owing to the warm weather, looked as though they had been singed with a red hot iron.

Besides the damage done to farm products, house plants that had been transplanted into door yard beds within the last week were also sorry looking sights and caused many wails of anguish from the women who had nurtured them with every care through the winter that they might bloom and add beauty and fragrance to their homes this summer. Many experienced housewives, however, had carefully covered the plants with old newspapers when they saw the approach of the killing frost. In some instances this method was a preventive of fatal effect.

Water left in receptacles out-of-doors during the night was found this morning with a coating of ice an inch thick.

Shade trees suffered also from the biting effect of the frost and where they were on point of bursting forth in all their summer azure, this morning they presented a scene of withered and drooping buds.

WELCOMED HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. McGee Given a Pleasant Reception.

A reception in honor of the return of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. McGee, after their trip abroad, and the return of Rev. W. C. O'Donnell to his charge at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church for another year, was held in the Epworth House, near the Monroe avenue M. E. church, last evening. Mr. McGee is the superintendent of the Sunday school of that church and the reception was gotten up by the teachers in the Sunday school. It was a very pleasant affair and largely attended.

Epworth House had been prepared for the occasion. The rooms were charmingly decorated with potted plants and cut flowers while the many bright faces and the cheerful hum of voices completed the effect. Music was furnished during the evening by Prof. Carpenter.

When Mr. and Mrs. McGee arrived, they were ushered into the room by Edward Beekman while all present united in singing a stanza of "Home Again from a Foreign Shore." Refreshments were served during the evening and the remainder of the time was spent in social converse.

The committee, by which the reception was arranged, consisted of Miss Georgia Beekman, chairman, Miss Emily Haff, and Miss Leora Wenzel.

PROSPEROUS CHURCHES

ANNUAL PARISH MEETINGS HELD LAST NIGHT.

S. A. Cruikshank Retires From the Vestry of Grace P. E. Church—Finances of Each of the Societies Found on a Solid Basis

The last year has been a prosperous one, indeed, for the Grace P. E. church and the annual parish meeting of that church, held last evening, brought out that fact quite strongly.

After a short service of evening prayer, the meeting was held in the church, Rev. E. M. Rodman, acting as chairman, and Charles Lawson, as secretary. The treasurer's report was read by S. A. Cruikshank, the retiring treasurer. Last year, there was a deficit in the church accounts to the amount of $800, which was made up at the Easter collection. This year, the report showed the church to be on a firm basis with a small balance in the treasury, and the Easter collection amounting to over $550 was devoted to the mortgage debt of the church.

The election of wardens and vestrymen was the principal business of the meeting. George M. Randall was re-elected warden and George S. Clay was elected warden in the place of S. A. Cruikshank. John Drayton and William A. Freeman acted as tellers in the election. Seven vestryman were elected. Thomas Mimford, DeWitt C. Ivins, R H. Depew and Pendleton Rogers were re elected and the new members of the vestry were C. C. Howard, Charles Lawson and August Kleinecke. It took several ballots to finally decide as to the complete list of vestrymen.

The delegates elected to the General Convention were C. P. Bull, J. B. Dumont and W. E. Lowe. The alternates were George M. Randall, George S. Clay and R. H. Depew.

Among those nominated for the vestry was S. A Cruikshank, but he positively refused to allow his name to be used. At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was extended to him by the parish for his faithful and very efficient services as treasurer of the church. W. R. Cock was prominently spoken of for the vestry, but he declared that he would not accept the office if elected. A meeting of the vestry will be held on Wednesday evening for organization.

The annual parish meeting of the Church of the Redeemer was held last evening after evening prayer. The rector, Rev. Jocelyn Johnstone, presided, and A. E. Faber, Jr., was chosen secretary.

The report of H. R. Phillips, treasurer, was presented. The total receipts were $2,385.43, and the disbursements $2,503.34. Mr. Phillips stated that there is a deficit of $311.88, which amount it would be necessary to raise. An additional Easter offering of $50 was also reported. The Easter collection amounted to $265.19. There are at present unpaid subscriptions to the amount of $261.26, and Mr. Phillips stated that $70 of this sum he felt sure would not be paid. The balance in the Rector's Poor Fund was reported to be $22.76, and $1,115 in the contingent fund. In the Church Society Building Fund there is $399.35, with certificates of deposit bearing interest. A balance of $66 was reported in the treasury of the Woman's Guild. On a motion the above reports were received and will be audited before approval by a committee to be appointed later.

The question of increasing the number of vestrymen from five to seven was introduced and finally laid on the table. E. C. Perkins and G. T. Rhodes were appointed as a nominating committee, and as a result G. P. Dupee was elected senior warden and J. A. Alexander junior warden. The election of vestrymen resulted as follows: H. R. Phillips, A. E. Faber, Jr., Thomas Lloyd, E. C. Perkins, G. T. Rhodes.

A motion was made that the secretary cast the ballot for the above-named candidates, but Mr. Phillips objected and stated that if the motion prevailed he would not allow his name to stand. The motion was lost and a formal ballot was taken with the above results.

G. P. Dupee, J. A. Alexander and E. C. Perkins were elected delegates to the general diocesan convention, and A. E. Faber, Jr., F. S. Brown and H. R. Phillips were chosen as alternates.

After a motion was adopted giving the power to vote from the contingent fund such money as will be needed, the meeting adjourned.

The annual parish meeting for the election of wardens and vestrymen and delegates to attend the Diocesan Convention was held in the Church of the Holy Cross last evening at 8 p. m. The following were elected: Wardens, John H. Carman, Benjamin R. Western; vestrymen, William L. Saunders, Robert S. Miller, Horsley Barker, Arthur T. Gallup and William A. Westphal; delegates to convention, Benjamin R. Western, Horsley Barker and Clarence L. Murphy; alternates, William A. Westphal, Arthur T. Gallup and John D. James.

TRAINMEN'S VIGILANCE.

PROBABLY PREVENTED TWO FAMILIES FROM BEING CREMATED.

Crew of a Lehigh Valley Coal Train Saw a House on Fire at the Tanks and Stopped and Aroused the Sleeping Inmates

Had it not been for the vigilance of a coal train crew on the Lehigh Valley Railroad this morning at 4 o'clock, it is probable that two families would either have perished or had a very narrow escape from death by burning up in a house owned by the Jersey Central at the Greenbrook tanks, four miles from this city. The house is situated between the two railroads at that point, and is occupied by the families of Michael Ready and John Weber, who are employed by the Central Railroad to look after the sand-house at the tanks.

At four o'clock this morning a Lehigh Valley coal train was moving along at a slow rate of speed near that point when the fireman noticed a flickering flame coming from the top of the house occupied by the two families. The engineer brought the train to a stop as soon as possible and the train crew hurried to the point of the conflagration. The family were not aware that the house was afire and the trainmen pounded on the doors and aroused them. By that time the whole roof was a mass of flames and the occupants dressed hurriedly and rushed out.

Word was sent to the Dunellen Fire Department and they responded but by the time they arrived at the house it was beyond saving.

Weber succeeded in saving part of his household goods, but all of Ready's furniture was destroyed. Ready carried an insurance on his property, but Weber did not.

It is thought that the house was set on fire by a spark from a passing locomotive.

RANSACKED A HOUSE.

Another Depredation in the Vicinity of Scotch Plains.

L. Noel's house on the mountain just north from Scotch Plains was entered and robbed sometime during last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Noel carefully locked up their home that morning and went to Elizabeth to look at a house, expecting to remove there within the next ten days. When they returned everything in the house was turned upside down; bureau drawers had been ransacked and their contents scattered about the rooms and the pantry and kitchen put one in mind of moving day. An investigation showed conclusively that the intruders entered the house by prying open the outside cellar door and once in the cellar access to the upper stories was easy. So far as known, Mr. Noel says, the robbers took his revolver, a razor and two pair of scissors, which seems to show that they must have been amateurs.

A GIFT TO HARVARD.

Dr. J. Ackerman Coles Presents a Bronze Bust of Socrates to the University.

Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, of Newark, whose gifts of valuable art objects to educational and public bodies have been generous and who lately gave to the Chicago University a heroic bronze bust of Homer, has just presented to Harvard University a life-size bronze bust of Socrates, which President Eliot, of Harvard, has accepted in an appreciative letter. The bronze is part of the estate of the late Dr. Abraham Coles, of Newark, father of Dr. J. Ackerman Coles and a well-known classical scholar and author. It was made by Barbedienne in France, for Tiffany & Co. The donor, in giving the bronze to Harvard, said that he desired it to be a reminder of the friendly relations existing between his father and the officers, professors and graduates of Harvard, especially President Thomas Hill, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Philips Brooks.

The Newark Free Library, which is soon to occupy a new and handsome building, to be erected this year on a site selected facing Washington Park in Newark, has begun to receive gifts from citizens of wealth and cluture. Yesterday the Library trustees received and placed in the Library two beautiful life-size medallions in Carrara marble by Richard Hamilton Park, the gift of Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, of Scotch Plains.

Pastor's Salary Increased.

It was announced at Grace M. E church last Sunday that the official board had increased the pastor's salary $100.

State Superintendent of Schools Charles J. Baxter, of this city, went to Mt. Airy, near Philadelphia, this morning, with a party of the State educational officials, to visit the deaf mute's school there.

DEATH ENDED HIS PAIN.

WILLIAM HUFF LIVED FOR FOUR HOURS IN HORRIBLE AGONY.

He Regained Consciousness and Recognized His Family—Leaves a Widow and Seven Children—A Hardworking Citizen.

While yesterday's Daily Press was being published, William Huff, who was so frightfully injured in the runaway on Manning avenue in the afternoon, passed away. The fact that he had died was chronicled in a later edition of The Press.

As will be remembered, Huff was driving the team attached to Borough Street Commissioner George Conover's wagon and was driving towards the barn when the horses became unmanageable and ran away. Huff clung to the driver's seat until the barn was reached and there lost his hold and was thrown between the wheels of the wagon and the side of the barn. His face was torn and cut while the cruel wheels inflicted a terrible wound in his abdomen, fairly disemboweling him. He was conveyed to his home and remained there under the care of Dr. Carman and Dr. Davis.

Huff was unconscious at first but recovered after the doctors had worked over him and was able to recognize his family.

His wife was at home at the time of the accident and was able to minister to the dying wants of her husband to the last. There are seven children, four daughters and three sons, who were hurriedly summoned. Mr. Huff was in great agony and the doctors were able to do but little to relieve him. It was seen at once that the injury must be fatal, but the physicians remained at the bedside of the dying man to give such aid as lay in their power to make his last moments as easy as possible.

Death came at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, four hours after the accident occurred. Huff was formerly a driver for Titus, the Somerset street baker, and only recently went into the employ of Mr. Conover. He was about forty years of age. One daughter and one son are employed in the store of VanEmburgh & Son, of West Front street, and another daughter is employed in the composing room of the News.

THE WHEELS OF JUSTICE

JUDGE MAGIE'S CHARGE TO THE SOMERSET GRAND JURY.

Advised the People to be Patient and All Violators of Law Would Receive Their Just Deserts—Licenses Granted.

The spring term of the Supreme Court for Somerset county convened in the court house in Somerville, this morning, with Judge Magie presiding. The grand jury was called together and taken into court where the Judge made his charge to them, referring principally to the matter of the several murders in the county and the feeling of discontent dominant among some of the taxpayers because the wheels of justice seemed to move slowly and with extraordinary expense.

The judge referred particularly to the murders—Jo Chalbi, of Bound Brook, who killed his wife, and Francesco Dilucci, who ended the life of a countryman at Bernardsville in a fight—and the manner in which their cases would be considered by the jurors assembled beore him.

He instrueted them as to the points of the law in dealing with the murderers and urged that they proceed with as little loss of time as the serious consideration of the crimes warranted. The people who had a feeling of discontent should curb such a spirit as it was the intention of the authorities not to permit any laxity in punishing those culprits who deserved to be punished by the enormity of their crime. He said he trusted that at no time would the reputation of the country be injured by a display of mob rule in dealing with those who had committed crimes.

Beside the cases of the two murderers the jury has also to consider the crime of Antonio Macadio, who attempted to kill Ralph Bruno, and that of Pivorotto, who came near hacking his wife to death in Raritan.

Jacob Voehl and William E. Brock are the North Plainfield members of the Grand Jury.

The following licenses were granted by Judge Bartine: Lena Weckemeyer, retail, for Arlington Hotel; Gustav Sutterline, wholesale, Greenbrook road; Henry Pedeflous, hotel, North Plainfield; Mt. Bethel Hotel.

—The advertisements of Edward White are always interesting reading, as they always tell of new goods and name prices that are sure to bring a quick response. The advertisement today tells of new dress goods, silks, new millinery, ladies' skirts and waists, and a bargain bulletin of business bringing bargains.

WANTS $20,000 FOR A LIFE.

Henry Burnett's Widow Sues the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.

On June 3d, 1896, Henry Burnett, of Washington Valley, was killed at South Plainfield by a train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The team of horses which he was driving was also killed. Recently Mrs. Charlotte Burnett, the widow, through her counsel, Craig A. Marsh, brought suit against the railroad for $20,000 her claim for damages. The case was to have come up today before Judge Magie at Somerville. About fifty witnesses had been summoned on each side and the case gives promise of being a most important one.

Red Men Celebrate.

A regular meeting of the Miantonomoh Tribe, Red Men, was held on Friday evening. It was the four hundreth meeting of the Tribe. The resignation of Florence McCarty, as junior sagamore, was accepted with regret, and Joseph Johnson was elected to fill the vacancy. The entertainment committee made its report stating that the dance of the Tribe had been postponed from Thursday until Friday evening. The dance is to be held in Red Men's Hall. The brethren then sat down to the collation which had been prepared in honor of the occasion by the good and welfare committee, after which they were entertained by a programme arranged by the same committee. The entertainment consisted of humorous stories by Joseph Johnson, vocal solos by Joseph Newman, a baritone solo by Chief of Records Holdstein, singing by Messrs. Stiglitz, Mague, Drier and Slorah, short talks by Messrs. Krog, Staats and Allen, and jokes by Prophet Leahy.

A Beautiful Christening.

A beautiful christening ceremony took place in St. Joseph's church in North Plainfield on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the twelve-days'-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Windham, of East Front street, was Christened Marguerite Windham. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Herold, of Brooklyn, stood as godparents for the child.

A Stag Dinner.

Irving Clark, of Crescent avenue, gave a stag dinner last evening, in honor of his friend, Jack Pickard, of New York. Beside the host and his guest, those present were Henry Leal, E. Maxwell Honeyman, Charles Davis, Gilbert Lovell, Welles Taylor, E. Stanley Peck, Howard Bushnell and Paul Kimball.

THEATER HAT TO GO.

New York State Assembly Places It Under the Ban.

JUDICIARY REPORT ON CIVIL SERVICE.

Introduced by Senator Lexow and Vigorously Protested Against by Senator Cantor—Great Deal of Debate Caused.

Albany, April 20.—The crusade against the wearing of high hats in the theaters received a partial victory last night by the passage in the assembly of the measure introduced by Mr. Koster to regulate the size of headgear in places of amusement. The bill was a special order in the house on the calendars of second and third reading.

Mr. Greene of New York moved to strike out the enacting clause. He said that while the principle of the bill was good, its wording was bad, and that the provisions could never be enforced, because it would be impossible to learn the names of the offenders so that action could be begun against them. The motion was voted down by a viva voce vote.

Mr. Mazet of New York moved to amend by inserting "puffed sleeves." The amendment was lost, and the bill advanced to a third reading. Then a final vote on its passage was taken and it was passed—81 to 47.

Party Vote on Civil Service.

Albany, April 20.—In the senate Senator Lexow presented the report of the judiciary committee, in which was the new civil service bill with an amendment authorizing the commission to fix a minimum percentage for qualification at an examination.

Senator Cantor vigorously protested against the reception of the report, and despite the points of order of Senator Ellsworth that there was no question before the house and Senator Cantor was out of order, the president allowed Senator Cantor to state his protests. He said that he was notified that the judiciary committee would meet for the purpose of considering the bill. He was unable to be present at the hour set, and he was informed that a quorum was not present at that time. Regardless of that fact an adjournment was taken, the committee went into session and it was not until after the hour for the convening of the senate that a vote was taken on the bills. The committee was out of order in holding a session when the senate was in session.

The chair decided to accept the report of the committee, and Senator Cantor moved to recommit the bill to the committee. On this motion he said that the bill was prepared by Governor Black and was a scheme on the part of the Republican leaders to grab all the positions at the disposal of the state government by practically overthrowing the civil service system provided for in the constitution.

Senator Lexow briefly defended the action of the committee, and the motion was defeated by a strict party vote.

Pension Fraud Arrested.

Concord, N. H., April 19.—James H. Ferguson, alias Johnson, alias Rogers, was arrested in Webster by Special Agent Roone of the United States treasury department. Ferguson is charged with obtaining money under false pretences from a number of persons in different towns in New Hampshire, by representing himself as agent of the pension bureau and claiming to be desirous of obtaining local agents, requiring a deposit in each case. He was brought to this city and arraigned before United States Commissioner Henry P. Rolfe, who held him in $1,000 bonds for trial.

Judge Day Visits the President.

Washington, April 20.—Judge William R. Day of Canton, who will leave here in a few days for Havana to investigate the Ruiz case, saw the president for a few minutes. He also called at the state department and saw Secretary Sherman and Assistant Secretary Rockhill. He has been studying the case during his absence from Washington and has thoroughly equipped himself for his mission, which, it is declared at the state department, is strictly judicial and in nowise diplomatic.

Senator Butler Introduces a Bill.

Washington, April 20.—Senator Butler of North Carolina today introduced a bill supplemental to the subsidy acts of the Union and Central Pacific railroads. It recites the failures of the companies to meet their obligations, that by the terms of the acts such failure is to operate as a forfeiture of all property rights and franchises and directs the attorney general to cause such forfeiture to be enforced and makes numerous provisions for the operation of the roads by the government.

No Writ For Iasigi.

Washington, April 20.—An order was issued by the supreme court in the case of Joseph Iasigi, late consul of the Turkish government at Boston, charged with embezzlement, directing that the mandate of this court refusing Iasigi's petition for a writ of habeas corpus be issued at once instead of waiting the usual 30 days.

Will Take Part In the Relay Race.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 20.—The second competition among the candidates for the purpose of selecting persons to represent Cornell in the relay race at Philadelphia was held here, and J. D. Kennedy and E. J. Davidson were chosen. These men made their quarters in 54 1-5. These, with W. L. Daniels and H. L. Taylor, complete the team.

Death of Haverhill's Mayor.

Haverhill, Mass., April 20.—Mayor Benjamin F. Brickett was stricken by apoplexy while sitting in a chair at his home on Main street and died after lingering for a few hours in an unconscious state. He was born in this city April 10, 1846, and was prominent in Democratic politics. He leaves a wife.

Fishermen Have Bad Luck.

St. Johns, N. F., April 20.—A number of American fishing vessels are in Placentia bay seeking bait, but none is obtainable. One vessel lost two seamen, who were swept overboard in a recent gale. The schooner Shenandoah lost her dories and deck gear and had one man badly injured.

Get all you can.

Some say that the hypophosphites alone are sufficient to prevent and cure consumption, if taken in time. Without doubt they exert great good in the beginning stages; they improve the appetite, promote digestion, and tone up the nervous system. But they lack the peculiar medicinal properties and the fat found in cod-liver oil. The hypophosphites are valuable, and the cod-liver oil is valuable.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites contains both of these in the most desirable form. The oil is thoroughly emulsified; that is, partly digested. Sensitive stomachs can bear an emulsion when the raw oil cannot be retained. As the hypophosphites, the medicinal agents in the oil, and the fat itself are each good, why not have the benefit of all?

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

Just as Good is not SCOTT'S EMULSION.

"Oh, that doesn't matter. A mule has no faith in a veterinary surgeon, yet he gets cured all the same."

"I see that you are your own washerwoman," said Mrs. Spitely, who was leading her poodle past the place.

"Yes," retorted Mrs. Snapley, "but, thank goodness, I'm not reduced to playing nurse girl for a dog."—Detroit Free Press.

"I don't know whether to go to London or not."

"You shouldn't back out, now that success has crowned your efforts."

"Success? Efforts? What efforts?"

Little Boy: "Never. We have moral suasion at our school."

"What's that?"

"Oh, we get kep' in, and stood up in corners, and locked out, and locked in, and made to write one word a thousand times, and scowled at, and jawed at, and that's all."

DELUGED TERRITORY

Serious Reports From Different Flood Stricken Districts.

THE RELIEF COMMITTEE'S REPORTS.

Outlook From All Parts of the Country Is Still Discouraging and Great Danger Is Imminent—Travel Is Much Impeded.

Memphis, April 20.—Another break in the levee on the Louisiana side is reported from a point 20 miles below Natchez, Miss. The extent of the break cannot be learned. The situation at Biggs, where the water is rushing through the crevasse in torrents, is growing worse. Madison Parish is fast becoming inundeated, and the water will extend to other parishes, destroying thousands of acres of newly planted crops. Vicksburg, Natchez and other river points are crowded with refugees, and everything possible is being done to alleviate their suffering. The situation throughout the delta is unchanged. It was a beautiful day in the flood stricken section, and the planters hope that the waters will be carried away in time to make a good crop. At Memphis, the river is slowly falling, and at Cairo a decided fall is reported.

The executive committee of the flood sufferers' relief committee of Memphis state that, owing to the action of the general government, the calls on the Memphis relief committee have been so reduced that in the judgment of the committee the funds now in hand will be sufficient for demands.

Farms Inundated.

Kansas City, April 20.—Although a strong southern wind yesterday drove the water into the Missouri over the swamp lands in the suburb of Harlem across the banks, the river has practically remained stationary since Saturday night. Because of the rise in the Harlem more or less farming property has been inundated, but the damage will not be great.

Travel Seriously Impeded.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 20.—Trains are still delayed, the most serious stoppage being on the Burlington system between Leavenworth and Atchison, its trains being from three to six hours late. Farmers think the dike at the bridge above here is responsible for their lands being inundated, and there is some talk of destroying it.

Bridges Swept Away.

Pinckney, Mich., April 20.—The milldam here broke, carrying away eight bridges, including two large ones in this village. Fences, trees and buildings along the stream were carried away. Some $40,000 damage to bridges, mill property, etc., was done in the village alone.

Wreck of the Maszna.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., April 20.—The steamer Maszna, Captain Frank Dana, plying between this place and Alexandria bay, was sunk near the mainland, about seven miles up the St. Lawrence river from Ogdensburg. She was bound for the Thousand islands with an all deck load, 15 tons of plaster and 3,000 feet of lumber for the New York Casino. A 50 mile an hour northwest gale was blowing, and the steamer was obliged to run broadside to the wind for some distance. The windows in the bulwarks were crushed in by the swells and her cargo shifting, an effort was made to beach the steamer. She is now resting in 14 feet of water. Wreckers will go to her as soon as the gale dies down.

Pullman Company's Appeal.

Philadelphia, April 20.—The stockholders of the Central Transportation company re-elected the present board of directors, with President B. P. Obdyke as its head. The annual report, which was adopted, stated that the directors have used the utmost endeavors to bring to a termination the suit with the Pullman Palace Car company. The United States supreme court had, however, declined to advance upon the docket the appeal of the Pullman company from the decree for $4,235,000 in favor of the Central company, and the case will therefore not be reached in regular turn until next winter.

Newcastle Fortifications.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 20.—The work on the new fortifications at Newcastle has been begun, and the contractors have a gang of men supposed to be Austrians employed in preparing the ground for the masonry. These men sleep and are fed in the old commissary building at Fort Constitution. Visitors are excluded from the site of the fortifications except by pass.

Gunboat Ready For Trial.

Bath, Me., April 20.—It is announced at the Bath Iron works that the gunboat Newport will be ready for her official trial trip as soon as the government can send a board of inspectors here to take charge of the test. The trial will be held over the mile course off Southport.

Business Improving.

Bristol, R. I., April 20.—The mill of the National Rubber company, which started up a week ago, after a short shutdown, has received increased orders for tennis shoes. In consequence of this the clothing and fancy departments started. They have been closed for some time.

Sudden Fall of Temperature.

Albany, April 20.—Within 12 hours there was a change of 31 degrees in the temperature here. The wind during the forenoon blew at a velocity of 34 miles an hour. The temperature at 8 a. m. was 60 and at 8 p. m. 29 degrees.

Elected Bank President.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., April 20.—Hon. Thomas Spratt has been elected vice president of the Ogdensburg bank at a meeting of the directors. He is a law partner of Hon. Daniel Magone, ex-collector of the port of New York.

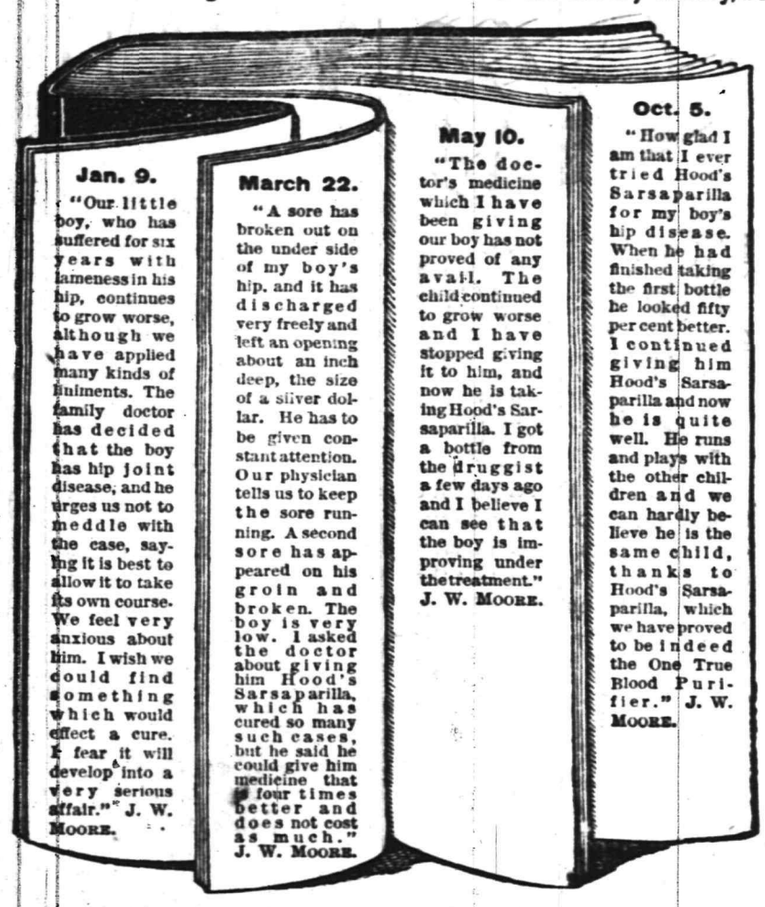
Pages from the Diary of Capt. John W. Moore, Newbury, Ind.



Jan. 9.

"Our little boy, who has suffered for six years with lameness in his hip, continues to grow worse, although we have applied many kinds of liniments. The family doctor has decided that the boy has hip joint disease, and he urges us not to meddle with the case, saying it is best to allow it to take its own course. We feel very anxious about him. I wish we could find something which would effect a cure. I fear it will develop into a very serious affair." J. W. MOORE.

March 22.

"A sore has broken out on the under side of my boy's hip, and it has discharged very freely and left an opening about an inch deep, the size of a silver dollar. He has to be given constant attention. Our physician tells us to keep the sore running. A second sore has appeared on his groin and broken. The boy is very low. I asked the doctor about giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has cured so many such cases, but he said he could give him medicine that is four times better and does not cost as much." J. W. MOORE.

May 10.

"The doctor's medicine which I have been giving our boy has not proved of any avail. The child continued to grow worse and I have stopped giving it to him, and now he is taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I got a bottle from the druggist a few days ago and I believe I can see that the boy is improving under the treatment." J. W. MOORE.

Oct. 5.

"How glad I am that I ever tried Hood's Sarsaparilla for my boy's hip disease. When he had finished taking the first bottle he looked fifty per cent better. I continued giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he is quite well. He runs and plays with the other children and we can hardly believe he is the same child, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have proved to be indeed the One True Blood Purifier." J. W. MOORE.

Pages like those above are penned in the personal records of thousands of people.

In the memories of many more the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is indelibly imprinted. The cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla are literally written in blood — in blood made pure, enriched and vitalized, cured of scrofulous taints, salt rheum, boils, pimples, spring humors — in blood which properly builds up the nerves, strengthens the stomach and gives that tonic to the system so imperatively needed in the Spring.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

LABOR MEN TO MEET.

They Will Hold an Important Meeting In Washington.

Washington, April 20.—An important meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor is being held in this city at federation headquarters. The following named members of the council are in attendance:

President, Samuel Gompers; first vice president, P. J. Maguire; second vice president, James Duncan; third vice president, James O'Connell; fourth vice president, M. M. Garland; treasurer, John B. Lennon, and secretary, Frank Morrison.

The books are reported in excellent condition and the finances of the association flourishing. By previous arrangement the executive council called upon President McKinley at the White House, where a conference was held, lasting an hour.

Various propositions of interest to labor and legislation in the interest of the wage earners were discussed. A petition was presented asking for the pardon of E. W. Clark, who is confined in Thomaston prison, Maine, under charge of mutiny. The executive council, while urging the appointment of no particular person for any office, urged upon the president the inadvisability of appointing persons to important offices to administer laws in the interest of labor who were not in sympathy with labor organizations. It was decided to push before congress all the labor bills indorsed by the association.

President Gompers was authorized to enter into arrangements with the National Union of the Woodworkers' unions of the southern states and of the intermountain and Pacific coast with the view of the appointment of special organizers among the workers of the trades in these respective districts.

The Ohio State federation had applied for a charter, and a contest was made against the issuance of it by a number of workers, but the decision reached was that the charter be issued.

The conclusion was reached in reference to the Amalgamated Association of Metal Sheet workers requiring that this association abide by the decision of the federation convention to revoke the charter of its "unfair local" in New York city, or that all central bodies throughout the country would be called upon to refuse these locals recognition and affiliation.

RECEIVER APPLIED FOR.

An Old Established Business Said to Have Been Mismanaged.

Trenton, April 20.—Argument on a motion for the appointment of a receiver for the American Grocery company of New York was heard by Judge Kirkpatrick in the United States circuit court. The court reserved a decision. The application was made by David Hunt and other stockholders of the company.

The American Grocery company is a New Jersey corporation, which is capitalized at $3,000,000. It was organized in 1894 and was a reorganization of the Thurber, Whyland company, which went into the hands of a receiver in 1893. The ground upon which the application is based is not that the company is insolvent, but on account of alleged mismanagement by its president and directors.

It is contended that the business has been unlawfully changed from that of a large wholesale business to a small specialty business; that the sale of staples in which there were large profits had been improperly discontinued; that the practice of taking stock twice a year has been discontinued; but that financial statements continue to be issued; that the only dividend ever declared was made without knowledge that it could be paid and was not earned; that President Marsalis is causing stock to be sold below par, and that the business generally is being conducted to the injury of the stockholders.

THE GAMMELL ESTATE.

The Wealthy Newport Woman's Will Is Offered For Probate.

Newport, R. I., April 20.—The will of Mrs. Elizabeth Amory Gammell, who died at Dover, England, April 1, has been offered for probate here.

The will is dated Nov. 4, 1896, and is a very long document, covering elaborate provisions for ten trusts and the partition of her Newport estate. Her sons, Robert Ives Gammell and William Gammell, are named as executors without bond, and are exempted from rendering an inventory of the estate.

The specific legacies named in the will will exceed $500,000 in amount, being chiefly to her children and grandchildren. No estimate can be formed of the amount of Mrs. Gammell's estate, as her investments were diversified and scattered all over the country. She paid taxes on $920,000 real and personal property in Newport, and owned also much valuable real estate in Providence, besides lands in several western states.

FOR THE NAVAL PARADE.

Departure of Admiral Bunce's Squadron For New York.

Washington, April 20.—Admiral Bunce has sailed with his entire squadron from Fortress Monroe for Tompkinsville, N. Y.

There were seven vessels in line, as follows: The New York, Maine, Texas, Raleigh, Amphitrite and Terror. The squadron will be joined at New York by the Dolphin, upon which the president will make his review of the naval display in New York harbor on the occasion of the Grant monument ceremonies.

Admiral Brown, the senior officer of the navy, who has been detached from the command of the Norfolk navy yard and is now waiting retirement, was at the navy department. He has been invited to New York to represent the United States navy, as he did in the inaugural proceedings here, and his visit was with a purpose of consulting Secretary Long on the matter.

Body of a Missing Man Found.

South Sudbury, Mass., April 20.—The body of S. B. Nickerson of Everett, Mass., who has been missing from that city for some days, has been found in Hop brook. The body was lying in only one foot of water, and it is supposed that Mr. Nickerson fell into the water while suffering from an attack of heart disease. He was 50 years old and was visiting this town on business.

CHAPMAN CONVICTED

The Judgment of the Lower Courts Sustained.

HE MUST SERVE A TERM IN PRISON.

The Decision Was Rendered on Account of His Refusal to Answer Questions During the Trial of the Sugar Cases.

Washington, April 20.—In the matter of Elverton R. Chapman, the New York broker who was convicted in the district courts and sentenced to imprisonment for 30 days for refusing to answer certain questions asked by the senate committee investigating the charges against the alleged sugar combination in connection with the passage of the Wilson tariff bill in 1894, the supreme court, in an opinion read by Chief Justice Fuller, affirmed the judgment of the lower courts.

The court found that the sections of the revised statutes authorizing the prosecution were constitutional and within the powers of the two houses of congress; that in this particular investigation the senate had jurisdiction and the committee the power to ask any question pertinent thereto; and that the questions asked did not come within the range of the fourth amendment to the constitution protecting against unreasonable seizure and search.

Under this decision Messrs. Havemeyer and Searles of the sugar company and Messrs. Edwards and Shriver, newspaper correspondents, who have also been indicted, are subject to prosecution and punishment for their refusal to answer certain questions in the same inquiry. A petition for a certiorari to bring up the whole record in the case was not decided.

Law Held to Be Constitutional.

The court held that the matter was entirely within the constitutional powers of the senate. The right to expel extends to all cases where the offense is such as in the judgment of the senate is inconsistent with the trust and duty of a member, said the chief justice, and the resolutions under which the inquiry was conducted indicated that the transactions referred to were deemed by the senate reprehensible and deserving of condemnation and punishment.

The court held also that the refusal to answer questions was not only a contempt of that body, but that it was also an offense against the United States congress, which possessed the constitutional power to enact a statute to compel the attendance of witnesses and to compel them to make disclosures of evidence to enable the respective bodies to discharge their legitimate functions; and it was to effect this that the act of 1857 was passed, but this act did not constitute a delegation of the power to punish for contempt.

While it was true that two offenses might be involved, it was improbable that in any case accumulative penalties would be imposed whether by imposing penalties merely or of eliciting the answers desired; but, added the court, it was "quite clear that the contumacious witness is not subjected to jeopardy twice for the same offense, since the same act may be an offense against one jurisdiction and also against another."

Republicans In Caucus.

Washington, April 20.—The Republican senators were in caucus nearly two hours and adjourned when the senate met without reaching any agreement. The entire time was consumed in a discussion of committee organization with incidental mention of the tariff. The proposition which had been submitted by the Democratic managers to the Republican committee was opposed by many senators, more especially by Senators Chandler, Baker and Elkins. The caucus adjourned to meet at the call of the committee having the reorganization in charge. It was developed that there was a great deal of difference of opinion among the Republicans as to the course which should be pursued.

The committee on committees, in submitting the proposition coming from the Democrats as to reorganization, were of the opinion that this was the best arrangement that could be made. The opponents of this proposition claimed that if the Democrats had the power to dictate so much of the organization of the senate they had the power to dictate the whole and should take the responsibility.

It was asserted by them that there was in reality no coalition of the Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans such as would warrant the assertion of dictation as to committees. Quite a sentiment has developed in favor of reporting to the senate a plan of reorganization as if the Republicans were in control, and allowing a vote to be had.

The committee on committees will continue its work, but whether upon the lines of filling all majority places with Republicans has not been determined and will be the principal subject of discussion when the committee again meets.

Indian Bill Passed.

Washington, April 20.—The senate has passed the Indian appropriation bill. It is substantially the same as it passed the house and can occasion little division save on the amendment opening the Uncompahgre Indian reservation.

Resolutions of inquiry were agreed to asking the secretary of state as to the operation of the reciprocity treaties made under the McKinley act.

Mr. Vest introduced his resolution declaring illegal the recent order of the secretary of the treasury relative to imports arriving after April 1.

The senate in executive session agreed on May 5 at 4 o'clock as the time for taking the vote on the arbitration treaty.

International Postal Congress.

Washington, April 20.—Postmaster General Gary has appointed the committee on arrangements for the International Postal congress to be held here early next month.

The committee consists of First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath, chairman; Captain N. M. Brooks, superintendent of foreign mails; Captain James E. White, superintendent of the railway mail service; Dr. Wesley R. Davis, the United States postage stamp agent, and Mr. N. A. C. Smith, chief of the appointment division.

A SOCIALISTIC COLLAPSE.

The collapse of the Socialistic experiment on the Ward farm near Campgaw, in Bergen county, surprised no one who had paid any attention to the first outlines of the scheme. About the only definite plan that that the projectors had ready to announce when they disclosed their amiable design, was that of publishing papers in four or five different languages. A colony of Socialistic workers with competent farmers and gardeners at its head might make a success on a New Jersey farm. But a colony which places polyglot literature and oratory first and farm labor last in the list of its ambitions, was not likely to prosper in the service of exacting, though bountiful, Mother Earth.—Newark News.

EASTER MONDAY DANCE.

Successful Event Conducted by Court Pride of Foresters.

The sixth annual ball, held in the Cycle Adademy under the auspices of Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 49, F. of A., last evening, was a successful affair. It was 10 o'clock when the dancing commenced, and to the strains from Prof. O'Reilly's orchestra it was continued until this morning. The committee deserve a word of mention for the manner in which the affair was carried out.

Following were the committees: General Director, J. J. Goff; floor manager, Edward J. McCann; assistant floor managers, Peter Van Houten, James Fosbre; reception committee, J. Galbraith, S. H. Lunger, Thos. Osment, Lewis Feiring, A. Kreger, P. Fennessy, P. Provost; committee of arrangements, J. J. Goff, L. Feiring S. H. Lunger, T. Osment, J. Galbraith, Edward McCann.

Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry street, Alton, Ill, suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. Park and and North avenues.

THEATRICAL.

"All the world loves a lover" is an oft repeated axiom, and there are in everyone's life moments here and there when he would fain follow his imagination and become the hero of story and legend. "The Prisoner of Zenda" is not only the ideal romantic play for which everyone has been looking, but it is a play that is full of action animation and life, and its incidents are so exciting and so beautifully woven together that the spectator loses all thoughts of his real environment and becomes to a certain extent hypotized by its fascinating delightful unrealities. The play, which is produced by arrangement with Mr. Daniel Frohman, Manager of the Lyceum Theatre, New York, will be presented by a sterling company of artists, and elaborate scenic effects and costumes, ensuring a thoroughly metropolitan production. At Music Hall next Monday night.

"The Wizard of the Nile" returned to the Broadway Theatre, New York, last night. Frank Daniels, a popular comedian, who not only tries to be but really is funny, repeated his former success as Kibosh, the charlatan magician, who finds himself playing in luck one moment and in peril of his life the next. Adele Ritchie, made her first appearance in New York as Cleopatra, the role formerly played by Dorothy Morton. She was in good voice and was repeatedly encored. Louise Royce, Walter Allen and Louis Casavant, of the original company, played and sang parts to the satisfaction of the audience. All the new members did well, especially Leonard Walker, as Ptarmigan, Cleopatra's music teacher. His love songs were all redemanded.

AND WHEREAS, as to real estate taxes for the year 1881 and the years prior thereto, the Common Council has power, subject to the approval of the Mayor, to make such revisions, alternation, adjustment, and settlement of such taxes and all interest and penalties thereon as may be deemed for the best interests of the city, provided the amount of such taxes as adjusted be paid within thirty days from the date of such adjustment; and there appear to be equitable reasons why such power should be exercised with respect to the taxes above referred to in the case of such delinquents as may apply to the Common Council for that purpose.

AND WHEREAS, power to compromise said past due taxes, interest and penalties will cease at once upon the appointment of commissioners under the "Martin Act" and motion for the appointment of such commissioners by Supreme Court Justice Van Syckel will be made on May 29th next:

RESOLVED, That delinquents in the payment of real estate taxes for the years 1881 and prior thereto be notified by advertisement in the official newspapers that if they desire to apply to the Common Council to amicably adjust and settle unpaid real estate taxes for the years 1881 and prior thereto so as to have any part of said taxes or the interest and penalties thereon reduced or cancelled, it will be necessary to present to the Common Council their written applications specifying in detail the property and taxes in question on or before the date of the meeting of the Common Council to be held May 3d, 1897.

Adopted by the Common Council, April 8th, 1897.

J. T. MacMURRY, City Clerk.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Walter Runyon is very ill with symptoms bordering on pneumonia.

William Zeilenbach spent Easter with his parents at Danville, Pa.

Arthur Giddis, of Port Richmond, S. I., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Giddis.

Mrs. Susan Spinner and daughter, Miss Lillie, of New York, are visiting Miss Kate Karl on Jefferson avenue.

A small delegation of Dunellen's young people attended the ball in the Cycle Academy at Plainfield last evening.

Miss Nellie Kelly is able to leave the house again after a confinement to her room for several days past from the grip.

The members of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association met in the Town Hall last evening and paid in their regular dues.

Boating on the New Market lake is now excellent in fair weather, but the temperature has been a trifle too cool, except for the oarsman, to enjoy it.

Meeker Hetfield is still on the sick list, and he has come to the conclusion that his ailment is the grip. Mr. Hetfield walks out, however, on pleasant days.

The incandescent lamps worked poor last night. In the postoffice and some of the stores the lights went out entirely about 7 o'clock, but the darkness was of short duration.

Miss Georgianna Reusch, of Cranford, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reusch, on Main street. Before returning home she will also visit relatives and friends at New Market.

While scorching around the depot park on his wheel about dusk, last evening, a young lad whose name is said to be Vail, took a header. The wheel wasn't much injured, neither was the rider.

Mrs. W. H. Coles is slowly regaining her health, but she is yet very weak. She is now able to sit up for an hour or two at a time, but she has not yet been able to leave the sick room and go down stairs.

A brother of Dr. Gaston, of Plainfield, who lives in the far West, has come East to visit his mother who is very ill in Philadelphia. Dr. Gaston and his brother, it is said, have not seen each other before in twenty-one years.

A half-dozen burly-looking tramps alighted from an east-bound "black-star" train at the Greenbrook tanks yesterday afternoon, and would have started in housekeeping in the sand-house had not a railroad detective come along and routed them.

Since the New Market pond was let out a few weeks ago, together with most of the fish in it, there has been but few anglers along its banks. A little way up stream near what is known as the iron bridge, the fishing is good, however, and within the past day or two catfish weighing from one pound to 1½ pounds, have been caught there.

The pulpit decorations in St. John's Church, Sunday, consisting of cut flowers, palms and potted plants, were arranged by the Misses Annie and Lena Maier and Miss Mollie Moynahan. Special Easter music by the choir, with Prof. Neunan at the organ, and a sermon on "Christ's Resurrection," by Rev. Father Bogaard, was that which marked the day in this church.

An amusing incident happened on the street railway, Saturday afternoon. The car was going West, and on the way down a middle-aged man was taken aboard. He handed the conductor a silver quarter, and in return ten pennies and a silver dime was proffered him in change. "I don't want them pennies," said the passenger, and again he ejaculated: "I won't have those pennies." The conductor simply laid the change alongside the passenger on the seat and went on collecting his other fares. The man looked like a whipped school boy, as he gathered up the change and tucked it away in his inside pocket.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Ernest Haines, of New York, spent Easter visiting old friends in town.

Miss Susan L. Parse is spending a few days with friends in Brooklyn.

William Bacon, of Haverstraw, N. Y., was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

Miss Lulu Robison, spent her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robison.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jimerson, of Westfield, were the guests of the'r daughter, Mrs. George Marsh, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith, of New Market, spent Easter with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Very appropriate Easter Day exercises were held by the Sunday-school of the Baptist church Sunday afternoon in the chapel of the church. A pleasing programme consisting of responsive reading, singing of anthems, remarks by Dr. Parks to the children, and a very pleasing hymn entitled "Children's Prayer," was rendered by five little girls. The chapel was filled with members of the Sunday-school and their friends. Much credit is due to Mr. Hall, the superintendent, who has worked hard to bring the Sunday-school up to its present standard.

ROSA BONHEUR.

A FEW INTERESTING RECOLLECTIONS OF HER EARLY LIFE.

She Labored Under Disadvantages When Young—Her Father Evidently an Unworthy Parent—Was Once Apprenticed to a Dressmaker.

Rosa Bonheur, though born in 1822, is not yet old enough to publish her memoirs, she says, but the Revue des Revues has some delightful recolections from the veteran artist's fascinating pen.

When in her seventh year Rosa's parents moved to Paris from the country, where the little girl had been born. Rosa was sent to a boys' school, "where she gave as many blows as she received." While living in the country Rosa had a dog, a cow and a goat for playmates, "and it was my greatest delight to cut out their likenesses from paper. I commenced to do this even before I was four years old," says the artist.

When Rosa was ten years old, her father abandoned his family; in 1835 her mother died and Monsieur Bonheur returned home only to apprentice little Rosa to a dressmaker. The occupation did not suit the girl, and she sought employment with an heraldic designer, at he same time spending all her leisure time at the Louvre in study. Soon she began to make copies of some of the great paintings there, which readily sold.

When Rosa was twenty-three, the family once more moved into the country, and the budding artist could now indulge her fancies for studying animal life. She was in the open for days and weeks at a time, observing domestic animals and game. And not content with that, she made it her business to visit the slaughter houses regularly in order to study the anatomy of her favorite subjects. Her first original painting was exhibited in the Saloon in 1846. It represented a number of rabbits at play.

In 1850 she began her greatest painting, "The Horse Fair," which was subsequently exhibited in all the great cities of America with immense financial success. The original owner of it was a M. Gambard. After "The Horse Fair" came back from its triumphal march through America, it was resold for the sum of $60,000. In 1855 Rosa Bonheur was rich enough to buy the estate of By, in the heart of the forest of Fontainebleau, where she has since lived.—New York Journal.

Oratory Out of Place.

A young lawyer jumped up to defend a case of stealing in which the accused man had retained him. Unfortunately he had failed to thoroughly acquaint himself with the facts of the case, other than that his client had been arrested for stealing.

"Your honor," he cried, "I ask you does the prisoner look like a man that would steal? Does he look like a man that would suffer his honesty to be demeaned by appropriating another man's gold? No! a thousand times no! He is a patriotic citizen of the country, one of the proud upholders of our grand republic, and I say it is an outrage for the plaintiff to accuse such a gentleman of theft. Think of his friends that will weep over his disgrace undeservedly thrust upon him. Think of the blight upon this man's existence. I say the accused is too manly, too generous, too noble a specimen of hum—"

Smash went the judge's gavel as he roared out:

"Quit that! Young man, this is a case of hog-stealing!"

The Chinaman's Answer.

Sing Lee was an enterprising young Chinaman who conducted a laundry in a small mining camp in Colorado some years ago. His never-failing good-humor made him a universal favorite, and on more than one occasion the boys found that he had a ready tongue in his head. A Presidential election occurred about this time, and one of the boys, an Irishman, remarked to Sing: "Well, Sing, yez'll have to be goin' to China now. The Irish be goin' to run things here, and they won't have any hathen Chinee around." Quick as a flash Sing retorted: "All light, me go Ireland. Ilish no lun things there."—Youth's Companion.

Florida Fishing Law.

One section of the fishing laws of Florida provides that "Whoever fishes for shad between sundown on Saturday afternoon and sunrise on Monday morning of every week shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $200 and by confiscation of boat and fishing tackle used in such unlawful acts."—New York Tribune.

Glass Bricks.

Glass bricks are made extensively in Germany. They are blown with a hollow centre, containing rarefied air, and they are said to be as strong and durable as clay bricks. They freely admit light. So far, the glass brick has only been used in the construction of conservatories, and has been voted a success.

Metal Fatal to Microbes.

Metals are fatal to microbes, so there is little danger that bacteria may be transferred on coins. A scientist says that at a temperature of 95 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit, which is common in the pockets where money is carried, the destruction of microbes occurs within three hours.

How to Test Diamonds.

To test diamonds easily, place wax on the back of the gems. This will not affect the brilliancy of good stones, but will make paste imitations look worthless directly.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

ITALIAN TROOPS ANNIHILATED

An Expedition Cut to Pieces In Southern Abyssinia.

Paris, April 20.—The Temps publishes a story saying that an Italian expedition under Major Bottego has been annihilated in southern Abyssinia. It appears that the Ethiopian general commanding at Baro requested Major Bottego to halt until the expedition was authorized by the negus to proceed.

The Italians, it is stated, fired on the messengers bearing the flag of truce and killed them. In the fight between the Abyssinians and Italians which followed only two of the latter succeeded in escaping.

In consequence of the peace negotiations with Emperor Menelik, it was supposed the Italian campaign against the Abyssinians had been ended for the present.

An Anglo-Egyptian expedition had been sent to the aid of the Italians holding Kassala.

Germany, Austria and England all advised King Humbert's government to conclude a peace with Menelik. Then negotiations were commenced for bringing the strange war to a close. The conditions proposed were the establishment of the "status quo ante," the boundary of the line of the Italian possessions being drawn at the Moreb river. Tiger was to form a buffer state under Ras Makonnen. The ruler of this state was to be named by Italy and Abyssinia acting together.

The Abyssinians, after they had won the victory at Adowa, invaded the country around Entiscio and pushed forward to Godefelassi, occupying the fort of Ugri Adi, which had been evacuated by the Italians.

THE PARNELL CONVENTION.

Principal Points of the Programme to Be Carried Out.

Dublin, April 20.—The Parnell convention, summoned by John Redmond to meet in this city, will be the most important event of its kind since the death of Charles Stewart Parnell.

In an interview Mr. Redmond said: "Our party is stronger than it has been for a long time. It proposes a definite step forward. Our programme embraces four principal points—first, the foundation of an independent Irish league in which agrarian interests shall not be dominant, but shall be founded upon the broader and sounder basis of independent political action for the benefit of the whole Irish nation; second, civil and religious liberty and no further interference of priests in politics; third, absolute independence of alliances with any English party and a reverting to our old demand for co-ordinate parliaments, the principle of federalism in Mr. Gladstone's home rule proposal which we were formerly willing to accept in a spirit of compromise having been rejected by parliament; fourth, manhood suffrage, which would give us a political majority in Ireland, and is a plank that ought to commend itself to our friends in the United States who believe in the rule of the majority.

"We shall insist on the third point with all the power we possess. Our programme will be privately discussed and publicly stated and explained this evening, when Mr. Stuyvesant Chandler will speak."

GRECO-TURKISH WAR

After Fierce Fighting the Combatants Take Brief Rest.

HONORS THUS FAR FAIRLY EVEN.

Effects of the War on Europe—Sharp Differences Between the Military and Maritime Powers—The Gulf of Arta Closed by Turkey.

London, April 20.—In spite of the fact that the hostilities on the Greek frontier have caused but little excitement here, communications are in progress between the foreign office and Rome, France and Athens. It is reported that among the other matters considered is the expediency of ordering the international fleets to leave Cretan waters and to go in the direction of Salonika and the Dardanelles, to watch the fighting, with a view to localizing it if necessary by naval intervention. Should this suggestion, which is understood to emanate from the Italian foreign office, be acted upon, it is probable that only half the fleet of foreign warships would be withdrawn for such purpose, the other half remaining to continue the Cretan blockade.

There is said to be a sharp difference of opinion between the military powers, Russia, Austria-Hungary and Germany, and the maritime powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, as to the most expeditious and least violent methods of compelling a cessation of hostilities should this result not be reached by the exercise of diplomatic pressure at Athens and Constantinople. The likelihood is that the force to be employed by Europe, if a resort to force becomes necessary, would be by sea, as the contingencies of military intervention might be more serious than the hostilities now in progress.

It is reported at the foreign office that the communications received here from the marquis of Salisbury after his interview with Queen Victoria at Nice support the theory that the British government is using its utmost energy to persuade both the combatants to make a cessation of the conflict at the stage which it has now reached. M. Hanotaux, who received the Greek minister to France late yesterday afternoon, is understood to have assured him that while France could not tolerate the indefinite promulgation of war and would never consent to any essential modification of the existing territories of Greece and Turkey, she would continue for the present her policy of nonintervention, except so far as intervention might be necessary to prevent the spread of the contest to other combatants.

The situation on the frontier has not, according to the latest advices, been materially modified since last night. Both the Turks and the Greeks are resting from the tremendous exertions of Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The troops of Edhem Pasha were half dead with fatigue and hunger when the firing slacked up.

The latest advices from the Macedonian frontier are that the Greek troops are advancing to reoccupy their positions at Milouna and at Gritzovali, the latter of which, it is alleged, was abandoned owing to a misunderstanding by the general in command, who interpreted as an order of retreat what was really intended as an order to advance.

Captain Tagarde, who was wounded at Gritzovali, shot himself in order to avoid falling into the hands of the Turks. The Greeks report that the Turks lost 7,000 killed and wounded at Reveni, but this estimate is probably excessive. The Greek engineers constructed a bridge at Pachyskalos to enable their troops to cross the river. It is stated that the Turkish forces attacking Reveni numbered more than 10,000 men.

Greek Steamer Sunk.

Salonika, April 20.—A Turkish torpedo boat has sunk the Greek steamer Athens in the gulf of Salonika. On board were insurgents and members of various secret societies. A general panic prevails here. All vessels are prohibited from leaving the gulf. The Turks have seized the Greek steamer Kephaleion.

Turks Defeated at Reveni.

Larissa, April 20.—The Greeks have defeated the Turks at Reveni, and two Greek brigades have entered Turkish territory in different directions and penetrated to Damasi, northeast of Zarkos. Another division is trying to flank the Turks, who are retreating in disorder.

The Fighting at Janina.

London, April 20.—A dispatch to The Times from Elassona says that fighting began at Janina on Sunday morning. There is no confirmation of the rumor that 12,000 Turks have occupied the fort at Pontepegadia, on the road from Arta to Janina.

Closed the Gulf of Arta.

Constantinople, April 20.—The Turkish authorities at Prevesa have proclaimed the gulf of Arta closed to all but Turkish ships.

Suicide Identified.

Niagara Falls, April 20.—Ernest F. Markham of Boston was the man who jumped from the suspension bridge last Saturday. Chief of Police Dinan received a photograph of Markham and showed it to the bridge tender, Hackman Nickerson and others who saw the suicide last Saturday. They positively identified it as that of the man who jumped from the bridge. Chief Dinan put the picture in a bunch with others, and none of those who had seen Markham hesitated in picking it out.

Judgment For Damages Sustained.

Trenton, April 20.—The court of errors and appeals affirmed the decision of the Essex circuit court, giving judgment in favor of Edith Behr against the Consolidated Traction company of Newark. Miss Behr is the girl recently sentenced in Elizabeth to three months for perjury while on trial for assault and battery.

Strike at Fort Hancock.

Sandy Hook, N. J., April 20.—The masons and laborers working on the foundations of the buildings to be erected at Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook, are on strike. They want an increase of pay. The masons want 45 cents per hour. They are now getting 40 cents.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Clifford P. Holloway, of LaGrande avenue, is riding a Cleveland wheel, this season.

Clifford Miller, of Park avenue, has a new Spaulding wheel which he will ride this season.

Over eight hundred cyclists visited Plainfield last Sunday. Many of them came from a great distance.

Station Agent J. A. Haynes is riding a "Royal Blue" Hunter wheel, not a a Humber as already stated.

A shipment of twelve Crescents and four Clevelands was received by the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

Sixty of the Cleveland Cyclers enjoyed a run to Paterson Sunday They found the roads in good condition.

Morris Brokaw, of West Front street, is the proud owner of a Crescent wheel recently purchased from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

Dr. Pocock met with an accident while coasting down the steep hill under the railroad bridge at Metuchen, Sunday. His wheel slipped and he was thrown and received a bad cut on the shoulder.

Many of our local tradesmen place cycle stands in front of their places of business for the convenience of their patrons. This is a good thing, but do not spoil it by allowing it to be placed so that the passerby is in danger of brushing against the wheels, which they do if the stand is placed at the curb. Always place the stand across at right angle with the street. This will take up the least room and be more convenient for the user than the other way.

Albert Mott, chairman of the L. A. W. Racing Board, at Baltimore, has made an important ruling in connection with road racing which virtually brings that class of cycle events under the control of the L. A. W., who now have an agreement with the Century Road Club, looking to the better management of the sport. The ruling was brought out by a road race which the Clifton Wheelmen, of Baltimore, had proposed to hold yesterday. Among the entries were six professionals, a man under suspension for two years and a score of amateurs. Upon seeing the list Mr. Mott wrote to the club saying that the suspended man and the professionals must be excluded or else the amateurs would incur the penalty provided for racing against professionals. This same ruling, Mr. Mott declares, will hold good in connection with all road races, and will have the effect of hereafter dividing such contests into professional and amateur events.

Shot One of His Tormentors.

Thomas Markey and his brother, Frank, well-known characters in Metuchen, went to the saloon kept by John Welsh, at Menlo Park, about 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Welsh had trouble with the men once, and when he saw them coming he bolted the door. The Markeys were angry at being shut out, and began to clamor for admission in such a way that Welsh expected that they whould smash in the door, so he drew his pistol and shot twice through the door at the men. One bullet struck in the frame of the door, the other went through the panel and was deflected in its course, so that it struck Thomas Markey's foot. No arrests were made.

A CHARMING HOSTESS.

Miss Hoffman was Surprised, But She Did the Honors Nicely.

A very pleasant surprise was given to Miss L. Bertha Hoffman at her home on Grove street last evening by a few of her friends, the occasion being the anniversary of her eighteenth birthday.

The affair was arranged by her mother, who had the young people meet at the home of a friend and march to her home in a body.

The young lady was completely surprised, but quickly recovered and acted the part of a charming hostess to perfection.

The company were entertained at euchre and a number of other games until midnight when a collation was served, after which everyone departed expressing their pleasure and wishing her many happy returns of the day.

The following were present: The Misses L. Bertha Hoffman, Alice Layton, Lillian Zeisz, Mattie Van Horn and George Flammer, Frank Milligan, Richard Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ammerman and Mrs. J. A. Hoffman.

$7,200 FOR EDITH BEHR.

Verdict in Her Damage Suit Against a Trolley Company is Affirmed.

The Court of Errors and Appeals yesterday affirmed the verdict of the Essex County Circuit Court, which gave a verdict of $7,200 to Edith Behr of Elizabeth. Last fall while riding upon a load of garden truck near Newark the wagon was struck by a car of the Consolidated Traction Company and Edith was thrown out and injured. Miss Behr is now serving a three months' term in jail at Elizabeth for assault and battery, and her case occupied considerable time of the Court of Pardons this month. Her term expires the latter part of next month.

Two Ex-Mayors Work Together.

The special committee of the Park Club which is arranging for the entertainment to be given at the Casino on May 5th, consists of two Ex-Mayors of North Plainfield who are of opposite political faith but are for once of the same opinion, viz. that the entertainment to be given by Eugene Field's daughter will be a success. Miss Mary French Field is not only assured of a cordial welcome on her father's account but her individual merit and ability as a reader and reciter and be sure to win appreciation. Mr. Edwin T. Douglass and Elston W. French are also members of the committee which hopes to give Plainfield a literary and musical entertainment that will be sure of appreciation.

SICK-POISON.

What It Is, and Where It Comes From.

Sick-poison is what makes you sick, irritates your nerves, disorders your functions, saps your strength, makes you miserable.

Different diseases have different poisons, some have several, indigestion more than any.

That is, the symptoms of indigestion are caused by the poisons which are created by undigested food.

When you are sick, try to get rid of your poison.

It is often easier than you think, for all nature is helping you. Only the poison is obstinate, but the first step is to go to the root of it.

The poisons of undigested food, which cause lethargy, headache, dizziness, weakness, bad taste, stomachache, fever, flatulence, nausea, constipation, loss of appetite, jaundice, anæmia, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc., these poisons can be swept away and annihilated by the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Curing the stomach and helping it to digest food, when it is too weak to do so by itself, will purify your system of poison and renew your strength and health.

Shaker Digestive Cordial, a pure, vegetable, digestive tonic, made by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, will cure all disorders caused by the poisons of undigested food when nothing else will give any relief.

Sold by druggists. Ten cents for a trial bottle.

Write for a book on food. Address The Shakers, 30 Reade Street, New York

ANOTHER ROMANTIC WEDDING.

Miss Sadie Hand Married Secretly in New York on Easter Day.

Cupid played pranks rather romantically with the two young ladies of Plainfield on Easter day, for now it becomes known that another secret marriage was solemnized Sunday afternoon without the knowledge of either parent in this case.

Miss Sadie Hand, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hand, of East Fifth street, left this city Saturday afternoon ostensibly for a visit, but in reality to join in marriage with a young man from Connecticut.

When Miss Hand arrived in the Communipaw station of the Central Railroad she was met by John Paul Dorst, of Millbrook, Conn.

The following afternoon they went to the church of Rev. Madison C. Peters, Sixty Eighth street and the Boulevard, and were joined in wedlock.

Miss Hand is well known in this city, being of a petite blonde type and very vivacious. For some time she has been in charge of her father's real estate office on Watchung avenue.

Her husband is said to be employed in a bank and a very worthy young man in all respects.

SOCIAL SEASON RESUMED.

Easter Week Opens With a Delightful Affair for the Young People.

A delightful little dance was given in the Scribner and Newton school building last evening. It was arranged by the Misses Mary Anderson Reinhart and Elsa Pfeiffer. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion with rugs, hangings and cushions. The evening was spent in dancing, while refreshments were served shortly before midnight. The party broke up at an early hour this morning

Among the guests were the Misses Martin, the Misses Bowen, the Misses Hattie Goddard, Margaret Goddard, Lela Cruikshank, Eleanor Williams, Eleanor T. Van Deventer, Grace E. THE HANGING OF A YOUTH SENTIMENT OF SOMERSET COUNTY TURNED AGAINST CLAWSON.

At First, People Felt Sorry For Him on Account of His Youth, But His Actions Caused a Reversal of Feeling.

All hope for a commutation of the sentence of death, that hangs over Elmer Clawson, the young murderer n the Somerset county jail, has been abandoned by his counsel and the matter will not again be brought up before the Court of Pardons. He will be hanged on May 12th.

Clawson's crime was peculiarly brutal and inexcusable and the only hope ever had of a commutation of his sentence lay in his possible moral irresponsibility at the end of his first trial last September, when the verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree was brought in by the jury, so great was the doubt on this point that many influential persons seriously thought of making a plea for mercy in his behalf before the Court of Pardons, but certain things that developed after the trial convinced them that the verdict was just and they made no recommendation to the Court of Pardons. In spite of this, from time to time reports have come of the probable commutation of his sentence, but they have all proved erroneous.

The case of Clawson and the sentiment of the people of Somerset county toward him are interesting. Clawson is a boy of twenty of a type frequently found in the inland counties of New Jersey. He has had practically no upbringing. Three months was sufficient for all his educational needs, and since he was ten years old he has supported himself, chiefly by doing borhood. He not only managed to exist by doing this, but he saved up money to buy a bicycle.

Among the farmers who employed him at times was Harry Hodgett, a young Englishman, who several years ago bought a little farm in Pluckamin township in Somerset county. Last spring Hodgett had his wife and three small daughters come from England to rejoin him. He was well liked and respected. On August 20th last Clawson took his bicycle and rode over to Hodgett's farm to get work. Hodgett told him he had none. Then Clawson asked him how many cows he milked each morning. Hodgett said he milked four. Then Clawson, without any more words, drew a revolver, and, in the presence of Hodgett's wife and children, shot the young Englishman four times. Hodgett fell dead. Clawson jumped on his wheel and rode away, but was caught later in the day by a posse of farmers.

Absolutely no motive for the crime was ever found. The murderer's history revealed no characteristics that would tend to the belief that he would do such a deed. The sentiment of the community was against him, but it is possible that if certain other circumstances had not arisen he would have had its support in an appeal for mercy.

Since 1789 there has not been an execution in Somerset county. There have been murders, but in no other case except one has the evidence led to a sentence of death. The execution is the case of a negro named Johnson, who will be hanged on May 5 for the murder of a woman named Annie Rogers in 1895. He was convicted upon circumstantial evidence, but it was of such a nature that when the appeal was carried to the Supreme Court that body unanimously affirmed the sentence.

When the verdict against Clawson was brought in there was considerable sympathy for him. He was young, and his moral responsibity had not been fully established. His counsel, who had been assigned to his case by Judge Magie, did everything in their power to foster this sentiment in order that when they went to the Court of Pardons they might take with them a substantial petition for mercy from the county people.

The case was taken to the Court of Errors, but a failure was made to get a new trial. Then the case was taken to the Court of Pardons. This was a few weeks ago, and there had happened in that time certain things that had banished any sympathy that might have existed for the man. In the first place certain few things had developed in his case that made it look blacker, and he had made an attempt to kill one of his jailers. Moreover, there had swept over Somerset county a wave of crime. Since the first of the year there have been two murders and two attempted murders there.

These crimes made the people think that heroic measures must be taken, and a sentiment against Clawson set in very strongly. The belief that he was justly sentenced became universal, and the desire to have him pay

WILLIE'S PERILOUS SLIP.

A NEW MARKET LAD'S NARROW ESCAPE FROM A WATERY GRAVE.

Was Fishing in the New Market Pond when an Eel Got onto His Hook and Excited Him so that He Fell Into the Deep Water.

This is a story about a small boy and a large eel, and though fish stories are usually viewed with a good deal of susceptibility as to their truth, this one is certainly correct in all its details.

Willie Pennington is an eight-year-old boy who lives with his parents near the New Market pond. Now it seems that last Monday Willie, who is a sort of a second edition of Izaak Walton, resurrected a pole, a line and a hook which he had used last season in his efforts to inveigle the finny tribe from their native home down in the clear, cooling water that fills the above named pond. After he had got his angling tackle in good shape, Willie went out in the garden and filled a large tomato can full of worms that squirmed and tied themselves into a thousand different knots.

Thus prepared, Willie hied himself to the bank of the pond and dexterously fixed a worm on the hook, spat on it for luck, and then threw the line far out into the depths of the water where his fisherman's intuition told him he might get a bite.

Right here it may be well to say that Willie sat in a perilous position on the brink of the pond, where it slanted to such a degree that a slip would be likely to end in a spill in the water. But Willie kicked the heel of his shoe into the ground and braced himself. It was some time before Willie got a nibble, and then it was such a strong one that the youngster thought there must be a whale in the pond. Pretty soon another nibble came like the first. Suddenly, Willie realized that he had caught something, and he started to pull in the line. The catch, however, wiggled and squirmed so much that Willie lost his head for a moment and rose up not thinking of the slippery place that he was occupying.

That is where he made his mistake, for as quick as a flash Willie went splash into the pond. Willie yelled and pawed the water in the effort to get a foothold, but it was no use—he kept going deeper and deeper. He went down twice and was just on the point of going down a third and last time when Clarence Sofield, who had heard the unfortunate lad's cries, appeared on the scene and plunged into the water and brought Willie to dry land again. He was finally revived and after the excitement of the episode passed off, thought was given to the fishpole that had been dropped when Willie took his plunge.

It was picked up and the hook and line carefully hauled in. There on the end was a large eel, still squirming to get loose.

THE BOYS WENT ASTRAY.

STOLE TURTLES INSTEAD OF GOING TO SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

They Were Detected However, and Finally Brought Back the Pets After Being Interviewed by Mrs. Boice and Frightened

Two little lads did not go to Sabbath-school, last Sunday, but visited the backyard of Eden L. Boice, of Central avenue and West Third street, instead. Now two litile lads wish they had gone to Sunday-school and left Mrs. Boice's turtles alone.

Mrs. Boice likes pets, and having been presented with several little water turtles, she arranged a small pond in the rear of home and there kept the wiggling visitors. Sunday afternoon, all was quiet in the neighborhood of the Boice residence until two youthful invaders wandered around. They discovered the turtles and thereupon they coveted these same turtles. They did not consult Mrs. Boice about the matter, however, but appropriated the pets and fled. Walls have ears, it is said, and somebody, perhaps it was a fence post, told Mrs. Boice that her pets were fast disappearing in the pockets of two naughty boys.

Mrs. Boice went after the intruders to recover possession of her property. The lads fled with guilty consciences. One of the lads, who had commanded the invasion and subsequent capture, persuaded his companion to take the turtles home. Mrs. Boice found out the commander of the expidition and interviewed him soon after. The lad wept large and salty tears, and finally promised to secure the turtles and return them. And so it was that the turtles returned to their resting place after a strange tour, and the two boys wished that they had gone to Sunday-school.

HUMANITY TO ANIMALS.

THE TOPIC DISCUSSED BY THE WOMAN'S BRANCH ALLIANCE.

A Difference of Opinion as to Whether or Not Vivisection Was Cruel—Papers Read on Both Sides—Other Matters.

The last meeting for the season of the Plainfield Branch Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women was held yesterday afternoon in All Souls church. The president, Mrs. David P. Hall, was in the chair, and the subject under consideration was "Humanity toward Animals," and under this head many different issues were discussed, the first of which was vivisection. There were several papers read by the members showing both sides of the question. Some of the women thought that the practice was not harmful while others were of the opposite opinion. One woman remarked that she had a son in college who had told her that there was nothing cruel about vivisection as the animals were physically out of the reach of pain. Mrs. Krom read several articles by well known authors which showed that the practice was cruel and inhuman. Some of the women seemed inclined to doubt the statements made and were very anxious to learn whether they were true. Another member said that in her opinion she thought that the physicians as a class are tender hearted and sympathetic, and they lead a most Christ-like life.

The president said that if all was true that they had heard she thought that the members ought to join the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and that a committee ought to be appointed to investigate the matter. Others thought that it was the duty of the Town Improvement Association to look after the matter.

The docking of horses' and dogs' tails was next discussed and nearly everyone thought that it was a cruel practice. One member stated that there was a law against it and that it ought to be enforced. The next subject was an important one and brought out a lively discussion. It was the wearing of birds, feathers and fur as ornaments. In connection with this Mrs. Krom read a long article which protested against such a practice. In this case everyone present seemed to be of the same opinion as expressed in the article. Regarding the method as to how children should be taught humanity there seemed to be many opinions. Some were in favor of giving children more liberty, while others were of the opinion that they should not have so much. Several instances were cited where children had been taught to be sacrificing to the extreme, and to this there were many adverse criticisms. One woman said that she thought there was a tendency on the part of boys to be cruel to animals, while girls were inclined to shrink when they saw animals being treated in a cruel manner. This part of the programme brought out a great many opinions which proved to be very helpful.

This was the last meeting of the Alliance for the season and the members will not meet again until next fall, when another programme will be arranged for the winter months.

LIFE OF A SAILOR.

Rev. W. C. Crampton Relates Some Thrilling Experiences.

Rev. W. E. Crampton, of this city, gave the third part of his thrilling experiences in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, last evening, before a small but appreciative audience. Those who have heard this speaker before know that he is an interesting talker and his experiences both on land and sea have been wonderful. The previous talks have been in regard to Mr. Crampton's life in the army, but the talk last evening had to do with life on a sailing vessel. Mr. Crampton gave a chapter of the most thrilling experience, and he held his audience spell-bound for over an hour. He related his narrow escapes from water spouts in the Indian Ocean, and his experience with hard-hearted officers on board ship was perhaps the most enjoyable, although everyone present had the feeling that some people have no heart at all.

Mr. Crampton is a very plain speaker, and forthis reason his talks are listened to with great pleasure. It was to be regretted that the audience was so small, for the talk was a most instructive one.

Had His Lantern Stolen.

Some one helped himself to the bicycle lantern belonging to Fred P. Taylor, of Washington Park, one night last week while his wheel was standing in the rear of the Park clubhouse on Washington avenue. Another member lost a lantern the same week.

MUSIC BY YALE BOYS.

SOCIETY TURNED OUT TO ATTEND THE CONCERT IN THE CASINO.

Their Selections, Both Vocal and Instrumental, Were Artistically Rendered and Very Enthusiastically Received.

It is rare that Plainfield gives herself up so completely to an invading host as she did to the sons of old Eli, last night, when they came as members of the Glee, Banjo and Madolin Clubs of Yale University to give their annual concert in this city. All social functions were suspended for the time being and other entertainments were postponed so as not to conflict with the college boys. Although the sale of tickets before the concert was not unually large, the people of Plainfield turned out when the time came and the Casino was crowded to its utmost capacity.

The Yale Clubs were on their Easter tour and came to this city yesterday afternoon, after giving their concert in Old Point Comfort and Washington. Tonight they appear in Jersey City. Plainfield can feel highly honored that the most famous of all the college clubs should select this out of all of Jersey's many beautiful and attractive cities. Aristocratic Orange did not have the privilege of listening to the Yale boys while Elizabeth had to bend to the inevitable and send a delegation of her best people to this city to hear the concert.

The concert was excellent and the audience appreciated it. There is no doubt but that the Yale boys, particularly those of the glee club, are equal to any club of collegians in the country. The programme was divided into three parts in which selections by the three clubs were arranged in delightful order. Of course, there were selections that found more favor with the audience than others, but taken as a whole the concert was a creditable one and thoroughly enjoyable.

The banjo club played with a snap and vigor that made it a favorite at once. The opening selection, "The Handicap March," was rendered in a way that made that familiar two-step seem doubly inspiring. Of course, everything was encored and they had an extensive reportoire of equally attractive numbers. The club played a medley which found particular favor with the audience. The mandolin club, which is really composed of the same members as the banjo club, appeared on the programme but once. Their success with the mandolin was as great as with the banjo.

The glee club was the chief entertainer. There were some powerful voices included in the club and it was plain to be seen that the chorus was well trained. W. J. Lapman, the leader, was worthy of his position and made the hit of the evening in his solos and in the quartette. Although so ill that he was scarcely able to go through his part, he made a lasting impression, his actions and expression greatly assisting in his rendition of the selections.

A quartette, of which he was one, the others being Messrs. Schreiber, Wadsworth, and Taylor, sang negro melodies that were extremely up-to-date aud fairly convulsed the audience with laughter. Lapham's song of the stuttering maid, "Babette," and the modern version of "Jonah," were greatly enjoyed, He was called back five times ere the audience was satisfied.

"Tutti Fruiti" by the glee and banjo clubs was a medley of popular airs with the accompaniment by the banjos. In the other selections, the glee club hummed an accompaniment. Everything they did, in fact, was worthy of note if space permitted.

The hall was decorated with "Yale" shields and Chinese lanterns. After the concert, the chairs were cleared away and the rest of the evening spent in dancing. The dance was an invitation affair for the benefit of the Yale boys.

Appointments for Jerseymen.

The entire New Jersey delegation in the House, and Senator Sewell have endorsed Isaac Moffett, of Glasboro, N. J., for Collector of Internal Revenue of the First District, and the papers have been filed at the Treasury Department. Mr. Moffett will, it is confidently expected, be appointed within a short time. Walter S. Brown, of Vineland, has applied for the position of Chief Clerk of the Internal Revenue Bureau. Congressman Fowler has indorsed E. W. Woolly for postmaster at Union, Union county. There is no doubt of Mr. Woolly's appointment.

New Market Postmaster.

The following New Jersey Postmasters were appointed yesterday: Deerfield Street, Cumberland county, W. G. Brooks, vice J. G. Lewellen, removed; Newmarket, Middlesex county, C. S. Day, vice W. J. Nelson, removed.

A PENETRATING LIGHT.

THE X-RAY MACHINE INSTALLED AT MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL.

It is the Gift of Miss Elizabeth C. Morris and is Highly Appreciated by the Staff of Physicians—Already Used.

The Edison X-ray apparatus was yesterday completely installed at Muhlenberg Hospital, and proves to be a very powerful and perfect machine. Already it has been brought into service in the examination of the broken arm of a little girl, showing a perfect union of the fractured bone.

This most useful addition to the hospital equipment was the gift of Miss Elizabeth C. Morris, of Central avenue, through her physician, Dr. George W. Endicott, to whom she entrusted the selection and purchase of the apparatus. The machine was made and installed by the Edison Manufacturing Company, of No. 110 East Twenty-third street, New York. It is the most powerful X-ray apparatus that has been made, and has been designed entirely by Thos. A. Edison. A handsome brass plate, beautifully engraved by Robert H. Radford, will be placed by the hospital upon the machine, bearing the name of the donor and the date, April 20th, 1897.

Among the innumerable scientific achievements of the last half century perhaps none is destined to take precedence of Prof. Roentgen's discovery of the X rays.

It is impossible to estimate at the present time the far-reaching influence that this latest product of modern science may exert, in opening up fresh field to the scientific investigator, and in ameliorating the lot of suffering humanity. When a few months ago Prof. Roentgen electrified the whole world by the announcement of the marvelous results that had attended his experiments on radiant matter, Mr. Edison immediately gave his attention to the question of producing apparatus by which this discovery could be used practically to the requirements of the medical and scientific professions.

By means of this weird, penetrating light, it is now possible to localize the exact position of bullets and other foreign substances in the human body, to minutely examine all fractures and displacements of the bones, and to observe the actual motions of the heart.

TO RHYME AND ORATORY

RAN THE MIND OF A DRUNKEN MAN YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

John Mellen Recited Poetry and Other Literary Gems While Under the Influence of Jersey Lightning—Arrested.

The poet laureate of Union county arrived in Plainfield yesterday afternoon and entertained a portion of the population of this staid city with some of his choice compositions. John Mellen is the classical name of this wonderful man. Mellen has a peculiarity which makes him an interesting character. He is well educated, but his mind does not takes its poetical turn until the fumes of "Jersey lightning" begin to penetrate the cells in the grey matter of his brain. Then poems, original and otherwise, magnificent orations and declamations flow forth.

Mellen is a resident of Summit and a carpenter by trade, but that does not affect his wonderful ability. Of late the necessary silver, used to convert his mind into a well from which poems of the latest up-to-date style may be drawn, has drawn forth the contents of his pocketbook until it now presents the appearance of having been stepped on by a native from Piscataway. So he decided to walk to Somerville where he was offered a job.

On the way the poet laureate stopped in Plainfield to rest his weary limbs and quench his thirst. The Jersey lightning was tempting, and soon the residents of West Third street were treated to a few well selected recitations. As the spell grew stronger his eloquence waxed louder until Patrolman Flanagan was attracted by the noise. The officer placed the man under arrest for disturbing the peace and started to lead his prisoner to jail. Astonished at this lack of appreciation of talent, the poet thundered forth Marc Antony's address to the Romans. That didn't phase the policeman, so he deserted Shakespeare and tried the effects of Patrick Henry. Flanagan still pressed forward and Byron, Thackeray, Holmes and Longfellow were successively quoted to the delight of the small army of followers that the poet laureate had attracted. Then he tried something original in prose and poetry, orating with wonderful gesticulations on political economy, French history, and various other subjects. He was finally landed in the rookery where he spent the night and was arraigned before the City Judge this morning, penitent and quiet. He was sixty years old and a veteran of the Civil War. He pleaded for mercy and the Judge suspended sentence if he would leave for Somerville at once. Mellen left and is now probably entertaining a select audience in the Somerset county seat.

WAS ARSON INTENDED?

A SMALL FIRE WAS DISCOVERED IN IVINS & CO.'S LUMBER YARD.

Detective Blackford Saw the Light From the Railroad Embankment and Extinguished the Flames—Lumber Nearby.

If Detective John L. Blackford had not happened to be walking down the railroad track, last evening, at about 8 o'clock, the large lumber yard, owned by DeWitt C. Ivins & Co., would probably be a heap of smoking ruins at the present time. There seems no doubt but that an attempt was made to set fire to the lumber yard, and that the only reason that the attempt was unsuccessful was that Blackford happened to see the blaze before it gained any headway. The fire was not visible from the street or rest of the yard, while it was partially hidden from the railroad embankment by the fence.

The lumber yard above mentioned is located on Watchung avenue, next to the railroad, on the eastern side of the street. It is a large one and well stocked with lumber, lathing, and has commodious coal sheds.

It was a few minutes after eight o'clock when Detective Blackford and his father-in-law were walking down the track in the direction of Washington street, with the intention of going home. When they reached a point on the embankment opposite the yard, Blackford noticed a small light in the yard behind the fence. At first he thought it was a lantern, but closer inspection showed that a small fire was burning close to one of the tall piles of lumber.

He entered the yard at once and found a heap of torn papers covered by pieces of broken lath blazing away quite lively. It evidently had not been started ten minutes before. It was directly under the projecting sides of one of the piles of lumber and not five feet from another huge pile of lathing.

Blackford extinguished the flames by kicking dirt over the fire and then reported the matter to the police.

This morning Chief Grant and Assistant Chief Martin, of the fire department, investigated. There was no odor or signs of kerosene, but the sticks seemed to be laid on in too regular order to be the result of chance and a spark from a passing locomotive. There is a theory that the papers may have been blown there by the wind and set fire by a spark, but appearances point toward a different theory for the cause.

SPORTING GOODS.

Complete Stock Carried by the Plainfield Cycle and Sporting Goods Company.

Plainfield has a thoroughly up-to-date cycling and sporting goods house, and the days have passed when a person is obliged to go to New York to secure such things. The Plainfield Cycle and Sporting Goods Company, of North avenue, have taken particular pains to see that a complete stock of everything needed in the sporting goods line is kept in their store. At this place you can purchase anything and everything you want to make a happy and enjoyable summer. They have one of the best stock of wheels to be found in this State, and they are all guaranteed. They also have golf and base-ball goods, of the very best make, and the pleasing part of it is that you don't have to pay fancy prices at this place. Their stock of sundries is unsurpassed and if you are in need of anything in this line you can depend on securing it at this store. Charles Lister is the efficient manager and he has a number of obliging clerks under him that are always ready to give you any information that you may want. A partial list of the wheels recently sold by the above company is as follows:

Thomas Sheppard, H. VanNess, W. Whitehead, J. Clifton, have purchased Marvel wheels; L. E. Linderman, J. Arden and Frank Cullen have purchased Outing wheels, C. B. Purdy, Keating; A. Hoffman and M. Cashin, Apollo.

X-Rays of the Blundering Courier.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—If "X equal the unknown quantity" of the Courier's inaccuracy, it would have to be a big X, a very big X. As regards the apparatus referred to in the Courier of 19th, and now in Muhlenberg Hospital, it is the gift of a woman of high social standing, a warm friend of the hospital. To Dr. Endicott, for his interest and assistance in procuring the apparatus, credit is due, as family physician and friend. In common, however, with every other appliance and instrument belonging to the hospital, the X-ray apparatus is "in charge of" the regular officials and the medical staff of the institution. Tomorrow the physicians of the staff will receive instruction from an expert in the technique of the mechanism in the new black art. X

A FINANCIAL TANGLE

The Affairs of the Bennett and Columbia Mill Companies.

PRESIDENT HADLEY IS ARRESTED.

He Is Sick Abed, and Is Held as a Prisoner In His Own House—Charged With Making False Returns to the State Officials.

New Bedford, Mass., April 21.—Frank B. Hadley, formerly president and treasurer of the Bennett and Columbia mills of this city, has been arrested, charged with perjury in falsifying the returns of the Bennett mills to the secretary of state. Inspector Hathaway, who served the warrant, found Hadley sick in bed, suffering from nervous prostration, the result of the disclosures relative to the condition of the mills. A. J. Selfridge of Boston, Hadley's counsel, was present at the time the warrant was served, and he explained the nature of the document to Hadley. The latter appeared to be in a semi-dazed condition, and although he apparently understood the warrant, he paid little attention to it.

Dr. William E. Brownell, Hadley's attending physician, and Dr. C. D. Prescott, who was called in, both pronounced Hadley's condition such that he could not be removed to the police station with safety, and consequently he will be kept a prisoner in his own house until he is able to appear in the Third district court for arraignment, two policemen being placed on guard meanwhile.

Hadley's bond is $50,000, and up to the present time nobody has been found to stand his bail.

Affairs of the Corporation.

In financial circles it is thought the affairs of the Bennett mills have assumed a brighter aspect, while there is little change in the gloom which surrounds the condition of the Columbia corporation.

A movement is on foot looking to the appointment of two sets of receivers, one for the Bennett and one for the Columbia mills. It is argued that the interests of the two corporations are widely at variance, although there are many points in common, and while the Bennett mills seem to be in better condition than the Columbia, the creditors of the Bennett alone do not care to be longer mixed up with those who are concerned only with the Columbia, but prefer to have their interests kept entirely separate, and this end, it seems to them, will be better attained by the appointment of separate receivers for the different mills.

A group of attachments aggregating $15,000 has been placed upon Hadley's elegant County street residence.

The Havana Tobacco Question.

Havana, April 21.—La Lucha insists in an editorial that the contracts made by Americans for the export of tobacco are fraudulent. It says that the Manufacturers' union has proofs that the tobacco in question was not purchased before the issuance of Weyler's edict prohibiting the exportation and adds that the government at Washington will be the first to withdraw when convinced that unscrupulous American citizens have imposed upon its good faith.

New York State Tax Rate.

Albany, April 21.—The senate finance committee has reported out the supply bill, which calls for a total appropriation of $1,678,120.72, which is $26,345.66 more than the supply bill of last year. There is an item in this year's supply bill for $100,000 to pay liquor tax rebates which was not in the bill last year. It is believed that the tax rate for this year will not exceed 2.58, as compared with 2.69 last year. It may even fall to 2.55, the lowest in three years.

Manley Not a Candidate.

Augusta, Me., April 21.—In compliance with the request of Mr. Joseph Manley, the Kennebec Journal will print a letter from Mr. Manley, in which he states that he is not a candidate for the seat of the late Congressman Milliken of Maine, and furthermore promises his hearty support to Hon. E. C. Burleigh for that office.

Snowslide Out West.

Brigham City, Utah, April 21.—A snowslide occurred at the mines of the Consolidated company, four miles north of Brigham City, resulting in the death of Fred Woolhaupter, Ed Maw and William Turner. John Russell and John Dallan were also snowed under by the slide, but were taken out alive.

Erie Canal to Open.

Buffalo, April 21.—Official notice was received here that the Erie canal would open for navigation on Saturday, May 8, at 12 o'clock noon. Twenty boats, loaded with grain, are awaiting the opening at this port. Shippers say that the outlook for the season on the canal is exceedingly poor.

City Official Starving.

Lorain, O., April 21.—City Commissioner Kramer has applied to the township trustees for help. He had received no pay for four months and was starving. Not being able to realize anything from the work he did on the streets, he said the only course left him to pursue was to ask for aid.

Mrs. Grant Not Ill.

Washington, April 21.—Mrs. Grant said that she was going to New York next week to attend the ceremonies in honor of the late General Grant, and that there was no basis for the report that her health was too poor to permit her to be present.

CORBETT'S CHALLENGE TO FITZ.

He Sends a Formal One to the Champion With a Forfeit.

New York, April 21.—To end all doubts as to his sincerity of purpose James J. Corbett formally challenged Robert Fitzsimmons to meet him once again in the prize ring and deposited $5,000 as a forfeit. The challenge was as follows:

"To Robert Fitzsimmons, Champion of the World:

"I hereby challenge you to box me any number of rounds for the championship of the world, under the provisions of the law before the club offering the best inducements.

"As it would be a violation of the law to propose a side stake, that is a detail that may be settled at your pleasure.

"As an evidence of my sincerity, however, I have this day deposited with Richard K. Fox the sum of $5,000, which I invite you to cover and name a time and place to meet me and arrange the final details. Yours truly.

"JAMES J. CORBETT."

Fitz Will Ignore It.

Philadelphia, April 21.—Fitzsimmons declared that he meant to pay no attention to challenges from Corbett or anybody else for a time, as he had earned a rest and meant to have it. He added, however, that he proposed to follow Corbett's example as dictator of the prize ring, and his reply was that the latter should earn a reputation as a fighter instead of a boxer before he presumed to challenge him.

THE PARNELL CONVENTION.

Fair Attendance and Proceedings Marked With Much Enthusiasm.

Dublin, April 21.—There was a fair attendance at the public meeting of the Parnell convention, which followed a private conference, and the proceedings were marked by considerable enthusiasm.

Mr. Redmond explained that the new movement appealed to Irishmen at home and in America for support. He outlined the policy of obstruction to be pursued in the house of commons in order to secure redress of financial grievances. His mention of the name of Timothy Harrington produced a hostile demonstration.

Mr. Stuyvesant Chandler, who had a very hearty reception, declared that the new platform contained the cornerstone of the American constitution and that the birth of the new league would revive the interest of all Americans in the welfare of Ireland. Amid loud cheers he bade England beware of that vast throng of Irishmen in the United States, with the same old love of Ireland.

A resolution approving the proceedings of the conference was adopted without dissension.

WARD CANNOT GET HIS BOY.

Reasons Why the Supreme Court Refuses to Grant His Petition.

Hartford, April 21.—Case, Bryant & Case, as counsel for Otto Kelsey in the suit to recover control of Clarence Ward, son of Ferdinand Ward, the financier of the old Wall street firm of Grant & Ward, filed in the superior court reason for appeal to the supreme court as follows:

First.—The judge erred in denying the application of the plaintiff.

Second.—The judge erred in holding that the question of the interest of the minor, Clarence Ward, could affect the right of the plaintiff to the custody of this ward.

Third.—The judge erred in overruling the claim of the plaintiff that the appointment of the respondent as guardian was void because Ferdinand Ward at the time of the application and appointment of the respondent was a legal resident of New York state, and the court of probate of Thompson had no jurisdiction.

ATTEMPTED JAIL DELIVERY.

Two Desperate Criminals Wound a Jailer In Trying to Escape.

Kansas City, April 21.—Burglar Frank Conners and Highwayman Ben Johnson, desperate criminals, seriously and perhaps fatally wounded Jailer Charles Fay at the Wyandotte county jail at Kansas City, Kan., in attempting an escape. Both men were armed with revolvers. Fay managed to fling his keys through a window into the jailyard before the prisoners could secure them, and other officials came to the jailer's rescue.

After being locked up Conners and Johnson attempted to commit suicide, each taking a big dose of opium. They were found unconscious and groaning, and it took two hours' hard work before the doctors could get them out of danger. It is thought both will live. The men have strong charges pending against them, and each stands liable to a 20 year penitentiary sentence.

Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, April 21.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed:

Those Promised Spanish Reforms.

Havana, April 21.—Premier Canovas, according to the statements of several Havana newspapers, has said that the government considers it expedient to wait for confirmation of the news as to the pacification of Cuba before establishing the promised reforms. The official press argues from this that the date of putting the reforms into effect will not be remote.

Steamship In Distress.

New York, April 21.—A dispatch received from Long Branch says that the Spanish steamship Santo Domingo, bound out from Havana, has stopped off that place and has three black balls up, signifying that the vessel is not under control.

Booth Tucker Complained Of.

—A large black snake measuring five feet two inches was killed by a trolley car on West Front street yesterday afternoon.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

—John Abbott, of West Front street, is making a great improvement to his barn by building an extension to it which is nearly as large as the present structure.

Not exactly right is the way thousands of people feel. It is because their blood is poor. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One True Blood Purifier, will promptly set them right.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge, pain or gripe. All druggists.

Percy Hand, of West Front street, has accepted a position with R. J. Shaw, the Front street druggist.

Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry street, Alton, Ill, suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. Park and and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. LaRue, of New Brunswick, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thorn, of East Second street.

The Rev. W. H. Weaver, pastor of the U. B. Church, Dillsburg, Pa., recognizes the value of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and does not hesitate to tell others about it. "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," he says, "and find it an excellent medicine for colds, cough's and hoarseness." So does everyone who gives it a trial. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—West Fourth street is being macadamized by the Street Railway Company. The improvement is a needed one.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Robert Randolph, of Elmwood place, is making extensive improvements about his house.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one-third of all the patents issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and spffering. J. W. Vaugn, of Oakton, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholero and Diarrœa Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomah and bowels. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The cadets of the Plainfield High School will go to New York to take part in the parade in honor of the celebration of the birthday of Gen. Grant, on April 27th.

THE FLOOD SITUATION.

The Condition Still Serious and Is Growing Worse In Some Sections.

Memphis, April 21.—The river at Vicksburg, Helena, Natchez and from St. Joseph, La., to Bayou Sara, La., is reported either stationary or falling. This condition is the result of the vast amount of water passing through the crevasse at Briggs and Reeds levees above Natchez and at Hanocks below.

The levee in the immediate vicinity of Natchez continues to hold under the great strain, but this is now of little interest to the planters in Concordia, Tensas and Madison parishes, as the water backed up from the breaks above and below will soon flood the rich lands of these parishes, and the result will be almost as disastrous as if other breaks should occur.

The Red and Tensas rivers are now swelling and almost running over their banks, and they will soon begin spreading over a section of 30 miles to the interior. Work continues on the levees, however, and everything possible is being done to hold the remainder of the levee system.

Refugees continue to flock into the principal towns of the Mississippi and St. Francis deltas, and the relief committees are taxed to their utmost to provide for the wants of the destitute. At Memphis, the river continues to fall. Reports from Greenville, Rosedale and Cairo state that an encouraging decline is noted.

SELIG'S ARREST.

Supposed Member of the Valentine Gang Caught In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 21.—Henry Selig, 45 years of age, claiming to reside in New York, was arrested here on the charge of being a fugitive from justice who is under indictment for grand larceny. He was identified by Detective Donovan of Brooklyn and remanded to await a requisition.

The prisoner remarked to the magistrate: "I am not a fugitive from justice. I reside in New York, and my family is there. I am ready to go to Brooklyn or New York at any time."

Detective Donovan stated that Selig was accused of being mixed up with the operations of the now notorious Valentine-McLaughlin gang of swindlers in New York, which was broken up in November last by a number of arrests.

He said that Selig was alleged to be a member of a spurious firm calling itself "Behrens & Co." of Pearl street, New York. The firm had no capital and did a business of indorsing checks. Selig was already under bonds in New York in June, 1896, on other charges, and District Attorney Backus of Brooklyn had had indictments obtained against him and others by the grand jury for grand larceny on April 2. The other men named in the bills had not yet been located. There were several witnesses against the accused before the grand jury.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The French gunboat Fulton and six vessels of the white squadron arrived to take part in the Grant day parade.

Court of appeals ordered a reassessment of the Manhattan L. road by New York tax commissioners. It upheld the legality of the appointment of 60 Brooklyn city employees.

Billy Birch Dead.

New York, April 21.—Billy Birch, the old time minstrel, died in his home, 76 Seventh avenue, at 2:15 o'clock. Death was due to paralysis of the brain and chronic Bright's disease. He had been very ill for over a month. He was born in Utica, N. Y., in February 1831. He began his theatrical career at the age of 13.

New Fire Insurance Company.

Albany, April 21.—Superintendent of Insurance Louis F. Payn authorized the New York and Brooklyn Mutual Fire Insurance company of New York city to commence business as a mutual fire insurance corporation, with a capital of $200,000, consisting of $160,000 in capital stock notes and $40,000 in cash.

Club Tax Bill a Law.

Albany, April 21.—Governor Black has signed the Raines liquor tax law amendment bill. The principal amendment provides for the taxation of clubs where liquor is served the same as saloons.

OFF FOR THE FRONT.

King George Leaves Athens to Take Command.

QUEEN FITS OUT A HOSPITAL SHIP.

Greeks Win Battles In the Neighborhood of Arta but Suffer Losses In the Vicinity of Tyrnavo—Turkish Fleet Leaves Golden Horn.

Athens, April 21.—All the members of the gendarmerie and other police forces militarily organized are now going to the frontier. The citizens have volunteered to guard the town, and the same state of affairs prevails in all other towns of Greece. On all sides there is a firm determination to meet the Turkish invasion, and every man who can be spared and who can bear arms is going to the front.

The Athenian ladies, under the patronage of the queen, have converted the steamer Thessaly into a floating hospital. Three hundred beds for the wounded have been fitted up on board of her, and she is now proceeding for Volo.

Crown Prince Constantin has assumed supreme command of the Greek forces in the field.

It is also announced that King George of Greece leaves Athens for the frontier at once.

An official dispatch from Arta says that after crossing the Aracthos at Bani the Greeks occupied the villages of Neckori and Sakhikalama, where they strongly intrenched themselves. Colonel Manos is now advancing northward in the direction of Paraskovi. A number of Greeks, among them several officers, were killed and others wounded.

News has reached here that the Greeks after a desperate battle have captured and burned Damasi. Vigila is still resisting. But another division of the Greek troops, it is reported, has traversed the Reveni pass and captured three blockhouses. This division has almost reached Damasi, where it will effect a union with the force that captured the town. The 20,000 troops under General Smolenitz displayed the greatest bravery.

Reveni lies 12 miles northeast of Larissa. Edhem Pasha, with a force variously estimated at from 10,000 to 14,000 troops, led seven assaults against it, but all were repelled by the Greeks. The Crown Prince Constantin has telegraphed here that the Turks at that point were completely and finally repulsed.

Turkish Fleet Off For Dardanelles.

Constantinople, April 21.—A second Turkish squadron has left the Golden Horn for the Dardanelles. It consists of the ironclad Orhanien, the monitor Hifairahman, the corvette Mansoura, five torpedo boats and four steamers which have been converted into cruisers.

Prince Mavrocordato, the Greek minister to Turkey, has sailed for Athens. All the embassadors except the German embassador went to the quay to bid him farewell.

Edhem Pasha has wired the sultan that he has gained several notable victories, occupying all the fortified posisions commanding Tyrnavo. He reports that the Greeks evacuated their intrenched camp, leaving behind 30 cases of cartridges and many rifles. The Turks, he says, have retaken Velitzko, which the Greeks surprised and captured on the first day of frontier aggression.

The Turkish commander at Janina announces that the Greek fleet which has been bombarding Prevesa has been compelled to retire, one division withdrawing to the interior of the gulf and the larger ironclads outside sailing for the islands of Paxo and Santa Maura.

An official telegram from Zantki asserts that the Greeks who landed at Eloutheropoli and reached Gojrat, near the railway, were attacked and defeated by Turkish troops and peasants and that 100 Greeks were killed.

The report that the Greek volunteers have cut the Salonika railway near Kavala is not confirmed, but the Greeks have occupied Mityiene and Chios after a sharp engagement with the Turkish troops.

Turks Advancing on Larissa.

London, April 21.—It is evident from the most trustworthy advices received here that the Turks have forced the principal door of Thessaly and entered the broad plains, where they have the advantage of numbers against the Greeks.

Dispatches received at the foreign office confirm the advices received by the Turkish embassador from Constantinople that the Turks were victorious in fighting and have captured the outlying defenses of Tyrnavo. This place is the only obstacle in the way of the advance of the Turkish army to Larissa, the headquarters of Crown Prince Constantin, which is not strongly fortified, if indeed it is fortified at all. If Larissa is taken by the Turks, the whole scheme of the Greek frontier defense of Thessaly will collapse and only a pitched battle on the plains of Thessaly will be left to the Greeks.

MISTAKES.

The present attitude of Editor Runyon in referring frequently, prominently and sarcastically to the unimportant grammatical mistakes that creep into the columns of The Press—something that no daily paper, unless it is the News, pretends to be free from—suggests that his animus in suchconduct is like the sneakthief who, in plying his occupation, is detected and then runs wildly, crying "stop thief" in the vain endeavor to attract attention to someone other than himself. If we cared to be so boyish in conduct, we could every day print a long list of errors to be found in the columns pre sided over by the man who prides himself on being a college graduate; but we are not printing a newspaper for that purpose. As a matter of fact, people are constantly showing us mistakes in grammar and spelling in the News with the admonition that "there is a chance to get even with Runyon." Their interest is a kindly one, we know, but it is never taken advantage of.

POLICE PENSIONS.

Gov. Griggs at a hearing yesterday on the police-pension bill passed by the last Legislature informed the policemen's representatives that he disapproved of the bill because it provides for the retirment on half pay of policemen 60 years old who have done twenty years service, even if such officers are not incapacitated for police duty. The Governor said that he informed a committee of the policemen last summer that a bill to meet his approval must have a proviso that patrolman could only be retired where they were incapacitated.

A WEDDING RECEPTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wickoff Surprised by Their Friends.

A wedding reception was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiskoff, of Park avenue, last evening, on their return from a wedding trip. The affair was a surprise and was arranged by Miss Olive Wickoff. The bride and groom were completely surprised and it required several minutes for them to regain their composure. About midnight the guests departed for their homes, at the same time wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wickoff a pleasant and prosperous journey through life. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Runyon, Miss Emma Wikoff, Miss Olive Wikoff, Miss Wyman, John Stocker, Thomas Wikoff, Howard Wikoff, Frank Van Pelt, Mr. Wyman, George Eckhardt, Andrew Stiglitz.

MIDNIGHT BLAZE IN ELIZABETH.

New York and Brooklyn Railroad Car Works Suffers $100,000 Loss.

Fire started at 11 o'clock last night in the New York and Brooklyn Railroad Supply and Car Company's mammoth shops in Elizabeth.

Several dwellings adjoining were also destroyed. The entire Elizabeth fire department was called out and made a gallant fight. At 11:40 o'clock a terrific explosion took place, shattering windows for blocks around. It is believed several firemen were buried under falling walls. The loss will probably reach $100,000.

The open cars for the Plainfield Street Railway were there, but escaped all injury. They will be shipped Saturday.

Alhambra Club Entertained.

The members of the Alhambra Club and their friends were pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Bertha Thorn on Craig place, Monday evening. The first part of the evening was devoted to progressive euchre, in which the first prizes were won by Thomas U. Smith and Miss Mary Buckle.

Miss Emma Buckle and Franklin P. Noble were the winners of the booby prizes. Several games were played, among which was "guessing advertisements" for which prizes were offered. They were won by Miss Edith L. Pruden and Charles Noble. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Sold a Lot of Soap.

F. Merton Lunger, a clerk at F. W. Dunn's grocery on North avenue, received a check this morning from Lever Brothers, of New York, manufacturers of Sunlight soap. Mr. Lunger received the money as a present for having secured 3,613 soap wrappers. This was the largest number received from this district during March. Mr. Lunger was assisted by the other clerks in the store, Garrie Mattis, John Gano, William Cleaves and Albert Soper, and the money will be divided among all.

THE HANGING OF A YOUTH

the full penalty of his crime became stronger and stronger. When the case reached the Court of Pardons there were no petitioners for mercy except Clawson's counsel, and on the other hand a great deal of wild talk was indulged in as to what would be done if his sentence should be commuted to life imprisonment. The Court of Pardons refused to grant the petition, it is said on good authority, unanimously.

The execution will undoubtedly be a great event in the county. Johnson, the first person to be hanged since 1789, will die on May 5, a week before Clawson, but no such interest is attached to him as to the latter, and May 12 will probably see the greater part of the county gathered in Somerville.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Louis Snyder is laid up with an attack of chills and fever.

Mrs. P. C. Smith spent yesterday with friends in Newark.

Miss Mary Snyder has returned from a visit at High Bridge.

Miss Martha Smith, of Plainfield, is visiting the family of John Peters.

A. C. Huff arrived home yesterday from a visit with friends at New Brunswick.

George Craig has moved into one of his father's vacant houses on Church street.

Miss Francis Hunt has learned to master a wheel, and she is about to purchase a new one.

Mr. Henry and wife, of Front street, took a carriage drive to White House and return on Sunday.

Robert Craig who has been in the house for the past week suffering from ulcerated sore throat, is able to go about again.

G. R. Crandall was able to go to business yesterday, for the first time in several days, having been confined to the house by illness.

Another meeting of the trolley people was held at New Market, yesterday afternoon, but there was little or no business of importance transacted.

William G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met in the Lincoln school hall, last evening. Aside from the regular routine of business, one new proposition for membership was received.

One young lad, son of a borough official, while cycling near the sewer beds, yesterday, struck a snag and the result was a "header." He was only slightly injured about the hands, which struck first on the frozen ground.

The underbrush on the mountain opposite Grant avenue was on fire again, last evening, and could be plainly seen by passengers in the trolley cars. The fire was, however, mostly on the Washington Valley side of the mountain.

Some of the Dunellen lads now think it great sport to ride their bicycles up to the "Eight Row" and then race back with the street cars. The practice is a dangerous one, for the riders keep directly alongside the track, and in case of a "header" the car is almost sure to catch him.

At the annual meeting of the Dunellen Building and Loan association held in the Town Hall, Monday evening, William Larkin, John Monahan, and Editor George Day were elected directors to serve for a term of three years each. Some amendments to the constitution and by-laws were made.

There was a free "scrap" on Main street between two well-known residents of the town, yesterday afternoon. No gore was spilled and the difficulty will in all probability be adjudicated in the courts, as it is understood that a warrant for assault and battery has been sworn out against one of the principals.

Some little excitement was created in the borough, yesterday, when it became known that scarlet fever was raging in a Hungarian family on the main street just west from the centre of town. The house has been quarantined, and every effort will be made to keep the disease in the building where it originated.

Expressman John Huff is deserving of credit, for when the fire gong sounded early yesterday morning, he hastened to his barn, harnessed his horses and dragged the fire engine through a mile or more of sandy road to the scene of the conflagration. But when the engine arrived on the scene, there was nothing for it to do, for the flames had already got in their work and consumed the entire building.

An unusual occurrence happened on the street railway, last evening. Car No. 12 was speeding along, west bound, about eight o'clock, and when directly opposite Lafayette place, the car struck and instantly killed a big grey buck rabbit. The car was stopped and the game taken abroad. The rabbit weighed over nine pounds and is one of the largest ever seen around here. But the mysterious part of the affair is how the animal come to be on the car tracks and where it came from.

NEW MARKET.

Mrs. Albert Ayres is in New York visiting friends for a few days.

Mrs. Charles Ward is spending a few days visiting friends in New York city.

Those who ought to know report eels, catfish and suckers plentiful in the upper end of the lake.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Frank Allen and T. R. Collins have been visiting friends at Stanley, this State, for a day or two.

Mrs. H. E. Needham, of North Plainfield, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Marsh, yesterday afternoon.

Miss Flora Monte, of Brooklyn, and Miss Swain, of Plainfield, have been visiting among Scotch Plains' friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith and daughter, of Lincoln, have been visiting Mrs. Smith's father, Joseph Clark, here.

Miss J. S. Braker has been presented with a new "Fairest" wheel, and yesterday she rode it to Plainfield and return.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Radford, of West Front street have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Paff, Sr., here.

The Plains needs a street sprinkler. Yesterday the dust was wafted around in such clouds that it was unpleasant to be out of doors.

William Bacon, of Haverstraw, has been spending a day or two among some of his old friends here. He returned home yesterday.

Cat fish and suckers are now said to be biting well in the mountain streams and some very fine catches have been reported within the past day or two.

Manager Richard May, of the mountain crusher, has purchased an entire new outfit of horse, harness and wagon, for use in connection with his business.

The wind and dust combined, yesterday, to make walking and bicycling most unpleasant, but there was the usual number of wheels noticed on the streets.

Miss Sadie Walpole, the competent clerk in the post office, is the recipient of a handsome new Majestic bicycle which she mounts and rides with perfect precision and ease.

Judge Clark is now farming for fair. His early spring vegetables will not be ripe until next month and his friends should not all send in their complimentary orders for samples at the same time.

Two strange railroad men, who frankly admitted that they were directly connected with the New Jersey Traction Company, were in town yesterday "sizing up" the proposed route as staked out.

There seems to be a little relief from the recently feared water famine. The wells and cisterns have filled up to a noticeable extent, since the last rain, but it will take two days' rain to put the water back to its original depth.

On every side, yesterday, was heard expressions of sorrow and regret over the death of Mrs. William C. Stanbery. By those who knew her best she was eulogized as kind and loving in disposition, generous to a fault, ever ready to administer to the needy and in fact a true, conscientious, Christian woman.

Some one or more evil-intended persons seem inclined to tear off the heavy stone coping from the Meadow bridge between here and Fanwood. Only a morning or two ago, two of the heavy stones were found to have been lifted bodily from their position and thrown into the soft, swampy ground nearby. These depredations are committed by some of the town boys, who may consider it fun, but it will be costly to them if once apprehended.

AN INDEMNITY CLAIM

The Case of the American Sailors Imprisoned In Cuba.

SPAIN WILL NOT OPEN THE MATTER.

Some Nominations Sent to the Senate by the President—Van Cott Gets New York Postoffice—Senate Further Considers Morgan's Resolution.

Washington, April 21. — Secretary Sherman has sent to the senate in response to a resolution the correspondence in the case of two American sailors, Gustav Richelieu of Boston and August Bolten, who asked of Spain $10,000 indemnity each on account of their imprisonment for three weeks at Santiago de Cuba.

The sailors claimed that they were shipwrecked on the coast of Cuba on Feb. 16, 1894, having left Port au Prince to fish for queen turtles. No charges were preferred against them, and after three weeks they were released, one having contracted rheumatism in prison, the other yellow fever.

Their attorneys presented claims to the state department, and the case is still pending, although Spain has twice refused to pay indemnity. Secretary Olney, in a letter to the attorney for the sailors, Mr. David Gordon of New York, dated June 18, 1895, informs him that the revolutionary disturbances in Cuba and the "not unreasonable suspicion" that the sailors were connected with a filibustering expedition might make it difficult to secure indemnity.

In presenting the case to Minister Taylor, Secretary Olney said that the treatment of Bolten was in violation of treaty stipulations, which provided for the hospitable reception of American citizens driven upon Spanish territory under stress of weather and that citizens of the United States taken without arms should be tried by the ordinary civil tribunals.

Spain Claims Arrest Was Warranted.

The Spanish minister of state in September, 1896, replied to Minister Taylor that the appearance of the sailors in a boat without clearance papers at about the time of the first filibustering expeditions warranted their arrest and that the proceedings against them were the shortest permitted by the laws; that their statements did not agree and were evidently false, and finally that "his majesty's government finds itself obliged to reject in an absolute manner the demand for an indemnity, considering this case finally and irrevocably ended."

March 1, 1897, the Duke of Tetuan refused again to open the claim, stating that many small craft similar to the boat in which the two sailors were found had brought munitions of war to Cuba and that their detention was preventive and not penal. Referring to the treaty of 1795, the duke asks, "Who will maintain that those benefits are absolutely unconditional and that they extend to those who bear hostile intentions?" and adds, "The application of the treaty did not suffer any alteration, but only a justified delay, which was followed by the full and immediate application of the treaty as soon as it was possible to do so."

Nominations by the President.

Washington, April 21.—The president has sent to the senate a long list of nominations, among which were several of importance:

State.—John A. Merritt of New York to be third assistant postmaster general.

Treasury.—Frank R. Moore of New York to be collector of internal revenue for the First district of New York.

Postmasters.—New York, Cornelius Van Cott, at New York city; Melvin M. Conklin, Elmira; Burdette T. Burlingham, McGrawville; Charles A. Brooks, Marathon. Pennsylvania, T. C. Manzer, Forest City; W. L. Hunter, Turtle Creek. Connecticut, Hubert E. Carpenter, East Hampton.

Interior.—James L. Davenport of New Hampshire, first deputy commissioner of pensions; Levett M. Kelley of Illinois, second deputy commissioner of pensions.

Treasury.—John P. Jackson of California to be collector of customs for the district of San Francisco; William Youngblood of Alabama to be auditor for the interior department.

Interior.—William A. Jones of Wisconsin to be commissioner of Indian affairs; Charles B. Timberlake, receiver of public moneys at Sterling, Colo.; Simon S. Matthews, register of the land office at Jackson, Miss.

Justice.—Milton C. Phillips, attorney of the United States for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

Morgan Resolution Discussed.

Washington, April 21.—Senator Morgan's resolution declaring that a state of war exists in Cuba was discussed briefly in the senate and then went over for a week owing to the absence of Senator Hale of Maine, who has been active in opposition.

Mr. Morgan again urged the need of speedy action by this country to stay the devastation going on in Cuba. The agricultural appropriation bill was passed without amendment. The bankruptcy bill was considered. Senators Nelson of Minnesota, Lindsay of Kentucky, Allen of Nebraska and Hoar of Massachusetts participating in the debate.

Mr. Morgan gave notice that he would move to lay on the table the Nelson substitute bill for the purpose of securing a test vote.

Bondsman Must Pay.

Washington, April 21.—The United States supreme court, in a decision affirming the judgment of the district court of appeals, has decided that W. H. Moses, one of the sureties of Captain Henry W. Howgate, now serving a long sentence for embezzlement while disbursing officer of the signal service, must pay over his share of Captain Howgate's bond. The amount is about $12,000.

An Embezzler Confesses.

Kansas City, April 21.—J. H. Aldrich, ex-cashier and paymaster of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis railroad, was indicted by the grand jury on the charge of embezzlement, which was arrested over a week ago. It is admitted that he had used $27,000 of the company's money intrusted to him and was released on heavy bond.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

One Minute Late

It makes no difference whether you were one minute or one hour late, if you missed the train. Better get there on time, even if you have to wait. One hour early is better than one minute late. Delay costs thousands of lives each year. "Neglected colds" is the beginning of the story; and consumption is the end. Few remedies, and but little of them, cure in the beginning. Later, many remedies long continued, and tedious journeys, too frequently end in disappointment.

FAMOUS CASE ENDED

Decision In the Celebrated Hat Trimmings Suit.

IT IS IN FAVOR OF THE GOVERNMENT.

History of the Litigation Which Has Occupied the Courts For a Long Time — Millions of Dollars Were Involved.

Philadelphia, April 21.—The famous hat trimmings case, which indirectly involves between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 and which has been postponed from time to time for the past three years, has finally been decided in favor of the government by a jury in the United States circuit court.

The suit was brought as a test case by Meyer & Dickinson, big importers of this city, who sought to recover from the United States government a difference of 30 per cent in customs duties. The firm's contention was that the importations in question consisted solely of hat trimmings, on which the duty under the McKinley tariff act was only 20 per cent, but the federal officials in their argument maintained that the merchandise was used chiefly for dresses and dress trimmings and that the duty of 50 per cent levied by the government was proper. Meyer & Dickinson were nominally the plaintiffs, but there were hundreds of big importing firms throughout the country who were interested in the outcome of the suit and who were instrumental in procuring the best obtainable counsel.

Jury Out but Two Hours.

The trial of the present case began on April 5, ex-United States District Attorney Ingham being assisted by Dwight M. Lowrey of this city and Assistant Attorney General E. B. Whitney of Washington in the defense. The jury, after two hours' deliberation, rendered a verdict for the government.

Judge Dallas in his charge to the jury said that if the articles with which this controversy is concerned were used for making or ornamenting hats, bonnets and hoods, then the verdict should be for the plaintiffs; but if the jury find that none of these articles was trimmings, the verdict should be for the defendant.

Ex-United States District Attorney Ingham stated after the decision had been rendered that more than 1,000 importing firms were indirectly interested in the suit and that between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 was involved.

This, he said, was irrespective of the immense amount of money which would necessarily have been required to defend the suits.

Allen May Recover.

Watertown, N. Y., April 21.—A special from Sacket Harbor says that Allen, the soldier who was one of the persons shot in the horrible double murder and whose death has been momentarily expected, will recover. Today he was given food and drink. The grand jury sits May 3, and it is hardly possible that Allen will be able to testify before it, but his statement will probably be read.

Famous Resort Burned.

Boston, April 21.—The King Hill House, at South Braintree, Mass., a famous resort on the shore of Braintree Great pond, was totally destroyed by fire, and four persons who were sleeping on the third floor narrowly escaped being burned to death. The loss is estimated by its owner, Hiram A. French, at about $5,000. It was insured for about half that sum.

Government Officer In Contempt.

Cleveland, April 21.—Major W. B. Stockman of the weather bureau was summoned as a witness before Judge Ong, but, failing to appear on time, was fined for contempt. Major Stockman held that he was attending to the business of the United States government and could not be interfered with. He will report the case to Washington.

Killed by a Cave In.

Syracuse, April 21.—Two Italians, Antonio Varoo and Mark Caligno, were killed in a sewer cave in in this city. A third man, Caloro Chinnera, was badly injured and was removed to St. Joseph's hospital. The left side of his face is smashed in. There were 29 men at work in the trench at the time. The others made their escape.

Skirmishing In Santa Clara.

Havana, April 21.—A number of skirmishes have taken place recently in the province of Santa Clara. The losses of the insurgents are officially reported as 38 killed, 3 wounded and 1 taken prisoner. The Spanish troops have seized the contents of two camps, including an armory and several well stocked shops.

Life Imprisonment For Gentry.

Harrisburg, April 21.—The board of pardons has recommended commutation of the death sentence imposed upon James B. Gentry for the murder of Actress Madge Yorke to imprisonment for life. Governor Hastings approved the recommendation. Gentry was to have been hanged next Thursday.

Schooner Wrecked; Crew Safe.

Lewes, Del., April 21.—The Hog island station reports the schooner James Ponder, from Virginia for New York with railroad ties, stranded five miles southeast of the station. The crew of eight men were saved in lifeboats. The vessel will probably be a total loss.

Celebrated Pilot Dead.

St. Louis, April 21.—Captain Charles Wesley Blunt, a veteran river pilot known among river and army men from Yankton, S. D., to New Orleans as Uncle Charles, is dead as the result of an attack of grip. He was born at Columbus, O.

Alleged Wife Murderer.

Lockport, N. Y., April 21.—Robert J Powley, who it is alleged shot and killed his wife on the evening of March 1 at Niagara Falls, was indicted by the grand jury in this city for murder in the first degree. He pleaded not guilty

Ice Fields Off Buffalo.

Buffalo, April 21.—About three miles of ice was visible off this port, but the strong wind blew it down the Niagara river and only a small streak remained. Nothing will shortly be left of the big field.

A CHRISTIAN AID DEAD.

MRS. MARTHA GARDNER PASSED INTO ETERNITY LAST NIGHT.

Her Demise Was Unexpected, As it Was Thought That She Would Live Through the Summer—Was a Religious Worker

The large circle of friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Martha Gardner, widow of the late Frank H. Gardner, formerly cashier of the City National Bank, will learn with deep sorrow of her death which occurred last evening about 7 o'clock at Ocean Grove, where she went March 29th, for the summer.

Mrs. Gardner had been ill with a cancer for a year past, and her death was not wholly unexpected, although her most intimate friends felt confident that she would live through the summer. It has always been her custom to go to Ocean Grove every summer, but this year she planned to go earlier. Previous to her departure she resided on East Fifth street with her three daughters and one son, who survive her. The best medical aid was given in the hope that her life might be saved, but it was all in vain. Mrs. Gardner was a resident of this city and the borough for twenty-six years. She lived in the borough the largest part of that time. Previous to her marriage she was a Miss Clark, of Brooklyn, and one sister, Mrs. Disbrow, of Brooklyn, is the only member of the family now living.

During her life in this city, Mrs. Gardner was a very active woman until her health prevented. She was at one time a member of the Board of Managers of the Children's Home, superintendent of the Sewing School of Warren chapel, and also a Sunday school teacher and a faithful member of the First Baptist church. While able she was always doing for others, and when she could do no longer her many friends were very careful to see that everything possible was done for her. She was a Christian woman and her many acts of kindness and charity will long be remembered by those with whom she was acquainted.

Mrs. Gardner's husband passed away at Ocean Grove four years ago this coming August, after a long illness.

The remains of Mrs. Gardner will be brought to this city where the funeral services will be held. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

HEARD, NO WARNING SIGNAL.

Important Testimony Given in the Burnett Suit Against Lehigh Valley.

The suit for $20 000 damages brought by the widow of the late Henry Burnett, who was killed at the South Plainfield crossing of the Lehigh Valley Railroad a year ago, against the railroad company, was commenced before Judge Magie in Somerville this morning. A large number of witnesses have been subpœaned.

The first witness this morning was Alfred Papick, a collector for the Sherman Outfitting Company, who was near Burnett when the fatal accident occurred. He testified that Burnett drove on to the track watching a train standing at the station while another train ran him down and killed him. The witness said he did not hear any warning whistle or bell.

Alfred Woldick, who was working in a field near the scene of the fatality, also testified that he did not hear any warning of the approach of the train.

Charles and Kate Burnett, children of the deceased, were sworn but did not give any testimony bearing on the issue of the company's negligence.

Adjournment was taken at 1 o'clock for dinner.

The case will probably occupy all of tomorrow.

The right of counsel to shed tears before the jury was recently decidec by the Supreme Court of Tennessee.

In his remarks the judge said:

"It would appear to be one of the natural rights of counsel which no statute or constitution could take away. It is certainly a matter of the highest personal privilege. Indeed, if counsel have tears at command, it may be seriously questioned whether it is not his professional duty to shed them whenever proper occasion arises, and the trial judge would not feel constrained to interfere unless they are indulged in to such excess as to impede, embarrass or delay the business before the court."—From Case and comment.

Fountain Pens.

Fountain pens are rather older than most people imagine. As long ago as 1824 they were in use, for in that year Thomas Jefferson saw a contrivance of this sort, tried it, and wrote to General Bernard Peyton, of Richmond, Va., asking him to get one of them. The pen was of gold and the ink tube of silver, and, according to Jefferson's letter, the maker was a Richmond watch repairer, named Cowan. The price, he understood, was $5. The first American patent for a fountain pen was granted in 1830, to one Douglass Hyde, but the earliest English patent was issued twenty-one years before."—Scientific American.

KELLEY'S STATEMENT.

Robber of the Great Falls Bank Tells How He Killed Stickney.

Montreal, April 22.—Joseph Kelley, the self confessed murderer of Cashier Stickney of Somersworth, N. H., and robber of the Great Falls bank, has been taken back to Dover, the county town of Stratford, by Sheriffs Rich, Bartlett, McDaniels, Parker and Sergeant Detective Campeau of Montreal. Kelley was taken before Deputy Extradition Commissioner L. W. Sicotte, and upon his freely consenting to return with the officers, the commissioner signed the necessary warrants.

Chief Detective Carpenter gave it out that they would leave by the Central Vermont train, with the result that the Bonaventure street depot was crowded, while only about 50 people were at the Canadian Pacific depot when the party left for Newport, Vt., from whence they will proceed to White River junction and Dover.

Kelley puffed away at a cigar in the train, apparently quite unconcerned. A new feature in the case has been learned, when Kelley confessed that he wore a disguise when he went to rob the bank. He had on a mustache and a goatee, and this so effectually disguised him that Stickney did not know him. These, he said, would be found in his room. Stickney shouted when he drew his revolver upon him, but Kelley was afraid to use it and so hit the old man with a jimmy.

ESCAPED PRISONER CAPTURED.

An Illinois Counterfeiter Rearrested For a Like Crime.

Washington, April 22.—Chief Hazen of the secret service has received a telegram stating that James Foley, who escaped from jail at Joliet, Ills., March 22 last, where he was awaiting trial on a charge of counterfeiting, had been arrested in New York on another charge of counterfeiting, giving his name as John O'Keefe.

It is learned at the secret service bureau that Foley's right name is John W. Murray and that his home is in Cincinnati. The records of the secret service are said to show that Murray has been arrested nine different times for counterfeiting and has been convicted seven times. The aggregate of his terms of service in jail since 1882 is 17½ years.

His specialty is said to be dimes and nickels. He probably will be returned to Illinois, where he can receive a longer sentence for counterfeiting and jail breaking than he would likely receive in New York.

CUBANS ARE WINNING.

A Letter From Inside the Insurgent Line Gives Cheering News.

Boston, April 22.—A special from Worcester says: Paul Bronner, a lawyer, has received a letter, unedited by any Spanish censor, from inside the insurgent lines in Cuba. Mr. Bronner's correspondent is William Law, who formerly had an office in Worcester, representing a mercantile and detective agency.

This letter was written from Jucaro, Puerto Principe, near the line of the famous trocha, under date of April 5. It says, "I am in the heart of the fighting. The Cubans have the best of it all through, but of course suffer great hardships. The entire east end of the island is absolutely controlled by them, besides most of the provinces of Santa Clara and Pinar Del Rio."

Favor the Metric System.

Boston, April 22.—Members of the executive council of the Massachusetts state board of trade are firm believers in the general use of the metric system of weights and measures, and at a meeting held at the Parker House a resolution was passed advocating its adoption in the several departments of the United States government. A resolution was passed reaffirming the previous action of the board in condemnation of the watering of stock by corporations.

PRINCES IN BATTLE.

Constantine and Nicholas of Greece Fighting at the Front.

ADVANCE OF THE TURKS IS CHECKED

Edhem Pasha Finds That He Has No Military Promenade In His March Toward Larissa — Greeks Win In Eastern Macedonia.

Athens, April 22.—The Crown Prince Constantine telegraphs from Larissa, the headquarters of the Greek forces in Thessaly:

"We have kept all our positions, and the situation is excellent. Every road by which the Turks can descend into the Thessalian plain has been secured by the concentration of our troops. I cannot wire at greater length now I am fighting myself. So is Prince Nicholas."

Advices from Larissa state that the Turks tried to capture the post of the Prophet Eli on the road to Tyrnavo, but they were repulsed.

In the fighting in the vicinity of Tyrnavo the Greeks were assisted by thousands of irregulars, who harassed the Turkish outposts and wings, as well as participating in the general engagement. The Turks had an overwhelming superiority in numbers. They had constructed earthworks and trenches everywhere and in and behind these awaited the attack of the Greeks. On the whole, they clung tenaciously to their defenses, while the Greeks attacked these again and again with the most desperate bravery.

In spite of the furious attacks still made upon them the Greeks continue to hold the Reveni and Nezeros passes.

The last series of the Greek reserves has now been called out, and fresh troops have been sent to the frontier.

The bombardment of Prevesa, at the entrance of the gulf of Arta, has been very heavy since early in the morning. The Turkish garrison there has been completely isolated by the advance of the Greek troops.

The report that the Greek fleet had bombarded Platomona, on the west shore of the gulf of Salonika, is confirmed. The Greek fleet also bombarded the town of Lepthokarya, adjoining Platomona. The powder magazine of the Turks at Platomona was exploded by a Greek shell, causing much damage and loss of life to the enemy.

The public suspense here is terrible, owing to the lack of definite news. The government has received telegrams from Larissa urging the prompt dispatch of re-enforcements to that point, as the Greek troops are being exhausted by the incessant Turkish attacks.

All the shops were closed yesterday while prayers were being offered in the churches for the success of the Greek troops. Every nerve is being strained to send all available men to the front. Volunteer bands are organizing everywhere throughout the country. In Thessaly the whole population is being armed and made ready. Next week thousands will start for the frontier from the provinces long famous for the fine quality of their fighting men.

Greeks Take Many Forts.

New York, April 22.—The Journal and Advertiser has the following copyrighted dispatch from Arta:

Arta, Greece, April 22.—The Ninth regiment of the Greek army has advanced across the Aractos river boundary line into Turkish territory and attacked a line of small Turkish forts in a forest and carried three of them by a gallant bayonet charge.

The village of Neochoris was strongly defended by Albanians. Forty-five of them held one house when it was stormed by the Greeks and refused to surrender. All but one died fighting valiantly. Your correspondent joined a reconnoitering party of Greek cavalry.

With 200 cavalrymen we rode over ditches filled here and there with bodies of dead Turks. Finally we scoured the open plain and came within 1,000 yards of the Turkish village, when Ali Bey, with a strong cavalry force, suddenly appeared on our right and drew up in line in front of us.

A long flash of lightning and clouds of smoke belched, and in the face of this fearful fire we withdrew to the plain of Neochoris.

Turks Have No Military Promenade.

Constantinople, April 22.—The sitting of the military commission has been continuous since Monday at the Yildiz kiosk. It is reported that Edhem Pasha has asked for 40,000 re-enforcements and that orders have been sent to Salonika to hasten the dispatch of the reserves to the frontier. The mobilization of 40 additional battalions has been decided upon, and the enrollment of volunteers is being considered.

The sturdy resistance offered by the Greeks was wholly unexpected, and the idea that the forces of Edhem Pasha would have a military promenade to Larissa has already been abandoned.

Telegrams received by the porte from the far western provinces show that the Albanian irregulars are devastating the country in many localities and especially along the line of route between Prevesa and Janina. The local authorities are powerless to restrain them.

An imperial irade has been issued ordering the Turkish fleet to avoid a battle at sea and to remain under the protection of the fortifications.

Greek Fleet Near Salonika.

Salonika, April 22.—Lookouts have been stationed on all the prominent headlands and points of vantage overlooking the bay, with instructions to immediately report the appearance of the Greek fleet, which is expected to make a demonstration against this place very shortly.

The harbor has been thoroughly mined, a number of torpedo boats have been stationed in well selected places, the entrance of the harbor from Cape Kara to the mainland of Macedonia is strung with torpedos and large quantities of ammunition have been sent to all the batteries. There are rumors that a Turkish fleet has left the Dardanelles for this place and that it will give battle to the Greek fleet in the bay.

A number of Greek irregulars, who have been brought here as prisoners, having been captured at Demir Hissar, were found to have quantities of explosives in their possession.

WASHINGTON TOPICS.

It is generally understood at Washington now that Major Z K. Pangborn's candidacy for the ministership to the Hawaiian Islands will be disappointed and that Harold Sewell will be appointed. Former Sheriff John J. Toffey, of Jersey City, has been there working for the Major, but it is believed that his efforts will not avail.

New Jersey postmasterships are filling up very slowly in comparison with other States, owing to the fact that Cleveland looked after the matter closely, and few terms are running out.

NOT A HOLIDAY IN NEW JERSEY.

There has been a great deal of inquiry at the office of The Press as to whether Grant Monument Day, April 27th, is going to be a legal holiday in this State. A bill was before the Legislature to make it so, but did no become a law. It was introduced the day before adjournment, passed the House and was sent to the Senate, where it was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, and that was the last seen of it. In the crush of business incident to the close of the session the measure was overlooked.

Ropes," 2,300 tons register, plying between New York and San Francisco. The captain is an old seafarer. He will sail from New York about May 1st. His family will still reside in this city on Plainfield avenue. By his departure Plainfield loses a good citizen.

Official Board Organized.

Unpleasant to Bicyclists.

The road at the corner of Monroe avenue and West Seventh street is in a bad condition. At one time it was so low that the water gathered there in puddles making a bad crossing. The crossing was filled up with large crushed stone, but no sand was put over it, so that the bicycle riders find it very unplersant riding, especially at night, when it becomes really dangerous on account of the large stones.

Vestry Organized

The members of the vestry of the Grace P. E. church held a meeting, last evening, to organize. George M. Randall was elected secretary, N. Pendleton Rogers, treasurer, and Charles Lawson, assistant treasurer.

PASSING COMMENT.

A correspondent furnishes the following about the unused rides on commutation tickets over the Central Railroad of New Jersey:

Reference has been made to the rate paid by commuters as being extremely low. On the face of it the statement is correct; but a little investigation will show that the majority of the commuters are actually paying more than the regular monthly rate, in that they have no use for the rides left over at the end of the month. The writer has preserved his tickets for the last fifteen years. Taking into account the unpunched rides for the last ten years, the actual figures will show that he has $500 worth of rides left. Divide this among the rides and you have a very different showing. The writer has no doubt that there are a large number of commuters whose unused rides are considerable in excess of his. I have no sympathy with anyone who will do a dishonest act, but I feel that there are two sides to this question. The railroad company has it all their own way, and if you object to the contract printed on the back of their tickets, they will advise you to ride over some other road if you do not like their methods or their rates. Without hoping for any remedy in this matter, except that which is brought about by the powerful influence of the press, I would suggest that the company be requested to offer 25-ride commutation tickets for those who have business in New York once or twice or more a week. I believe it would be a good thing for the company, inasmuch as many ladies and others, who go to New York but seldom, would buy these tickets regularly. In reply to this suggestion the company may say they cannot afford to sell 25-ride tickets at commutation rates. In reply to this one has only to remind them that I understand Plainfield is paying the N. J. C. R. R. Company about $1.200 per day, each and every day of the year; and it would seem to the most careless observer that she deserves some further substantial returns.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chambelain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PAINLESS

DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anaesthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anaesthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

One man's garden is so sandy that its useless for garden truck. So he's thinking of planting watermelon seeds there. This patch adjoins directly Front street, and so it is safe to say that the melons wont be half grown before they will be among the missing.

This place wants a street sprinkler and that very bad. Had the weather been warm enough yesterday and last evening, few of the residents in this vicinity would care to sit on their front stoops and swallow their allotted peck of dirt—especially all in one evening.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

The New Jersey Mutual Realty Company have contracted for 3,000 feet of 12-inch sewer pipe to sewer Lincoln Boulevard and Mountain avenue.

Arrangements are being made to dedicate the new town of Lincoln on Decoration day. The famous Veteran Zouves, Gen. J. Madison Drake, commanding, and the Drake Celebrated Band have accepted invitations. G. A. R. Posts of Plainfield, Somerville and New Brunswick, also the Lincoln Post, G. A. R., of Newark, have been invited. Dr. J. B. Cleaver, the gold tongued orator of Middlesex county, will deliver the oration on Lincoln. The exercises will be held in the large woods known as Lincoln Park. The Sons of Veterans will take an active part in the exercises of the day.

The cellars for three more neat homes are being excavated. Many visitors visit the new town daily and are surprised at the many changes wrought in the past twenty days. Dr. Ray. V. Pierce has ordered the contractor to open up and grade the Lincoln Boulevard through his property from Bound Brook to Lincoln, and as the freeholders go over this road on April 29th, to pass on the feasibility of accepting it on the part of the county, it will be found in good order by that date. When this Boulevard is opened up it will be of great benefit to Plainfield, Dunellen and Bound Brook, making it possible for more traveling, via bicycle, carriages and wagons.

THEATRICAL.

A magnificently equipped organization with elaborate and artistic scenic effects, and a sterling cast will present "The Prisoner of Zenda" here next week, a play that has been the constant talk of local playgoers, since the fame of its original production in New York City first reached them. It is produced by arrangement with Daniel Frohman, manager of the Lyceum Theatre, New York, and a thoroughly metropolitan performance of the delightful romance is looked for. Everyone must be sure and put in a timely appearance at the theatre for the prologue to the play is an absorbingly impressive one, and would prove a great one act drama independently of the stirring romance which follows. This prologue is full of action and allows a hasty glimpse at the customs, manners and dress of a century and a-half ago. It also shows the adventure of a long past period, which accounts for the startling resemblance between the Rassendylls, a noble English family, and the family of the Rudolfs, of Ruritania. It is upon this resemblance that Anthony Hope builds his delightful story of "The Prisoner of Zenda," which is supposed to happen in our own generation. At Music Hall next Monday night.

WESTFIELD

MARRY WEDDING BELLS.

FASHIONABLE NUPTIAL EVENT IN WESTFIELD LAST NIGHT.

Marriage of Miss Anna May Irving to John Ward Crooks — Ceremony Performed by N. W. Cadwell—The Guests.

The most fashionable wedding in Westfield for a long while was that of Miss Anna May Irving, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Irving, and John Ward Crooks, who were married last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, in Elm street, by Rev. N. W. Cadwell, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Von Glohn, of Madison, a relative of the bride.

The parlors of the Irving mansion were profusely decorated with palms, lilies, ferns and roses. The bay windows and hallways were one immense bank of flowers.

The bride was given away by her father. Her gown was made of white satin, decolette, entraine, with pearl trimmings. She wore a tulle veil, a bunch of orange blossoms and carried a mammoth bouquet of white bridal roses. Miss Grace Irwin, of Brooklyn, was the maid of honor, and Miss Irwin wore a gown of Nile green silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The best man was H. W. Crooks, of Newark, a cousin of the groom. The ushers were: H. W. Crooks, Dr. H. M. Hart, Edwin A. Putnam, P. M. McArdle and Herman B. Lehback, all of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Crooks were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents, among which may be mentioned a good-sized check from the groom's father, a dining room set from the clerks of the bank where Mr. Crooks is engaged, a set of cut-glass from the Sans Gene Club, a set of china from Mr. and Mrs. Irving.

A reception followed the ceremony. During the reception and dinner Rogers' orchestra, of New York, added much to the pleasure of the party by its sweet music.

The newly wedded couple left on a late train for a brief wedding tour, but would not state their destination. On their return they will make a short stay here with the bride's parents and then take up their new life in Newark.

Among those present were: Mr. and J. S. Irving, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Irving, Mrs. Nellie F. Mills and son, of New York; Frank and Nina Irving, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. John Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crooks, Thomas and Archie Crooks, Robert Cortwright, F. L. Cobb, Warren Jacobus, Mr. and Mrs. William Bringham, F. B. Adams, C. W. Lent, F. J. Habson, C. G. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hamish, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Martlaid, Dr. Elbert Curtis, Miss Anna Hanger, of Newark; Mr and Mrs. Homer Brooks and the Misses Brooks, Jersey City; Mr. and Mrs. William Smalley, Miss Lizzie Smalley, Miss Minnie Smalley, Mr. J. Smalley, Mrs. A. J. Cadmus and son, Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs J. D. Irwin, Miss Ida Randolph, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Irving, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Irving, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cox and Howard Cox, of Cranford; Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Kinch, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Harrison, Dr. and Mrs. Sherman Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Peddie, the Misses Peddie, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pierson, Arthur Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. E N. Brown, of Westfield; Rev. and Mrs. Von Glohn, the Miss Ammerman, of Madison.

The I. O. S. reception will be held this evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Dyer, of Perth Amboy, are visiting friends in town.

A "heart" party will be given this evening by the young folks of Locust Grove.

The amateur minstrel show to be given by the Westfield Club will be held tomorrow evening.

The members of the M. E. church will tender their new pastor, Rev. W. H. Ruth, a reception tomorrow evening.

A birthday party was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Burhans, Jr., in honor of Mr. Burhans' twenty-fifth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Arkell, Miss M. Clark and the Misses MacQuoid went to Plainfield last evening to visit Mr. and Mrs Wynant, who recently removed from here.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Rice, formerly a pastor here, will be installed this evening as pastor of the Belleville Congregational church. A party of Westfielders are expected to attend.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church held its annual meeting in the parlors of the church at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Officers were elected for the ensuing year and other routine business was transacted.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Wood Titsworth, of Madison avenue, is confined to his home with illness.

It was at the home of Miss Ada Marsh, of Franklin place, and not of Miss Anna Marsh, that William H. Barber, the celebrated pianist, gave an informal recital last Saturday evening.

NEW YORK LETTER.

It is a long time since the famous Beecher-Tilton scandal case was tried in Brooklyn, and very many of the people who were conspicuous in it have passed away. Mr. Beecher was the first to die, and then Judge Neilson, who tried the case, followed him. Henry C. Bowen's was the last death recorded of the men prominently identified with it, and now Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher is dead. Moses S. Beach, who gave thousands of dollars to defend Mr. Beecher, and Augustus Storrs, who was for thirty years the treasurer of Plymouth Church, died a few years ago, and half a dozen other self-sacrificing friends of the Plymouth pastor have died since Mr. Beecher's death, among them John T. Howard. Both Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchinson, whose names will be linked always with Plymouth Church, are no more. Of Mr. Beecher's three sons, only one has continued to live in Brooklyn. Mrs. Beecher seemed unhappy anywhere else, and she was intensely interested in the church and all that related to it, attending its social meetings regularly, and being always anxiously desirous to be included in all its undertakings. And, be it said to Dr. Abbott's praise, she was, to the last day of her presence there, constantly gratified by the deference and attention paid her by the pastor first, and then by all associated with him in the management of affairs. At first her place was a rather uncomfortable one, for she was jealous of all her rights and privileges as the wife of the former pastor, but Dr. Abbott's affability and sincerely earnest effort to make her happy resulted successfully, and to the end of her days she was the recipient of attentions from the congregation.

Theodore Tilton survives nearly all those against whom he set himself in the dark days of the scandal, but his wife and daughter will outlive him, in all probability, as he is more advanced in years than Mrs. Tilton and is no longer the robust man he was. He is living alone in Paris, doing what newspaper and other writing he can get to do, and seeing but few of the many Americans who are always at the French capital. A few of his former friends—one in particular—visit him yearly, but he is no longer of importance to those of his own generation, and the younger generation has no memory of him. His reputation alone survives. Dr. Charles Hall, who preached Mr. Beecher's funeral sermon, has joined the great majority, and his brother, Edward, and his sister, Mrs. Stowe, are gone. The Rev. Mr. Halliday identified with Mr. Beecher for a quarter of a century, still survives, but is old and feeble. Horace B. Claflin died several years ago. Stephen V. White, who, like Mr. Claflin, gave with lavish hand to Plymouth Church and shared his wealth with Mr. Beecher, is, as he has been for thirty-odd years, a deacon.

A little while before her death, I had a talk with Mrs. Beecher about her early days in the West, where she and her young husband were toiling along on the meagre salary of a preacher

"About fifty years ago," she said, "we lived in Indianapolis. Those were happy days. We went there from Lawrenceburg to escape the chills, but we had chills, for malaria met us there when we arrived, shook us while we remained and went with us when we left. Our house contained only a parlor and a dining room, which was also used for a kitchen. A veranda ran along the front and this my dear husband boarded up and divided into two little bedrooms—each room held a bedstead—that's all. Not a foot of space for washstand or chair, and to make the beds I reached through the windows which opened into the house proper.

"At that time my husband received $400 per year salary, which was an increase of $100 on the salary he received while at Lawrenceburg. This we considered a great increase. I remember how his desk was so placed in our parlor so that he could and did watch me while I worked in the combined dining room and kitchen, and how he would read aloud to me every time he finished writing a page or two of the sermons he prepared. I would often drop my work and sit down beside him while he read his sermons. Then we would talk over his writings, and new thoughts would come.

"I kept boarders, took in sewing, did my own housework, usually with a baby in my arms (ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Beecher), yet I would willingly go through those days again if I could. I had my husband always with me. We worked together. He painted the house by the light of a lantern, which I held. Then the world had not claimed a share of my husband, and I was very happy. Of course I was glad of the work my husband was engaged in, but I cared nothing for the honor the world gave him. I loved my husband and always wanted him near me.

"I left Indianapolis to come to Brooklyn with my husband. I traveled East just six weeks before the first railroad was finished, and my husband came East on the first train that left Indianapolis bound East."

Latest Uses for Paper.

The latest use to which paper has been put is in making floors. In the form of a pasty mass the paper is spread upon the surface, to be covered and submitted to pressure. It behaves like plaster-of-Paris, and is said to be noiseless under the foot and particularly effective in preserving a uniform temperature. Having no joints, it presents a perfectly smooth surface.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. REED TALKS ON LABOR

The Speaker Meets Members of the American Federation.

HE GAVE THEM SOME INFORMATION

Senator Mason of Illinois Makes His Maiden Speech, Which Is Received With Hearty Applause by the Galleries—The Senate Proceedings.

Washington, April 22.—Speaker Reed gave an interesting talk upon the present policy of the house and incidentally declared his views upon labor organizations, in the course of one of the conferences which are of daily occurrence in the speaker's room. A delegation from the American Federation of Labor, headed by Samuel Gompers, the chief officer of the order, called to request action by the speaker and the house on matters in which the federation is interested. They presented a memorial asking the appointment of Representative Gardner of New Jersey to the committee on labor and also suggested amendments to the eight hour law. The speechmaking on the part of the federation was done by Mr. Gompers and J. J. McGuire. Mr. Gompers said that there was great distress throughout the country and many unemployed and expressed a hope that congress would do all in its power to alleviate the distress.

He remarked that there had not been as much legislation in the interest of labor by the last congress as the laboring man wished. They did not want to be put in the light of making demands upon congress; they merely desired to express their wishes. They regretted that the eight hour law was not more strictly enforced in its application to government works. They desired it to be understood, however, that they were antagonistic to revolutionary leaders and believed in lawful and orderly agitation and in the improvement of existing conditions by legislation.

Speaker Reed's Views.

Speaker Reed, in reply, expressed appreciation of the moderate and reasonable attitude of the laboring men. The labor organization, he said, was a necessary concomitant of the factory system. While in the old days laborers had been individually independent, the growth of the factory system had forced them to organize for the preservation of their rights and interests. He believed that results beneficial to humanity were coming from those organizations. While reforms of the class they spoke of moved slowly, they did move. Public sentiment was now much more tolerant of the eight hour law than it had been 10 years ago.

He could remember when every laboring man was expected to work 12 hours. Public sentiment had much to do with the enforcement of the eight hour law, and he had no doubt that under its impulse conditions were continually improving.

Referring to congressional action, the speaker said that only one thing could be done at a time, and he was certain all would agree that the first thing to be done by congress now was to arrive at a decision on the pending tariff bill one way or the other. He hoped the delegation would use its influence to mould public sentiment to ask for as speedy action on the tariff bill as could be obtained.

It was not thought best for the house to deal with other matters until that question was out of the way, because any action taken here might complicate and delay action on the tariff, which all must concede to be necessary.

Tariff Question First.

The tariff question once disposed of, there would be opportunity for consideration of the other interests asking legislation. As to the special request for the appointment of Mr. Gardner, the speaker said that would be taken under consideration, as all requests for committee assignments were.

In response to the complaint that the last congress had not done enough for labor, Mr. Reed said that remonstrances had been received by him complaining that congress had been much under the domination of the Federation of Labor. This fact would illustrate that there were conflicting ideas in the country. In conclusion, Mr. Reed expressed approval of the policy adopted by the federation. A continual and constant pressure within the law was much more effectual in securing reforms than violent methods, he said. Violence always brought reaction, and the reforms sought were likely to be lost in the turmoil of the outbreak.

The Senate's Session.

Washington, April 22.—Senator Mason of Illinois made his maiden speech in the senate and signalized it by some breezy criticism on the antiquated rules of the senate. It was such a variation from the prosy debate of recent days that the senator was accorded close attention and twice received the hearty applause of crowded galleries. The speech was in support of a resolution introduced by the Illinois senator directing the committee on rules to report a rule by which debate could be closed and the previous question asked. In this connection Mr. Mason sarcastically referred to the inaction of the senate on all great questions before it; the long and fruitless debate on Cuba; the delay of the arbitration treaty, and the inability to say whether our difficulties are to be settled by arbitration or by the methods of Corbett and Fitzsimmons. It was time, he said, to send the senate into drydock and rid it of accumulated barnacles.

Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts replied briefly, pointing out that the other branch of congress was more open to criticism that the senate. He was in accord with Mr. Mason, however, on the need of new rules.

A vote was taken on Mr. Gorman's motion to refer the Mason resolution to the rules committee, which prevailed—yeas, 32; nays, 24. A further discussion of the subject is promised, as Mr. Hoar has a pending resolution to discharge the committee on rules from further considering the reform of the rules.

Most of the session was given to the bankruptcy bill.

It was agreed that a committee of 15 senators should represent the senate at the coming Grant memorial ceremonies.

Death of an ex-County Treasurer.

Newburg, N. Y., April 22.—Charles Wilson, ex-county treasurer of Ulster county, died at Walden, aged 70 years.

an consul is visiting the camp of Colonel Vassos with a view of inducing the Italian volunteers to return home. He has had a long interview with Colonel Vassos, who said he could not control the insurgents, and feared they were preparing to take some action calculated to lead to serious complications. The Italian consul gathered the impression that an attack was meditated on the positions occupied by the international troops. Colonel Vassos declared he would not hesitate to attack Khania if ordered to do so by the Greek government, but he added that in such an event he would give due notice to the admirals of the international fleets.

Greeks Take Two Islands

London, April 22.—A Constantinople dispatch says the Greeks have occupied Mitylene and Scio, or Chios, after a sharp engagement with the Turkish troops. Mitylene, which in ancient times was called Lesbos, and Scio are two important islands in the Ægean sea, off the coast of Asia Minor, and belong to Turkey. Previous to 1822 Scio was the most prosperous island in the Grecian archipelago, but in the year named, some of the inhabitants having joined the Samians in their revolt, nearly the whole population of 130,000 people were massacred or sold into slavery.

Edhem Pasha's Press Censorship.

London, April 22.—Commenting on the absence of definite news from Elassona, the headquarters of the Turkish troops in Macedonia, the Daily Mail says it has received a private telegram from one of its correspondents on the scene of hostilities indicating that Edhem Pasha is suppressing all dispatches. This correspondent adds, "The whole situation appears changed by the tenacity with which the Greeks are holding Reveni pass, whereby they may possibly turn Edhem Pasha's position and cut off his communications with his headquarters at Elassona."

Turks Report Rout of Greeks.

Paris, April 22.—A dispatch to The Temps from Constantinople says that Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in chief, has telegraphed to the porte from Tyrnavo that two divisions, under Mendou Pasha and Omervechat Pasha, are now pursuing the Greek forces, who are in full retreat. Edhem Pasha also reports that these divisions have arrived within two kilometers of Larissa. He adds that his troops have commenced the investment of Larissa and that Mendou Pasha and Omervechat Pasha expect to capture it within three days.

Greeks Hold Damasi.

Athens, April 22.—Advices received here from Larissa say that the Greek army occupying Damasi, in Turkish territory, has repulsed all the attacks made upon that place by the Turks and that the Greeks are maintaining their position in spite of the heavy cannonade which they have been subjected to by the Turkish artillery.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Peaches and early strawberries of New Jersey have been ruined by the frost.

Cuban insurgents captured a Spanish transport and released 25 imprisoned Cubans.

One death from smallpox and one new case in the idiot asylum on Randall's island, N. Y., was reported.

John J. Farrell, crazed with study and clad only in underclothes, stopped the Pennsylvania fast freight near Jersey City.

Emperor William of Germany arrived in Vienna and was met at the station by Emperor Francis Joseph, who received him with effusive cordiality.

James McClelland, aged 18, of Corning, N. Y., was held for the grand jury for robbing the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railroad company's passenger depot.

The wife, two sons, daughter and hired man of Albert Brand, a farmer, were drowned at Fulton, Ky., by the overturning of a skiff in which they were trying to get out of the flooded lowlands.

Holman's Condition Serious.

Washington, April 22.—Representative Holman has had a sinking spell, and his condition is regarded as very critical. He has lapsed into unconsciousness, but as he has displayed remarkable vitality heretofore, the hope is expressed that he may yet rally.

Dead, With the Gas Turned On.

Philadelphia, April 22.—Mrs. Wolf, 75 years old, and Emma Mussock, 13, were found dead in the third story of their residence, at 1,900 Adler street, with the gas turned on. Whether their death was the result of accident or intent has not yet been ascertained.

Murderer Sentenced.

Chicago, April 22.—John Lattimore, colored, convicted of the murder of Louis Marvic, was sentenced to be hanged on May 28, on the same scaffold with William T. Powers, also colored. This will be the first double hanging of colored men that has ever taken place in Chicago.

IMPROVED DUST CART.

THE STREET DEPARTMENT HAS ADOPTED IT.

The New Cart is Lighter and Better Than Those Formerly Used by the City—Sweepings Deposited in Bags.

Another improvement has been introduced by the street department of the city. It is something new in the line of a carrier for street sweepings. For many years, the two men pushing around the heavy two wheeled carts to collect the sweepings has been a common sight. The old cart was heavy and ungainly while it was necessary for the man in charge to leave his work at frequent intervals, as soon as the cart was filled, to empty its contents at some dump. The new carts are much lighter and smaller than the old ones, but instead of having a wooden cask into which the sweepings are dumped, they have an arrangement by which a canvas bag can be attached to the cart and the sweepings piled into the bag. As soon as the bag is filled, it is tied up and another one put in its place. The filled bag is left by the curb for the wagon to collect. With each of the carts is a dozen bags.

Only one of the new carts has yet been put in use but another will probably be purchased by the city in a short time. The new cart arrived some time ago but the bags were not of the correct size and new bags were sent for. They arrived in time to have the new cart used for the first time yesterday. The cart was on duty on Park avenue, this morning, under the charge of two men who filled the bags together. It is intended that each man shall be equipped with one as has been done. It might be remarked that the old carts have seen much service and that their days are numbered as they are about worn out.

Fortieth Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Campbell celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their marriage, last evening, at their home on Park avenue, near Avon Park. It was a family affair and near friends and relatives from Brooklyn, New York, Woodbridge and Plainfield, were present, numbering about forty in all. A bountiful dinner was served and then the rest of the evening was spent enjoyably with music and dancing. Mr. Campbell said that he felt as young as he did forty years ago.

William Huff's Funeral.

The funeral services of the late Wm. Huff, who met death a few days ago as a result of a runaway, were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the house on Somerset street. Rev. Cornelius Schenck officiated and spoke words of comfort and consolation to the afflicted ones. The floral tributes were beautiful. One set piece was from Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F, and a delegation from the lodge acted as pall bearers. Interment was at Somerville.

Miss Walker, of Jackson avenue, and Miss Holmes, of East Front street, were the guests of Westfield friends yesterday.

DEFEAT FOR THE PARKS.

NORTH END WHIST CLUB OF NEWARK BESTED THEM.

It Came After a Long Line of Victories by the Big Four of Plainfield—The Score Was 17 to 6 in Favor of the Newarks.

The North End Whist Club, of Newark, proved itself to be in the first rank of whist experts in the State last evening, by administering a good square defeat to the famous four of the Park Club. It was another match for the challenge whist trophy, offered to the State Association by the Park Club.

The game was to have been played on Monday evening, but the date was changed by the Park Club players on account of the numerous happenings on Monday night. The Newark Club came over last evening with the intention of making a strong fight and they did. From the first the game went in favor of the visitors, and they finally captured the match by a score of 17 to 6. Then they took possession of the cup and departed soon after for home.

The visitors played an exceptionally fine game which places them in the front rank of whist players in New Jersey. They played carefully and with good judgment, and won the match fairly. The Parks, if the truth is told, have played so much whist this season that they are stale, and a good rest will greatly improve them. They will not play for the trophy again this spring as the season will be over ere their turn for a match for the trophy comes again.

Edward Waring, of Rockview avenue, left this morning for Lehigh University.

—At Skandia Hall, Thursday, April 22d, a benefit entertainment and dance will be given for two orphan boys. Tickets, 25 cents and can be had of Fred Back, Grand Union Tea Company. Music by Prof. Guttman.

—J. E. Townsend, of Somerset street, received an order for seven monuments to be delivered at German Village, near Madison, and early this morning his son started with the stones for that place. They are to be erected over the graves of German people who have died within the past few years.

QUIET HOME WEDDING.

NUPTIAL VOWS TAKEN BY A POPULAR PLAINFIELD YOUNG COUPLE.

Miss Jennie Louise Pangborn Married to William Hull Western Last Night at the Home of the Bride—Dr. Barnes Officiated.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was that of Miss Jennie Louise Pangborn, daughter of the late Isaac Pangborn, and William Hull Western, of Washington Park, which was celebrated last evening at 7:30 at the home of the bride's mother on Jackson avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Charles R. Barnes, of Jersey City, a former pastor of the bride.

The rooms throughout were tastefully decorated. In the parlor the prevailing colors were green and white, and the use of the beautiful southern smilax, together with a number of stately lilies, presented a scene of rare beauty. The decorations in the dining room consisted chiefly of pink. In the reception room there was a profusion of smilax and especially attractive was the staircase around which the vine was entwined.

At the appointed hour the bride and groom entered the parlor while the familar strains of the Lohengrin wedding march was being played. They were met beneath a large and beautiful floral bell of smilax and carnations by Dr. Barnes, the officiating clergyman. The service used was of the Episcopal church and the responces were very plain. The bride's gown was white satin point de Alencon en traine, with lace and pearl trimmings. A veil was worn and the bride carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Western received the congratulations of those present which included only the relatives of the contracting parties. During the evening a delightful supper was served by Wiertz, and while the guests were enjoying the feast P Ludwig Conde and Clarence Eick rendered a programme of classical selections.

About 10 o'clock the bride and groom left the city for an extended wedding tour, and on their return they will reside at No. 44 Fairview avenue, which house and property was a gift of the bride's mother. Another gift was a substantial check from the groom's father. There were also a great many beautiful presents from friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Western have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy and successful journey through life.

HIS LIBERTY WAS SHORT LIVED.

Joseph Kinney Escaped Indictment, But is Arrested on Another Charge.

Chief of Detectives John O'Brien, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, went to Somerville yesterday with requisiton papers and took with him to Philadelphia Joseph Kinney, who is said to be a notorious and successful railroad thief.

Kinney was arrested at Bound Brook some weeks ago on a charge made by a local liveryman that he overdrove a team which he had hired. The case was brought before the Grand Jury, which completed its labors yesterday, but as it failed to indict Kinney he was discharged by Judge Bartine. The Philadelphia detective at once placed him under arrest.

First Occupant of the New Poor House

The house at the city farm, which is now to be devoted to the proteges of Overseer of the Poor Marx, has its first occupant. He is a colored man, named John Wilson, who has become so aged and decrepid that the city has been called on to look after him. He has been located on the farm and the rest of the city's charges that now are living at the old poor house on Terrill road will be moved down to the new quarters in a short time.

Enlarging Their Business.

Kelly & Campbell, of this city, have purchased another orange grove next to their other one, at Crescent City, Florida. They report that the new crop is promising and they hope to have plenty of oranges in the fall. Many of the groves have been abandoned in the neighborhood of theirs, however, as the owners have not the money to carry on the care of the trees until the new crop is ready for sale.

BETSYTOWN DANDER UP

ELIZABETH ATHLETES IGNORE A DEMAND FOR A BASKET BALL GAME.

Claimed That in a Former Game, Physical Director Heywood Was Unfair as Referee, But There is no Truth in the Charge.

The summer is close at hand, and still the basket ball experts of the Elizabeth Athletic Club refuse to give the business men's class team of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. the return game that they are justly entitled to. The trouble is over the last game that was played between the Plainfield and Elizabeth boys at the Elizabeth Club's gymnasium. The captain of the E. A. C. team is very indignant at the action of C. E. A. Heywood, physical director of the Plainfield Association, who umpired the game. He claims that Mr. Heywood called the Elizabeth boys down on fouls that they never committed, and overlooked the fouls made by the Plainfield team. Mr. Heywood is known as a very strict official, while the Elizabeth boys, many of whom are football players, are apt to be a trifle loose regarding roughness. As so many of his team said that they would be unable to play in that game Mr. Heywood was forced to get two players from New York, "Sandy" Shields and another player, or else go down short handed. The Plainfield boys were able to go after all, and so the New York men did not play, but Mr. Heywood was accused of trying to strengthen his team with outside talent. The New York players were also accused of stealing a number of towels belonging to the Elizabeth boys, and of boasting of the fact that they had taken them. There has been considerable correspondence between the two clubs, but there seems to be no chance of the teams coming together again this season, at least.

ENDEAVORERS ENTERTAIN.

An Evening of Recitations, Songs and Games at Park Avenue Baptist Church.

The members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Park Avenue Baptist church entertained their friends at a sociable in the parlors of the church, last evening, in a very pleasant manner. There was the programme, then games and then a social hour with the accompanying refreshments.

The programme consisted of vocal solos by Mrs. Lines, accompanied by Mrs. Richards on the piano, recitations by Miss Elizabeth Fish, and vocal solos by Thomas J. Cuming. After a selection and encore by each, there was a short intermission and then the entertainment was continued, each entertainer giving another selection. The numbers were good and the audience applauded them vigorously. Miss Fish is a pupil of Miss Addie Parker Jackson and she showed the advantages of her instruction, for her selections were excellently rendered.

Games in which all could take part made the time pass quickly and were much enjoyed. Cake and lemonade was passed by the committee and a period of general sociability followed.

The committee in charge of the sociable was the regular social committee of the society, which is composed of H. E. Rider, chairman; David Runyon, Miss Annie Wyckoff, Miss May D. Thompson, Miss Lissa Livezay, Miss Jennie Giles, Miss Henrietta Cuming, Miss Mabel Darling, George Poole and Nelson VanWinkle.

No Opposition by the Wife.

Testimony was taken yesterday before Special Master in Chancery Benjamin A. Vail at Rahway in the divorce suit which Thomas Sprenger, of Carteret, brings against his wife, who deserted him three years ago and fled to Philadelphia, where she is said to be living with another man. No defence was made at yesterday's hearing and all the evidence for the plaintiff was submitted. The special master will make a report next week to the Chancellor, and it is believed the decree will be granted.

Theodore Cordes, a conductor on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, while coupling cars at Basking Ridge Wednesday afternoon, was caught between the bumpers and his collarbone was broken. FAVOR A HALF HOLIDAY

DRY GOODS MERCHANTS WILLING TO CLOSE NEXT TUESDAY.

It is Conceded That There Will Be But Little Business on Account of Grant's Birthday Celebration in New York.

Although Grant's Birthday is not a legal holiday in New Jersey, it will be observed to some extent in this section. As the boys of the cadet companies of the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools are going, there will be no school in either of the High Schools. Many of the residents of this city are also planning to attend the exercises in New York on that occasion, and there promises to be a general exodus next Tuesday. Now there is a sentiment among the dry goods dealers of the city to close up their stores Tuesday afternoon to allow their clerks to attend the parade or take the half holiday any way they wish.

A Press reporter interviewed a number of the leading drygoods merchants in regard to the matter this morning, and found them all willing to close if the rest agreed.

Edward White, the West Front street merchant, said that he was perfectly willing to close up half a day on Tuesday and give his clerks a holiday. He thought that there would be very little business done on that day.

I. H. Boehm, of West Front street, was willing that his clerks should go to the parade and said that he would close Tuesday afternoon if the rest would. He did not think that the holiday affected Plainfield very much, however.

Issac Lederer was not in when the reporter called but his son, who assists in managing the business, was there. He thought it a good plan to close on Tuesday afternoon and was in favor of closing, provided the other dealers were agreed.

Putnam & DeGraw had not thought of closing at first but said that they were willing. They thought that business would be very dull Tuesday afternoon.

Neither of the firm of Woodhull and Martin were in the store but is understood that they will take part in any general movement.

Fred VanEmburgh, of the firm of VanEmburg and Son, said that their store would close if the other ones did and that he was in favor of the movement.

THEIR FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

King's Foreign Missionary Society Just a Year Old.

The first annsversary of the organization of the King's Foreign Missionary Circle, of Warren chapel Sunday-school, was held in the chapel last evening. An entertaining programme occupied the first part of the evening, and the rest of the time was spent in enjoying the refreshments that were passed and the, social time that followed.

The programme opened with a few remarks by the pastor, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, who acted as master of ceremonies. The rest of the programme was as follows: Vocal solo, Miss Charlotte Messersmith, recitation, Miss Frankie Whiteley; reading of letter entitled "The Trip to Baracca," Miss Maier; vocal solo, Miss Jennie Morring; vocal solo, J. D Moon; recitation, Miss Lizzie Williams; vocal solo, Miss Charlotte Messersmith; recitation, Miss Frankie Whiteley; vocal solo, J. D. Moon.

All the numbers on the programme were well rendered, and received hearty applause. There was a goodly number present. After the programme had been conclued, refreshments were passed and the guests enjoyed a period of social converse. The affair was arranged by a hustling committee of which Mrs. Sutton was the efficiene chairman.

LADIES AID ELECT.

A Prosperous Society of the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church.

One of the most enterprising societies connected with the Monroe Avenue M. E. church is the Ladies' Aid Society, which held its annual meeting in Epworth House, yesterday afternoon. The members turned out in force. The reports of the officers were very gratifying to all. The report of the secretary showed a growth during the year, eleven new members having been added to the roll during that period. The treasurer's report was equally satisfactory, for it showed that not only was there a good balance in the treasury at the present day, but that a large sum had been spent during the year on worthy objects.

The election of officers was held and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Israel P. LaRue; vice-president, Mrs. A. D. Pearson; secretary, Miss Mary E. Brower; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Brouard.

GOOD HEALTH IMPERILED

SECOND GARBAGE OFFENDER BEFORE THE CITY JUDGE.

Henry Staats Held Responsible for the Acts of a Man in His Employ—Pleaded for Leniency on Account of Lack of Money.

The second offender against the new health ordinance of the city has been duly captured and arraigned before the local tribunal. The trouble in this case that caused a complaint on the part of Inspector William Addis, of the Board of Health, was that the man in question, or rather his employes, dumped garbage on the city dump.

Henry Staats is a respectable citizen of Netherwood and carts ashes, looks after lawns, and does other odd jobs for a living. Inspector Addis was informed that somebody was dumping garbage on the city dumping grounds and when he investigated he found that the cart from which the garbage was dumped belonged to Staats. Mr. Addis appeared before the City Judge and made a complaint against Staats under the health ordinance. A warrant was issued by the Judge and placed in the hands of Roundsman Flynn to serve.

Flynn found the man he wanted on Park avenue, yesterday afternoon, and arrested him. Staats was arraigned before the City Judge and pleaded guilty to the charge. He explained that the garbage had been dumped by his son, who was in his employ, and that he had warned him again and again not to do it. The city dumping grounds are at the gravel pits, on East Front street, near Netherwood.

Staats was, of course, guilty for the acts of his employes, but he asked for clemency in the matter as he was really not to blame and was in straightened circumstances. The Judge decided to wait the sentencing until Saturday morning, and ordered Staats to appear at that time to be sentenced.

SUIT TO RECOVER INSURANCE.

First Case of the Kind in Union County to be Tried in May.

The first life insurance case to be tried since Union county was formed in 1857, will come up at the May term of the Union County Court. It is that of the Catherine Regan against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York.

The plaintiff is suing for a $1,000 insurance policy which she held on the life of her son James. He died last August, after only a few days illness. His brother, Timothy, died in March, 1896, of consumption. The insurance company's contention is that James Regan did not truthfully answer the list of questions submitted to him when he took out his insurance policy, and that he did not state that his brother had died of consumption. J. A. Clark, agent for the Metropolitan Company requested Mrs. Regan to file the proofs of the death of her son James with the company, which she did five days after his demise. She was then to get a check for the amount of the policy, but instead received a notice that the company intended to contest the matter. Six doctors will figure in the case.

FROM TRACK TO TRACK.

Freight Car Wheel Comes Off and Derails a Locomotive on an Express Train.

An express train of the Royal Blue line of the New Jersey Central Railroad left Philadelphia at midnight Wednesday. Passing through Lorraine, a suburb of Elizabeth, two hours later, a wheel of a freight car in a train approaching on a parallel track came off and rolled before the locomotive of the express train. The pilot struck the obstacle, and the pony truck was derailed.

The wheels grated over the ties, and the engine threatened to leave the track at any moment and either crash in the freight cars or topple over and telescope the cars of the express train. The engineer applied the air brakes, and the train came to a sudden stop.

A crew from Elizabeth got the pony truck back on the rails, and the train resumed its journey.

A BRILLIANT EVENT.

MISS REINHART MAKES HER SOCIETY DEBUT BY GIVING A DANCE.

Casino Prettily Arranged With Floral Decorations—Grace and Charm of the Debutante Made it Very Pleasant for Guests.

One of the most brilliant events of the post-Lenten season was that of last evening when Miss Reinhart, of Belvidere avenue, made her debut into society by giving a dance at the Casino. The affair was a social triumph in every particular and the grace and charm of the debutante was proverbial.

The decorations, consisting of southern smilax and palms, transformed the hall into a perfect garden which added greatly to the general beauty.

The favors were especially attractive and they were given out by Mrs. Pfeiffer, Mrs. Van Boskerck, Mrs. Waring, Mrs. Van Buren and Miss Cock.

UNCONSCIOUS AN HOUR

CHARLES BEERMAN HURT IN A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT THIS NOON.

Urged Fred Endress' Horse to go Under the Plainfield Avenue Bridge and the Wagon Was Upset, by the Fractious Steed.

Charles Beerman, aged 38 years, driver for Fred Endress, the butcher, met with a serious accident today noon, while trying to drive a horse under the Plainfield avenue railroad bridge while a train was passing.

The horse did not want to go under the bridge but Beerman urged him on. Before he could reach the other side the wagon was upset and Beerman was thrown out. The man became unconscious and remained so for over an hour.

While there did not seem to be any external injuries the man suffered a great deal with a severe pain in the back. The ambulance was sent for and Beerman was taken to his home on Liberty street over the butcher shop. Dr. Clawson was called and made a thorough examination. He found the man suffering with pain and soreness, but the doctor does not consider his condition serious.

The wagon was completely wrecked, but the horse was caught before he had a chance to get away. This is the second accident of the kind that Beerman has been in. The first one happened some time ago and he narrowly escaped with his life.

Gone to the Jury.

The trial of the Burnett case at the Somerville court was continued this morning. The last of the long list of witnesses was heard and the two attorneys made their pleas. The Judge charged the jury and they retired to a side room at 12:45 o'clock where they still remain as this paper goes to press.

—A birthday sociable will be held in Hope chapel this evening at 8 o'clock.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

WHERE THE STEAM ROLLER IS TO BE USED THIS SUMMER.

Some of the Streets Are in Such a Condition That They Cannot be Improved to Any Extent Without Being Macadamized

The steam roller promises to be with us for a time yet. Front street, one of the principal thoroughfares of the city, has been greatly improved by the use of the roller, crushed stone, sand and water. Now Somerset street, from Front street to the brook, which is the city and county line, is being repaired.

The street committee has decided to do all that is in their power, with the present appropriation, to put the streets in the condition they should be. There are some thoroughfares which are, at present, beyond redemption, unless completely macadamized, which the appropriation does not permit. They will be left as they are. Among them are East Ninth street, First, Second and Third places. It is no reflection on the committee that they are in their present condition. Early this season the deep layer of mud was removed as well as possible, but every severe rain turned them into a mud pond almost impassable for a single horse or heavy vehicle. When the road dries it is full of ruts, which are rarely worn off ere the next storm comes. Those who have had occasion to ride through any of the above mentioned streets on their wheel will remember their condition.

There are plenty of places on macadamized streets that need repairing. Central avenue, between Front and Seventh streets, is sadly in need of repairs, and there the steam roller and its accompaning gang of men will go as soon as Front and Somerset streets are completed. The upper portion of Central avenue is also in a rather poor condition.

Another place to which the street committee will devote their efforts this spring will be Franklin place. That street formerly had the reputation of being one of the finest stretches of road in the city, but now it is far from that. The excavations for the water and sewer pipes spoiled the smooth surface and left it rough and uneven. Then the stones have become loosened.

ANOTHER APRIL WEDDING.

A Young Couple Married at the Home of Rev. W. H. Miller.

The marriage of Miss Minnie McLwaine, of Somerset street, and Frank Oldmen, of Perth Amboy, was celebrated last evening at 8 o'clock in the rectory of St. Joseph's (R C.) church, North Plainfield. Rev. Father Miller, rector of the church, performed the ceremony. The bridemaid was Miss Kittie McLwaine, of North Plainfield, and the best man was John Johnson, of Perth Amboy. The bride's gown was blue serge, trimmed with white satin ribbon, while the bridemaid wore a gown of green serge, trimmed with yellow satin ribbon.

After the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Andrew Saffron, on Somerset street, where a reception was held and supper was served. The collection of presents were costly and useful. Music for dancing was furnished by Eugene O'Reilly.

Included among the guests were Mrs. Oldmen, Charles Oldmen, Perth Amboy; Miss Dorlon, Miss Rose Dever, Mss Kittie Burke, Miss Lynch, Miss Susie McLwaine, Miss Maggie McLwaine, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Saffron.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Oldmen left the city for Perth Amboy where they will reside.

GOING IN THE PARADE.

School Cadets to Form Part of the Grant Anniversary Festivities.

Plainfield and North Plainfield are to be represented in the Grant parade at New York, Tuesday. The cadet companies from the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools will unite to form one company and will take part in the parade. Captain Geo. F. Edwards will be in command. The cadets will leave here early Tuesday morning by the Jersey Central Railroad for Elizabeth, where they will meet the special train on the Pennsylvania Railroad carrying the brigade of New Jersey militia which is to take part in the parade, and the High School cadets will accompany them to Jersey City. A barge will convey the brigade and the cadets up the river to the point of formation.

Cyclist Took a Tumble.

While Clifford J. Miller, of Park avenue, was coasting down Cole's hill on East Front street, yesterday afternoon, on a bicycle he lost his balance and took an awful tumble. His wheel was badly wrecked and he was painfully bruised.

ATTACK ON HUMBERT

A Political Fanatic Attempts to Stab the King.

THE DAGGER AVOIDED BY RISING.

The King, Unhurt, Proceeded on His Way Unconcerned, and on His Arrival at His Destination Was Greatly Cheered—Was His Second Escape.

Rome, April 22.—An attempt has been made to assassinate King Humbert of Italy.

While King Humbert was on his way to the races, a man named Piotro Acciarito, an ironworker out of employment, attempted to stab his majesty with a dagger. King Humbert was accompanied by his aid-de-camp, General Pondis Vaglia, and was going to witness the Royal Derby. His assailant, who was waiting outside St. John's gate, rushed up to the carrige in which his majesty was seated and attempted to stab him. The king avoided the dagger by rising from his seat.

Acciarito, seeing he had failed in his attempt to assassinate the king, threw away his dagger and was immediately arrested by two carbineers, while his majesty calmly ordered his coachman to drive on.

On arriving at the race course his majesty was greatly cheered.

The news spread with great rapidity, and when the king reached the royal stand at the race course it was soon surrounded by a cheering multitude. The members of the diplomatic corps present and a number of other distinguished people sent their congratulations to the king on his escape.

King Humbert treated the matter lightly and remarked:

"It is only one of the little advantages of my trade."

The king remained at the race course with his nephew, the Duke of Aosta, until the Royal Derby was run.

His majesty then returned to the quirinal, followed by hundreds of carriages and thousands of people gathered about the palace, who gave the king an imposing and frantic ovation. They called for the royal hymn, and the band of the guard on duty at the palace played it repeatedly.

King Humbert and Queen Margaret were moved by the popular demonstration and twice appeared on a balcony of the palace and bowed their acknowledgments of the frantic cheering of the populace.

The embassies, public offices and private houses were decorated with flags as an expression of rejoicing at the escape of his majesty, and thousands of people inscribed their names at the palace.

Previous Attempt at Assassination.

This is the second time the life of King Humbert has been attempted. As his majesty was entering Naples on Nov. 17, 1878, the year of his accession to the throne, a man named Giovanni Passananite approached the king's carriage and attempted to stab his majesty with a dagger. The king, however, was only scratched by the blade, but Signor Cairoli, who was then prime minister and who was with his majesty in the carriage, was severely wounded in the thigh. Passanante was sentenced to death, but the king commuted his sentence to imprisonment for life.

Acciarito, the assassin, is 24 years old and a native of Artegna, a village of Italy, province of Udine. He appears to be a political fanatic. He says he has no accomplices.

Sketch of His Majesty.

King Humbert, or Umberto I, second king of Italy, was born at Turin, March 14, 1844.

His mother was Marie Adelaide, daughter of Archduke Ranieri, then viceroy of Lombardy and Venice.

In 1859, when still a boy, he was with his father on the battlefield and passed through many battles.

He was married to Princess Margherita, daughter of the duke of Genoa, in April, 1868, at Turin.

After the outbreak of the war between France and Germany, in 1870, Humbert made Rome his residence.

Victor Emmanuel died Jan. 9, 1878, when Humbert became the second king of United Italy.

At various times within the last five years rumors of plots to assassinate King Humbert have been circulated persistently, and many detectives watched him wherever he traveled.

When the silver wedding of the king and Queen Margherita was celebrated in 1893, more than 3000 socialists and anarchists were arrested and charged with plotting to kill the ruler.

The Honduras Revolution.

Washington, April 23.—Some news of the insurrectionary outbreak in Honduras has reached the state department through United States Minister Coxe at Antigua, Guatemala. He says a revolution started on the north coast of Honduras under the rumored leadership of Enrique Soto and Vasquez, former president, and that the revolutionists have gained possession of Puerto Cortez and Pedro Sula. Three thousand troops have been sent by the government to put down the revolutionists, who are believed to number not over 700. Arrests of important persons suspected of complicity have been made at Tegucigalpa.

New Arrival Found Drowned.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 23.—The body of a man has been found in the Susquehanna river near the Erie railroad bridge. In a vest pocket was found a folder containing several steamer tickets bearing the name of Gyorky Franks and last place of residence Vienna. The man sailed from Rotterdam Wednesday, April 14, and his card of inspection certified that he passed quarantine last Wednesday. The coroner is investigating.

YALE COLLEGE INTERESTED.

War Situation In Greece Seriously Interferes With Her Researches There.

New Haven, April 23.—Professor Thomas D. Seymour, head of the Greek department of Yale, has received elaborate reports of the war situation in Greece and discussed the probable effect of the present war upon the country, particularly the effect of the war on the American school at Athens and on the Yale Greek scholars who are studying in Greece. He said:

"Excavations have been stopped by the managers of the American school in Athens because of difficulties caused by the war.

"Of course the state of affairs in Greece does not prevent the study of Greek archaeology from going on in the libraries, but the letters from the Yale men in Greece state that it is, of course, very difficult to study and to go on with classical research in the excitement that prevails in the city.

"Eben Alexander, '75, is the American minister to Greece, and I have received dozens of papers from him relating to the trying situation in that country.

"Much interest prevails at Yale over the situation, as the American school at Athens has been so largely conducted by Yale men.

"It is safe to predict that Yale's interests at the Grecian capital will be cared for by her son, the American minister, Mr. Alexander."

INTERESTING RAILWAY CASE.

Suit to Recover Money Said to Have Been Wrongfully Withheld.

Indianapolis, April 23.—A suit of the state against the Vandalia railroad to recover money due to the school fund under an old charter was filed in the county clerk's office by Attorney General Ketcham. It is charged that a sum in excess of $2,000,000 is due. The case will come before the superior court. The title is the State of Indiana ex rel. etc., against the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad company. The summons was made returnable on May 3.

It is alleged that the company wrongfully withheld from time to time large sums of money out of the earnings over and above what was reasonably necessary as a contingent fund to pay subsequent expenses, in violation of the charter, investing these sums in United States bonds, stocks and bonds of other roads, in city bonds and in purchasing its own stocks from individual holders, amounting in the aggregate to $3,000,000.

DEATH OF JUDGE HOLMAN.

The Celebrated Representative From Indiana Passes Away at the Capital.

Washington, April 23.—Representative Holman of Indiana, who had been ill at his home here with spinal meningitis, is dead.

His death was due primarily to a fall he sustained early this month as the result of an attack of vertigo.

Mr. Holman was born in Veralstan, Dearborn county, Ind., Sept. 6, 1822. He attended Franklin college, was admitted to the bar, became a probate judge, a member of the legislature, and was a common pleas judge from 1852 to 1856.

He was a member of the Thirty-sixth congress, and with one or two exceptions has been in every congress since.

Mr. Holman paid such close attention to the expenditures of the government that he became known as the "Watchdog of the treasury" and the "Great Objector."

Carnegie's Houses Burned.

Pittsburg, April 23.—The 350 frame houses built by the Carnegie firm within the inclosure of the mill at Homestead caught fire last night. Over 200 of these houses were burned to the ground. They were built during the great Homestead strike in 1892, for the protection of their workmen against the strikers. The loss will be $10,000 and 1,200 people will be homeless.

Prizefighter Vernon Dead.

Athens, Pa., April 23.—William Vernon, a Haverstraw prize fighter, died here from the effects of a blow similar to that by which Fitzsimmons knocked out Corbett. The fatal blow was struck during a fight between Vernon and Leslie Pierce of Philadelphia, in a lightweight contest before the Olympia club on Monday night.

To Exterminate Hog Cholera.

Windsor, Ont., April 23.—A serious outbreak of hog cholera in the southern part of this county has led the inspector to recommend to the government the slaughter of all hogs in that part of the country as the only means of exterminating the disease.

Strike Against Reduction of Wages.

Toronto, April 23.—The employees in the Axminster department of the Toronto Carpet Manufacturing company, foot of Jarvis street, have gone out on strike. About 20 men and half a dozen girls are affected. The trouble arose from a reduction in wages.

Large Catches of Seals.

St. John's, N. F., April 23.—The sealing steamers Leopard, with 2,000 seals; the Algerine, with 2,500, and the Vanguard, with 6,500, have arrived here. The cargoes of the latter, consisting largely of old seals, is estimated to equal 13,000 young seals.

Looted the Church.

Catskill, N. Y., April 23.—St. Patrick's church has been entered, and valuable booty amounting in value to hundreds of dollars was stolen. In the flight of the thieves several costly articles were dropped outside of the building and afterward recovered.

Receiver Appointed For a Newspaper.

Syracuse, April 23.—Justice McLellan appointed George M. Barnes receiver for the Syracuse Courier company upon application of the directors of the company. The liabilities of the company are $34,904, with assets estimated at $28,525.

French Anarchists Arrested.

St. Nazaire, France, April 23.—Five anarchists have been arrested here. The police on searching their lodgings found important incriminating documents and also a design of a bomb.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'Mystic Cure' to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. Vaugh, of Oakton, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrœa Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomah and bowels." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—At present there are only two cases of contagious disease in the city. This speaks well for Plainfield and her efficient Board of Health.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," he says, "and find it an excellent medicine for colds, cough's and hoarseness." So does everyone who gives it a trial. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

TURBULENT SESSION.

Morgan Makes Caustic Remarks About Speaker Reed.

SYMPATHY EXPRESSED FOR GREECE.

The Bankruptcy Bill Passed by the Senate Disappoints the Judiciary Committee—The Free Homestead Bill. Proceedings of the House.

Washington, April 23.—The session of the senate was one of the most eventful since congress assembled. It opened with a proposition for an official expression of sympathy to the Greeks in their struggle with Turkey. This soon was merged into a turbulent debate over the disorganized state of the senate, during which Senator Morgan characterized Speaker Reed as the "great white filibuster." Later in the session the Nelson bankruptcy bill was passed by the decisive vote of 49 to 8.

Mr. Allen of Nebraska offered a resolution providing that the chief executive express the sympathy of the American people to the government of Greece. The senator declared that the present contest was one between Christianity and paganism. At the request of Mr. Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, the resolution was referred, Mr. Davis promising speedy action.

Senate Committees' Debate.

The debate on senate committees aroused Mr. Morgan to a speech of unusual severity. He spoke of "dictatorships," of the subordination of public business to politics. He characterized the condition of inaction in the house of representatives as the "most gigantic and unheard of filibuster" ever attempted. In conclusion, Mr. Morgan said that the speaker of the house, who had been known as the "great white czar," should be hereafter known as the "great white filibuster."

Another stirring chapter to the same subject was added by Mr. Allen, who proposed a complete cessation of senate business except to consider appropriation bills until committees were filled. The resolution lead to another heated debate, in which Messrs. Chandler, Gear and Allen participated. The resolution finally went over.

The Bankruptcy Bill.

The bankruptcy bill, as passed, is the substitute framed by Mr. Nelson of Minnesota. The success of this substitute in displacing the committee bill was a great surprise and great disappointment to the judiciary committee, which had reported a comprehensive bill known as the Torrey bill. It was regarded as a personal triumph of Mr. Nelson.

The Nelson bill, as passed, provides for voluntary and involuntary bankruptcy. But the theory of the author was to free it from harshness and make it of substantial benefit to debtors and creditors.

The free homestead bill was made the unfinished business of the senate. A committee of 15 senators was named to participate in the Grant ceremonies.

On the announcement of the death of Representative Holman the senate adjourned as a mark of respect, the adjournment being until next Monday.

In executive session the senate confirmed the nomination of Harold M. Sewall to be minister to Hawaii.

In the House.

The house adopted a special order for the consideration of the senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill without reference to a committee. Democratic dissensions again came to the surface. Mr. Bailey and his followers joined with the Republicans in this proposition after the special order had been modified so as not to cover the appropriation bills.

Mr. Bland of Missouri protested vigorously against the course, but only had a following of 24, not enough to get a record vote. Mr. Simpson of Kansas is out of the city and therefore was not in evidence. The senate amendments of minor importance were concurred in, except the removing of the Indian supply depot from Chicago to Omaha. The amendment relative to the opening of the Uncompahgre reservation was not acted upon.

While it was being debated, the death of Judge Holman of Indiana was announced. The usual resolutions were adopted and a committee of ten appointed to accompany the remains to their final resting place. As a further mark of respect the house adjourned.

They Object to Prizefight Pictures.

Ottawa, April 23.—A petition against kinetoscope pictures of the Fitzsimmons-Corbett fight being exhibited in Canada was presented to parliament, which states that "any such exhibition must be followed by evil effects upon the disorderly elements of the country, and that lamentably upon the boys and young men of our schools, inspiring them with base and unworthy ambitions." The petitioners point to the fact that the legislatures of New York, Massachusetts and Illinois passed bills prohibiting such exhibitions, and more legislation in that direction has been introduced in congress.

TAX RATES AND VALUATIONS

The New York Tribune remarks of the tax rates of New Jersey cities that "low taxes do not always mark the most desirable residential districts." That is true. It is also true that the figure of the tax rate does not indicate whether taxes are high or low. It all depends on the rate of assessed valuation. Property-owners in places where the average assessment is about 30 per cent of the real value of property can well afford a high tax rate, since the amount of tax they pay is comparatively small. For example, a tax rate of 4 per cent on a property worth $1,000 and assessed at 30 per cent, or for $300 would be exactly the same as a tax rate of 2 per cent on $1,000 of property assessed at 60 per cent, or for $600.—Newark Advertiser.

CALLED ROSIE BAD NAMES.

A Dusky Damsel Who Objected to Replies Given to Her Commands.

There was one solitary offender in the city court this morning, and he was of a dusky due. It was William Stevenson, a harmless colored resident of this city. He was locked up for calling Rosie Jackson, one of the characters of lower Madison avenue, where she reigns supreme, names that did not suit her fastidious taste.

Stevenson visited that part of the city and fell under the rule of the dusky Rose and was ordered about. He was not in love with such conduct and he showed his dislike for it in terms more forcible than polite. In fact, it is said that he consigned her in his words to a region even warmer than Africa.

Rosie objected and the times grew hotter. Then Rosie made a complaint about his words and Stevenson was called before the City Judge to answer for his misdeeds. He pleaded guilty to the charge of being disorderly and using indecent and profane language and the Judge sentenced him to pay $3 to the city treasury or take ten days in jail. He put up the cash.

Burglar Alarm Went Off.

The residents in the neighborhood of the residence of Rev. Robert Lowry, of Madison avenue, were aroused by screams, at a late hour last evening. It turned out that the burglar alarm in the house had started off without any apparent reason and wakened the servant. She had tried to summon assistance by screaming. Patrolman Higgins was on the scene in short order and made a thorough investigation but found no trace of burglars The alarm system has been known to go off without any attempt to enter the house, so it is supposed that this was not occasioned by midnight marauders.

NEW JERSEY SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

Essex County Leads the State in Contributions by the Scholars.

The Year Book of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association, which has just been issued by General Secretary Rev. E. M. Fergusson, of Trenton gives an interesting exhibit of the Sunday-school work of the State for 1896. The statistical tables include all evangelical denominations. There are 2,280 Sunday schools, an increase of forty over the number reported for 1895. Enrolled in these are 39,848 officers and teachers, and 310,937 scholars; total enrollment, 350,797, an increase of 10,441. The scholars of school age (five to eighteen years) number 200,293, which is only 45 6 per cent. of the school population. Nearly a quarter (24 2 per cent) of the whole population are in the Sundy-school.

Other facts which may be gleaned from these tables are: Number of union Sunday-schools, 242; open all the year, 1,954; hold a teachers' meeting, 239; have a "home department," 159, with 5,318 home scholars; have a separate room for the primary department, 1,041, with 64 475 scholars enrolled therein; present the temperance pledge, 376, with 14,138 signers; scholars church members, 75 264; united with the church, 10,327, a slight decrease from last year; contributed for all purposes, $230, 764; for benevolent objects, $91,588; for county, state and international Sunday school work, $3,502, with 1,296 schools contributing.

The rural counties seem to have the largest proportion of Sunday-school membership to population, the percentages ranging from 33 for Gloucester and 33.04 for Cumberland to 17.9 for Essex and 12.8 for Hudson. The schools of Essex county take the lead in contributions, having raised $48,150.65, of which more than half was devoted to benevolent objects.

Announcement is made of the fourth annual session of the Summer School of Primary Methods, to be held at Asbury Park, July 5 to 10. A course of ten lessons in blackboard sketching by Miss Struble, of Trenton; ten lectures on "Child Study," by Miss Cushman, of Newark, and five studies in practical primary class work, by Mrs. Barnes, of Newark, are among the important features of the programme Through this school and the primary unions Secretary Ferguson estimates that fifteen per cent. of all the Sunday schools of the State have been helped to the better teaching of their little ones.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Peter Johnson has been spending a few days in New York city.

Mrs. William Connolly is visiting among Glen Gardner relatives today.

Thomas Brennan has returned from a ten days' stay at the National Capital.

Mrs. Peter Dumont, of Somerville, is visiting her cousins, the Misses Hunt.

Miss Sarah Vail, of Orchard place, Plainfield, has been visiting among Dunellen friends.

Mrs. Charles Dickerson and Mrs. James Dougherty have returned from a visit with Brooklyn friends.

There will be no session in the public schools on Tuesday next. The day will be observed as Grant's birthday.

Abner Coriell surveyed the Elliott property yesterday afternoon with a view, it is said, of its soon changing hands.

T. F. Dickerson was able to walk out yesterday after a several days' confinement to the house suffering from the grip.

E. H. TenEyck is making some extensive improvements to his house on Fairview avenue. John Apgar is the contractor in charge.

A meeting of the Dunellen Checker Club will be held in W. H. Coles' office this evening, after which there will be individual playing.

"Joe" Maier is going into the poultry raising business. He has erected a fine hennery and is already the owner of some very fine stock.

If a street sprinkler was ever needed in Dunellen, it is now. The dust is actually so thick that many people shut up their house and close the window blinds.

It was announced here last evening that Charles W. Day had during the day received his commission as post master at New Market, to succeed Dr. W. J. Nelson.

Messrs. Dealaman and Carman went over to the Dead river in search of game on Monday. But it was not to be had, and their catch was one long-necked snipe.

The many friends of Mrs. Eugene Runyon will regret to learn that she is lying dangerously ill from pneumonia. Dr. J. T. Fritts, of Plainfield, is the attending physician.

The Board of Directors of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association met in Alvah Gray's office last evening, when some little talk was indulged in concerning the further amending of the by-laws.

Adam Seader had a very exciting runaway here yesterday afternoon. His horse took fright at something near the street car terminal and dashed through town at a break-neck speed. There were several wagons standing in the roadway in the heart of the town, but Seader steered clear of them all, and finally got the runaway under control near Taylor's Hotel. This is the second time the same horse has run away within the past few weeks, but very fortunately in each instance little damage resulted. Yesterday when the runaway sped by, people rushed from stores and houses, expecting to see Seader and a companion who was with him, thrown out and seriously injured.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

John R. Marsh is excavating near his house for a new cesspool.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Turton were in New York and Brooklyn, yesterday.

John Cook has purchased the Collins property and will make some extensive improvements.

Norman Dunn is still crippled with rheumatism and he has great difficulty in getting around.

The beautiful American flag, which floats gracefully from the flagstaff on the Public School building, is admired by many.

The dust yesterday was exceedingly offensive to pedestrians and bicyclists, but of the latter there were about as many out as usual.

The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller is confined to their home with diptheria. Dr. Westcott has quarantined the house.

Edward L. Hand has called a meeting of the Township Committee to be held in the Town rooms, tonight, at 8 o'clock. Business of importance is to come up for consideration.

William C. Stanbery, who has been confined to the house for some time past by illness, is regaining his health and his host of friends hope for his speedy and ultimate recovery.

Miss Johnson and Miss Bliss, teachers in the Scotch Plains Public School, made a tour of inspection of the schools in the townships, yesterday, and in consequence no exercises was held in their classes.

There seems to be no relief for the scarcity of water. Wells are almost daily going dry, and many of them, which have never before been known to show the result of a dry spell, now haven't a gallon of water in them.

The wood which Mr. Cook purchased at the Heckler Powder Mill and which has caused so much trouble owing to the fact that it is saturated with nitro-glycerine, will be destroyed in a short time. Mr. Cook says he has no use for the lumber.

While excavating about an old house on the mountain, near here, a day or two ago, the workmen came across a small chest containing an army bridle and a few old coins. How or when they were deposited there is not, of course, known, but, aside from some mould on the bridle, it was found to be in a good state of preservation.

LINCOLN.

At the directors meeting held at Bound Brook, Wednesday, of the Franklin Company, now located at South Bound Brook, it was voted unanimously to move to Lincoln. Plans for the new factory were ordered drawn, and work will be commenced on the factory by June 1st. This step was deemed necessary on account of their growing business and the many advantages offered at Lincoln.

THEATRICAL.

Perhaps the most welcome announcement the local management has made this season is that concerning the coming presentation of the "Prisoner of Zenda," the most popular play of the period. It enjoyed a run of two hundred nights in New York, where the theatre could not begin to accommodate the crowds who wished to see it; it has been the sensation on tour wherever it has been presented, and it is now the reigning success of the London stage. It is a play of love and adventure, and its atmosphere is that of genuine romance in which the stage finds pre-eminently its proper sphere if its province is to entertain. There is little need to refer to the play in detail, for everyone is familiar with Anthony Hope's delightful story from which it was dramatized. The play is produced by arrangement with Daniel Frohman, manager of the Lyceum Theatre, New York, and a sterling cast and an elaborate production is assured. At Music Hall on Monday night.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The beautiful floral decorations at the Casino last night for the Reinhart dance were handsome and most tastefully arranged by Miss A. E. Lincoln, the Park avenue florist, who displayed her usual good taste.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity.

Westfield Lodge, I. O. O. F., will have a celebration next Monday evening.

The Methodists tender a reception to their pastor, Rev. W. H. Ruth, this evening.

The Westfield Club gives its amateur minstrel show this evening in the Club hall.

Mrs. J. B. Harrison, of Broad and Elmer streets, entertained the Thursday euchre club yesterday afternoon.

A number of Westfielders went to Belleville, last evening, to witness the installation of Rev. Dr. Rice, as pastor of the Belleville Congregational church.

Rev. J. G. Dyer and family will remove from South Amboy to White Plains, Westchester county, N. Y. He will continue in the pastorate of the South Amboy Baptist church, but as he has other work to which he will devote a part of his attention, New York is more convenient for him.

Rev. Henry Ketcham, pastor of the Congregational church, of this town, is up to-date. He can not only preach a good sermon, but he rides the wheel also, and has issued an invitation to wheelmen to come to the services on their wheels, if they choose. Bicycle racks will be put up in the church yard.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Locust Grove chapel gave a "heart party" last evening. It is said that a young man from Westfield lost his heart and that it is now in the possession of loving hands of a Locust Grove belle. Mr. and Mrs. Abe Barnett and Joseph Vought, were among the Westfielders at the party.

Westfield Club Hall, last evening, was resplendent with youth and beauty. The occasion for this display of the coming beaux and belles was the commemoration of the fifth anniversary of the Independent Order of Stars. It was the last ball, reception, and entertainment that will be given this season, and by far surpassed all previous public sessions, for which the I. O. S. are so justly famous. By nine o'clock there were about fifty couples gathered in the hall and the grand march began. It was led by Mrs. Fred Condit and Miss Olive Russell. The next was the lancers, followed by various fashionable dances until 10:30. Then came a short entertainment. It consisted of recitations, readings and music. Mr. DeWitt, of Brooklyn, played some classical piano music on the piano, and the happy dancers marched to the banquet hall, where they did justice to a choice banquet. On returning to the dance hall, they danced the german, led by Miss Georgie Bogert, one of Westfield's most popular belles and artistic dancers. The dance continued until a late hour, and when it did break up, the young folks departed with the satisfaction of knowing that they had participated in one of the most pleasurable events of the season.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

MARTIN ACT IN BAYONNE.

How the Law Works That is to Be Enforced in Plainfield.

The second sale this year of realty acquired by the municipality of Bayonne, because of delinquencies in taxes, assessments and water rents, was held yesterday afternoon in the Bayonne City Hall, under the provisions of the Martin act. Frank Stevens conducted the sale.

The catalogue of property offered to buyers embraced nearly 150 lots in every section of the city, but before the time for the sale fully one-half of the parcels had been redeemed by their former owners and withdrawn. The total amount realized by the sale was $19,525. Nearly twice as many lots were sold last December at auction, and the amount realized was only $18,003.92

INTERNATIONAL SERIES, WITH COMMENTARY BY DR. STEARNS.

Golden Text: "The Angel of the Lord Encampeth Round About Them that Fear Him, and Delivereth Them." Psalm xxxiv, 7. April 25, 1897.

5. "Peter was therefore kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him. There is no doubt but that God could prevent the devil from touching one of His children, but such is not His way. When on earth the Lord Jesus said: "In the world ye shall have tribulation. Whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service" (John xvi, 33, 2). From the glory after His ascension He said, "The devil shall cast some of you into prison that ye may be tried, and ye shall have tribulation" (Rev. ii, 10). But this also we are perfectly sure of, that nothing can possibly come to a child of God without God's permission (Job. i, 10 12; Zech. ii, 5, 8; Rom. viii, 28).

6. "Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison." The enemy did his best to make sure of his prey. Two words in the Greek tell the story of James (anelle machaira) killed with a sword. For Peter, God had other work yet to be accomplished and suffered him to be placed in these circumstances that He might show forth His power. In the hands of the authorities and under the constant guard of four soldiers, to two of whom he was chained, the deliverance seemed hopeless, but the believers did all they could do and cried instantly and earnestly to God (margin).

7. "And behold the angel of the Lord came." Double guards, chains, bolted doors and prison walls are nothing to one of those holy beings that excel in strength, that do his commandments hearkening unto the voice of His word (Ps. ciii, 20). From heaven to earth as a flash of lightning, through storm or sunshine, they haste to do His will and minister to His beloved ones (Heb. i, 14; Ezek. i, 14; Acts xxvii, 20, 23).

8. "Cast thy garment about thee and follow me." Awakened by the angel's touch, loosed from his chains, arose from between the still sleeping soldiers and in the light that shone in the prison girded himself and bound on his sandals. There is no stealth nor injunction to step lightly, nor fear of any kind, but the quietness and majesty of the power of God.

9. "And he went out and followed him, and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision." In deepest trials God sometimes gives restful dreams or visions of coming blessings or deliverances, as when to Jacob in his sorrowful journey from home He revealed Himself to him at the foot of the wonderful ladder on which angels were seen ascending and descending (Gen. xxviii, 12, 13). It seemed to Peter as if this were some such vision.

10. "They came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city, which opened to them of his own accord." The angel needed no open gate or doors for him to pass through, but for Peter in a mortal body doors and gates must be open, and they did without any touch from human hands. The same angelic ministry attends us today, and all doors will fly open before us when our Lord desires it.

11. "Now I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent His angel and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod." When Peter found himself alone out on the street in the night, he began to come to himself. There were no chains upon him, no soldiers near him, no walls around him, but God's earth beneath him, God's sky over his head, and perhaps the stars looking peacefully down upon him. Then he began to realize that for the second time (Acts v, 18) an angel had brought him out of prison. No power can hold those whom God wishes to set free.

12. "He came to the house of Mary, the mother of John, whose surname was Mark, where many were gathered together praying." He had no difficulty in deciding whither to direct his steps, nor did the angel need to tell him where to go. Does God see that when you are free from the duties of daily cares you will promptly go to where they meet for prayer? (Acts iv, 23).

13. "And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to ask who was there named Rhoda." Many women's names which we would like to know, such as the mother of David, are found in Scripture. Why should this girl's name be here, inasmuch as the Spirit does nothing without a reason? If any one has the answer, let us hear it; if not, we can wait, and some day we shall know.

14. "And when she knew Peter's voice she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in and told how Peter stood before the gate." Knowing Peter's voice makes us think of John x, 27, "My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me." Yet how many hear His voice, but because they will not open to Him He does not come in, and they do not become His sheep. In this case joy caused Rhoda to lose her head, as we say, and she left poor Peter outside the gate while she ran in to tell.

15. "And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel." Yet they had been praying that, if possible, he might be delivered from his enemies (verse 5). Would we be about as much surprised if some of our prayers were answered, or do we always pray and expect an answer?

16. "But Peter continued knocking, and when they had opened the door, and saw him they were astonished." Peter was bound to get in, and therefore kept knocking. That is the way to do, even as our Lord taught us in Luke xi, 5-9; xviii, 1. "Ye shall seek Me and find Me when ye search for Me with all your heart" (Jer. xxix, 13). The fear of the Lord, the knowledge of God and wisdom will be obtained when we seek it as silver and as men search for hidden treasure (Prov. ii, 4). Would gratitude or astonishment fill us if we had today the answer long looked for?

17. "But he beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison."

DR. HOBBS

Challenges the Citizens of Plainfield

AT HIS OWN EXPENSE

To a Public Test of the Ability of his Sparagus Kidney Pills to Cure Disease.

TO-MORROW

There Will Be Given Away a Sample Box of Dr. Hobbs Pills Free to Every Person Asking for It at

W. Randolph's Drug Store

The remarkable challenge of Dr. Hobbs to every interested citizen of Plainfield to test the merits of his Sparagus Kidney Pills to cure every conceivable form and phase of disease of the kidneys, rheumatism and bladder troubles is worthy of more than passing comment.

Dr. Hobbs does not enter these columns with mere assertions of the value of his remedy, and invitations to all the druggists and pay for his remedy before its merits are known, but in unmistakable terms he invites every interested person to call at a leading drug store and get free of charge, a box of his Sparagus Kidney Pills and test their efficacy to relieve and cure disease.

The claims made for the remedy in question are, speaking in a general sense, that the Hobbs Remedy Company, of Chicago and San Francisco are owners of the ASPARAGUS KIDNEY REMEDY, which they positively assert will cure all kidney diseases, with the exception of those where tumors and ulcers have formed and surgical operations necessary.

For the purpose of making this test in an open manner and beyond criticism, a large number of samples of DR. HOBBS SPARAGUS KIDNEY PILLS have been sent to under an agreement that SATURDAY, April 24th, a sample box will be GIVEN FREE TO ALL

desiring to test the value of these pills.

To each applicant for a free sample of these wonderful pills will also be given a little book on kidney diseases, which sets out, in a clear, plain manner, just such information as would be wanted by anyone with weak kidneys.

For free samples of these pills write to or call on

SICK-POISON.

What It Is, and Where It Comes From.

Sick-poison is what makes you sick, irritates your nerves, disorders your functions, saps your strength, makes you miserable.

Different diseases have different poisons, some have several, indigestion more than any.

That is, the symptoms of indigestion are caused by the poisons which are created by undigested food.

When you are sick, try to get rid of your poison.

It is often easier than you think, for all nature is helping you. Only the poison is obstinate, but the first step is to go to the root of it.

The poisons of undigested food, which cause lethargy, headache, dizziness, weakness, bad taste, stomachache, fever, flatulence, nausea, constipation, loss of appetite, jaundice, anæmia, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc., these poisons can be swept away and annihilated by the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Curing the stomach and helping it to digest food, when it is too weak to do so by itself, will purify your system of poison and renew your strength and health.

Shaker Digestive Cordial, a pure, vegetable, digestive tonic, made by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, will cure all disorders caused by the poisons of undigested food, when nothing else will give any relief.

Sold by druggists. Ten cents for a trial bottle.

Write for a book on food. Address The Shakers, 30 Reade Street, New York.

DEMANDS OF LABOR.

Memorial Sent to the President by the Council.

IT ASKS FOR LEGISLATIVE RELIEF.

An Appeal Signed by the Leading Members of the American Federation Reciting the Grievances and Suggesting Legislation.

Washington, April 23.—The following memorial has been presented to the president and members of the cabinet by the executive council of the Federation of Labor:

"Multitudes of our working people—American citizens—at this hour are suffering humiliating poverty and countless privations and look to you for speedy relief. Last fall they were promised helpful legislation, and they expect it from you without unnecessary delay. In no party spirit we appeal to you to heed their wants and to promptly meet this unparalleled situation in the true spirit of American patriotism.

"With industry half paralyzed, trade stagnant, values depressed and shrunken, with enterprises stifled and the productive power of labor palsied, with our commerce listless on the seas, our immense resources blighted, we bid you hasten the return of better times, to inspire confidence and bring cheer and comfort to the homes of the millions of citizens who now seek work and wages in vain.

"In the name of producers in shop and factory, in mill and mine, in the fields and on our lakes and seas in behalf of the toilers but of late idle and those underpaid, we urge on you the necessity of legislative relief. The destitution among the honest, proud and industrious people of our land, though half hidden, is ever increasing and becoming more and more appalling. The hopes they had are fast turning to gloomy despair.

"Invention, machinery and subdivision of labor and the countless labor dispensing appliances to cheapen production even in the best of times disturb permanency of employment, tend to reduce wages and intensify competition in nearly every field of labor. Added to this, the unrestricted flow of immigration from abroad, the organization of trusts, the centralization and concentration of capital in the manifold industries—all make the existence of the wage-men more hard and precarious. These changing conditions unknown to our forefathers, must not be met by promises, broken to the hopes, but by substantial and remedial legislation at the hands of congress.

The Federation's Demands.

"We therefore most respectfully memorialize the president, cabinet and congress of the United States for the enactment of these measures:

"First.—Amendment to the federal eight hour law, so as to secure its practical enforcement on all public works by or for the United States government, whether done by contract, subcontract or days' work.

"We are strenuously opposed to the evasions and violations of the present eight hour law by the heads of the departments and officials in the federal service.

"Second.—A remodeling of our immigration laws so as to secure an enlarged protection to American citizens and their families in entering upon the struggle for existence in this country.

"Third.—Reform in the national banking system and in the issuance of the currency of the United States, so as to secure the people from the possibilities and disasters of financial crisis.

"Fourth.—Liberal appropriations for government public works and for the improvement of rivers and harbors.

"By the prompt adoption of these relief measures at the hands of congress we firmly believe some degree of prosperity may be restored and the condition of the people bettered. We assure you the millions are now in no disposition to be trifled with. They are fast becoming desperate, and deep are their mutterings of discontents. They desire to realize some of the prosperity so freely promised on the stump six months ago.

"Over three millions of willing workers are idled. Shall they appeal to you in vain? Shall the interests of trusts, syndicates, monopolies, corporations and moneyed men remain of more importance than the welfare of toilers? We trust not. We still believe the people's representatives are not dead to the public welfare. We ask that they rise to the patriotism of this great occasion and hasten to bring relief to the masses of their fellow citizens."

The memorial is signed by Samuel Gompers, Peter McGuire, James Duncan, James O'Connell, M. M. Garland, John B. Lennon and Frank Morrison, executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

New Jersey License Laws.

Cape May, April 23.—The Newbaugh act now in the hands of Governor Griggs does not authorize borough councils to grant liquor licenses, and in consequence nearly all the resorts of New Jersey which are boroughs will be without licenses unless the county courts grant them. The old law allowed each applicant a license upon his own request, but now it requires 12 freeholders to apply for each license. Heretofore, where only 20 or 30 people lived in a borough, there were 10 and 15 saloons to accommodate the summer visitors. Now but two or three will be able to obtain licenses.

Accident to Torpedo Boat.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 23.—As the torpedo boat Stiletto was steaming this port to act as one of the markers of the course for the trial of the Annapolis, a pipe of steam pipe in her engine room burst and disabled her. Repairs were at once commenced and soon completed. At the time of the accident the steam guage registered 120 pounds, but the break at once reduced it to 30. No one was injured. The Cactus took the Stiletto's place as stakeboat.

Sentenced For Making False Returns.

Cincinnati, April 23.—James M. Wall, ex-cashier of the Farmers' National bank of Portsmouth, O., pleaded guilty before Judge Taft of the United States court to an indictment for making false returns to the government of the condition of the bank. The court gave him the minimum sentence, five years in the penitentiary. Wall was jointly indicted with the president of the bank, Watkin, who is ill in California.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Mr. Potter, of Mt. Pleasant, has purchased a new wheel and he finds a great deal of pleasure in taking frequent spins.

Miss Adelaide Baxter, of Putnam avenue, has become the owner of a brand-new maroon enameled Crescent wheel, purchased of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

One of the latest fads among the bicycle riders of the city is to have the name of the rider printed in gilt on the upper tube of the wheel. It helps to identify the wheel and is a great safeguard against theft.

One of the handiest little books published for wheelmen is the "Up-to-Date Cycling Record Book," published by Emil Grossman & Co., Cleveland. The book contains all the latest records of all kinds, the racing rules for '97, photographs of the leading riders, and a host of important things, all of value to the cyclist. The book may be obtained by addressing the publishers and sending ten cents

Have you looked at the Pierce bicycle? If not, it will pay you to do so before deciding on your mount for the coming season. It is not a wheel made only for show. While it is one of the handsomest wheels on the market, it is built to stand and after the designs of some of the most expert machinists in the country. E. Frank Vail, of North avenue, is the agent, and he is glad to explain the merits of the wheel to any one. He just received a shipment of them yesterday.

Bicycle riders are of one opinion regarding any person who is miscreant enough to place obstacles on a bicycle path. There is nothing too bad for him. This morning, G. H. Murphy, the plumber of Bound Brook, was riding along the side-path between Bound Brook and Dunellen when he caught three small boys placing logs and other obstacles on the narrow side-path about a mile from Dunellen. He removed the obstacles and learned the names of the three lads, who live out that road some distance from Dunellen and were on their way to school. The names are now in the possession of the authorities.

Walter B Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, has returned after a tour with two chums from Steven's Institute on the Wolff-American triplet. The tour was to continue all this week and the riders were to visit Long Island but the friend whom they were to visit was taken ill and so that part of the trip was given up. After leaving Plainfield the first part of last week, they went to Newburg and Brewsters, New York. While on their trip, they broke a sprocket wheel and returned to New York where another triplet of the same kind was taken and the trip continued. Rittenhouse returns to his duties at Steven's Institute on Monday morning.

While the repairs to Park avenue in the direction of Metuchen have been completed and the crushed stone is gradually wearing smooth, that thoroughfare is still in no condition for cyclists to ride. A spin over to New Brunswick has heretofore been the favorite way that many of the Plainfielders have of spending their spare afternoons. With Park avenue blocked, the riders have been forced to go elsewhere. There is another road to New Brunswick that is in good condition and is really shorter than the road by Metuchen. It is the new Stelton road. This road begins at New Market and may be reached by going to Dunellen via Front street, which is in good condition, and then taking the cross road to the left to New Market. On entering New Market, the rider crosses the Lehigh Valley railroad, passes over the bridge and keeps to the left up a short but steep hill. At the top of the hill there is a store on the right hand corner and the Stelton road begins on the right. It is only necessary to follow the macadam road and the rider will eventually come out on the main road to New Brunswick, a mile from that place. There are no steep hills on the road, except the one already mentioned, which is comparatively easy to climb.

H. K. Trumpoure, of Somerville, has purchased a bicycle from E. Frank Vail.

Steven Aldrich, of West Front street, has purchased a '97 Fairbank Standard wheel.

Lawyer Harry Maxson, of West Fourth street, enjoyed a ten-mile-ride this morning before breakfast. Such performances are rare in this locality.

Mrs. Augustus VanDeventer, of Washington and Myrtle avenues, is one of the new converts to the wheel, and is fast learning to manage the silent steed.

Jerry Callahan, of Richmond street, is one of the latest to conquer the mysteries of wheel riding, and has purchased a Barnes White Flier for his own use this summer.

New Jersey ought to have 10,000 members by December 1st next, and the New Jersey Division looks to the wheelmen and good road advocates for the new blood. Persons desiring application blanks may procure them by addressing The Press. Now that the riding season is here a wheelman connot afford to let it pass without a league membership ticket, which entitles him to liberal discounts at league hotels on the most prominent highways throughout the State. All league members will be admitted free to the New Jorsey Division State race meet the coming summer, which is a saving of fifty cents in itself.

INS AND OUTS.

The nine from the St. Mary's cadets, Joseph Barry captain, have scheduled a game to be played with the Black Diamonds of Morristown on May 22d., in this city.

A game of base ball was played yesterday on the Y. M. C. A. field between Homer Smith's team and the Junior League team of Leal's school. The latter team won by a score of 16 to 15.

The New York base ball club passed through Plainfield, yesterday morning, in special coaches bound for Philadelphia, where they opened the season, yesterday afternoon. The home team won by a score of 5 to 1. An audience of 24,000 people attended the game.

The team from the Plainfield Grammar school defeated Albert Greib's nine on the Grant avenue grounds, Wednesday afternoon, by a score of 24 to 11. The battery for the victorious team consisted of Kenneth and Merrill. Greib and Sprague were the battery for the other side.

The Plainfield High School boys will play their first game for the championship of the New Jersey Interscolastic Athletic Association to-morrow morning at Newark with the team from the Newark Academy. A game was to have been played with the nine from the Montclair High school, last Saturday morning, but it was postponed on account of rain. The batting order of the High School team to morrow, will be as follows: Sebring, left field; Smith, first base; Lederer, catcher; Fisher, short stop; Phillips, centre field; Sutphen, pitcher; Craig, third base; Dean, second base; Thompson, right field. While the High School team contains a number of good players, the Newark nine is a very strong one and is very likely to defeat the Plainfield team.

BASKET BALL.

Unless new arrangements are made, the basket ball season in Plainfield will come to a close this evening with a game between the regular team of the Y. M. C. A. and the team from the business men's class of the same association. These two clubs have met several times before this season, and in each game the "regulars" were victorious, but only by narrow margins were the victories won. There has been a steady improvement on the part of the business men, and they are now playing a far better game than at the first part of the season. So great has been their improvement that they have a good chance of winning the game tonight. Play will be called at 8:15 o'clock.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The P. C. C. and Cleveland Cyclers will bowl this evening on Uirich's alleys, East Second street.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

George Proctor Smith, of the Plainfield High School, succeeded in throwing the hammer, Tuesday afternoon, the furtherest he has in this city. The distance was 101 feet, 10½ inches.

A Good Record.

Edward Gilmore, of Somerville, who last week resigned his position with the Central Railroad Company, to take effect May 1st, has a record that any one might feel proud of. He entered the employ of the company on October 3d, 1855, and has been with the company continually since, and has never had a particle of friction with the officials during the whole time. His time has been put in as follows; Laborer, 8 years; section boss, 5 years; road foreman, 2½ years; floating gang boss, 14 years, and assistant supervisor, 12 years.

SCHOOL FOR DOMESTICS.

PRACTICAL VIEW OF THE SERVANT QUESTION BY A PLAINFIELDER.

He Attributes the Poor Quality of Help to the Employers Themselves—a School of Instruction is What is Most Needed.

In the Century magazine for February, a woman with eight years' experience as a domestic servant laments that there are so few training schools for girls who wish to learn such work.

Why is it that with all the benevolent institutions in Plainfield there is no such school? It is certainly needed. We lament the dearth of skilled servants, especially in the country; we pay high wages to those who are skilled; we try to make shift with the dirty, ignorant, clumsy, stupid slatterns, who make up the great mass of "girls;" but how can we expect anything different? What opening is there for a young girl, of good home training and fair education, who wishes to earn her living in this way? In the cities she can serve an apprenticeship as kitchen maid in some of the rich families, but in the country there is no such opening.

Unless in exceptional cases she must accept a position at low wages in a family which requires only a very inferior kind of service, is content with that, and knows nothing better. In such a place she will learn only the roughest and coarsest work. She will have no chance to learn how to cook, or to wait at table, or to do chamber work in a proper manner. She is being trained to do all these things in a slovenly, inferior, unsatisfactory way, and she has no idea that there is any better way, and no opportunity of finding out. As she gets older she thinks herself fully qualified for service. If bright and enterprising she may find employment with some good housekeeper who will train her, but this is the exception. The natural fate of such a woman is to stop at the point indicated.

She thinks she knows it all; if her service is not satisfactory she is usually too stupid and conceited and indifferent to try to improve; she passes on to some household who accept her service because they know nothing better.

If such a girl could attend a school where she could learn to do chamber work, waiting and plain cooking, properly, she could easily choose her own situation at wages $2 to $5 a month more than is usually paid. I think such a school would be well attended. As soon as workingmen and mechanics and their wives understood that there is a wide opening for well-trained servants, at high wages and in good places, they would send their daughters to such a school. As soon as they saw that a certificate of proficiency in plain cooking or waiting at table would ensure a situation it would open their eyes.

The daughters would like it. They would become self-supporting; they could help their parents, or lay by something for marriage, and they would learn how to care for their own homes when they have them.

I believe one of the great difficulties of the question is the lack of educational facilities; we have raw material in plenty, but there is no one to guide or teach it. And so we get good servants from England, Germany, France, Sweden and Ireland, while our American born girls become mere kitchen drudges, or go into factories, or stores, or do plain sewing and supply texts for philanthropic sermons.

And now, ladies, is this written by a man or a woman? X.

BOWLING TEAMS BROKE EVEN.

No High Scores Were Made by Either of the Contestants.

Two very interesting bowling games were rolled on the Ulrich alleys last evening between the Cleveland Cyclers and the P. C. C. Warning to Cyclers.

Very many of the accidents on highways and at railway crossings that result in death and injury to cyclers are due to the inaccuracy of the eye in calculating distances. No cycler can tell whether he is free from this defect without having his eyes tested by a skilled optician. Such a test is free to you at Collier's, 103 Park avenue.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

HOUSE OCCUPIED BY MRS. JULIA PHILPITT PARTIALLY DESTROYED.

It is Thought That the Origin of the Fire Was Incendiary—The Firemen Quickly Responded and Did Excellent Work

A fire broke out at 2:10 this morning in the house occupied by Mrs. Julia Philpitt, on Mountain avenue. William H. Turner, a boarder, discovered the fire by the dense smoke arousing him from his slumbers. He called to Prtrick Eagan, who lives next door, and the latter sent in an alarm from Box 123, corner of Mountain and Westervelt avenues. Only seven minutes elapsed before the department was on the scene and had a stream of water on the building. It is the opinion of the firemen that the fire started in the northeast corner of the second floor, but Mr. Turner says that it started on the ground floor. The supposition is that it was of incendiary origin.

The entire roof was burned and the northeast side of the house, while the damage by fire and water inside is quite large. The firemen did good work in saving considerable furniture. A great deal of the furniture and furnishings were either ruined by fire or water. A line of hose was laid from the corner of Westervelt and Grandview avenues, a distance of 1,200 feet, and considering the distance a good pressure was obtained. Mrs. Philpitt was asleep at the time and it was with difficulty that she escaped from the house without being suffocated.

Julius Stahl was among the first of the firemen to arrive and he helped to carry out the furniture. He says that it seemed to him that the fire started in the second story for there did not appear to be any fire below that point when he reached the place.

The house is owned by Charles Hyde and is insured in the German-American Insurance Company for $500, and there is an insurance of $1,000 on the furniture. J. C. Pope & Co. hold the insurance on the house. Mrs. Philpitt lost a very valuable sealskin sacque which was destroyed by fire. Many other things were soaked with water and they are practically useless.

KILLED IN A RUNAWAY.

CARRIAGE WAS RETURNING FROM A FUNERAL AT BOUND BROOK.

Mrs. Frank Wheeland and Mrs. Jane Hoagland Jumped and the Former Was so Seriously Hurt That She Died Later.

While returning from the funeral of Henry Brush at East Millstone last evening about 6 o'clock, William Taylor's livery team, driven by Jack Anderson, became unmanageable in the canal drive, opposite Fisher's Hotel, Bound Brook. The driver was thrown off and his leg was broken.

Mrs. Frank Wheeland and Mrs. Jane Hoagland, who were in a carriage, were afraid of the horses running into the canal, and they both jumped.

Mrs. Wheeland was injured seriously internally. Mrs. Hoagland's dress caught in the steps, throwing her and badly injuring her breast and head.

The runaway team ran into a carriage ahead containing Captains McFadden and Blazer of the Volunteer army, injuring them slightly.

When they left Millstone six of the seven carriages took the road along the canal, keeping close together. The head carriage was driven by "Jack" Anderson, and was followed by a carriage driven by "Matt" English. When about half way home the horses of the head carriage became unmanageable and shied to one side, while the carriage following plunged into the coach ahead. Two other carriages smashed into the wreck, but were only slightly damaged.

The two carriages were totally demolished and all their occupants injured. A person who saw the smash says that just before the two coaches crashed together it looked to him as if the drivers were racing and as if the driver of the second coach were trying to get by the other. English, the driver of the second coach, refuses to say anything about the affair.

Mrs. Wheeland died at 9:30 o'clock, and Mrs. Hoagland is in a precarious condition.

Hospital Grounds Being Improved.

The grounds surrounding Muhelenberg Hospital and the Nurses' Home are being greatly improved under the direction of H. P. Reynolds, who is chairman of the committee having the matter in charge. Thomas Burke is doing the work of harrowing, grading and seeding the grounds, and it is the intention of the committee to have a fine lawn in place of the otherwise bare condition of the ground.

THE NEW BOROUGH LAW.

GOVERNOR SAYS IT WILL GO INTO EFFECT TODAY.

It Practically Places All Boroughs in the State Under One System of Government—The Most Important Points.

Governor Griggs announces that the General Borough bill will be approved and become a law today, April 24. The bill which was drawn by former Assemblyman Alfred T. Skinner, as special attorney for the Borough Commission appointed by the 120th Legislature, was introduced in the Senate on March 11 last, and was passed in the latter days of the session.

The bill provides for the same officers as are now existing in the boroughs, except that the magisterial powers of the Mayor are taken from him, the Police Justice s eliminated, and the powers before possessed by them are vested in a borough Recorder. These powers were taken from the Mayor in the belief that the class of men who might be induced to serve as Mayor would be both unable and unwilling to bother with petty criminal matters. No mention is made in the bill of constables, but borough marshals are given all the powers of constables, and that was thought sufficient.

The moneys for borough purposes are to be appropriated and raised by the Council by ordinance. All street improvements are to be paid for by assessments upon the property benefitted, any deficincy to be met by general taxation. The tax rate is limited to fifteen mills on the dollar, exclusive of all State, county or school taxes. All assessments for local improvements are to be made by a permanent Board appointed by the Council, in substantially the same method as is now in force, and are to be preceded by application by the owners of one-fourth of the frontage.

The power is issue bonds is exercised by a resolution of the Council, preceded by application of the owners of one-fourth of the taxable property of the borough, followed by a vote of the people, and the total issue of bonds is not to exceed 6 per cent of the assessed valuation of the borough. In this limitation all bonds issued for school purposes and all indebtedness incurred in anticipation of taxes are not to be included.

The bill is silent on the subject of licensing saloons, the effect of which is to leave these powers in the county courts.

Power is given for all ordinary municipal improvements, for street lighting, for waterworks, sewerage, etc., together with certain improvements applicable only to seaside boroughs, such as protection to the ocean front and the erection of walks.

The classification of boroughs is done away with, as practically no distinction exists in the present law based on such classification. Boroughs having a population of 3,000 or over are are to have a Freeholder; other boroughs will vote with the townships for that office.

The main characteristic of the bill is the simplification and codification of the existing law without interference with the present structure and government of the boroughs.

TO SEE THE FARADE.

Local G. A. R. Men Going to the Grant Anniversary Exercises.

No member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., can afford to miss the opportunity of witnessing the great Grant parade in New York next Thursday. Not only will the whole first division pass in review of the old Vets, giving the marching salute, but the march will be comparatively short and at its conclusion the Post will run back and see the President and Cabinet; also the grand naval parade that is to follow. The Post leaves the room at 7 o'clock sharp, and the Commander hopes to see in line every comrade who can possibly get off for that day. The cost will not exceed $1.50 for each member. Present yourselves in uniform. Dark clothes, gloves and cane.

GAYETY AT PARK CLUB.

A DANCE ARRANGED BY THE JUNIORS PROVED VERY PLEASANT.

The Guests were Sprinkled with a Number of Visitors from Out-of-Town—Names of All Who Were Present at the Affair.

The gayety of the post-Lenten season was continued at the Park Club, last evening, with a Junior dance. As it was the only social event of importance held last evening, it was largely attended. The number of out-of-town visitors was quite noticeable. As is usual with affairs given in the charming little club house of the borough, the dance was a great success and the junior entertainment committee came in for its share of credit. Although the night was rather warm, there was no lack of couples to fill all available dancing space and two-step followed waltz and waltz followed two-step as the night passed away and the early hours of morning approached.

There was a pleasant interruption at 10:30 o'clock when the guests adjourned to the basement where Steward Jones had a collation ready.

The patronesses of the dance were Mrs. William J. Roome, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mrs. J. T. Scott, and Mrs. William L. Saunders. The affair was arranged by the junior entertainment committee, which is composed of Charles S. Cook and Fred P. Taylor.

Among those present during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Mrs. F. H. Ball, Mrs. W. J. Roome, Mrs. J. T. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Thiers, Mrs. Charles H. ENDEAVOR EASTER SERVICE.

Miss Emma Fish the Leader of a Meeting Spiritually Helpful.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church held a special Easter service last evening which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Miss Emma Fish was the leader of the meeting and she made a few remarks in opening in regard to the resurrection of Christ from the grave.

There was an excellent attendance and a large number took part in the service by offering prayer or making a few remarks appropriate to the accasion.

A feature of the service was the rendition of special music by Mrs. Nelson Runyon, Miss Adelia Runyon, T. A. Cuming and William Stimpson. Several vocal selections were rendered by the quartette, and Miss Fish presided at the organ.

Accepted an Invitation.

A meeting of Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., was held on Thursday evening. An invitation to attend the reception to Grand Master Workman Rutherford by Memorial Lodge at Newark, May 10th, was received, and the lodge has now decided to attend in a body. A programme arranged by the good and welfare committee followed the business session and was much enjoyed.

Facts.

The income of the Czar of Russia for a single day is 5,000 pounds; that of the Sultan of Turkey 3,600; Emperor of Austria 2,000; Emperor of Germany 1,600; Queen of England 1,300, and yet no one of them can get any better coal than the plain everyday American citizen get at the coal preserves of Stevens & Co., of 747 West Front street.

BIG SMASHUP AT RARITAN

SIXTEEN COAL CARS TELESCOPED AND BLOCKED THE TRACK.

Caused by An Axle Breaking and Derailing One Car.—Three Men Slightly Injured.—Trains Delayed for Several Hours.

A disastrous railroad smashup occurred on the Central railroad at Raritan, one mile above Somerville, yesterday afternoon about 4:30, and as a result travel was delayed for nearly three hours.

Engine No. 346, east bound, drawing along coal train, was speeding along at a lively rate for the purpose of reaching the siding at Somerville so as to get out of the way of the fast express which was due in a short time. There are only two tracks at Raritan and the coal and freight trains are sometimes obliged to run fast so that the tracks may be clear for the passenger trains.

The engine and several of the coal cars had hardly passed the Raritan station when an axle on one of the forward cars broke. The car was derailed and the other cars piled up in a promiscuous way.

In an instant the engineer learned that something was wrong, but he was unable to stop the train before serious damage resulted.

The broken axle was the cause of telescoping sixteen coal cars directly in front of the Raritan station. The cars were piled one upon the other and large pieces of iron flew in every direction, covering the platform at the station.

Thomas Kelly, of Raritan, together with two other men, were working in a freight car, nearby, loading machinery. As a result of the accident, Kelly's ankle was severely sprained and the other two men received slight injuries.

The two tracks were blocked entirely and it was three hours later when travel was resumed. In the meantime passengers were transferred and in that way reached their destination.

A large force of railroad employes were dispatched to the scene of the wreck and at once began to clear the tracks. After much hard work the tracks were cleared and the first train from Easton reached this city, about 8 o'clock.

The road bed was torn up considerably and this is being repaired today. There was a report that a team of horses standing near was frightened and ran away, but this is denied by those who witnessed the accident.

PARSONS PLAYED BEST.

REVS. O'DONNELL AND JOHNSON THE MAINSTAYS IN BASKET BALL.

The Two Plainfield Ministers Distinguished Themselves by Repulsing the Regular Team's Tactics to Down Them.

The basket ball season in Plainfield closed last evening with a fiercely contested game between the regular team of the Y. M. C. A. and the team from the business men's class. At least these were the teams that were supposed to be playing, but neither side played with their regular team and the question of supremacy between the two real teams remains undecided. In the game, last evening, the regular team won by a score of 13 to 10.

Both sides were in for blood, as the expression is, and the game was a livelier one than has been played for some time. Fred Bonny filled the place of Smith on the regular team very acceptably and made quite a reputation for himself. He played with Captain Walter Long, who was at his regular position at forward. There was a tendency on the part of three of the regular team to slug and they played a much rougher game than usual. No one, however, was hurt. The ministerial team of the business men, Revs. Messrs. O'Donnell and Johnston, played together better than any two men on the floor and showed the regulars they could not run over the business men after all.

The score stood 8 to 4 at the end of the first half and the final result might have been closer, but for the unusually poor luck the business men had in having the ball stay in the basket when it was thrown there.

New Directory Compiler.

Charles VanWinkle, who was the secretary of the Republican Association in this city during the last campaign, has purchasad the share of H. H. Baker in the Plainfield city directory and will issue the directory this year.

Too Much Dust.

A petition is in circulation and being numerously signed asking the Common Council to compel the Street Railway Company to devise some improvement whereby the dust caused by the running of their cars can be obviated.

OUTRAN THE SERGEANT.

BUT THE POLICE OFFICER SAYS HE DROVE WALLACE INTO HIS HOLE.

A Bit of Repartee That Was Indulged in Police Court This Morning Between Prisoner Wallace and Sergeant Kiely.

The local police tribunal was a lively place, this morning, and the offenders there had some lively experiences to relate. Liveliest of all was the adventure of Robert Wallace with Sergeant Kiely.

Robert Wallace does not love the Sergeant, that was plain to be seen. Wallace thinks that the Sergeant was waiting for a chance to arrest him, and Wallace was not anxious to march through Park avenue on Saturday night in the grasp of an officer and spend the night in jail. Therefore he ran when the Sergeant started to grab him. Last Saturday evening, Wallace and his friend, Peter Cullen, and several others were standing on the corner of Second street and Park avenue. Wallace had some information that Cullen wanted to know but refused to impart it to him. Cullen called him down and Wallace smacked Cullen under the eye and called him a "buttermilk," just for fun they say.

The sergeant heard loud words and saw the blow struck. He started to arrest Wallace, but the latter skipped along Second street. The sergeant pursued. The chase was a lively one until Wallace reached his boarding house on West Third street and sprang through the door head first and bolted it after him. He was afterward arrested by Patrolman Myers.

Wallace was arraigned for trial this morning. He was telling how he had fooled the sergeant when the officer exclaimed:

"Your head isn't big enough to fool me."

"Ugh," sneered the prisoner, "You can't run fast enough to keep your feet warm."

"I can run fast enough to drive you into your hole," retorted the sergeant. The crowd laughed and the Judge threatened to clear the court room.

Wallace was represented by Walter L. Hetfield. Sentence was suspended.

Charles Barry, the hackman, was up in court again for violating the hack ordinance. Several witnesses were heard and the trial was adjourned until Monday morning.

John Lynch and Morris Barre both pleaded guilty to violating the same ordinance, and were fined $3 each. Peter Seader was charged with the same offence, but pleaded not guilty. After hearing the testimony of the witnesses the Judge found him guilty and fined him $5.

Sentence was suspended on Henry Staats, the offender against the health ordinance.

BIRTHDAY SOCIAL.

A Pleasant Affair Given by a Hope Chapel Society.

An enjoyable birthday social was held last evening at Hope chapel under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. There were about two hundred people present who passed a pleasant time. An interesting programme was presented which included instrumental solos by Miss Firstbrook, Miss Gray, and recitations by Miss Huff, Miss Try Mattox, and W. R. Mattox. In each case an encore was given and the efforts of those who entertained were appreciated.

The collection from the envelopes amounted to $10,58.1-2. Someone passed in a penny cut in two pieces which accounts for the half cent. This money will be devoted to the needs of the chapel.

Those who served on the entertainment committee were Mrs. George E. Firstbrook, chairman; Miss Lizzie Firstbrook, Miss Anna Gray, Miss Howarth; Mr. Muir, Mr. Brown, Mr. Gray. The refreshment committe consisted of Mrs. Smith, Miss Higgins and Mrs. Sheppard, while Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Page received the guests and their money as they entered the chapel.

After the rendition of the programme tea and cake was served in abundance to all and the remainder of the evening was passed in socialbility.

Trolley to Bound Brook.

It is learned that the contract to build the trolley railroad from Bound Brook to New Brunswick will be awarded next week, and that the contractor will give bonds to complete the line for the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company and have cars running by July 15th next. The company is determined to build the road in the time stated. There is great rivalry between the above company and the Brunswick Company for a section of 900 feet of streets in Bound Brook, and action on the matter will be taken next Tuesday, but the New York and Philadelphia Company will go ahead whether action to them is favorable or not.

GREEKS STILL FIRM.

Constantine's Army Continue to Hold Turks In Check.

BATTLE ON PLAIN AND IN PASSES.

Osman Pasha, the Hero of Plevna, Succeeds Edhem Pasha as Commander of the Turkish Troops—More Greek Victories In Epirus.

London, April 24.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle, writing under date of yesterday, says that the Crown Prince Constantine has wired to King George as follows:

"The Turks are quiet today, owing to our success yesterday. We have destroyed the Turkish battery at Ligaria. The Turks have retired from Nezeros and Rapsani. The action of our fleet at Katerina was excellent. I was in the first line of fire yesterday."

The Chronicle's correspondent says: "The Turks are greatly dismayed by the destuction of their stores at Katerina and at Litochorion. Commodore Sachtouris destroyed the stores from the coast to the foot of Mount Olympus. Nothing remains, therefore, for Edhem Pasha to carry away but hunger. The coast route being barred, the only remaining road from Saloniki is the Verria road, eight days from Elassona.

"The reports of the injury to the railway line by the blowing up of bridges and a tunnel are confirmed.

"Financially everything is going well, and the value of paper money has risen. It is reported here (Athens) that the Turkish troops will be withdrawn from Crete. Private advices from Volo say that all the villages between Katerina and Verria have risen.

Turks Burn Wounded Greeks.

"Among the wounded who have arrived here are several who stated that a number of the Greeks wounded at Gritzovali and unable to follow the Greek retreat were shut up in a small church by the Turks, who set fire to the building and burned them to death."

A dispatch to The Times from Milouna pass, dated yesterday, says:

"Edhem Pasha continues to pursue a cautious policy. His plan seems to be to capture in succession a number of small positions held by the Greeks, but to avoid a general engagement. The Turks are making a good military road through the pass. The cannonade continues from the Turks, who are advancing on the left wing, but in the direction of Tyrnavo matters are quiet, the Turks having taken and occupied the town. Large re-enforcements are arriving, and the result of the war is beyond doubt. The Turks treat their prisoners with humanity and kindness."

The Athens correspondent of The Times says: "Those in authority here regard the situation as highly critical, despite the favorable news from Epirus. Fighting continues at Mati. The Crown Prince Constantine has ordered his troops to maintain a strictly defensive attitude. A portion of the western squadron has been detached to bombard the fortress Parga, opposite Pax island."

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Larissa says that on Thursday the Greeks attempted to retake Gritzovali. A long fight ensued, but the Greeks failed, owing to the superior force of the Turks and their stronger position. The Greeks, however, occupy a good position in front of Ligaria, where, the correspondent is convinced, they will be victorious. He adds, "I regret to say that the Turks have burned, after plundering, the villages of Ligaria, Karayol and Moralaria, destroying the churches with dynamite."

More Trouble In Crete.

London, April 24.—The Times correspondent at Khania says that the insurgents are attacking Fort Izzedin, which is occupied by the international troops in addition to the Turkish garrison. Three warships have left Suda and anchored opposite the port. The admirals have gone to reconnoiter in a torpedo boat. He says that Colonel Vassos has written to the admirals to ask whether the powers are in alliance with Turkey. The object of this inquiry is obvious.

A dispatch to The Daily News from Khania says that Colonel Vassos has notified the admirals that he has been ordered to attack the Turks.

The Times correspondent at Khania says it is reported there that Colonel Vassos has received this order.

Paris Ladies Proffer Aid.

Paris, April 24.—A number of ladies have offered their services at the Greek legation here to act as nurses with the Greek armies in the field. This has caused the officials of the legation to announce that their services would gladly be accepted, but no funds are available to pay for their journey to Greece.

The members of the Greek colony here are delighted at the better news from the Thessalian frontier and are greatly pleased at the proposed motion expressing the sympathy of the United States senate with Greece in her struggle against Turkey.

Osman to Be Supreme Leader.

London, April 24.—A dispatch to The Times from Constantinople says that while Osman Pasha will take supreme command of all the Turkish armies engaged against Greece, Edhem Pasha will remain in active command of the eastern army, with headquarters at Macedonia.

The correspondent of the Daily News at Constantinople says: "It is reported that all telegraphic communication with Constantinople is now cut off, except by way of Odessa. I am assured that Izzet Bey has been received again into the favor of the sultan."

Bulgaria Defies Russia.

London, April 24.—A dispatch to The Standard from its correspondent at Constantinople says the Russian government has sharply ordered Bulgaria to keep quiet, yet Bulgaria has given the porte notice that she will mobilize her troops at once unless the berats—the warrants for five more Bulgarian bishops in Macedonia—and the appointments of Bulgarian commercial agents at Uskub and Monastir are granted.

More Reserves to Be Called Out.

Athens, April 24.—It has been decided to call out several classes of the landwehr or militia. In Greece all able-bodied males from 21 years of age and upward are liable to be called upon for military service. The total service is for 19 years, of which two years (with considerable terms of leaves of absence) must be passed with the colors; eight and seven years are then passed in the reserve and the remainder of the total term of 19 years is passed in the militia or landwehr.

The Position of Montenegro.

Cettinje, Montenegro, April 24.—The Crown Prince Danilo in an address to the Montenegrin troops said: "We sincerely hope this conflict (the war between Turkey and Greece) will cost as little human life as possible. Our interests thus far have not been affected, but should the force of circumstances or, which God forbid, some unhappy event in any way prejudice our interests, we will instantly prove ourselves brave and worthy sons of our beloved fatherland."

Campaign In Epirus.

Corfu, April 24.—The western Greek squadron is bombarding Santi Quarenta and doing great damage to the town. All the government and private buildings have been destroyed, with the exception of the Austrian agency. All the stores and merchandise on the quays have been burned. Fifty refugees who had embarked on ships have been landed here.

Arif Bey to Succeed Izzet Bey.

Constantinople, April 24.—It is stated that Izzet Bey will be replaced by Arif Bey as second secretary and chamberlain of the sultan.

Bay State Gas.

Wilmington, Del., April 24.—The Boston Loan company, which holds $25,000 income bonds of the Bay State Gas company, has asked that the case of William Buchanan of New York against the Bay State Gas company be reopened. Mr. Buchanan was a large bondholder of the Bay State Gas company, and it was through him that the receiver of the company was appointed. The Boston company alleges that the case was settled by fraud, and that the receiver, Dwight Braman, received from $50,000 to $75,000 to settle it. Judge Dallas of Philadelphia will hear the case in the United States court on Tuesday next.

New Cities Incorporated.

Albany, April 24.—Governor Black, by a stroke of his official pen, added two more cities to the number within the state of New York. They are Rensselaer, formerly the village of Greenbush, Rensselaer county, and Geneva, formerly the village of Geneva, Ontario county. The city of Rensselaer is situated directly opposite Albany, and the citizens of that municipality hailed the news of the governor's signature with the booming of cannon, the clanging of bells and the tooting of locomotive whistles.

Actors Celebrate Shakespeare's Birthday.

Philadelphia, April 24.—Shakespeare's birthday was fittingly observed at the Forest Home. The weather was delightful, which seemed to inspire the merry-makers. Nearly every dramatic and operatic organization now playing in this city contributed to the entertainment of the veteran actors and actresses. The programme included recitations, songs, orchestral music, one act from "Romeo and Juliet" and an act each from several of the plays now being given in this city.

Took a Nap on the Track.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 24.—James Morton, a farmer of Lottsville, Pa., laid down to take a short sleep on the tracks of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio railroad, near Boomertown. An express train struck him and littered pieces of flesh over a long stretch of track. Morton leaves a widow and one child.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. A. Iaveen, residing at 720 Henry street, Alton, Ill, suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

ALL ASK PRECEDENCE

Demands Made by Naval Commanders at the Grant Parade.

EACH WANTS TO LEAD THE OTHERS.

Our Naval Officers Are Doing All In Their Power to Conciliate the Foreigners and Make Things Pleasant For All Concerned.

New York, April 24.—Embassadors do not seem to have had a corner in the precedence squabble in the matter of participation in the Grant memorial ceremonies. It has extended to the naval division, and now Captain Chester, the naval aid on General Dodge's staff, and Admiral Bunce are using all their persuasive powers in the endeavor to straighten out a snarl.

Nothing short of a position at the very head of the line will suit the commander of the Infanta Maria Theresa, and he has threatened to turn about and go home if he does not get it.

The captain of the French corvette Fulton does not see how he can very well give way to the Spaniard, and the English captain is protesting vehemently against every position yet assigned to the Talbot.

Indications are that the parade up the river may result in a race for the coveted first position. Meanwhile, Admiral Bunce and Captain Chester are searching among the archives in the endeavor to find some rule of procedure that will tend to straighten out the tangle. The three foreign captains are in a huff, and pace their respective quarter decks in dignified silence, while the crews hurl a few choice remarks at each other on the slightest provocation.

The Infanta Maria Theresa does not like her anchorage and threatens to move up the river instanter. This would be the signal for a rapid and premature parade on the part of the foreign vessels whose commanders do not wish to be outdone by the Spaniard.

Admiral Bunce Has a Plan.

After much wearying thought and research Admiral Bunce thinks he has hit upon a plan at last. He will inspect the commissions of the various commanders and assign them their positions according to seniority of appointment.

But this will hardly appease the Spaniard.

"The idea," says he, "of a French corvette and an old English wooden vessel taking precedence of the Infanta Maria Theresa, queen of the Spanish navy!"

The Frenchman's moustachios are bristling, the Spaniard's brow is black, and the Englishman is taciturn. Verily the matter of precedence is a wondrous and complex thing.

Admiral Bunce hopes to straighten the matter out satisfactorily, however, although it will take all his diplomatic savoir faire to do so. The remaining foreigners will have to trot out their commissions as soon as they arrive, and Admiral Bunce hopes to get them assigned to their positions before they have an opportunity to mix up in the squabble.

Another foreign warship has been added to the fleet in the river. The Infanta Isabel, another Spaniard, followed the Maria Theresa to an anchorage in the North river. The Isabel was here during the Columbian celebration, and though she was the most powerful of the three Spanish vessels then here she looks fairly antiquated beside the trim and formidable Maria Theresa.

The newly arrived Spanish cruiser, the white Infanta Isabel, came up the river and anchored off the foot of West Thirty-eighth street above the Maria Theresa. But for her red and orange barred ensign she does not look greatly unlike some of the smaller vessels of Admiral Bunce's fleet.

Two of Commander Snow's lighthouse tenders moved up the river and began to set the buoys that are to mark the positions of the vessels in the naval parade. The first buoy was placed just off the tomb, and the remaining 17 are to be strung along down the river.

But one more foreign vessel, the Italian cruiser Dongoli, yet remains to be heard from. She is expected soon.

Rear Admiral Bunce has issued orders to the commandants of the vessels of the North Atlantic squadron that none but the immediate families of United States naval officers will be permitted to witness the naval review from the warships.

The entire naval brigade representing the North Atlantic squadron will be landed at the foot of Thirty-fourth street, North river, from two steamers and two tugs at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, and all will re-embark at the same pier from which the president will go on board the Dolphin after the review.

Shot the Motorman.

St. Louis, April 24.—James E. Thorp, a motorman, was shot by Ora Stansbury in front of the city hall. Stansbury was in a buggy, which he was driving on the track. Thorp ran his electric car up behind the buggy and sounded the gong. Stansbury was driving fast and refused to turn out, and Thorp ran his car up to the buggy and bumped it off the track. Stansbury stopped his horse, lowered the hood of the buggy, drew a revolver from under the seat and shot the motorman through the thigh.

Business Man Missing.

Highland Falls, N.Y., April 24.—George L. Kleitz, a prominent contractor and builder of Highland Falls, started for Newburg last Tuesday morning, saying he would return at night. He has not been seen nor heard from since. His family are almost distracted over his continued absence. He is a large real estate owner and an active business man.

Amicable Ending of a Strike.

Pascoag, R. I., April 24.—The wages of weavers in the Prendergast woolen mills were increased 8 per cent. Recently a strike was declared off on promise that wages would be advanced as soon as the market warranted. The promise is now fulfilled. Business is growing better all the time.

Colonel Mosby Injured.

Richmond, April 24.—Colonel John S. Mosby was thrown from a buggy at the University of Virginia last evening and received a cut which may seriously injure one eye.

THE GAMBLERS ARE ALERT.

The racetrack gamblers are not yet disposed of, so the people must continue to be alert until the constitutional amendments which will be voted on next fall are finally passed and become a part of our organic law. It is stated that the gamblers will use every effort to defeat the adoption of the amendments, and they will succeed if the people do not interest themselves enough to go to the polls.

GALLING TO REPUBLICANS.

It must be rather galling to the New Jersey Republicans who have been making such a plea for patronage for members of their party in this State, and especially so in the case of Major Pangborn, of Jersey City, for the appointment as minister to the Hawaiian Islands, to have President McKinley appoint the son of Arthur Sewall, the running mate of Bryan, to the place covered by the Major.

AUTHORITY TO ISSUE BONDS.

Governor Griggs has signed the bill authorizing Union county to issue $30,000 in bonds and to purchase the property know as the Sheridan House, Elizabeth, for county purposes.

MARRIED AT SOMERVILLE.

A Number of Plainfielders Assisted at the Nuptial Event.

The Zion A. M. E church at Somerville was filled, yesterday afternoon, with relatives and friends who were gathered together to witness the nuptials of Miss Josephine Estella Brokaw to Albert E. Schenck.

Promptly at four o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march and proceeded to the altar, which was profusely decorated with palms and lilies, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Edmundson.

The bride was attired in white brocade, trimmed in point de venise lace, and carried a large bouquet of carnations. The maid of honor, Miss Marian A. Maynard, of Plainfield, was exquisitely gowned in white silk, trimmed with la France roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Anna Field, of Plainfield, and Miss Bessie Ray, of Clinton, N. J., were tastefully arrayed in pale blue silk. The groom wore the conventional suit of black and had for his best man I. A. Field, of Plainfield. The groomsmen were G. Anderson and A. Preston White, both of Plainfield. The ushers, Elmer Field, Theodore Hall, and Baurice Peterson, all of Somerville, did efficient services in seating a large number of guests.

Guests were present from Newark, Bound Brook, Plainfield and Bath Beach.

THEATRICAL.

The great New York Lyceum Theatre success "The Prisoner of Zenda" which has almost obliterated the memories of "Fauntleroy" and "Trilby" will have its first presentation here next week. It is not often that our playgoers have so early an opportunity of seeing any of the big New York successes, and a crowded house is thereby assured. "The Prisoner of Zenda" is neither a lurid melodrama nor does it discuss any of the social problems with which we have been surfeited of late. It is a play of pure "make believe" as it were, a delightful romance full of love, adventure and daring with an appeal to the nobler sentiments of honor and duty. It is one of those plays which give color to the assertion that the stage has almost as great a power for good as the church, and in any event it is impossible that anyone who has blood that can be stirred, a chivalry that can be aroused, or a drop of romance in their nature that will not feel the more manly for having seen it. At Music Hall Monday night.

Manager Willey pas been successful in booking one of the best popular priced shows on the road in the Lorraine Hollis company. They will appear in Music Hall four nights next week, opening on Wednesday in "Mr. Barnes of New York," dramatized from the famous novel of that title. Miss Hollis is said to be an exceptional clever actress.

Commencement at the Plainfield High Schoool is still two months away, but the thoughts of the pupils are turned in that direction. The Senior class is particularly interested in that event and the final examinations which arrive just before. Then there are the selection of the valedictorian and salutatorian, and the contests for the different prizes which are awarded at Commencement time.

The graduating class this year is remarkable for one thing, and that is the unusually small number of boys in the class, which is only three, while the class numbers nearly twenty. Two years ago when then the class of '95 graduated there was one more boy than girl. Last year the girls out numbered the boys, but by a small margin only. The class of '97 has continued a custom that has been omitted since the class '93 graduated. At frequent intervals the members of the class meet at the home of one of their number for a social evening and spend the time very pleasantly together. A number of these little social meetings have been held so far this year with great success, and the members of the class are enabled to become better acquainted with each other before they are separated at graduation. On Thursday evening next another of these reunions will be held at the home of Miss Emma Cutter, of West Front street.

One of the fertures of Commencement night has been the reception to the graduating class by the classes that graduated the two previous years. There will be no change in that custom this year, as a meeting of these classes will be called very shortly and arrangements made for the reception. It will probably be held in the Casino as it has been for the past two years.

While everybody is anxious for Commencement, the regular routine of work goes on and the studies progress as usual. The time for the botanical and geological trips is at hand, and Prof. Knowlton will soon pilot parties of his students about the mountains, gravel pits and stone quarries to learn from observation what cannot be learned from the text books.

There promises to be a new feature in school life. Now that almost everybody rides a wheel the teachers and pupils are planning for runs together, and the first of them was held yesterday afternoon. A party composed of Superintendent H. M. Maxson, Principal I. W. Travell, Miss Caldwell, Miss Bass and a number of the pupils met at the school and enjoyed a little spin out to Westfield.

With the arrival of spring, the outdoor attraction out rival the indoor ones and the Kappa Delta Phi, the literary society of the High School, feels the effect. The last regular afternoon meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the building. Hereafter, short meetings will be held at the close of school to elect officers for the ensuing year and close up the affairs of the society until fall. The programme, yesterday afternoon, was a "Random Talk on Miscellaneous Subjects" and all the members took part, telling of something that they had read about or seen. One application was received.

Of course, the Athletic Association is the centre of interest this time of the year. The approaching field day and the base ball team divide the interest among the students. The interest in the national game is stronger than it has been for many years, and the team, under the management of Arthur Lederer, is making good progress. The first match game will be played today at Newark and the result of it is watched with great interest.

There was some delay at the start in preparing for the field day, as Henry W. Brower, who was chosen chairman of the committee, was compelled to resign on account of lack of time with his present duties. William A. DeLong, Jr., was appointed chairman in his place and Harold Chandor was added to the committee to make up the required number. DeLong has taken a great interest in the Association and makes a hustling chairman. He has had several meetings of the committee and arranged some of the preliminary details and appointed his sub-committees. He intends to personally supervise the work of these committees. All the committees, which is composed of DeLong, chairman; W. H. Sebring, Jr., E. S. Peck, W. W. Serrell, L. M. Hillman and H. A. Chandor, will look after the advertising. Hillman is committee on grounds. The order of events will be arranged by DeLong, Serrell and Hillman. DeLong is a committee of one on checking bicycles. Peck is committee on stages. The officials will be selected by DeLong, Hillman and Smith. Smith is committee on badges and medals. The field day will be held on May 15th, and the entries will close the week before.

Mrs. A. N. Randolph left for New Haven, Conn., today, where she will spend a week or ten days among relatives and friends.

The dance in the Town Hall, Thursday evening, given by Plainfield and Dunellen young people, did not pan out very well financially. A deficit of about seven dollars was figured up at the close of the affair.

One base ball enthusiast who is aspiring for honors here or elsewhere this summer, has marked out the bases in his back yard, and with his lower limbs all thickly padded, he holds daily rehearsals at sliding to bases.

Adam Seader claims that the cause of his horse running away, Thursday afternoon, was the breaking of a bolt on the shafts, which allowed them to strike the animal. The horse was skillfully piloted into Taylor's hotel yard, where he was easily captured, and no particular damage was done to either horse, wagon or harness.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Radford, of Plainfield, are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Paff.

Miss Adams, a teacher in the Public School, has gone to Middletown, New York, to visit over Sunday.

The two children of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Blimm have entirely recovered from their recent indisposition.

On lady from New York who had been spending yesterday with friends at the Plains, remarked to a friend on the way back to Plainfield in the stage, that "the Plains looks about the same as it did 45 years ago when I lived here."

All the teams obtainable in this vicinity are busy carting stone from the mountain crushers to the cars at Fanwood. The stone is taken on the Long Branch Division of the Central Railroad to points south west from Perth Amboy.

Some of the lads about town are rehearsing for a wild west show. One of the boys has a pony which he rides, another has a pair of well trained dogs and still another has an aged cat which he has learned to jump through his arms. The boys have great sport in the open field these pleasant days.

Notwithstanding the generous reward offered by the County Board of Freeholders for the arrest and conviction of the persons who tore the stone coping from the meadow bridge no arrests have yet been made. The authorieties have two young men under surveilence, but as yet there is a missing link to directly connect them with the affair.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chambelain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

DEATH OF MRS. EUGENE RUNYON.

A Faithful Christian and Staunch Member of New Market Baptist Church.

The death of Mrs. Jersey Ann Runyon, of Dunellen, occurred last evening at 8 o'clock after a short illness of pneumonia. For several years past Mrs. Runyon has not been in good health and her recent illness was a severe one.

She was one of the best known residents of Dunellen and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances who will mourn her death exceedingly. She was a faithful Christian and a staunch member of the New Market Baptist church, where she will be greatly missed.

A husband and three boys, Walter, Randolph and Oscar, survive her and her place will never be filled in the home where her devotion was marked.

The funeral of Mrs. Runyon will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It will be private. An opportunity, however, will be given the friends of Mrs. Runyon to see her remains tomorrow afternoon at the house.

Miss Strauss, of New York, is the guest of Ex-Mayor and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., of Washington Park.

Edgar I. Serrell, of Plainfield avenue, has gone to Bethlehem to spend Sunday with his brother at Lehigh University.

WESTFIELD

GAYER THAN HIS TRADE.

AN UNDERTAKER THE STAR AT THE WESTFIELD CLUB MINSTRELS.

The Aggregation of Amateur Performers Gave a Performance That Made Fun for the Audience and Money for the Club.

The "burnt corkers," an aggregation of amateurs, were on the boards at the Westfield Club hall last evening, and for about three hours amused a large and appreciative audience. The boys loomed up well as actors, and with proper stage settings and in a strange town they might have passed off as Primrose & West's minstrels, but the boys were at home both in their town and on the stage. Only three of the black faces were from out of town—one of these, the interlocutor, Edward J. MacDonald, hails from Paterson. Now, he is warm at the business. He is a natural comedian. His presence on the stage, alone, was taken as a joke. It leaked out that he is an undertaker in Paterson, and the audience naturally supposed that he would have a grave countenance and sepulchral wit. But such was not the case. Edward's wit was as clear and subtle as embalming fluid. The end men were John McLean and James E. Dempsey. The programme was as follows: Opening medley, by the full chorus; solo, "Night Song," Alfred E. Holmes; "Sally," John McLean; "Take Back the Picture and Wedding Ring," Chas. W. Harbison; "High Born Lady," James E. Dempsey; medley, entire chorus; piano solo, Harry E. Westervelt; "El Capitan," banjo and mandolin club; a few minutes with the comedian, John McLean; banjo duet, Robert Taylor and Frederick Harbison; dialect stories, E. J. MacDonald; "She's My Warm Baby," Charles W. Harbison; mandolin duet, Adolph Ganzel and Charles Coffin. The performance concluded with the laughable skit, "Imagination," in which E. J. MacDonald was Grousemeyer, the grocer; John McLean, Pete, and Jas. E. Dempsey, Sam, a clerk. The show was given for the benefit of the club and was deservedly well patronized; it reflected great credit on those who participated in the performance and the managers, Nelson L. Coryell and Charles W. Harbison. The talent were Edward J. MacDonald, interlocutor; John McLean and James E. Dempsey, end men; Robert K. Taylor, William M. Bastable, Charles. W. Harbison, Frederick Harbison, Harry W. Evans and Nelson L. Coryell, banjoists; Adolph Ganzel and Charles Coffin, mandolinists, and the following array of vocalists and soloists: Alfred E. Holmes, John McLean, Charles W. Harbison, James E. Dempsey, Richard Devens, Edward M. Payne, Andrew Smith, Adolph Ganzel, Frederick Harbison, S. A. Millette, Harry Harbison, Frank Harbison, Charles Angleman, Robert K. Taylor, Edward J. MacDonald, Nelson L. Coryell, Harry Evans, Wm. M. Bastable and Charles Coffin; piano accompanist, Harry E. Westervelt; ushers, E. Charles Coale, August L. Alpers, Robert Carberry and Addison H. Clark, Jr.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Foster has the mumps.

The annual election of the Library Association officers will take place next Tuesday.

The ladies of the Thursday Evening Euchre Club have a "dove german" in the Westfield Club hall, this afternoon, led by Miss Florence, of Elizabeth.

H. E. Ferris will be married next Wednesday to Miss M. E. Huff, of New York. The ceremony will take place in New York at the bride's home.

The reception tendered to Rev. W. H. Ruth, pastor of the Methodist church, last evening, was not confined to the members of his church. The Rev. Henry Ketcham, pastor of the Congregational church, and a large crowd of others were present to welcome him back again. Music, recitations and talking filled in the time.

A sense of economy last evening on the part of one man, involving fifty cents, cost him $5. He wanted to see the amateur minstrel show which was being given in the club house, so he perched up on the fence between the club house and the Baptist parsonage. He laughed and wabbled and the fence came down and ruined a $5 pair of pants. Two other men sat in the trees in the parsonage yard from 8 o'clock until 12, but no mishaps befell them.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

TWO CLEVER THIEVES

Arrested In New York For a Bold Diamond Theft.

ROBBED A TRAVELING SALESMAN.

By Representing Himself to Be a Wealthy Italian One of Them Gets Into the Victim's Good Graces and Defrauds Him.

New York, April 24.—Central office detectives arrested two men who are wanted in New Orleans for stealing $10,000 worth of diamonds from a New York jeweler.

The men are well known to the police of this city as noted Italian confidence men, and they are wanted in numerous places throughout the country.

Detectives Petrasino and Benoil, watching near the barge office, arrested Frank Pions, alias Ira Francisco, whose picture is No. 3,895 in the rogues' gallery, and Andrea Maura, whose picture is No. 3,896. Pions is 49 years old and lives at 226 West Eighteenth street. Maura has been living at 12 Jones street.

The men are two of a trio for whom the police have been looking for months. The third man is John Abbruzzi, who was arrested and is now in jail at Rochester. Maura was arrested once before in this same case, but had to be released for lack of evidence.

The offense for which the two men were arrested occurred on Dec. 4 last. The police say that Pions, Maura and Abbruzzi were all in New Orleans. Pions and Maura formed the acquaintance of George E. Gail, a traveling jeweler for a house in Nassau street, this city. Gail lived at 1014 South Rampart street, New Orleans. Maura, it is said, represented himself to be a fireman and Pions to be an Italian of means who was buying up property.

Said He Was a Man of Wealth.

A little later Abbruzzi appeared on the scene and represented himself to be a very wealthy Italian from the west who was traveling in this country for his health. He told Gail that he wanted to buy some diamonds. He was very particular about the gems and said he wanted 65 unset diamonds of the first water.

He began to bargain with Gail and finally induced the jeweler to send on for the stones to the New York house, as he did not have the required number in his possession.

In due time the diamonds arrived in New Orleans, and then, it is said, the three worked the old confidence game on the unsuspecting jeweler. The diamonds were apparently placed in a box with $10,000 of the Italian's money, and given over to the jeweler to be placed in a vault for safe keeping.

Six hours later the jeweler opened the box and found therein a lot of brown paper. The three men had disappeared. The wily Abruzzi, it is alleged, had told Gail that he wanted the diamonds for a crown for a cardinal. He wished to take them to Rome, he said, have them set in a crown and given to one of the cardinals there.

Pions is wanted at Sterling, Ill., for the alleged swindling of Louis Rainone out of $875 on Sept. 22 last, and Captain O'Brien has notified a number of other cities of the arrest of the men.

When the men were arraigned in the Center street court, Detective Petrosino told the magistrate that he had no convincing evidence against Mauro, who was thereupon discharged. Pions was committed to the Tombs for examination.

Inquiring Into Assault on the King.

Rome, April 24.—Two workmen, comrades of Acciarito, have been taken into custody. Their arrest, however, is only a matter of precaution and to complete the inquiry being made into the attempt on the life of King Humbert. It is not believed that a conspiracy existed, and it is generally accepted that Acciarito is insane. The members of the royal family attended a "Te Deum" at the church in the Via del Sediari. Their majesties received a tremendous ovation on emerging from the building. The patriarch of Venice, Cardinal Sarto, officiated at the "Te Deum" at the Cathedral of St. Marks in thanksgiving for the escape of the king, and loyal manifestations are reported throughout the country.

A Destructive Rainstorm.

Des Moines, April 24.—A tremendous rainfall all over the state caused much damage. It was accompanied by a high wind, taking off roofs, tearing down trees and moving buildings. One barn containing a cow was carried 200 yards. The cow was unhurt. Two bridges on the Chicago, Rock Island railway between here and Halley Junction were swept away. The bridge on the Chicago, Great Western at Berwick is gone. In numerous other places railways have been damaged and tracks submerged. Hundreds of people fled from their homes in the low lands. The Des Moines and Raccoon rivers are within two feet of high water mark and still rising.

Beheaded Her Mother.

Lansing, Mich., April 24.—At Williamstown, Mich., 14 miles east of this city, Mrs. Albert Hovey, aged 32 years, murdered her aged mother-in-law with an ax. She severed the head entirely from the body with a large butcher knife and then poured oil on the lifeless body and set fire to it. The murdered woman was 80 years old and lived with her son's family in the southeast part of the village.

Killed by a Falling Safe.

St. Louis, April 24.—John Noble, 48 years old, was crushed to death by the accidental falling of a safe on a stairway in East St. Louis. Patrick Butler, a fellow workman, received injuries that will prove fatal. Herman Koehler had a hairbreadth escape.

King Humbert's Assailant Insane.

Rome, April 24.—The physicians who have been examining Pietro Acciarito, the iron worker of Artegna, province of Udine, who tried to stab King Humbert yesterday with a dagger while he was on his way to the races, pronounce the man to be insane.

Mills to Open Up.

Providence, April 24.—The Crompton cotton mills, having reduced their output to the extent agreed upon last February, will resume on full time next Monday.

DR. HOBBS

Free Offer of Samples of Sparagus Kidney Pills

To Be Given Away To-Day

At L. W. Randolph's Drug Store

CAUSES A SENSATION

Among Sick People and the Public Generally.

JULIUS HOBBS, M. D.

The announcement made in this paper, yesterday, that a free package of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills would be given away to anyone asking for it at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store today, caused an intense interest and great discussion amongst the public generally.

Many persons called yesterday to inquire about the free samples of these pills, which are to be given away today.

One gentleman, standing in the store, remarked: "The proprietors of the remedy must know that it possesses great merit, or they would never expend so much money in giving away samples, to say nothing of the cost of the advertisements."

Another caller, a lady said: "I believe I will call tomorrow and get a sample, for the offer seems so fair and honest that I am inclined to place faith in the medicine, even before I get it."

It is expected that today there will be a great rush of applicants for a free package of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills. But no matter what the demand is, Randolph is well prepared to meet it.

All those living in Plainfield or any town outside, who apply at our store today in person or write for a sample, will be welcome, and not only a of this wonderful medicine will be given or sent to each applicant, but also Dr. Hobbs' little book, which in a concise way treats on kidney and bladder troubles, rheumatism and diseases of the blood.

This great free distribution ends tonight so that all who wish to avail themselves of Dr. Hobbs' generous offer should call or write immediately, or they will miss the opportunity.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. REPUBLICAN PLACES.

List of Offices to Be Filled on the Committees.

THE HOUSE ON SENATE AMENDMENTS

The Opening of the Uncompahgre Indian Reservation Was the Main Contention—The Members Intend to Attend the Grant Celebration.

Washington, April 24.—The Republican committee on committees of the senate will resume its work Monday, taking up the assignment of committee places under the adjustment agreed upon. The vacancies in the chairmanships to be filled are the following: Coast defenses, examination of the several branches of the civil service, naval affairs, privileges and elections, public lands, territories and forest reservation.

The more important committee assignments outside of the chairmanships are one place on the finance committee to succeed Senator Sherman, two places on foreign relations to succeed Senators Sherman and Cameron, one on appropriations to fill the place conceded by the opposing coalition and one on commerce.

House Considers Amendments.

The house completed consideration of senate amendments to Indian appropriation bill and sent the bill to conference. The main contention centered about the senate proposition to open the Uncompahgre Indian reservation under the mineral land laws. Finally an amendment was recommended to the effect that no corporation should be allowed to obtain possession of these gilsonite deposits, but that the government should lease the lands in limited areas and for limited terms of years. The senate amendment striking from the house bill the provision for the ratification of the oil and gas leases made by the council of the Seneca Indians last December, after a sharp debate, was disagreed to. Mr. Bland of Missouri attempted early in the session to secure action on the resolution relative to the Union Pacific railroad mortgages which he tried to offer last week, but the speaker ruled that the resolution was not privileged. A resolution was adopted by which a committee of 25, of which the speaker by the terms of the resolution was chairman, was appointed to attend the dedication of the Grant tomb in New York on Tuesday, and the house agreed to a programme of three day adjournments for next week.

Judge Day's Appointment.

Washington, April 24.—The selection of Judge Day to be first assistant secretary of state overturns the plans of the president to send him to Cuba as special counsel to watch the prosecution of the Ruiz investigation. It would be without precedent for such an official as the first assistant secretary to go to another country to prosecute a case when later on he might have to engage in diplomatic negotiations with that same country on other subjects.

At any rate, the conviction that the pursuit of the original mission by Judge Day would impair his usefulness in the future as an official of the state department has lead to the cancellation of the order to go to Cuba. Whether any one will be appointed to take up the work of special counsel laid down by the judge cannot be learned, but it is intimated that Consul General Lee is anxious to be relieved of his office, and any change there probably would make more pronounced the need of legal assistance in watching the Ruiz case.

Judge Day said that as he had been selected for the position of assistant secretary of state he would not make the trip to Havana to conduct the investigation into Dr. Ruiz's death. The investigation, however, would not be abandoned, but would be made by some one else. Who would conduct it, however, he did not know. He admitted that his selection for the assistant secretaryship was a surprise to him, as he had made all his arrangements to go to Havana.

Wiley, Somersworth; senior vice commander, H. E. Chamberlin, Penacook; junior vice commander, C. H. Huntoon, Newport; delegate at large to national encampment, J. W. Duffrey, Somersworth; delegate to national encampment, George Cook, Concord, Past Commander M. Crowley of Boston installed the newly elected officers. The encampment will be held at Tilton next year.

Tornado In Kansas.

Wamego, Kan., April 24.—A small tornado passed over a part of Wabaunsee county, eight miles southeast of here. Henry Miller's 8-year-old son was killed, while Miller and his wife were perhaps fatally hurt. Their home was completely demolished.

Death of Samuel Colgate.

New York, April 24.—Samuel Colgate, multimillionaire and head of Samuel Colgate & Co., one of the largest soap and perfume houses in the country, died of heart trouble at his home in Orange, N. J. Mr. Colgate was born in New York city in 1822.

MISS KOEHRING GOES FREE.

The Grand Jury Fails to Indict Her on Her Former Mistress's Charges

The Somerset Grand Jury has failed to indict Mary Koehring on the charge of forgery, preferred by her former mistress, Mrs. Evelyn Went worth Murray.

Miss Koehring was arrested about two weeks ago, immediately after her discharge from St. Barnabas' Hospital in Newark, where it is alleged she was under treatment for severe injuries inflicted on her by Mrs. Murray, against whom she had brought both criminal and civil action for assault.

Miss Koehring, who has been in the county jail since the day of her arrest, was discharged yesterday. The action of the Grand Jury on Miss Koehring's complaint of assault against her mistress has not yet been made public but it is rumored that Mrs. Murray will escape indictment.

—One medical case was received at the hospital today.

—The Watchung avenue matter will be attended to at the meeting of the City Council on Monday evening.

"Didn't the grocer send the macaroni?" inquired the mistress, arranging for the dinner.

"Yis mum," replied the cook; "but Oi sent it back. Every wan of them stims was impty."

"I don't allus give up when a woman says 'no,'" said the first tramp.

"Not much!" returned the second tramp. "I have knowed cases where a woman's 'no' meant corn' beef and cabbage."—Puck.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

HIT WITH A PITCHFORK.

"BILLY" LEE, IT IS ALLEGED, COMMITTED THE ASSAULT.

A Quarrel Between the ex-Baseball Player and Fred Beutelstetter Over a Trade Resulted in the Arrest of Lee.

A pitchfork proved a dangerous weapon in the hands of William Lee, an ex-baseball player, and now proprietor of the road house on East Front street, near Scotch Plains, which bears his name. Mr. Lee is now out on bail charged with atrocious assault and battery. Fred Beutelstetter, son of Conrad Beutelstetter, who was killed at the recent explosion of the post saturated with nitro-glycerine, at Cook's barn, Scotch Plains, was the victim of the alleged assault, and now goes about with his head bandaged.

Beutelstetter resides in Scotch Plains. Lee lives at the road house. Beutelstetter had a horse that he did not want, while Lee had a wagon on his hands that he wanted to swap for something else. The two men met and it was agreed that the horse was to be given for the wagon, and both were satisfied. So it was that on Friday evening, Beutelstetter led his horse down to Lee's and prepared to get the wagon.

While Beutelstetter was at Lee's he learned that some one held a chattel mortgage on the wagon. A conversation ensued between Lee and Beutelstetter, in which the latter tried to persuade Lee to pay off the mortgage before the trade was made. Lee did not see it in that light, and refused to do anything about the mortgage at present. There were high words between the two men, and then Beutelstetter retired to the shed where he had tied the horse, and prepared to depart for home taking the animal with him.

Lee came out to the shed and then it was that it is alleged that Lee committed the assault. Beutelstetter claims that Lee picked up a pitchfork that was lying handy and when he found that Beutelstetter intended to take the horse with him, Lee swung the end of the pitchfork around as if it had been a baseball bat.

Beutelstetter did not lose his head but the pitchfork made a good sized dent from which the blood flowed freely. Then, it is alleged, that Lee, rather frightened at what he is said to have done, returned to the house while the owner of the horse was permitted to lead away his property without further molestation.

Saturday, Beutelstetter appeared before Justice Newcorn of this city and swore out a warrant for the arrest of his alleged assailant. The warrant was put in the hands on Constable Rockafellow and Lee was apprehended Saturday evening and brought before the Justice.

Lee was held in $100 bail for his appearance this noon at 3 o'clock, when he will appear for a hearing.

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE.

Miss Fanny Western Entertained Her Young Friends.

Miss Fanny Western, of Washington Park, gave a progressive euchre party at her home Saturday evening to her friends. A very pleasant time was passed by all who enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess. Miss Hull, of Brooklyn, secured the prize for the ladies, and Robert Turrill, the prize for the gentlemen.

Those present were: Miss Bertha Hall, Miss Hannan, Miss E. Marsh, of New York; Miss E. Hall, of Cranford; Miss A. Hull, of Brooklyn; Miss S. Hogan, of Mexico; Miss Georgie Fountain, Miss Fanny Western, Chas. McNabb, Robert Turrill, Charles Turrill, John H. VanWinkle, Jr., B. Platt, Charles Western, Rowland Western and Percy Western, of this city.

A Milk Calamity.

One women on East Front street, who keeps a cow and pastures it in Boice's orchard in North Plainfield, met with a streak of hard luck, yesterday. In some unaccountable manner the cow got hold of a lot of onions, which she ate with evident relish, and the result was that all of last night and this morning's milk, some thirty quarts in all, had to be thrown away.

Fell Off a Wheel and Hurt.

Charles Scribner, of Berckman street, is confined to his home as the result of an accident on a wheel a week ago. It is only recently that Mr. Scribner learned to ride a wheel and last week he rode to Newark. While in the latter place he fell off of the wheel and sustained an injury to his foot which makes it impossible for him to walk except with the aid of crutches.

Large Church Pledge.

At the Crescent Avenue church the annual subscription was made yesterday for the support of the three chapels for the coming year, and nearly $4,300 was pledged.

THE DUTY OF MAN TO MAN

REV. C. E. HERRING'S SERMON TO THE ODD FELLOWS.

Fraternity is One of the Sublime Influences That Makes the World Better—A Practical Interest in Fellow Men.

The members of Queen City Lodge, No. 226, and Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., attended divine service at the First Presbyterian church last evening and listened to a sermon preached by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Herring. Both lodges were largely represented and the discourse was a most interesting one. Mr. Herring took for his text the words found in Genesis: "Where is Thy Brother?" and in part he spoke as follows:

"This searching question was not only made to Cain. It is made to us, and God demands a better answer than 'Am I my brother's keeper?' Brotherliness is a noble characteristic, but few possess the trait.

"The first curse pronounced against man was because he did not realize the responsibility of fraternity. Not Adam, but Cain was the man who received the curse of God. Did not Christ say 'The second great commandment is Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself?'

"Christianity is more than Sunday sentimentalism. It should be easier to work for a Christian man than for a man with no profession, but it is often otherwise. Some Christian women are tartars to their servants and some Christian gentlemen are like the old Egyptian taskmasters.

"We should have a very practical interest in our fellows. We afford money and clothing to the unemployed, but don't help a man to help himself. We are apt to be not at home if he seeks employment. Ask a man for a position for your friend and he has nothing. He responds that business is not run on the sentimental plan.

"It is a crime to grow old. A young man has a chance, but the man who has passed the dead line of fifty has no chance, though brain and hands may be still active.

"It is a weakness of labor organizations that all labor is on a par and the young men are chosen and the old are left to their fate. Is there any possible way of explaining this state of things on the Christian plan?

"It was a successful French business man who wrote as his creed, 'I believe in a God who has written in our hearts the law of duty, the law of progress, the law of sacrifice of one's self for others. I am the humble disciple of Him who has told us to love our neighbor as ourselves. In this sense I desire to remain a Christian unto my last breath.'"

MANY CAME AWHEEL.

PLAINFIELD VISITED BY HUNDREDS OF CYCLISTS YESTERDAY.

The Fine Weather Brought Out the Riders in Their Summer Regalia—Scorchers Noticeably Absent This Year.

There was a host of cyclists out yesterday and Plainfield had its fair share of visitors who came awheel. Many did not stop, however, but rode through Plainfield bound for some of the neighboring towns. The warm weather had did its work and the wheeling world was out in its summer regalia. Hundreds of wheels passed through Plainfield, yesterday. Most of the riders came from the direction of New York in the morning and passed through the city again in the afternoon on their return. The roads to Elizabeth, Springfield and New Brunswick brought most of the visitors, who same singly, in groups of three or four, or in clubs, out for their their regular Sunday run.

There was one thing noticeable about the crowd of wheelmen that passed through Plainfield, yesterday, and that was the number of "scorchers" on the road this year is considerably less than last. Of course there are many fast riders out but the majority of the cyclists are on pleasure bent and a steady pace which enables the rider to see where he is going and what is around him suits the average wheelman much better than flying along the road at a breakneck speed with head down, back up, and with eyes straining at the rear tire of the bicycle in front.

The last week of dry weather has left the roads smooth but very dry. The dust, in consequence, was plentiful everywhere. All the riders had managed to collect a share of it in their passage and everybody on a wheel was covered with a coat of dust varying in the different cases. As the day was very warm, the riders perspired freely and it did not take long ere a mask of dust formed over the face. Everybody that came into the city on a wheel looked warm and dusty but still the riding was very enjoyable.

JERSEY ON GRANT DAY.

THE STATE MILITIA WILL JOIN IN THE PARADE.

Local G. A. R. Members and School Cadets Also to Participate—Governor Griggs and His Staff to be There Also.

The State of New Jersey will be represented in the Grant monument parade tomorrow by the entire National Guard, numbering in all 4,393 officers and men. They will parade in full State service uniforms, without knapsacks and blankets, in marked contrast to the troops from Pennsylvania, who will parade in advance of the Jersey milita in heavy marching order.

New Jersey's troops have the reputation of being among the best in the United States, and they will maintain their record in this respect Tuesday. Many of the companies will begin their journey towards New York Monday night, as the orders issued by Major Gen. Plume state that the troops must be in New York City not later than 10 o'clock. The troops will land at Forty-fourth and Forty-eighth streets, and will form on Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets, right resting on Seventh avenue.

Governor John W. Griggs, accompanied by his staff, Gen. William S. Stricker, Gen. Richard A. Donelly, Gen. John D. McGill, Gen. Joseph W. Congdon, Gen. Bird W. Spencer, Col. William Barbour, Col. Sheffield Phelps, Col. Henry A. Potter. Col. Anthony R. Kuser and Col. Nathan R. Haines, will lead the guard. The Colonels will be attired in full service uniform and will be resplendent with the gold lace that has made them famous.

The members of the cadet companies of the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools will leave in a body on the 6:29 train tomorrow morning for Elizabeth where they will meet the special train from Trenton bearing the Seventh New Jersey militia from that city. The High School cadets will board the train and go to Jersey City where a barge will convey the cadets and the Seventh regiment to a point near the rendezvous. The cadets will march with the regiment instead of in the cadet division.

Captain George F. Edwards will be in command of the cadets who will probably march as two companies under the charge of the officers of each company. The line of march is six miles in length. Arrangements are to be made with a restaurant keeper in the neighborhood to prepare a lunch for the cadets after the parade as they are likely to be rather hungry.

About fifty members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will leave Plainfield tomorrow morning on the 7:26 train for New York to take part in the Grant celebration in that city. They will be met at Jersey City by members of the post from that city and will be escorted to a large and commodious river boat which will take the New Jersey veterans to Sixty-fifth street. From there the veterans will march to 125th street, where they will again board the boat and proceed to the scene of the dedication. They will be brought back to Jersey City by the boat and in this way will escape much of the large crowd.

First Lieutenant Fred Bettman, of the North Plainfield High School cadets, will act as aide on the staff of Col. C. J. Wright, who is in command of the First Brigade of the Cadet Division. He will be mounted.

A Talented Speaker.

Major G. A. Hilton, the talented speaker and lecturer, will visit Plainfield on Tuesday, May 11th, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Those who have heard this speaker need not be told what a treat is in store for them. In the afternoon he will give a Bible reading, and in the evening he will deliver a lecture. The following complimentary notice explains itself:

"Five to eight hundred people were turned away from Foster's Opera House, Beaver Falls, Sunday night, unable to obtain admittance. Gallery and aisles were packed. Never before has that town been so aroused, and never before have they listened to such soul-stirring eloquence and Gospel-riveted truths as have come to them through this evangelist.—Shenango Valley News.

A Wagon Wrecked.

Saturday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a wagon owned by William Van Sickle, the North avenue butcher, was wrecked on Watchung avenue. Rudolph Giles, the driver, was in the wagon, and he attempted to make a short turn across the street railway tracks. The wheels caught in the rails and were turned inside out. Fortunately the horse did not run away and the only damage was to the wagon.

SIX MONTHS FOR HALL.

A WIFE BEATER GETS THE FULL PENALTY IN THE CITY COURT.

The Culprit Was Indicted for Manslaughter in Somerset County on the Charge of Killing "Big Jack," but Wasn't Convicted.

After assaulting his wife and father-in-law, Benjamin Hall fell into the clutches of the city police, and, this morning, Judge DeMeza sentenced him to a term in the county jail that will give him anything but pleasant remembrances of Plainfield.

About a year ago, a man named Jackson, better known as "Big Jack," was assaulted at Bound Brook and his skull fractured by a blow from behind. Hall was suspected of the crime and indicted on the charge of manslaughter. The evidence was not strong enough to convict him, however, and he was acquitted.

After his release from jail at Somerville, Hall came to this city where his wife lived. She was then employed a family in Washington Park. He met her in a lonely spot, and she alleges that he assaulted her, threatened to cut her heart out if she did not give him money, and tore her clothing almost from her body, then skipped. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he did not put in an appearance. That happened last November.

Yesterday, Hall came from Newark where he has been working and went to the home of John Lee, of West Second street, the father of Ella Hall, his wife. She was living with her father at the time. Hall came in and talked in a friendly manner with the family and then begged his wife to come to an upper room with him as he had something he wished to tell her in private. She demurred but the husband finally persuaded her and they went up stairs. A few minutes later, Mrs. Lee heard her daughter's screams upstairs and called her husband to see what was the matter. So Mr. Lee went up to investigate. Although the grey hairs are rapidly outnumbering the others, Lee is still a powerful man and full of pluck.

He found his daughter on the floor, covered with blood, crying that her husband had assaulted her. Lee ordered Hall to leave the house at once and seconded his invitation with a powerful shove. Hall turned on the old man and they clinched. Lee managed to force his son-in-law out of the door, however, but Hall kept his hold on Lee and dragged him out too. Then Hall broke away and threw a large stone, but Lee dodged it, and in turn began to belabor Hall with a fence pickot. Hall got away.

Then the enraged father grabbed his hat and hurried to town where he met Patrolman McCue and Roundsman Flynn and related his story. The officers started after the assailant and found him on Park avenue. He was locked up to be arraigned before the City Judge this morning.

When he appeared before the Judge, Hall tried to lay the blame for the trouble on his wife and father-in-law, but after the Judge had heard the testimony of the latter, he did not see it in that light.

Hall was declared guilty and the Judge gave him the extreme sentence of the court, sixty days in jail and a fine of $100. As Hall has but little money he will have to serve out time for the fine which will amount to about six months altogether.

A razor was found on his person, but he tried to evade the charge of carrying concealed weapons by saying that he had just bought it to help a poor man.

Constable Rockafellow was in court with the warrant for Hall on the charge of assault last November, ready to take him in custody as soon as the Judge was done with him. Rockafellow will greet Hall as he is released from his present imprisonment.

PRESENTED WITH A BIBLE.

First Presbyterian Sunday-school's Token of Esteem to H. B. Lounsbury.

A pleasant surprise was given to H. B. Lounsbury, superintendent of the First Presbyterian church Sunday-school, yesterday afternoon after the session of the school, when Rev. C. E. Herring, the pastor, on behalf of the teachers, presented him with a handsome and costly Oxford Bible, as a token of appreciation for past services. Mr. Herring in making the presentation expressed feelings of regret that the church and school were so soon to lose one whom they had all learned to love. Mr. Lounsbury responded in a very happy and appreciative manner, and thanked all for the kindnesses shown to him.

Mr. Lounsbury and his family will remove to Brooklyn in a few days and they will be missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

THE COLONIAL DAMES.

THE TRENTON MEMBERS TRY TO MONOPOLIZE ALL THE OFFICES.

The North Jersey Colonials Object to All the Honors Going Out of Their Section and Opposition Candidates Will be Put Up.

There is every prospect of a warm meeting on May 4 when the Colonial Dames of New Jersey meet in annual session in Trenton, says a Trenton correspondent. This organization has among its members ladies who trace their ancestry back to the time of the Puritans and Mayflower, several of whom reside in Plainfield.

The trouble has been brewing two years and arises, it is alleged, through the attempt or disposition of Trenton members to monopolize all the important offices and committees to the exclusion of those who live in Essex, Hudson and Union counties.

Social distinction is one of the honors connected with the organization, and two years ago the North Jersey members made a strong effort to secure a representation in the list of offices. They charged that the Trenton members were running the organization to suit themselves and as they were in the majority of the lavish entertainments which the society had been accustomed to had ceased and the Colonial Dames existed in name only.

When the effort was made to secure representation the Trenton members informed their sisters that the constitution provided that all the officers must be residents of the State capital. This plan was successful until recently, when a member of the society took time to read the constitution and decided that the statement was a bluff on the part of the Trenton members. At the next meeting the matter was discussed amid warm words and tears.

A committee was appointed to draft an amendment incorporating the residential clause. This was done two weeks ago. The Board of Managers, by a vote of 5 to 4, refused to adopt the amendmnt.

Consternation has stricken the Trenton members, because a majority of the Board of Managers are residents of that city, and it is indicated that the hearts of the Capital City members are softening towards their North Jersey sisters. As a consequence the North Jersey members have prepared a ticket to be voted for on May 4th, and some of the candidates live north of Trenton.

Mrs. Joseph D. Bedle, of Jersey City, is slated for president; Mrs. Frank Mrs. Frank Olyphant, of Plainfield, for first vice-president, and Mrs. Hugh A. Hamill, of Trenton, for second vice-president.

The meeting in May, it is expected, will settle all differences unless the Trenton members succeed in passing proposed amendment.

MARGARET KENNEY HAPPY.

Her Tenth Birthday Anniversary Being Celebrated Today.

Miss Margaret Kenney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kenney, of East Second street, is today celebrating the tenth anniversary of her birthday, and in honor of the event her parents gave the young lady a party, which is being held this afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock. There were about seventy-five invitations issued and there is a large number present to assist the hostess in celebrating the happy event. Among the many costly gifts received by Miss Kenney was a piano which was a gift from Mrs. John Rafferty, godmother of the young hostess.

The afternoon is being passed in playing games, which is interspersed with both vocal and instrumental selections.

Before the guests depart a supper will be served and this will complete a thoroughly enjoyable occasion which will always be remembered by Miss Kenney.

A Fine Team of Horses.

The English poodles, belonging to T. Benton, of Rockiew avenue, have attracted the attention of all the dog fanciers of the city. Now Mr. Penton's bay horses received many admiring glances from the equine experts. The team is one of the finest in the city and can hold its own with the best to be found. The horses are under the careful supervision of John Kelly, whose thorough knowledge makes him just the man for the place.

Exporting Shoes.

It is now conceded in the shoe trade that the United States are making and exporting the finest and shoes in the world. One of the largest manufacturers and exporters in this country are represented in this city by an elegant line of their goods by Doane & Edsall who say if you want to see a superb shoe in every respect, at an astonishingly low price, too, they have them.

THEY'RE OFF, TUESDAY.

OPENING OF THE TROTTING SEASON AMONG LOCAL HORSEMEN.

The Steppers Have Wintered Well and are in Condition to Give the Horse-Loving Public Some Fine Exhibitions of Speed.

There will be trotting at the Driving Park to-morrow afternoon. This will be the first of a series of club races that are to be trotted every Saturday during the coming season. Everybody is invited to attend, and it looks as though from the material on hand that the horse-loving public of this vicinity will be able to see some racing of the right sort.

Myrtle Twig, 2.25, by Myrtleton, has wintered well and looks better and stronger than ever this Spring, and is taking to her work in a very pleasing manner. She will make her first start at the Parkway or Elizabeth spring meeting, and competent horsemen think that if she holds her present form she is about as good a thing as they know of eligible to the 2.24 class. Mr. Brantingham's many friends wish him every success with his great mare during the coming campaign.

Johnny Osborne, of the Woodbrook Farm, has a strong stable this season; including such horses as Woven Wind, with a two-year old mark of 2:25 and a fraction which he got in a large stake race in the west; Sidunt, a son of the great Sidney, with a mark of 2:25¼; the black stallion, St. Albans, that Mr. Osborne drove so many creditable races with last season, and that made Myrtletwig step a mile in 2:22½, at Woodbridge, to beat him, has also got quite a large number of colts and undeveloped horses that are looked upon by good judges as being the best lot he has had in years.

Charley Brower has commenced to give all his horses sharp work, and everybody will be glad to learn that Highland Boy, Morton, Lillie M. and Sargent, the shining lights of his stable, have all wintered well and are taking to their work in a way that suits the General. Mr. Brower has, also, in his stable a colt by Alcantara that he thinks with a little handling will be able to give most anybody's horse a race.

Mike Quinn, of Avon Park Farm, reports that all his colts and mares are in the best of shape, but will probably not start anything this year, having sold most of his developed horses.

Uncle Ellis Campbell is in line again with two or three promising colts that are bred in the purple, one of them being bred similar to Myrtletwig, 2:25, and the boys want to look out for him.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

Albert Malm's End Came at the Hospital Yesterday Afternoon.

Albert Malm, the Swede, who fell down the stairs at the North avenue station a week ago last Saturday night, and received serious injuries, died at the hospital yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was not conscious when he passed away. Ever since he was brought to the hospital there seemed to be grave doubts of his recovery as there was apparently internal injuries. At the time of the accident Malm lost a great deal of blood not only from the wound in his head but from both ears. He was in an intoxicated condition and was unable to take care of himself.

As far as known Malm has no relatives in this locality but it is said that there are several wealthy relatives in England. Malm adopted the trade of machinist against the wishes of his relatives and for this reason it is said that he was left out of a will. An effort will be made to find the relatives and inform them of what has occurred.

This afternoon an autopsy will be held at the hospital for the purpose of ascertaining exactly the cause of death.

IN CITY COURT.

Judge DeMeza Passed Sentence on Several Offenders.

There were several unimportant cases tried before City Judge DeMeza this morning. Frank Provost pleaded guilty to the charge of riding a wheel without a light after dark and was fined $2. Sentence was suspended on David Taylor and Joseph Layton, two "coal commuters," who were arrested last evening by Patrolman Lunger, Jacob Conde had been riding on the sidewalk and paid $2 for the offence. Wm. Daroch, of Brooklyn, did not know that wheelmen needed lights and so rode without one last evening. He was arrested and fined $2. The trial of Charles Barry for violating the hack ordinance was adjourned until Saturday morning.

Miss Francis Kaer, of Baltimore, who has been visiting friends in this city, returned home yesterday.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Aged Instructor's Pathetic Story of Hardship.

TRUSTEES THOUGHT HIM TOO OLD.

He Is Therefore Removed From His Position In the Public Schools, Where He Had Served So Long and Faithfully.

New York, April 26.—Professor J. D. Dennison, 73 years old, one of New Jersey's educators, who has a record remarkable for fidelity and hard work, attempted suicide at his home in Haledon, a suburb of Paterson, as the result of self inflicted wounds. The story of the case was a most pathetic one. He had grown helpless and sought by suicide to relieve his wife of the burden of his support.

For 18 years Professor Dennison was principal of the Haledon school, holding the position until four years ago, when it was decided to place a younger man in charge of the institution. Professor Dennison never recovered from the blow of his dismissal.

He has been ill lately and sent his wife out of the house ostensibly to get medicine for him. She left him in his favorite corner at the window. When she returned, she found him lying on the floor half conscious, his head resting on a hassock that was covered with blood. Examination disclosed the fact that the aged pedagogue had severed an artery in his wrist with a razor, and then, fearing that death might be denied him, had cut his throat. Physicians who attended him say he cannot recover.

Professor Dennison was for years a member of the Passaic county board of examiners.

Fight With Masked Robbers.

Chatham, Ont., April 26.—Two masked men entered John McConnell's grocery store and with revolvers in each hand held up the proprietor, his clerk and some customers and secured $104. Detectives Campau and Mahoney traced the men to where they were hiding in a box car. Campau covered the men with a shotgun, while Mahoney went into the car to search them. One of the robbers drew his revolver and shot Mahoney. Campau then discharged his shotgun twice, wounding both men. The robbers then surrendered. Detective Mahoney is very low, and is not expected to live. The men gave their names as George W. Moore and Charles Brown.

Real Estate Agent Wanted.

Philadelphia, April 26.—George Erickson, who, since the death of his brother, John M. Erickson, six years ago, had a half interest in and has managed the real estate business of John M. Erickson & Co., 3,947 Lancaster avenue, is missing. John E. Lonergan of 865 North Fortieth street, a client of the firm, caused a warrant to be issued for his arrest for embezzlement, the amount being placed at $600. Other property owners are also losers, and the indebtedness for rents collected and not paid, it is said, will reach $14,000 to $15,000.

Effect of Tariff In Canada.

Montreal, April 26.—W. C. McDonald, the largest manufacturer of plug tobacco in Canada, employing 700 hands, has closed down his factory in this city. The reason for the shutdown is uncertainty of the clause in the new tariff bill relating to increase of duty on tobacco. The Dominion Wire company, whose factory is at Lachine, also closed down their barbed wire works in consequence of the placing of barbed wire on the free list. They employ about 300 men.

Admiral Meade's Condition.

Washington, April 26.—The condition of Rear Admiral Richard W. Meade, retired, who has been ill here for some days, is not so favorable. About ten days ago he was operated upon for appendicitis, which left him in a weakened condition. From this there was some rally. He is very weak and takes liquid nourishment, but if no new complications arise his physician believes the admiral may recover.

Large Icebergs Sighted.

New York, April 26.—The big White Star freight steamer Georgic, Captain Thompson, which has arrived from Liverpool, reports that on April 21, from latitude 42:30 longitude 49:24 to latitude 42:18 longitude 51, she sighted four large icebergs, of which three were respectively 65, 100 and 135 feet high.

The Czar Bestows Favors.

St. Petersburg, April 26.—Emperor Nicholas has formally confirmed the appointment of Count Muravieff as Russian minister of foreign affairs, and he has conferred the decoration and order of Vladimir upon M. de Kotzebue, the Russian minister to the United States.

City of Mexico, April 26.—President Diaz has issued a decree establishing a naval school at Vera Cruz, to be opened July next. Youths desiring to enter the navy or adopt careers as pilots or marine engineers will be admitted.

Solicited Bribes.

Cincinnati, April 26.—The grand jury has indicted Dr. J. W. Prendergast and D. O. V. Limerick for soliciting a bribe from the Frazer Tablet company. Dr. Prendergast is the late health officer of Cincinnati.

Francis Joseph Goes to Russia.

Vienna, April 26.—Emperor Francis Joseph, with the Archduke Otto and Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, has started for St. Petersburg.

Economy of Youth.

The following was related by a gentleman who travelled recently in a ship that carried Mark Twain from South Africa to England. During dinner, one evening, a young gentleman made himself aggressive, with the usual tall lion stories. The American writhed in silence for a time, but finding it grew almost beyond bearing, with great politeness admonished him in this wise:

"We all know Mr. So-an-So, that truth is a very rare virtue. I am glad to see that you economize it."

FRENCH WINE TRADE

Contradiction by the Merchants of a Sensational Story.

STATEMENT FOUND TO BE FALSE.

What Was Said to Be an Adulteration Was Done For the Good of the Public Health—Other Safeguards Were Used.

Washington, April 26.—The promised statement from the department of state touching the report on the French wine trade by United States Consul Chancellor at Havre has been completed and will appear in the May number of the United States consular reports.

The department briefly recalls the fact that Mr. Chancellor, in his report of July 24, 1895, alleged that much of the French wine was not the product of the vineyard, and that 15,000 casks of so called wine had been destroyed by the Paris municipal laboratory, having not a drop of grape juice in it at all. He had also alleged that the great deficit in the wine crop caused by the phylloxera had been made up from a fluid made of raisins, currants, lees and such materials. It is stated that M. Hanotaux last December called the attention of our embassador to Paris to the fact that the Bordeaux chamber of commerce had protested against the statements of the consul, and that the official investigation had called forth a denial from the municipal laboratory that it had destroyed any such quantity of wine. The statements were referred back to Mr. Chancellor, who replied that he had obtained his information as to the destruction of 15,000 casks of wine from a reliable English journal, but the name of the journal he was unable to recall. While in Paris in 1887, under commission from the governor of Maryland, he had investigated the wine sheds and was there told that a number of casks would be destroyed, and this action was not unusual. In support of a statement that large quantities of sugar were used in the preparation of wines from lees Mr. Chancellor referred to debates in the chambers, in the course of which a M. Viljean had protested against the prohibition of the manufacture of this kind of wine on the ground that it caused the consumption of not less than 100,000 tons of sugar yearly.

French Embassy's Statement.

Having thus laid down the case and Mr. Chancellor's defense of his statements, the state department prints the following statement made by the French embassy here under date of March 8 last:

"The attention of the French wine merchants has been called to a report entitled 'wine making in France,' published in the consular reports No. 186, September, 1895, by C. W. Chancellor, United States consul at Havre, France, and containing some incorrect statements which might cause prejudice to French commerce, and which it seems desirable to rectify.

"First.—Mr. Chancellor, having probably in mind the decrease of wine production from which France suffered during a long period after the appearance of phylloxera, says that large quantities of wine fabricated in France contain no grape juice. Statistical information shows that over 4,000,000 acres of vineyards were partially infected by the plague during the last 20 years, 2,000,000 of which were already replanted up to 1895. On the other hand, the production of wine has been in the last two years exceptionally abundant.

"Second.—Mr. Chancellor, referring to information published in an English journal and reproduced afterward in American papers, added that the French government recently destroyed 15,000 casks of adulterated wines.

For the Public Welfare.

"From an official inquiry, it appears that there is no record at the municipal laboratory of Paris of such destruction. The occasional seizure and destruction of small quantities of adulterated wines are rather to the honor of the French government, which thus protects the health of its citizens. Measures have, besides, been taken for the purpose of prohibiting overalcoholization of wines and the addition thereto of water or of any element whatever of adulteration.

"It may be added that, according to medical inquiries made by highly competent authority, a moderate consumption of French wine is beneficial to public health. The official statistics in this regard are worthy of attention; they show that drunkenness is less frequent in wine consuming regions. Out of 100 cases of public drunkenness, punishable by the law of 1873, 29 cases were recorded in the northwest of France and 34 in the north, where spirits are mostly consumed, while 9 cases were recorded in the center, 5 in the southwest and only 4 in the south, where the use of wine among the laboring classes is general."

Accident at a Launching.

Chicago, April 26.—An accident marred the launching of the new steel steamer Minneapolis at South Chicago. As the boat slipped into the water it caused a large wave to overflow the shore, where a large crowd was standing to look at the launch. A panic ensued, the people making frantic efforts to escape a drenching. A number were badly bruised, the most seriously injured being Robert Gregory, Miss Ethel Martin and Charles Hurley. Gregory's leg was broken, and he received other injuries which may result fatally.

Committed Suicide While Insane.

Beverly, Mass., April 26.—The body of Walter C. Abbott of Salem was picked up in the river here. Abbott has been known for some time to have been temporarily insane, and it is supposed that he committed suicide while in that condition. An autopsy was held, when the cause was reported as death by drowning.

A Veteran Killed by Gas.

New York, April 26.—Frederick Hoffman, a Union veteran of the Ninth New York volunteers, on furlough from the Soldiers' home at Togus, Me., was accidentally asphyxiated by illuminating gas in the Hotel Hatfield, in Ridge street.

ANTONIO MORA DEAD

A Claimant to Whom Spain Paid Nearly $1,000,000.

HIS PROPERTY WAS CONFISCATED

Sentenced to Death, He Escapes to This Country, Where He Brings an Action For Damages, Which Is Finally Successful.

New York, April 26.—Antonio M. Mora, who, after a quarter of a century of personal and international contention, received in 1895 from the Spanish government $999,509.76 in settlement of a claim for the confiscation of his property in Cuba, died in his apartments in the Hotel Grenoble, 200 West Fifty-seventh street.

Mr. Mora was a native of Cuba, where he owned large and valuable sugar plantations. He came to New York in 1853 and established a residence. He took out his final naturalization papers in May, 1863, and became a citizen of the United States. Cuba at that time was in a state of unrest, bordering on absolute rebellion, and among the occurrences of the period was the arrest of Mora, Aldama and Castillo as sympathizers and aiders of the insurgent movement. A court martial sentenced them to death and ordered the confiscation of their property.

Antonio Mora and his brother escaped to New York, disguised as sailors. Young Jose Manuel Mora, now well known as a resident of this city, remained to assist in his father's escape, was captured and transported to a penal colony in Africa, whence, after terrible suffering, he escaped to Europe.

No sooner had Antonio Mora arrived in New York than he laid his case before Hamilton Fish, then secretary of state, asserting that he had in no wise engaged in the rebellion or aided it. Mr. Mora placed his estimate of the loss to himself and his brother at $3,000,000.

Diplomatic correspondence began in earnest, and each administration in Washington aggressively fought for the settlement of the claim, but the Castilian government resorted to every subterfuge to avoid the payment. In 1886 Spain acknowledged it to be a valid debt, although deducting one-half of the original amount demanded by Mora, who at that time had arrived at old age and, needing money badly, agreed to the reduction.

But for nearly ten years the claim remained unpaid. In the meantime the United States continued to press Spain for the payment, and when finally, after unprecedented pressure had been brought to bear on the Spanish government, she paid the claim, there had been spent over $100,000 upon it by our government, and a whole library of documents had been written concerning it.

Trouble Between Whites and Blacks.

Ardmore, I. T., April 26.—As a result of the warning given to all the negroes in the town of Davis by a mob of masked white men, not a colored man remains in the place. The federal grand jury, which was called together by Judge Kilgore to investigate the outrages, examined a small army of witnesses, but reported that it had been impossible to identify any of the raiders. When it became known that no indictments had been returned the colored people hastily quit the town. The murder of a white man by a negro was the preliminary cause of the trouble at Davis.

Jersey Cadet Appointed.

New York, April 26.—The result of the competitive examination held at Paterson, N. Board of Hackensack received the highest percentage, but declined the appointment. Cornelius Bogert of Hackensack, who was second on the list, will be appointed cadet, and Wallace Berthölf of the same place, alternate.

The Transvaal Situation.

London, April 26.—The Times' correspondent at Paris has been informed that the object of Prince Hohenlohe's visit to M. Hanotaux, the French foreign minister, was to discuss the situation in the Transvaal and to persuade France, and through her Russia, to support Germany in resisting Great Britain's imperious attitude toward the Boers in exchange for Germany's support of France in the Egyptian question.

Prince de Chimay In a Duel.

Paris, April 26.—The outcome of the article by M. Clemenceau in The Echo de Paris was a duel with swords between M. Clemenceau and Prince Caraman de Chimay. Both were wounded simultaneously, Clemenceau receiving a gash in the right arm and the prince a slight scratch on the shoulder.

CHILDREN OUT OF SCHOOL.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Hon. Charles J. Baxter, calls attention to the fact that more than 80,000 children of the school census attend no school during the year. If the public school system of the state means anything at all it means to provide an opportunity for every child of the commonwealth to acquire the rudiments of knowledge as a preparation for life, making of each child a more valuable citizen than he otherwise would become. This end is being defeated to a certain extent by the indifference of some parents to the value of educational training and the time seems to be at hand when some better compulsory education law than our present one must be enacted. Superintendent Baxter's suggestion of a remedy, to be found in another column, is worthy of careful thought. Many of our children are obliged to leave school early in life and public education should begin early in the kindergarten as Superintendent Baxter suggests. Children should be kept regularly in school as well and the basing of the apportionment of state funds upon the attendance of the schools would quicken the public conscience in this important respect. It would be of advantage to cities to furnish attractive and adequate school facilities for the children, that the attendance might be large and thus increase the revenue received from the state. We hope to see the progressive suggestions of Superintendent Baxter soon incorporated in the school laws of the state.—Dover Era.

TOMORROW.

Every person who can possibly arrange their affairs satisfactorily in Plainfield tomorrow so as to leave their business or occupation, will probably go to New York to witness the sights incident to the dedication of the mausoleum in which the remains of General Grant are to rest for all time to come. Merchants generally admit that there will be little trade tomorrow, but still they do not feel inclined to close their stores for a half day unless every other merchant in the same line of trade does likewise. There should be some concerted effort looking to a general suspension of business for at least a half day tomorrow, not only in the ardor of patriotism that is proper on a day set apart to the memory of one of the country's greatest men, but also that the clerks may go forth and observe it in spirit rather than abeyance. Though the day is not a legal holiday in this State, it will be considered so in many places in the conduct of business through the metropolitan district.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED.

Newark Academy Easily Won From the Plainfield High School at Base Ball.

The base ball nine of the Plainfield High School played its first match game, Saturday morning, with the team from Newark Academy, on the grounds of the latter team. The Plainfield boys were defeated by a score of 15 to 6. The defeat was not a bad one considering the condition of the two teams. The home team took the lead from the start and in no inning were they closely pushed by the visitors. The game was therefore not an exciting one. Sutphen and Lederer were the battery for the High School team and they were given fair support. Fisher put up a brilliant game for the High School at short. Sebring and Lederer were the only ones of the visiting team that were able to hit the Newark pitcher. Hurd and Smith were the battery for the home club. The Newark infield was a strong one.

The score by innings was as follows:

Newark,	-	-	3	2	0	4	1	0	0	5 x—15
High School,	-	-	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	1 2— 6

BATH IN THE DEAD SEA.

The Water is Remarkably Buoyant, but Not Good to Taste.

A tourist who visited the Holy Land a few years ago wrote as follows: "Reaching at last this most remarkable of all the seas and lakes on the globe (the Dead Sea) we prepared to take a bath, such as I can hardly ever expect to take again. I had previously bathed in numerous seas, lakes and rivers, but never did I enjoy such a bath as this. The specific gravity of the water is such, from its holding in solution so large a proportion of salt, 26½ per cent, that one floats upon its surface like a cork. At the time there was but a gentle ripple upon the sea, and being a good swimmer I at once struck out into deep water. I soon found out that I could not only swim and float with wonderful ease, but that I could actually walk in the water, sinking only to the shoulders. Should the bather allow the water to get into his eyes or mouth, he would suffer considerable abatement in his enjoyment, on account of its extremely salt, bitter and irritating nature. No fish can live in this sea; but various kinds of ducks abound here at certain seasons of the year. The water was as clear as ordinary sea water; its temperature was agreeable, and it had an oily feeling."—New York Times.

LOST HER DIAMOND TEETH.

The Two Front Ones Were Extracted by Burglars in Order to Get the Stones.

Mrs. Calvin, whose husband is engaged in the commission business in San Francisco, went to Portland, Oregon, to visit her sister some time ago. Mrs. Calvin, who is a handsome woman, became a few years ago a victim of a fad that prevailed at that time. She had two valuable diamonds set in her upper front teeth, so that when she parted lips in a smile, the sparkling gems shone resplendently. Her peculiar adornment attracted considerable attention, for it was something out of the ordinary.

Mrs. Calvin was alone in her sister's house one afternoon, when the doorbell rang. She answered the summons and admitted two men, who claimed they were plumbers sent by the owner to inspect the house. Mrs. Calvin was leading them to the kitchen, and when in the dining-room they seized her, placed a chloroformed handkerchief to her nose and rendered her anconscious. Then, with forceps they extracted the two teeth in which the diamonds were set and left the place.—San Francisco Call.

Costly Charcoal Thread.

As a matter of curiosity, the United States Consul, at Ghent, reports to the State Department that the most expensive product in the world is the charcoal thread employed for incandescent lamps. It is for the most part manufactured at Paris, and comes from the hands of an artist who desires his name to remain unknown, in order to better protect the secret of its manufacture. It is by the gramme (equivalent to 15½ grains) that this product is sold at wholesale. In reducing its price to the basis of pounds, it is easily found that the filaments for lamps of twenty candles are worth $8,000 per pound, and that for lamps of thirty candles they are worth $12,000 per pound. The filaments for lamps of three candles are so light that it would require nearly 1,500,000 of them to weigh a pound, and their total length would be one hundred and eighty-seven miles.—Golden Days.

Sadie—"Does young Giltedge ever imbibe too freely?"

Florrie—"Perhaps not, but I saw him last night trying to light his cigarette from an incandescent lamp."—Philadelphia Press.

"Harry is such good company!" Harriet remarked. "He can talk upon any subject."

"H'm! Think I should enjoy his company better if he could keep still on any subject," said the old gentleman.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Walter Beeckman is visiting among friends at Centreville.

Mrs. C. M. Huff is visiting her mother, Mrs. Taylor, at Newark.

Miss Helen Creamer is entertaining her cousin, Miss Cavan, of Brooklyn.

Mrs. Philip Harman is entertaining her sister, Miss Bolton, of Somerville.

Dunellen's amateur base ball team defeated a nine from Westfield, on the home grounds, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 14 to 4.

Walter Runyon, who has been seriously ill for some time past, was much improved today, but he is still confined to his room and under the doctor's care.

Fred Wilcox, the faithful carrier for the Press, and his brother, Hudson, rode their wheels to Westfield and return, Saturday, a distance of about 18 miles by road.

Chief Marshal Wyhusky is ever on the alert for evil doers. He rides his bike about town and through the highways and byways, so that nothing escapes his vision.

Mosquitoes are plentiful here at this early date, but they are thought to be only the advance guard sent up from Elizabethport for breeding purposes and to look around for camping grounds.

It has been roughly estimated that the loss by the recent forest fires on the Washington Valley side of the mountain will not fall short of $200, caused mostly by the burning of fences and the killing of young timber.

Rev. A. I. Martine conducted services in the Presbyterian church yesterday morning. No service was held in this church in the evening, but instead this congregation joined with the M. E. church in welcoming Rev. Joshua Mead to the pastorate of the latter church.

Bicycle scorching and fast driving has come to an end on the eastern end of Front street. On Saturday, the street commissioner caused crushed stone to be spread across the water way at Front street and Dunellen avenue, and this, until it is worn down, is most dangerous to riders of wheels and especially so at night.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

L. Noel and family, of the mountain, will move to 428 West Jersey street, Elizabeth, today.

E. Dorwood was kept busy yesterday afternoon repairing punctures for out-of-town bicyclists, of which there were many.

The street commissioner signifies his intention to do some additional work, this week, on the road leading from the Plains to the Fanwood station.

John R. Miller's two children are much improved from their attack of diphtheria. One child was buried only a few days ago. The house is still under quarantine.

Another burglar-scare was started at the Plains Saturday night, when it was reported that one of the stores in town had been entered and robbed of a considerable quantity of merchandise. It was found upon investigation that one of the back doors leading to a certain hotel had been left unlocked, and yesterday morning the door was found to be partly open, but nothing was missing.

Charles Mooney, who lived on the mountain just north of here, died yesterday afternoon, after a few days illness from pneumonia. He was recognized as one of the best-learned machinists in this part of State and, instead of accepting a position in some of the large shops, he put up a repair shop of his own near his home and during the winter and spring months has had more work than he could actually attend to. He was frequently called to other parts of the State to put up machinery. He leaves a wife and five children. One of the children, a daughter, is married.

The members of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, are hereby notified to attend a special meeting of the above company at their rooms, Excelsior Hall, this evening at 8 o'clock, to take action upon the death of Charles M. Mooney who died at his residence, Sunday. Funeral, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., from M. E. church By order of William H. Turton, foreman; George L. Dunn, secretary.

NEW MARKET.

Mr. and Mrs. James Day, of Elizabeth, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mitzie.

Miss Katie Herlick, of Plainfield, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. E. Herlick.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Waglow, of Plainfield, spent Sunday with Adam Waglow.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Nelson have returned from a week's visit with friends in New York city.

Elias Stout, of the Pullman Palace car company, was the guest of Chas H. Ward, yesterday.

Lakeside Council, D. of L., will give an entertainment at Friendship Hall, Thursday evening, April 29th.

Postmaster Chas. S. Day will remove the post office from its present location, to the store of William Jenner.

LINCOLN.

A large number of people visited the new town yesterday, drawn here by the almost perfect weather and the reports of the rapid progress being made. Among them Frank L. C. Martin and a number of friends, on bicycles, R. H. McCullough and family, and others from Plainfield.

The plans for the Steel Works have been received and estimates will be made this week. As soon as all estimates are in the contracts will be awarded and work commenced.

ALTAR SOCIETY SERVICE.

An Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Church Shown to be Prosperous.

A special Altar Society service was held in St. Stephen's church, yesterday morning. There was a very interesting address by the rector, Rev. S. P. Simpson, on the society and its work, while the reports of the secretary and treasurer of the society were read. The secretary's report showed a steady gain in membership. The death of Mrs. C. P. Rall was referred to as the only loss of a member that the society had met with since its formation, nine years ago. The treasurer's report was very satisfactory for, while the balance in the treasury was not large, much good work had been done during the year. It was the Altar Society that had started the movement last fall to purchase a new silver communion service by the donation of $50 for that object. The rest of the amount necessary has been raised by private subscriptions about the congregation.

A NEW RECTOR.

Rev. Mr. Harris to Probably Succeed Rev. Jocelyn Johnstone.

Rev. Mr. Harris, of New York, who is to occupy the pulpit of the Church of the Redeemer temporarily as a successor to Rev. Jocelyn Johnstone, preached his first sermon yesterday. He gave a deep and interesting sermon. Rev. Mr. Harris and family have been in Montana, but the climate was not agreeable to their health and they were compelled to return to the east. It is probable that he will be engaged as the permanent rector of the parish. Rev. Mr. Johnstone will take up the practice of law for his future occupation.

The many friends of Elmer E. Runyon, the tenor of the Crescent Avenue quartette choir, will regret his resignation from that position, which takes effect this week. His singing last evening, in a duet with Mr Lewis, was very effective.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

A Talented Musician.

John Francis Gilder, the pianist and composer, who is to play at the entertainment at the Casino on May 5th is a brother of the poet Richard Watson Gilder. This versatile composer has been for a number of years touring America with other prominent artists and has undoubtedly been heard by more people than any other. He is a disciple of Gottschalk who was for many years his friend. The special committee of the Park Club are to be congratulated in securing such an artist, who, together with William H. Lee, the baritone will assist Eugene Field's daughter, Miss Mary French Field in the entertainment.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A MAN WHO DRIVES TEN-IN-HAND.

The Leader is Thirty-five Feet from the Holder of the Reins.

The bespangled riders who guide a score or more of horses at terrific speed about the saw-dust circus rings have been considered for generations the most skillful and picturesque horsemen in the world. An entirely new and far more difficult problem in driving has been devised and satisfactorily solved in Germany.

The feat is rendered especially difficult by combining the difficulties of driving four horses abreast with that of managing a very elongated tandem. The team is made up of ten horses. The tandem is complicated by hitching four horses abreast to begin with, with a team of three horses in front of these, two immediately before these and a single horse at the apex of this curious pyramid.

This remarkable team was devised by William Wesner, of Vienna, and by him driven repeatedly. He has performed several feats in fancy driving with his team before the Emperor of Germany and the Emperor of Austria, and has received medals from both monarchs. The performance is easily the most difficult feat of horsemanship in the world.

The difficulties of controlling ten horses hitched up in this way may readily be understood. The principal difficulty is that of controlling animals driven at such a distance from the man holding the reins. The distance of the leader in this case is fully thirty-five feet from the driver's box.

The strange team is controlled with eight reins. Two reins are carried to each set of horses harnessed abreast. Mr. Wesner not only controls this complicated team in straightaway driving, but has succeeded in driving them in the form of the figure eight. This feat, the driver asserts, he can perform after eight weeks' training with any set of horses, however wild.—New York World.

Ate the Matches.

As I drove up to the cabin where I expected to remain all night there were sounds of crying, and upon entering I found a woman weeping bitterly.

"Are you in trouble?" I asked.

"I reckon I be. Ef et's trouble ter lose th' bes' son yo' got."

"Excuse me, madam. I had been directed to your house to stay all night. I had no intention of intruding."

"No ha'm done, stranger. I reckon when I'm weepin' Sal kin cook, an' when Sal's weepin' I kin cook. An' you kin sleep in th' lof', where yo' kaint hear us ef we git ter grievin' endurin' th' night. Yo' see, my son has jess died. He war th' smartest young man in th' State, I reckon. He wa'nt cut out fer cuttin' timber; jess staid in th' house an' read th' almanac and county paper, till 'e knowed 'em by h'a't, includin' th' advertisements, 'e war that smart. An hit's all along of th' county paper thet 'e died. 'E made up 'is min' 'ter be a lawyer, an' th' paper sed th' bes' food fer th' brain war phosphorus, an' th' almanac sed matches war made o' th' same stuff put on th' ends o' th' sticks. So I jess bought 'im a hull box o' matches, an' 'e et 'em all. 'E died befo' night. We'll hev th' funeral airly in th' mornin', so's I kin go ter town an' sue th' feller as writ thet piece 'bout phosphorus fer th' brain fer damages."—New York World.

Mrs. Bancroft's Shawl.

Mrs. Bancroft, the wife of the historian, when staying in London, went on day to an afternoon musicale at Mayfair. On the way she was attracted by a display of shawls in a Regent street window, says the Illustrated American, and, stopping the cab, went into the shop and bought one, throwing it over her shoulders to wear to the social gathering. The astonished guests at the musicale were edified by the sight of the elegant Mrs. Bancroft floating through the drawing rooms, with a placard on her back bearing the words, "Very Cheap."

DR. HOBBS

A STEADY STREAM

Of People Poured Into L. W. Randolph's Drug Store Saturday to get Free Samples of

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills

Hundreds Now Testing the Remedy in Plainfield and Vicinity.

Now For Results

Last Saturday night the free distribution of sample boxes of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills closed at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store, and will be long remembered in this city.

The frightful number of people who are suffering in one way or another from kidney troubles in this vicinity can only be estimated by the enormous number of sample packets which were given out Saturday to all interested persons living in this city or neighborhood who applied for a sample of these pills.

"Can't be possible," said a man who called Saturday, "that the advancement in the science of medicine has at last reached a climax for poor sufferers like myself?

"I am going to say one thing at any rate. The owners of this medicine certainly have faith in it, and they are going about it in an honest, straightforward manner. Just this thing alone gives me confidence and strong hope that I shall again be a well man."

Another caller Saturday—a lady—said: "I live several miles away from Plainfield, but I am going to get a sample of this new kidney medicine for my husband. He has been a sufferer of kidney disease for many years.

"We have spent thousands of dollars with the best doctors we could hear of, North and South, but at the best he has received only temporary relief.

"Dr. Hobbs' announcement that he has made a discovery which will cure and build up the kidneys and his offer to prove it by the giving away of a free package is quite a novelty to me, as heretofore it has been 'pay,' whether the medicine did any good or not.

"We are going to give this remedy a good, fair trial, and I hope that others, suffering as my husband is, will hear of it and accept the kind and generous offer which Dr. Hobbs makes."

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

The added labor of handing out free samples of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills Saturday was greatly sweetened by the information from druggists in other cities that whenever similar distributions have been held a large sale of the remedy has followed, and many letters of gratitude have been written by those who have regained lost health.

Every person who knows or suspects that his kidneys or urinary passages are affected, every person who has any of the following symptoms, should make a test of these pills without delay, viz: Pains in the Back or Sides, Nervousness, Frequent Thirst, Shortness of Breath, Puffiness of the Eyelids, Swelling of the Feet and Ankles, Dark Colored or Scanty Urine, with albuminous or other deposits in the urine, or too frequent urination.

For the benefit of interested persons living out of town, who from any reason, failed to get a sample at our store, Dr. Hobbs authorizes us to say, if you will cut out the coupon below and mail it to the Hobbs Remedy Co., Chicago, Ill., with your name and address, a sample box of these pills will be sent you by mail, postpaid, and free of expense.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drives will receive your work.

THE BROOKLYN FOR ENGLAND.

The Cruiser Will Be Our Representative at the Queen's Jubilee.

Washington, April 26.—The cruiser Brooklyn, it has been practically decided, will represent the navy of the United States at the queen's jubilee, which will take place next June, and will subsequently go to the Mediterranean to take the place of the Minneapolis as the flagship of the European squadron.

The Brooklyn will proceed on Monday morning next on her final trial of 48 hours, which will be conducted by the board of inspection and survey. Upon its conclusion she will proceed to Newport, where she will take on board a supply of torpedoes. She will then be ordered to England, and from there, in case the trouble in the Levant continues, will go to the Mediterranean. The Minneapolis Secretary Long has determined to lay up in ordinary. The vessels in the Mediterranean now are the Minneapolis, the San Francisco, the Raleigh, the Cincinnati and the Bancroft.

The monitor Amphitrite will be laid up in ordinary at the same time that this action is taken with the Columbia. An announcement to this effect was made at the navy department yesterday. Instead of being laid up at League island, however, with the Columbia, the Amphitrite will go to Annapolis. The determination of the department to send the Amphitrite to Annapolis is due to the desire of the authorities to give the cadets in the Naval academy an opportunity to handle great guns. The gunboat Annapolis, which has just completed her preliminary trial, will be used as a training ship for the cadets during the summer, but the boys will be able to exercise at all times on the Amphitrite.

These naval orders have been issued: Ensign J. M. Luby, transferred from the Texas to the Alliance; Ensign P. Symington, transferred from the Alliance to the coast survey; Lieutenant W. H. Turner, Ensign L. C. Bertelotte, Lieutenant Commander H. B. Hansfield and Lieutenant F. Swift have been ordered to examination for promotion.

THE SENATE THIS WEEK.

Business Will Be Practically Suspended. May Be an Adjournment.

Washington, April 26.—There will not be a quorum in the senate during the present week, owing to the absence of a large number of senators in New York in attendance upon the ceremonies over General Grant's tomb, consequently no business of importance will be transacted. Probably a majority of the senators desire to adjourn from Monday until Thursday and from Thursday again until Monday, without transacting any business of general moment, and this programme is likely to be followed. If the wish of the Republican members of the finance committee is acceded to, the tariff bill will be reported Thursday, but it is most probable that this will be postponed until next week. The work of preparing for the reorganization of the senate committees will proceed informally.

Under the arrangement made on Friday the house will transact no business this week. The house will meet formally tomorrow and adjourn until Thursday, when an adjournment will be taken until Monday.

Suicide From a Steamer.

New York, April 26.—The North German Lloyd steamer Weimar, which arrived from Bremen, reports that on April 12, while steaming down the English channel, a steerage passenger named Gottlieb Strum jumped overboard. An alarm was given and the ship's engines stopped and reversed full speed. A boat was lowered in the meantime, but after it had got away from the ship the man's body was discovered floating close alongside the ship. Another boat was then lowered and the body picked up, but life was extinct. The body was taken on board the steamer and later received a sea burial. Strum was 35 years old and of German-American parentage. He had been acting strangely from the time he boarded the steamer and was no doubt temporarily insane.

Red Cross Officers In Trouble.

Detroit, April 26.—Thomas J. Parker, grand commander for Michigan of the Order of Knights of the Red Cross, and James Eaken, chairman of the supreme trustees of that organization, have begun suit to enjoin Sven Windrow of Chicago, supreme president, and certain other officers and members of the council from performing duties of said officers and for the appointment of a receiver for the order until a meeting of the supreme commandery can be held to elect new officers. Robert S. Carter, grand commander of the order for Ohio, is suggested as receiver. Various charges of mismanagement, improper levying of assessments, etc., are made against the defendants. The order has a membership of some 4,000.

Minister Injured In a Runaway.

Stamford, Conn., April 26.—Rev. Dr. Charles E. Rowell and wife were seriously injured in a runaway accident. Mrs. Rowell had two ribs broken and it is feared is injured internally, and Dr. Rowell was seriously cut about the head and was badly bruised and shaken up. The accident was due to the horse being frightened by a trolley car.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The shah of Persia is alarmingly ill.

Mrs. Catherine C. Havens, the oldest inhabitant of Stamford, Conn., died there, aged 96.

Omer, a small village about 20 miles north of Bay City, Mich., was swept by a tornado. Two persons were killed and many injured.

Mrs. Agnes Weed was burned to death in her home, 71 West Ninetieth street, New York, notwithstanding efforts to save her.

Father Sherman, son of the late General William T. Sherman, has been obliged to give up his church work on account of ill health.

The plot to assassinate King Humbert existed since April 18. A friend of Acciarito, the would be assassin, has been arrested at Rome.

Jose S. Guitteriz has been legally shot at Guadalajara, Mexico, for the murder of his brother-in-law, Jose Bobadilla, a millionaire merchant of that city.

Robert C. Winthrop of Boston presented Yale college with a valuable collection of autograph letters of men prominent in the early history of this country.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

McVey, of North avenue, entertained about two hundred cyclists at dinner yesterday.

Fred Adams, of Netherwood, rode to High Bridge and Annandale on his new Crescent wheel last Saturday.

Thomas U. Smith, of Westervelt avenue, is out on one of the red enameled '97 Spalding wheels, which is to be his mount for the season. It was purchashed through the agency of W. H. Rogers.

Rogers, the North avenue cycle dealer, shipped three Spalding wheels to Shanghai, China, today. They are consigned to Rev. D. H. Davis, a brother-in law of Mr. Rogers, who is a missionary. Mr. Davis will ride one wheel and the other two will be used by friends.

James A Stafford, of Grandview avenue, has received one of the Wolff American bicycles, with the new transparent ruby enamel. The wheel is very handsome in appearance and is built of the best material on the market. He purchased it from A. M. Griffin, who is agent for the wheel in this city.

Bicycling is to be part of the summer amusements of the members of the Park Club, this summer. While almost all of the members are staunch devotees of the wheel, there has never been any regular movement on the part of the club to take up the sport. The members, their wives and their friends went riding but it was in small parties. This year, it is intended that the club shall offer runs to such of its members as wish to go off in the afternoon for a spin. There will be the regular club runs and then the junior runs for the younger set, composed of the children of the members. The first of the latter will be held tomorrow afternoon, starting from the club house.

THEATRICAL.

The Boston Globe says: "The Lorraine Hollis Company appeared last night in the clever farce-comedy "Arabian Nights." This is a new line of dramatic work for Miss Hollis, but she proved conclusively that she is not only a superior emotional actress, but that her art is of that rare and versatile order that makes it possible for her to carry out any line of dramatic work she may undertake. She had the hearty sympathy and interest of her audience from the start." The prices during Miss Hollis' engagement here will be 30, 20 and 10 cents. The opening play will be "Mr. Barnes, of New York," on Wednesday night, April 28th; Thursday night, "Forget-me-not," will be given; Friday night, "The Arabian Nights," and on Saturday night the bill will be "The Tigress."

In securing "The Prisoner of Zenda," which is announced for production here tonight, those who preside over things theatrical in this community have made a very strong impression on their patrons. The story of "The Prisoner of Zenda" is familiar enough in its book form, and its delightful characteristics would naturally be enhanced if presented in a worthy manner in the form of a play. Since the tremendous success the play enjoyed in New York, local theatregoers have mentally decided to see it at cost at the first opportunity.

A New Drop Curtain.

Last Saturday Manager Willey, of Music Hall, signed a contract for a new drop curtain to be painted and hung in that theatre during the summer months. The curtain will be a beautiful one, representing a wheeling scene along a shady country road, where the bicyclists have stopped to tarry for a few moments.

O'DONNELL DID NOT COME.

So His Trial for Illegal Liquor Selling Was Adjourned for a Week.

Hughie O'Donnell was to appear before the City Judge this morning, in the Council chamber, for trial on the charge of liquor selling on Sunday. The trial was set down for 10 o'clock, but O'Donnell did not appear. The court instructed the officers to arrest him and bring him to the court at once, but he was not to be found. At eleven o'clock, Assemblyman W. R. Codington, one of the counsel for the prisoner, stated that he had received a note from the prisoner asking for an adjournment as he had been called to Long Island to attend the funeral of his wife's sister. The case was remanded for a week. He was also represented by ex Councilman Walter L. Hetfield. The city was represented by Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Delphine Bowers, of Franklin place, is the guest of friends at Rutherford.

Miss Mabel Ladd, of Brooklyn, is a guest at the home of J. M. Bettman, of Willow avenue.

Miss Emily Stalp, of New York, city, is a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, of West End Park.

Grace Kinsman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kinsman, of this city, is slowly recovering from a very serious illness.

W. C. Smith, of the borough, returned from Atlantic City last evening, where he went on Saturday to arrange for the annual encampment of the G. A. R., of New Jersey.

Edward Nelson, the popular ticket agent at the North Avenue station, was the guest of Brooklyn friends yesterday. His place at the station was taken by R. E. Roland, of Annandale.

Miss Lillian Kent, a contralto soloist, formerly a member of the choir of the First Presbyterian church, who captivated Plainfield by her singing, has kindly consented to again appear before a Plainfield audience at the entertainment in Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow night, where her many friends will be pleased to render her a very hearty welcome.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Justice Newcorn has issued summons in the contract case of Reed et als., against Wyckoff et als., returnable on May 3d.

—The regular meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church was held yesterday afternoon at the close of the Sunday-school session instead of in the evening as usual.

—A drop of lubricating oil on the ends of the bell shafts would do away with the squeak that annoys the residents in the vicinity of the Church of the Redeemer, Grove street, every time the church bell rings.

—The Boys' Club entertainment will be held this evening in their club house on Sycamore street. The entertainment will consist of vocal and instrumental selections and recitations by talent from New York and Plainfield.

—Yesterday Miss Charlotte Messersmith sang a solo from the "Holy City," at Monroe Avenue M. E. church. Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of the church, preached a special sermon to the Epworth League on "Grant and His Enemies." His discourse was an excellent one and was listened to by a large congregation.

Hospital in Debt.

There have been many demands made on the Muhlenberg Hospital during the last month and the treasury is now in debt to the amount of $1,000. Of the $1,000, $131 was paid towards the completion of the Nurses' Home, which cost that amount more than was expected.

A Private Bridge.

George P. Dupee, of Rockview avenue, is building a new bridge over Stony brook on his premises. It is about twelve feet wide and sixty feet long, of heavy oak and chestnut timber, capable of supporting a loaded team carrying ten tons weight. He will have it completed this week.

VERDICT FOR BURNETT.

The Case Bitterly Fought and Jury Gave $3,500 to Plaintiff.

In the case of Burnett against the Lehigh Valley R. R. Co., the verdict was not reached until after this paper went to press. As previously stated, Mr. Bergen's motion that the Chief Justice should direct the jury to find a verdict in favor of the defendants was denied. Mr. McCarter of Newark, then addressed the jury for the railroad company and Craig A. Marsh delivered the speech for Mrs. Burnett. Both speeches were very forceful, and occupied about one hour each. The charge of the court took about twenty minutes. The jury was out about two hours and came in with a verdict in favor of Mrs. Burnett for $3,500.

The case was tried on both sides with great skill and each side took every possible exception to pave the way for future proceedings. Whether the railroad company will try to get a new trial or carry the case to the court of last resort is not yet known.

A Southern Cause.

Thursday evening there will be held in the Crescent Avenue Church a meeting in the interest of the Normal Institute at Tuskegee, Ala. There will be addresses, and singing by a quintette from the school. This is the school in which Booker T. Washington is interested.

Promoted for Taking a Bath.

In the Crimea, during the winter, Gen. Canrobert was in the habit of going about among the men of his command, incognito, to see what they were about, and to learn their wants and encourage the soldiers if they needed encouragement. One morning, on one of these tours, he came upon a young conscript who had stripped himself to the waist and was bathing his body with handfuls of snow.

"That's an odd sort of soap you're using," exclaimed the General.

"Oh, it's good enough," said the soldier. "You see I'm young, and more than that, I'm a Lorrainer from Nancy, and a fellow-provincial of Gen. Drouot, who shaved himself with snow on the march from Moscow, you know, with the mercury thirty degrees below freezing The old fellows in my company, you see, bother me, and make fun of me because I haven't any beard, and since I can't shave out of doors, like Drouot, I have to do this to show those old fellows that I'm no more afraid of the cold than I am of the enemy."

"Well," said Canrobert, "what if I should give you another way of getting even wit. those old fellows?"

"Why, I shouldn't mind," answered the young soldier.

"I'll make you a Corporal," said the General.

The soldier laughed. "I guess that won't go," said he, "my Colonel wouldn't have it."

"I'm higher up than your Colonel. I am Gen. Canrobert."

The young soldier was in transports, especially as the same day he was made a Corporal in the presence of the regiment.—Youth's Companion.

A Shrinking Bride.

Washington is the Mecca for brides and grooms. One of the last couples who spent the first days of their honeymoon in the Capital City left yesterday. The bride was very large and the groom was correspondingly small. At the first meal the groom confided in the elevator boy, and told him that as his wife was of a very shrinking disposition, he would please have the clerk send meals to the room. This was done. The groom approached the clerk during the afternoon, and told him that his wife was of a very shrinking nature and did not like to go out the public way, and asked him if there was not a private exit through which they could go to take a carriage drive around the city. The bell was rung quite frequently during their stay, and the bride with the shrinking nature became a subject of great curiosity to the help. When they left the porter caught sight of her and stood in open-mouthed astonishment. The clerk asked him what he meant by staring at a guest.

"Couldn't help it nohow, boss. I jess hed ter look at that shrinkin' pusson. I'd jess like ter know how long she's been shrinkin', an' what she 'peared like befo' she shrunk."—Washington Star.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

IMPORTANT ACTION OF THE COMMON COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

Resolution Passed to Borrow Enough Money to Pay Y. M. C. A. Damages So the Watchung Improvement Can be Pushed

Very singularly, the City Council held an adjourned and a special meeting last evening, and at first it looked as though all of the members would not be present. However, Mr. Steb bins was the only member absent.

The adjourned meeting was held first and the regular order of business was taken up. A cartman and a peddler asked for licenses and both were granted. The Plainfield Medical Association, in a communication, asked the Council to take some steps toward prohibiting people from carrying small children on bicycles. The matter was referred to the committee on laws and ordinances.

Mayor Fisk appointed as special policemen John Kelly and James Babbitt, and they were confirmed by the Council. The Mayor returned the ordinance repealing the salary of the street commissioner, without his approval. His reason for so doing was that he thought it was too late in the day to make any change in the matter. The Council concurred with the Mayor and the ordinance was killed.

Another communication was received from the Mayor regarding the change in the laws which affect second class cities. The communication was not read and Mr. Barrows moved that the same be received and that copies be sent to each councilman.

Regarding the bill of Michael Powers for $175 for material and work in laying sidewalks on West Front street, the Corporation Counsel stated that he thought the charge was too much. He suggested that the Council pay the bill, provided Mr. Powers would deduct $50. The matter was referred to the street committee. This concluded the business for the first part of the adjourned meeting, and according to the rules the special committee was called at 8:30. The clerk read the call for the meeting which was for the purpose of acting on the tax ordinance for 1897. On a motion offered by Mr. Baker the ordinance was adopted on the third reading. Messrs. Runyon and Westphal voted in the negative. The Council then returned to the regular order of business.

Regarding the request from W. M. Stillman asking the Council to readjust the ordinance relating to shows, etc., also the fees which are charged for shows at Music Hall, the ordinance was referred to the committee on laws and ordinances for that purpose.

Mr. Baker offered a resolution which provided for the borrowing of $4,875.75 from the general fund temporarily for the purpose of paying the Y. M. C. A. assessment for damages in connection with the opening of Watchung avenue. This action was necessary so that the city can secure the property for the opening of the avenue. This amount of money will come back to the city when the assessments for benefits are made. This property is the only one on the proposed line of extension which is assessed damages in excess of benefits.

Mr. Bunyon voted in the negative. Mr. Westphal did not seem to satisfied with such action but he voted for the resolution.

Mr. Barrows offered a resolution to the effect that Union County Board of Freeholders be given notice that the city intends to open Watchung avenue and they take the necessary steps to erect a suitable bridge across the brook to join the city and borough.

The sidewalk ordinance was called up and amended so as to give the police authority to serve notices on property owners. The ordinance was then adopted and ordered engrossed and advertised.

Mr. Barrows presented an agreement to the effect that the city and street railway tracks are laid, macadamized, repaired and paved, and that the city do the work and the company pay their share for the same.

Mr. Barrows made a few remarks concerning the agreement. He stated that the streets had been in bad condition where the tracks of the street railway are laid and the work of keeping them in good repair had been unsatisfactory. He had presented the agreement to Mr. Riker of the company and the latter said that he would present it at the next meeting of the Board of Directors. Mr. Riker had said that he was in favor of the scheme and he thought that there would be no trouble in consummating the contract.

On Mr. Barrows' motion the agreement was accepted by the council and adopted. When the directors of the street railway meet the paper will be presented to them for their approval.

This finished the business of the evening and the council adjourned. The regular meeting of the council will be held next Monday evening.

In accordance with the action taken by the Council in reference to the opening of Watchung avenue, the work will be started at an early date. As soon as the Y. M. C. A. property is secured the city can commence the work.

A PLACE FOR THE BOYS.

CLUB LIFE THAT EMBODIES GOOD PRACTICAL IDEAS.

Their Home Thrown Open for an Entertainment and Reception Last Night—Very Pleasing Programme Rendered.

The new home of the Plainfield Boys' Club was the scene last evening of much genuine enjoyment on the part of the members and their friends who had gathered to listen to the interesting entertainment provided for their amusement. The programme consisted of piano selections by Mrs. C. De Medina, recitations by Mrs. L. W. Serrell, Jr., and songs by Mr. Evart Jansen Wendall, of New York. The ladies are well known in this city as accomplished performers, and Mr. Wendall also has been heard here, having been the guest of the Club once before, when his characteristic and imitable manner of rendering popular melodies rendered him a general favorite. The committee in charge of the affair were Clarke A. Peterson, Joseph Galbraith and John Butscher.

The club house showed again, as on the evening of the first public reception there a few months since, its admirable facilities for the purpose which the association aims to accomplish. The boys of Plainfield are wonderfully fortunate to have such opportunities for industrial training, gymnastic exercise, and mental culture provided for them. The building located on Sycamore street, between Fourth and Fifth, is the one formerly owned by the Bicycle Club and fitted up by them with a variety of gymnastic appliances and other conveniences. It was recently purchased by some generous friends and presented to the Boys' Club. Built of iron and wood it presents an attractive exterior, as is shown in the accompanying cut. The pleasent impression continues as the visitor passes through the main entrance into the large reception room, and finds himself face to face with the greatest of comforts, a fine open fire-place. In the conspicious position above there is a large and tastefully draped American flag, which would seem to indicate that the Club stands for love of country first and foremost. In this connection The Press is pleased to learn that the favorite song of the boys and the one most often sung is "America."

At the rear of the reception room is the large assembly room with galleries on three sides and on the fourth a huge stone chimney piece with artistic decorations. This hall is divided by low fence-like partitions into apartments for the various branches of manual training taught by the accomplished instructor, Olaf Saugstad, a man who has made the mechanical arts a life study. The centre of the building is devoted to a gymnasium where there is a fine outfit of apparatus said to be excelled in completeness by that of few clubs in existence. Adjoining this room are lockers, shower-baths, etc. The portion of floor space under the left gallery is occupied by materials and implements for moulding. In the gallery itself are work-benches at which the use of the carpenter's tools and wood carving are taught, and in the opposite gallery the class in mechanical drawing holds its sessions and keeps its materials. Over the reception room is a large reading room where are to be found books and periodicals likely to be amusing and helpful to boys.

The clubhouse is open every evening except Sunday, four nights being devoted to instruction and the remaining two to gymnastic practice. The boys are looking forward to organizing a debating society soon for the solution of such knotty problems as occur. The club membership is open to all boys, and an increased enrollment is expected in the near future. It is to be desired that as many as possible should avail themselves of the great advantages offered.

A Mean Trick.

A mean trick was perpetrated a few nights ago on Rockview avenue by removing a large plank from the carriage way and placing it against the front door of a residence. It was evidently intended that when the door was opened the plank would fall on somebody's head and inflict personal injury, but fortunately it was placed on the stationary half of the door, so that when the door was opened the plank was found resting against the other half of the door and no one was injured by it.

A Horse Thirty Years Old.

One of the oldest horses in the city, the property of Dr. Rushmore, of Park avenue, was found dead in its stall one morning last week. The horse was over thirty years old and had outlived its usefulness, but the Doctor remembered the good services of the animal in the past and kept and fed the horse until it died.

COULDN'T PROVE MURDER

PROSECUTOR DUNGAN ADMITS HE HAS A WEAK CASE AGAINST DALUCCA.

So the Italian Has Changed His Plea From Not Guilty to Non Vult and Will Probably Get a Light Sentence.

Francisco DaLucca, the Italian who was indicted for the murder of a fellow workman in a shanty at Bernardsville last fall, and who pleaded not guilty to the charge when first arraigned, as told in The Press, has retracted and entered a plea of non vult. Prosecutor Dungan has accepted the plea, because he had become convinced that it would be impossible to convict the man of murder in the first degree. Investigation has shown that there was a general fight in the shanty on the night of the homicide. The combatants had become quieted for a time, and DaLucca went out. When he returned shortly after they were at it fiercer than ever, with drawn knives. He endeavored to stop them, and picked up a stick of wood, which he threw into the crowd. It struck a man on the back of the head, causing the wound which ended in his death.

It happened that the injured man was DaLucca's bosom friend, with whom he had come over to this country, and had worked with to that time. His remorse over his deed seems to be genuine.

The trial of Joseph Chalbi for the murder of his wife at Bound Brook in February began before Chief Justice Magie yesterday. No new facts were developed, but from the questions of counsel for the defence it is evident that self-defence or suicide will be the defence. The case will occupy several days.

WORK AT THE HOSPITAL.

Report of the Medical Director to the Board of Governors.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital was held at the Public Library, last evening. There were several lengthy discussions, but the only important action taken was regarding the anniversary and graduating exercises of the Training School. It was decided to hold them on Thursday evening, May 27th.

The monthly report of the medical director, Dr. W. H. Murray, was read. The substance was as follows: Remaining at date of last report, 15; total number of patients admitted, 17; discharged, cured, 16; discharged improved, 5; died, 1; total number treated, 32; remaining at present date, 10; dispensary patients, 30; visits, 60.

ASSAULTED AND BEATEN

EX-POLICEMAN NICHOLAS KELLY ROUGHLY HANDLED FOR A GRUDGE.

Kelly's Assailant Followed Him From a Saloon and Attacked Him in the Yard—Said to Have Been John Neuman.

Bleeding from the nose and mouth, and a long gash in the back of the head, Nicholas Kelly, of West Third street, was carried to his home, last evening, the victim of an assault by a resident of the same street. The cause of the quarrel is not exactly known but it is supposed to be a quarrel of long standing. The assailant is alleged to be John Neuman, a well known character of the West End.

The trouble occurred in the yard in the rear of Willis's saloon on West Third street, near Plainfield avenue, last evening, but the exact circumstances of the assault are not known as the few witnesses of the start are very reticent about telling what they saw. Kelly is well known in Plainfield where he was formerly employed as a policeman and was a candidate for reappointment at the last selection of officers. He has figured in several cases in the police court. He left Willis' saloon by the side door at ten o'clock and walked out into the yard. It is alleged that Neuman followed him out of the door. There were a few words and then blows were struck. Witnesses of the affray state that Neuman struck the first blow.

Kelly was knocked to the ground at the start and attempted to rise when he was beaten and kicked by his assailant until he became insensible. His assailant finally left him apparently lifeless covered with his own blood. Quite a number had been attracted by the sounds of the conflict but it was over so quickly that no one had time to interfere and the assailant left the place without hindrance. Kelly was carried into the saloon and his wounds bathed and dressed. One eye had been almost closed by a blow while he had been cruelly beaten about the face, causing him to bleed freely from nose and mouth. There was also a gash four inches long on the back of his head.

Patrolman Saunders was summoned but arrived on the scene after the trouble was over. Kelly was conveyed to his home.

Left the Woman Driver Behind.

A horse being driven along Sixth street by Mrs. Mellick, of South Plainfield, yesterday afternoon, caused considerable excitement at the corner of Madison avenue and Sixth street, when the animal jumped over the shafts. After much kicking the horse finally broke away from the wagon and left the woman behind. The runaway animal was caught in the rear of the Congregational church by the sexton. There was no damage to the woman or wagon.

Strange Actions of a Woman.

Last evening between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock a strange woman was seen wandering about Front street near the centre of town. From appearances it looked as though a son or husband was in a saloon and she was waiting for the saloons to close. Her strange actions made the police rather suspicious and she was closely watched for some time. About 11 o'clock she disappeared and evidently did not accomplish her mission.

An Unfortunate Start.

While Thomas Doud, of Duer street, was walking to the North avenue station this morning to take a train for New York, he lost a very valuable diamond stud. He did not notice the missing stone until he reached the station, and it was then too late to return and search for it.

Well Represented.

The Cracker Barrel Club, of the borough, was represented in New York to day by H. N. Spencer and Thomas Doud.

Mrs. Martin, of Somerville, is the guest of Plainfield relatives.

WITH THE FAST STEPPERS

MENTION THAT WILL BE INTERESTING TO HORSEMEN.

The Steeds are Being Trained For Fast Time and Durance in Trials of Speed to be Arranged During the Summer.

The first contests of speed on the Gentlemen's Driving Park were inaugurated this afternoon. The following will be interesting reading to admirers of horse flesh.

Mr. Brock's fast pacer is looking very fine this spring and seems to have all his speed. This horse was only started once or twice last season, but on one occassion went to the half on the outside of two or three horses in 1:09, proving that he has as much if not more, speed than any horse in this locality.

A. C. Vail ought to have no trouble in disposing of the pacing brigade, having such pacers in his stable as Budd Onward, 2:21¼ and Ave H., 2.2[illegible]. Mr. Vail also has a very fine mare by Nelson that he is driving on the road, and although he has never started her, he may give another surprise the same as he did with Budd Onward last season to a road wagon.

Mr. Gwinett, who recently moved from Fanwood to Plainfield, has a small but select stable horse. He still has his sorrel mare that he gave a mark of 2:28¼ last fall at Bethlehem, Pa., also a gray mare with no mark that is counted to be very fast, and a black stallion by Stable Wilkes that is one of the right kind.

Mr. Robins, of Metuchen, is quite busy since being appointed Postmaster but, he says, he can just find time to beat any man's team a race for a hundred with his pair of Lamberts. Mr. Van Sickle, of the same town, also reports that his well-known bay gelding is in the best of shape, and a little later on he will probably let him step some.

New Market will be well represented at the races. Pete Osborne says he has got a four-year-old by Jay Bird that is the best thing he has had in years, and that makes him a pretty good article as Pete has had some of the best.

Philip Jenner will probably start his bay filly that he purchased at one of the Kelloggs' sales last winter. She is a very fine youngster and was bred by Knap McCarthy of Frank Agan, 2:04 fame. Knap never bred them for his health, but to race, and this one, unless all signs fail, will not be an exception to the rule as she acts very much like a trotter.

A PIANO FOR A BIRTHDAY GIFT.

Little Miss Kenney Had a Charming Time With Her Young Friends.

The birthday party given by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kenney, of East Second street, to their daughter, Miss Margaret Kenney, yesterday afternoon, was a most complete and enjoyable affair. The Daily Press in giving an account of the party yesterday stated that the hostess received as a gift a piano from her godmother, Mrs. John Rafferty. The piano was a gift from Miss Kenney's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, of East Second street.

About 6 o'clock the young guests formed in line and marched to the dining room where a pleasing supper was served. Margaret DeCourcy presided at the piano and played a selection while the guests were gathering about the table. Soon after 7 o'clock Miss Kenney's friends departed for home wishing their hostess many happy returns of the day. Those who were present to enjoy the festivities were Mattie Kline, Lulu Kline, Nellie Callahan, Grace Linbarger, Margaret DeCourcy, Alice Sharkey, Lizzie Williams, Nellie Rafferty, Maggie Rafferty, Anna Rafferty, Grace Rafferty, Nora Monihan, Mamie Carney, Addie Carney, May Neeley, Bertha Neeley, Marie Kenney, Mabel Hamilton, Lucy Traynor, Elsie Knowlton, Agnes Bailey, Nellie Gary, Tina Voehl, Stella Maag, Helen Lynch, Anna Casey, Zetta Hartfelder, Louis Fisher, John Callahan, Leo DeCourcy, Walter Sharkey, Willie Rafferty, Willie Monihan, Louis Monihan, John Carney, John J. Kenney, Jr., Andrew Carney, Leo Kenney, Lester Hamilton, John Traynor, Frank McInearny, Thomas Hines, Walter Knowlton, John Gary, Howard Maag, John Casey.

A feature of the event was a beautiful birthday cake which occupied a prominent place on the table. It was surrounded with ten candles, brilliantly lighted.

Visited a Hen Roost.

Some miscreant visited the hen roost of Frank Hedden on East Fourth street, Sunday night, and removed one of his valuable Plymouth Rock roosters and three hens without permission. Hedden is looking for the offender.

MEMORY OF GEN. GRANT.

PLAINFIELD LARGELY REPRESENTED AT THE CELEBRATION TODAY.

The Paraders Started at an Early Hour and the Sight-Seers Crowded All the Morning Trains—Some Local Decorations.

New York is in gala attire today and the streets are packed with a good-natured crowd of sight-seers who came to see the land and water parades given in honor of the dedication of the Grant monument on Grant's birthday. It is a legal holiday in New York State but not in New Jersey. Many of Plainfield's citizens are employed in New York, and so the effect of the day was considerably felt in Plainfield. The thought of the great crowd deterred many from going, but there was a regular exodus in the direction of New York this morning and all the early trains from this city were crowded with parties going to see the celebration.

There was unusual activity on the Jersey Central Railroad, yesterday and today. Special trains were run westward yesterday afternoon and returned last evening at a late hour or early this morning loaded with participants for the big land parade. Three train loads of Pennsylvania militia, in full uniform, passed through here this morning, bound for New York. The first of the Plainfielders to start, this morning, were the cadet companies of the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools. There were about sixty of the cadets under the command of Captain George F. Edwards. They took the 6:29 train to Elizabeth where they joined the Seventh Regiment, National Guard of this State, in the special train of the latter. The cadets remained with the regiment on their trip up the river in a barge to the starting point.

The Plainfield Cornet Band and the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, both of which were to take part in the parade, left at an early hour for New York. The Drum Corps wore their new uniforms.

As early as 7 o'clock the sightseers began to start for New York. The regular commuters, with few exceptions, did not appear at the trains, but their places were more than filled by the excursionists, old and young, all bound for the same place and with the same determination, to get to New York and see the parade. Many had been thoughtful enough to secure seats in advance, while others were to be the guests of friends along the line of march. Some had only just determined to go and went with the intention of standing up in the crowd all the afternoon.

There was the regular number of cars on the 7:58 train and every seat was filled. The crowd continued to fill all the east bound trains until almost noon.

Meanwhile, Plainfield itself, in great contrast to New York, is very quiet. Flags are hung out here and there from stores and residences but there are comparatively few people on the streets, this afternoon, and the high wind from the northwest has kept all but the bravest of the bicyclists at home.

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATE.

Speeches and a Banquet Occupy the Evening at Queen City Lodge.

The members of Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., at their meeting last evening, celebrated the 78th anniversary of the founding of the order in a most auspicious manner. District Deputy Stamitz, of Westfield, and his staff, were present and installed G. E. Firstbrook as warden, and J. B. Patterson as left sentinel to the Vice Grand. Mr. Stamitz was then called upon for a speech and he gave one of the best talks ever listened to. His remarks started with the institution of Odd Fellowship and continued through to the present time. He told how the order had grown both in numbers and influence, and every one present was made to feel proud that they belong to such a grand organization.

At the conclusion of the above speech an adjournment was made to the banquet hall where a feast of good things were provided for all. The supper was arranged entirely by William Ford, and to him is due great credit for the excellent repast furnished. After the inner man had been well supplied there was a flow of eloquence such as the members have seldom heard. Speeches were made by several visitors as well as by the home members. It was late when the happy event terminated but all agreed that they had never enjoyed themselves better.

—The weather vane on the Franklin School building is practically out of use. The flag which usually floats from the flag-staff is entangled in the vane, and for this reason the latter refuses to work.

CRITICAL FOR GREEKS

The Turks Appear to Be Steadily Gaining In Thessaly.

HELLENES ARE WINNING IN EPIRUS.

General Smolenski to Supercede Prince Constantine In Command of the Army. Cabinet Crisis Imminent at Athens. Osman Pasha Goes to Front.

Athens, April 27.—The Proia, in a special edition, announces that General Smolenski has been appointed chief of staff of the army in Thessaly, with power to choose the members of his staff. General Smolenski is 45 years of age and very popular with the troops.

The dispositions of Greek soldiery for the defense of Pharsalos have been carefully studied by the general staff and the minister of war, and orders have been given for the occupation of the heights at Velegetino and Philasletepi by independent brigades.

The Asty publishes the following official note:

"After the recent events which have materially excited public opinion, M. Delyannis had a long interview with King George, who again assured the premier that he was prepared to approve any decision the government might reach with a view to the improvement of the situation. After the audience with the king a cabinet council was held. It is expected that energetic decisions will be arrived at, but all reports as to the recalling of staff officers are premature."

The Retreat From Larissa.

A correspondent has just received from a colleague who is with the Turkish army near Tyrnavo the substance of an interview which the latter had with Edhem Pasha in confirmation of the panicky retreat of the Greeks. Edhem Pasha laughingly said:

"I am really grateful to the Greek commander for giving me these agreeable quarters. The Greek retreat was a general rout. They left everything behind, including immense quantities of artillery and munitions of war, which we will be able to make use of. If they had not heard the Albanians singing on their night march, we would have been upon them in an hour."

The panic appears to have spread to the very center of the Greek camp. When daylight appeared, not a Greek was visible. The Greek position on Mount Shabana, commanding the mouth of the pass, alone was defended, but the resistance there was feeble, as the occupants already knew that the army had fled. About 100 prisoners were taken by the Turks.

A dispatch from Tyrnavo says it is rumored there that the Crown Prince Constantine has fled to Volo.

It is stated that Admiral Kamaris will be appointed to the chief command of the eastern squadron.

It is reported here that Trikkala has been evacuated, and that the Turks are constructing temporary forts at Larissa.

The latest dispatches here show that the Greeks have occupied all the positions around Pentepigadia. Colonel Manos has asked for re-enforcements in order to insure his advance to Janina. Colonel Dairaktaris has therefore started with 2,000 men to assist him. The report that Colonel Manos has been ordered to retire is unfounded.

Turks Advancing on Volo.

London, April 27.—The Athens correspondent of The Times confirms the appointment of General Smolenski as chief of staff of the Greek army in Thessaly and adds:

"Colonels Staikos and Limbritis and Major Constantinides have been recalled from Crete to serve on the staff of the crown prince. The ministerial Palingenesia announces that all the officers of Constantine's staff have been recalled.

"A telegram received here states that the Turks are within an hour's march of Volo. The Greek troops have been withdrawn from the town and are taking the wounded from the hospitals. Among the arrivals from Volo are ex-Minister Ralli, leader of the largest Opposition group in the boule. He has been at the scene of war and was at Larissa last Friday evening. He has published his views in the Athens newspapers and has already succeeded in concentrating upon himself the attention of the public. Some believe he is preparing to play the role of a Greek Gambetta.

"In an interview with me M. Ralli unsparingly denounced Constantine's staff, which he holds responsible for all that has happened. He denies that there was any real battle at Mati, says the Greek troops were never defeated at that point and attributes the sudden decision to abandon Tyrnavo and Larissa to the cowardice and incapacity of the general staff."

Turks Deny Act of Pillage.

Constantinople, April 27.—It is officially declared here that the Greeks, before evacuating Larissa, released all persons confined in the local jails and that it was the latter who destroyed and pillaged the houses. According to the same statement the Turkish troops were received with enthusiasm by such inhabitants as remained in the town.

Rumors of Intervention.

London, April 27.—The foreign office throughout the afternoon has maintained a constant interchange of dispatches with the diplomats of the powers. It is rumored that the communications related to the question of the intervention of the powers between Turkey and Greece.

Osman Pasha Goes to Elassona.

Salonika, April 27.—Osman Pasha has left for Elassona to take command of the Turkish army.

Student Attempts Suicide.

Lowville, N. Y., April 27.—Roy Paddock, aged 17, of Oxford, Conn., a student at Lowville academy, upon being reprimanded by the principal for using intoxicants, shot himself in the abdomen with a 32 caliber revolver. At the present time the wound is not considered dangerous.

Roumania Won't Have Jews.

Washington, April 27.—The state department has been informed that the government of Roumania has prohibited the entry of Jews into that country.

shake it off

The general belief among doctors is that consumption itself is very rarely inherited. But the belief is becoming stronger that the tendency to consumption is very generally transmitted from parent to child. If there has been consumption in the family, each member should take special care to prepare the system against it. Live out doors; keep the body well nourished; and treat the first indication of failing health.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is a fat-producing food and nerve-tonic. Its use is followed by improved nutrition, richer blood, stronger nerves and a more healthy action of all the organs. It strengthens the power of the body to resist disease. If you have inherited a tendency to weak lungs, shake it off.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

JUST AS GOOD IS NOT SCOTT'S EMULSION.

Promptly Rendered.

Despite his stern manner the Duke of Wellington had a kindly nature. In a public ball-room he came across an old soldier friend long lost sight of. To the kindly query whether he, the Duke of Wellington, could be of any service to his friend, who was on half-pay and unprovided with the money so necessary to purchase advancement, "Yes, your grace, you can do me a very great service," was the prompt reply. "If you will give me your arm across the room, and appear to take some interest in me, you will make my fortune." The service was forthwith rendered, and explanation sought. The fact was that the officer in question was paying his addresses to a rich widow of the place who still hesitated to accept him. But she was at the ball, and she saw with her own eyes how greatly her pretendant was appreciated. This settled the question; the officer was accepted, married, bought his way back to full pay, rose steadily, till he reached the highest honors.

Just a Little of the Gravy.

An ex-Confederate soldier of South Carolina tells this story: "I had a friend who was a chaplain in our army, a good man, as such men should be. Several of his own church members were in the same regiment. He kept a sharp eye on us in the way we should go. When we were rather short for rations, some of the boys brought in a fine, young porker. 'Now, boys, that's wrong,' said he; 'it is simply stealing, and you ought not to do it.'

"'Well, our consciences don't trouble us, and yours won't trouble you when we get this meat cooked; you will want some of it, too.'

"'No, I won't eat it. I'd as soon eat stolen meat.'

"But we divided it up among the boys, and proceeded to cook a ham in the best possible style. The smell of it fairly made our teeth water, and when it was cooked we were more than ready for it.

"'There's a fine piece; cut that off for the chaplain,' said one.

"'No, I thank you,' said he. 'I said I wouldn't eat it, and I won't—but,' passing up his plate—'I'll take a little of the gravy.'"—Detroit Journal.

A Slur On His Phiz.

"Oi do not mind the threats av 'im," Mr. Hogan explained, "as much as th' insultin' style av his remarks."

"And fhwat did he say?" asked Mr. Grogan.

"He says to me, 'Hogan,' says he, 'tis a great notion I have to jump on you and knock your face into shape.'"—Indianapolis Journal.

China's national hymn is so long that people take half a day to listen to it.

NEWS FROM THE FLOOD.

The Southern Situation Still a Serious One and May Grow Worse.

Kansas City, April 27.—The heavy rains of the past three days have had a decided effect on the rivers in this vicinity, having raised the Kaw, a feeder of the Missouri, between three and four feet.

The Missouri in this city has risen 1.4 feet in 24 hours and two feet in 48 hours. Observer Connor believes the Missouri will continue to rise slightly for another 24 hours, then gradually go down.

Alarming Condition at Hannibal.

Hannibal, Mo., April 27.—The flood conditions are becoming alarming. The government gauge registered 18 feet and 11 inches, nearly two feet above the danger line. The damage has been considerable and is being increased every hour. It is feared that the rise will continue here until the 22 foot stage is reached.

Government Forces at Work.

St. Louis, April 27.—The Mississippi now registers 18 feet above low water mark at Quincy. The government has a force of men working on the levees between there and Warsaw, Ills., strengthening the weak places.

Uneasy at Fort Smith.

Greenville, Miss., April 27.—Considerable uneasiness is manifested over the sudden rise of 11 feet, reported in the Arkansas river at Fort Smith.

LIQUOR SOLD TO NATIVES.

Evil Effects of the Traffic on the Indians of the Northwest.

Ottawa, April 27.—Inspector Constantine of the Northwestern mounted police at Fort Cudahy, in the Yukon district, reports to Ottawa as follows:

"The territory about the mouth of Mackenzie river and Horschell islands demands the attention of the government. Twelve whalers, steamer and sailing, wintered there last season. The crews numbered from 1,000 to 1,200. These vessels do not leave winter quarters till about the middle or end of July.

"Each year a vessel is loaded and dispatched from San Francisco with supplies for this fleet, of which cargo liquor forms a large share. This liquor is sold or traded to the natives for furs, walrus ivory and young girls, who are used by the officers of the ships for their own purposes. The natives have also learned to make liquor from dried fruit, sugar or molasses.

"They are very violent and dangerous when in liquor. Last winter it is reported that one tied his daughter by the heels and whipped her to death. Mr. Whittaker, a missionary, and the ship's captain tied up the man and whipped him. The result was that the natives threatened to make the missionary leave the island, if not worse.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Four German seamen were brought to New York in irons, two of whom are charged with scuttling a ship and murder.

The case against Lieutenant Eloff, the grandson of President Kruger of the Transvaal republic, who was charged with slandering the queen of England, has been dismissed.

The United States grand jury at New Orleans has indicted a number of officers of the Southern Pacific railroad for violation of the interstate commerce act in giving rebates to certain firms.

Twenty-five thousand insurgents who have not submitted to the Spaniards have taken up a position in the mountains at Manilla, capital of the Philippine islands, and are offering a stout resistance to the troops.

The Niagara Power Scheme.

Toronto, Ont., April 27.—The Niagara Falls commission has notified the Niagara Falls Electric Power company that it must commence operations on a Canadian plant not later than May 1, the time called for by its franchise. The company applied to the government for an extension of time allowed by their charter, but the application was strongly opposed by the people of Niagara district.

Bank Suspends Business.

North Tonawanda, N. Y., April 27.—The Lumber Exchange bank has suspended business. Its deposit funds are being transferred to the State bank. The institution is perfectly sound, but it has not been making any money and has decided to liquidate. The State bank will handle its business with depositors.

The Pimples

That Bloom in

The Spring

At no other season are Pimples and Humors so abundant or so annoying as in the Spring.

An unseasonably warm day, before change of winter clothing, heats the blood, and these Pimples and Humors itch and burn, and their annoyance, the suffering they cause, is known only to those afflicted.

At no time is a blood purifying medicine more effective than just before and during this season.

If your blood is not right (and whose is?) you are liable to be one of these sufferers this Spring.

A course of Hood's Sarsaparilla begun now and faithfully pursued will save you suffering and give you rugged health, so that you can thoroughly enjoy all the pleasures of the coming summer.

Pimples on the Face.

"I have been troubled for three years with pimples on my face and body. I tried several remedies with only temporary relief. I am now taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it is doing me a wonderful amount of good. My general health is greatly improved, and I feel very thankful for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has already done for me." MISS JANE JABROSKY, Burnham, Illinois.

A Clear Complexion.

"I have had a bad complexion owing to impure blood. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and my skin is now clear. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me much good by purifying my blood." ANNIE D. MCCOY, Watsonton, Pennsylvania.

Boils, Blotches, Sores, Pimples.

"I have been afflicted for many years with impure blood, which manifested itself in erysipelas, boils, blotches, sores and pimples. I have used many medicines and found Hood's Sarsaparilla to be the best. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who are affected with impure blood." ISAAC P. MARTIN, Walnut Hill, Ill.

Annoyed by Eruptions.

"I had eruptions caused by impure blood and at times they were very annoying. I was treated by physicians without benefit, and last winter I took a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it helped me. I kept on until I had taken five bottles, and I am no longer annoyed with eruptions." W. R. HUDSON, Natrona, Pa.

BUY CLOTH

44 in. wide, per yard $2.00
27 in. wide, per yard $1.25

measuring 44 inches wide at $2.00 a yd. or 27 inches wide at $1.25 per yard — which is the cheaper?

The first quotation appeals to the real economist, but the unwise will be caught by the price per yard—just the same as paint buyers will be caught by the price per can.

The spreading capacity of paint, the finish and the durability must be considered to ascertain its cheapness. In the true sense, Harrisons' Town and Country Ready-Mixed Paints are the cheapest on the market and should demand the consideration of any who contemplate the use of paint and wish to attain good results. The big "H" on every can vouches for the quality. Look for the Harrison Sign, it is usually on the front of the building of every dealer in Harrison Paint.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Shareholders of the Once Famous Hansard Union Get a Dividend.

London, April 27.—At a meeting of the shareholders of the Hansard union Horatio Bottomley, who had convened the meeting in fulfillment of his promise made several years ago at the time of the collapse of the union to "give the shareholders a surprise some day," announced that it had been decided, in order to vindicate his own honor and integrity and the honor and integrity of his colleagues in promoting the enterprises grouped together as the Hansard Printing and Publishing union, to present the Hansard sufferers with £250,000. This announcement was received with great enthusiasm.

The Hansard union was a combination of many of the principal printing and publishing firms in London. It collapsed in 1891, and the shareholders, most of whom were people in moderate circumstances, lost about £1,000,000.

Mr. Bottomley was the managing director of the union, and ex-Lord Mayor Isaacs was a prominent director. Both were tried criminally on the charge of conspiracy to defraud but were acquitted. Mr. Bottomley, against whom was pitted some of the finest legal talent in England, insisted on conducting his own defense and did this, as the presiding Judge remarked at the close of the trial, with remarkable ability and an unusual knowledge of corporation law.

Public interest in the result of the trial was very keen, and the defects in the statutes regulating the conduct of public companies, behind which Mr. Bottomley sheltered himself, proved to be so many and so glaring that the presiding judge, on receiving the verdict of acquittal, recommended from the bench that parliament should alter the law with respect to the obligations of directors so that there might not be a second failure of justice. The trial lasted one year, from April, 1892, to April, 1893.

Mr. Bottomley disappeared from public notice and very little has been heard of him since. The issuance of the call for the meeting occasioned almost as much surprise as the original collapse of the Hansard union.

QUEER EFFECT OF X RAYS.

A Long Exposure of a Fractured Limb Produces Strange Effects.

Toronto, April 27.—Stephen Smith of this city some time ago fractured his leg, and when it mended discovered that the leg was shorter than its mate. He entered action against his doctor and resolved to submit as evidence of unskillful treatment a photograph of the fracture. Four experiments with the X rays proved unsuccessful, and at the fifth he exposed his leg to the rays for about two hours. He felt no immediate effects from the long exposure, but shortly afterward a large blister formed, and when it died away left a dark brown spot about six inches square and of a peculiar gangrenous black. Some doctors state that the skin, flesh, nerves and ligaments have been completely destroyed in the spot where the X rays pierced, while other medical experts are not yet satisfied on this point, and are following the symptoms with anxious solicitude.

SPORTING MEN RELEASED.

Principals and Others In the Fatal Boxing Contest Go Free.

Media, Pa., April 27.—Justice of the Peace Sloan discharged from custody Leslie Pearce and all the other defendants arrested as a result of the boxing bout at the Olympic club at Athens last Tuesday night, when Billy Vernon, or Vollmer, of Haverstraw, N. Y., was knocked out in the fourteenth round and died two days later. The hearing took place in the courthouse in the presence of a large crowd. Pearce was the first of the defendants arraigned. A number of witnesses were examined, but Justice Sloan decided that the evidence was insufficient to show that Vernon's death was caused by a blow given by his opponent in the ring of the Olympic club. The case against Pearce failing, all the other defendants were accordingly discharged. They were the club directors and referee.

Died on His Son's Grave.

Trenton, April 27.—Isaac N. Housel, a well known merchant of this city, was found dead on his knees by the side of his son's grave. He had apparently died while praying. Mr. Housel had been a sufferer from heart disease for some time. His son has been dead for about one year. Mr. Housel was very much attached to him, and it has been his custom to go to the cemetery every day and place flowers on the grave. He left home on his bicycle for that purpose. He had not complained of feeling ill.

Yale Students Set Free.

New Haven, April 27.—The seven Yale students, members of the junior class crew, who were arrested on Saturday night for the alleged forcible seizure of an express wagon owned by one Thomas Hyland, were in the city court to answer to a charge of breach of the peace. The court immediately dismissed the cases from the docket on the ground of "no jurisdiction," inasmuch as the alleged offense, if committed, was committed in Hamden.

Fatal Blasting Accident.

Buffalo, April 27.—While blasting in the bed of the Erie canal a blast larger than usual sent great pieces of rock sailing high in the air like rockets. One of them, descending, crashed through the roof of the gas house on West Genesee street and struck Foreman Edward Mooney squarely in the head, splitting open his skull for five inches. He cannot live. He is a married man and has a family.

Large Milling System Starts Up.

Providence, April 27.—The mills of the R. B. and R. Knight mills in the Pawtuxet valley, which were shut down for one week, have started up on full time. The mills constitute the largest system in the state and provide employment for thousands of operatives. It is expected that there will be no break in the running of the mills, as there are a large number of orders on hand.

Minnesota's New Bank.

Washington, April 27.—The First National bank of Windom, Minn., has been authorized to begin business; capital, $50,000.

DEMOCRATS OBJECT.

They Will Not Accept Republican Tariff Proposition.

FULL COMMITTEE TO PASS BILL.

Views of a Prominent Democrat on the Proposition by the Republicans to Submit the Tariff Bill Direct to Senate.

Washington, April 27.—The Democratic members of the finance committee will not accept the proposition made by their Republican colleagues to allow the tariff bill to be reported direct to the senate without passing through the hands of the full committee and have so notified the Republican members. Senator White, a member of the finance committee, was asked his views regarding the matter and is believed to have voiced the views of all the Democratic members in his reply. He said:

"I would be glad to gratify the personal inclinations of any senator, but, speaking for myself only, I am unable to perceive the propriety of such a course and cannot acquiesce in it. When the bill is reported to the senate the Democratic members ought to be able to immediately lay before their colleagues a comparatively full statement of the infirmities of the proposed measure. This cannot be done unless the subject is properly discussed in committee, and if examined there with care, much labor will be saved when the proposition is submitted to the senate.

"If the Democratic members are of any use on the committee, it must be because they will be able to give this information. Besides, a fair presentation of the views of the minority may lead to immediate changes in improvement of the bill. If we consent to the adoption of the plan outlined by the Republican members, it will be said that we have given away our case and are representing but half hearted opposition.

"Such a scheme would be novel, would require explanation and cannot result favorably to public interests.

Want the Bill Submitted.

"If our Republican brethren have improved the bill so as to make it passably digestible, they can afford to submit it to careful and conservative criticism in the committee room. The country of course understands that the Republican members of the finance committee have had the bill since it passed the house and that the minority have interposed no obstruction and have not been in a position to intelligently examine a single schedule, and this situation will not be altered until the details of the measure are disclosed.

"I do not complain of the delay. The subject is of grave import, and the gentlemen who have been preparing amendments have worked assiduously and are no doubt troubled because of the extraordinary burden imposed upon them by the house. Thus far there has been no real debate on the bill, and while I am most anxious to see this session closed I know that quite a time will be necessarily consumed in legitimate discussion.

The Retroactive Clause.

"I have frequently asked whether the retroactive clause will be eliminated. I can only say that I thoroughly agree with the criticisms made upon this peculiar provision by Senator Vest and do not think that it can be retained, nor do I believe that it was ever intended to pass a bill containing such a restriction. Its insertion by the house was designed to scare importers. I have no reason to suppose that any Democratic member of the finance committee favors the direct report of the measure to the senate. We have had no formal meeting yet."

The Democrats have not yet decided how much time they may want for the consideration of the bill in committee and will not be able to decide until they see the amended bill and also ascertain the position that Senator Jones of Nevada will assume toward the measure. He will hold the balance of power in the committee, and if he throws his influence with the Democrats they can hold the bill in committee for an indefinite length of time. He has told the Republican members of the committee that he still holds views favorable to protection and has given them to understand that he will support the bill if it conforms to his ideas. He has asked in a general way for increased protection on the products of the far west.

If these concessions are made, it is not believed that he would assist in holding the bill in committee for any length of time even if the Democrats should so desire.

Death of a Well Known Oarsman.

Troy, N. Y., April 27.—Frank R. Baltz, a member of the local lodge of Elks and the Laureate Boat club, died at his home in Philadelphia. Deceased was a traveling salesman for the firm of Isaac Reifsnyder, Son & Co., wool dealers of Philadelphia. He was one of the best known oarsmen of this country. He has won many single scull races, and with his partner, Van Vleet, won the national and Canadian championships in 1895 in the double scull and pair oared races.

Strange Death of a Child.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 27.—Frederick Gutman, aged 2 years, met his death in a mysterious manner. The child was found lying on the walk in front of his home breathing with difficulty. He was carried into the house, and everything possible was done to save his life, but all efforts were in vain. An investigation showed that the boy's skull was fractured. It is conjectured that the child had been struck by a bicycle.

Indian Murderers Confess.

Bismarck, N. D., April 27.—Four young Indians, two of them half breeds and two full blooded Sioux, have just confessed to the murder of the Spicer family on Feb. 17 last. The entire family, comprising six persons, was found dead by a neighbor. The Indians are now in the military jail at Fort Yates under a strong guard. Threats of lynching are made by the settlers.

Still's Extradition Asked For.

AN EASY WAY OUT.

A bill in the hands of Governor Griggs, known officially as Senate No. 230, would, if it became a law, permit the Common Council of Plainfield to choose whether the municipal elections should be held in December or April, but it is reported that the Governor will not sign the measure. The easiest way out of all this turmoil about elections would be the passage of a general law providing that all local elections in the State should be held on the same day.—New York Tribune.

AN APPALLING RECORD.

New Jersey doesn't need a war to reduce the surplus population so long as the railroad slaughter keeps on. Last year there were killed on the railroads in this State 323 persons, and in addition to this there were 1,246 injured. Of these 242 were killed and 417 injured while walking on or crossing the track. This is an appalling record, and it is feared that there won't be much improvement until grade crossings have ceased to exist—New York Tribune.

BICYCLE BAGGAGE BILL SIGNED.

Gledhill Bicycle Baggage bill is now a law of the State. The measure, which was Assembly Bill No. 14, was filed with the Secretary of State yesterday afternoon, having received the approval of Governor Griggs.

GAME COMMISSIONERS APPEAL.

Find Judge Fort's Decision in the Newark Dealer's Case Unsatisfactory.

The Fish and Game Commissioners of New Jersey are satisfied that as long as there is a market for game out of season in the State infractions of the game laws will continue, and have therefore decided to appeal from the recent decision of J. Frank Fort, of Newark, that it is legal to bring game from other States and sell it during the closed season.

The old statute prohibited the unlawful possession of game, which was construed to mean game shot out of season in New Jersey, but the more recent law makes mere possession illegal. Under it wardens throughout the State were instructed that all possession of game must cease thirty days after the close of the season.

A Newark dealer was fined $40 and costs for such possession, but on appeal to Judge Fort, in the Court of Common Pleas, the decision was reversed, the Court declaring that dealers had the right to purchase game outside the State and do as they pleased with it.

Prosecutor Eugene Emley, of Passaic county, has been engaged to carry the case to the Supreme Court on certiorari, and it will probably be argued before Judge Dixon at Paterson, within a few days.

GYPSIES' TENTS BLOWN DOWN.

The Wind Last Night Played Havoc in the Camp.

While the wind was quite high in this city, last evening, it was not felt in its full force except out in the fields where the cold blasts had full sweep. Considerable damage was done at the gypsy encampment near Avon Park by the wind. The tents in which the gypsies live, were suddenly blown down by the fierce gusts to the surprise and fear of the occupants, while their large wagons rocked to and fro in the wind. The horses belonging to the gypsies were frightened by the storm and threatened to break away until they were finally placed in the sheds of Ellis Campbell's road house for safe keeping during the storm.

THE CAUSE OF MALM'S DEATH.

An Autopsy Revealed a Skull Fracture Three Inches Long.

Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, assisted by the hospital staff, conducted the autopsy at the hospital yesterday afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of the death of Albert Malm. The examination disclosed the fact that there was a fracture at the base of the skull three inches long.

The body has been placed in charge of Undertaker Casey, and unless some word is received from the relatives of the dead man the remains will be buried by the city.

Death of Richard J. Scott.

Richard J. Scott, of No. 545 West Fifth street, occurred last night after a short illness. The deceased was a carpenter by trade and was well known in this city. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the house at 3 o'clock.

Councilman Runyon's Brave Act.

A milkman's horse ran away on Somerset street this morning and before the animal had an opportunity of doing any damage he was caught by Councilman Wm. N. Runyon. The city official was obliged to run quite a distance but he finally succeeded in capturing the runaway beast. When he returned the rig he received the profound thanks of the owner.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Mrs. Isaac Stites is entertaining company from Tottenville, S. I.

Miss Lilian Staats spent Sunday with friends in Newark and New York city.

Many of the young and middle-aged are in New York today attending the Grant parade.

The electric lights in the station went on a strike last evening, and refused to burn only at intervals.

Mrs. James Mohen has returned to Ansonia, Conn., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gallagher.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Tingley, of West Fourth street, Plainfield, attended the funeral of Mrs. Eugene Runyon yesterday afternoon.

On Monday evening, May 3d, the quarterly conference of the M. E. church will be held here. Presiding Elder Smith, of Plainfield, will be in charge.

W. H. Carman went over to the New Market pond for a little sport yesterday afternoon, and to give his valuable new bird dog a trial. The new dog worked well, so did Mr. Carman's gun.

Station Agent Charles English had a busy day of it today. Besides the regular and excursion trains that made up here, he was also on the alert for the through trains from other points west.

Riding on coal trains seems to be on the increase just at present. Fifteen coal train jumpers were counted passing through here on a mixed coal and freight train yesterday afternoon, and the trainmen paid no attention to them, whatever.

The rain early yesterday morning only served to lay the dust for a few hours. When the sun came up the streets were dried up in short order. But last night's rain had a more telling effect and was just what the farmers wanted.

The Washington Avenue Whist Club closed a most successful season at the home of Mrs. Barrett, in North Plainfield, last Friday evening. The members of the club may continue their most delightful entertainments by holding a series of lawn tennis matches during the summer months.

Bicyclists and drivers of vehicles are complaining about the manner in which the culvert at Front street and Dunellen avenue has been left. Crushed stone has been dumped on the crossing, but it has not even been pressed down and is exceedingly dangerous to bicyclists. For the benefit of riders it may be stated that by keeping to the extreme southeast side of the street at this point, there is a little path about a foot wide where passage can be had without danger.

L. D. Titsworth, one of the prominent citizens of this borough, is now very ill at his home. Mr. Titsworth is now nearly ninety-two years old and has resided in this part of New Jersey for many years. In his earlier life he was one of the prominent stockholders in the First National Bank of Plainfield. He was president of that institution for several years and has been a member of the Board of Directors for many years. He has also been prominent in the work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church.

Rev. A. I. Martine preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning to a large congregation, and in the evening he joined in the reception to Rev. Joshua Mead, the new pastor of the M. E. church. Those who took part in the reception besides Rev. Mr. Martine were Rev. Mr. Peterson, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of New Market, and Rev. A. F. Todd. During the service Rev. Mr. Fletcher was introduced as the "Bishop" and Rev. Mr. Martine spoke of his Christian relationship and unity with the new pastor.

The funeral services following the death of Mrs. Eugene Runyon took place from the house yesterday afternoon. Friends of the family had been invited to view the remains on Sunday, and the services yesterday were private on account of the illness of her son, Walter Runyon. Rev. Mr. Fletcher, pastor of the New Market Baptist church, conducted the services. He spoke of the lovely Christian character of the decedent, and gave consoling advice to the surviving members of the family. The pallbearers were: Harry C. Gaskill, Lewis Walker, John M. Dayton and Nelson Blackford. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery, Plainfield.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Some new machinery is being put in the fur mill, so as increase the facilities of the mill.

A small delegation of Scotch Plains people are in New York to day attending the Grant Monument ceremonies and parade.

The inevitable "Bob" wanted to go fishing the worst way to-day, but he couldn't for he had some work that must be attended to, and besides the strong wind interfered with good biting.

Two gentlemen who are said to be members of a stone crushing syndicate, were in the Plains, yesterday, and visited the Mountain crushers. The object of their visit is not definitely known, but it is surmised that it was to formulate and decide upon a new scale of prices.

Notwithstanding the generous reward offered by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, no light has been thrown forward that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the one or more guilty of defacing the Meadow brook bridge by lifting off the stone coping and throwing it into the marshy land near by.

THEATRICAL.

At Music Hall, commencing Wednesday, April 28th, Miss Lorraine Hollis will appear in a dramatization of Archibald Gunter's famous novel, "Mr. Barnes of New York." In this production Miss Hollis will be seen as "Marina," a strongly drawn character and one which gives her ample scope for the display of her talents. She thrills her audience in her emotional scenes, so vividly does she portray them, and in the lighter phases of the role the individual charm and magnetic personality of this really beautiful woman so completely captivates her auditors that her success is at once established. Besides "Mr. Barnes of New York," Miss Hollis' repertoire will include "Forget-Me-Not," "The Arabian Nights" and "Tigress." Popular prices will prevail.

Mrs. Fiske continues at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York, in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" with great success. The work of this actress as Hardy's heroine and the great merit of the production still form the chief theatrical topic of the city. There never has been a production in New York that has inspired more favorable notice in the daily press, the literary weeklies and the magazines than that in which Mrs. Fiske has so notably distinguished herself; and the popularity of star and play is steadily marked by large audiences at a season when few theatres are prosperous and several are closed.

Sworn in as U. S. Marshal.

Thomas J. Alcott, the recently appointed United States Marshal for New Jersey, assumed his office yesterday. The oath was administered by Judge Kirkpatrick, of the United States District Court, in the presence of Mr. Alcott's friends and the court attaches attending. Mr. Alcott was once a member of the House of Assembly from Burlington County.

—The meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Church of Christ next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, will be of a business nature.

Two years ago B. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

This town presents a deserted appearance today. The merchants shut up shop at noon, the schools were closed, and nearly everybody was out of town. The Grant ceremonies called a few to New York, Buffalo Bill attracted others, but the bicycle took scores out of town bright and early on long runs.

New Station at Lorraine.

The commuters of Lorraine are jubilant over the erection of a new station at that place. The old one, built by the New Jersey Central Railroad, was nothing but a shed, affording no protection in cold or wet weather. The commuters held a meeting one night last fall, and the next morning the shanty had disappeared. The company refused to build a new one all winter. A few weeks ago, however, the railroad company sent out a load of lumber, and a force of men are now at work erecting a cosey little station on the site of the old one.

Wheelmen Aroused.

In view of the fact that there have been so many robberies of late in which a wheelman has figured, Chief of Police Tenny, of Elizabeth, has issued an order to the effect that all wheelmen out after 1 a. m. may be stopped by the police and compelled to answer any questions put by the officer. The wheelmen are incensed over the order, and there is likely to be much trouble ahead.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Lost One Finger.

John Owen, of South Second street, an employe at the Pond Tool Works, had two fingers crushed yesterday afternoon while at work on some heavy machinery. He went to Muhlenberg Hospital where he received proper treatment. He was obliged to have one finger amputated owing to the fact that it was so badly crushed. Dr. Probasco performed the operation. Owen was able to leave the hospital soon afterward, and in a few days he will be able to return to work.

A FIRE WOMAN.

MISS LILLIAN BROWN HAS MANY ADOPTED FATHERS.

She Takes a Deep Interest in the Fire Companies, and is Ready to Start for a Conflagration Immediately After Receiving the Alarm.

The awful forebodings of enemies of the new woman that she would take to fighting fires has come true. Here is a firewoman. She is Miss Lillian Brown, of Greensboro, N. C.

She has been officially adopted by the North Carolina State Firemen's Association. Her favorite fathers, of which she, as a daughter, has over a thousand, are in Greensboro, here she was first adopted by the Eagle Hose Company, every man of whom is as proud of his adopted daughter as if she were a queen. Never a fire occurs without the firemen's daughter being on the scene, and to see her, dressed in her red flannel fire clothes, helmeted, and with an axe in her dainty hands, as she urges the "boys" on to conquer their blazing foe, is a sight to remind one of the heroic acts of Joan of Arc. On one occasion she actually drove the engine to the scene of the fire, handling the rushing steeds like a veteran driver.

There is a curious train of circumstances leading up to the adoption of Miss Brown by the fire boys. She was born in Fairfield, N. C. Her first appearance in Greensboro was about three years ago, when she entered the Female College there. It so happened that she was assigned to play the leading role in the drama "The Fireman's Heart," at the college students' annual performance. The play was produced at Bogart Opera House, and was a tremendous success.

As Hyacinth Bradley, the pet and "mascot" of the firemen, Miss Brown literally captured every heart in the audience, and especially those of the fire boys. Soon after this, at the regular monthly meeting of the Eagle Hose Company, Miss Brown was formally adopted as the firemen's daughter, and her name was placed upon the honorary roll of the company's membership.

The new fire girl gracefully accepted the honor thus conferred upon her, and pledged herself to advance the cause of firemen in general, and especially the interests of her new-made fathers—the Eagles. Miss Brown carried off the honors with a modest bearing, and her fame spread to different parts of the state. Town after town wanted to have her for its adopted daughter, and many meetings were called to consider the subject. All difficulties were finally adjusted at the meeting of the State Firemen's Association, when by a unanimous vote the pet of the Greensboro boys was made a daughter of the State association.

Already the daughter of the company boasts two medals for her bravery at fires, and several resolutions have been passed by different bodies of citizens who owe to her plucky work the saving of many thousand dollars.

Miss Brown takes the greatest interest in the department. She has a call in her house connected with the general signal system. It is very rare that she is late at the scene of a blaze, for no matter at what hour her fire gong sounds the alarm, Miss Brown dons her clothes and starts off to help her fathers.

Many of them have reason to bless her for her kindly help, especially after some accident, for the little girl is ready to nurse the sick and injured, and is always prepared for such emergencies.

Besides being so brave she is extremely pretty. Her eyes are dark and fawn-like, with rounded features and a mass of waving chestnut hair, which the little fire girl wears parted loosely in the middle and caught up at the back of her head by a plain black velvet band.—New York Journal.

The Bricks Must be Returned.

There is a small town in one of the Eastern States, not far from Boston, where inhabitants take great pride in excelling every other town in their vicinity. They try every new invention, and if it has any sort of merit it is sure to be assigned to duty in some part of the place. Two portly gentlemen, one a sea-captain and the other a lawyer, both retired from active life, were the prime movers in the experiments and adoptions, and, naturally, in the course of time they failed to agree. Extreme jealousy then prevailed, and a bitter animosity sprang up between them.

Unfortunately these two gentlemen lived next door to each other—in fact, so close were their houses that the side walls almost adjoined. One very windy night the lawyer was reading a book in his study when a terrific crash upstairs startled him. Upon investigating he found that an unruly chimney had ruthlessly hurled itself through his roof, doing considerable damage. That in itself was a matter of great annoyance, but when he discovered it was the sea-captain's chimney that was responsible, his wrath knew no bounds. Hastening down to his library, he pulled out his lawbooks and hunted up similar cases, devising and scheming how he could secure satisfaction from the detestable captain. While thus engaged a note arrived from his enemy that read as follows:

"Sir,—If you don't return those bricks at once, I will put the matter in the hands of the law."—Harper's Round Table.

Why is a church-bell more affable than a church organ? Because one will go when it's tolled, but the other will be "blowed" first.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drives will receive your work.

Breeding Ground Hogs for Food.

Mr. Henry Singer, a well known and thrifty farmer of Duvall Station, in this county, has been domesticating the ground hog with much success. Mr. Singer found a burrow in which he captured seventeen ground hogs, and taking them to a small lot on his place, he built a close wire fence through which none could escape, and he has killed and salted away a great many, and will smoke them dry, as Kentucky farmers do with ordinary pork. The ground hog when so cured is a great delicacy.

Canada's Mother-in-Law.

The late Monsignor Fabre, Bishop of Montreal, was a thorough Gaul in temperament and sympathies, and did not hesitate to express the latter in pungent bon mots, some of which have become legendary. Dining one day at the table of the Governor-General of the Dominion, he referred in course of conversation to "France, our mother." "France your mother!" broke in the Governor; "what, then, is England to you?" The Bishop smilingly shrugged his shoulders and replied: "Our mother-in-law."—Leslie's Weekly.

Not Exactly Fair.

INSURANCE SWINDLE

New Game of Pittsburgers Nipped In the Bud.

THE NOVEL DEVICE FOR DEFRAUDING.

The Combination Made Use of Old Men Who Were Out of Work and Seeking Employment as a Means of Furthering Their Ends.

New York, April 27.—Lieutenant Edward S. Farrow, the retired United States army officer who was arrested at the Grand Central depot upon his arrival from Canada, was taken to the district attorney's office. He was taken before Extradition Clerk Valentine and signed a waiver of identification, after which he was turned over to State Agent Perkins of Pennsylvania, who started with him for Pittsburg.

After eluding the vigilance of detectives for more than a week, during which he was chased over 1,600 miles of territory, Farrow was cleverly enticed to New York and arrested.

Farrow is under indictment at Pittsburg, charged with conspiring with C. Lynford Woods to defraud the Mutual Reserve Fund Life association. Woods is now awaiting trial in Pittsburg. Lieutenant Farrow formerly lived at 67 Seventh avenue, and detectives watched the house until an indictment was found and extradition papers obtained. Farrow slipped away, however, through the back yard, and then an extraordinary chase began.

To Philadelphia, Pittsburg, back to this city, and to New Buffalo, where he left the train and went across to Canada at Niagara Falls, the sleuths followed hot upon Farrow's trail. Then the hunted man went to Montreal and Toronto, finally stopping at Cornwall, in Canada. There he received decoy telegrams, which eventually brought him to this city, where the detectives were awaiting him.

Farrow is said to have been sending in as much as $20,000 of insurance risks a day, and his commissions amounted to many hundreds of dollars daily.

President Burnham's Story.

President F. A. Burnham graphically described the methods of Woods & Farrow when seen at his residence, 66 East Seventy-eighth street, as follows:

"The partners started business as bankers at Pittsburg," he said, "under the title of C. Lynford Woods & Co. Woods never was a banker, and the whole business was a scheme to defraud insurance companies. Their method was to insure the lives of old and diseased men and then claim to be creditors, with the expectation of realizing upon the life policies.

"It was a clever and deep laid scheme, which was operated in this manner: They inserted advertisements in newspapers, stating that they required 'collectors, men, between 50 and 60 years of age; easy work.'

"This attracted hundreds of applicants, who were all told that before they could enter upon their duties they must supply a bond. Most of the men, of course, could not get bonds. Woods & Co. then proffered to take a policy of life insurance in place of a bond. We have ample evidence that those who were willing to supply bonds were told that they were not suitable, and their services were rejected.

"The prospective collectors were then made to sign an application for life insurance and a promissory note. This note was left blank, ready to be filled in. Then the application was forwarded to us, signed in proper form by a doctor, and the policy was issued. The blank promissory notes were then filled in for the sum of the policy, and the scheme was complete.

"We have, however, an inspection department, and in the regular course of business our inspectors reported that the large majority of the clients of Woods & Farrow were old and diseased men, the very worst class of risks.

"For instance, one man named Baily was described as 57 years of age and a glass manufacturer. He was insured for $6,000. We found that he was a broken down war pensioner, who before the war had worked as a glassblower, but since had done nothing but drink whisky, draw his pension and sleep wherever they would let him.

"When Woods was arrested, he immediately fell in a dead faint. When he revived, he made a full written confession, to which he swore before a magistrate. In this he described the whole scheme and claimed that he went into it at the suggestion of Farrow. The lieutenant fled to Canada and was only captured yesterday."

Farrow's Statement.

When Farrow was arrested he made sweeping charges against President Burnham and the Mutual Reserve company, alleging that he was sent to Pittsburg to do "dirty work" and fight some battles for the association.

In reply to these charges President Burnham said:

"The man is driven to desperation and now makes charges against us which are all 'rot.' If we knew about his transactions, why should he have been arrested?

"Three other companies issued policies on the same class of lives obtained through Woods and Farrow, but they got their policies back and said nothing. So long as I am president of the Mutual Reserve I think it my duty to see that my company is not defrauded and to punish those who attempt it.

"There are three doctors in Pittsburg who signed these applications, and so far as we knew they were all reputable men. They may have been imposed upon, for they knew nothing of the identity of the men brought to them, and substitutes may have been examined.

"After Woods' arrest his offices were searched and papers found which exposed the whole scheme. There were letters from Farrow, respecting applicants, containing such notes as these: 'John Smith, 45 years. Looks healthy. Let him go.' 'Thomas Jones, 56 years. Heart disease. Good to hold on to.'"

Entry blanks for the Irvington-Millburn road race can be obtained from the race committee in charge of that event, E. Gerbeaux, 463 Boulevard, New York; George Shannon, 1311 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, or Walter Rutan, Montclair.

A meeting of the general committee in charge of the Irvington-Milburn road race was held last night at the Astor House. F. P. Prial was appointed official handicapper, and the time limit for handicaps was placed at nine minutes, which is the same as last year. Messrs Drabble and Rutan were appointed a committee to look over the course and make arrangements. The race will be started at 11:30 a. m. on May 31st.

General Roy Stone, well known as a Government expert on road building, is advocating the use of convict labor on New Jersey roads. He thinks this would give prisoners something to do, of great advantage to the public without their labor coming in competition with honest labor. The suggestion has merit enough for careful consideration. In New Jersey, where road-building is more advanced than in any other State, the convicts could be of a great public service by being placed on the public roads, where their labor would greatly cheapen the cost of construction, and at the same time not interfere with any other laboring men.—Unionist-Gazette.

INS AND OUTS.

A game was played on the Grant avenue grounds, Saturday afternoon, between the Plainfield Grammar School team and Greib's nine. The school boys won by a score of 25 to 22. The batteries were Kenneth and Merrill, and Grieb and Sprague.

The battery for the victorious team consisted of Crowe, Morris Dumont and Will Roome. Huff, Radford and Gardner were the battery for the Crescents.

The lawn tennis season opened at the Park Club courts on Saturday afternoon, when the courts were ready for play. There were a number of the experts of the club out to limber up for the summer, but there will not be a crowd there until the warm summer weather is here.

WHIST.

The Park Club of Plainfield has lost possession of the Park Club trophy after fighting hard to retain it. The team deserves much credit for the record it has made up to date in this contest, and when it becomes the time of the Park Club to play again for this trophy the holders then will have to play strong whist to retain it. —Newark News.

TOOK THE WRONG HARNESS.

It Belonged to City Judge DeMeza, and Was Afterwards Returned.

City Judge DeMeza's double set of harness took a trip, Sunday, which its owner did not intend it to take. The harness was a new set valued at $65, and it was being cleaned and put in order for use at the stable. After being cleaned, it was hung up on a hook on the wall. A man drove down from Somerville, Sunday, and put his team in the stable where the Judge's harness was. The horses were looked after and fed and then, in the afternoon, the Somervillian prepared to return home.

He went to the stable and had his horses harnessed up. Now it happened that his set of harness had been hung on a hook next to that where the Judge's hung, and in the hurry and excitement the wrong harness was put on the Somerville man's horses, and he drove away.

As the harness remaining was an old set and not as nice as that one belonging to the Judge, it was supposed that someone had appropriated the Judge's property, and there promised to be plenty of excitement, but the identity of the man was discovered, and he gladly restored the harness to its rightful owner.

—A free pool exhibition will be given in Charles Bock's Somerset street billiard parlors, this evening, by Fred Hall.

—In honor of Grant's Birthday, Charles Works, of West Seventh street, has displayed his signal flags, which are used on his steamyacht "Shermee."

GET WELL AND STAY WELL.

GET RID OF WHAT MAKES YOU SICK AND STAY RID OF IT.

It is so simple to be well that we wonder why there are so many sick people.

Come to think about it, must be because they don't know what's made them sick.

If they knew that, they could prevent it, and when they were sick, in some cases cure themselves. But, so long as we don't take more care of our health, we shall always be more or less sick.

The simple rules of health are: Keep clean, take exercise, eat good food, scour out your stomach.

This last means: Don't tolerate indigestion. Cure it with Shaker Digestive Cordial. A stomach full of undigested, fermented, putrid food is the unhealthiest thing you can think of.

Half our diseases and troubles come from the poisons of undigested food. More than half of them could be cured with Shaker Digestive Cordial.

More than half, because often when we think we are sick we are only weak, and a course of nourishing food digested without effort by the stomach (with the aid of Shaker Digestive Cordial) would reinvigorate the whole system and make us well.

A ten cent trial bottle will prove it. At druggists.

THE PARADE BEGAN.

New York the Scene of Great Crowds and Handsome Decorations.

New York's grand celebration has begun. The exercises at Grant's tomb began at 11 o'clock.

The head of the column of parade reached there a few minutes after 1 o'clock. There were 50,000 men in line.

When the parade reached the tomb a salute of twenty-one guns was fired by the warships. The naval parade began at 2 o'clock.

President McKinley was received with cheering at every point.

A YOUNG GIRL DIPLOMATIST.

Conducts the Business of Russia at the Court of China.

Diplomatic circles of Europe are wondering at the great success of Count Cassini in the far East. He made his debut at Peking five years ago by insisting on presenting his credentials personally to the Son of Heaven, and he speedily threw the German Minister, then in the ascendant, and all the other foreign diplomatists quite into the shade. Owing to his prestige, the Count was allowed to travel across Chinese territory from Peking to Kiakhta by the route reserved for mandarins only, accomplishing the first stages of his long journey in a mule chair, and the rest in a tarantass.

The mystery is now explained. Count Cassini's niece, a girl of less than fifteen years of age, is his mascot. She has been of the utmost use to him in bringing negotiations with the Tsung-li Yamen to a head. Her mastery of Chinese is remarkable, and she has the familiarity possessed by most educated Russians with English, French and German, so that her uncle has no need of an interpreter in dealing with delicate matters of state. Russia has always offered a fine field for feminine diplomatists, and Mlle. Cassini, beginning thus early, ought to have a great future before her.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

DELIGHTFUL TOURING.

MISS REVELL TOOK HER AUDIENCE THROUGH SWITZERLAND.

The Entertainment Was Given in Y. M. C A. Hall Last Evening for the Benefit of the Advance Circle of Kings Daughters.

"Switzerland" by Miss Dorothy Harrington Revell was a unique but very delightful entertainment given in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, last evening, for the benefit of the Advance Circle of King's Daughters. It was a monologue, giving the supposed conversation of an American girl in a trip through Switzerland accompanied by her aunt Jane and "the Count." By consulting her guide book and describing what she saw to the imaginary aunt, the audience was given a description of some of the most beautiful sights in that little republic of Europe. The part was a difficult one but Miss Revell understood it thoroughly and made the entertainment a very satisfactory one to all the audience. She made a very fasinating traveller and presented a charming appearance whether attired in travelling costume or as a peasant girl.

Miss Revell introduced several character recitations in connection with the story. Her rendition of "The Naughty Little Girl" was particularly well received.

Between the parts of the story, there were contralto solos by Miss Lillian Kent, of Elizabeth, which were well received, and banjo duets by Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins, of Somerville. Mr. Jenkins' accomplishments on the banjo are too well known to need comment, only it may be said that he played his best. His selections were familiar catchy marches.

As already stated, the entertainment was for the benefit of the Advance Circle of King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church. The members of the circle acted as ushers and ticket collectors. The chief usher was Mrs. George O. Stevens. The other ushers were Miss Pansy Geane Herring, Miss Lillian Torrey Glen, Miss Elizabeth Bittenbender, Miss Evelyn Searing and Miss Scarborough. The programmes were given out by Miss Margaret Cave, Miss Ella Blish and Miss Elitta Remson. The tickets were collected by Mrs. J. M. McClintock. Mrs. J. A. Haynes presided over the ticket window and was in general charge of the entertainmeet.

RACING SEASON OPENS.

SEVERAL MATCHES AT THE GENTLEMEN'S DRIVING PARK.

The Day Was Too Cold and Windy for Fast Work, But Krewson's New Trotter Made Some Very Good Time.

The weather was not all favorable to the auspicious opening of the Gentlemen's Driving Park track, yesterday afternoon. It was cold and the drivers came forth in ulsters to protect themselves from the chilly blasts that blew across the track all the afternoon. There was, nevertheless, quite a crowd assembled to see the sport, and several matches were arranged.

There were three horses in the first match. Will Smalley had his fast trotter out, Frank Hand was in line with his and Joe Krewson had his recent purchase out for the race. Hand's horse caused a little excitement in the first heat and ran over the track. Smalley crossed the line first, Krewson's trotter came up in the second heat and made the best time of the afternoon, 2:33, winning the heat.

One of Thomas Brantingham's stable defeated Gwyett's trotter in two straight heats.

There were also several single exhibitions o speed.

Crystal Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlas Compton, of Metuchen, celebrated their crystal wedding anniversary last evening. There were about fifty guests present from Metuchen, Newark, Elizabeth and Plainfield. During the evening the guests enjoyed several vocal and instrumental selections. One of the features was the dancing, music for which was furnished by Sam. Frazee, of this city. It was early this morning when the happy event came to an end, but all wished the bride and groom many years of joy and prosperity.

Talented Artists.

The same artists who assisted Eugene Field's daughter, Mary French Field, in the entertainment given recently at the Berkley Lyceum, have been secured by the Park Club committee for their entertainment at the Casino, May 5th, viz: William H. Lee, the baritone, and John Francis Gilder, the pianist and composer. The last number of The Musical Courier says of Mr. Lee: "Frankly, Mr. Lee, made the hit of the evening, etc."

FIGHT FOR RIGHT OF WAY

WORK COMMENCED ON THE CROSS STATE TROLLEY LINE.

Gangs of Men at Work Building the Road Near Somerville—Ordinances for the Right of Way at Bound Brook.

In spite of the bitter war between them and the Brunswick Traction Company and the uncertainty of its result, the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company yesterday began the work of building a trolley line between Bound Brook, Somerville and Raritan. Gangs of men are now at work widening two bridges at Bound Brook and building a new one near Somerville. The track and poles have already been laid for about a mile this side of Somerville.

As has been told in the Press, this part of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company's line is to be a link in the proposed chain which will connect Jersey City and Philadelphia. From the start the company has had a strong opponent in the Brunswick Traction Company, of New Brunswick, in which Gottfried Krueger is a large stockholder. Each company is fighting for the right of way through the principal streets in Bound Brook, and the Philadelphia company is trying hard to get a franchise in New Brunswick, apparently with little prospect of success.

The Bound Brook Council last night took up the ordinances of the rival companies and advanced them to a first reading. The fight will come later, when efforts are made to pass the ordinances. The Philadelphia company expects to award the contract this week for the building of the line between South Bound Brook and New Brunswick. The road is to be completed by July 15th; but unless the Board of Aldermen can be moved will only find an entrance into New Brunswick through some side street.

HORSES'S LEGS IN THE WAGON.

Exciting Experience of A. J. Grolschmith With a Horse.

A most peculiar accident happened this morning on East Front street while A. J. Grolschmith, the upholsterer, was driving his horse toward his home. Without any warning the horse began to kick and it was not long before the wagon was occupied with the hind quarters of the animal and the man was quite willing that she should take possession of the wagon. Before Grolschmith left the vehicle he received a severe kick in the shins.

George Moore, the butcher, realizing the danger which not only threatened the horse but his driver, ran to the scene of the trouble and assisted very much in getting the horse on his four legs. The horse was quite badly cut about the feet and walked lame, as did also Grolschmith.

FOR TOWN IMPROVEMENT

PROGRESSIVE WOMEN ELECT THEIR LEADERS FOR A YEAR.

Mrs. Pierre Malli at the Head of the Association Again—Plans for Raising Money to Improve City Park so it Can be Used.

The first annual meeting of the Town Improvement Association was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building, with the president, Mrs. Pierre Malli, in the chair. The members present were very much encouraged to see so many of the members of the Children's Auxiliary present, and Mrs. Malli invited Miss Patton, the president, to take a seat beside her.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. S. R. Krom, was presented. It was an interesting review of the work of the past year. There have been held eight public and thirteen executive meetings.

Mrs. Alexander Gilbert, the treasurer, stated that there had been received $194.20 and $169.46 had been expended, leaving a balance of $25.74.

The president said that the members have cause for great encouragement at the close of the first year's work. The prizes offered for the best kept yards had resulted in much good and it had stimulated others to keep their vards in better condition. Mrs. Malli also spoke of the work of planting trees and said that there are several places in the city where trees are needed. One place she mentioned is on the west side of Watchung avenue where there is hardly any shade.

The work being done in the city park was also spoken of. Mrs Malli stated that a great deal of work had been done under the direction of Mr. Maller, the man who had graded and laid out Hillside cemetery. In his opinion the trees in the city were too close together and he suggested that in the future they be planted about twenty-five feet apart.

Regarding the wire baskets placed about town, Mrs Malli said that this improvement had accomplished great good. She thought it would be a good idea to have these baskets placed near the public schools so that the children could make use of them in throwing away waste paper, etc. The work with the children was spoken of as an important one and Mrs. Malli urged that the members take more interest in the children. In accordance with a suggestion, Mrs. W. L. Patton was chosen as chairman of the Children's Auxiliary.

The president stated that plans for the city park had been received and accepted and the work of putting the park in condition was being pushed rapidly. She regretted that it would be impossible to have the park ready for use this year as there was not a sufficient amount of money in the treasury to do the work. To secure this necessary money Mrs. Malli said that an entertainment was being planned to be held at her place on East Front street. She hoped that more than enough money would be secured so that a fund could be established for the building of a second park, which she thought was needed. The entertainment spoken of is to be a lawn party and it will be one of the most elaborate affairs of the kind ever held in Plainfield. There will be everything to attract and it will cost very little for admission.

Mrs. Gilbert and Miss Tweedy were appointed tellers and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Pierre Malli; first vice president, Mrs. A. S. Patterson; second vice president, Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph; recording secretary, Mrs. S. R. Krom; corresponding secretary, Miss Elizabeth Stewart; treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Gilbert.

Mrs. Malli announced that for the summer the meetings of the association would be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays at 10 a. m., in the Y. M. C. A., instead of the afternoon. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

MARRIED FOR 25 YEARS

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF MR. AND MRS. G. W. ROCKFELLOW.

At the Same Time Their Daughter Miss Nellie, Made Her Debut Into Society—A Pleasant Time Enjoyed by the Guests.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rockfellow, of Park avenue, was the scene last evening of two charming events—the celebration of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rockfellow, and the debut of their daughter, Miss Nellie Rockfellow, into society.

The fore part of the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock was devoted to the celebration of the wedding anniversary, and it was indeed a brilliant affair. The home was decorated with smilax and white carnations which produced the prevailing colors, green and white, and the effect was beautiful. In the dining room the same colors were used and the table presented a very attractive appearance adorned so prettily.

Mr. and Mrs. Rockfellow received their guests in the parlor, and they were assisted by Mrs. Close and Miss Rockfellow, of Bound Brook. The former is a sister of Mrs. Rockfellow, while the latter is a sister of Mr. Rockfellow. The gown worn by Mrs. Rockfellow was the same one in which she was married twenty-five years ago. It is a silver gray gown trimmed with beautiful white lace and chiffon, and both the bride and her husband acted just as young as ever. This was remarked by nearly every one as they showered congratulations upon the bride and groom While the guests were enjoying the social features of the event, Rogers' orchestra discoursed sweet music.

During the stated hours a delightful supper was served in the dining room and this made way for others who desired to meet the host and hostess and extend their best wishes.

A princely gift was received by Mr. and Mrs. Rockfellow in the shape of a floral basket of pink and white roses, sweet peas and maiden-hair ferns, tied with a white satin ribbon. It was the gift of William H. Brower, a close friend and admirer of the bride and groom. Mrs. Rockfellow carried a bridal bouquet of twenty-five roses, one for each year of married life.

The entire affair was marked by an absence of all formality and the sociability of the guests was a delightful feature. Mr. and Mrs. Rockfellow were the recipients of a large collection of costly silver presents from their many friends, and this evidence was universal on the part of all.

Those who assisted as waitresses were Miss Demarest, Miss Giles, Plainfield; the Misses Russell, East Orange; Miss Potter, Rahway; Miss DeForest, Mt. Pleasant; the Misses McDowell, Stelton, while Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Sebring poured tea at the table.

Following the celebration Miss Rockfellow made her debut by giving a dance to her friends. This part of the event was a most pleasing feature. The debutante was richly gowned in Nile green brocaded silk trimmed with lace and ribbons, and she carried an exquisite bouquet of pink roses.

It was chiefly the younger set that remained to dance and the genuine pleasure experienced by all will never be forgotten.

Among those present during the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rockfellow, East Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Close and family, Bound Brook; Mr. and Mrs. Boice, New Brunswick; Mrs. McDowell, John McDowell, Stelton; Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Orange; Miss Helen De Forest, Mt. Pleasant; Miss Remsen, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Sebring, Bound Brook; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Morgan, Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Waring, Mr. and Mrs. George Raynolds, Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs A. C. LaBoyteaux, Mr. and Mrs Joseph E. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Nomer, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stelle, Mr. and Mrs. Dumont, Mrs. Remsen and family, Mrs. William Hand, Mrs. Robinson, Miss Robinson, Miss Fanny Hayes, Miss Stelle, Miss F. Demarest, the Misses Livezey, Miss Maude Mosher; George Fuller, Joseph Robinson, A. C. Mallison, Stacy Raynolds, Walter Raynolds, Charles Hayes, Irving Oakley, Harry Coddington and George Homan, of Plainfield.

D. and D.

Adon Smith and Wizzard Wilson, of the borough, were arrested last night by Marshal Kliner for being drunk and disorderly on Somerset street. They were arraigned before Justice Thomas this morning. Smith was fined $5 and Wilson $10. The fines were paid and the men were released.

MAY LOSE HIS RIGHT EYE

L. W. SERRELL, JR., STRUCK IN THE EYE WITH A GOLF CLUB.

He Wore His Glasses at the Time and Some of the Particles of Glass Were Driven Into the Ball of Mr. Serrell's Eye

Lemuel W. Serrell, Jr., of Crescent avenue, met with an accident yesterday afternoon that may result in the loss of sight in his right eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Serrell went out on their wheels yesterday afternoon and rode up to the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Plainfield avenue. Mr. Serrell is a member of the club and intended to show his wife how to play golf, and with that intention they went to a point on the course near the clubhouse to start. She swung her club and struck at the ball, missing it. At the same time, Mr. Serrell stepped up to her side, and the club, swinging around, struck him squarely in the eye. Mr. Serrell was wearing his eye glasses, and the right lens was broken into fragments by the blow, and a portion of the glass driven into his eye.

D. O. Tiffany was near by when the accident occurred, and he assisted Mrs. Serrell in conveying her husband to the clubhouse, where his eye was bandaged and Dr. J. T. Fritts sent for. The doctor arrived and took Mr. Serrell home in his carriage.

Mr. Serrell is still in a serious condition, and it is feared that he will lose the sight of his right eye as a result of the accident. Every effort, however, is being made to save it.

GRANT DAY CEREMONIES

HOW PLAINFIELD ASSISTED AND HOW SHE WAS REPRESENTED.

The High School Cadets Had a Great Day of It Despite the Chilly Breezes—Lieut. Bettman Distinguished Himself.

Yesterday was an eventful day for New York and for many of the residents of Plainfield. A description of the parade and ceremonies at the Grant tomb will be found in another column. It did not rain but a cold wind came from the north west that kept the crowd shivering and shaking throughout the day. It was better, of course, for those in the parade but the spectators who tried to watch the paraders from the seats along Riverside Drive were fairly driven off by the cold. There were Plainfielders among them and there were many, this morning, suffering from a severe cold caught in New York yesterday.

The members of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps were in line at 1 o'clock and did not start until nearly 5 o'clock. They stood around and shivered while they waited. Then they played to keep warm but with no success. As soon as the march began, they were all right, however.

The members of the Plainfield and North Plainfield High School cadet companies had a big day of it. As was told in yesterday's Press, the cadets went to Elizabeth and then accompanied the Seventh Regiment of the New Jersey National Guard to Jersey City and then up to Forty-fourth street, New York, in a barge. The expenses of the companies were paid by the State and the boys were treated to lunch and dinner by their militia hosts. From Forty-fourth street, where they landed from the barge, the cadets marched down to Thirty-third street and Madison avenue, where they formed behind the Bordentown Military Institute cadets in the rear of the New Jersey National Guard.

After their part of the parade was over, the cadets marched around and finally took the barge with the Seventh Regiment at 133d street and sailed down the river in time to view part of the river parade. The company marched about twelve miles in all and everybody was tired out when it was over. The smaller boys found the muskets growing very heavy toward the last, but they pluckily stood to ther guns and finished in good order. Captain Edwards was complimented by the officers of the Seventh on the orderly appearance of the cadets and the able manner in which they were handled. They took the special train to Elizabeth on the the Pennsylvania railroad and then returned to Plainfield at about ten o'clock on the Jersey Central railroad.

The cadet companies were represented on the staff of Col C. F. Wright, of the cadet division, by Fred Bettman, first lieutenant of the North Plainfield High School cadets. Bettman was a mounted aide. As that division was passing Eighty third street, Bettmann averted a serious accident by bravely stopping a runaway horse. The horse of a mounted policeman became unmanageable at the corner of Eighty-second and after throwing the rider off, went galloping up the street. At Eighty-third street, there were several of the staff of Col. Wright, among them Bettman. The runaway horse started to rush into the crowd and a panic seemed inevitable. Bettman turned his own mount beside the runaway and caught him by the bridle. Another aide came to his assistance and the frightened horse was quieted.

THE CITY'S POSITION.

MAYOR FISK'S COMMUNICATION TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

How the Change from a Third to a Second Class City Will Affect the Local Government in More Ways Than One.

The following communication was sent to the Common Council by Mayor Fisk last Monday night:

This city, by reason of a recent decision of the Supreme Court, being now subject to all valid general laws pertaining to cities of the second-class, the attention of your Honorable Body is respectfully invited to the following important statutes:

Gen. St. p. 512, pl. 256 provides, in substance, that no resolution or motion involving the expenditure of money adopted or passed by the Common Council when the amount thereof exceeds the sum of fifty dollars shall be operative unless the same be approved by the Mayor. Provision is made in the act whereby in case of a veto or refusal or neglect to veto or approve within five days by the Mayor, the Common Council may, nevertheless, order payment.

Gen. St. p. 214, pl. 266, &c., enacts that it shall be the duty of the Common Council to publish in a newspaper printed and published in the city a detailed itemized statement of the expenditures of the public moneys by the Common Council for the preceding month.

Gen. St. p. 2329 pl. 31 provides for the designation, with the consent of the Mayor, of the official newspaper or newspapers published in the city, in which shall be solely published all official notices, etc., and authorizes the Common Council to fix the compensation to be paid by the city for services rendered by such official newspaper or newspapers.

Gen. St. 501, pl. 209 authorizes the Common Council to adopt ordinances for the appointment of one Overseer of the Poor, and three Commissioners of Appeal, in cases of taxation, which said officers are required to be appointed by the Mayor, by and with the consent of the Common Council; and the act provides that the appointment of the Commissioners of Appeal shall be made for not less than one year, or more than three years, the term to be determined and fixed by the Mayor at the time of making such appointment; and the act further provides that the offices of such Commissioners of Appeal, in cases of taxation now existing in the city, shall be abolished, upon the appointment of said officers under the act referred to.

Gen. St. p. 2614, Section 34, etc., provides that the Mayor shall appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Common Council, five persons, residents of the State, who shall constitute a park commission, and who shall serve without compensation; their terms of office to be for 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years respectively from the date of their appointment; and the act commits to such Commissioners the entire control and management of all public parks, and authorizes them to make, alter and establish rules and regulations for the government and management thereof.

Gen. St. p. 1546, pl. 395, etc., provides that the chief and captain of police employed or appointed by municipal authority shall hold their respective offices and continue in their respective employment as such municipal officers and employees during good behavior, efficiency and residence in such city, and shall not be removed for political reasons or of any other causes than incapacity, misconduct, non-residence, or disobedience of just rules and regulations established, or which may be established, by the proper municipal authority.

Gen. St. p. 2229, Sec. 493, authorizes the issue of bonds for excess of costs of public improvements over assessments for benefits.

Gen. St. p. 515, pl. 273, enacts that in all cities of the second-class in this State, the annual or charter elections thereof shall be held on the second Tuesday in April. This act having been, so to speak, sprung upon the city suddenly by reason of the act known as the "Griggs Act," having been declared unconstutional, it was apparent that great confusion would result unless immediate relief should be sought from the Legislature, and there was not even time to call a special meeting of the Common Council to consider the matter. Accordingly, an act was prepared, which is now a law, being Chapter 95 of the Laws of 1897, whereby the late city election is in all respects validated, and the necessity for an election on the thirteenth of this month was obviated. The act provides that the next succeeding municipal election shall not take place earlier than December of this year. Another act passed by both houses of the Legislature, and

THE GRANT MEMORIAL

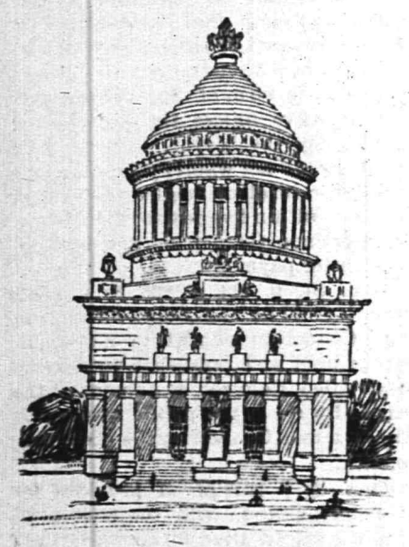
The Tomb of the Nation's Hero Formally Dedicated.

IT WAS A MOST IMPOSING PAGEANT

Witnessed by Tens of Thousands of Interested Spectators—Great Land and Water Parades—McKinley's Glowing Tribute to Grant.

New York, April 28.—Never but once in the history of the world, and never before in the history of the United States, has such a tribute been paid to the noble dead as when, with wondrous pageant by land and sea, the nation dedicated the tomb that now holds the body of its hero, Ulysses S. Grant.

It was an occasion more of triumphant eulogy and national pride than of funeral rite; for in these 12 years since first the nation mourned for Grant the keenness of grief has worn away, and in its place there lives in the hearts of men that hero worship which found such tumultuous vent yesterday. The greatest of our citizens, our soldiers and our sailors stood side by side with men of fame from almost every nation of the earth and paid without regard to race or creed or party prejudice the last and long delayed honor of the living to the dead; while the greatest throng that ever filled the city of New York added its surging paens to the roar of belching guns and the tramp of marching soldiers. And in that throng there was no north and no south, for since the soldier-president had said "Let us have peace" the gray had blended with the blue.



THE GRANT MONUMENT.

The day dawned bright and clear, and there was no omen in the sky of the wind that in the afternoon well nigh ruined for a time the land parade. Before the presidential party left the city to take part in the dedication ceremonies the flag decked streets were black with people, who cheered vociferously as the great men drove by. When the tomb was reached, a strange sight met the eye.

All around the oval, in the center of which stood the gray monument to Grant, were what seemed to be black hillocks. This somber background was formed by the thousands of spectators who filled the wooden stands, built up from the ground on both sides of the tomb level with the steps which lead to its massive doors. To the south, where the loop around the oval met the Riverside drive, there were two solid, somber lines of humanity. On all four sides of the monument oval the stands were packed to overflowing, while facing these crowds there was the great mass of eager sightseers who had not been officially provided for.

Solemn Dedication Services.

The solemn service of dedication seemed to throw a strange hush over this vast throng. The president stood bareheaded in the wind that now was beginning to rise. He was heard distinctly by the 5,000 persons who stood directly in front of him. General Porter's oration in honor of the hero seemed to impress the crowd less than the sight of that pale faced, bareheaded president standing beside the widow of the dead general, ex-President Cleveland and the grayheaded statesmen and soldiers. It was their presence rather than their words that lent solemnity to the occasion.

And when it was all over, when Mayor Strong had formally accepted from the nation the trust of the tomb and when the president and his party disappeared in the luncheon tent a sigh of relief went up from the crowd, for at last the hero lay in the tomb befitting his renown and fittingly dedicated by a grateful nation.

While the land parade was waited for after the conclusion of the ceremonies, the sky became leaden, and the wind rose until it almost howled around the trees. The waters of the Hudson reflected the ashen hue of the sky, and the great white ships that floated on its bosom stood out in almost ominous relief. The dusty roadbed of the drive was whipped up until black coats became brown, and spectators forsook their unsheltered seats for the protection of the tomb pillars.

Then suddenly, under the cloud of dust, from the south between the two black lines of people which seemed to meet in the perspective, came the nodding plumes of the soldiers. On they marched, an endless line of white and red and blue and gray. First passing on the west side of the monument oval and then returning on the north road under the monumental arch, passed the president in review, and then back again into the black background of humanity and the white clouds of dust.

Parade Reviewed by the President.

Surrounded by his cabinet, his generals and his friends, President McKinley stood and reviewed the grandest military pageant ever seen in this city. There were regular soldiers, regular sailors, national guardsmen of the sea and land forces, Grand Army veterans, Confederate veterans and the striplings who in the future will fight as gallantly as their fathers did.

When the cheering was at its loudest and when the wind had somewhat died away, a touching scene was enacted which was seen by few. Silently Mrs. Grant stole away from the president's reviewing stand, where she had been watching the gallant troops go by, and, leaning on the arm of her son, Colonel Fred Grant, made her way to the tomb, followed only by the members of the Grant family. The bronze doors were swiftly opened, and the widow of the hero passed from the noise and windy chilliness of the outside world into the dim quiet of the tomb. For about 10 minutes she staid there, and then, with her face hidden in her hands, she left the scene which crowned her husband's victories.

Soon after this President McKinley went aboard the Dolphin amid the booming of guns and reviewed the great warships that lay in the shadow of the tomb. The dense crowds still staid in their seats and watched the end of the land parade. A brown hue now pervaded everything, and in the dusk soldiers, spectators, leafless trees and even the tomb itself looked strangely somber in their coverings of dust. Then, when the last company had passed out of sight of the white roadbed, the hundreds of thousands of spectators sought their homes.

McKinley's Tribute to Grant.

The following is the text of President McKinley's eloquent eulogy of General Grant:

Fellow Citizens—A great life, dedicated to the welfare of the nation, here finds its earthly coronation. Even if this day lacked the impressiveness of ceremony and was devoid of pageantry, it would still be memorable, because it is the anniversary of the birth of one of the most famous and best beloved of American soldiers.

Architecture has paid high tribute to the leaders of mankind, but never was a memorial more worthily bestowed or more gratefully accepted by a free people than the beautiful structure before which we are gathered.

In marking the successful completion of this work we have as witnesses and participants representatives of all branches of our government, the resident officials of foreign nations, the governors of states and the sovereign people from every section of our common country, who join in this august tribute to the soldier and patriot and citizen.

Almost 12 years have passed since the heroic vigil ended and the brave spirit of Ulysses S. Grant fearlessly took its flight. Lincoln and Stanton had preceded him, but of the mighty captains of the war Grant was the first to be called. Sherman and Sheridan survived him, but have since joined him on the other shore. The great heroes of the civil strife on land and sea are for the most part now no more. Thomas and Hancock, Logan and McPherson, Farragut, Dupont and Porter, and a host of others have passed forever from human sight. Those remaining grow dearer to us, and from them and the memory of those who have departed, generations yet unborn will draw their inspiration and gather strength for patriotic purpose.

A great life never dies. Great deeds are imperishable, great names immortal. General Grant's services and character will continue undiminished in influence and advance in the estimation of mankind so long as liberty remains the cornerstone of free government and integrity of life the guarantee of good citizenship.

Faithful and fearless as a volunteer soldier, intrepid and invincible as commander in chief of the armies of the Union, calm and confident as president of a reunited and strengthened nation, which his genius had been instrumental in achieving, he has our homage and that of the world; but, brilliant as was his public character, we love him all the more for his home life and homely virtues. His individuality, his bearing and speech, his simple ways, had a flavor of rare and unique distinction, and his Americanism was so true and uncompromising that his name will stand for all time as the embodiment of liberty, loyalty and national unity.

Victorious in the work which under divine Providence he was called upon to do, clothed with almost limitless power, he was yet one of the people, patient, patriotic and just. Success did not disturb the even balance of his mind, while fame was powerless to swerve him from the path of duty. Great as he was in war he loved peace and told the world that honorable arbitration of differences was the best hope of civilization.

With Washington and Lincoln, Grant has an exalted place in history and the affections of the people. Today his memory is held in equal esteem by those whom he led to victory and by those who accepted his generous terms of peace.

The veteran leaders of the blue and the gray here meet not only to honor the name of the departed Grant, but to testify to the living reality of a fraternal national spirit which has triumphed over the differences of the past and transcends the limitations of sectional lines. Its completion, which we pray God to speed, will be the nation's greatest glory.

It is right, then, that General Grant should have a memorial commensurate with his greatness and that his last resting place should be the city of his choice, to which he was attached in life and of whose ties he was not forgetful even in death. Fitting, too, is it that the great soldier should sleep beside the noble river on whose banks he first learned the art of war, of which he became master and leader, without a rival.

But let us not forget the glorious distinction with which the metropolis among the fair sisterhood of American cities has honored his life and memory. With all that riches and sculpture can do to render the edifice worthy of the man, upon a site unsurpassed for magnificence, has this monument been reared by New York as a perpetual record of his illustrious deeds, in the certainty that as time passes around it will assemble, with gratitude and reverence and veneration, men of all climes, races and nationalities.

New York holds in its keeping the precious dust of the silent soldier, but his achievements, what he and his brave comrades wrought for mankind, are in the keeping of 70,000,000 of American citizens who will guard the sacred heritage for ever and forevermore.

out in the rain

A good drenching in a cold rain is often the beginning of consumption. Yet no one claims that the germs of this disease exist in the rainwater. Then how was this brought about? The exposure was followed by a cold; the vitality was lowered; the cough continued for some weeks; the throat and lungs became congested; and thus all the conditions were favorable for the consumption germs.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, does not directly attack these germs and kill them. But it does tone up the whole system and restores the body to health before serious harm is done. The germs of consumption thrive best when the system is weakened and the throat and lungs congested. Do not delay until it is too late, but treat your cough early. Cod-liver oil and the hypophosphites, in the form of Scott's Emulsion, are the very best remedies.

"JUST AS GOOD" IS NOT SCOTT'S EMULSION.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one-third of all the patents issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and spffering. J. W. Vaugn, of Oakton, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholero and Diarrœa Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomah and bowels. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—There will be a special missionary meeting service in the lecture room of the Park Avenue Baptist church on Friday evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society.

The Rev. W. H. Weaver, pastor of the U. B. Church, Dillsburg, Pa., recognizes the value of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and does not hesitate to tell others about it. DEATH UPON THE RAIL

Fatal Occurrences at Two Different Places.

ONE ACCIDENTAL AND ONE CRIMINAL.

Trolley Leaves the Track at Portland, Or., While Train Wreckers Derail a Train at Houston by Throwing a Switch.

Portland, Or., April 28.—An electric car on the Mount Tabor line jumped the track at East Morrison and Eighth streets and plunged through a bridge into a slough 25 feet below. Three bodies have been recovered. The dead are:

W. W. Blanchard, laborer.
Newton Hanson, 18 years old.
Unknown young lady.

There were 34 people in the car when the accident occurred. A number were badly bruised and cut by glass in the car windows.

The accident occurred on a bridge at the foot of a long hill. When the car arrived two blocks from the scene of the accident, the motorman lost control of the car, which was then running about 15 miles an hour. When he realized that the car was beyond his control, the motorman jumped from the car. Near the bottom there is a curve, and when the runaway car reached the curve it jumped the track.

The car ran about 40 feet, and then the bridge gave way, precipitating the car into the water.

The conductor and several passengers jumped before the crash and escaped with only a slight shaking up.

The water where the car went down was not more than five feet deep. Had the accident occurred 40 feet farther ahead it is probable that every person on the car would have been drowned, as the water is 15 feet deep.

The Work of Train Wreckers.

Houston, April 28.—Train wreckers threw the switch at Fairbanks, on the Houston and Texas Central railroad, 20 miles north of here, and the south bound passenger train ran into it, causing a smashup of the forward coaches and the derailment of the others.

H. S. Goldberg of Houston was killed.

The badly injured are: Dr. E. C. Winn of Sherman, back and leg; Walter Giles, porter, back injured.

The following were less seriously injured: Mrs. H. A. Goldberg of Houston, leg and body bruised; H. Paul Gorgie, head and leg bruised; Charles McCarthy of Wellborn, leg broken; Anton Diehl of Houston, Dean Tompkins of Dallas, J. D. Carter of Sartis, J. Cornelius of Mata Gorda, M. J. Jacobs of Brenham, W. C. Duvall of Houston and Mr. Milbur, all bruised and hurt.

Mr. Goldberg was found about 200 feet from where the coach in which he was riding stopped. He was lying in the ditch and died within 30 minutes. He was thrown through the window of the car with terrific force. His external injuries were a broken arm, shoulder and wrists, while he had evidently been driven into the ground with great force. Three attempts at wrecking have been frustrated at this place within the last year. This time the bolts of the switching apparatus had been carefully removed, so that the rails were left entirely loose, though they remained in their places.

Won't Have an English Coach.

New Haven, April 28.—It can now be asserted on the highest authority that the Yale navy management will not accept the offer of the English coach to take charge of the Yale varsity crew for the rest of this season. The offer was never seriously considered by the Yale management, and a discouraging answer was immediately returned to the coach who proffered his services.

Distinguished Incorporators, These.

Albany, April 28.—The Bowery Mission and Young Men's Home of New York city was incorporated with the secretary of state today. The incorporators include Amelia E. Barr, E. Fay Mills, T. De Witt Talmage, Henry Edwards Rowland, R. S. MacArthur, Sarah I. Bird, J. Wilbur Chapman and Stephen Merritt.

Death of a Prince of Baden.

Carlsruhe, April 28.—Prince Louis William August of Baden, brother of the Grand Duke of Baden, died at 6 o'clock this morning. He was born here in 1829, was a general of Prussian infantry and president of the first chamber of the grand duchy of Baden. He was married in 1863 to the Duchess of Leuchtenberg.

Isaigi Again Brought Up.

Boston, April 28.—J. A. Isaigi was again before Judge Blodgett in the superior criminal court and arraigned on the first count of the indictment for embezzlement against him. He pleaded not guilty. Bonds were required in the sum of $25,000, which were furnished and accepted, the same sureties being offered as on Friday last.

BIG CONFLAGRATION.

The Burning of Vessels In Port at Newport News.

SEVERAL PERSONS WERE INJURED.

Damage of Over $2,000,000 Was Done to the Shipping In the Harbor, Two Steamers and a German Ship Being Destroyed.

Newport News, Va., April 28.—Fire broke out in the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad company's pier No. 5, and before the flames were checked damage to the extent of $2,000,000 had been done. Two of the company's immense piers were destroyed, three vessels burned to the water's edge, a tugboat entirely destroyed and eight persons burned, some of them seriously.

The flames were discovered in pier 5 and spread with such rapidity that it was impossible to make any headway against them. A fierce north wind fanned the flames furiously and swept them across the docks to pier 6, which was soon also burning furiously.

The British steamer Clintonia, which was loading with oil, tobacco and general merchandise at pier 5, was soon ablaze. Tugs pulled her out into the middle of the river, where she was burned to the water line.

The Norwegian steamship Solveig, which was loading grain at pier 5, next caught. The crew managed to escape by climbing down the hawsers to the pier.

Meanwhile the Chesapeake and Ohio tug Wanderer, which had caught fire, had burned to the water's edge. The German sailing ship J. D. Bischoff, taking on staves from the north side of pier 6, also caught, and she went to the bottom.

Crews Have Narrow Escapes.

The crew of this vessel had a very narrow escape from being cremated. The large grain elevator of the Chesapeake and Ohio company was saved.

The injured so far as known are as follows: Captain Forest of the tug Wanderer, slightly burned about the face and hands; John Diggs, mate of the Wanderer, badly burned about the head and arms; Captain Krite of the ship Bischoff, perhaps fatally burned, and the boatswain of the same vessel, who was terribly burned about the arms. There are vague rumors of many persons having lost their lives, but they cannot be traced to any reliable source.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad company estimate their loss at about $300,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

The total loss, including the three ships and their cargoes, the tug Wanderer and the merchandise on the piers, will probably reach $2,000,000.

The steamship Clintonia was owned by Robinson & Sons, North Shields; the Solveig by C. M. Michelson & Sons, Bergen, and the J. D. Bischoff by J. J. Bischoff, Bremen.

HORRIBLE TALE FROM THE SEA.

Survivors From a French Vessel Are Forced to Practice Cannibalism.

St. Johns, N. F., April 28.—The French fishing vessel Vailiant, Captain Pierre, bound from St. Malo for Miquelon, struck an iceberg on the Grand banks on the 16th inst., and almost immediately foundered. She had 73 fishermen on board, and all took to the boats. Only one of these has thus far been heard from.

When she left the vessel, her complement was seven men. Three of them perished from exposure and hunger. The bodies of the first two were thrown overboard, but the survivors, in their desperation, were driven to cannibalism and ate the third. The boat was picked up by the schooner Victor Eugene, which arrived at St. Pierre yesterday. The survivors are in a shocking condition and so badly frostbitten that their arms must be amputated.

To Try For America's Cup.

London, April 28.—A dispatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Belfast says that it is believed that a yacht is about to be built in Ireland to compete not only for the Queen's cup, but for the America's cup. The yacht is to be built by a syndicate, including Mr. Gustav W. Wolff, member of parliament for East Belfast and a member of the Belfast shipbuilding firm of Harland & Wolff; the Marquis of Dufferin, the Marquis of Londonderry and Major Sharman Crawford. The new racer will fly the flag of the Royal Ulster Yacht club, of which the Marquis of Dufferin is commodore.

The Newport Has a Successful Trip.

Bath, Me., April 28.—The new gunboat Newport, which left the Bath Iron works for a preliminary run off the Maine coast to demonstrate the workings of her engines, returned to the shipyard at 5:30 p. m. yesterday. She had had a successful and smooth run over a course one mile off Southport and down to Portland harbor.

BEST WAY TO ADVERTISE.

The big advertisers of New Jersey are beginning to find out that while newspaper advertising costs more than any other kind, yet it brings more results. Posters, dodgers and streetcar signs may be cheaper, but it is foolish economy to save money in that way when 100 per cent more business would come from 50 per cent more expense by using the newspapers. —New York Tribune.

A GOVERNMENT GOOD ROAD.

New Brunswick Likely to Have an Avenue Paved at Slight Expense.

A lesson in road building is about to be given at New Brunswick by the United States Government, providing that municipality will consent to have College avenue paved at a nominal cost to the taxpayers.

Not many persons are aware that in connection with the Department of Agriculture there is a Good Roads Division, the officers of which are empowered by Congress to give practical demonstrations of the art of highway construction at experiment stations in various States. Prof. E. B. Voorhees, director of the State Experiment Station, and Dr. Austin Scott, of Rutgers College, proceeded to lay wires to have Uncle Sam's first demonstration in road building take place there. Hence the application of New Brunswick was the first to be received at Washington.

Professor Voorhees was notified by the Department of Agriculture that his request would be granted, provided the city consented to supply labor and material. The Government was to furnish stone crushers, carts, rollers and—most important of all—brains. The Professor's first intention was to have the model road laid out at the Rutgers College farm, for the benefit of the students, but there were no funds available for this project, so he picked out College avenue as the most appropriate site for the experiment. The Board of Aldermen are expected to act upon this proposition at their next meeting As they have already appropriated $4,000 to pave College avenue, and as they will get a better road for only one-third of the expense by availing themselves of the Government's offer, they are not likely to raise any obstruction to the plan.

E. G. Harrison, special agent of the Good Roads Division of the Department of Agriculture, arrived in New Brunswick on Saturday to lay the matter before the City Fathers. The Government undertaking is to lay from half a mile to a mile of macadam, sixteen feet wide and eight inches deep. But College avenue is so wide that it remains to be seen how the work will be equalized. Mr. Harrison recommends that the thoroughfare be narrowed and the sidewalks extended, by which, he contends, the general effect would not be marred in the least.

SAYS SHE STABBED HERSELF.

Chalbi Testifies and States That His Spouse Held the Fatal Knife.

The State rested its case in the Chalbi murder case yesterday morning, and the defence occupied the entire afternoon. The defendant was on the stand about two hours, and made a very ingenious witness.

His story was that his wife made the assault upon him. He said she had been drinking, and made a dash at him with a knife in her hand. He caught her wrist, he said, and in the scuffle that followed they fell. He said he did not touch the knife, but the point was turned toward his wife and her weight caused it to pierce her breast. He was so frightened that he did not know what he did with the knife. His wife went out soon after, and he left the house, and before he knew what he was up in the mountains.

The defence showed that Chalbi's wife had repeatedly assaulted him and had several times used a knife. She was much the larger.

The trial was continued this morning, and the lawyers for the defence, John Freck and George Anderson, and Prosecutor Dungan summed up. The Court took a recess at noon, and then Judge Magie charged the jury. The jury then retired to their room, where they are as the paper goes to press.

—Mrs. John H. Doane, of LaGrande avenue, has bought the double house, 13 and 15 College place, now occupied by J. J. Shotwell and C. P. Craig, of Mrs. H. E. Cramer, of Watchung avenue, and a number of improvements will be made at once.

BARRY ARRESTED.

He is Alleged to Have Been One of Kelly's Assailants.

Act two was played this morning in the little drama in which ex Police-Nicholas Kelly, John Neuman and John Barry were the principal characters. The story of the first act, the assault of Kelly alleged to have been committed by the other two, Monday evening, was told in yesterday's Press.

At first it was said that the assault was committed by Neuman alone, but now it is alleged that John Barry was prominent in it also. Patrolman Totten was sent out after Barry, this morning, and finally found him near his home on West Third street. He was arrested and locked up in the rookery to await a hearing this afternoon before City Judge DeMeza.

The manager of the Willis' saloon states that Kelly did not come from his saloon on Monday evening.

Thrown from a Buggy.

W. H. Drayton and Garriett Wood, of this city, met with an accident while returning from Campbell's road house, yesterday afternoon. Just as they were driving away, the horse turned too short and both were thrown out of the buggy. Wood caught the horse before any damage was done. Drayton's trousers caught on the buggy as he was thrown out and were a complete wreck.

Board Fence on Fire.

In some mysterious manner a high board fence in the rear of Putnam & DeGraw's dry goods store on West Front street, caught fire today noon and for awhile it burned furiously. The fire was discovered by Frank Putnam, and he, together with the aid of some friends succeeded in putting the fire out with fifteen pails of water.

ACROSTICS FOR BABIES.

Makes Her Living by Writing Memorials for Sorrowing Parents.

The thought of earning a living by writing acrostics on dead babies' names would certainly neveh have occurred to any but a genius; and such is Miss Margaret Graham, of New York. It seems strange that a young woman should take up so grewsome a calling. Mature years and the loss of a little one would seem more likely to suggest such thoughts, but Miss Graham is still on the pleasant side of thirty, with an affable manner, and a dash of fun, utterly unsuggestive of her calling.

In speaking of her present work, Miss Graham said that she had drifted into it without any thought of making it a business, but the substantial remuneration from the grateful parents and the fast-increasing demand for her work caused her to change her mind.

From early childhood the knack of rhyming has seemed a part of her nature. Most of her childish requests were made in rhyme. As she grew older she rhymed for the pleasure it gave her children friends. About two years ago a young married couple in Philadelphia lost a little one, and, as Miss Graham had been fond of the child, she was requested to write a few lines which the parents might keep in memory of their lost child. She wrote the verses extolling the graces and perfections of her little friend. The initial letters of the lines formed the baby's name.

From this beginning grew the present business and now hardly a day passes that she does not receive a request from some bereaved father or mother for a commemorative acrostic.—New York Journal.

How an Owl Saved a Train.

Owls are by common consent adjudged to be birds of ill-omen, but Engineer Ned Barnett of the Santa Fe says he happens to know that they are anything but that, and tells the following story to prove his assertions:

One morning as the east-bound overland was pulling through the mountains west of here, Barnett's engine doing the work, a big horn-beaked owl dashed against the front window of the cab with such force as to break the window, the bird itself dropping dead at the engineer's feet. Though Barnett is not, generally speaking, a superstitious man, this seemed so singular an occurrence that he stopped the train and sent a brakeman ahead to see if the way was clear. Strange to relate, the brakeman soon returned, reporting a landslide across the track in the mountain pass, about a hundred yards ahead. Hands were sent at once to clear the track, and in removing the debris they found another owl, no doubt mate to the first, caught in the crotch of an uprooted tree, crushed to death in the fall.—Philadelphia Times.

The present cold wave has caused many people to start up their heaters and furnaces, and the demand for coal is equally as great as it was earlier in the season.

Mayor Brakely reports the health of the borough as first-rate at the present time. There are a few isolated cases of measles, and this is about the only sickness in the borough at the present time. The quarantine has been taken from the house of the Hungarian family where scarlet fever existed.

Too much care and precaution can not be exercised in the location of kerosene lamps. Blimm Bros., of Paff's Hotel, has an improved lamp which hangs from a bracket in the barroom. Saturday night while one of the proprietors was busy the lamp blazed up, thus setting fire to the wooden ceiling. Water was handy and the flames were soon extinguished, but not until some two feet or more of the ceiling had been burned to a crisp.

BROKE GROUND FO A FACTORY

Progress That is Being Made at the New Town of Lincoln.

Today the work of staking out the land for excavating the foundation for the big factory of the Lincoln Steel Works is being done at Lincoln. This factory will be 300 feet long, 35 feet wide, with a cross section building 100x55.

This factory will be completed and work will be commenced August 1st. Over 250 men will be employed.

This means that a large amount of money in salaries will be paid weekly.

While undoubtedly a great deal of this will be expended at Lincoln something like $1,500 to $2,000 should be expended among the merchants of this city.

The Franklin Manufacturing Company, now of South Bound Brook, expect to begin work on their factory at Lincoln about June 1st.

The new issue of time table of the Central Railroad has the new town down with its train service.

THEATRICAL.

Tonight at Music Hall, Miss Loraine Hollis will commence an engagement of four nights and Saturday matinee. The opening bill will be "Mr. Barnes of New York," with all the original scenery, properties and effects. Miss Loraine Hollis is supported by a company of unusual excellence, every member being an artist of recognized ability. Of Miss Hollis herself too much cannot be said in her praise. Formerly a member of Augustin Daly's company she has developed into a star of most dazzling brilliancy. She has proven herself a most dramatic genius and a charming, womanly woman. So thoroughly does she imbue her audience with the idea that they are witnessing a thrilling drama in real life and not a mere piece of acting, and so completely does she sink her identity, that she shows herself to be an artist of exceptional fine ability. Her repertoire will include besides "Mr. Barnes of New York," "Forget-me-not," "The Arabian Nights," and "The Tigress." The company will play at popular prices for the first time this season.

The Pipe Exploded.

While the members composing the household of William Betts, of East Second street, were engaged in social conversation at the home of the above-named gentleman, on Sunday last, one of the party, Henry Jackson, thought to take things more comfortable, and therefore decided to take a smoke. Now it appears that Henry had received a present of a pair of trousers, in one of the pockets of which, it would seem from subsequent events, a lone cartridge nestled. This was unknown to Henry at the time, for in loading his pipe with tobacco, he also put in the bullet. He had not been smoking long ere a loud report was heard. The cartridge had exploded. Mr. Jackson turned pale, but luckily escaped injury. Mr. Betts said "We dun look fo' dat bullet, bu couldn't find it nowhar." Mr. Betts also declared that the bullet whistled by his ear, and that all had a close shave. Jackson has not smoked a pipe since.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity.

The Bayard estate was sold at 2 o'clock this afternoon at public auction.

Westfield Building and Loan Association held a special meeting last evening.

The ladies of the Methodist church hold their prayer meeting in the parlors of the M. E. church tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. H. E. Ferris, of this town, was married today to Miss M. E. Huff, of New York. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents. Besides his relatives a number of Mr. Ferris' friends from here attended the wedding.

Central Council, No. 31, Jr. O. U. A. M., has an immense large flag, which it always flings to the breeze on patriotic occasions. Yesterday afternoon the flag was run up the Council's flagstaff and the wind was so strong that the flag was badly rent. It was hauled down and a smaller one put up in its place.

The officers of the Central Railroad have several feeble efforts to break up the gang of loafers around the depot at night, especially Saturday and Sunday nights. There are a few men and boys, that hang around on the outside, lounging on the baggage trucks, using obscene language and making uncomplimentary remarks as the people go up and down the stairway, or come around to the waiting room. This gang seldom ventures outside. There are those who do, however. Conspicuous among these is a girl, called "Negro Mary." Mary is a young colored woman with a penchant for strong drink and foul language. There is scarcely a night that Mary does not loiter about the depot and use language unfit for any one to hear. She pays no attention to the night operator and at times makes things quite lively round about midnight. The Town Committee has a constable on duty every Saturday night, but he apparently doesn't go near the depot.

A Bike Wagon.

A. C. Vail, of West Eighth street, has one of the best stables of fast horses in the city, and he is well known for having all the latest up-to-date equipments. He has received his new "bike" wagon, which is something new of its kind. It is a road wagon, run on four small bicycle wheels similar to those of the bicycle sulky, and is very light. Mr. Vail has had a number of his fast horses out on the track at the Gentlemen's Driving Park attached to the new wagon, which has been found to be very easy going.

A Public Meeting.

"Negro Education in the Black Belt of the South" will be the subject of a public meeting to be held in the Crescent Avenue church tomorrow evening, beginning at eight o'clock. The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. L. N. Calloway, of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, at Tuskegee, Ala. There will be a quartette from the same school which will sing several selections.

Thankful Hearts.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their sympathy and help so kindly tendered us during our late bereavement. NICHOLAS AND FRANCIS JOSEPH

The Emperors of Russia and Au tria Meet at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, April 28.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austro-Hungary has conferred high decorations upon several of the Russian grand dukes and ministers of state. He has appointed the Grand Duke Nicholas honorary commander of a Hungarian regiment.

Last evening the czar received Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, who had previously conferred with Count Muravieff, the Russian foreign minister, and M. de Witte, the Russian minister of finance. Later his majesty entertained Emperor Francis Joseph, Count Goluchowski, Count Muravieff and M. de Witte, together with the foreign embassadors, at a banquet in the winter palace. Two hundred and twenty-three guests were present. The two emperors occupied the central positions at the table, which was arranged in the form of a horseshoe, and toasted each other amid great enthusiasm. The floral display was very elaborate, and the magnificent plate of the Russian imperial household was used for the service.

The czar, in toasting the Emperor Francis Joseph, said:

"We are greatly rejoiced at the presence of your majesty among us. I feel impelled to thank you for this fresh proof of the sincere friendship which unites us. Our friendship is strengthened by the community of our views and principles, which aim to assure to our people all the benefits of peace. Your majesty is aware of the warm sentiments I entertain for you and of the very special value I place upon the complete solidity between us in pursuit of this great aim. I drink to the health of your majesty, the health of the empress and of the whole imperial family."

The Emperor Francis Joseph, replying to the czar, said in part:

"I am deeply touched by this hearty and warm greeting and by the many attentions we have received since we crossed the border of your state. I shall always consider myself happy in being able to count upon your support; and, with a firm conviction that the success of our joint efforts is assured, I drink to the health of your majesty and the imperial family."

HAWAIIAN RECIPROCITY.

Claus Spreckels Says That the Benefits Are Not Equally Enjoyed.

San Francisco, April 28. — Claus Spreckels has every reason to believe, he says in an interview, that the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty will be abrogated: He says:

"I claim, and existing facts will bear me out fully, that the treaty in force between this country and Hawaii is reciprocal in name only, and that all the advantages arising under it are enjoyed by Hawaii, or rather the foreigners residing there.

"At the present time the balance between the United States and Hawaii is $8,000,000 per annum, and no effort is made by the Hawaiian government to encourage more trading with the United States. On the contrary, everything that is done tends to the encouragement of trade with other countries—notably Canada, Germany and England.

"They have even withdrawn the subsidy formerly paid to the Ocean Steamship company, an American line which has done more to develop the islands than any other transportation company. The statement that the American shipping engaged in this traffic has a valuation of $18,000,000 is untrue. The custom house records show that the value of all vessels carrying between this port and Hawaii will not exceed $2,000,000.

"If we continue the treaty, it will be equivalent to putting at least $15,000,000 annually into the pockets of a number of German and English sugar producers and the coolies they employ instead of keeping this vast amount of money in this country to be distributed among our farmers and the people employed in our sugar plantations, factories and refineries.

Ashore During a Storm.

Toronto, April 28.—During a storm on the lake five vessels at the eastern end of Lake Ontario went aground or ashore, all loaded heavily with grain, and soon after another went ashore. The mammoth steel steamer Rosedale was driven ashore in the narrows of the St. Lawrence just below Clayton. Four barges loaded with 100,000 bushels of grain from Kingston for Montreal ran ashore at Johnston's light, and one sank in 100 feet of water. The others are aground and half filled with water. The steel steamer Bannockburn, laden with 60,000 bushels of corn, ran on the rocks near Snake island light about nine miles from Kingston.

Murderer's Father Visits Him.

Dover, N. H., April 28.—Michael Kelley, father of Joseph E. Kelley, has arrived from Amesbury and visited the self confessed murderer in the Dover jail. He was accompanied by another son, F. M. Kelley. The meeting between father and son was particularly affecting, although little or no reference was made to the awful deed. The father inquired if counsel had been retained, and Joe replied that he had conferred with James H. Edgerly of Somersworth. Kelley has recovered his appetite and sleeps well.

Killed While Watching Workmen.

Providence, April 28.—An unknown man, who was watching the work going on at the new building owned by Sheparo & Co., on Clemens street, was struck by the ring of a hoisting boom and fatally injured. The man died on the way to the hospital.

Lake Navigation to Open.

Toronto, April 28.—Lake captains received official notice that the Lachine canal would be open on Saturday. Many boats which have been waiting for this order will leave for Montreal on that day.

Strike Amicably Adjusted.

Manchester, N. H., April 28.—Fifty striking sorters at the Manchester mills returned to their places in the mills, the strike having been amicably adjusted.

Gold Seekers In Peru.

Lima, April 28.—Seven experienced American gold miners, who have just arrived here from San Francisco, will start at once for the gold mines of Carabaya, in the department of Puno.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

TALK OF REVOLUTION

Outcome of Greco-Turkish War May Be a Hellenic Republic.

MANOS GAINS VICTORIES IN EPIRUS

Excitement and Indignation Over Greek Reverses In Thessaly Continues In Athens—Harcourt Denounces England's Cretan Policy.

Athens, April 28.—Popular feeling points to a revolution in favor of a republic. The citizens are greatly excited at the revelations made by Former Minister Ralli as to the conduct of the campaign. Large meetings have been held in Constitution square and other places of public resort, and fiery harangues have been delivered by well known orators in denunciation of "those who would betray Greece."

Five hundred men formed themselves into a volunteer body, forced their way into the gunsmith shops, armed themselves with rifles and revolvers and paraded the street in front of M. Ralli's residence. Several deputies addressed them, exhorting them to remain calm and to await the progress of events. Finally they proceeded to the royal palace, where, after making a demonstration, they dispersed without further disorder, but the incident has made a great sensation.

The Campaign In Epirus.

Athens, April 28.—Colonel Manos has telegraphed from Arta as follows:

"Fighting has been in progress at Pentepighadia since morning. The result is not known here. The Greek troops occupied stronger positions in the pass. Another engagement took place at Plaka, the result of which is not yet known, since the enemy maintains his position, though the Greek artillery has inflicted great damage at the villages of Kalentzi and Fortosi, where the Turks were concentrated. The Turks left the route from Pentepighadia to Janina open. The Greek cavalry reconnoitered without encountering the enemy until about eight hours' ride from Pentepighadia, when they met 300 Turks, who fired upon the Greeks, though without effect.

"The Turks have abandoned the entire Lourches valley and the country around Souli. The situation at Prevesa is satisfactory. The Turks appear to be much discouraged, and their garrison has been diminished by wholesale desertions. We need re-enforcements and mountain batteries. We have captured large quantities of ammunition, especially for artillery use, in the positions abandoned by the Turks."

The End Apparently Near.

London, April 28.—The News publishes a dispatch from Athens saying the people there are frightfully incensed at the retreat of the troops. The dispatch further states that the bitterness against King George and his government is intensified by the news that the Greek army in Epirus has been ordered to suspend operations, pending reconsideration of the situation by the ministers. Continuing, the dispatch says: "Indeed it looks probable that tomorrow will see the end of the whole business. There is reason to believe the government is contemplating the withdrawal of the Greek troops from Crete and an appeal to the powers to settle the troubles."

The correspondent of The Times at Athens says:

"The popular ferment has been partly allayed by the dismissal of Constantine's staff, though the more violent section of the press still demands that the Crown Prince and Prince Nicholas be recalled. These newspapers do not say what would be gained by inflicting such humiliation upon the princes. It could not have been expected that at their ages and with their inexperience of actual warfare they would suddenly display a heaven born genius for strategy. The fault lies elsewhere, but it is not easy to say where. The number of scrapegoats is certainly large enough."

The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at Athens says:

"I am at liberty to affirm that King George emphatically repudiates all responsibility for the precipitate retreat of the army. He asserts that he received a telegram from his aid-de-camp, Colonel Sapountsake, asking him to allow the retreat. The king replied, 'I am at Athens and cannot form an adequate judgment as to what should be done in Thessaly; whereas you are on the spot, acquainted with all the data and therefore in a position to act according to the circumstances of the case. Exercise your best discretion.'"

Harcourt's Severe Criticism.

London, April 28.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, leader of the Liberal party in the house of commons, addressed a large and important meeting of Welsh Liberal electors last night at Abertillery. Discussing Cretan affairs, he declared that Great Britain had never before occupied a position of which she had so much reason to be ashamed. "The union of Crete and Greece," he said, "is the proper ultimate solution of the difficulty. If that had been permitted, there would have been no war. The powers are only anxious to preserve Turkish integrity as long as it suits themselves. The whole integrity formula is a sham. It has been said that a ukase has gone forth to let Greece perish. If that is the decision of England, and if the concert of Europe results in the doom of freedom in Greece, it will arouse in the breasts of all Englishmen sentiments of the sternest indignation and the deepest disgust."

Russians Pleased With Greek Reverses.

St. Petersburg, April 28.—In political circles here pleasure is experienced at the defeat of the Greeks, as it is looked upon as calculated to avert dangerous complications in the Balkans, which might have jeopardized the peace of Europe.

Ministerial Crisis In Greece.

London, April 28.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Paris says that the Greek cabinet has resigned.

Italians Go to Aid Greece.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Miss Ella Boice, of Dunellen, has purchased a Spalding wheel from Rogers, the North avenue cycle dealer.

Ralph Tolles, of Westervelt avenue, temporarily lost his wheel yesterday. It was returned to him soon afterward by the person who borrowed it.

Staten Island with its many good roads has been a favorite resort for the wheelmen of New York and Brooklyn but the difficulties of reaching it from this part of New Jersey has heretofore prevented the majority of the wheelmen of Plainfield and vicinity from visiting it. The authorities of Middlesex county are now preparing to open that district to the riders of Jersey by the building of a good macadam road from Perth Amboy to Metuchen to connect with the present system of good roads Perth Amboy is just across the Staten Island Sound from Tottenville, Staten Island, one end of the fine system of roads that cover that island, and a ferry boat connects to two places.

Up to this time, the road between Perth Amboy and Metuchen has been very sandy and the only path for bicycles was a narrow sidepath, which was never in particularly good condition. Only a very good rider cared to venture there and to such the ride offered very little attraction. With a good macadamized road there all would be different. Plainfielders would take a spin to Perth as they now go to New Brunswick or Springfield, for Perth Amboy is only twelve miles from this city, and there would be the special attraction in the Raritan river which is of sufficient width there to make sailing delightful. Boynton Beach has been a favorite resort for cyclists who wished to enjoy the pleasures of sailing and swimming but with a good road Perth Amboy would be a strong rival to Boynton Beach. Then it would open up Staten Island with its excellent roads and cyclists who are now at a loss for some new ride would have plenty of chances.

About three miles of the road, beginning at Perth Amboy, has been torn up ready for the new surface while the hills are being graded. The rest of the road will be started at once and it is planned to finish the work and have the road in good condition this spring, if possible.

INS AND OUTS.

The students at Leal's School have two nines in the field this season, a first and a second. The first team played with the High School team and won by one run. Since then Captain Bert Stevenson has been trying to schedule games with various school nine in the vicinity, but without success. A challenge was sent to the Rutgers Preparatory School, but they had their schedule complete for the season. Such was the reply Stevenson received yesterday from the captain of the Pennington Institute nine.

The Plainfield Athletic Club will open its base ball season next Saturday afternoon at Whitestone, L. I., playing against the strong Hart Athletic Association of that place. The Hart Athletic Association has one of strongest semi-professional teams in the metropolitan district but the Plainfield boys are confident they will make a good showing, and expect to win the game. Winn and Erickson will be the battery for the P. A. C. The rest of the team will be about as follows: Symons, 1 b.; Cooney or Freeman, 2 b.; Firstbrook, 3 b; Moran, s. s.; Fleming, l. f.; Case, c. f.; Dederick, r. f. Miner, extra.

Two games in the baseball league of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association have been played so far this season. The schedule for the rest is as follows:

Saturday, May 1st, Plainfield High School vs. Pingry's School, at Plainfield; Newark Academy vs Montclair High School, at Newark; Wednesday, May 5th, Stevens vs. High, at Plainfield; Friday, May 7th, Montclair High vs. Stevens, at Hoboken; Saturday, May 8th, Plainfield High vs. East Orange High, at Plainfield; Monday, May 10th, Newark Academy vs. Pingry's, at Elizabeth; Wednesday, May 12th, Pingry vs. East Orange High, at Elizabeth; Stevens vs. Newark Academy, at Hoboken; Saturday, May 15th, Montclair High vs. Pingry's at Montclair; Wednesday, May 19th, East Orange High vs. Stevens at Hoboken; Wednesday, May 26th, East Orange High vs. Newark Academy, at East Orange; Saturday, May 29th, Montclair High vs. Plainfield High, at Montalair.

All the Saturday games will be played in the morning and the week day games in the afternoon. A glance at the schedule shows that it was arranged rather poorly, for all the games that the Plainfield High School team plays at home are crowded in the short space of eight days when they might have very advantageously been stretched over a period of three weeks to the great advantage of the local players. The High School boys expect to make enough money from these games to partially pay the expenses of the team, but they cannot expect good support when the games are rushed together in such a fashion. It is not the fault of the local management, however, that such a schedule was made, but of the baseball committee of the state association.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

Mr. Right, who has recently purchased the Webb King farm on the road leading from Dog Corner to Park avenue, it is understood, will go into the breeding of trotters quite extensively, and his many friends wish him every success in his new venture and hope he may be able to raise the two-minute trotter.

North Plainfield will not have to take a back seat this year, as Nute Smalley has two crack-a-jacks, in Ned Norton, 2:12, (the boss of the snow path) and his fast-pacing mare that he bought at the Alcott sale last fall; while his brother Will has another pacer that is reported to be very fast. These, with other good ones owned by Mr. Crusen and the Messrs Emmons, make the road riders of the borough a very strong brigade.

The horses that belong to Mr. Maltby, of Plainfield avenue, are all in good condition and are receiving their early work over the home track.

R. A. Fairburn's handsome stallion, Baron Rose, 2:20¼, is very fine, and Westfield can claim the handsomest horse in the state. This norse is booked to go a race against Sidmut, Mr. Johnson's stallion, which will probably take place in the near future, as John Osborne is ready with Sidmut at any time.

Douglas Darby's candidate for the coming club races will probably be a little short of work to start up just yet on account of Mr. Darby's recent illness, but now that he is out and about again he will probably get him in shape as soon as possible.

James Arkell, of Westfield, has decided to drive his fast pacer, Roger, on the road.

Myers Hodge, of Finderne, who owns the very promising mare, Alcetta, by Robert M, one of the best sons of the great Alcyone, will probably be at the track on Tuesday to see the sport.

Morris Higgins, of South Plainfield, still has his fast mare, Minnie B, and is preparing her for the coming events.

WHIST.

At the suggestion of T. E. Otis, the president of the New Jersey Whist Association, the Woman's Whist Club, of Newark, was organized Wednesday. Officers and committees were elected. A delegation was appointed to represent the club in the Woman's Whist Congress at Philadelphia. Representatives of whist clubs in Orange, Rutherford and East Orange, were present at Wednesday's meeting and promised to help organize a State association.

BASKET BALL.

It was expected that last Friday's game would close the season for the local association as far as basket ball was concerned, but the second team of the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. was very anxious to schedule a game with a Plainfield team ere the season closed, and so the second team of the Plainfield association will meet them in this city on Friday evening of this week. The regular team and the team from the business men's class have ended the season, however.

THE CITY'S POSITION

now awaiting the Governor's approval, repeals the act first cited in this paragraph. Should the Governor fail to approve the repealer it will be necessary for the city to provide for a charter election to be held on the second Tuesday of April, 1898. It will also be important, in that case, to secure additional legislation before the election is held, so as to provide at what time the officers to be then elected to the Common Council or other positions shall enter upon the discharge of their respective duties. If the Governor should approve the repealed above referred to, the City Charter will then govern the time for holding municipal elections in this city as heretofoee, unless the Common Council shall deem it wise to avail of an act approved in 1892, (Gen. St. p. 499, pl. 197,) whereby the Council has authority to change the date of the charter or municipal election to the second Tuesday of April.

Annexed to this communication is a copy of the act which was passed for the relief of this city.

There are a number of other laws on the Statute Books which may may affect us, but the above are the most important and have been called to my attention by the Corporation Counsel, and in any important matter he should be consulted before taking definite action.

Holding myself in readiness to cooperate with your Honorable Body in any manner needful for the best interests of the city, I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

Charles J. Fisk, Mayor.

HE DREW THE LINE

And Asked the Court for a Divorce From His Loving Wife.

An attorney from North Carolina told this among a good many other professional experiences:

"Though our mountain people are not educated, no Yankee can beat them in a dicker or go after a dollar with greater avidity A rich young fellow from our place went up among them for a time to take on some health, and while there paid more attention than he really meant to one of the few beauties that live there. She was a creature of magnificent proportions, naturally brilliant, and as relentless of purpose as any moonshiner that ever went after a revenue officer. She sought to recover $10,000 for breach of promise, and I had the young man's case.

"On the trial the girl made a star witness. When I asked her point-blank if he had ever proposed to her, she replied that he had not, in so many words, but his every action, look, even his tones, were a proposal. She admitted that she had not gone into a decline because of his inconstancy, but graphically pictured months of agony, unrequited longing, and wounded pride. It looked bad for us.

"At this stage of the case a lank six-footer from the mountains came to me and whispered that he wanted to be called as my first witness. He sternly refused to answer questions till on the stand, but reckoned that his word was good that he would pull the young fellow through.

"All I ever asked him was his name, and you couldn't have stopped him with a gun. He was the girl's husband. He had married her a week after the young man left the mountains. He had consented to her bringing the suit in her maiden name, and saying nothing about her being a wife. 'But if it's so,' he roared, 'that she's been a mournin' an' a pinin' an' a dyin' afteh this heah dude critteh, I ask th' cow't fuh a divo'ce.'

The girl rushed to his arms. She sobbed that she never loved another. The case was won for me, but the young man never goes to the mountains or makes any miscellaneous bestowal of his affections."—Detroit Free Press.

A Bloodhound's Keen Scent.

A remarkable exhibition of the keenness of scent of the bloodhound was given at the little town of Bronson, in Allen county, the other day. The town recently appropriated $100 out of the city treasury for the purchase of one of these animals, the purpose being the detention and capture of thieves who were operating in the neighborhood, and a test of the hound was considered desirable. At noon three men started out on foot and walked four miles into the country. Then they mounted horses, and by a circuitous route returned to the town. Six hours later the hound was permitted to smell a glove which had been worn by one of the men, and the next instant, with a deep howl, he caught up the trail and followed it on the run. At one point the men had walked for thirty yards on a fence, and when the hound came to this point he carried his nose along the rail with hardly any reduction of speed. Coming to the place where the men had mounted, he took up the trail of the horses and followed it into town, where in a crowd of more than 100 men he picked out the one whose glove had been given him to smell.—Kansas City Journal.

Tennyson Needed His Pipe

Max Muller, in his reminiscences of Tennyson, says the poet wanted thawing out—had to be "smoking a pipe, sipping whiskey and water"—before he was genial. Once he summoned all his will and pitched his pipes and tobacco out of the window. "For a day he was most charming, though somewhat self-righteous. The second day he became very moody and captious; the third day no one knew what to do with him. But after a disturbed night I was told that he got out of bed in the morning, went quickly into the garden, picked up one of his broken pipes, stuffed it with the remnants of the tobacco scattered about, and then, having had a few puffs, came to breakfast all right again. Nothing more was said about giving up tobacco."

Crummer—Why, you have a cold, haven't you?"

Gilleland—Sh-h-h. Dob't tell anywoh. De cold ish bad enoughbt widoubt gettin' cures foh it. Kerchoo! kerchoo! a-kerchoo!—Boston Herald.

PAINLESS

DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

FELL OFF A FREIGHT CAR.

SERIOUS INJURIES RECEIVED BY A CENTRAL RAILROAD BRAKEMAN.

William Shanefeldt was the Unfortunate Man—Brought to the Muhlenberg Hospital, Where He is in a Precarious State.

As the east bound passenger train, leaving Bound Brook at 4:35 o'clock, this morning, was pulling out of that station, one of the train crew saw the body of a man lying between the tracks. The train was stopped and it was found to be a brakeman on a freight train which had passed that way during the night. The man was unconscious when discovered but soon recovered enough to say that he had fallen from the top of a car while walking along one and had fallen to the ground where he had remained until found. He gave his name as William Shanefeldt, of Coldport, Pa.

He was placed in the baggage car and word was sent to Plainfield to have the ambulance to convey him to the hospital. The ambulance was on hand and Shanefeldt was taken to the Muhlenberg hospital. His head was badly cut but the doctors were unable to tell at once the extent of his injuries.

Shanefeldt is still in an unconscious condition and the physicians in charge at the hospital are unable to determine the extent of his injuries. It is feared, however, that his skull is fractured, owing to his prolonged unconsciousness. Shanefeldt is 32 years old and has a wife and two children. They have been notified of the accident.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

MISS CAROLINE ERIKSEN MARRIED TO FREDERICK SCHREINER.

The Ceremony Performed by Rev. Mr. Braker, of Scotch Plains, at the Home of the Bride in Netherwood.

One of the prettiest of home weddings was celebrated last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeppe Eriksen, of South avenue, when their daughter, Miss Caroline Eriksen, and Frederick Schreiner, of Scotch Plains, were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. Braker, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The bride was attractive in a gown of brown cloth trimmed with silk, and she carried a shower-bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor, Miss Caroline Borrup, of Netherwood, was gowned in white crepe trimmed with lace and ribbons. Emily Schreiner, sister of the groom, and Mamie Eriksen, sister of the bride, were flower girls, and both were prettily gowned in white swiss trimmed with blue ribbons, and they carried bouquets of pink roses. They preceded the bridal pair and maid of honor. The best man was James Eriksen, brother of the bride.

A shower of congratulations followed the ceremony, after which a sumptuous wedding supper was served to all. This pleasing feature of the happy event was complete in every detail and all to be desired. During the evening some excellent vocal and instrumental music was rendered and the guests passed a pleasant time in a sociable manner. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Schreiner were both costly and useful.

The table was attractively decorated with choice roses arranged in a pleasing manner. There was also a large banquet lamp on the table which gave an additional charm to the scene. Those who were present to witness the marriage included Mr. and Mrs. Jeppe Eriksen, father and mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Schreiner, father and mother of the groom; Mrs. Petersen, Mrs. Winters, Henry Winters, Miss Klemser, Miss Balser, Miss Kluckas, Miss Frederickson, Miss Sorensen, Miss Anna Borrup, Mr. and Mrs. Borrup, Frank Klemser, George Klemser, Edward Eriksen, Mr. Sorensen, Ras Krogg, Andrew Krogg, Peter Krogg, of Netherwood; Miss Frank, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Schreiner will take up their residence in Netherwood, so the groom will be near his work, which is in this city.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE

THE VERDICT BROUGHT IN AGAINST JO CHALBI.

The Jury Out Since Yesterday Afternoon Reported at 1:30 o'Clock Today —To Be Sentenced at a Later Date.

Jo Chalbi, the Italian who was accused of stabbing his wife in their little shanty in Bound Brook, last winter, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, this afternoon. The trial has been going on for the last two days and has been an exciting one in many respects.

The defence made a strong fight claiming that Chalbi's wife had stabbed herself in an effort to assault her husband. Lawyer Frecht and Anderson conducted the defence in a very able manner. Prosecutor Nelson Y. Dungan represented the county in the case and brought some very strong points to bear. His case was ably conducted.

The jury was charged yesterday afternoon and retired at once. They remained out all night and did not come in until this morning at 10:30 and appeared before Judge Magie at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and the foreman announced that they had found the prisoner guilty of murder in the first degree. The verdict caused a great sensation.

VISITED BY A BURGLAR.

PETTY DEPREDATIONS COMMITTED IN THE WEST END LAST NIGHT.

Altogether the Intruder Managed to Appropriate $16.20 in Cash, But Left Jewelry and Silverware Behind—No Clue

The burglar who has been working here for some time continued his depredations on the outskirts of the city last evening, and entered four residences in the vicinity of Sherman and Clinton avenues. Two of the houses were just inside of the city limits beyond the lines of the police, and the other two were just over the county line in Middlesex county. From the places selected, it is evident that the burglar is quite conversant with the city. Altogether he managed to appropriate $16.20 in cash, but left jewelry and silverware behind. There is no clue to his identity.

It is supposed that Sherman avenue was the first scene of his operations. It might be remarked that the police are now satisfied that there is not a gang of men at work, but that one individual, who probably resides somewhere in the West End, which may be judged from the fact that he has confined his operations lately to that neighborhood, has been committing the series of petty robberies that have so aroused the housekeepers of the city.

The residence of William Hillman, of Sherman avenue, was visited. The stranger gained entrance through the kitchen window by slipping back the latch with a knife, the marks of which still remain on the paint. By the window was a table on which was a coffee-pot, several pans and other kitchen utensils. The midnight visitor had carefully removed these articles and left them sitting on the back piazza while he climed in the window. They were found there this morning when the family descended. The burglar was unable to gain entrance to the rest of the house as all the doors to the kitchen were locked and so he carefully departed by the kitchen-door, leaving it open.

His next visit was to the residence of Frank E. Kinsman, next door. His reception there was somewhat different. Mr. Kinsman is an electrician and had arranged a system of burglar alarms that went off when ever a window was opened and the burglar alarm was turned on. Happily, the alarm was turned on last evening, for when the burglar slipped over the catch to the window in the parlor and carefully raised the sash, a number of bells all over the house ran a loud warning The stranger departed in haste.

Mrs. Kinsman was awakened by the sound and went downstairs to investigate, to find that his midnight visitor had left in a hurry and neglected to close the window.

The burglar's next visitor was more successful. He entered the parlor of the residence of C. C. Pierson, on Clinton avenue, just across the city and county line into Middlesex county, in the usual way by unfastening the catch with a knife and then opening the window. The depredator ransacked the first floor, but did not venture above into any of the sleeping apartments. He emptied the contents of the buffet drawers and found there a small pocketbook containing twenty cents in change. He appropriated the money, but left the pocketbook. The silverware was not touched. He departed by the kitchen door, leaving it open.

Mr. Rogers lives in the next house and also received a visit from the burglar, who at last found something worth going after. He entered by the parlor window, as in the other cases, and wandered about the first floor. In a desk he found Mrs. Rogers pocketbook containing a dollar bill. The bill was taken but the pocketbook left. In another drawer of the desk was $15 belonging to Mr. Rogers. That was also appropriated without loss of time. A pair of diamond cuff buttons lay in plain sight but they were not disturbed, so it was evident that all the stranger was after was the good hard cash. He then walked through the kitchen and departed by the door to that room, leaving the door open as usual.

In none of the three houses which were successfully entered did the occupants hear the unbidden guest, but he was allowed to go through his operations down stairs without molestation. He did not leave his card or any other means of identifying him, so his identity still remains a mystery.

Hand Painted Tile.

There is on exhibition at the store of Curtis M. Thorpe, 310 and 312 Park avenue, a very unique set of hand painted fire place tile. The set is illuminated with illustrations from the familiar mother goose rhymes. It is the work of Miss Anna Vreeland, of Second street, and is certainly a great credit to the artist. Call and see it.

THE ALHAMBRA CLUB MEMBERS ENTERTAINED YESTERDAY.

Each Member Took Some Part in the Programme as Long as the Faggots Blazed Right Merrily in the Fireplace.

Gathered about the open fire, the ten members of the Alhambra Club spent yesterday afternoon in entertaining one another while the faggots burned merrily in the grate and, when the blaze had died away and the last faggot turned to ashes, they departed pronouncing the "Faggot Party" an unqualified success.

The Alhambra Club is composed of ten young women of the city and borough who, at the suggestion of Miss Julia J. Ketcham, meet together at the home of one of their number every week and read from some standard work. The object is purely a literary one although the members occasionally entertain their friends for an evening. The club has spent the winter in reading Knickerbocker's History of New York by Washington Irving and at the meeting of the club, last week, the book was concluded. While waiting to decide upon the next book to be read, Miss Julia J. Ketcham entertained the members of the club at a "Faggot Party," given at her home on East Fifth street, yesterday afternoon.

With such a delightful afternoon in prospect, every one of the members came at the appointed hour. Miss Edith L. Pruden was the first called upon to entertain the rest and, while her faggot burned, she recited a parody.

In her turn, Miss Ellen Osgood showed a number of colored views of life and scenery in Japan gathered by her grandfather during his late trip through that country. They were passed from hand to hand and admired until the faggot disappeared in a heap of ashes.

Miss Katheryn Van Rensselaer Nevius brought, by request, the pictures of two of her illustrious ancestors, Katheryn Van Rensselaer and John Tenbroeck, early settlers of New York. The pictures were photographs of old paintings. They were Miss Nevius' great-great-great-grandparents, and she gave a short account of their life and accomplishments in that old Dutch settlement.

A pleasant surprise awaited the members when the faggot of Miss Lillian Torrey Glen was placed on the fire. She had written for the occasion an acrostic on the name of the club which was read. It was as follows:

"A noble structure built by Moorish hand,
Long standing here upon Granada's land,
Here rears its towers so bold and grand and free,
A Moorish monarch full of dignity:
Man stands beneath thy mighty turrents awed,
Between thy walls which poet pilgrims laud
Reveres thy art and history of the past.
Alhambra, thou shalt stand until the last."

Miss Mary Buckle, Miss Emma Buckle and Miss Bertha Thorn each introduced some bright game which kept the brain busy as well as the body and they were played while their faggots burned.

A well rendered piano solo was given by Miss Edith L. Burt, as her faggot was slowly consumed.

Miss Mary A. Luckey, in her turn, read a humorous sketch. Miss Mary Collier played a medley of well known airs on the piano, and the others were called upon to name the different selections.

The last of the faggots burned brightly as Miss Ketcham presented each of her guests with a souvenir in the shape of a pen and ink sketch of some Dutch character from the history just completed. Several solos by the hostess followed and then dainty refreshments were served to the guests ere they departed.

The hours flew far too rapidly to suit the party, but the time for departure arrived and the "Faggot Party" was over.

PELTZ OUT OF THE HOSPITAL.

One of the Men Injured in the Explosion Recovers and Goes Home.

Conrad Peltz, the man who was so seriously injured by the nitro-glycerine explosion in John Cook's barn, some two weeks ago, was released from Muhlenberg hospital, yesterday afternoon, and went to his home in Scotch Plains. When he alighted from Newman's stage some twenty or thirty people surrounned him and congratulated him on coming out so fortunate from the explosion. Mr. Peltz's right arm is still carried in a sling, and it is doubtful whether he will have the use of that hand and arm for several months to come.

Hanging Next Week.

A week from yesterday the hanging of Johnson is to take place at Somerville. He spends his time very quietly in jail and has little to say. Clawson, who is sentenced to hang a week later, is very docile, after his hallucinations of a few weeks since.

RUN AS A HOTEL AGAIN.

EFFORT TO MAKE ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL SEASON AT NETHERWOOD.

The Building Known as the Hunterston Sanitarum to be Known and Conducted as a First-Class Suburban Family Hotel.

The many Plainfield people who remember the palmy days of Hotel Netherwood will be delighted to learn that this popular place is once more to be opened as a first-class hotel. It will be known as the Hunterston Hotel. For some time past the place has been conducted as a sanitarium, but everything has been changed and in the future no persons will be admitted for treatment. In fact, the hotel will be run on the same plan as the best hotels in the country. Mr. Hall, of New York, has been secured as the manager and he will put forth every effort to make the place one of the most desirable. He will be assisted by M. B. Douty, an experienced hotel man, who is sure to make the season a success. Dr Gray, of New York State, will be at the hotel as a resident physician to be within call whenever he is needed.

The interior of the hotel will be placed in first-class condition, and in fact the work is now almost completed. Special provision will be made for wheelmen.

Mr. Baldwin, of the Central Rail road, has promised to give the management the best train service, and the 5:30 train from New York will stop at Netherwood every night.

At present there are about fifty guests at the hotel and a large number of people have been booked for the season. Among those who will come are M. A. Ogden and family, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. White, Mrs. Richards, Mr. Olive and family, of New York. Mrs. Bok, mother of the editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, will also be a guest. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weber and daughters, Mrs. Roberts, manager of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, and family, will also stop at the Hunterston during the summer.

The social part of the hotel will be looked after and frequent hops will be given during the season. Everything now points to successful season at Netherwood.

JOINED AT MT. OLIVE.

REV. P. S. GIBSON MARRIES A POPULAR COLORED YOUNG COUPLE.

Miss Nana B. Macias and Charles Irby the Contracting Parties—A Reception Held and Congratulations Extended.

A fashionable colored wedding was celebrated at the Mt. Olive Baptist church last evening at 8:30, when Miss Nana B. Macias and Charles Irby, both of this city, were married by the pastor, Rev. P. S. Gibson. The church was filled to overflowing with relatives and friends of the bride and groom. While the guests were waiting for the appointed hour, several classical selections were rendered on the organ by Horatio Randolph, and when the bridal party made their appearance the announcement was made by the rendition of the Mendelssohn wedding march

William Burden and Burrill Gibson, the ushers, led the way, and they were followed by the bridemaid, Miss Julia Randolph, who was gowned in cream colored tulle trimmed with lace and ribbons. The bride was gowned richly in cream colored satin trimmed with point lace and ribbons, and wearing a veil caught up with orange blossoms. She made her appearance leaning on the arm of William Douglas, who gave her away in marriage.

As the bridal party was leaving the church the Lohengrin wedding march was played by Mr. Randolph. The party, together with a few invited guests, retired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, on Park avenue, where a reception was held and supper was served.

A feature of the reception were the remarks made by Rev. Mr. Gibson, William Douglas and William Perry. The three speakers in a very happy manner congratulated the bride and groom and wished them many years of prosperity and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs Irby were well remembered by their friends with handsome wedding gifts which will assist greatly in the furnishing of their home. For the present they will reside with Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, and next fall they will go to housekeeping in this city. There were about twenty-five guests present at the reception and everyone had a good time.

Whist Trophy Changed Hands Again.

The Park Club whist trophy has again changed hands. The North End Whist Club, of Newark, which defeated the Parks in a match for the trophy, last week, was in turn defeated Monday evening by the Montclair Club by three points.

SOME UGLY AFFIDAVITS.

PECULIAR STORY DISCLOSED IN A SOMERSET COUNTY SUIT.

A $6,000 Mortgage on a Farm Turns Up After it Was Thought to Have Been Cancelled For Several Years Past.

A peculiar story was disclosed in Chancery Court, yesterday, when argument was heard on a rule to show cause why Amos C. Bond should not be restrained from ejecting Holmes H. Voorhees from a farm in Montgomery, Somerset county. The proceedings were supplementary to a bill filed by Rebecca A. and Holmes H. Voorhees, executors of the estate of the late Samuel H. Hagerman, to set aside the cancellation of a mortgage made by David O. Voorhees and wife to Hagerman. From the petition it appeared that Rebecca H. Voorhees was the wife of David Voorhees and that Holmes H. Voorhees was their son. Mrs. Voorhees, the daughter of Hagerman, was living with his son-in-law when he died. David Voorhees, it was alleged, bought the farm on which he lived from his father in law, giving to the latter a purchase money mortgage for $6,000. At the time of Hagerman's death Holmes Voorhees was not of age, so the will was not probated for three years.

The bill represented that the young man was unaware of the existence of the mortgage, and that his mother relied entirely upon her husband, so that when, in 1879, David Voorhees presented the mortgage for cancellation at the Somerset County Clerk's office neither of the executors knew anything about it. Affidavits by Rebecca and Holmes Voorhees attested it, as did also one from David B. Voorhees, who testified that the mortgage had never been paid, and that neither his wife nor his son knew he had it cancelled.

In the answer and affidavits was a big surprise for the complaints. It was asserted that Amos C. Bond had loaned $4,000 to David Voorhees at the solicitation of Holmes Voorhees, who acted as his father's agent, David giving assurances that the $6,000 mortgage had been cancelled. Upon this representation Bond made the loan, and about a year ago took a warranty deed for the premises, the consideration being the $4,000 mortgage and also a chattel mortgage made by Holmes Voorhees, which was then cancelled.

There were affidavits to verify these statements. Henry F. Galpin, an attorney, testified that in 1887 he was employed to collect a legacy of $1,000 which had been bequeathed to Amanda VanDoren by Samuel Hagerman. He made a demand on Holmes Voorhees, and the latter said the funds of the estate were insufficient. Mr. Galpin made a search and found the $6,000 mortgage, which he called to the attention of Holmes Voorhees. The latter said he had never heard of it before. The executors were then cited to render a final account, which they did, one item being nearly $5,000 for the board of Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman.

Afterward suit was brought in Chancery to recover the legacy, and among other allegations in the deponent's bill was that the $6,000 mortgage had never been paid, but had been cancelled illegally. At the hearing David Voorhees swore that on March 4, 1875, he had paid the mortgage, and that John F. Hagerman had destroyed it. David Voorhees also testified that he had loaned Mr. Hagerman $6,000 on his notes, and that when the mortgage was cancelled he had given up the notes.

Carroll Robbins, a Trenton lawyer, who had been employed in the case, also submitted an affidavit corroborating Mr. Galpin's and declaring that Holmes Voorhees had testified that he had paid his father nearly $5,000 on account of the board of Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman. Both lawyers deposed that the suit was settled by a written agreement, under which David O. and Holmes H. Voorhees gave a note for $50.50 and a bond for $1,125, secured by a chattel mortgage on the effects of Holmes Voorhees. In the agreement, a copy of which was annexed to the answer, it was expressly set forth that the encumbrances on the farm amounted to $3,000.

"These matters are a great surprise to me," said Alan H. Strong, of New Brunswick, lawyer for the complainants. "Of course, if they are true, we have no case."

An adjournment was taken until Tuesday to allow Mr. Strong a chance to examine into the defendant's allegations.

DEBOE IS CHOSEN.

Close of the Fierce Struggle For the Kentucky Senatorial Seat.

Frankfort, Ky., April 29.—Governor Bradley has written out the certificate of election for Hon. William J. Deboe of Crittenden county as junior senator from Kentucky to succeed Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, whose term expired March 4. Senator Deboe will be in his seat in the senate on Monday next.

The end of the famous struggle which has extended over two legislative sessions will go into history as the most memorable Kentucky has ever known. Dr. Hunter came here six weeks ago with a clean majority stanchly for him and the additional backing of the national and state party organizations, but circumstances were against him, and the lightning struck Deboe on the one hundred and twelfth ballot.

This ballot stood: Deboe, 71; Blackburn, 50; Martin, 13; Stone, 1. The wild scene that followed could not be quieted. There was no chance to ask the victor to come forward and make a speech. The cheering and demonstrations were ended by the president putting a motion and declaring the assembly adjourned sine die.

Dr. W. J. Deboe was born in Crittenden county, Ky., and received his earlier education in the schools and academies of Crittenden and Caldwell counties. After attending Ewing college, Ills., he graduated in medicine from the Medical University of Louisville, practiced awhile and then took up the study of law, preferring the latter profession, which he has practiced for more than eight years. He is a state senator and has been prominent in Kentucky politics.

An explosion occurred in a church at Fauagusta, isle of Cyprus. Thirty persons were injured. It is believed the explosion was the result of a Turkish outrage.

Jersey Democrats Banquet.

Newark, N. J., April 29.—The banquet of the Jeffersonian club, the leading Democratic organization of the state, at the Auditorium last night was attended by about 300 persons. Prosecutor E. W. Crane, president of the club, presided. United States Senator James Smith was toastmaster. Senator Daniels of Virginia spoke in response to "Jefferson." Allan McDermott spoke on "Republican Legislation." Colonel E. L. Price's topic was "Democratic Organization." Mayor Seymour responded to "The Democracy of Newark." To "Chances of Success" responses were made by Senator Kuhl, James J. Bergen, William B. Gourley, F. C. Marsh, Lindley M. Garrison and Clarence Atkinson, each for his section of New Jersey.

Shot By a Discharged Laborer.

Fresno, Cal., April 29.—A triple tragedy has been committed at Redbanks, a farming settlement 30 miles distant from here. As a result, Mrs. John Qualle and her daughter Lulu are dying, and their assailant, James Brooks, is dead. Brooks was formerly employed as a laborer on Qualle's ranch, but was discharged for persistently making love to Miss Lulu. Brooks appeared at Qualle's armed with a shotgun and shot the girl and her mother. Brooks left the house after setting fire to it. He then went to a neighboring barn, to which he set fire, went inside and was burned to death.

A SUICIDE MYSTERY.

An Unknown Woman Shoots Herself In Greenwood Cemetery.

FOUND AT BENNETT'S MAUSOLEUM.

She Had Been Seen Wandering About Among the Graves For Some Time Before She Fired the Shot Which Ended Her Life.

Brooklyn, April 29.—An unknown woman, apparently about 45 years old, quietly but richly dressed, shot herself in the right temple on the steps of James Gordon Bennett's mausoleum in Greenwood cemetery.

She died an hour later in the Norwegian hospital.

The woman had been observed for some time previous to her act wandering about the cemetery and seemed unmindful of the falling showers.

She stood for some time in front of the tomb, and then walking up to the entrance she drew a small silver chased revolver from her pocket and pulled the trigger before the several cemetery employees who were watching her had a chance to interfere.

There was nothing found upon the woman that would lead to the discovery of her identity, with the possible exception of a wedding ring with "B. H. to B. T., June 2, 1870," inscribed upon the inside.

The ring was too large for the woman's finger and was held in position by a smaller gold ring, which was entirely plain.

The woman is 5 feet 5 inches in height, weighs about 150 pounds, with dark eyes and hair.

She wore a dark blue dress, black silk stockings, on which was written four words in French.

In a satchel which the woman carried were a pair of eyeglasses marked "J. J. McKeown, 24 East Forty-second street, New York, maker;" several handkerchiefs, some marked "A. H." and others "H."; a visiting pad, on which something was written in French, and $5.45 in change.

The words on the paper were:

"Dieu n't pas sauleve le slop."

The translation in English is "God would not raise me from the dust." It is not pure French.

Americans Arrested In Cuba.

Washington, April 29.—Consul General Lee has reported to the state department the arrest of two naturalized American citizens in Cuba recently in whose behalf he had interested himself. Jose T. Dumas was arrested in Havana on April 20. The consul general, on being informed of the arrest, made a request upon the Spanish officials for a statement of the charge upon which the man had been arrested, but up to the 21st, the date of his report, the answer had not been received. The second case was that of Rafael Fernandez Diaz, captured by the Spanish troops in Sagua. He is now held in jail there, and in this case also the consul general has requested that all the rights conceded by treaty be extended.

Award of Salvage.

London, April 29.—The British steamer Empire has been awarded £2,250 and the British steamer Galileo £1,050 as salvage for assistance rendered the German tank steamer Diamant. The Diamant lost her propeller last February when about 500 miles east of Halifax. She was picked up by the Galileo, and after being towed for some distance the cable parted during a severe gale, and the Galileo lost sight of the disabled steamer. The Diamant was again picked up by the British Empire, which succeeded in towing her into Halifax on Feb. 25.

Judgments Against the Shakers.

Hudson, N. Y., April 29.—Judgments aggregating thousands of dollars have been entered against the trustees of the New Lebanon Shakers by New York parties. The amounts mentioned are principally for supplies furnished the different hotels in New York with which Robert Valentine, one of the Shaker trustees, had to do. The object of the judgment creditors is to attach responsibility to the whole Shaker community for the individual acts of Valentine, which the Shakers disclaim. The cases will be taken up at the next session of the supreme court.

Corporation Notice.

WHEREAS, The Common Council propose to proceed under the "Martin Act" and thereby enforce payment of unpaid real estate taxes and assessments by sale of the fee of the real estate on which taxes remain unpaid;

AND WHEREAS, as to real estate taxes for the year 1881 and the years prior thereto, the Common Council has power, subject to the approval of the Mayor, to make such revisions, alternation, adjustment, and settlement of such taxes and all interest and penalties thereon as may be deemed for the best interests of the city, provided the amount of such taxes as adjusted be paid within thirty days from the date of such adjustment; and there appear to be equitable reasons why such power should be exercised with respect to the taxes above referred to in the case of such delinquents as may apply to the Common Council for that purpose.

AND WHEREAS, power to compromise said past due taxes, interest and penalties will cease at once upon the appointment of commissioners under the "Martin Act" and motion for the appointment of such commissioners by Supreme Court Justice Van Syckel will be made on May 29th next:

RESOLVED, That delinquents in the payment of real estate taxes for the years 1881 and prior thereto be notified by advertisement in the official newspapers that if they desire to apply to the Common Council to amicably adjust and settle unpaid real estate taxes for the years 1881 and prior thereto so as to have any part of said taxes or the interest and penalties thereon reduced or cancelled, it will be necessary to present to the Common Council their written applications specifying in detail the property and taxes in question on or before the date of the meeting of the Common Council to be held May 3d, 1897.

Adopted by the Common Council, April 5th, 1897.

BUY CLOTH

44 in. wide, per yard $2.00
27 in. wide, per yard $1.25

measuring 44 inches wide at $2.00 a yd. or 27 inches wide at $1.25 per yard — which is the cheaper?

The first quotation appeals to the real economist, but the unwise will be caught by the price per yard—just the same as paint buyers will be caught by the price per can.

The spreading capacity of paint, the finish and the durability must be considered to ascertain its cheapness. In the true sense, Harrisons' Town and Country Ready-Mixed Paints are the cheapest on the market and should demand the consideration of any who contemplate the use of paint and wish to attain good results. The big "H" on every can vouches for the quality. Look for the Harrison Sign, it is usually on the front of the building of every dealer in Harrison Paint.

Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry street, Alton, Ill, suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. —When the occasion requires the appointment of a regular policeman it does not seem to be the disposition of the Mayor and Council to follow the general rule. It is not likely that a regular man will be appointed to fill the place of ex-Patrolman Post, but instead a special will be detailed to do duty when necessary.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chambelain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlains Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

SENATE'S PERSONNEL

Not Changed by the Election of Deboe of Kentucky.

A PAMPHLET ON THE NAVAL MILITIA.

Scope of a New Work by Captain Taylor Which Is Well Spoken of by Ex-Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdoo.

Washington, April 29.—The election of Deboe in Kentucky does not change the political complexion of the senate, but on some party questions might give the Republicans a majority if Senator Kyle of South Dakota voted with them together with the vote of the vice president. The election of Deboe makes the total membership of the senate 88, composed of 43 Republicans, 33 Democrats and 12 Populists and Silver Republicans. With Kyle the Republicans would have 44, a tie, and with the vice president a majority of 1. It is believed, however, that in case a party vote was imminent or probable that an election would occur in Florida, leaving the senate standing as before Deboe's election. Besides, a party vote would mean a long debate, giving the Florida Democrats time to get together.

The Republican senatorial committee on committees in session was informed of the Kentucky election. This committee will reserve places for the new Republican senators. It is expected that the committee will at once prepare a report, to be submitted to the Republican caucus as soon as called. Most of the places have been arranged and await the attendance of other members of the committee before they are definitely agreed upon.

The Naval Militia.

Washington, April 29.—The navy department has begun the issue to the naval militia of a pamphlet containing a letter from Captain Taylor, president of the Naval War college, upon the subject of the naval militia. The war college last August took this matter under consideration at the direction of Assistant Secretary McAdoo, and the result is a compendious statement of the fields of usefulness and proper functions of the naval militia, touching which not only a number of naval officers, but some of the militiamen themselves have been in doubt.

In a preface Mr. McAdoo says that he cannot speak too highly of the value of the paper and highly commends the conclusions reached by the War college. In substance these contemplate the transfer of the local defense to the naval militia, which indorses this suggestion.

Mr. McAdoo, as his last official act, protests against the national folly of not having on hand for the army and navy and the militia on land and on sea a proper supply of reserve rifles of uniform make. The United States, he says, should have at least 1,000,000 of such rifles and ammunition always in store, for in case of war the number on hand would be entirely inadequate, with no means to procure more quickly, owing to the slowness of manufacture.

Trouble In Labor's Ranks.

Washington, April 29.—The general executive board of the Knights of Labor formally declared war against the American Federation of Labor on account of action of the National Brewery Workers' union, an affiliated body of the American Federation of Labor, and adopted an address to the members of the Knights of Labor throughout the United States. This address, which will be printed in the official journal of the order and a copy sent to each member of the organization, accuses the officers of the Federation of Labor of misrepresentation and of endeavoring to wrong the members of the Rochester Brewery Workers' local assembly of the Knights of Labor.

Public Bequests.

Boston, April 29.—The will of the late John Foster of Boston was filed in the Suffolk county probate office. It gives $121,000 to public charities. To the city of Boston is given $30,000 for the erection of a statue to the Rev. William Ellery Channing. The Young Men's Christian union, the Massachusetts General hospital and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology get $10,000 each; the town of Warner, N. H., $8,000 and the Congregational society, Warner, N. H., $8,000, and several other institutions get $5,000 each.

Ian Maclaren Not a Heretic.

London, April 29.—At the meeting of the Presbyterian synod held at Sunderland the business committee decided to reject the petition containing charges of heresy which had been presented against the Rev. John Watson, D. D. (Ian Maclaren). The only way in which the petitioner, can now revive the matter is by moving an amendment to the committee's report. But such an amendment would have little chance of adoption.

Fruit Blossoms Destroyed.

Nyack, N. Y., April 29.—S. B. Husted, one of the most prominent fruitgrowers along the lower Hudson, made a careful examination of the cherry, peach and plum blossoms. He found that nine out of every ten blossoms had been severely injured by the frost. So the crop, which promised to be very large, is nearly all destroyed.

Postmaster Charged With Robbery.

Montreal, April 29.—The postmaster of St. Jovite has been brought here charged with robbing the mails and the American Express company of about $1,000. He first put the blame on robbers, but afterward admitted that he had committed the crime himself.

To Reduce Miners' Wages.

Johannesburg, April 29.—A joint meeting was held here of the chamber and the association of mines with respect to mining operations on the Rand, and a resolution was adopted to make a 30 per cent reduction in wages paid to native miners.

Dead on His Son's Grave.

Trenton, April 29.—Isaac N. Hansel, a wealthy shoe dealer, aged 50 years, fell dead on his son's grave in this city. Heart disease was the cause of death.

KEEP TROLLEYS IN THEIR PLACE.

Mayor Rankin greatly discomfited the advocates of the trolley between here and Westfield when he declared in his speech at the Board of Trade dinner that he favored an extension of the trolleys, "but not on the county roads." The Mayor is right. Between Albany and Troy, between Long Branch and Ocean Grove, and in a number of other places the trolley companies have been obliged to open their own thoroughfares and build their own roads It is time they did in Union County. The county roads are for the people, not for the trolley companies.—Elizabeth Journal.

—Regarding the action which led to the removal of Charles Post from the position of a patrolman, there seems to be a division of opinion as to whether anyone had a right to remove the belt, badge and club from the officer the night he was found asleep It has been decided that such action is not in accord with the best police government.

THEATRICAL.

The famous play, "Mr. Barnes of New York," was presented in an admirable manner at Music Hall, last night, by Miss Loraine Hollis, supported by an exceptionally strong company. Miss Hollis, as "Marina," the passion-tossed Corsican girl, was superb, the audience at times giving her quite an ovation, besides several curtain calls. Miss Hollis is a beautiful woman, with a magnificent figure and the possessor of a clear, rich voice, rarely equaled in quality or power. Her costumes were marvels of the modiste's art, and added not a little to the enchantment her presence and ability commanded. Miss Hollis continues her engagement until Saturday night, playing tonight, (Thursday), the famous drama, "Forget Me-Not," a piece Miss Hollis has played over 700 times. Miss Hollis' supporting company were all excellent in their respective parts, and altogether making a combination of stage talent not often seen outside of the great cities.

Window Curtains Set Afire.

There was a small conflagration in Hall's pharmacy, yesterday morning, which threatened the store with destruction but was extinguished before much damage had been done. As a customer was passing out of the front door, a spark from his cigarette set fire to the curtains in the rear of the show windows and a bright blaze started up. Robert Dryden, of Watchung avenue, was in the store at the time and he quickly extinguished the flames with the assistance of Frank Dencklau, the obliging young clerk. The damage was trifling.

IVES' DAIRY FARM OF SELECT COWS

IVES & SON

Commenced Monday to deliver pure rich milk from their own cows, which they have purchased during the past four weeks from choice bred stock.

Mr. Ives Sr. has had 27 years' experience in raising cows for milking purposes, and would like it distinctly understood that their cows are not fed on brewer's grain, of which so much is fed generally.

Corn meal and bran is the best and only good feed to make cows give natural rich milk. We strictly adhere to this idea by extra feeding twice each day.

Our facilities for aerating and cooling our milk as soon as drawn from the cows, are of the latest improved and up to-date pattern, which gives us the power to guarantee our milk to be of a natural rich quality.

We call attention to our having one of the best farms in this county for herding and keeping cows in a clean and healthy condition. We cordially invite anyone who may desire to drive out to the farm and inspect our system for cleanliness and purity of milk. Directions will be given at our office and headquarters, 1008 Arlington avenue, where also orders for pure rich milk will receive prompt attention.

REGARDING SWEET CREAM. We are now ready to offer a superior quality of fresh sweet cream—shipped direct from Orange County creameries, which we deliver in any quantity desired.

[One cow's milk for infants or by special request.]

P. S.—We are able to verify what we state, and would caution anyone not to be misled by jealous milk dealers.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Peter Trimmer visited among Easton friends Tuesday.

Mrs. A. N. Randolph returned home yesterday from a visit among friends at New Haven, Conn.

A party of young people from here went to Somerville last evening to attend a reception and dance given by Miss Westcott's dancing school.

Mrs. W. H. Coles, whose serious illness has been recorded in these columns, continues to improve, and it is thought that she has now passed the critical point.

Miss Mary Butscher, of New York city, and her sister, Miss Josephine Butscher, of Plainfield, have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. Katherine Maier, for a few days past.

Miss Mattie T. Barrett, of the Rockview farm, returned Saturday from Brooklyn, where she has been making an extended visit, and left on Monday to visit friends in Paterson.

Dunellen's crack picked nine of baseball players will try conclusions with a nine from Westfield on the grounds of the Dunellen club, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

The law and ordinance committee of the Council met in Mayor Brakeley's private office Tuesday evening for the purpose of revising the old ordinances and to formulate some new ones.

A regular meeting of the Fire Department is called for Thursday evening of next week, when it is expected that several new names for membership will be submitted and laid over under the rule.

Lakeside Council, D. of L., of New Market, are making extensive preparations for their entertainment in Friendship Hall this evening. The Ladies' Orchestra will furnish the music and Paul Reusch will serve ice-cream and cake.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association will be held in the office of Alvah Gray this evening to settle up some unfinished business, and to transact whatever business may come before the board.

Mr. and Mrs. William Connolly, Mr. Zellenback and Miss Mamie Cooper, all of Dunellen, had a good view of the naval parade in New York, on Tuesday. They were on a Port Reading tug boat, of which Mr. Zielenback had full and absolute control.

Trackmaster George Abbott, of the Central Railroad, who for many years past has had charge of the company's tracks between Elizabeth and Bound Brook, will on May 1st assume control of the entire Western Division of the road, which includes the distance between Bound Brook and Phillipsburg.

Walter Runyon was able to sit up in bed yesterday while a tonsorial artist shaved him and cut his hair. The patient seems to be slowly on the mend, but his weakened condition is a great drawback just at present. Dr. Brakeley is doing all in his power to bring the patient through this spell of sickness.

The case of Joseph R. Stein, of New York, vs. George R. Merserole, for possession of premises, known as the Peterson farm near here, is being tried before Judge Suydam and a jury at New Brunswick today. Several witnesses have been subpœnaed from here. The farm, which is said to be a good one, recently passed into the hands of W. B. Hayes, of New York city, and he very naturally wants possession of his purchase, which Merserole refuses to surrender.

Three weeks ago John Apgar set a hen on a good-sized setting of eggs, and during Monday two or three of the eggs hatched out fine, healthy-looking chicks. Yesterday morning when Mr. Apgar went into his hennery to feed his fowls, the setting hen, little chickens, unhatched eggs and all were gone. There can be no doubt but that some mean thief has confiscated the whole business, for there were no feathers around the coop or anything else that would indicate that a dog had been there.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

The strong wind was a little too severe for bicycling, yesterday morning, but a few riders were nevertheless seen on the streets. During the afternoon, however, when the wind had subsided, the usual number of pleasure-seekers were seen spinning along.

There will be a special Women's Missionary meeting at All Saint's church, on Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Among other speakers, Miss Mary L. Francis, of South Dakota, will deliver an address on her work as principal of St. Elizabeth's School for Indian Girls.

It was reported late yesterday afternoon that a strong clue had been obtained, whereby the perpetrators of the Meadow brook bridge depredations may soon be apprehended and brought to justice. Once arrested, Judge Clarke would be only too glad to lay aside his farming implements and "weigh out justice in an impartial manner."

Closing scenes in the death of Charles R. Mooney, who died on Sunday, were enacted from the house yesterday afternoon at 2.45 o'clock, and it was indeed a most solemn and impressive service. The house was densely filled with the relatives and immediate friends of the family and many others of the townspeople who had known the decedent in life were there to pay their respects to his memory. Twenty members of Excelsior Fire Company and sixteen members of Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., with both of which he had been prominently identified, attended in a body. The Rev. Mr. Angleman, of Hampton Junction, preached the sermon and he eulogized the decedent in endearing terms. He spoke of the true Christian life and character of Mr. Mooney and of this close relationship with him in the church. Rev. Mr. Slater and Rev. Mr. Winans also assisted at the service. Miss Nellie Hollingsworth sang a beautiful funeral ode. The floral decorations were neat though not elaborate, and were in keeping with good taste. They consisted principally of a beautiful wreath from the firemen, a large bouquet from the K. of P. and bouquets from members of the Epworth League. Interment was made in the Baptist cemetery.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one-third of all the patents issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and spffering. J. W. Vaugn, of Oakton, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholero and Diarrœa Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps in the stomah and bowels. Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

The sparrows have built nests in front of the Cooper Lamp Works and The Leader office. Yesterday the two birds got into an altercation and attracted a large crowd while it lasted. The Leader sparrow is now boss. He knocked the other out in twelve rounds. A chance blow did the work.

The two Schoonover boys were driving up Mountain avenue, last evening, and when they started to turn out for a passing team the horses started to run and the boys yanked them up rather short and one line broke. They pulled on the other, turning the horses into the curb and upset the wagon, scattering groceries along the road. No other damage was done.

Mr. Mulford, of Mountainside, and one of his horses gave an imitation of "Jack and Jill," last Tuesday, which came near proving fatally for Mr. Mulford. The team was standing at the top of an embankment. He unhitched one horse and took it to the stable. Returning for the other one it capered around and over the embankment went the horse, wagon and Mr. Mulford. Mr. Mulford is suffering with two broken ribs and a fractured collar bone.

It now begins to look as though Westfield would have a bridge across the railroad from North to South avenues, in the upper end of town. The citizens will present a petition to the town committee at its next meeting on the matter and favorable action is anticipated. It is said that a number of years ago the town gave up the road to the Central Railroad on condition that the Central put a bridge across at this point, but so far the railroad has not come to terms. The place was surveyed and staked out by the surveyor of highways twenty years ago.

There was a shooting affray in the south side of town Tuesday afternoon that startled some of the neighbors and set one young man to thinking. He doesn't know whether he was shot at, or whether he came near being the victim of a stray shot. He does know, however, who did the reckless shooting. This is his story in his own words: "I had a Remington magazine rifle and went out to a point on "Mud Lane" where I was to meet a friend of mine and then we were going to have some rifle practice. As I stood there waiting, I happened to notice a certain young lady and gentleman of Westfield setting on a fence and acting rather 'spooney,' and not wanting them to think that I was watching them and yet make them aware of my presence, I turned my back to them and shot at a tree. No sooner had I done so, than another report rang out and I heard a bullet whistle near me. Turning about I saw the man with a revolver in his hand. I was dumbfounded. Then to make a bluff at shooting at a mark he pinned a handkerchief on a post and shot again. I started towards them to demand an explanation and they hurried away." The young man who tells this story is of the best of family's and can be relied on. He says that the shot may have been fired to indicate that his presence was not wanted, or it may have shot at a rail and glancing came toward him. Yesterday he was more angry than ever. He said that was it not for placing the young lady in an embarrassing position by being called into the case he might have sworn out a complaint against the fellow for reckless shooting and carrying concealed weapons.

HONOR WAS NOT LOST

Greeks Defeated In Epirus After a Most Heroic Struggle.

SEEKING A BASIS OF INTERVENTION.

The Premier of France Talks Over the War Situation With the Turkish Embassador—Panic and Dismay Still Exists In Athens.

London, April 29.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Patras says:

"The Greeks have suffered their first great reverse in Epirus, and the situation has changed with startling suddenness. When I last telegraphed, the Turks were in full and disorderly retreat toward Janina, and the Greeks were joyously advancing. For some unaccountable reason the absurdly inadequate force of only 1,000 men was detached from Phillipiada to seize Pentepigadia. On entering Pentepigadia some irregulars by mistake fired upon the Greeks. During the confusion which followed 3,000 Turkish infantry arrived from Janina and instantly attacked the Greeks. A desperate and bloody hand to hand encounter ensued. The Turks uttered demoniacal yells and showed the greatest ferocity, while the Greeks, who had been without food all night long and were terribly outnumbered, were taken at the greatest disadvantage.

"An hour after the fight began two companies of Turks occupied a hill on the Greek flank and opened a deadly fire. The Greeks broke in confusion and fled in hideous panic. With the very greatest difficulty their officers rallied them and led them back to the front, where they renewed the battle against overpowering odds.

"Major Commondouro commanded them. All day he fought in the front line. Two horses were shot under him, and he was twice wounded, but he seemed to bear a charmed life. A Greek lieutenant, an Italian volunteer and five privates rushed upon the Turks. Five of the seven dropped dead before they got anywhere near the enemy, and the sixth was wounded. Another private, when the Greeks fled, fought the Turks from behind a rock for five hours, until he was killed.

"At 7 o'clock in the evening the Greek ammunition failed. The men were faint from want of food, and the retreat call was sounded.

"A second Greek force of infantry, cavalry and field artillery, advancing by another road, arrived an hour too late. This also retreated in great disorder. The Turks now hold Pentepigadia, which might, however, be attacked by artillery. The Greeks are greatly depressed and discouraged.

"The retreat is much discussed here, and no one can explain it except upon the hypothesis that there was a risk of the Turks disembarking a force at Prevesa and so cutting off our retreat. The Greeks have suffered a reverse, but Greek honor is not lost."

A Basis For Intervention.

Paris, April 29.—It is asserted that M. Hanotaux, the French foreign minister, has had a five hours' interview with the Turkish embassador. It is understood that the subject under discussion was the terms upon which the powers are to base their intervention between Greece and Turkey.

M. Hanotaux, in the course of the conference, urged the Turkish embassador to advise the sultan to hold out the olive branch to Greece, adding that if the Turkish troops went further France would be compelled to come forward as the defender of the Christian cause. In that event, said M. Hanotaux, Turkey would have the most reason to regret the intervention of the powers, which would not serve as a prop for the Ottoman empire. It is understood that M. Hanotaux expressed the earnest hope that the Turkish government would not make the serious mistake of increasing the difficulties of the task of Europe.

Athens, April 29.—There has been another ineffectual attempt to pillage the shops of the gunsmiths.

The headquarters of the Greek army are being removed to Dmokos, a long way south of Pharsala.

Edhem Pasha has issued a proclamation inviting the Greeks to return to Larissa.

King George, on receiving a distinguished caller, is reported to have said to him, "I am ready to accept all my country's wishes. What I desire is that not a drop of blood shall be shed on my account."

Among the many incidents told of Greek valor at Pentepigadia is this: Twenty-two Greeks fell dead in a heroic struggle to preserve the body of their major from Turkish profanation.

Discouraging Reports From Pharsalos.

London, April 29.—Mr. Henry Norman, The Daily Chronicle's correspondent at Athens, says: "All reports from the army at Pharsalos are most discouraging. A strong man might perhaps succeed in galvanizing the nation into activity for a supreme effort, but unless such a man is forthcoming I am afraid all is over."

Interview With Young Garibaldi.

London, April 29.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Athens has had an interview with Riccotti Garibaldi, in the course of which the latter said he believed Greece might yet retrieve her military reputation, but unity in the conduct of the campaign would be an absolutely indispensable condition.

Turks Not Yet In Volo.

Constantinople, April 29.—There is no official confirmation of the reports that the Turkish cavalry have occupied Volo and Trikala, but the main body of the Greek army has fallen behind the old frontier line of the Othrys mountains, and the Greek squadron is confined in the gulf of Arta by the Turkish forts.

To Try and End the War.

Vienna, April 29.—The newspapers of this city, St. Petersburg and Budapest comment upon the meeting of the emperors of Russia and Austria as being evidence of an agreement of the powers to speedily bring to an end the war between Turkey and Greece.

Favorable Reports From the Crowds of People who Obtained Free Samples of

DR. HOBBS Sparagus Kidney Pills.

At the Store of L. W. Randolph's Drug Store Less Than a week Ago

Sufferers Encouraged.

Hundreds Now Testing the Remedy in this City and Vicinity.

Sales Increasing.

It will be remembered that a few days since a free distribution of samples of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Pills was made at the store of the L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Everyone that asked was given a box, free of charge, and none went away empty-handed. This remarkable distribution was made as a challenge to those afflicted by Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Blood, Backache and Rheumatism, to test the healing power of these wonderful pills.

The test has proven of great interest to druggists and the public at large, because of the magnitude of the offer as well as the evident confidence the proprietors have in the merits of their remedy. Nothing short of absolute faith, founded on known results, would have justified Dr. Hobbs' challenge.

The favorable reports received indicate that the majority of those who obtained samples of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills used them as directed, justifying Dr. Hobbs' faith in the people and that a large number of our citizens, suffering from one kind of kidney and bladder trouble or another, are receiving unexpected benefit. They all appear to be on the road to recovery, and are flocking into L. W. Randolph's drug store to purchase further installments of this grand remedy.

In this short time Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills have firmly established a reputation and gained the confidence of the people of this community. They have today more warm friends in Plainfield and vicinity than all of the kidney remedies that were ever heard of here before put together.

Nothing of greater importance has presented itself to the people of this city in recent years. Bright's disease, rheumatism (which is traceable ninety-nine times out of a hundred to kidney sluggishness and inactivity) impure blood, malarial germs, and, in fact, all the thousand and one diseases that come from a deranged condition of the filters, cleansers and purifiers of the body—the kidneys—are all now stripped of their horrors, since it is a well established fact that a safe and harmless specific for their cure has been discovered in Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills.

There are, undoubtedly, hundreds of thousands of people who are suffering to a greater or less degree from kidney troubles who do not know it.

Some are in a drowsy, dull condition—feel languid; generally speaking, they say feel pretty well, when accosted by some friends, yet they have not that bright, sharp, vigorous tone to their system as of yore. Unbeknown to them, poison from their kidneys (which are a little out of order) is gradually collecting in their system, and, totally unconscious of the fact, they are slowly but surely being poisoned to death.

It may be a process of years, but the result of the kidneys working imperfectly means almost certain destruction at last. No man can feel vigorous and bright, and no woman has that healthful, rosy tint in her cheeks that poets have paid homage to since the creation of the world, where the kidneys are not performing their functions properly and regularly, day and night.

A plant, commonly known as a vegetable, but which in reality is one of the most valuable and active kidney medicines—asparagus—has, by the skill of medical science, been called upon to perform its duty as nature intended it should.

Asparagus has been known for years to the medical fraternity to possess a certain amount of virtue for kidney ailments. Dr. Hobbs took up this subject many years ago, and, after long and patient experimenting, is enabled to combine the medicinal properties of the asparagus plant with other valuable diuretic and kidney healing remedies known to the medical fraternity of the world in such a form as it is today, under his formula, regarded as a positive specific for all forms of kidney, bladder and urinary diseases of both sexes.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

MET A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Four Lives Lost In an Incendiary Fire in Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, April 29.—Four lives have been lost in this city in a tenement house fire supposed to be of incendiary origin.

In a frantic effort to save her two baby boys a mother threw them from a fourth story window, and the fall killed them almost instantly. The mother perished in the flames.

The dead are Mrs. Carrie Newell, aged 38; Louis Newell, aged 3; John Newell, aged 5, and Mrs. Celia Barnett, aged 55.

The fire started in the lower hall of the big tenement house at 1278 Third avenue. The building is a four story brick structure.

Before the fire could be extinguished $30,000 worth of property was destroyed. The firemen were badly handicaped, and the flames, which spread very quickly, got ahead of them.

On the third floor lived Frank Barnett and his wife Celia. When they were aroused, Mrs. Barnett rushed out into the hall in her night clothes. Barnett, thinking she had fled to the street, quickly followed her, and, running down stairs through clouds of smoke, escaped to the street. Mrs. Barnett, however, had only run into the hall. She was found hours afterward dead in a little alcove in a remote part of the hall.

On the top floor lived John Newell with his wife and two boys, Louis and John, aged respectively 3 and 5 years.

The flames came up so suddenly that the family were caught in a trap. Mrs. Newell, seeing the fire and smoke rolling up the stairway, became panic stricken, and, snatching up her two little boys, rushed to the window, and before her husband could stop her had thrown them through the window.

The two boys were dashed on the paved walk. Mrs. Newell then rushed toward the stairway with her husband. What became of her husband nobody could tell.

Afterward the firemen found Mrs. Newell dead on the top floor.

When the two boys who fell to the street were picked up, they were still living. They were taken to Seney hospital, but died within a few minutes of each other.

American Antiquarian Society.

Boston, April 29.—Senator George F. Hoar, Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale and many other distinguished members were present at the semiannual meeting of the American Antiquarian society which was held here. One of the interesting features of the meeting was the election to membership of the Hon. Thomas Francis Bayard, LL. D., former American embassador to England. Of the 46 votes cast on the question of his admission only one was in the negative. Others elected to membership were Rear Admiral Bancroft Gherardi, U. S. N., retired; the Right Rev. Frederick Temple, archbishop of Canterbury; the Right Rev. Mandell Creighton, bishop of London, and Duc de Laubat of Paris.

Boy Killed by Cars.

Utica, N. Y., April 29.—Charles Reynolds, aged 11, son of John Reynolds of Little Falls, was killed on the West Shore railroad. The father is gate tender in Little Falls on this road. The boy not attending school, the truant officer went after him. He was standing by his father's side when found. The officer had some words with Mr. Reynolds, when the officer said the boy must go to school. The father dissented and said his son would stay where he was. The officer took hold of the lad, who, breaking away from him and running upon the track, was struck by a passing train.

Representative Jones Injured.

Boston, April 29.—Representative Melvin D. Jones of Somerville sustained serious injuries by being thrown from his carriage in Somerville. The horse becoming frightened started suddenly, and Mr. Jones was thrown against an iron electric pole with such force that his body bounded against a fence across the sidewalk. He was picked up in an unconscious state and taken to his residence. Mr. Jones' head and face were severely cut and bruised, three or four ribs were broken and serious internal injuries were sustained.

GUTHRIE'S BIG FLOOD

High Wall of Water Sweeps Down the Cottonwood Valley.

DEATH AND RUIN IN ITS PATHWAY.

The Frightful Work of a Cloudburst In Oklahoma Territory—Scores of People Known to Have Perished and Victims May Number Hundreds.

Guthrie, O. T., April 29.—A mighty wall of water from six to eight feet high and a mile wide broke upon West Guthrie, without warning yesterday, crushing houses, sweeping away property and drowning many people. Every movable thing was swept before the wave, which passed on into the Canadian valley with resistless force, wreaking terrible destruction to life and property wherever it reached.

The flood is supposed to have been caused by a cloudburst, supplemented by heavy rains.

The Cottonwood river, ordinarily a small stream that winds between steep banks in West Guthrie, was bankful from a heavy rain of the day before, but no alarm was felt, as the river had been rising gradually for several hours. About 6 o'clock, however, water from a cloudburst above had added to the already high stream, and the flood was sweeping through West Guthrie, a section populated mostly by colored people. Those who saw the first wall of water said that it was about 18 feet high, spreading entirely across the valley. The first wave was followed by others in quick succession, until the whole settled into a bank of water from six to eight feet high. Many persons had already begun carrying their household goods to places of safety, but few had made more than one trip when they were forced to flee for their lives before the raging torrent.

The main supply pipe of the waterworks system burst where it crossed the Cottonwood in the southern part of the city, and all the water in the reservoirs poured into the river. In the southern part of the city a long arm of land is formed by the winding of the river. On this land lived hundreds of negroes. During the night the bridge leading across the river to the main section had been swept away. The people were absorbed in watching the rising waters this morning when the flood from the reservoirs came down in a solid wall, cutting off the people from escape. They fled from their homes to the higher portions of the newly formed island.

When the first shock of the disaster was over, the more fortunate on the island immediately began to help those nearest them, while in Guthrie proper prompt steps were taken at rescue. The houses, barns and other effects began to drift down stream, each freighted with one or more human beings, boats or rafts shot out here and there from the shore, and desperate efforts were made to rescue the people. Improvised rafts were quickly thrown together and started out into the mad stream. Before many of them had been propelled a couple of yards from shore they were twisted and broken by the waters and the would be rescuers thrown into the stream. Half a dozen rescuers were drowned before those they had tried to save had been reached.

The wildest stories of loss of life are afloat. The estimates run all the way from 50 to 250 persons drowned. While the larger figure is undoubtedly an exaggeration it is known that the loss of life will reach if not exceed the lesser number.

The following are known to have been drowned:

Anna Kaiser, a schoolteacher; Frank Mayers, George Owens, J. H. Calhoun, wife and child; Charlie Rufner and wife, Rastus McGill, Lena Burk, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Wesley McGill and five children, John Metz, Mrs. H. James Montgomery, Mrs. Dummills, Jim Lilly, Mrs. Dumas and H. H. Beckfinger.

It is believed that loss of life has also occurred south of Guthrie along the Cottonwood river. Many farmhouses in that district are reported to have been swept away. Seven miles south of here, at Seward, Hunt's store and the postoffice were swept away.

Four thousand dollars has been raised in Guthrie for the relief of the sufferers.

The Court Martial of Corwine.

Newport, R. I., April 29.—A court martial convened at the naval station at Coasters Harbor island yesterday afternoon for the trial of John Corwine, U. S. N., late paymaster at the naval station, who is charged with embezzlement, making false and fraudulent official reports, scandalous conduct, tending to the destruction of good morals, and deserting. The proceedings are behind closed doors, and the findings of the court will be sent to Washington at the completion of the inquiry.

The Canadian Tariff Question.

Ottawa, April 29.—At the annual meeting of the United Empire league here a resolution was passed favoring preferential trade within the empire on the lines suggested by Hon. Joseph Chamberlain at the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce last June and that the Dominion government hold a conference with the imperial government to bring this about. Another resolution was passed in favor of a fast Atlantic steamship service. Sir Donald Smith, Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. R. R. Dobell were present at the meeting.

Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

New York, April 29.—The New York State association, opposed to the extension of the suffrage of women, held its annual meeting last evening at the residence of Mrs. Gilbert E. VARIOUS SPORTS.

A meeting of the physical department committee of the Y. M C. A. will be held this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock to decide when the classes in the gymnasium will close for the summer. They will also take some action on the improvement of the property in the rear of the building with a view of placing tennis courts there.

The gymnastic contest in the Y. M. C. A., which has been held on Thursday evenings this winter, will come to an end this evening with three lively events. They are rope climbing, hop, step and jump, and potato race. There are three medals to be awarded in the contest to the three men making the three highest averages in all the events. Walter Long and Frank O. Bristol, the assistant secretary, were having a lively race for the first place when Bristol was withdrawn from the contest after last week's events. It was by a decision of the athletic committee who decided that Bristol as an officer of the association could not compete.

BASKET BALL.

There will be no game of basket ball in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Friday evening after all. The second team from the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. wanted to schedule a game and Mr. Heywood was anxious to have it played, but the boys were otherwise engaged for that evening or else had gone out of practice and did not care to play, so Mr. Heywood was compelled to call the game off. The basket ball season in Plainfield has now ended.

FELL IN A FIT.

Mrs. Betty Kaufman Now in a Critical Condition at the Hospital.

About 9 o'clock last night Mrs. Betty Kaufman and her daughter, of Arlington avenue, were walking along West Seventh street on their way home, when suddenly Mrs. Kaufman exclaimed: "O! I have such pains in my head," and she fell to the sidewalk in a fit. Her daughter was very much frightened and gave an alarm at once. The ambulance was sent for and the woman was removed to the hospital. There she now lies in a critical condition The physicians have made an examination but are unable as yet to learn the cause of her illness. It is said that she is not subject to fits and this fact makes her illness all the more puzzling. Mrs. Kaufman is colored and aged sixty years.

Notes of the Street Railway.

Superintendent Adleman is ever on the alert for the comfort and convenience of the patrons of the street railway. Car No. 8, one of the open summer cars, has been thoroughly gone over, and will be run out and put into service on the first warm day.

Car No. 2 has been put in the carhouse for a change of trucks.

On the summer cars much larger signs will will be used to designate the car's destination. At present the route of the car is only known by a small lettered board on either end or on top of the car, and the motormen are oftentimes "held up" by passengers who don't know whether they're boarding the right car or not.

To Be Buried by Masons.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., has taken charge of the body of the late Alfred Malm, who died at the hospital on Sunday from injuries received by a fall. Since his death it has been learned that he was Free Mason but had allowed his membership to run out. However, rather than have the man buried in a pauper's grave the lodge will bury the body next Saturday afternoon in the North Plainfield cemetery at 3 o'clock with Masonic rites.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

Judgment was rendered for the claimant for the possession of the premises in the landlord and tenant cases of Quaas against Green and Quaas against Nelson, before Justice Newcorn, this morning. The contract case of Tindall against Riker was adjourned for a week.

ACKERMAN-MILLS.

Nuptials of Popular Young People Performed Last Night.

Among the pretty weddings of the month was that of last evening when Miss Lottie Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mills, of Summit avenue, and Harry C. Ackerman, of Clinton avenue, were united in marriage by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 in the presence of only the relatives of the bride and groom. The bridal party were married beneath a large floral bell which was prettily arranged with many different kinds of flowers.

The bride wore a gown of French surah trimmed with white moire silk and lace, and she carried the usual bouquet of bridal roses. The gown of the bridemaid, Miss Rosa Adams, cousin of the groom, was gray cloth trimmed with silk and lace. The best man was William Ackerman, brother of the groom.

The bride and groom were congratulated after the ceremony which was followed by a pleasing wedding supper and a reception. Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman were handsomely remembered by their relatives and friends with acceptable gifts. The newly-wedded couple will take up their residence on Summit avenue for the present.

SHERIDAN HOUSE PROPERTY.

The Legal Search Prior to the Transfer to the County

The committee on public grounds and buildings of the board of chosen freeholders, held a meeting Monday afternoon, and among other matters discussed was the proposed transfer of the former Sheridan House, Elizabeth, to the county. Before this is done, however, it will be necessary to have a legal search of the property made to cover a period of the past 60 years.

It is expected that this step will be consummated in the course of a few days, and that the board will then take the neceesary formal action to have the building sold. It is probable that it will be put up at auction. The building, however, will not be allowed to stand where it is, as the purchaser will be obliged to remove it inside of sixty days. As the building is too old and too large to be removed, it will be torn down and some of the lumber may find its way into other buildings. The county authorities contemplate ultimately to use the property for enlarging the county buildings, but for some years it will probably be a park.

—Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a returned missionary from Burmah, gave an interesting talk on the work in the missions there in the lecture room of the Park Avenue Baptist church, last evening. She had a number of curios with her which she exhibited.

A Remarkable Case.

A gentleman of Mount Vernon sitting in his library one evening heard a curious sound in the parlor below. The rest of the family had gone to bed. The sound was rather musical, being a humming in various notes, broken by little twangs, he concluded to go down stairs softly and peered into the parlor. There in the moonlight which shone on the piano top he saw the house cat, a big black tom, called Steal.

Steal was sitting on his haunches beside the banjo which Bob, the son of the house, usually plays. Steal had learned that by touching the strings with his paws he could make them sound. It was remembered afterward that the cat always came into the room when Bob played, but that was supposed to have been because the boy made a great pet of him.—New York Sun.

The Old Lady in "American Notes."

Mrs. Mary Ann Reed, who died at the Hartford Retreat for the Insane the other day, at the age of ninety-two, had been in the institution for fifty-two years. She was the "little lady" referred to by Charles Dickens in his "American Notes." The passage relating to her is as follows: "'I am an antediluvian, sir.' I thought the best thing to say was that I had suspected as much from the first. Therefore I said so. 'It is an extremely proud and pleasant thing, sir to be an antediluvian,' said the old lady. 'I should think it was, ma'am,' I rejoined. The old lady kissed her hand, gave another skip, smirked, and sidled down the gallery in a most extraordinary manner. Her delusion was a pleasant one, and she was always amiable and docile.—New York Tribune.

JEFFERSONIANS AT DINNER.

Leading Democrats Listen to Some Good Political Speeches.

The Jeffersonian Club, of Newark, gave a dinner last night in Newark. United States Senator James Smith was toastmaster, and Prosecutor Elvin C. Crane presided. There was a long list of speakers. About four hundred persons sat the tables, and they included all the leading Democrats of Newark and other parts of the State.

Among the guests from abroad was United States Senator Daniel, of Virginia. The Jersey speakers were: State Senator Kiehl, of Hunterdon county; ex Speaker James J. Bergen, of Somerset county; William B. Gourley, of Paterson; Allan L. McDermott, of Jersey City; F. C. Marsh, of Union county; Lindley M. Garrison, Clarence Atkinson, Mayor Seymour, of Newark; E. L. Price, Judge Gottfried Krueger, Edward Balbach, M. T. Barrett, George R Gray, Jeremiah O'Rourke and Thomas Dunn English.

In the speech making Senator Daniel spoke to the toast, "Thomas Jefferson;" Allan L. McDermott spoke about "Republican Legislation;" Col. E. L. Price, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, spoke on "Democratic Organization;" Mayor Seymour on "The Democracy of Newark," and other speakers dwelt on Democratic prospects and harmony in the state.

FOUGHT WITH GYPSIES.

Chief of the Nomads and a Farmer Came to Blows.

A fierce battle took place on the Gordon Buchanan farm, near the old Hunterdon County Fair grounds, at Flemington early yesterday morning. The participants were a band of gypsies and Mr. Buchanan's son, who is out of his juniors. A large band of gypsies passed through Flemington yesternay.

They pitched camp upon Buchanan's farm without consent from the owner. This morning Buchanan, accompanied by his son, went to the place. He observed them cutting down trees besides turning their drove of horses upon his fields. The chief of the tribe was sought. When asked for an explanation bitter words followed. The father was in danger of being attacked by the band and the son came to his rescue. Despite the fact that the young man fought with great odds, he held his own. The young man had one ear nearly cut off and an ugly gash cut in his assailants and they retreated to their quarters.

Indignation ran high when the news of the battle reached the ears of the neighboring farmers, and it was reported that the gypsies would be attacked by a mob last night and driven out of the county, but the band evidently scented danger, as they struck camp immediately after the battle and decamped in a northerly direction.

A LITTLE TOT LOST.

Young Miss Wilson Couldn't Find Her Way Back Home.

As George Pope, driver for R. O. Howell, the North avenue grocer, was driving one of the delivery wagons last evening at about 6:30 o'clock, he noticed a child sitting on a stepping stone on East Front street at the head of Westervelt avenue. As he was returning on foot a few minutes later, after leaving the horse and wagon at the stable, he found the child sitting on the stone weeping, and two young ladies trying to comfort her.

He took the child, who had been asleep on the stone and who was blue and pinched with cold, in charge and started up Washington street. On the way, he met William Swick, driver for Blimm, the East Third street grocer, who had his delivery wagon. Swick recognized the child as belonging at the home of W. K. Wilson, of East Fourth street, and taking the tot in the wagon, conveyed her to her home, where her parents were anxiously awaiting her return.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

EDUCATION OF NEGROES.

TUSKEGEE STUDENTS TALK OF THEIR SCHOOL AND WORK.

Young Men and Women Who Have Had No School Advantages at Home Find Book Intelligence at a Normal Institute.

"Negro Education in the Black Belt of the South" was the subject of a very interesting public meeting held last night in the Crescent avenue Presbyterian church, in the interests of the Normal and Industrial Institute of Tuskegee, Alabama. The Institute was represented by Thomas J. Calloway, assistant to the principal, Booker T. Washington, Mrs. L. N. Calloway, one of the teachers, and four of the students, Miss Esther L. Spies and Miss Edna A. Spies, '98, and William Bolden and Edward N. Broadnax, '99. All were colored.

Rev. William R. Richards, D. D., introduced Mr. Calloway, under whose direction the exercises proceeded. He called upon William Bolden to say something about his life as a student for the ministry at Tuskegee, and the manly young fellow, almost as black as ebony, but with a clear brain and an earnest Christian spirit, told of his early desire for an education, which his father lacked the means to give him, his delight on hearing that at Tuskegee he could work and support himself while studying, and his entrance and life there, spending so many hours in work and so many in school, and trying in spare hours to do missionary work in the surrounding country.

Mrs. Calloway, a pleasant-faced young woman, scarcely darker than a brunette American, described the work of the school, with its division of time between work and study, and the outreaching of the directors to help those whom the school did not reach. In that section of the country the black population far outnumbers the white, and Mrs. Booker T. Washington has established in the town various organizations to lead the people to a higher life. She holds classes in cooking, cleaning, etc., has started a circulating library, a social purity club and others, which have a large influence. She has also opened a school on a neighboring plantation, where only one or two could read or write.

Mr Calloway himself told of the early life of Booker T. Washington, who was educated at Hampton, and who established the Tuskegee Institute, and related many interesting facts about the latter. They have nearly 1,000 students and eighty instructors. The school provides an English education, combined with industrial training. Twenty-five industries are in constant operation; the young men work at farming, bricklaying, plastering, painting, etc., while the young women are given such employments as sewing, mending, cooking and laundry work. Graduates go forth well equipped to earn their living, and give great satisfaction to their employers. They are also much interested in raising their own people to a higher plane of life, and in this some of them are succeeding nobly, for what the people of the south need is some one to lead and guide them, and show them how to make the most of their lives.

A very pleasant feature of the evening was the singing of a number of the wierd plantation melodies by the four students, Mrs. Calloway as leader. "Steal Away," "Peter on de Sea," "Befoe I'd be a Slave," and several others were sung by the soft Southern voices, and were heartily enjoyed. The students had all bright and intelligent young faces, the two girls being decidedly pretty, and almost white.

At the close of the exercises, Dr. Richards said a few earnest words in praise of the noble work done by the Institute, and an offering was taken for its benefit.

MAY NOT ACCEPT THE ROAD.

Middlesex Freeholders Inspect the New Road Near Bound Brook.

The road committee of the Middlesex County Board of Chosen Freeholders met at Taylor's Hotel, Dunellen, yesterday, but the session was private. It is understood, however, that the committee voted against the acceptance of the new road laid out from Bound Brook through the new town of Lincoln to Dunellen, entering the latter place at a point just west of Taylor's Hotel. The main objection was said to be from those living on the old road who claimed that by opening the new one, all, or mostly all, the traffic would be taken from the old thoroughfare, and in consequence they would hereafter have to go begging for road repairs.

ANNUAL CLUB RECEPTION

PROMINENT SOCIETY PEOPLE LENT GRACE AND CHARM TO THE AFFAIR.

Monday Afternoon Club Members and Friends Entertained in a Delightful Manner at the Casino Last Evening

The annual reception of the Monday Afternoon Club was held at the Casino last evening, and it was one of the most brilliant affairs of the season. The pretty hall was made exceedingly attractive and it is doubtful whether the decorations were ever equaled There was a decided charm and beauty about the arrangement and all present were unanimous in their admiration and praise of the committee having the decorations in charge. The stage was completely hidden from view through the use of stately palms, while the change of scenery was a pleasing feature. The use of banquet lamps amid the palms added beauty. About the hall there was a beautiful display of flowers, while the different colored electric lights presented a scene of fairy land. Comfortable seats were arranged about the hall and the large number of pretty sofa pillows afforded ease and enjoyment for the guests. In the rear of the hall surrounding the balcony there was a profusion of flowers and apple blossoms arranged in the most pleasing manner to the eye.

Combined with the beautiful decorations, there was a large number of Plainfield's society women present, together with their escorts, and this added grace and charm. The social side of the affair was the feature, and interspersing it a short programme was presented, which included soprano solos by Miss Louise St. John Westervelt, of New York, accompanied on the piano by F. J. Smith, organist of the Crescent Avenue church, and several solos by Philip Egner, 'cellist, of New York. The selections were cordially received and a number of encores were given.

Mrs. Sterling, president of the club, announced the several numbers and she also made a few remarks in which she extended a cordial welcome on behalf of the club to those present as guests.

The guests were served with refreshments about 11 o'clock and the pleasant affair came to an end. Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Stockton and Mrs. Randall composed the committee on decorations and entertainment and they were highly complimented for their earnest efforts to provide such an evening of rare pleasure.

MARITAL WOES HINTED.

A WIFE WANTS TO KNOW IF HER HUSBAND JILTED HER

Justice Nash Asked to Give Information to a Woman Who Infers That Her Husband Has Married Another Woman.

There evidently has been trouble in Paterson, judging from the communication that was received by Justice Nash, of this city, several days ago. It looks as if a Paterson man had tried the dangerous experiment of keeping two wives at once in different cities or else that he had deserted his lawful spouse and gone to live with another woman.

The Justice received a letter from Magdalene Damoulin, of 16 Olive street, Paterson, asking if he had married Adolph Dumoulin and Helen Beyaert in Plainfield on Nov. 6th, 1896, as, continued the letter, "his wife would like to know the circumstances of the case." The Justice was also asked if he knew where the couple are now living. Judging from the letter, Dumoulin has fallen into serious trouble.

On November 6, 1896, a man and a woman entered the office of Justice Nash and asked that official to perform the ceremony. On being asked, Adolph Dumoulin stated that he was from New York city, that he was 42 years of age and that he was a native of France. His companion said that her name was Helen Beyaert, and that she lived on East Ninth street, Plainfield. She said that she was born in Belgium.

Both declared that they had never been married before. The Justice consented to perform the ceremony and the witnesses of it were J. F. Shepard, S. P. T. Wilbur and Amos Moffett.

The couple then departed without stating their destination. They were fairly well dressed and appeared like quiet orderly people.

Danced the Night Away.

The Cleveland Cyclers held their second grand ball last evening in Saenger and Turner Hall on Somerset street, and it was fully as successful as the first dance. The hall was crowded with dancers and everyone had a thoroughly enjoyable time. At midnight supper was served after which dancing was continued until an early hour this morning.

WOMEN AND THE SCHOOLS

MRS. HALL SAYS THAT THEY ARE ASKING FOR NO NEW RIGHTS.

All That the Suffrage Advocates Ask is the Restoration of the Privileges That Were Accorded Them From 1887 to 1894.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall recently contributed the following to the New York Tribune:

As there seems to be a lack of information with regard to the form of school suffrage which the proposed constitutional amendment will give to the women of New Jersey, will you kindly give space to the following statement?

First—The proposed amendment does not apply to cities, but only to rural districts.

Second—It will give no new rights or privileges, but will simply restore to the women of our State the right to vote at school meetings for the election of members of the Board of Education. This right was granted to them by the Legislature of 1887 and was used by women in increasing numbers and with decided benefit to the schools until Novembr, 1894, when the Supreme Court decided that it was contrary to the Constitution so far as voting for school trustees was concerned.

Third—The right to vote on all other questions that come before school meetings—such as the voting a tax or authorizing the issuing of bonds—is still possessed by the women of our State (see official opinions of Hon. A. B. Poland, State Superintendent of Public Instruction in 1895).

Fourth—It is also the law of New Jersey that women can hold the place of school trustee, and a number are doing so in different parts of the State at the present time, having been elected thereto by the votes of men (Laws of 1894, Chapter CCCXXXV, Part IV.: "No person shall be eligible to the office of trustee unless he or she is above twenty-one years of age, and is a resident of the district and can read and write")

It will thus be seen that our laws at the present moment, are in a somewhat anomalous condition, since women may fill the office of school trustee although they may not vote for the election of one, and since they can also vote on the very important question of appropriations.

I am told that the opposite condition of affairs prevails in Massachusetts, where women may vote for members of school boards, but not for appropriations. This, perhaps, accounts for the distressing state of things reported upon recently by a committee of collegiate alumnæ appointed to investigate the condition of the public schools of Boston.

Massachusetts has always, and with very good reason, been proud of her system of public education, but the report of these college women was a mortifying revelation as to the sanitary condition of the school buildings.

Antiquated methods and foul conditions of plumbing and sewerage, floors guiltless of soap and water, unhealthy locations, all told a tale of dirt and disease that was positively startling.

In New Jersey women exercised the rights of school suffrage with decided benefit to the schools. Thus, at Westfield a new schoolhouse was secured by their vote. A recent report of one of the boards of education of our State, composed entirely of men, says:

"A matter which has caused the Board very great regret is the decision of the Supreme Court. From the time when the franchise was first exercised by the women of this township there has been a decided improvement in the character of our meetings. . . . The presence of the woman has had the effect of imposing restraint upon any unruly tendencies, and our meetings have been characterized by decorum and a strict regard for the rules of business."

The school meeting in our State resembles the town meeting, and is held one week after the latter, often taking place in a school building.

In the district where I lived and (at the request of my husband) attended and voted at school meetings for some years it was found that the presence of the women made one important difference. The children were able to attend school next day, whereas, in the days when men only voted, it took at least a day to clean the school buildings after the school meeting!

It is needless, however, to multiply instances. We found among the members of the Legislature an entire recognition of the justice of the proposed measure, which will merely, as has already been stated, restore to us privileges or rights granted by the Legislature of 1887 and exercised by the women of our State for seven years. This amendment to the Constitution has been passed by three successive Legislatures—those of 1895, 1896 and 1897, the last two times in precisely the same form, according to the requirements of the Constitution and by a practically unanimous vote, for there was no opposition. That the people will ratify the action of the Legislature in this instance cannot be doubted. Florence Howe Hall,
President New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association.
Plainfield, N. J., April 10th, 1897.

GREETED THEIR PASTOR.

THE METHODISTS EXTEND A WELCOME TO DR. SNODGRASS.

The Reception Was a Cordial One on the Part of All Concerned—Dr. Sdodgrass Well Pleased With His New Associations.

The hand of greeting and good-fellowship was cordially extended to Rev. Dr. Winfield C. Snodgrass by the congregation of the First M. E. church, last evening, when he and his family were heartily welcomed to their new home. Dr. Snodgrass was appointed to the First church from the Centenary church at Newark by the last conference and made his first appearance here on Easter Sunday. He was welcomed at the time by Rev. Dr. Whitney and then introduced to the congregation. Last evening, however, he was welcomed in a social way at a reception given by the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

The reception that Dr. Snodgrass received was a cordial one, not only on the part of his new congregation, who turned out in large numbers, but by the ministers of the city as well. All but two or three of the clergy of the city, who were unavoidably detained elsewhere, were present and welcomed Dr. Snodgrass into the ministerial circles of Plainfield.

Mrs. Snodgrass was present as were two of her daughters, the eldest one being away at school, and the three Messrs. Snodgrass. They were introducted among the congregation and left a very pleasant impression with all who met them.

Henry A. McGee acted as master of ceremonies. After all had been seated, a hymn was sung and Rev. A. E. Main led in prayer. James R. Joy was then introduced to make the address of welcome, which he did in a very happy manner. Rev. W. C. O'Donnell extended the welcome of the Ministers Association of the city in a bright speech.

Rev. Dr. Snodgrass was then introduced and replied to the former speakers. He spoke very feelingly of the hearty welcome that he had received by the congregation and how he no longer felt a stranger among them. He referred to the unity among the clergy of the city as something to be very thankful for. His remarks were well chosen and closed with the wish that his future connection with the church would be as pleasant as the start had been.

The rest of the evening was spent in sociability. The members of the congregation who had not already met the new pastor and his family were then introduced.

The reception committee consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Cornwell and Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee. The committee on refreshments consisted of Mrs. D. E. Davis, Mrs. C. E. Horne, Miss Jackson, Mrs. N. W. Pike and Miss Sharpe.

ADJUSTING FOR A TROLLEY COMPANY.

Representatives of a Cross State Line Visit Scotch Plains.

Three trolley magnates were in Scotch Plains yesterday and dinnered at Emery's Hotel. To a Press representative they said that they represented a Trenton trolley syndicate, which had the right of way over almost the entire route from Trenton to Elizabeth, and they were in town trying to amicably adjust matters with property owners along the proposed route where the trolley is to run. The gentlemen were of the opinion that the staid old town of revolutionary times would be connected with the trolley circuit by fall.

Talked of a Trip Through the South.

At the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Parse, the president, gave a very interesting talk on her recent trip to Knoxville, Tenn. Mrs. Parse told something about the temperance work which is being accomplished in that city, and many other things of interest were related. There was a large attendance of the members, and at the close a vote of thanks was given to the speaker.

Still Alarm of Fire.

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock a still alarm of fire was received at fire headquarters. The fire which was a very small one, was in the chimney of the house occupied by Mrs. Richards on East Fifth street. No. 2 hose wagon responded, and only one extinguisher was used to put the fire out. The damage was slight.

St. Philip's Day.

The Rev. Mr. Harris, who is to probably become pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, is expected to hold his first Saint Day service tomorrow, at 10 a. m., it being St. Philips day.

Little Helen Armstrong, of Duer street, is the envy of all her friends today. She has a handsome new wheel, which is a gift from her parents.

THE PICKS STRIKE IN.

WORK OF OPENING WATCHUNG AVENUE STARTED THIS MORNING.

A Threat Made by Durlach's Representative That the First One to Touch the Disputed Property Would be Arrested.

If such a thing is possible, Watchung avenue in this city will be opened for traffic before a great while. This morning at 7 o'clock a gang of men, under the direction of Street Commissioner Gavett and Councilman Frost, began the work of opening up the avenue from Front street to the brook. A line was established and the men are working accordingly. All of the trees which are standing on the line are being cut down and removed, as well as the fences. As soon as the work was started, Mr. Guttman, who occupies the corner house owned by Durlach, gave notice that the first man who did any work on the property would be arrested. This was only a threat, however, and no action was taken at that time. The men were somewhat timid and Mr. Gavett personally conducted the tearing down of the fence.

Soon afterward Mr. Guttman sent a telegram to Mr. Durlach telling him of the invasion. He is expected to arrive in Plainfield at any minute, although he had not appeared at noon. The hope of securing an injunction through the court is small, for the court is not now in session.

Later in the day the steam roller was brought to the avenue and used to pull stumps from the ground. A few feet of land will have to be taken from the Durlach property, and as soon as possible this will be done.

Mr. Frost, in conversation with a Daily Press reporter, said that it is the intention to go right ahead and open up the avenue to the brook. The work will be accomplished as speedily as possible.

No great trouble is anticipated, for it is believed that Durlach is only "bluffing." It is said that Durlach has in his possession plans for the erection of a row of brick houses and stores along the avenue, and it is said that he has stated his intention of building. It would seem as though it would be foolish for him to try and block the opening at this stage of the game, for should the property be left in its present condition it would be a detriment not only to Durlach's property but to the adjacent property as well.

WOMEN IN A GYMNASIUM.

PHYSICAL CULTURE CLASS ENDED TRAINING YESTERDAY.

Miss MacMartin, the Instructoress, Presented With a Watch and Chain as a Token of Esteem by Her Pupils.

During the past six months Miss MacMartin has been conducting a gymnasium class at the Y. M. C. A. for women and girls, and the work of the class closed yesterday afternoon for the season. Miss MacMartin is thoroughly trained in her work and she has succeeded in obtaining excellent results with her scholars. For some time she was an instructor in Barnard College, Cambridge, and her methods are up-to-date.

There are at present twenty-five members in the Plainfield class and their work during the season has been very good, which was evidenced yesterday. A very interesting basket ball game was played between the senior and junior members and the latter won by the score of 6 to 4.

An unexpected pleasure was realized by Miss MacMartin when Miss Anna Miller, on behalf of the class, presented her with a handsome watch and chain as a token of esteem. Miss Miller made a few happy remarks which were responded to in an appreciative manner by Miss MacMartin.

It is the intention next year to form a fencing class among the members, and all who are interested in joining the class can apply to Mrs. Eaton, 228 East Fifth street, who will give all information.

Filled Up on Firewater.

Harry Foose, of the West End, filled up on firewater last night and in consequence he became very noisy. Patrolman Saunders found him on Liberty street causing a disturbance, and he was arrested. It required a little extra effort for the officer to get the man to the station house, as he was not inclined to go. This morning Judge DeMeza imposed a fine of $3, which was paid.

A Musical Affair.

Miss Antonia Dickson, a graduate of Stuttgart Conservatory, will give a novel musically illustrated lecture, to morrow evening at 8 o'clock, at the Hunterston Hotel, Netherwood. Subject: "Folk-songs of Foreign Lands." The lecture comprises a varied range, including Norway, Lapland, Iceland, Germany, Brittany, Hungary, Russia and Italy.

ROBBED WHILE HE SLEPT

HENRY HAYS LOSES $46 AND A GOLD WATCH WORTH $100.

The West End Burglar Continued His Dopredations Last Night by Entering Several Houses Through the Windows.

Our invisible friend, the burglar, continued on his rounds in the West End, last evening, and met with good success. He tried his luck at six residences in that neighborhood and made a good haul in one of them. His old trick of slipping a window-catch with a knife worked to perfection and he was enabled to enter at will. His success of the night before rather emboldened him and he visited the bedroom of one of his victims, but without disturbing him.

Henry Hays lives at 1106 Dunellen avenue. He is well-known as the oldest man in the city who drives a trotter to a sulky. His residence is next to that of Jeremiah Manning. The burglar came to his house and gained entrance through the window in the parlor by pushing the catch open with his knife. He carefully moved the furniture to one side of the room so as to give him a free exit in case he wanted to leave in a hurry. He then explored the first floor, pulling over the drawers to stands and buffet. There was some valuable old silver there, but it was not touched.

Then the midnight intruder became bolder and ventured to the second story. Mr. Hays sleeps in one of the front rooms, and always leaves a light burning dimly in the room. Mr. Hays clothes lay on a chair at the side of the bed. The unbidden guest tiptoed in the room and carefully collected the trousers, coat and vest of the sleeping man and departed to the hall where he proceeded to go through the pockets.

In the trousers pocket was a roll of bills amounting to $46 in all. This the burglar appropriated. In the vest was Mr. Hays gold watch, valued at $100, and worth much more to the owner on account of the associations connected with it. The burglar broke his usual rule of taking only money and pocketed the watch. A pearl handled knife and a bunch of keys belonging to Mr. Hays he threw on the floor where they were found by the owner this morning.

The burglar dropped the clothes in a corner in the hall and made his way down stairs again and departed by the front window, it is supposed, as all the doors in the house were locked on the inside.

There was absolutely nothing to identify the stranger or the time he paid his visit. The house is included in the district patroled by the police, but the beat in that neighborhood is a large one, and Patrolman Fraleigh, who is located there, can pass there but few times during the evening. It is evident that the thief knows something of the city and the police department from the way in which he goes about his operations.

A visit was paid to the residence of Daving Morning, of 333 Morris avenue, during the night. The intruder made his entrance through the kitchen window, slipping the catch one side with a knife. His visit was a profitless one, for the money in the house was in a secure place of which he knew not of, and he apparently did not care to risk identification by taking several articles of jewelry that lay about. He departed as he came, through the kitchen window.

The home of Wm. Ashworth, of 1121 West Third street, was entered. The catch to the front window was pushed one side with a knife and the window raised. There was nothing missing when the occupants investigated this morning. It was evident that the burglar took his departure by the same way he entered.

Louis Alpaugh lives at 1126 West Third street. An attempt was made to enter his house, last evening. The burglar entered by the front window in his usual way, pushing aside the catch to the window with a knife. All the doors going from the parlor were locked and the intruder departed without taking anything of value with him.

Another resident of the same street who received a visit from the now famous burglar was John Bensen, of 1136 West Third street. The entrance was made through the front window into the parlor by the usual means. Nothing was disturbed about the house, however, and the occupants have lost nothing that they know of.

The experience of the burglar was a trifle more exciting when he tried to enter the house of Martin Giggin, of 1143 West Second street. Now it happens that Mr. and Mrs. Giggin sleep in the front room and in the middle of the room stands a square table, on which is a large Bible. Last night Mr. Giggin left his silver watch lying

THE SEAL FISHERIES

Report on the Subject by an Eminent Authority.

MADE BY A BRITISH SCIENTIST.

Claims That There Is a Decrease In the Number From Former Estimates and Urges That Measures Be Taken For More Protection.

Washington, April 30.—Some months ago the report of President D. S. Jordan, the head of the American scientific commission to the seal islands last year, was submitted to our government. That of Professor Thompson of the British commission, addressed to Lord Salisbury, has just appeared. Professor Thompson does not discuss the subject of pelagic sealing, but confines his report to the observations made of seal life on the Pribilof islands.

He does not seem to have discovered any material decrease of the herd in 1896 from 1895, but recognizes and admits a marked decrease as compared with 1892. He finds the breeding grounds in fine condition, so far as abundance of male life is concerned, and notes a large number of idle bulls.

He concedes that more than one-half of the dead pups on the island are due to the killing of the mothers in Bering sea. This percentage is less than that assigned by Dr. Jordan. He speaks in high terms of the methods of driving and killing the male seals by the lessees and states that he has "no recommendations to suggest for their improvement."

The Conclusion Reached.

Although he does not take up the subject of pelagic sealing and denies that there has been any alarming decrease of the herd, the conclusion reached from his observations on the islands points unmistakably to the necessity for some modification of the existing regulations. It is as follows:

"It is my duty to state to your lordship that there is still abundant need for care and for prudent measures of conservation in the interests of all. A birth rate which we estimate at 143,000 per annum is not great in comparison with the drain upon the stock. From one cause or another a loss of over 29,000 is experienced among the pups ere they emigrate to sea, and, though the dangers they there encounter are unknown to us, we may take it for certain that the risks they run are great and the loss they endure considerable.

"When to the measured loss in infancy and to the unmeasured loss in youth and age we add the toll taken on the islands and the toll taken in the sea, it is not difficult to believe that the margin of safety is a narrow one, if it be not in some measure overstepped. We may hope for a perpetuation of the present numbers; we cannot count upon an increase. And it is my earnest hope that a recognition of mutual interests and a regard for the common advantage may suggest measures of prudence which shall keep the pursuit and slaughter of the animal within due and definite bounds."

Tried to Fire a Hotel.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., April 30.—Incendiaries entered the Continental hotel here, and after saturating a pile of mattresses with kerosene attempted to set fire to the building. The watchman was awakened by the noise made by the men in entering the hotel by a rear window. He pursued the firebugs for some distance and fired two shots after them, but without effect. The Continental is one of the largest hotels here.

New Postmasters.

Washington, April 30.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed:

New York—Blue Mountain Lake, J. H. Wheeler; Freeville, W. E. Sutfin; Grooms, James Groom; West, Joseph Horning; Whitman, J. R. Mills.

Pennsylvania—Brinton, N. T. Velar; Parkers Glen, W. R. Smith; Porter, J. H. Elkin.

Bound By Masked Burglars.

Hudson, N. Y., April 30.—Three masked men entered the house of Charles Betts, near Chatham Center, by forcing a door. They tied Mr. Betts to a bedpost and then ransacked the house, taking possession of all the valuables they could find. They then harnessed up the horse and drove to Valatie where they turned the horse round to find his way back.

Locomotives Collide.

Portland, Me., April 30.—Two engines of the Boston and Maine road collided on Commercial street. One of the engines was wrecked, the tender being torn to pieces, but the other was not badly damaged. Benjamin R. Jonah, employed on one of the engines, was instantly killed. Fireman G. W. Littlefield was slightly hurt.

A Dangerous Person to Be at Large.

Middletown, N. Y., April 30.—Justice Mead of Denton released Mrs. James Clark, who was charged with setting fire to the residence of James York while partaking of shelter afforded her there. The evidence was not strong enough to convict her. The woman is believed to be insane and is now roaming about the country.

To Preside at Court Martial.

Rochester, April 30.—Ex-Lieutenant Governor Saxton has been appointed president of the court martial which will try General Reynolds on the charge of conduct unbecoming a member of the G. A. R. and a veteran in circulating libelous stories in connection with Captain James R. Chamberlain's war

CAUSES A FURORE IN THE COMMONS.

The Attack Made on the Transvaal Item of British Expense Budget—Chamberlain Charges the Liberal Leader With Being Unpatriotic.

London, April 30.—The chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, read the budget statement in the house of commons. The balance account for 1896-7 shows the exchequer revenue to be £103,950,000 and the expenditures £101,477,000, leaving a surplus of £12,365,000. The budget asked for £200,000 on the account of the Transvaal.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader, expressed his satisfaction at the statement made by the first lord of the treasury, but said no one could doubt the existence at the Cape of a very widespread impression that war is imminent. Nor, he added, can any one wonder that the Boers are arming after the Jameson attempt. In conclusion, he expressed the hope that Great Britain did not and would not entertain such a suicidal and disgraceful policy as the incitement of a race war in Africa.

Sir William Harcourt's remarks were met with cries of "Oh!"

Some Severe Language.

Continuing, he said the policy of the secretary of state for the colonies, intending to produce a racial war, was defeated by the good sense and feeling of the people of Cape Colony, and he pointed to the adoption of the recent conciliatory motion in the parliament of Cape Colony as being a condemnation of this war policy, adding that he was happy to say the peaceful policy was supported by the government of Cape Colony.

The secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, here entered the house, and amid cheers, Sir William Harcourt remarked:

"In the presence of Mr. Chamberlain I repeat that it was a defeat of an utterly unjustifiable attempt to excite ill feeling.

"When we are asked to refuse a reduction of the taxes of Great Britain in order to contribute money to promote warlike, aggressive operations in South Africa, we oppose a most determined resistance. The proposal to apply money to unjustifiable purposes against the will of the people and government of Cape Colony is one of the most injurious things with reference to the empire ever submitted to the house of commons."

Mr. Chamberlain Retaliates.

Mr. Chamberlain said he had not expected to have to reply to "pernicious and dangerous language." He classed Sir William Harcourt's utterances as being "unpatriotic in the highest degree, embarrassing to the government and injurious to the cause of peace."

Batteries of artillery and maxim guns, millions and millions of cartridges and hundreds of thousands of rifles have been imported into the Transvaal.

Mr. Chamberlain concluded with saying:

"I do not believe there is a feeling to repudiate the policy of the government. On the contrary, I believe the feeling of every loyal British subject at the Cape to be one of gratitude and satisfaction with her majesty's government. I understand that they recognize their position as the representatives of the paramont power in South Africa and are determined, in the often used words, to maintain the integrity of all our rights under the convention."

Interesting Astronomical Phenomena.

Geneva, N. Y., April 30.—Professor Brooks, director of the Smith observatory, while taking daylight observations of Mercury between 3 and 4 o'clock, observed through the large telescope a wonderful flight of daylight meteors. They were intensely white, many of them having the appearance of Vega or some other bright star when seen through a large telescope in daytime. The direction of motion was toward the sun. During the passage of the meteors, which lasted half an hour, over 100 were seen, at times two or three meteors passing through the telescope field together.

Howland Is Still Missing.

New Bedford, Mass., April 30.—The mill treasurer, William D. Howland, is still missing. The police are following up every clew, but as yet have met with no success. G. M. Kingsbury, a cotton broker, who is in the city, says that Conductor Rice of the Old Colony division of the Consolidated road is very positive that Mr. Howland was a passenger on his train into Providence last Friday evening. He thinks Mr. Howland boarded the train at Taunton.

Bad Railroad Wreck.

Warrenton, O., April 30.—An engine and 14 cars of a freight train on the Wheeling and Lake Erie railway went through a bridge near this place and plunged into a creek. Engineer James Garsletter was scalded to death. Fireman Edward Munn and Brakeman C. E. Keyser, both received broken legs and were otherwise injured.

Postal Clerk Appointed.

Washington, April 30.—Pierson H. Bristow of Des Moines has been selected for chief clerk for the office of fourth assistant postmaster general, vice Chapin of New York, resigned. Mr. Bristow held the same office during the Harrison administration. He is not a relative of Fourth Assistant Bristow.

Suspended Bank's Statement.

Providence, April 30.—The statement of assets and liabilities of the suspended Phenix Savings bank of Phenix was filed with the clerk of the appellate court. It was signed and sworn to by the treasurer of the institution, George E. Sheldon, and shows liabilities of $417,693.33 and assets $417,693.33.

An Old Veteran Dead.

Beverly, Mass., April 30.—Israel E. Lovitt, ex-mayor of Sabula, Ia., and of late a prominent resident of Beverly, died here, aged 60 years. He was a veteran of the war. He was storekeeper for the Boston custom house.

GET WELL AND STAY WELL.

GET RID OF WHAT MAKES YOU SICK AND STAY RID OF IT.

It is so simple to be well that we wonder why there are so many sick people.

Come to think about it, must be because they don't know what's made them sick.

If they knew that, they could prevent it, and when they were sick, in some cases cure themselves. But, so long as we don't take more care of our health, we shall always be more or less sick.

The simple rules of health are: Keep clean, take exercise, eat good food, scour out your stomach.

This last means: Don't tolerate indigestion. Cure it with Shaker Digestive Cordial. A stomach full of undigested, fermented, putrid food is the unhealthiest thing you can think of.

Half our diseases and troubles come from the poisons of undige ted food. More than half of them could be cured with Shaker Digestive Cordial.

More than half, because often when we think we are sick we are only weak, and a course of nourishing food digested without effort by the stomach (with the aid of Shaker Digestive Cordial) would reinvigorate the whole system and make us well.

A ten cent trial bottle will prove it. At druggists.

CUBA TO GET REFORM

Decree on Weyler's Report Has Been Signed by the Queen.

THE GOVERNOR HAS VETO POWER.

Full Text of the Document Which Is Offered to the Cubans In Order to Obtain a Peaceful Settlement of Difficulties.

Madrid, April 30.—The queen regent at a cabinet meeting has signed a decree providing for the immediate application of the agreed upon reforms for the island of Cuba.

Her majesty's action was due to the receipt of a cable message from Captain General Weyler announcing that the western part of the island is completely pacified. The decree applies to the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana, Matanzas and Santa Clara.

Home Rule For Cuba.

Washington, April 30.—The announcement that the queen regent has signed a decree applying the reform laws is considered by officials here as a realization of the plans under negotiation for many months to give Cuba an autonomous form of government, or home rule. The home rule plan about to be applied was made public in detail by Minister Dupuy de Lome on Feb. 6 last. A council of administration is created for the government of the affairs of the island. This council will be in the nature of a parliament, made up of 21 members, a majority of them being elected by the Cubans and a lesser number appointed by the throne.

The council of administration is given practically supreme control of the island, subject to certain supervisory authority by the home government. One of the most important features of the plan is that allowing Cuba to revise her tariff schedules.

The reform law was passed March 15, 1895, but never applied to Cuba, owing to the uprising. On last New Year's day it was promulgated by the queen regent and gazetted in Havana as a concession of the new year. Its actual application was still withheld, however, until General Weyler could announce that the island was pacified. On the king's fete day the plan was amplified. The decree signed by the queen appears to be the last step toward actually applying the law to Cuba.

The full scheme of the reforms planned for Cuba begins by declaring that the assemblies of the six provinces of the island shall have the right to elect their presidents, and that the mayors and deputy mayors of the cities of the provinces shall be chosen from among the members of the assembly.

The provincial assemblies are given large powers in the matter of taxes, appropriations for the municipalities and provinces to be made separately.

To offset this the governor general is given the right of intervention and the power to suspend the operation of laws almost at will, making the so called reforms a mockery.

It is provided that 20 members of the council of administration shall be elected by the people, but the president of the body is the governor general, and his rulings are to be binding at all meetings.

The cortes, to be composed of persons who have lived at least two years on the island, is given the right to determine the amount of the imperial expenses and the total budget, but to the governor general is given the right to determine how this sum shall be raised.

To the council of administration, under the leadership of the governor general, is given the right to fix the rules for imposing customs duties, to determine the duties on exportations and to arrange all classifications of imports, goods from Spain always to be admitted free and those from other countries taxed.

Besides this the council of administration is "to be consulted" upon all treaties affecting Cuba.

It is also provided that all clerks in the public departments must have resided in the island for two years. The appointment of them, however, is left to the governor general, who is to be a Spaniard.

Big Steel Company Will Resume Work.

Baltimore, April 30.—The plant of the Maryland Steel company, located at Sparrows Point, will resume operations in full next Monday after an idleness of three years. Orders to that effect have been issued by President Wood and the superintendents and foremen of mills cautioned to have the entire plant in readiness to start up at noon on that day. The works will furnish employment to over 2,000 men. The company has a large amount of work on hand, and it may be necessary to keep the plant going day and night during the spring and early summer.

More Claims Against the Shakers.

Hudson, N. Y., April 30.—Another claim against the Mount Lebanon Shakers has just come to light. This time the Pittsfield National bank is plaintiff, having brought action to recover judgment in the sum of $35,000 against Gates and Shaw, as Shaker trustees, for the face value of a note indorsed by Robert Valentine as a trustee of the Shakers.

A LESSON TO FARMERS.

In the twenty fourth annual report of the State Board of Agriculture, President D. D. Denise discourses at length upon the subject of keeping the boys on the farm, and in doing so he reads a lesson to the farmers themselves. He says:

Of late years the widespread disposition among boys to quit the farm and flock to our towns and cities, has attracted the earnest attention of thoughtful men. The wide range of discussion which the subject has taken, shows the exodus is not only a grave problem, but one of difficult solution. It is neither wise nor desirable to keep all boys on the farm. Where nature has distinctly marked a boy for a different calling it is both wrong and cruel to compel that boy to follow farming. We, as representatives of the farm, are responsible for the boys not liking to live on the farm. We talk to them of the hard times we used to have and are having and we inspire the thought that the boys have a hard time, and they want to go to the city. There is no place in life that is so good as the farm. If there is anything raised the farmer has the first slice, and he has more leisure hours than the business man. Every business in the world rests on the farmers of our country. If the farmers lag, every other business lags. It has been the fashion among farmers to take the best boy and make a lawyer or doctor of him. That has been the understanding to be the appropriate thing to do. Education is a good thing for the farmer, and the good time is coming when he will get his education in a school that will not take him away from the farm.

AVENUE OPENING ASSURED.

After several years of talk and much wasted time the work of opening Watchung avenue has really commenced, as reported in the news columns of today's Press. It is said that good things come slow, but that is neither here nor there: the work is started and there is reason for congratulation. The improvement, when completed, will be one of the most notable and desirable ever made in Plainfield.

WOMEN GAIN A VICTORY.

They Vote at a School Meeting After Vigorous Protests.

At a public meeting held in the Opera House at Cranford, last evening, to hold a vote on the building of a $30,000 schoolhouse, the women of the Village Improvement Association were present in large numbers.

A heated discussion followed, with the result that "gag rule" prevailed, and those objecting were declared out of order. F. C. Winkler, one of the largest proper owners and a trustee, protested against admitting the women to vote, but was overruled by the chairman. James Farnell also protested in vain against the women voting.

The meeting was in disorder during the voting. The count showed a majority of nine in favor of the expenditure. After the result was made known Mr. Winkler declared that he would resign from the board, and announced his intention of appealing to the courts.

THE PUREST MILK SUPPLIED TO FAMILIES FROM IVES' DAIRY FARM OF SELECT COWS

IVES & SON

Commenced Monday to deliver pure rich milk from their own cows, which they have purchased during the past four weeks from choice bred stock.

Mr. Ives Sr. has had 27 years' experience in raising cows for milking purposes, and would like it distinctly understood that their cows are not fed on brewer's grains, of which so much is fed generally.

Corn meal and bran is the best and only good feed to make cows give natural rich milk. We strictly adhere to this idea by extra feeding twice each day.

Our facilities for aerating and cooling our milk as soon as drawn from the cows, are of the latest improved and up to-date pattern, which gives us the power to guarantee our milk to be of a natural rich quality.

We call attention to our having one of the best farms in this county for herding and keeping cows in a clean and healthy condition. We cordially invite anyone who may desire to drive out to the farm and inspect our system for cleanliness and purity of milk. Directions will be given at our office and headquarters, 1008 Arlington avenue, where also orders for pure rich milk will receive prompt attention.

REGARDING SWEET CREAM. We are now ready to offer a superior quality of fresh sweet cream—shipped direct from Orange County creameries, which we deliver in any quantity desired.

(One cow's milk for infants or by special request.)

P. S.—We are able to verify what we state, and would caution anyone not to be misled by jealous milk dealers.

Miss Field's Recital.

A large audience is assured for the Park Club entertainment at the Casino on Wednesday evening, May 5th. The musical entertainers who assisted Eugene Field's daughter at the Berkley Lyceum, have been engaged. The New York Herald says: "The selections which she recited from her father's writings were all more or less familiar to the audience, and were so much the more enjoyable. In her recitations Miss Field showed that she had inherited a keen and healthy sense of the ridiculous, to which she brings a womanly tenderness which makes itself felt in a well modulated, sympathetic voice. The humor and pathos of 'Casey's Table d'Hote' were brought out with excellent effect, while in her reading of 'Seein' Things' she gave evidence of a decided dramatic instinct."

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

The regular meeting of the Dunellen Checker Club will be held this evening.

According to the game laws, today is the last day that snipe can be legally shot or captured.

The pupils in Lincoln school are picnicing in the vicinity of Green Brook this afternoon.

The firemen held a meeting in the Town Hall, last evening and revised the constitution and by-laws.

Mrs. S. M. Ace and daughter, of Stroudsburg, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Ace's daughter, Mrs. George Craig.

Mrs. W. H. Coles has so far recovered from her illness as to be able to assist with her household duties again.

The pupils in Whittier school held appropriate Arbor Day exercises this morning and this afternoon they have all gone for a ramble to Washington Rock.

The Board of Directors of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association met in Alvah Gray's office, last evening, and settled up some unfinished business.

The new Board of Trustees for the M. E. church, elected Wednesday evening, consists of Messrs. George T. Schenck, F. H. Gise, F. W. Vail, John Kennedy, P. C. Smith, E. G. Lewis and T. J. Todd.

Court Dunellen, No. 1123, I. O F., is rapidly growing in membership. Scarcely a meeting is held that one or more candidates are not elected. One new member was admitted at the meeting on Tuesday evening.

Boating parties at New Market are becoming more and more in favor as the season advances. Almost any pleasant afternoon small knots of young people can be seen rowing over the smooth service of the lake.

A hard working colored woman, living near the Greenbrook tanks, had her hen roost looted of a half-dozen fine laying hens a night or two ago. It is a shame that an end cannot be put to this kind of robbery and the guilty apprehended and made to answer.

The small boy is in high glee because the Kickapoo Indian tribe will begin a two week's engagement here next Thursday. They will give their war whoops and sell medicine on the old base ball field. The town ought to have a merry-go-round at the same time and between the two they might bring some business for the merchants.

Bicyclists have been warned by The Press to be on the lookout for the crossing at Dunellen avenue and Front street, where crushed stone has been spread across a culvert in the roadway. Yet, last evening, a lady rider who was gliding along at a pretty fair gait run plumb into the heap of stone and was thrown from her wheel. A sprained wrist was the worst injury to the rider. Like the majority of the riders here she had no lamp, or she might have been able to see the obstruction.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

John R. Marsh yesterday spread several additional tons of crushed stone along the East side of his property.

House-cleaning kept most of the female population at home and employed yesterday, and some of the good men took a hand at carpet shaking and floor scrubbing.

The cross-walk over Park avenue at John Marsh's corner was taken up and relaid by orders from the Township road committee, yesterday afternoon. The work had been poorly constructed in the first place.

This is Arbor Day in the Scotch Plains Public School and the pupils are fittingly observing it by planting two fine trees in the school yard. The trees are to be named after two of the Nation's most illustrious heroes.

It is estimated that between thirty and fifty loads of crushed stone are carted through the main thoroughfare from the mountain crushers to the cars at Fanwood each working day in the week, for shipment to points in South Jersey.

The new Town Committee are doing some excellent work about town. Some of the gutters had become so clogged with weeds and other debris, that it was absolutely impossible for the water to flow through them to the brook, but these obstructions have all been cleared away, and the water can now run freely to the brook.

Scotch Plains and Fanwood are losing some of their best citizens—some by death and others by removal from the two places. The last removal is George W. West and family, of Fanwood, who began moving to Newark to-day. Mr. West is general traffic agent for the Tampico route of the Monterey and Mexican Railway Company.

Committeeman W. H. Smith has used his portion of the appropriation for the repair of the roads in his district in the Valley, and the township never had better roads.

The Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company are continuing to build the stone dam to the Valley road. Thos. McGann, Jr., has the contract to clean the pond and back the dam.

THEATRICAL.

The second performance by the Loraine Hollis company was at Music Hall last night. "Forget-me-not" was the bill and the audience was most appreciative of Miss Hollis' superb acting. There was an intensity of feeling, the crafty cunning of the accomplished adventuress, the depth of despair when her true history is revealed, and altogether a realistic portrayal of a character which few actresses could equal. She pictures the adventuress, despite her stormy career, as a woman whose nature was not coarse. In every movement she showed grace and an attention to details, which evidences the thorough artist. Tonight the laughable farce-comedy, "The Arabian Nights," will be presented and a number of specialties introduced

A Pirthday Party.

Miss Mary Belle Anderson and Miss Anna Crawley gave a birthday party last evening at the residence of Mrs. George Randolph, No. 208 Park avenue. The evening was pleasantly passed in playing games and dancing, after which refreshments were served. Among those present were Miss Cornelia Tyler, Miss Amelia Hamilton, Miss Maggie Carter, John Carter, of Newark; Miss Lena Page, New York; Miss Mamie and Stella Hill, Miss Emma Marcellas, Miss Marion Walley, Miss Nora Walker, Miss Oliver, and John Randolph, of Plainfield.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

The Elizabeth and Westfield Trolley Company's representatives went from here to Fanwood yesterday and expect to secure the right of way to Netherwood. At present the route is up North avenue to Midway avenue, on the old road bed and thence up North avenue through Fanwood, connecting with the Plainfield trolley at Netherwood.

George Peek, Jr., and Cy Wilcox are training their homing pigeons for the coming races. Yesterday a basket of beautiful homers were sent to Wayne Junction and liberated by the express agent at 11:30 a. m. At exactly 1:0 p. m., in one hour and forty minutes, the first bird went through the traps. He was soon followed by the remainder of the flock. The first race will take place Saturday, May 8th. from Newark, Del., a distance of 100 miles.

It isn't often that the ladies of St. Paul's church get up festivals or fairs, but when they do they do everything up in style. The affair in Gale's club house last evening was no exception to the rule. If anything it surpassed all previous efforts. The clubhouse was nicely decorated for the occasion, and the whole hall was turned into a banquet hall. Supper was served to many hungry and charitable people. The proceeds of the supper will go to the church fund, which is being raised to either buy their former edifice or build a new house of worship.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a missionary to Upper Burmah, will speak this evening before the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church. Mrs. Kirkpatrick is a very entertaining talker, and she will be assisted this evening by six young women who will appear in the native costume of the country she represents. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested to attend the meeting. This will be Mrs. Kirkpatrick's last appearance in this city, as she will return soon to Burmah.

THE SUNDAY LESSON.

INTERNATIONAL SERIES, WITH COMMENTARY BY DR. STEARNS.

Golden Text: "Go Ye into All the World and Preach the Gospel to Every Creature." Mark xvi, 15. May 2, 1897.

1. "Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers, as Barnabas, etc., and Saul." The work began at Antioch through the preaching of those who were scattered by the persecution about Stephen, and was followed up by Barnabas and Saul teaching the people for a whole year (chapter xi 19, 26). The church at Antioch, hearing of the need, in temporal things, of the believers in Judaea, sent them relief by the hands of Barnabas and Saul, who, having fulfilled their ministry, returned to Antioch.

2. "Separate me from Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." Thus spake the Holy Ghost as the believers ministered to the Lord, thinking much more of His business than of any comfort of their own, and even mortifying the body if perchance the soul might be more alive to things eternal. It is written of Job that he said, "I have esteemed the words of His mouth more than my necessary food" (Job xxiii, 12). When the disciples brought our Lord food at Jacob's well, He said, "I have meat to eat that ye know not of." "My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me and to finish His work" (John iv, 32 34). When the things of the Lord are of more importance to us than aught else, we have the spirit of fasting.

3. "And when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them they sent them away." The Holy Spirit is the one who has full control of all the affairs of the church during the time of our Lord's absence.

4. "So they being sent forth by the Holy Ghost departed unto Selencia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus." The Holy Spirit called them, sent them forth, and would use them as He saw fit that God might be glorified. All that the Lord Jesus said or did was by the Spirit, and He alone can do in and through us that which ought to be done.

5. "And when they were at Salamis they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews, and they had also John as their minister." As servants of Christ we have but one book, the word of God, and but one Teacher, the Holy Spirit. This word we must make our constant study, and this word we must ever speak in whole hearted reliance upon the Holy Spirit, and "To the Jew first" seems to be the unchanged order (Rom. i, 16; ii, 10). The promise to Moses still holds good, "Now, therefore, go, and I will be with thy mouth and teach thee what thou shalt say" (Ex. iv, 12).

6, 7. "Coming to Paphos, the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, sent for them, desiring to hear the word of God." Thus the Spirit leads together those who are ready to hear and those who are ready to speak the word of God, as when He brought together Philip and the eunuch, Simon Peter and Cornelius. When it is thus His doing, something is always accomplished to the glory of God, as in each of these cases. What, therefore, can be more desirable than to be filled with and controlled by the Holy Spirit? For our comfort we remember that our Lord Jesus said, "If ye, then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask Him" (Luke xi, 13). We have also the comfort of knowing that if we are filled with the word of God and controlled by the Spirit of God, he will fit unto our lips the right message at the right time (Prov. xxii, 18). And Math. x, 20, will be true of us as of the disciples.

8. "But Elymas, the sorcerer, withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith." The same old serpent, the devil, and satan, who turned Adam and Eve away from God, is ever at work. He seeks to keep people from hearing the word of God by making believers indifferent to the command to preach the gospel to every creature, and when the word has been preached he will, if possible, take away the words out of their hearts lest they should believe and be saved (Luke viii, 12); or if it is received, he will, if possible, choke it that it may not bear fruit. Resist the devil (Jas. iv, 7).

9. "Then Saul, who is also called Paul, filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him." The Holy Spirit can look though our eyes as well as speak with our voice, and our eyes will then be searching in some little measure as Christ's were. But we will be unconscious of it, (for anything like self consciousness is in opposition to being filled with the Spirit. Moses wist not that the skin of his face shone (Ex. xxxiv, 29). And no doubt Stephen was unconscious that his face was as the face of an angel (Acts vi, 15). This is the first time that Saul is called Paul.

10. "Wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?" Thus the Spirit in Paul addressed him, calling him a child of the devil and enemy of all righteousness. Some good people today would say that he was a child of God, and that God was his Father, though he was wandering from Him. But the Spirit of God does not talk so. The Lord Jesus said to certain religious people, "Ye are of your father the devil (John viii, 44). It is also written of Cain that he was of the wicked one (I John iii, 12).

11. "And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season." Instantly it came to pass, and he sought some one to lead him by the hand. His outward condition was now his inward condition.

Corporation Notice.

Whereas, The Common Council propose to proceed under the "Martin Act," and thereby enforce payment of unpaid real estate taxes and assessments by sale of the fee of the real estate on which taxes remain unpaid.

And Whereas, as to real estate taxes for the year 1881 and the years prior thereto, the Common Council has power, subject to the approval of the Mayor, to make such revision, alteration, adjustment and settlement of such taxes and all interests and penalties thereon as may be deemed for the best interests of the city, provided the amount of such taxes as adjusted be paid within thirty days from the date of such adjustment; and there appear to be equitable reasons why such power should be exercised with respect to the taxes above referred to in the case of such delinquents as may apply to the Common Council for that purpose:

And Whereas, power to compromise said past due taxes, interest and penalties will cease at once upon the appointment of commissioners under the "Martin Act," and motion for the appointment of such commissioners by Supreme Court Justice Van Syckle will be made on May 19th next:

Resolved, That delinquents in the payment of real estate taxes for the years 1881 and prior thereto be notified by advertisement in the official newspapers that if they desire to apply to the Common Council to amicably adjust and settle unpaid real estate taxes for the years 1881 and prior thereto so as to have any part of said taxes or the interest and penalties thereon reduced or cancelled it will be necessary to present to the Common Council their written applications specifying in detail the property and taxes in question on or before the date of the meeting of the Common Council to be held May 3rd, 1897.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

RALLI NOW PREMIER

Opposition Party Forms a Cabinet at Athens.

POWERS ASK TURKEY FOR ARMISTICE

Russia, France and Great Britain to Use Their Good Offices For Peace—Fighting Continues In Epirus and Thessaly. King George May Abdicate.

Athens, April 30.—As was anticipated, the Delyannis ministry has fallen, and the Opposition, under the lead of M. Ralli, has formed a cabinet. The following is a list of the new ministers:

Premier and Minister of Marine—M. Ralli.
Minister of War—M. Tsamavos.
Minister of Finance—M. Simopoulo.
Minister of Education—M. Carapanos.
Minister of the Interior—M. Teotaoki.

Demetrius Ralli, the new premier and minister of marine, was the leader of the Opposition. He has been minister of justice and minister of the interior, and is well known throughout the country as an able lawyer and orator. He is 50 years old and studied at the universities of Athens and Paris.

Anargyros Simopoulo, the new minister of finance, is a deputy from Parnessis, and, like the other members of the cabinet, has been a prominent member of the Opposition. Several times he has been minister of justice.

Constantine Carapanos is a deputy from Arta and one of the most distinguished financiers of Greece. This is the second time that he has been appointed to this department of the cabinet.

George Teotaoki is a deputy from Corfu and was minister of the interior under Prime Minister Tricoupis.

M. Tsamavos has long been associated with M. Ralli in his campaign against royalty.

M. Delyannis, the retiring premier, has made the following statement:

"King George summoned me to the palace yesterday and declared that exceptional circumstances compelled him to replace the cabinet and to form a new ministry from the ranks of the Opposition. He begged me to second his efforts. I refused to tender my resignation, not because of my love of power, but in order that such a step might not be misinterpreted. I urged the king to use the privilege of the crown, declaring that I was ready to sign the royal decree provided the latter cast no blame upon us. I added that there was no reason to fear that such a measure would be considered by Europe as a censure upon the government's policy. Judgment would be formed as to that after the new cabinet had been tried."

M. Delyannis added: "I cannot divulge the policy which I considered necessary. I can only say that the country would have emerged from its trials without loss of territory and could have obtained a ratification of the northern frontier by abandoning Crete, according to the demands of the powers. The latter measure would have facilitated the task, inasmuch as the principle of Ottoman integrity would not have been impaired, while the peace of Europe would have been assured because of the rectification of the frontier line adjudged in the treaty of Berlin."

During the negotiations for the reconstruction of the ministry from the Opposition, M. Ralli opposed the proposal to make M. Sotiropoulo premier and said, "Setting aside all false modesty, I must be recognized. I am the premier designated by events."

The Opposition leaders acquiesced in this view, but M. Deligeorgis refused to join the ministry unless the premier were chosen outside the regularly constituted parties in the boulo. To this M. Ralli replied that he could not and would not attempt to form a ministry without the support of the other Opposition sections in the assembly, and he tried to induce M. Deligeorgis to join.

The public tension is much relieved by the change of ministers, and it is now believed that all serious danger of internal disorder is removed.

Miles to See the Fighting.

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Alger said that it was settled that General Miles would visit the seat of war in Greece regardless of the recent signal victories of the Turkish forces, indicating a possible speedy termination of the war. It is understood that he will bear credentials in the form of an autograph letter from President McKinley commending him to the good offices of all United States representatives with whom his researches may bring him in contact.

General Miles' present programme is to sail on the St. Paul, leaving New York on the 4th prox., and to cross the continent to Greece by the quickest railroad route. He will be gone two or three months, as in addition to making a personal study of the military features of the contest between the Turks and the Greeks he purposes to inspect the military establishments of the principal European powers, Germany, France and England, and possibly Russia. The result of his observations will be embodied in an official report to the president.

The Conditions In Crete.

London, April 30.—A dispatch to The Times from Khania says that the admirals of the international fleet have visited the insurgents at Akrotiri and had a prolonged conference with the leaders. Admiral Canevaro informed them of the fall of Larissa and of the retreat of the Greek army. They were greatly moved and asked to be allowed to go to Greece to fight for King George.

The admirals then announced their intention to relax the blockade, which, they said, was not intended to starve the islanders into subjection. They assured the insurgents that they would be permitted to come into the towns, provided they came unarmed, to purchase anything they might need, and moreover that they would be furnished with an escort to guard them against any fear of Mussulman attack.

Overtures Toward Peace.

Berlin, April 30.—The Frankfort Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Constantinople saying that owing to the Greek foreign minister having made the request to the Russian minister at Athens the embassadors of Great Britain, France and Russia at Constantinople have asked the Turkish government to grant Greece an armistice.

All the talk now is of the intervention of the powers. Even Germany wishes to save Greece from the consequences of defeat, and it is stated in Berlin official circles that the powers will intervene of their own initiative if Greece does not invite them.

According to a dispatch from Constantinople to The Lokalanzeiger, the sultan will accept the following conditions as the basis of peace: The withdrawal of the Greek troops from Crete and the re-establishment of the frontier of 1831, Greece to be excluded from all the advantages of capitulations and to pay indemnity.

The news from Greece continues alarming, and it is understood that a Russian ship is lying at Piræus, the port of Athens, ready to embark the royal family.

Decision In a Patent Case.

Boston, April 30.—The case of the Kennedy Valve Manufacturing company of New York versus the Chapman Valve Manufacturing company of this city, heard some days ago in the United State circuit court of appeals by Judges Putnam, Webb and Aldrich, has been decided, the decree of the circuit court dismissing the complainant's bill having been affirmed. The suit was brought for an injunction to restrain the defendant from the alleged infringement of patent No. 404,814, granted to Daniel Kennedy of Brooklyn, for an improvement in valve indicators. The court holds that the defendant's device does not infringe upon the complainant's patent.

The Campaign In Epirus.

London, April 30.—A dispatch to The Times from Arta says:

"The Greek soldiers are pouring into the town in an almost unbroken column, coming apparently from every point of the Turkish territory hitherto occupied by the Greeks."

The Times' correspondent adds that these soldiers show no signs of a desire to continue the fight against the Turks, and their presence crowds the town fivefold above its normal capacity, causing serious inconveniences and threatening, unless something is done to relieve the pressure, a serious danger.

The Situation at Volo.

London, April 30.—A dispatch to The Times from Volo, dated Wednesday, says:

"The Turks have tried to cut the railway to Velestino. The Greeks fought bravely, losing 3 officers killed and many wounded. Panics continue here without cessation. After dark the population oscillates between recklessness and terror. The town is entirely destitute of control, as there is no military and apparently no civil authority. The telegraph office has been closed, and postal matter is refused at the post-office."

Francis Returns to Vienna.

St. Petersburg, April 30.—The emperor, Francis Joseph of Austria, has started for Vienna.

The Brooklyn a Success.

Washington, April 30.—Commodore Dewey of the naval trial board has reported briefly to the secretary of the navy from Newport that the sea trial of the Brooklyn was successful in every respect. The machinery in particular, about which some apprehension was felt, is said to have worked with perfection. The destination of the Brooklyn in England was settled upon as Spit Head, where the foreign ships which will participate in the jubilee programme will assemble.

Forger Surrenders to Sweden.

Washington, April 30.—The secretary of state has issued his warrant for the surrender to the Swedish authorities of Nils Gustaf Flygt, who has been held in New York by Commissioner Alexander for return to Sweden on a charge of forgery to the amount of 1,300 kroners.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Battleship Maine put into the Brooklyn navy yard for repairs.

The British budget statement shows a surplus of $61,825,000, with a debt reduction of $37,420,000.

Jersey City's street and water board has approved the contract for elevating the Erie railroad tracks.

James Brooks shot Mrs. John Quaile and her daughter Lulu at Redbanks, Cal., and burned himself to death.

Senator Platt of Connecticut was married to Mrs. Jennie P. Hoyt of Upper Montclair, N. J., at the bride's home.

Senator Jones of Nevada has joined the Democrats on the finance committee in preventing an early report of the tariff bill.

Judge Chase decided at Catskill, N. Y., that war veterans appointed to office for a probationary term are subject to the same power of removal as civilians.

The manuscripts known as the log of the Mayflower were formally handed over to Thomas F. Bayard, the former United States embassador to the court of St. James.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Fred Graves, of North avenue, is now riding a Pierce wheel purchased of E. Frank Vail.

T. S. Armstrong, the druggist, has purchased a Spalding wheel from Rogers, the North avenue cycle dealer.

George Graves, of Liberty street, has purchased a Pierce wheel from the local agent, E. Frank Vail, of North avenue.

Councilman T. J. Carey and son, H. L. Carey, have just received their new '97 Spaldings, which will be their mount for the coming season.

George Sullivan and James Brown, of Newark, rode their wheels to Plainfield yesterday and spent a few hours with their friend, J. H. Leggett, the East Front street druggist.

The junior run which was to start from the Park Club house last Tuesday afternoon did not start on account of the very strong wind that made wheel riding very unpleasant that day.

It is quite common to see children riding wheels that are altogether too large for them. This is a practice that should be stopped. If the parents of children cannot purchase suitable wheels for them, then the youngsters should not be allowed to ride.

Everett J. Peck, of Myrtle avenue, met with an accident yesterday afternoon. The front forks of his wheel collapsed with him and he was thrown to the ground. He escaped serious injury although he was riding at a rapid gate at the time.

W. A. Freeman, of Sandford avenue, has bought a Wolff American combination tandem of A. M. Griffin. The tandem has the new transparent ruby enamel which is making such a hit with manufacturers and dealers. The tandem is a beauty in model and design.

Henry M. Maxson, superintendent of the Plainfield public schools, has purchased a Spalding wheel from W. H. Rogers. Mr. Maxson finds the wheel a very valuable adjunct as he is enabled through the assistance of it to go from school to school with ease and with comparatively little loss of time.

Many riders make it a habit to let the chain of their wheel take care of itself until it becomes so caked with mud and dirt that it will hardly revolve. Such riders make a sad mistake. With a little care the chain can be kept in good in good condition and will add not a little to the easy running of the wheel. The chain should be kept free from dirt as much as possible and it should be thoroughly lubricated. Graphite is the best for that purpose, although there are some preparations that will answer as well.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

S. C. Rogers, proprietor of the Hotel Tuileries has a brother, A. G. Rogers, of Akron, Ohio, who is coming to the front as a runner. Recently he made a match with Cash Grimm, of Denver, Colorado, to run a 100 yard foot race for a small wager. The race was run at Camden, recently, and Rogers won. Time 10 2-5 seconds. The runner expects to visit his brother here ere long and he may get up a match with some of the local runners.

Will Remove to Raritan.

The Somerset Lighting Company has come to an agreement with Mr. Duke and the Raritan Water Power Company, whereby their electric plant is to be removed to Raritan. The new power house is now in course of erection near the Star Mill, and when completed will be one of the best equipped houses in the State. The Somerset Lighting Company purpose getting a new dynamo with which they can furnish power as well as light. The new plant will be in operation by the middle of September.

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

Marriage of Etta May Thorn to Lorenzo D. Townley.

A quiet wedding of the month was that of Miss Etta May Thorn, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Thorn, of East Third street, and Lorenzo D. Townley, of Grandview avenue, which was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel.

The bride wore a travelling gown of brown cloth, while the bridemaid, Miss Frances Thorn, sister of the bride, was gowned in green cloth with brown trimmings. The best man was Frank Eick, of East Third street.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held. Those present only included the relatives of the contracting parties.

The decorations at the house consisted chiefly of smilax and roses and in the parlor the arrangement of flowers was very attractive.

Mr. and Mrs. Townley received the congratulations of those present upon their arrival at the house, and during the evening supper was served. At a late hour the bride and groom left for Canada, and their return they will reside on Grandview avenue, the home of the groom. The collection of presents was a substantial token of esteem on the part of the friends and relatives.

READY FOR THE HANGING.

Sheriff Wyckoff Has Made All Preparations for the Execution.

Jacob S. Johnson will be hanged in the Somerset county jail on Wednesday of next week. Sheriff Wyckoff has made all preparations for the execution. About forty persons will be permitted to witness the execution, provision being made by statute for that number. No passes will be issued so that no one except those appointed for some duty by the court or Sheriff can be present.

Johnson is a great student of the Bible during these last days. His spiritual adviser is Rev. John Hart, of Neshanic, who visits him frequently.

Clawson will be hanged one week later unless the Court of Pardon interferes. This court holds a meeting between the day of Johnson's execution and that fixed for Clawson's. His counsel will do all in their power to get the court to take some action at that meeting, but it is hardly likely that their former decision will be changed.

EARLY FRUIT DAMAGED.

Cherries and Peaches Were Hurt and Early Strawberries Were Killed.

The sharp frost of last week in Central New Jersey now shows pretty clearly the extent of the damage to the fruit crop. Early cherries are generally killed, but the late are only slightly damaged. Early peaches are killed, but the main crop is still all right. Pears, except the Keiffer, are in good condition. The Keiffer is variously reported. Apples and quinces are all right. Plums, except the Japan type, show but little injury.

The early bloom of the strawberry was all killed. There will still be a fair crop of the later bloom, and of the late varieties. The young growth of blackberries was nipped, but raspberries and grapes are uninjured.

Not Known Here.

Miss Lizzie Rosenbaum and Phillip Snyder appeared in the Mayor's office in Jersey City, yesterday, and were married by Justice Geiger. They each gave their age as 32 years, and their residence as 1006 Front street, Plainfield. Inquiry was made today concerning the bride and groom, but they could not be found. The number given is a vacant lot and the people in the vicinity know nothing of the people.

Off to Sea.

Captain George D. Morrison, of Plainfield avenue, sailed Wednesday morning on the sailing vessel "A. C. Ropes," for San Francisco. The trip going will occupy four months and the Captain expects to be absent from home for ten months altogether.

—Mrs. DeVol and Mrs. Harned have today dissolved partnership by mutal consent. Mrs. Harned will still remain at No. 19 Craig place.

R. G. DeVol, of Craig place, who went to the Flower Hospital, New York, for an operation, has returned and is getting along nicely.

ROBBED WHILE HE SLEPT

on top of the Bible. The burglar tried his usual tactics and pushed over the catch to the window with his knife, and then lifted the sash. Then the burglar discovered he was not alone. The heavy breathing of the sleepers told him that they were still enjoying a good night's res. so he climbed in and investigated.

The watch was too good a thing to leave, so it went to join Mr. Hays' gold time piece in the capacious pockets of the burglar. He carefully went through the pockets of Mr. Giggin's trousers, which the latter had hung over a chair on retiring, and abstracted three pennies which were to be found there. The trousers were dropped in a corner and the thief departed by the way he came. Neither of the sleeping couple was aroused by the intrusion.

This morning the footprints of the burglar were very plain to be seen in the soft ground in front of the windows. The footprints were made by only one man, apparently of medium weight, wearing a pair of good shoes of modern fashion. From the impressions, the intruder was a light stepper.

THE SCORCHER CAPTURED.

The First of Those Dangerous Characters Arrested Under the New Ordinance.

Judge DeMeza's court had its first scorcher this morning. At least, he was to appear at nine o'clock but he didn't. It was the first arrest for fast riding of a wheel made in the city and was made in accordance with the new bicycle ordinance recently passed by the Common Council.

Sergeant Kiely was walking up East Front street, when he saw a rider approaching on his wheel at a lively clip. He ordered the rider to stop, which he presently did as soon as he could gain control of his wheel, which caused him to ride nearly a block too far.

The cyclist gave his name as Samuel Japson, and was told to appear at 9 o'clock for a hearing, but he came not when the hour did, and not a glimpse have the police had of him.

Pneumatic Tire Exploded.

N. B. Smalley and his brother, William Smalley, visited the Gentlemen's Driving Park this morning with their fast steppers. While trying a heat on the track the pneumatic tire on the sulky owned by the former came off and exploded. There was no damage outside of that to the tire.

—The Pond Tool Works Employes' Benefit Association adopted a new consititution last night and elected R bt. Hangliter a trustee for eighteen months

Wine for Science Only.

In England there is a cellar full of wines of the choicest vintages, which bid fair to spoil for temperance' sake. Years ago, by the will of Sir Walter Trevelyan, of Northumberland, England, that knight's famous wine cellar became the property of Sir Benjamin Richardson, the head of the Temperance Hospital, in London. But the will enjoined Sir Benjamin from using the wine for other than "scientific purposes." Convinced that none of the wine in all the sixty dozen famous vintages in the cellar could be used for the purposes specified, Sir Benjamin did not draw the cork of a single bottle.

At his death recently his widow became the possessor of the valuable cellar, but she, too, is forbidden to use it except in the interest of science. She cannot, under the will, sell the now famous wines, even to donate the proceeds to the cause of temperance. To store the many bottles year after year is expensive, and yet there seems to be but one other course—to destroy!—New York World.

A Door Mat Thief.

Grover is a thief. Grover is not a man, but a Newfoundland dog.

His penchant is door mats, which he steals and brings home to his little dog-house in the back yard. Evidently he is fastidious about his sleeping quarters, for after one night in the dog-house he went on a mat-stealing expedition. He captured three of them. Grover's master stowed the mats away in the cellar, not knowing to whom they belonged, but the next night the dog stole three more and on a third night two. Now the total reaches twenty door mats of all sorts and sizes. Yet none of the neighbors have missed their mats, and the question is where does Grover get his plunder?

C. R. THIERS, Dentist.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.
